had not prevented him from managing before ageuse- his personal affairs.

Originally from Frankfurt, he had emigrated quite young in the United States, while one of his later chief rabbi. The powerful bank Jewish Kiilm, Loeb and C ic welcomed him with arms open; he quickly did his apprenticeship there financial affairs, became a partner and ultimately director.

Ijji of his contemporaries and coreligionists, came not from Frankfurt but from Mannheim, Otto II. Kalui also rose, y-race to the protection of the same bank, at one of the highest situa- financial statements of the great Republic. Agent of the arriman, the king of the railways, he had skillfully handled the reorganization of V "L<nion Pacific", had added several rail network groups; it is also he who had negotiated the admission to the Stock Exchange of Paris of r>o million bonds of the "Pen- Sylvania.

Otlo Kahn was therefore at the same Liter as Jacob Schiff wn financier... arrived. But, while that the first encouraged the arts and artists, subsidized theater troupes and played the Maecenas, Jacob Schiff poured out preference for its largesse over institutions and Israelite works. This is how he founded the Jewish Theology Seminary and Seminar Museum tick from Harvard University.

JEWISH INFLUENCES IN THE UNITED STATES 53

The altitude of the two financiers was different when the war broke out. Otto Kahn displayed ardent sympathies for France. He favored the issuance of the first Anglo-French loan contracted in the United States; he made Ma rouf play, de Rabaud, at the Metropolitan Opera, encouraged the representation of Parisian plays and took the initiative to found a "French League for United States y> to strengthen intellectual ties uniting the two nations.

He even thought he could do more by writing a a certain number of letters and pronouncing several several speeches in favor of the Entente States. Under the pompous title: /> Right above la Race, the publisher Payot published in 19 19 a translation of these letters and speeches in the

with the last energy against the Prussian tyranny his own and German ambitions. He conindignantly damned "materialism,
lust, irreligion, overflowing arrogance,

. r »/| THE MMSK I>'lSIItAKr, AMONG THE ANFiLO-SAXO.XS

the impatient disregard for the rights of the weak, i mania for world domination" which characterizes our enemies laugh. He added solemnly:
<r We will not allow blood* to flow
in our veins to stifle the voice of conscience science in our hearts. We will wait for the call of honor before heeding the call of the race."
And proudly encamping in front of the Germans,
he repeated: "We will not allow this,
we Americans by birth must fall. ! »

Theodore Roosevelt was so moved by these eloquent
many declarations that he did not hesitate to honor
rer (Tune prefaces the collection which contained them.
After all, these harangues and inflamed writings
mes, although emanating from an Israelite who had not of German than the place of his birth, do they have a little contribution to showing native Americans
irermanic gene where was their duty when the
The United States participated in the war.

The other flesh-and-blood American > Jacob Schiff

did not listen to the eloquent adjurations of his associate and friend. He remained faithful to the country where he was born and defended as best he could, with some However, German interests are disrupted. Very linked with President Wilson, he was not less so with Count Bernstorff.

USS JEWISH INFLUENCES IN THE UNITED STATES 55

The movement of opinion, precipitated by torpedoing of the Lusitania and the declarations of the Imperial Chancellery regarding the war submarine, which decided the Americans to global struggle, was irresistible. Any effort to Penraying would have been in vain. You had to go with the flow or watch it pass. Otto Khan followed; Jacob Schiff looked, but still hoped to intervene, when the time would be propitious, favor of Germany. And, at the time of the armistice, this hour struck.

The Jewish sympathies and relations of the president Woodrow Wilson go back in time distant... They have only developed and have increased since the cessation of hostilities. On the other hand, the Germans, knowing that they did not have in him an irreducible adversary, skillfully flattered his unfathomable vanity. In his memoirs, published in England in 1920 under the title: My three years in America (1) the ambassador Count Bernstorff, clearly admits—ment that after the armistice, particularly always ched of the confidence which was shown to him by Berlin, President Wilson applied himself

(1) Scribncr, publisher.

56 THE RKTINE OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

better to develop a peace “satisfactory for Germany”. And it turned out that from this peace could both accommodate the Jews and the Anglo-Saxons!

Almost all of Mr.'s friends and advisors. Wilson were Israelites: the banker Jacob Schiff, Henri Morgenthau, the former ambassador American commander in Constantinople, who had been treasurer of the democratic party during the first first election of president; Judge Brandeis, One of the leaders of the Zionist organization; Baruch to whom was entrusted, in March 1918, the direction of the War Industries Committee. As for Colonel Mandel House, who fills very important missions several times in France, he never served in the army, and if he is not Jewish like his first name for—would lead us to believe, he nonetheless favored with all his strength the aims and ambitions of Israel. Moreover, the British government, by sending to Washington as ambassador extraordinary Rufus Isaacs, Lord Reading complete harmony with that of the president Wilson. All these Israelites were Zionists proven; they were concerned above all with reacting

JEWISH INFLUENCES IN THE UNITED STATES 67

Use the conceptions of Israel, and he entered into these designs the very clear idea of sparing Germany and Soviet Russia.

The Party of Russian Socialists of the United States, led by Morris Hillquit and Victor Berger, had moreover protested energetically during the declaration of war on Germany and he had expelled from its ranks the socialists Ch. Edward Russell, WE Walling and a few others, available determined to conform patriotically to the views of the government.

It is worth noting that the financier Jacob Schiff, called to speak publicly on candidacies for the office of mayor, during of an election which shortly followed the diplomatic rupture matic, declared that he would vote for the major Mitchell, the only candidate with chances of success, but he praised the pro-socialist German Hillquist, whose personality he judged "irreproachable" lity.

When it became known that the Russian Revolution had been made by the Jews and for their benefit, with the complicity of Germany, the great Israeli bankers lites – almost all of Germanic origin – ■ and the socialists did not fail to show, more or less openly, the interest that their inspired the government of Lenin and Trotsky. What were the major reasons which decided the United States, where the Israelites were so influential, to fight the German Empire?

58 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

First a movement of opinion in the popular masses, who could have overthrown a government neutralist government, and then another consideration ration that an organ of Toulouse has released until international": "The close agreement between the high Jewish bank of Germany and that of the United States United was, on the other hand, the fundamental reason for which the German government had a so blind confidence in Wilson's neutrality. Out of the blue, however, Wilson declared the war. Where did it happen? It is that Israel, very informed and very far-sighted, had advised himself, well before the Agreement, of the imminent and irreparable defeat of Germany, and the high bank abandoned gave the political Germany of the Hohenzollerns to save as many as possible from shipwreck the Jewish-German interests, the defense of which is the immediate objective of the conspiracy of the powers anti-Catholic sessions" (i).

(i) The Catholic Bloc, June 1920.

JEWISH INFLUENCES IN THE UNITED STATES 59

The determination with which the negotiators of peace set out to destroy, to carve up the Austrian Empire, while we maintained at all costs the unity of the Germanic Reich, comes confirm this thesis.

During the armistice talks and during the Peace Conferences, the leaders of Israel which, alas! were also the leaders negotiations, multiplied their efforts and their intrigues to wrest victory from France laughing the profit and the profit of his share of victim tory and to extend indefinitely in Europe a morbid state conducive to revolutions, 1 political and social rubles, in the middle of which the Jews "know how to maneuver wonderfully.

The titled hUj, as they were called in Angleterre, that is to say the representatives of the Em-worst British, France and the United States, circumvented in every way by their advisers Jews or Judaizers, worked out a peace Jewish, preceded by a mystical-democratic pathos tick. Charles Maurras did a good job of rapping ler (i) that it is following the receipt of a telegram containing among other signatures

(i) French action of October 4, 1920.

0 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Jews that of Jacob Schiff, that the president

Wilson imposed concessions on our enemies on the main points of the treaty: Status of Danzig-, reparations regime, questions of the Saar and Fi urne, plebiscite of the Upper Si-lesie. Temporary, bastard, inconsistent solutions here given to these delicate problems could only cause endless difficulties cults and spark new conflicts. But of these difficulties and these future conflicts, the Jews were convinced that they would be able to usefully draw profit.

CHAPTER III

His Jtfnglo-Saxons champions of Israel.

Sir Stuart Samuel's Mission to Poland. - A letter from President W. Wilson to Rabbi Stephen Wise. - The "War Memorial Empire Tour". - A toast from Mr. Lionel de Rothschild. - Jewish pride at its peak.

So as not to be treated as servants of Israel, the Anglo-Saxon governments thought that it was clever in becoming its champions. It was acquired that they had already become his auxiliaries and its respondents.

England had previously wanted to spare itself a diplomatic specialty. She raised the voice with impressive energy in favor of oppressed nations. With what accents eloquent Gladstone had he reported the massacres

There were still some echoes of his voice powerful in favor of Armenia, since, in June 1920, members of Parliament accused France for not sending enough troops Cilicia to protect against the poor Turks Defenseless Armenians – who do not demand but the presence of our soldiers only to go plunder and massacre the Turkish peasants from their sinage.

At the same time, there were in Poland, it seems, of the persecuted and the oppressed: the Jews. The Polish nation, barely resurrected, had enough to do to defend itself against the Bolsheviks, the Germans, the Czechoslo-cpii vaques all coveted certain portions of its territory 1; it was claimed, however, that she had the leisure to indulge in abominable persecutions on a category of citizens.

The Israelite papers recounted that crimes had been committed, that many of their co-religionists had been robbed, molested, sacred by Polish soldiers.

England needed its necessary intervention. By what right? We can still do it ask. She probably owned motu 9 in the name of the higher interests of humanity and of democracy, to use a language Wilsonian, actually in the name of Israel.

THE ANGLO-SAXON CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 63

An official mission was dispatched to go in Poland to investigate these painful events. Fittingly, its leader was a Jew, Sir Stuart Samuel, who hastened to left for Warsaw and spent several weeks to visit his co-religionists and collect their testimonies.

On its return, the mission presented to Parliament his report: a wldie paper, state document, including 36 pages of folio printing, the reading of which is singularly instructive (i). At the head of the Ligurian report is a letter from the minister from England to Warsaw, Sir H. Rumbold, address generally dealing with the question of the social situation of Jews in Poland and so much so that certain assessments made by Sir Stuart Samuel, according to information insufficient information and too superficial a study. Captain P. Wright, member of the mission, examined for his part the causes of the unpopula-

(i) Report by Sir Stuart Samuel on the mission to Poland Miscellaneous No. 10 (1920).

64 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

rite of the Jews in Poland and did not leave ignorance er that the Israelis of the bourgeoisie were still under German rinMucncc, that those of lower classes were contaminated by bolcbevism and each other showed themselves opponents of Polish nationalism.

As for the report itself of Sir Stuart Samuel, you just have to look through it to see how had been exaggerated or distorted the facts mentioned in the Jewish papers and which had served as a pretext for the British investigation.

Sir Stuart Samuel estimates the number of Jewish victims of the fights and unrest which took place in November 1918 in Lemberg, in Pinsk, in Wilna and in Lida. it goes far from this figure to the thousands of deaths that the correspondents spoke of laying Israelites, inventors of "pogroms". In reality there were neither organized massacres nor Spontaneous cases.

M. «1. K. Prothro, who traveled to Poland at the time of these events, published in The Englishman of July 10 1920, notes which precite the conditions in which a certain many Jews from Lemberg died.

A Ukrainian army of 10,000 men was besieging the city, that General Monczinski

THE ANGLO-SAXON CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 65

defended bravely with 1,500 men. Of the of the place and the defenders, exhausted and decimated, began to despair of their fate, when troops arriving from Posen threatened the besiegers and made them abandon the siege. Sir S. Samuel claims that the Israelite quarter was, for three days, abandoned to pillage. There truth is that the Jews had, during the siege, claimed to maintain complete neutrality and not not collaborate in defense work. Moreover, it was discovered that some of them shared were secretly having sex with the Ukrainians and were preparing to facilitate their access to the place. Order was given to arrest the leaders of the conspiracy; but the Israelites welcomed—returned with rifle shots the volunteers who wanted enter their neighborhood. They responded; street combatants were delivered to the ghetto by the troops of General Iloja, who ended up restore order.

According to Sir Stuart Samuel, in this affair, 5a Jews were killed and /|(>j wounded, but the Wlute paper neglects to indicate which were the pearls of the soldiers and volunteers Polish.

00 THE REIGN OF ISFTAHL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

In Pinsk, on April 5, 1919, 35 Jews were rifles when the Polish troops seized retracted from the place, which was in the hands of the bol-Sheviks, but they read it as Bolsheviks and not on the grounds of Jews, and because, after the taking the place, they had, windows of their homes, shot at the soldiers.

The investigation report says nothing about what took place in Craeovie where Jews were deliberated rement the attackers. They injured an officer French army of the 1st, killed a soldier, injured around twenty, as well as a woman Christian. <>no arrests were made, but no Israelite was put to death.

We cannot honestly qualify as pogroms of brawls and fights of this genre, where the children of Israel read, moreover, usually the attackers.

cited in the "recommendations" which form the conclusions and rejoinder of his report.

He wants us to invite the Polish government but to treat his "Israeli" subjects "with sympathy" and give them a little more than a this masked equality" – this word deserves a explanation.

THE ANGLO-SAXONS CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 07

H also asks that we not limit the number Jews admitted to universities, that we prohibits any boycott and that prisoners interned in the camps are tried without delay.

With a certain loyalty, however, Sir Stuart admits that most of the abuses noted in its investigation would certainly cease with the state of war of which they are a consequence. But his final "recommendations", which target the Angle-land and not Poland, clearly indicate the role that the leaders of Israel find it natural to assign to the British government, a role that, for his part, he seems very willing to assume third party.

The Commission expresses the following wishes:

May Her Majesty's Government assist the Jews from Poland wanting to emigrate and that they facilitates the means of getting to Palestine, in Canada, South Africa, Algeria, in America and in any country "desiring to receive ".

That banks inspire confidence in Jewish public (hence Jewish banks) are established in the major cities of Poland.

That a secretary understanding and speaking the

68 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Yiddish is attached to the legation and consulates British.

Suffice to say that, from now on, the Jews of Poland will be considered protected English just like the Catholics of the East were once treated as French protégés.

In his preamble letter, Sir H. Hunibold had clearly observed that the Treaty of Versailles contained special clauses with a view to the protection of Jews and other ethnic minorities and that it belonged to the League of Nations to take all useful measures to do so apply.

But Sir Stuart doubtless considered that in such a matter England had powers and special privileges.

The Poles believed it too, because when the Red Army invades their territory, which Warsaw was threatened, they considered it wise to send to represent them in London an Israelite, the Professor Szimon Askenazy. But, like this diplomat claims to be a patriotic Pole and does not professes no sympathy towards the Zionists and Bolsheviks, he was freshly welcomed by his co-religionists in England. In any case, while General Weygand and the French missions worked to restore military affairs of Poland, Marshal Pilsudsky received from the Foreign Office only a advice, that of doing with Soviet Russia a peace that would have been disastrous.

THE ANGLO-SAXONS CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 69

* *

The United States of America refused to take rank in the League of Nations, but their president, disavowed by the Senate and now term expired, continued to speak, act, arbitrate, as if it were otherwise and he had a voice in the international chapter.

George, did not want to lose an opportunity to show his zeal for the Jews. I think so that one day he condemns the atrocities committed by the Bolsheviks, but he did not protest against the massacres ordered by Bela Kuhn in Hungary, nor against the aggression from which the Poles failed to be victims, nor against expropriation and expulsion of peaceful inhabitants of Palestine; by all this, he could not control his indignation in learning that some Israelites from Europe

70 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Eastern countries had been subjected to abuse and bad treatments.

From the White House, September 10, 1920, he addressed the following letter to his great friend Rabbi Stephen Wise.

"My dear Rabbi Wise,

"I am deeply moved by the reports that you address to me about the trials and the suffering endured by your co-religionists in Eastern Europe.

<a No American, regardless of his race or religion of origin, cannot be missing to feel the deepest sympathy for the Jews of Eastern Europe who continue to bear not only the weights of war but also the suffering resulting from treatment blind and unjust actions imposed on them by the governments and people.

"I hope that the nations, with whom we maintain political relations, will do everything possible to put an end to injustices, abuses, legal disgraces of their Jewish populations, as specified in favor of minorities in the treaty clauses of peace.

THE ANGLO-SAXONS CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 71

"We know in the United States where Jews

how loyally they serve and how faithfully they defend the interests and ideals of our own nation.

"It is with great joy that I learn— I would like to realize an improvement in the status of Eastern European Jews. My government very ardently desires that the persecution against the Jews ends everywhere and forever.

"WOODROW WILSON. »

The Jewish Guardian, October 1, 1920, reproduced with understandable pride this letter which shows with what zeal the former president tooth had become the champion in the United States of Israel.

II

In 1920, the Prince of Wales visited the Dominions and the British colonies. Received everywhere with enthusiasm, the young Prince collected the testimonies of the loyalty of the English fixed or serving far away, to whom he brought expression of the solicitude and devotion of the King and the royal family.

72 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

The Prince of Wales had barely returned in London than another trip around the world was organized under the pompous title of War Empire Memorial, Tower. Doctor Hertz, chief rabbi, and Mr. AM Woolf went to the name of Jewish and Zionist organizations, visitor, they too, the Dominions and colonies, their spread the good word, solicit competition and subsidies, exalting the power of Israel and establish strong connections between communities scattered tees.

Some time before their departure, a banquet travel companion. Jewish newspapers, notably the Jeivish (Inardian of October 8, gave reports of this banquet detailed.

Mr. Lionel de Holbseliild, member of the Parle-ment, presided. Among the guests, who were not less than 67>0, we noticed lord Milner, Colonial Minister, Mr. Andrew Fisher, Liaison Commissioner of Australia. The colonel

THE ANGLO-SAXONS CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 73

Sir James Allen represented New Zealand heath; Mr. Mac Ewan Hunter, Queensland; Mr. Wade, British Columbia; Sir T. Coghlan, New South Wales; Mr. Ashbot, Tasmania.

Chief among the notable Anglo-Jews were the lord chief justice, lord reading, sir stuart Samuel, Sir A. Tuck, Sir Philip Magnus, the doc-Weizmann, Sir R. Waley-Cohen.

Opening the series of toasts, Mr. Lionel de Piotschild raised his glass in honor of the King, of the royal family and made an allusion to recent trip of the Prince of Wales, as if this trip had only been the prelude to that what the Israeli delegates were going to do.

Sir Robert W. Cohen wished the great rabbi who went to all the territories of the Empire, revive the faith of the communities, raise the funds necessary for the realization of the Jewish War Memorial. This "Memorial" will be a large college, where the future ministers of religion. This is where they will learn, before teaching them, the sciences sacred and "English Judaism".

The chief rabbi thanked in an emotional tone, gave some insights into the pasto-tour

74 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

ray that he was going to undertake and declared himself con-

rial. However, this honor was not addressed to him, but to "the invincible religion of Israel".

The president rose again to carry a toast "to Her Majesty's Government" and, in formulating this toast, he pronounced this declaration significant ration: "No country in the world was not governed in such a liberal manner as England during the last century. None country has done as much to grant complete equality for all citizens; and, of all tastes governments who held the reins of power in Britain, none have testified so much real sympathy for the projects and l J ideal of the Jews that the current government has

On behalf of the ministry, Lord Milner expressed his gratitude for such praise; he asserted, but without listing the reasons, that the Em-British worst had been amply rewarded thought of a policy which caused the abandonment of old prejudices and grant complete equality and the fullness of civil rights to subjects Israelis.

Lord lleading could not fail to take speech in such favorable circumstances. He

THE ANGLO-SAXONS CHAMPIONS OF iSRAEL y5

toasted "to the Overseas Dominions" as if he already knew he was nominated for vice-president royalty of India; and, in flowery language, spoke of the patriotic aid provided during the war against the motherland by the colonies and Dominions. Our "ideals," he added, are com-muns. The same bond that unites Jews through the world is that which unites English, Scottish and Irish. — No one observed during the oration-tor that the ties uniting Ireland to Great Britain Brittany are, for the moment, quite distended and that if the Jews are so closely united on all points of the globe are that they form a nation, and, therefore, have only one accidental connection with the English people. Finally, the great pontiff of Zionism, Dr. Chaïm Weizmann, goal: "To the President! " He paid homage to this great name of the Rothschilds, always so well worn, with glorious traditions travelers to finish their world tour with a friendly visit to the youngest Dominion, which was also the oldest community Jewish community: Palestine. You will bring, he said, to this country, a message of hope, and it will be, for the Orient, a precursor sign of a: the dawn".

76 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

This quasi-official banquet of October 6, 1920 and the speeches which were held there are proof resounding demonstration of Israel's control over the government of Mr. Lloyd George. The first stages of the journey of the missionaries of the War Memorial Tower have further accentuated its character. In the Gap, in the Transvaal, in Natal, the great Rabbi and Mr. Woolf were received as princes of the blood. The governor, the authorities civilians and soldiers awaited them on arrival from the liner or the train to wish them Welcome. The troops were under arms. Behind his glasses and his big beard black, pointing aggressively, the reverend doctor. Hertz had to wink and smile evoking times, still recent, when those of his race, sordidly or modestly dressed, landed in the colonies to sell a junk or humbly request a small job as accountant or clerk...

THE ANGLO-SAXON CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 77

III

The certainty of being able to count on support formal and without reservations from governments Anglo-Saxons, their control over Palestine before the final settlement of the guiding questions tales raised by the war, gave to the Israelites believed that they would soon all powerful and that, from now on, the most vast ambitions were permitted to them.

even during the world war, they had been able to throw to the ground and keep under their bloody yoke the great Empire of Europe Eastern which had so often persecuted them and humiliated! Without doubt, the Jews are not all Soviets, but even those who sit on the Conservative benches in the British Parliament tannic had rejoiced at the collapse of Russia.

They also knew that this superior organ of world government, called the League or. there League of Nations, was all acquired by them and that they could handle it as they pleased. If needed, they would do without his office in cases urgent.

78 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

In July 1920, Mr. Lucien Wolf, on behalf of the Jewish delegation to the League of Nations, filed, in Geneva, a report tending to make protect the Israelites among the peoples to whom they are presumed to belong. It was about the application of the famous minorities clause.
Previously, Jews were accustomed to addressing make claims of this order to the Foreign Office. It was rumored that the Jews of Lemberg were threatened with a pogrom. M.L.
Wolf wanted performances to be done without delay in Warsaw. Lord Curzon declined the competence of his department, in explaining that it is up to the League of Nations that it was up to control the application of the treaty and the clause of. minorities in Poland.
But Mr. Lucien Wolf insisted so energetically that Lord Curzon gave in, and thus the Warsaw government was, without doubt, both admonished by the Foreign Office and by the League of Nations, regarding a pogrom, to which, in all likelihood, no one hadn't thought of.

THE ANGLO-SAXONS CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 79

In any case, the Jews have already obtained very

League of Nations. It was specified that if minorities had a complaint to make against the government of their country, the case would be submitted to the Company by one of its members, that is to say by a nation. However, after multiple approaches by Jewish organizations, minorities gained the right to present their complaints directly, which con-establishes a national statute on this point.

And we remember that at the last meeting held in Geneva, the Jewish delegation claimed strictly subordinate the admission of nations in the Company upon prior acceptance of the minorities clause. Fought by the representatives feeling of Canada, this proposal was supported with such ardor by Lord Robert Cecil, we wondered if this character political, sent to the League of Nations as representative of the Cape Colony, was not rather a delegate from Israel.

We should not be surprised if the Jews, intoxicated by their successes and aware of the influence

80 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AGAINST THE ANGLO-SAXONS

acquired in many countries and on strong terrains various, imagine themselves already 1st masters of world.

A correspondent sent me a newspaper Jewish from South Africa, where a fanciful article from the New York Herald.

The author of this article had fun telling his American readers a supposed interview that he would have taken from Mr. Mandcl, at the time when Mr. Clemenceau was still president of the Conseil. lle<;u kindly by the powerful leader of Cabinet, the reporter was conversing with him, when a bailiff brings a business card: "Do received by Mr. Clemenceau," said Mr. Mandcl and say hello I'm busy - After a few moments the bailiff returns saying: This monsieur does not want to see Mr. Clemenceau, but Mr. Mandel. - So let him wait.

After a quarter of an hour, we announced a another visit, and the name of the newcomer is murmur. : It is Mr. Mandci-Rolhschild, father of head of Cabinet. – Give him this box of cigars and tell him I can't receive it Today.

Finally the bailiff returns a third time to say (pie the president of the Council goes out with

THE ANGLO-SAXONS CHAMPIONS OF ISRAEL 81

General Mordacq and asks if Mr. Mandel has something to say to him: – Answer that no, I gave him all the instructions this morning
tions.

The hearing over, the reporter crosses into the antechamber the beggar who waited patiently: it was Mr. Loubet, the former president tooth of the Republic.

The director of the South African Jewish C/ironicle took this column seriously humorous, and the newspaper of March 5 reproduces it led entirely at the head of its columns, with a wide cuff bearing the title and subtitle :

THE TRUE MASTER OF FRANCE

CLEMENCEAU'S HEAD OF CABINET

IS A JEW

The Jews of South Africa had to very-burst with pride upon hearing this news victory of their race.

As for the Israelites of England, they could will also rejoice and with more reason, perhaps be, of the high benevolence that their witness gnawed the royal family. The Prince of Wales has

82 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

deigns to review on February 17, 1921, in London Battalion of the Jewish Lads 1 Brigade commanded by Major Tabbush. The brigade paraded music at the head and the heir to the throne himself presented to the victorious teams and champions of the various shield events, (the shield) and the medals attesting to their achievements rites. (1)

[i) The Jewish Guardian, February 2, 1921.

CHAPTER IV

JThese "protocols" of the Sages of Israel

The publication in London of the first translation "Protocols". – An article from the Times. – Declaration of Serge Nilus on the origin of the Document. – The Jewish campaign plan to ensure world domination. – The collapse of the Russian Empire. – The Jewish peril.

It took almost five years of war, the painful peace negotiations, the daring pretensions, the presumption of leaders of Israel, to penetrate into some circles, among our British allies, the idea that there was a Jewish danger.

In December 1919, appeared in London, published by Eyre and Spottiswoode, an 8° brochure of around a hundred pages, titled The Jewish Péril: Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion. This publicity

8^ THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

tion went completely unnoticed until May 8, 1920. On that day, the Times devoted a column to the analysis of the brochure, which he judged interesting and curious, pointed out the concordance striking difference between the main provisions of the

the events that took place during and since the war.

The Cité newspaper summarized its impression on I deliver with an agonizing question: <c En stretching the fibers of our national body, had we not escaped a Pa,x (jermanica that to be subject to the Paæ judaica? »

Before studying the Protocols and citing or summarize the main passages, it is important to establish its genesis and examine the character of authenticity that they present. He is careful to be wary of documents relating to the issue Jewish. They are often launched by Israelis to mislead readers on false trails and have sometimes led to mystifications. Let's see if it can be so for the "Prolocols".

THE PROTOCOLS OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL 85

The pamphlet published in London at the end of 19 19, is a simple translation of a fragment from a Russian book, the author of which is the professor Serge Nil us, and which was recorded in August 1916, at the British Museum Library.

While the English version was published by MM. Eyre and Spottiswoode, Mr. Gottfried zur Beek published a German translation in Charlottenburg, under the title: Die Geheimnisse der Weisen von Zion.

The foreword to this German version contains some information about Serge Nilus and his work. S. Nilus is a researcher and a scholar, deeply Christian and highly esteemed in Russia. In recent years, he had fixed in Ukraine. It was in 1901 that he obtained the sheets of the Protocols, written in French and that he translated them into Russian.

The first edition of the minutes of the "Sages of Zion" probably appeared in

8(1 THE REIGN OF P'ISHAEL CITE THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Petersburg* in 1900, as an appendix to the book by Serge Nilus: The Big in the Small: the Antichrist as an imminent possibility of government (1). The work was republished without publisher's name under the title: The root of our manæ; then the Russian writer Butmi made it appear a new translation in 1907, which he titled: The Enemy of the Human Kind, and which came out of the presses of the Deaf institution-Mutes by Petcrsixmrg. Another draw was made killed at the Saint-Scrgre monastery in 1911 (2) by the care of Nilus, a second in 1912 and a third sith in iQry. Under the ministries of the prince Lwow and Israeli Kercnsky, the police made seize and burn all copies of these books found in bookstores.

The edition of which the British Museum has a copy is that of 1900 which was printed in Tsarkoïc-Selo. It is in the introduction to

(1) Information relating to the origin of "protocols" in Canon B. Gaudeau's brochure: The Current World Conspiracy (Kedition of the Mad Catholic), in the introductions to the book: The "Protocols" of the Sages of Sion of M "r Jrmin (Fiiiiiilc-Paul); to the edition of the <Protocols" Beyond Old France by Mr. Urbain Gohicr; to the translation American Protocols (Boston, Small and Meynard).

(2) This is the edition which was used by the translator German Gottfrid Zur lîcek.

THE "PnOTOCOLS" OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL 87

that of 1917, translated in Boston, that Serge Nilus spoke about the origin of the "Protocols". The trials verbal and various reports of a Sio-Congress nist held in Bay would have been secretly copied and given to Professor Nilus in 1901 by Alexis Nicolajevitch Souhotin, marshal of the nobility from Chern, in central Russia. This one asked the writer to extract from these Protocois which would seem useful to him in the defense of the religion, believing that from a political point of view, the evil was already accomplished.

Grand Duke Serge Alexandrovitch, to whom Nilus insisted on communicating these documents, returned to him with these simple words: <c Too much late 1".

Mgr Jouin asked the Archbishop of Mohilew, currently a refugee in England, if he knew the "Protocols"; the prelate replied said that the book had been communicated to him in Russia, that he believed in the authenticity of the trials verbal, especially since the events had sufficiently confirmed the reality of the tragic of the leaders of Israel (1).

The two Russian translators, Serge Nilus and

(1) The Judeo-Masonic Peril, by Mgr Jouin, p. 7.

88 the issue of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons

C. Butmij are honorable and their good faith is not doubtful. Both claim to have had in their hands the leaflets in French that's it. Their versions are consistent in what-except for the details, and no doubt they do not have wanted to give indications likely to lead on one way to search the author of the subtraction of the documents. In Tédilion de j&jm, Nilus reports that the copies were taken in a town that is now French chair 11) to an IVanc-Mason of the .>.'>'• degree, by a patriotic woman who wanted to serve her country; but it is possible (this story of theft has was imagined to deflect suspicion. The most likely hypothesis is that a series of minutes drawn up at the Congress Bay Zionist, held in 1807, ^ loul simple-stolen from the chest containing the coins confidential information of the Association. Circular read of the Zionist Committee of 1901 attests that I) r Ilertzl complained bitterly at that time about the leaks which had allowed uninitiated people to grasp certain secrets of the congresses. And this indication is useful to remember.

p) the Mulhouse or Colmar building.

Zionism is not only about founding of a Jewish state; he is pursuing a task even more important: the domination mondial; this is what the "Protocols" revealed, whose Semitic inspiration is undeniable.

To demonstrate in a rigorous manner the authenticity of the "Protocols" it would be necessary to have the sheets communicated to Serge Nilus, found to the person who subtracted them, compare the text of the minutes to that of others minutes of the Bay Congress, which must be carefully guarded or destroyed.

Those who will claim that the "Protocols" are apocryphal, invented from scratch, do not will also be able to provide further proof of their assertions (1).

It is the language of facts which, in such an occurrence, will be the only probative, and the most eloquent evidence was formulated by the translator anglais in his preface: "We cannot read today today none of the parts of this book, without being struck by the prophetic note they contain- lies all, not only in what concerns the holy Russia of yesteryear, but still at the point view of certain sinister developments which can be observed at the present time in everything the universe. Gentiles, be on your guard."

(1) Under the signature L. Fry appeared in La Vieille France (n° 218} an interesting study tended to demonstrate that the editor of the "Protocols" would be one of the leaders of Israel: Asnr.u Gi.nsbkru.

90 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL CfT THE ANGLO-SAXONS

II

The first "proiocol" or summary of the trial-minutes of the first session of the "Sasres de Zion" begins with a comparison between the praise of strength:

Who domesticated your wild beasts that we call lon men? By what could they have been tamed?

During the first periods of social life, the force brutal and blind mastered them; later they obeyed to the law, which is only a force in disguise. It is necessary to conclude that according to the laws of nature, it is in the force where the right lies.

Political freedom is an idea, not a fact.
You have to know how to use it to attract people to you.
popular masses and to conquer power;
the task is easier if the adversary, in love with

THE "PROTOCOLS" OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL 91

liberalism, abandons of itself a part of his authority.

Today, the power of gold has been substituted killed to that of liberal governments. The idea of freedom cannot be practically achieved. There democracy leads to corruption, conflicts social, to anarchy. That a State is exhausted by internal dissensions or delivered abroad
ger, he falls into black power.

The despotism of Capital (gold is between us hands) will hand him a straw to help him which he will have to hold on to so as not to fall into the abyss.

So let's throw some ferments into the masses of anarchy. There is no morality in politics and autocracy is the only mode of government is lying. There were dynastic powers, where the father passed on to his son the secrets of politics
tick. The direction of the transmission of these principles cipes, faith in heredity have disappeared and this facilitates the success of our cause. Civilization cannot exist without despotism. look this flock of Goyim stupefied by vices and alcool, whose use no one limits. We
we will not allow our people to imitate him.
But our agents, valets, employees, governesses

f)2 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

(among the rich); our women, in places of pleasure, will demoralize them and introduce them to all vices.

Have we exploited enough the words "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity"? The Gentiles repeated these words like parrots without seeing the contradictions of the ideas mentioned.

The removal of all privileges resulted in that of the elites; on their ruin we founded black aristocracy on plutocratic bases. It is ours, controlled by our Sages and guided by their science.

The second protocol begins with a declaration ration completely harmonizing with the proposals Wilsonian positions on which the peace treaty: "It is necessary for us to (wars do not end in territorial conquests; the war will be like this liquidated on economic bases where the nations will be forced to admit our action predominant. »

We will thus be able to direct international policy national and dominate the States, who imagines—will, for some time to come, administer to be freely; we will suggest laws to them,

THE "PROTOCOLS" OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL $3

scientific in appearance, which will amuse them and will fool them. Consider the success of the doctrines of Darwin, of Karl Marx, of Nietzsche, imagine—born or advocated by us to demoralize the good ones.

And let Christians meditate on this passage surrounding the press, which I transcribe according to the edition American version:

In the hands of modern states there exists a force powerful which arouses movements among the people idea. It's the press. Its role is to indicate the be—ter discontent. The triumph of free chatter is embodied in the press, of which governments have not didn't know how to use it and which fell into our power. Through the press we have conquered real power, while remaining in the shadows. Thanks to the press too we have accumulated gold, only rivers of blood and tears had sometimes been conveyed.

The third and fourth protocols announced hundred as soon as the time when the Serpent, symbol of Israel, will have closed its circle after having surrounded Jcs European States.

Let us remember the French Revolution!
It was our work, and the evils it engendered dra favor our designs. The popular masses

C)4 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

laircs are hosliics to the classes they believe above them. The decade-long economic crises will cry this hatred. We will create a crisis universal and throw enormous crowds into the streets my workers, exasperated against the rich, ready to kill and rob them. But the Jews, notified in due time, will emerge unscathed from the troubles.

Freemasonry holds, without knowing it, in the universe, the office of a screen concealing our projects (i).

To create diversions and prevent Christians to monitor our politics, it is necessary to direct them towards industry and commerce: "Nations are absorbed by pursuit of material profits; and, engaged in this fight, will not take care of their enemy common. But, so that the ideas of freedom can undermine and ruin Christian society, it important to give as a basis to the industry the speculation. The Goyms will thus abandon the wealth extracted from their lands and continue

The American translator thought it necessary, in this regard,

neniale became anti-clirelian political associations.
The Protocols do not distinguish between them.

THE "PROTOCOLS" OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL 96

will be industrial companies. The speculation
tion will bring these riches into our coffers. »

The Fifth and Sixth Protocols explain what will be the character and essence of the Jewish government.

This highly centralized government will regulate by new laws the political life of our topics. A sovereign despotism will eliminate gr-dually the concessions and freedoms abandoned given to the Goyms. Maybe coalitions could they put us in failure. But we will take care to maintain the hatred of religions and races and this is how we will rule the world: Per me reges prevailing. And the words of the prophets will have been carried out.

By the organization of vast monopolies, including will depend on the fortunes of the Goyms, we absorb the credit of the States. We must super-government be the protector.

The Goym aristocracy, as a political force, is dead. We don't have to take it into account; but in as landowners, social authorities are dangerous for us, because they can be independent pending by their resources: this is why we
We must deprive them of their land at all costs. To get there-

q6 the akge of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons

come, the best method is to increase taxes land, to endow the land with it. The aristocracy of the Go3'mqui, hereditarily, cannot adapt to a situation
modest, will soon be ruined (r).

On the other hand, we will incite the Gentiles to exaggerated spending, disproportionate to their means and will lead them to live day by day without thinking about tomorrow. We will increase even more the price of all things.

The decisive features of the campaign plan of Israel are accused in the Seventh Protocol.

The increase in the military forces of States, the increase in armaments are parts essential to this plan. Throughout Europe, and by Europe throughout the world, we will sow discord, we will provoke key revolts Conflicts. We will subdue the Gentiles with particular wars and unleashing a global struggle.

"In a word, to summarize our system of shaking and enslavement of the States of Europe, we will show our power on one tVerij; through assassination and terrorism, and

(i) The "Proforols", edition of Vieille France, pp. 3i-32.

THE "PROTOCOLS" OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL 97

if it were possible for him to unite to resist us, we would answer him with American cannons. Cains, Chinese or Japanese" (i).

The long-standing allusion to the Russian Revolution prepared time clearly emerges from this quotation.

The following protocols provide instructions delays! for the progressive realization of Israel's grandiose plan. The destruction of reigning powers will be activated by Terror; ours will be despotic; the current generation Gentiles, corrupted and stupid by ideas false ones that we have taught him, will be made easier easily manageable. We will destroy the life of family and prevent good men from arise and exert an action. By injecting the poison of liberalism in the organs of the State, we have given it mortal harm.

The press will be severely tied up, literature controlled nature; we will hold all the threads of the printed thought, but nevertheless leaves us— We will publish studies and articles contradictory so that the vulgar keep some

(1) The Protocols, Ed. Small, Maynard, p. 29.

98 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

illusions. We will divert the Goym from the meadows political occupations by encouraging sports, games, pleasures, passions.

When we are the masters, we will not tolerate we will accept no religion other than Judaism, and assert it connection of other peoples to ours will bring a state of peace and blessing, of which we
We will highlight the benefits.

The Fifteenth Protocol explains that after the conquest of supreme power, the Power Judaica will have no mercy on anyone who dares oppose him. The establishment of a new secret society would fall under the umbrella of death sentence.

In the meantime we will increase the number of lodges
Masonic in all countries of the world.

We will attract there those who are or will be presumed to be able to exert an action on the public, because in these lodges will be the main sources of information
tions and the best ways to propagate our influence.

All these lodges will be centralized under the same direction, known only to us and ignored by others.
Our wise men will administer these cenacles... The political plans
the most secret ticks will be known to us the day
even where they will have been arrested and we will seize them

THE "PROTOCOLS" OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL 99

let's... Among the initiates of these lodges will find themselves that all international and national police agents whose assistance is essential to us (i).

We must make our power grandiose and give the impression of the inviolability of one's mystical nature, because it comes from God. After the new enemy.

How will the Jewish empire be organized and what will be the program of its operation? THE last eight Protocols provide on this subject certain details. The government will have the appearance of a "patriarchal mission devolved to the person of the sovereign". The King, father of his subjects, has the right, with coercive means necessary, to lead humanity and force his obedience.

Teaching will be transformed. The study of problems of the future, of practical life, will place the study of ancient history and classes siques. Any kind of private education will be abolished. Jewish doctrines will be dogmas. The responsibilities of lawyers and solicitors before the courts will be very restricted. Freedom religious, recognized in theory, will be destroyed in do. The clergy will be made unsympathetic to populations and its influence will disappear. Time come, an assault will be given to the Vatican and the The power of the Pope will be broken.

(1) The Protocois. Ed. Sraall, Maynard, p. 48.

100 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Then the king of the Jews will exercise his authority supreme; he will be the true Pope of the universe, the sole patriarch of the intentional Church.

However, during the preparation of the tions and measures necessary to achieve of this supreme objective, we will not attack existing churches. We will limit ourselves to criticize them, divide them, undermine them. If needed, we will imagine temporary religions for the rehabilitation of youth.

Our sovereign, by virtue of a legal fiction, will own all the property and will distribute the burden of taxes. A progressive tax on capital, which we already recommend (i) ampu- will destroy private fortunes. This only perspective tive is already causing discontent among Friendly. There will be a progressive stamp duty

(i) It must be remembered that the slips were subtracted in 1901 and that they refer to the Bay Zionist Congress held in 1897.

THE "PROTOCOLS" OF THE WISE MEN OF ISRAEL 101

on sales, profits, inheritances; her amount will significantly exceed income Christian governments.

Our action on the economic life of peoples facilitates our next domination. Enormous capital kept idle has forced States to use us to issue loans whose interest crushes them. The trans-training of small industries into large ones factories dependent on rich lenders, i.e. of the Jews, will exhaust the healthy strength of the people, and the resistance of the Goyim States will be notably diminished.

"The void that exists in the brain purely bestiality of the Gentiles is sufficiently proven by the fact that they do not understand that in us borrowing money, they will, one day or the other, to subtract resources from the country borrowed capital with interest. It would have been simpler to take the money straight away theirs, to which they would not have had to pay of interests. This proves our genius and the fact that we are the chosen people of Dieu(i).

It is in our hands that the great

(i) Léon Protiocois". Ed. Emile Paul, p. 116.

102 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

force back present tenses: For, and this force will help us to make our cause triumph, to restore order under the aegis of our government ment.

The current world will descend into anarchy. The king of the Jews, incarnation of Destiny, will found a new world. He will not climb the degrees of throne only when the "Sa ires" have ensured not to be dominated by one's passions: "The column of the Universe, in the person of the Government winemaker of the world, coming from the Holy race of David, will have to subordinate all his personal desires sonal for the good of his people. Our sovereign must be irreproachable.

It is with these words that the twenty-fourth ends. third and last "prolocol".

*

An epilogue from Serire Ni lus, which was not translated into German and American editions caine, contains these observations which deserve to be fully transcribed:

THE "PROTOCOLS" OF THE SAGES OF ISRAEL 103

The existence of the voting system has always provided Zion the opportunity to introduce, through corruption, all the laws favorable to his designs. The form of government of the Gentiles which best suits the Jews is the Republic blic, because it is the one that allows it the most easily to buy a majority; and the republican regime gives their agents and their army of anarchists a freedom without limits. This is why Jews support so liberalism; and the stupid Gentiles, deceived by They ignore the already obvious fact that, under a blique, there is no more freedom than under a self-cracry; on the contrary, we see an oppression of the minority by the populace, which are always led by the agents of If we.

According to Montefiore's will, Sion neither spares nor money, nor the means to lead it to its ends. From our days, all governments around the world are consciously or unconsciously subject to the orders of this great supergovernment of Zion, because all their values are in its hands, because all countries are debtors of the Jews for sums that they cannot never pay. All business: industry, commerce Mercy like diplomacy, are in the hands of If we. It was by means of her capital that she enslaved all nations. By maintaining education on all the Gentiles with heavy chains with which they have attached to their supergovernment.

The end of national freedom is near, therefore freedom individual is coming to an end, because true freedom could exist where Zion can use the lever to of his gold to govern the populace and dominate the most dignified and reasonable portion of society.

104 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

...Let those who have ears to hear,
hear (i)!

It seems that some ears have been opened green on hearing the prophetic accents and the threats of "Protocols", where manifest so cynically the hateful contempt that professes the Jews towards the Goyim.

This little book, described as disturbing (distant-bing) by Tirnes, attracted to England, United States, Germany and perhaps also in other countries, attention to the dangers that make Christian civilization pursue the aims and Israel's ambitions.

And recently, a Swiss writer, Mr. Georges Batault, was able to declare in the Mercury (2), that of the facts revealed and observed, it resulted in a certain "general renaissance of anti-semitic tism, directed rather against the demonstrations of the Jewish spirit than against Jewish people."

(i) The Protocols. Ed. Émile-Paul, pp. i3oi3i.
(2) Delivery of January 1921.

CHAPTER V

Its Resistances in JTngleierre.

list The Bretons. – A call from Grémieux whose Israelites dispute the authenticity. – Mr. Lucien Woll. – A brochure by MG Fitt-Rivers, with a curious preface by Doctor O. Lévy. – A circular of the Jewish League of Petersburg. – Lord Reading. – An article from Blackwood's Magazine.

The Times article reporting the pamphlet: The Jewish peril: Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion^ had caused a sensation. The Jews were moved; on their behalf, lieutenant-colonel Mel Malone had the audacity to ask the Speaker what measures the British Government intended to take to prevent his diffusion. The Minister of the Interior replied said: "I fear that the law will not give me any power to have this book removed.

I06 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

However, the brochure had become intrusive; serious hands had done it disappear from bookstore windows. Alone, the few people who had bought it before the Times article, owned copies and the publisher, duly notified of the imprudence he had committed, declared that he would not make a second printing.

In France, the publication of the Protocols is not did not go unnoticed. The Correspondent of May 26, 1920 gave an account with quotations, under the signature F. Lechanncl, which earned its director an indignant letter from a well-known Israelite in politics and the Institut.

L'Opinion published certain fragments and, in its June 26 issue, inserted a sort of refutation of Mr. Saïomon Reinach, who does not did not refute much, but denigrated Serge Nilus, while conceding that "Trotsky and what-that dozens of influential Bolsheviks were of Jewish origin.

Old France, by Urbain Goliier, who,

RESISTANCES IN ENGLAND 107

antisemitic loincloth, did not fail to draw Jewish Danger of valuable information and solid arguments. V Action Française reported it several times and La Libre Parole published it in serial form.

In Switzerland, the Courrier de Genève and the Revue Romande analyzed the book and engaged even controversies about it.

However, in England the incident seemed closed. The Englishman, the Jewish Liberator, this last organ of the young group "The Britons", had clearly pointed out to their readers the data of the brochure, but I draw from these magazines was so modest that the Israelites judged the negligible thing.

It was different when a major daily of London, of high literary and political standing took: The Morning Post, took text from the book confiscated to publish under the title: "The Cause of World Unrest" (dial), a series of articles, also measured and moderate in form as documented and demonstrative in the background. In these notes, a parallel was established between Bolshevism and I Wilsonianism; public attention was attracted on the preponderant role played by the Jews in

108 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Peace conferences, on the treatment inflicted to Poland, on the perils which would result for the British Empire successes even by elements of the Israelite conspiracy.

The sympathies shown by the deputies Jews sitting at Westminster on the benches of conservatives to their Bolshe co-religionists Didn't the vistas present a character disconcerting? The Israelite Secretary of State for Wasn't India (Mr. Montagu) the leader's friend? of the anti-English movement in the great after having been the host, h Lypne, of his young and rich Jewish friend, Sir Philip Sassoon, whom Mr. David Lloyd George had imperatively advised Poland to accept without delay the peace of the Soviets!

This time the English Israelites felt affected. In its issue of July 16, 1920, The Jewish Guardian blamed the blow. Her lead article entitled: danger! sketched a fairly staunch defense, a vague refutation of documented accusations from the major newspaper. GOOD heard, the Hebrew organ cries: persecution! He goes off on tangents, imagines diversions, criticizes the Movnlng Post for "seeking to

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 109

to inflame the spirits against the Israelites" and, without destroy only one of the targeted arguments, he accuses the conservative newspaper to sue against its co-religionists a policy similar to that practiced in Germany by Bismarck in 1871.

But here is the popular BlackwoocVs Magazlne joins in. In one study, moreover their eulogy, dedicated to Disraeli, Mr. Charles Whibley develops the idea that, in no country, the Israelites should not be called to hold the reins of power. He adds: "We cannot we hope to be well and loyally governed as long as we have not excluded the Jews from Government advice. »

From then on, began to take shape around the "Protocols" and developed, depending on whether the com-mentioned the events which followed one another or published documents, resistance to push-seated, to the attacks of the Jewish power. There league: The Brilons took on a new extension; she had it reprinted and published at her own expense: The Jewish Peril: the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion; his newsletter, written with biting verve, spread in the uni-centers versitarians; under its auspices were launched tracts with expressive titles: England

under the heel of the Jew ialoii of the Jew); h the Jew to en slave the World I (Will the Jew reduce the world to slavery 1)

The attitude of the government vis-à-vis the Poland, in July and August 191*0 and the fighting who engaged in this in Eastern Europe
era clearly showed the existing affinities
so much between the Jews, the Bolsheviki and the Germans mands.

Latvia had sold to the government
Polish a significant number of horses.
When the ship carrying them, with their con-
drivers in civilian clothes, entered the port of Danzig,
the British high commissioner refused to let disembark. Same refusal a few days later opposed to the docking of weapons and ammunition brought by another steamer. Sir Reginald Tower knew, however, that these ravi-Sizes of the Polish army were authorized and provided for by the peace treaty. He declared that he simply conformed to the advice of the government
ment of the free city. Now, who was this government?
ment? The Germans of Danzig, like Russians, had formed Soviets under the benevolent eye of the Prussian mayor and its municipal council. In every factory there is

RESISTANCES IN ENGLAND III

formed a workers' council and delegates of these Councils formed a Central Soviet which headed a Jew named Cohen. Under the cover of the mayor and the English Commissioner, Sir
R. Tower, it was this Cohen who administered truly the great port of the Baltic.

In the letters addressed to the Journal to this time, Mr. Henry Bidon established how much was close the understanding existing between the Bolsheviki and Germany in their common hatred of Poland. The strategic movement attempted by the Red Army and consisting of penetrating the corridor along the Prussian border cannot be explained only by the certainty that the army had bolshevist to find support and refuge from the other side of the border.

A Morning Post military correspondent, who followed the operations of this campaign, from his side, gave very interesting information on the role that the Jews played there.

When the Bolsheviks entered Brest-Litovsk, they hastened to establish a Revolutionary Committee. Its president K. Moroz immediately issued a proclamation announcing sure that the Jews would be exempt from all requisitions and would not be subject to any tax of war. When the Polish offensive brought retreat of the Bolsheviks, five thousand Jews, among which all the young people wanted to leave with them.

112 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

In Bielystok, the Russians had organized a Local Soviet according to the Moscow program. This Soviet, chaired by the Jew Felix Cohen, took pressed to execute two Catholic priests liques and fourteen landowners, including the crime was to be known as Poles patriots.

In Biala, 2,000 Jews joined the army red and retreated with her. In Siedlic, the Jews fought with the Bolsheviks to defend the city against the Poles. Moreover, almost all accompanying people's commissars the troops of the Red Army, were Jewish. The one Siedlic's name was Rothberg; that of Brest-Litovsk: Kohn.

Sir Stuart needed a certain naivety Samuel, who came on mission to Warsaw a few weeks ago, to be surprised at how little sympathy that the Poles felt towards Jews established in their territory.

However, for several months already, the aris-Jewish tocracy of London, who frequents the tors and patriots, had sought to establish that she had nothing in common with the Jews communists in Russia and elsewhere. A professional test in this sense had been published on the date of April 22, 19 19 and she wore among other things signatures, those of MM. Lionel de Rothschild, Philip Magnus, Marcus Samuel, Claude Montefiore, Isidor Spielmann.

At that time, the Zionists still found among their co-religionists known contradicts, opponents and even a few resolute adversaries. It seems that now all open opposition to Zionism as well as to Chevism has been silenced. The people of Israel is united and disciplined, as demanded but the prophetic voices of the "Sages" whose the "Protocols" codified the sentences. All the Jews of the British Empire docilely obey ly under the orders of those who exiled their power, flattered their pride and their spirit of domination.

8

II 4 IE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

II

Resistance to the Jewish push tends to accentuate. The Spectator publishes an article quite violent against the actions of Israel, and several newspapers are indignant at the Bolshevik audacity when the Daily Herald scandal was revealed, revealing the financial support provided to extremists of the "Labour Party" by the revolutionaries and the murderers of Russia. A patriotic league tick: The British Empire Union, which groups many members, without declaring themselves anti-Semite develops a nationalist program calling for tough legislation regarding naturalizations, defense for foreigners – read Jews and Germans – to change parliamentary or municipal mandates and to own land on the soil of the United Kingdom United.

The league "The Britons" advocated its side the reestablishment of VAct of Only 1700.

RESISTANCES IN ENGLAND II5

This law prohibited any person born in the foreigner of non-English parents, to be part of one of the Houses of Parliament, of the Council deprived of the Sovereign , or to be provided with "a major military or civil functions of the Crown ". In fact, this A and had fallen into obsolete for quite a long time, but it is curious to note that it is on the date of August 7 1914, a few days after the declaration of war against Germany, which it was, in the interest of the Israelites, formally abrogated*

The Morning Post, which continued the series of his articles on the "Protocols" and the causes deep in the global malaise, decided to publish a new document on the Jewish question: a manifesto by Adolphe Crémieux.

Edouard Drumont showed, in France Jewish, the harmful role played in France Adolphe Crémieux. Grandmaster of France masonry, member of the Government of the National defense, protector of Gambetta – who had been his secretary – this character policy had decreed, in 1871, the nature globalization of the Jews of Algeria, which gives us led to a terrible insurrection by the Arabs.

However, despite the high functions he had occupied, the only title of which Adolphe Crémieux was proud and wanted to be engraved on his tomb was: Founder of the "Israelite Alliance universal. »

II6 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

to fully understand the value of this manifesto, addressed to the Israelites throughout the world on the occasion of the creation of a link between the sections scattered from Judaism, and whose mind is in full harmony with the guiding ideas of the "Proto-collars".

The manifesto bears an emblem. At the top the tables of Moses are represented; below, the globe earthly; in the middle two hands clasp each other.

The founder thus defined the object of the institution and its character:

"The Union that we want to found is neither French, neither English, nor Irish, nor German request; it is Jewish and universal.

"Other peoples and races are divided into nationalities; we alone have no conscience citizens but only co-religionists,

"Our nationality had the religion of our fathers, we recognize no other..."

"Our cause is great and holy. His success is assured. The net that Israel casts over the globe earth widens and extends every day and the prophecies of our holy books will finally be realize.

RESISTANCES IN ENGLAND I \J

"The time is near when Jerusalem will become the house of prayer of all people and nations, where the banner of the monodivinity Jewish will be deployed and displayed on the banks more distant.

"Let us know how to take advantage of the circumstances... Our power is immense; let's learn how to use it for the triumph of our cause...

"What could we fear? The day is not far away where all the riches, all the treasures come out of the earth will be in the hands of children of Israel."

excitement in organized Israeli groups.

Action Française (i) had reproduced and commented on the main passages. In all haste, the secretary of the "United Israelite Alliance" whose headquarters are in Paris, 45, rue de La Bruyère, sent a letter to the management of the newspaper to declare that this document had been "invented from scratch. »

(i^N of September 20, 1920.

II8 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

For his part, Mr. Lucien Wolf wrote to Morning Post that the manifesto published in its columns was a smith/, and sought to restore clarity, during a controversy engaged with this newspaper.

To what extent was ML Wolf qualified to speak on behalf of British Judaism? He is a valuable journalist; he speaks and writes well and it is undoubtedly for this double reason that the Israelite committees gave him the responsibility of defending their cause and promoting their ideas.

Lucien Wolf was born in London to a father in England and a mother, Céline Redlich, daughter of an Israelite banker from Vienna. He studied in Brussels and London and collaborated with various newspapers. He led the political wing of the Daily Graphie, was the London correspondent for the French daily le Journal (189/1-98), and then took charge of the Jewish World, which he abandoned in 1908.

Zealous freemason, he was in 1911 and 1912 grandmaster of the authors' masonic lodge. In the meantime he collaborated with the Times, the Encyclopaedia Britannica, was president of the Jewish Historical Society of England and member of the Institute of Journalists. He is therefore an Israelite demonstrated during the peace conferences, in 1919, Lucien Wolf was one of the most influential representatives of the Community. He let go even having obtained the insertion of the famous minority clauses in treaties with the Poland, Romania, Yugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovakia.

RESISTANCES IN ENGLAND Iig

This is the character who was responsible for demonstrate the inanity of the documents published by the Morning Post. He relied on the fact that, in 1860, Crémieux was not yet president of "the Universal Israelite Alliance" and that it was not not even one of the six signatories of the manifesto written in 1860. Mr. Wolf recognizes, however, that the illustrious Israelite was part of the committee by who fled elected the organizing committee of the Al-bond.

Whatever his official title was at that time, it was necessary that Crémieux – who, moreover, was not vain – considered himself to be the initiator of this creation, for having asked that his title of Founder was engraved on his fall.

The Morning Post made no difficulty in indicate where he found the document which caused so much indignation among the Israelites. He had extracted and translated from a book by Mr. Alexis Shmakof, esteemed jurist and advisor municipal of Moscow, published in 1906, under the title: Suoboda i Evrei (Freedom and the Jews). At the time of its publication, it does not appear that protests occurred. While persisting – so much to say that the part was due to an imposition tor, Mr. Wolf was led to admit that this "imposter:" must have had before his eyes the authentic document.

120 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

There was a very simple way to elucidate the question: it was to publish the real manifesto. I took the liberty of suggesting it to the secretary of "the Universal Israelite Alliance" (1).

The proposal was certainly indiscreet.

and advantageously close the controversy by giving nating the text of an appeal to all Israelites in favor of the "Universal Israelite Alliance", dated "May 1860" and signed by the six members of the organizing committee.

One of them, Narcisse Leven, was my colleague

(1) See the Action Française of 27 scj'Uml'ie iy20.

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 121

to the General Council* of the Seine, which he chaired as the oldest person at the opening of the sessions. He was a wizened little old man, ivory complexion, very harmless in appearance.

If we except the poet Eugène Manuel, the others were almost unknown. They were called: Rabbi Astruc, Isidore Cohen, Carvalho and Charles Netter. The appeal, written in French, was innocuous in shape. He requested the support of Israelites at the new association by showing the advantages of union, the need to pro-proclaim the right and demonstrate the vitality of "the oldest and simplest religion spiritualists", to "moralize those who are corrupt... to enlighten those who are blinded", to make better use of resources scattered... wills without direction, aspirations without a defined object."

Only one passage had Go to politics, and he must have gone unnoticed, because at that time The Play and Taine had not yet demonstrated the bankruptcy of great principles.

Join the Alliance, said the authors of the Call "if you believe that the influence of principles of 89 is all powerful in the world, that the law which results from it is a law of<?

122 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

justice, that it is to be hoped that everywhere its spirit penetrates and the example of the peoples who enjoy absolute equality of worship is a

It is likely that a circular also banal would not have galvanized the Israelis and would not have provoked the enlistment of members devoted to the point of fanaticism to the Alliance. For ensure its recruitment, its organization, its development, to provide it with resources financial, there was a need for more ardent appeals, more engaging suggestions, the assistance of initiates of Masonic lodges. Adolphe Gré- better: had to understand it and act accordingly quence. If the mani Teste inserted in the Morninr/ Posi inaccurately reproduces the text of the first appeal, confidentially addressed to the Israelites by Crémieux, I believe that the published document by the Jewisk Guardian still deviates well more, and you would have to be very candid to suppose that the keepers of the secret archives of the "Universal Israelite Alliance", consented would communicate to the Goymys the original of the manifesto bearing the signature of Crémieux.

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 123

III

The Russian diamond scandal, from the Daily Herald, continued to move English opinion. Some bona fide socialists broke with the extremists. The proof was acquired that the jewelry, stolen in Petrograd or Moscow by Soviet Jews, had been transported in pounds sterling by Jewish brokers of London and used in the United Kingdom and elsewhere for Judeo-revolution propaganda- nary, (i)

A curious brochure: The World means fiction of the Russian Revolution, by George Pitt Rivers, from the presses of Basil Blackwell, at Oxford, made a new contribution to the history and philosophy of this Revolution prepared, engineered, exploited by the Jews.

The author recalls, not without irony, the terms

(i) The facts revealed after the arrest of AbramovitcIi-Zalewski establishes that similar resources fuel revolutionary propaganda in France.

124 THE HEGNE of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons

in a telegram addressed on March 1918 to American Consul General in Moscow, greeted the glorious Revolution "liberating the people Russian Paulocratic and making him master of his destinies". Without donation, Russia is delivered of the authority of the tsar, but she suffers the yoke "of an autocracy of internationalist foreigners, and Jews who massacre people by cent-thousands, with the help of Chinese torturers nois; who ignore all religion, murder the pnUres, enslave the class worker and make the citizens who refuse to participate in their criminal madness. » The author does not claim that all Bolsheviks are Jewish, but it establishes that the true leaders of the revolutionary movement are of blood Israelitc. Psychological considerations logical and social are added, to demonstrate it, to findings of fact. Do the Jews not have not always exploited for their benefit payments and cataclysms of peoples? We knows their action in the French Revolution, in the republican movements of the Alle-magnes in i8/d8, in the uprisings of Bavaria and Hungary. The philosophical doctrine and financial of the socialists was it not for-molded and taught by the Jews; Karl Marx, Lassalle, David Ricardo!

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 125

Anti-Semite as he may be, Mr. Pitt-Rivers has a Israelite friend; it's this friend, Doctor Oscar Levy, whom he asked to write the preface to his book, proface full of interest, vigor and unforeseen.

Mr. Oscar Levy shares almost all ideas of the author of World significance of the and powerful, it expresses thoughts which seem can sometimes be inspired by the works of Bonald and by Joseph de Maistre. "The French Revolution This – he said – was the consequence of the Re-shape. The Reformation, of German essence, was based on a brutal and crude conception of Christianity; however, this conception was imagined born, preached and propagated by the Jews. »

A little further on, he shows the Jewish "fathers spiritual aspects of democracy and consequently of plutocracy. But, by looking for the responsibilities, he finds that on English soil he there were culprits elsewhere than among the Israelites. The Puritans, the companions of Cromwell were they Jewish? Is this a Jewish court Who had Charles I beheaded?

126 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

However, the cruelties, the crimes of the Puritans, the misdeeds of the usurers and financiers of Anglo-Saxon blood does not take anything away from the guilt collective lity of the Jews.

On behalf of those of his race, Mr. Oscar Levy made amends. He formulates a complete Meâ culpâ. "We have the culprits. We we were posed as the saviors of world; we boasted about giving him the Messiah and we have become the deceivers, the arsonists, the murderers of the human race..* We promised him a new paradise and we led him to the threshold of a new hell. »

And yet, he adds, we are not all usurers, Bolsheviks or Zionists!

To demonstrate that Jews can also nationalize and become patriots in the country that they adopted, Doctor O. Levy discusses the actions and policies of Friedrich Stahl, the creator leader of the German conservative party, Benjamin Disraeli, the godfather of imperialism British; but these two statesmen could will, by nationalizing themselves, conquer the means to serve with greater authority the private interests morals of Israel.

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 121

slow, the doctrinaire liberalism which ends up achieve Bolshevism, calls for a final revolution "against revolutions-naries" and declares that, during the supreme struggle, he will be the son of that race of Israel which, on the battlefield of ideas got deployed rable victories, on the same side as his friend Pitt-Rivers, from an old Christian family. In any case, this mentality of an Israelite from across the Channel is rare enough to deserve that we point it out, but it did not fail to strangely surprising, if not, to revolt the editors of the Jewish Chronicle, the Jewish World and the Jewish Guardian (i).

*

The publication in volume of articles from Morning Post on the "causes of global malaise

(i) Mrs. Elizabeth Færster Nietzsche, sister of the philosopher whose works Doctor Oscar Levy had published in England earth, wrote him a very suggestive letter, dated Weimar: "I admire seeing preface and will endeavor to make it to know. My only fear is that the Jewish question was here so adulterated, that your views and your retrospective considerations tives could give rise to total misunderstandings.

128 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

dial" with a remarkable preface bearing the signature of Mr. Gwynne, its director, brought a resumption of controversies between this newspaper and Israelite leaves. The Spectator, in its delivery of October 14, 1920, devoted a important article on "the causes of global malaise dial". Its author, while considering with a certain circumspection all the facts and recognized that many of them are difficult to contest and that we can infer serious consequences. He proposed that a serious investigation was made about them. A royal commission would be established; equipped of the most extensive powers, it would carry its investigations on the following points: Is there is there an international revolutionary conspiracy? national? Are the leaders of this conspiracy Jews? Is the purpose of the conspiracy destruction of Christianity at the same time than the social revolution? The mass of Jews does she make common cause with the conspirators because they are Jews or because they represent his true aspirations?

The program was drawn up precisely and the conclusions of such an investigation, freely and faithfully conducted, would have offered a passion no interest. But the British "First", who carried out an investigation into the grievances of the Palestinians by Sir Herbert Samuel, who sent Sir Stuart Samuel in Warsaw to collect the complaints from Polish Jews, who appointed Rufus Isaacs Lord Reading, Viceroy of India, hardly seemed to have the necessary impartiality fair choice of members of a such commission.

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 120

However, the bulletin of the "Britons* continues cloud, under a new title: The hidden Hand (the hidden hand), his defensive campaign against Jewish attacks and invasions. He claimed that the Israelites were not foreign gers to strikes and constant threats of English miners' strike. Their leaders, Smillie, Williams, Thomas are just puppets whose strings Israel would operate. In the Scottish coal mines are working elsewhere Jews from Poland and Smillie is simply ply the agent of Emanuei Shinwell, Israeli of Glasgow, principal author of all the con-work problems that arose on construction sites of the Clyde during the war.

The organization of the Anglo-Jewish government of Palestine filled the Israeli leaves with joy lites; their columns were crowded with minutes of political and religious meetings

 gious. Zionist committees are being formed everywhere
 But, Jewish-Masonic lodges are multiplying yielded and redoubled their zeal. The great order from Israel; Twist Aehel Britk and Shield egg Abraham, orders Achel Amet/t, Shield of David, B'nei Brith^ revived the zeal of the lodges affiliated, recruited new members,
 organized quotas, banquets, balls.

However, the articles devoted to pressure Jewish by the independent press were not without worrying them and the leaders of the Israelites of London did not see without some appreciation
 hension the Morning Pont to dispatch one of his colleagues laboratories in Palestine to study on site
 the functioning of the "Jewish national home. »

It was then that was published in The hidden hand a new document, emanating from the "Go-central city of the Pelersburg section of the International Israelite League. »

Here it is verbatim:

Son of Israel! The hour of our supreme victory is close. We are at the threshold of domination of r universe. What was once the domain of our

INSISTANCES IN ANGLETEline 131

dreams are about to come true. Weak and helpless healthy as we were, the global catastrophe has made strong, and, thanks to it, we can meet the heads with pride.

However, we must be careful. We can sure-ment to prophesy that after walking on the ruins and crushed altars and thrones, we will continue our advances on the traced path.

But the authority of strange religion and doctrines that we have propagated with so much success is

All the same, we have shaken culture, civilization.
tion, traditions and thrones of Christian nations.
We did everything to submit the Russian people to yoke of Jewish power and finally overcame it noodled in front of us.

Our work, with regard to him, is almost completed, but
However, we must be very careful, because Russia
The oppressed is our great enemy. The victory carried thanks to our intellectual superiority, perhaps turned against us by a new generation.

Russia is conquered and pinned to the ground; she is dying sound our boot, but do not forget for a single moment that it
You have to be attentive and careful. The sacred concern of our security does not allow us to practice either piety or forgiveness.
It is a necessity to keep the Russian people in the misery and tears. By seizing its properties and with his gold we have reduced him to slavery.

Let's be careful and quiet I Let's have no pity for our enemy. We must put an end to best elements of the Russian people in such a way that the prtf/s cannot find any leaders or leaders. We we will thus deprive him of any possibility of resisting our

132 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

power. We must provoke hatred between workers and peasants. War, class struggle will destroy all the cultural treasures of the Christian peoples hold. But, son of Tsrarl, let us be prudent and reserved!
Our victory is near because our political power economic and economic, as well as our influence on the masses, are making rapid progress. We are masters of the finances and gold of governments and, consequently,
quent, we are all powerful on the State Stock Exchanges,
The power is in our hands. But let's be wary of traitors and underground activities.

Bronstcin, Apfelbaum, Koscnfeld, Steinberg, are, among many others, true sons of Israel. Our power in Russia is limitless. In the cities, the commissioners and commissions for provisions, houses, etc., are ours.
devotion. But don't let victory get drunk.
Be careful and distrustful, because, apart from us, there is no
You don't have to count on anyone.

Remember that we cannot trust

against us.

Sons of Israel, the hour of victory over Russia, if long awaited, rang. Close your ranks. Propagate the national politics of our race. Fight for our ideal. Holyly keep the old laws which were bequeathed. That our intelligence, our genius, we protect and guide us!

This document is dated December 19th. He was found in the wallet of a Jewish officer named Zundcr, read in an engagement, and which commanded the 11th rifle battalion the red army.

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 133

Written in Hebrew, it was translated into Russian, then into English, and I quote it from the English version which was communicated to me.

This circular from the central committee of Petersburg corroborates with singular force the prophetic opinions and teachings of "Protocols". She adds precautionary advice. Despite the triumphant victories carried in Russia and the formidable thrusts carried out among the Anglo-Saxons, Israel plans resistance and wants to wisely adjust its offensive march, so as not to be exposed to certain some failures.

There is a visible harmony between the aspirations of the founders of the "universal Alliance" "Israelite saddle", the campaign plan developed by the Zionist Congress of Bay, and the advice given by the Petersburg committee after the conquest of Russia. Accepting that the cited documents are partially inaccurate or even entirely apocryphal, the events that took place, during and since war, have only too fully justified the prophetic declarations of the "Protocols". We cannot read without worrying

tions the pages where the methods are explained
used to concentrate in Jewish coffers
the wealth of the States, to seize the opinion and governments through the press and the corruption, to ensure, through terror, the domination of an empire – Russia, – for dissociate, among other peoples, the forces of resistance, prosperity and life.

IV

If, in government circles
United Kingdom, Jewish influences continue to predominate, it seems that in the independent press pending and in public opinion, protests and reactions manifest themselves with more force and continuity.

The Anglo-Jewish newspapers themselves admit
the importance of this movement by opening in their columns a section entitled Jadaica
in the Press, richly nourished and where they strive to refute articles that seem to them sounds dangerous or unpleasant.

THE RESISTANCES IN ENGLAND 135

By the pen of Mr. Saint-Læ Strachey, the Speciator clearly accuses the Israelites of Britain to be "Jews first, English
then", which presents serious disadvantages deny when Israelite interests are not condo not align closely with British interests niques. Blackwood's Store is more aggressive against Israel. One of his articles concludes thus: "We have before us a danger which would be absurd to disdain by invoking crazy-religious tolerance. It is no longer a question
a question of religion, but of race, and more we will insist that the Jews do not have no public or secret share in government ment of the country where they have the good fortune of live, the less risk we have of being rushed

Alongside certain professional newspapers and magazines, testants, a Catholic foundation body recently pointed out, not without virulence, the danger Jewish. This is Plain English, weekly magazine which absorbed a literary and bibliographic publication well-known graphic novel, The Academy, and appears since July 1920 under the direction of Lord Alfred Douglas. This review deliberately attacks Mr. Lloyd George and his Jewish, ultra-democratic, sometimes even Bolshevist. In his columns, Major-General Count Gherep-Spiridovitch wrote a series of pages passionate about the history of the Jewish conquest since the time when Mayer Amschel, whose commercial sign carried a red shield (Rothschild), after having administered before carefully the property of the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel, founded the dynasty of secret sovereigns of Israel.

136 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

And a very lively campaign was carried out, Pos of the naval battle of Jutland by Lord Alfred Douglas. Mr. Winston Churchill is there accused of having collaborated in the plot of a Stock market coup with Sir Ernest Cassel and a group of Israelite financiers, and explanations tions are requested with insistence on the subject from an order signed Beaty, transmitted by TSF recalling the squadron which pursued the German fleet mande, order that the admiral had not sent (i). It is certain that this naval battle of Jutland is still surrounded by mysterious clouds laughing, and that several of its phases are not not yet elucidated.

(i) Plain English, deliveries of February 5, 12 and 19, 1931.

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND ify

To ward off the fairly serious blows which they are thus worn, the Israelites decided the creation of a well-armed "Press Committee" financially, who will take all measures to the articles, in a word to stop its better action by the independent press (i). He we must dedicate to gemonies anyone who does not bow not before the power of Israel and we did not hesitate not to blame a woman, the princess Bariatinsky, who took the liberty of distributing to Oxford unpleasant pamphlets.

The Press Committee charged Mr. Lucien Wolf to write a pamphlet to refute these nasty "Protocols", initial cause of all the wrong, and to show the inanity of the comments to which they had given rise among the Gentiles. Despite his expert pen and his good will, Mr. Lucien Wolf failed to prove great thing by his Jewish Bogey. The Israeli press covered him with flowers, the Glasgow Herald (2) did the same and declared that only "circumstances"

(1} After several months of operation, this committee of Press, whose services were little appreciated, had to be supreme.

(2) No. of January 3, 1921.

THE KINGDOM ISRAEL CLKZ THE A8GL0"i*Å3ton!J

fortuitous instances could have given some truth resemblance to the hypothesis of a Jewish peril.

At the beginning of January 1921, one of the best Israeli speakers, I doctor Epstcin, was invited to do in London, at Salishury Hall, a large conference on "The Epidemic of Anti-Semitism". The Rolhscliildian newspaper The Jewish Guardian gave a copious analysis of it. First of all the speaker states that anti-Semitism is on the rise Great Britain an import product. Ja- but such ideas would not have germinated all alone on English soil. Judaism represents feels progress and the ideal; anti-Semitism denotes the ignorance and the spirit of reaction. THE first harmful seeds were sown London by members of the Russian nobility, for whom the hatred of the Jews is combined with that of Bolshevism and "who seem to have forgotten the duties that one owes to one's hosts! » Should the

Manche, to consider that foreigners refuse gies in England enjoy their own hostel pitality!

The only international conspiracy, according to the doc-their Epslrin, who puts into practice the fable "The Wolf and the Lamb", is that of the anti-Semites,

LKS RESISTANCES IN ArfGLETERfte lo$

whose propaganda extends from the Black Sea to the Pacific Ocean. It seems, he added – without doubt by taking on a mysterious air – that the funds which open the paths to it emanate from powerful and secret sources!

The fear of anti-Semitism hardly changed,
in any case, the pro-Jewish attitude of the government
ment of Mr. Lloyd George. A minister, sir Alfred Mond, embarked with Doctor Weizmann, the great leader of Zionism, for the accomto swim in Palestine; Mr. Winston Churchill accepted the honorary presidency of a great sale for the benefit of Jewish associations in Manchester, and Lord Chelmsford having reached the end from office, Rufus Isaacs Lord Reading, was designated to replace him. It's a Jew who goes govern the Indexa a particular period-critically, and succeed in the lineage of the great lords of Anglo-Saxon blood, whose prestige
staff had sometimes added radiation
to the high office conferred by the Sovereign.

Who could have predicted such a destiny for Rufus?
Daniel Isaacs, son of an Israelite merchant in the Quoted? His start in life had been turbulent.
After completing in Brussels and Hanover studies started at Unluersity College

140 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

from London, he had sailed as a pilot on a sailboat, then entered, still very young, the Stock Exchange.– An unfortunate mishap, from which paternal generosity pulled him, made him abandon give the Bar Scholarship. He succeeds better and, turning towards politics, became 1910, Mr. Asquith had him appointed solicitor général and member of the Cabinet. While taking care of jurisprudence and politics, Rufus Isaacs did not neglect his financial interests. His carrière almost turned pale. In 1912, his brother Godfrey Isaacs was in talks with the government for a concession requested by the Marconi company, of which he was director. THE rumor spread that, during the negotiations, several members of the ministry had acquired cheaply from the shares of the Marconi.

Sir Rufus Isaacs (he had been knighted) protested against these insinuations in the House of Representatives Municipalities; but it was soon after proved that he had, as well as some of his colleagues, advantageously purchased Marconi securities

(1) The Revue Universelle of March 1, 1921 published a curriculum vitae of Lord Reading: (pages 646-600).

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 141

American, subsidiary of the other, while discussing was the contract.

Mr. Asquith's friendship saved Sir Rufus. THE parliamentary mores include this kind of indulgence. The intimacy of Cornélius Herz did not break the fortune of Mr. Clemenceau; the adventure of Panama did not definitively rule out Mr. Rouvier from power. It even seems that the Marconi affair accelerated the rise of Sir Rufus. Appointed lord chief justice, that is to say Minister of Justice, he was raised to the peerage in 1913 under the name of Lord Reading.

His relations with Lord Rothschild, with Sir Ph. Sassoon, with the great bankers of New-York, were going to make it easier for him to take an important part in international negotiations national movements which continued during the war. President of the Anglo-French commission which negotiated loans in New York in 1916, he was in 1917 and 1918 special envoy and high British envoy to Washington.

With his co-religionists from the entourage of the president Wilson, he prepared the clauses of peace avorable neither to England nor to the interests of Anglo-Saxon states. So he was quickly, in the hierarchy of Lords, promoted to viscount and county.

14* THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

The appointment of Lord Reading* as vice-president royalty of India, however, caused a certain surprised and was coldly received by the opinion. In diplomatic and military circles keep quiet it was discussed at length. The Morning Post spoke for the conservatives subservient to the Israelites to qualify it harshly is lying. But it is in the popular Blackwood's Magazine that can be found faithfully due to the opinion of the bourgeoisie and the classes averages:

The real danger of the appointment of Lord Reading is that a new Jew is added to those who already participate to the government of the Black Empire. The British Empire unique is condemned if it passes into the hands of a race élan&vre... The Jews have raised themselves too high among us. With the help of A.I. Lloyd George they occupy some of the highest positions in state. They are completely incapable of hold them. Without doubt, they are skillful, flexible, insistent nua ute(ffiih); but, in the government of an Empire, skill, flexibility, cunning are vices rather than virtues... By a strange irony, at the moment where Bolshevism revealed its sinister character mother of the Jews, they are men of the race of Trotsky who exercise supreme power in England ...And the Jews themselves will not profile their constant usurpations of auloîiLé. Thanks to A.I. Lloyd

RESISTANCE IN ENGLAND 143

George, they're doing everything they can to provoke anti-Semitic passions in England. We are a patient people, but we will not suffer long-time of foreign usurpations. If political intrigues ticks did not intervene, there would be no shortage of brave Englishmen to do the work of government imperial. But the Englishman, little trained in driving to serve the Empire with dedication, is not able to compete with the Jew, insinuating in business, skilled in push and push his own.

Currently, Great Britain is taken, almost crushed between the two stones of a mill. Lord Reading and the tribe of Montagu, Samuel and Mond is on the one above. The other bears the Jewish Bolsheviks who treacherously sow discontent in the classes popular, in the hope of benefiting from the revolution general. Is it any wonder that the Jews are no longer regarded with sympathy by the English?... Mr. Lloyd George would serve his friends' cause more usefully Hebrews if he abandoned them to their lucrative and peaceful professions and if he left Great Britain the care to administer according to its own traditions the great Empire built by his sons! (i)

From this quote, from all the facts exposed and documents transcribed or summarized in this chapter, it clearly appears that the resistance resistance to the Jewish push has not yet said its last word in England.

(i) BUidcwooiVs Store. Feliruary 1921, pp. 263–205.

CHAPTER VI

Xth Resistance in the United States.

Bolshevism reveals the Jewish peril in New York. – An American translation of the “Protocols”. – Henry Ford and the Deadly Independence. – The committee rights of religious minorities. – Ideas by Professor Frankfurter. – Event Jewish–German against France.

The Tribune of January 17, 1921 reproduced the following passage from a speech given by the Doctor Elias Salomon at the Convention of Synagogues held at the New Jewish Seminary York: “The United States will be the center of Judaism in the near future. America

multiple and so favorable that we have none

10

146 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

never encountered the like in the history of the Dispersion (i). »

It is indisputable that the Israelites were able, during the war, maneuvering in the States-United in complete freedom; the president of the great Republic, to which the Constitution gives powers so extensive, favored as best he could the conquering power of their race.

Whether it is New York or London which becomes the capital of Judaism, the question is of order a little secondary, except for the Anglo-Saxons fixed on both sides of the Atlantic, and it seems that the Zionists must on this point to render judgment, worthy of Solomon, in declaring that only Jerusalem can aspire to title of metropolis of the Israeli universe.

Resistance to the Jewish push was not manifested for the first time in the United States that when they were there known the atrocities committed by the Bolsheviks in Russia. It's towards the end of the year 1918 when a modest publication appeared in Brooklyn: The Anti-Bolshevikist whose subtitle explicitly indicated the subject "Magazine monthly for the defense of institutions

(i) Old France, n° 311 of (February 0-17, 1921.

RESISTANCE IN THE UNITED STATES 147

Americans against Jewish and Bolsheviks of Morris Hillquit and Leon Trotsky", Its editors had no difficulty in establishing that most people's commissars of Soviet Russia were Israelites and that many of them came from America. They discovered that their main financial agent was Mr. Max Warburg, Jewish banker, brother of Mr. Paul Warburg, son-in-law of Jacob Schiff (i).

your reported in the Philippines, in the Aiiiéri(jue of the south and in Canada, had as initiators Jews from Ilussia. The Hungarian proletariat was on the other hand domesticated by a handful of Russian revolutionaries, constituting the most tyrannical and the most dastardly U s table of governments ments.

('it was the Jewish conspiracy that ruined the army Russian and saved Germany from defeat in 1917. Bolshevism is of pure Jewish essence that. "The Hoichevisi Jew aspires to domination universal tion, and, to achieve its goal, is ready to drown the world in a river of blood. The Bolshevik of America is indeed the brother of

(1) The Anti-Bolshein$t, June 1919.

148 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Bolshevik tiger rjui destroyed Russia and massacred millions of men. He admires and encourages Trostsky and does not hide the projects which he continues. He wants to nau (rage our civilization-Christian vision and replace it with the diet enjoyed by Russia today" (i).

Martin Luther, at a time when the Jews, despised and herded into ghettos, seemed not very dangerous, had judged them thus: "It is a pernicious breed. They oppress everyone by their plunder and wear. If they give a prince or a master a thousand flo-rins, they extort 20,000 in return from their topics. We must always put ourselves in guard against them. They are the enemies of Finished my island."

The founders of Anli-Bolchcvist had no not the means to continue their long campaign. Boycotts by distribution agencies bution and the booksellers subservient to the groups Israelites, they had to suspend its publication.

When the first tra-duction of the "Prolocols", this brochure fit sensation in all English-speaking countries.

(1) The Atiti-Rntchwisf, July 1910-

RESISTANCE IN THE UNITED STATES 149

Several news newspapers, unwilling do not have to ignore a brochure whose Times and the Morning Post had spoken, in gave more or less long analyzes and cited a few passages (i). A day, by the publishers Smali and Maynard, was published a new translation of disturbing pamphlet, preceded by an interesting introduction. In certain academic circles "The Protocols" were read and commented on; but for make them known to the general public, it was necessary to propaganda effort. This effort, one of the kings of the automobile, Henry Ford, would soon provide.

II

In American democracy, even more that in the others, it is the plutocrats who hold political influence and direct currents of opinion.

(i) The Public Ledger of Philadelphia, in particular, published extracts in an article on Bolshevism, but without indicate the Jewish origin of the "Protocols" and by deleting the indications which Ja revealed.

150 THE RÛGNÉ D*15!UEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Henry Kord has huge factories in United States and is well known in both regions of the ancient A 11. He is very popular among his workers, for whom he multiplied the institutions and social works. Pacifist to the core ity and utopia, we still remember the belief he had undertaken, at the time when the war was in full swing, to offer the 1)cuples in conflict with olive branches. He had chartered a steamer, which, for all cargo, brought

Upon disembarkation in a Norwegian port, Ja Lienry Ford's disillusionment was profound. THE Belligerent States and, in the first place, Germanygne, refused to receive his person and his gifts. He therefore returned to Xe\v-York and, con-overcome the responsibilities of our enemies in the unleashing of the fight, indignant at the torpedo-age of Lrisitanta and the reinforced savagery of Germans in submarine warfare, he approved the armed intervention of his country and the seconded generously.

After the signing of the Treaty of Versailles, the great pacifist wondered if this really international convention, based on a League Nations that had to be born and brought to life,

RESISTANCES IN THE UNITED STATES 151

was able to assure Europe and the world a period of calm and rest. He took to doubt. He noted that despite treaties and Wilsonian principles, Ton continued to fight
in Russia, Poland, Yugo-Slavia, Asia Minor. Internal unrest, more strikes political and economic issues exploded in the working-class centers in most states. THE budget deficits were widening, deeper even though during the war.

And Henry Ford sought to discern the causes real causes of these worrying disorders. He studied the "Protocols"; he read the pamphlet containing the articles from the Morning Post, including an edition had just appeared in New York, and after having meditated on the Cause of the World Unrest, he declared aware of the gravity of the Jewish peril.

ilenry Ford, once convinced, wanted, in the interest of his country, to share his convictions tions to his fellow citizens and first of all to his workers.

Founder of a journal written for the latter, the Independent Deaborn, there include-immediately began a campaign against "Jewish conspiracy". She achieved such success that the circulation of the little Michigan newspaper was

1512 THE REIGN OF ISHAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

soon to increase tenfold. The first nine articles, published from May to July 1920 under the heading The international Jew, grouped and published in brochure, were widely spread and caused among the Israelites in the United States an irritation and a stupor that they did not fear to confess.

The articles of the Anti-Bolsheoist, emanating from young patriots devoid of any influence social, had left them indifferent and disdainful gneux. When the victorious caravan passes, it doesn't care about the barking of the pugs. But billionaire Henry Ford was an adversary who should be reckoned with.

It's not just the Deaborn articles India were aggressive and violent in the shape. They were level-headed, full of facts, enlightened by philosophical considerations and social.

The first article posed in happy terms the Jewish question: The World's Problem and sought to define the curious and enigmatic characteristic of the sons of Israel.

The author could have paraphrased the definition given of the Jew by Bernard Lazare in V Anti-Semitism, its history, its causes: The Jew

RESISTANCE IN THE UNITED STATES 159

is not, as some Pont claimed, a being perverted by the persecutions of old; It is “an unsociable being... anarchist... cosmopolitan... revolutionary agent, but conservative towards sees himself a.

He defined it with more kindness than had not made him his co-religionist and judged American point of view its spirit of domination, its commercial and financial methods.

Another article dealt with the reaction which the flight of William II, the Jews had seized most of the Reich ministries. Haase headed foreign affairs, Schiffer was finance minister. In Prussia, Hirsch and Rosenfeld were at the head of the Cabinet. Kurt Eisner presided over the government of Bavaria. In Berlin, in Munich, in Frankfurt, in Essen, the leaders of the police were Jewish. Two of the delegates at the Peace Conference were also. We see what a wonderful organization it was Jewish, the Ail Judaan, as it is called Across the Rhine. Today, an energized reaction tragedy occurred and among the Israelites cited, there are few who are still in office.

However, the Germans would be wrong to salute to their Jews, because it is thanks to them that their Reich was camouflaged as a democratic state and socialist, which earned him effective protection of President Wilson during the negotiations of peace treaty.

154 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

In the following articles is shown Faction Jewish on newspapers and magazines in the United States. A professor from an American university, who had spent several years in Russia and whose notoriety was great, was refused by all major periodicals a study, purely philosophical sophistic, on the Jewish question. The head of American workers, the one who always strived days of keeping them in reason- ideas nables is a Jew, Samuel Gompers, but a another workers' federation, this one extremist, The Ahnagamalcd Clolluncj Workers has for leader of a Jewish aure, Sidney Hilimann, which proves that in the parts where the interests workers are at stake, Israel is still banking on both tables.

The Deaborn Independent had also established, supporting statistics, that if the Jewish population of Union Liais had passed fifty years from 50,000 to 3 5 300,000, his influence had grown to infinitely greater proportions

strong, the City of New York is a citadel Jews who now have the majority there buildings. Everything related to theater and in the cinema is in their hands. The industry sorting sugar, that of tobacco, the trade of paintings, clothing manufacturing houses
 ments, fifty percent of the factories of canned goods, sixty percent of factories shoes ; the trade in grain and cotton, jewelry, loan counters,
 newspaper and periodical distribution agencies
 disks, etc., constitute their economic domain mic.

Further are analyzed and commented on various passing of the "Protocols".

We understand that this press campaign sus-cited indignation and controversy. There Current Opinion magazine, last August, gives an overview. Israelite newspapers, notably Vamerimn Hebrew, epilogued
 on statistics from the Deadborn Independent.
 By the pen of Mr. William Lloyd, the Metro-
 Lilan intended to demonstrate that there were Israelis American litcs such as Baron Gunzberg and
 Mr. Sack, director of the intelligence bureau
 Russian troops, who openly fought

150 THE NEGRO OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

the bolshevisue. This paralleled the anti-Bolshevist declaration published in London
 key signed: Rothschild and Montcfiore.

In Hearst's newspapers, whose german-nophilia is hardly overshadowed, Arthur Bris-Bane eulogized the Jewish race and the Phoenicians, also Semites, that we do not hardly expected to be involved in this affair.

The Anglo-Jewish organs did not want remain foreign to this cl controversy, failing which of arguments, the Jeioish World of November 10 1920 gave the following opinion: Mr. Ford is considered have as engineers, agents or employees a large number of Israelis. Why don't these man who is the enemy of our race? And would it be difficult to decide the Jews of America not to no longer buy cars coming out of its factories?

I don't know if this advice was followed. In all case the threat hardly frightened Henry Ford and he valiantly continued his nationalist crusade.

Perhaps the Israeli press believed it was carrying a terrible blow to his adversaries by taking more or less openly the initiative of the creation of an "American Committee of Droils of religious minorities", committee whose need

RESISTANCE IN THE UNITED STATES 157

was hardly felt in a country where all religions are as free as can be design. This committee formulated a sort of manifest. After having expressed certain truisms relating to freedom of beliefs and cults, after having condemned all persecutions crimes, whoever the victims were, this manifesto contains two paragraphs in- which Jews are praised to the skies. It seems that, among the citizens of the United States, the Hebrews are "the most intelligent, the most patriots, the most philanthropic. »

Do we have to be narrow-minded enough, perverse enough not to not esteem them, love them? And the authors of document deplore the nasty criticisms, the perfidious insinuations directed against them in England and America!

It's always the same ambiguity that we seeks to maintain. Nobody wants Israelites to practice their religion; but the patriots of all countries feel the need to defend themselves against their financial activities or Bolsheviks, against their attempts to dominate world nation, against threats, followed by beginnings of execution, of a conspiracy international.

signed this manifesto, this is easily understood; that pastors, bishops of certain Protestant churches also approved it, this can be explained if you have read Wells' book: The Her! of a BUhop (the soul of a bishop), but that the name of Cardinal Gibbons appears among the signatories, this surprises and disconcerts. THE events will take care of opening the wants of the vrnvvb prince of rivals, to show him the serious dangers that the Jewish growth poses to Catholicism and Christian civilization (i). (it is not without reason that Cardinal Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, a, in a Congress Catholic national held in London, condemned subversive ideas, "aggressive and rapacious" Jews imported into the Holy Land, many of whom came from America. Of his side, the Anglican bishop of Jerusalem formulated energetic protests against Zionism, including Judge Brandeis, friend and advisor to the presidenl WilNou, is a great chef in the United States. Now, Zionism is truly a crowning achievement

(i) The carrliiin! nibimns Cbt died on i!\ mnrs igai. He laughed frozen from. H7 years* and strong nuilude for several months, which 1*11 luve. some authority to a given signature few days before if dead.

RESISTANCES IN THE UNITED STATES i5g

of a building erected to the glory of victorious Israel, and synthesizes his ambitions, his pride, his thirst inextinguishable from revenge and domination.

It is certain that this "American Committee of rights of religious minorities" was not imagined as a parade against the blows dealt to the power Jewish life in the articles written under the inspiration Henry' Ford's ration.

The Israelites move heaven and earth in New-York, Chicago, major urban centers to try to stop this campaign and they rely heavily on the moral effect produced by the manifesto- On the other hand, they have just made introduced to Congress, by a representative of Ohio, Mr. Emerson, a bill relating to two clauses: the first prohibits sending by the post of any publication having as its object second provides for sanctions against perpetrators of these public actions, amercements which can rise up to than 5,000 dollars, prison up to five years, and need the two sentences combined. Despite the support that Jews are sure to find among the representatives and senators, it is quite doubtful long as Congress wants to venture into similar legislative innovations.

100 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Finally, the Jewish Guardian of April 1, 1921 tells us that Doctor Einstein, of whom we knows the new cosmic theories, answers regarding the appeal of the American Israelites, embarked for New York with the doctor Weizmann. The "new Newton" leaves Germany and his laboratory to add the pressure stem of its science has a mission which proposes itself a triple goal according to the Israelite organ: "to straighten Ser Ja scales of justice in favor of the Jews oppressed" (sic), raise funds for the Palestine and for its University, and oppose* his best in the campaign of the enraged Henry Ford, "the rabid moforman."

III

For several months, it has been taking shape in the United States United a Germanophile campaign, directed specifically cially against France and clearly inspired by the Israelites.

In its delivery of October 1920, the review The New llepublic published on "Politics

RESISTANCE IN THE UNITED STATES 161

of France and peace in Europe » an article sensational (i).

The author, Mr. Félix Frankfurter, is an Israeli brand. Professor of law at the University deis, he was, during the war, the advisor to the government for questions concerning the work. He claims to be "familiar with the situation" of Europe" for having been sent to several several times in Paris in order to fulfill missions, quite secret in fact, relating to to socialist organizations and Palestine.

MF FYankfurler believes that if peace does not does not yet reign in Europe, despite the time elapsed since the armistice of November 1918, we owe it to France.

In his eyes there are two centers of disorder in the world: Moscow and Paris. But it's Paris, the big culprit, because he wears a good share of responsibility in the policy made to Moscow. To obtain appeasement, the teacher Israelite considers it necessary to carry out

(1) Mr. Louis Aubert devoted an interesting study to it in the delivery of October 31, 1920, of a Review which is not nothing less than anti-Semitic: L'Europe Nouvelle,

has

162 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

"the deflation of imperialism and the French winemaking".

It's the threat of occupation of the Ruhr that we must attribute the spirit of revenge which reigns had Germany, and, without French policy, it there would have been no unrest in Silesic, no conflict in Ire Poland and Soviet Russia.

With feelings far removed from justice, Mr Frankfurter takes stock of our difficulties budgetary, due largely to the non execution of a treaty drawn up and adopted by the Allied stalls. But he sees in our financial distress— This is a happy way to put ourselves in the right direction. its, and consequently to ensure the salvation of humanity. It is through dollar diplomacy that we can reach. What did the promises matter in the past to restore our devastated departments?

part of its claims on F/Ulemagnc; but neither neither England nor the United States will surrender of a parcel of black debt, and the enormous power financial strength acquired by America during the period when it maintained neutrality, will serve to force France to bow to peace
news that will be imposed on him, peace which will include will end its economic and financial collapse.

RESISTANCE IN THE UNITED STATES 163

'. Frankfurter presents America to us embodied in Wall Street. It would no longer be there nation with a warm heart, vibrant with enthusiasm, remembering with gratitude the assistance given by France, under Louis XVI, at a time when he was to ensure its independence. Instead of a noble Don Quixote exclaiming: "La Fayette,
here we are " ! the United States, as said precisely Mr. Louis Aubert, would take the features of Shylock demanding his pound of flesh human (i).

Propaganda is established in New York to spread the ideas and views of Mr. Frank-to steal and to incite contempt and hatred of France.

The newspapers across the Atlantic tell us take only on February 28, in Madison square Garden, a large meeting was held organized by Germans, Sinn-Feiners
and Israelites, to protest against the atrocities alleged crimes committed by the color troops
French colonies in the Rhineland.

This meeting, which also caused violence
slow protests, had been organized by xm

(i) V New Europe, 1920, p. i5q3.

I04 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

committee, called "the horrors of the Rhine" which preside a German, Doctor Edmund von Mach;
but the Israelites who joined in his campaign
are not yet qualified to represent the

No doubt, under the presidency of Mr. Woodrow Wilson, they could speak like masters; can- will it be different with the president Harding.

In any case, the Senate passed the Dillingham Immigration Restriction Bill which limits to 3 % of the figure of Americans of origin European Union, the number of immigrants likely to be received each year in the United States United. From April 1921 to March 1922, the total im- migrants cannot exceed 335,000, and this greatly dissatisfies the leaders of Israel who were counting on evacuating the flood of Jews from Eastern Europe.

CHAPTER VII

X* Zionist Pier. – These Jînglais in Jerusalem.

Zionist aspirations. – Theodore Herzl. – There letter from Mr. Arthur Balfour to Lord Rothschild. – The joy of the Israelites. – A visit to Jerusalem- lem after the occupation of Palestine by the Allies. – The first arrivals of Jews. – Pro- tests of the Islamo-Christian Committees against the New government. – Demonstrations and riots. – The Inquiry of Sir Herbert Samuel.

The Zionist idea goes back a long way – tains. After the destruction of the Temple and the edict of Adrien, provoked by the revolt of a false Messiah and forbidding Jews from living in Jerusalem salem, these dispersed throughout the Empire Roman. They enjoyed wide tolerance there, while the persecutions against the Christians. Until the 5th century, they formed a sort of autonomous nation, having in its head a sovereign, descendant of Hillel, to whom we gave the liter of elhnarquo. This sovereign had a Court and had missi dominici responsible for administering scattered communities

under the raj))orl of justice and worship.

Under Julian the Apostate a first first Zionist attempt. The Jews turned their glances towards Jerusalem and some of them
their religious leaders enthusiastically considered siasm the prospect of rebuilding the Temple
on the ruins of Christianity and to gather
one day in Palestine the descendants of the Israelis IUch of the Diaspora.

Saint-Jérôme had indicated these aspirations:
"The Jews promise themselves for the end of time
the restoration of the city of Jerusalem; SO waters will flow out of the city
the two seas; or will practice again
circumcision, victims will be immolated, will observe all requirements of the Law; This is not the Jews who will become Christians,
but the Christians who will become Jews (i)".

In the Middle Ages, the Jews despised, penned
in ghettos, communicate with difficulty
from city to city, from country to country; in time

(i) In Zavhar, XIV, y and passirn.

I/STOMSTE IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 167

modern, their situation has improved greatly.
Exclusively occupied with business, commerce,
of wear and tear, they knew how to make themselves useful and amass fortunes. Once rich, they seek to penetrate into bourgeois society and are once admitted to the Court of Sovereigns. Emancipated at the end of the 18th century, they took advantage of the time revolutionary to infiltrate the regions power. Their flexibility, their lack of scruples, their special intelligence helps them singularly to conquer important situations aunts. Without abdicating anything from the traditions of their race, they seem to be nationalized in the places where they made their fortune, financially or politically. They were the first to understand the psychology of democracies and the influence

are called upon to influence public opinion.

Everywhere they have newspapers, periodical collections, scenes, and it's \m triumph for the race when Benjamin Disraeli, became Earl of Beaconsfield and first half-Minister of Queen Victoria presides over the Treaty of Berlin, the restoration of the map of Europe, monitors both the interests of the United Kingdom and those of Israel.

168 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Sidism seemed dead. He was only sleep. Without a deputy, the wealthy Israelites would not hardly thought of rebuilding the Temple of Salomy, but, in the ghettos of Poland, Russia, Romania and Hungary, there were more Jews in rags, like those described by the Tharaud brothers in the Shadow of the CroifXy who approached each other saying: "The year pro-chain in Jerusalem! ".

An apostle of Zionism revealed himself. Theodore Iïer/J, born in lîudapesl in i8tio, attached himself, with a passionate zeal, to be revived among those of his race the idea of territorially reconstituting their nationality, to found a model political state, rehabilitating the Jews in the eyes of other nations.

The Zionist idea hardly spread in France, in Italy, nor in Anglo-Saxon countries. The axiom Ubi benè ibt patria seemed to correspond to the mentality of the arrived Jews who, moreover, considered the dream unrealizable. However, some major bankers supported, on a charitable basis, the efforts of Théodore Herzi. A Roth hospital-schild was founded in Jerusalem and a small colony No Jewish woman was able to exploit around Jaffa a winery.

Palestine belonging to the Turks, we could only set a few provisional milestones. Moreover, Herzl was not primarily concerned with mode of Uganda offered to him by the English.

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 169

But the popular groups of Russia,
Poland, Romania, did not willingly accept third parties the prospect of exile in central Africa
trale; we had made the spirit shine before their eyes mystical perience of the restoration of Zion.
For their resurrected kingdom, they did not want than one capital: Jerusalem.

Herzl died in 1904, sad and discouraged,
but his apostolate had borne fruit.

The adventures of the World War revive the faith of the Zionists. As soon as the interview was the possible dislocation of the Ottoman Empire, the question was asked again in the associations Israeli tions and a little later subjected to the examination of the chancelleries of the Entente.

Among its main protagonists, we must cite in England Doctor Ch. Weizmann, head of the Zionist federation and successor to Theodore Herzl, Sir Rufus Isaacs, Sir Herbert
Samuel; in the United States Judge Brandeis, Henri Morgenthau, ambassador to Constantinople,
Professor Frankfurter. Created Lord Reading,

170 THE REIGN OF iSRAEİ, AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Rufus Isaacs was intimately associated with Mr. Lloyd George, the British "First", and the three Americans were personal friends of the pre-President Wilson and his political advisors. With the title of high commissioner and ambassador extraordinary, Lord Reading was called to settle, on the eve and the day after peace,
the pending questions between England and the UNITED STATES.

A certain mystery still reigns over the negotiations which continued in New York in i()i() and 1917. Like France, Great Britain Tagne had urgent needs for money. We sent large subsidies to Russia. He
it was necessary to strengthen the strength of the French front, increase war material, intensify more possible the construction of ships... In awaiting the realization of domestic loans,
it was urgent to obtain credits. The big ones had to overload their assistance with engaformal statements relating to Zionism. It's here that he found the most plausible explanation of the letter addressed by Mr. James Liai Four to Lord Rothschild:

THE ZIONIST IDEB. – ENGLISH ISLANDS IN JERUSALEM I71

Foreign Office, November 191*].

Dear Lord Rothschild,

I have the honor to address to you, on behalf of the gouinauguration of Her Majesty, the following declaration, sympathizing with Jewish Zionist aspirations, declaration which, submitted to the Cabinet, received its approval bation.

Her Majesty's Government plans to encourage ably the establishment in Palestine of a home national for the Jewish people and will make every effort to facilitate the achievement of this objective, understood that nothing will harm either the rights of non-Jewish communities existing in Palestine One, namely rights and conditions, a policy of which Jews enjoy it in every other country.

I will be obliged to you to bring this declaration to the knowledge of the Zionist Federation.

Sincerely yours

Arthur James Balfour.

Despite the few reservations it containsbut, this declaration, which recognized as a powerful and official authority the Federation Zionist, associated himself with his ideal, favored his achievement, provoked indescribable enthusiasm in popular Jewish circles.

RP Lagrange, one of the learned masters of the Bible School of Jerusalem collected and transcribes the echoes:

which shakes the foundations of the earth, when the world
the whole is in pain, when the persecuting empire,
the empire of pogroms collapses more miserably than the Babylon, a new Cyrus shows the Jews the path to holy Zion. So is it to bring them back that God has made a way among so many ruins? THE Lord said:

I will revive your race from the East,

And I will gather you from the West.

I will say to the North: Give!

And in the South: Don't hold back!

May my sons come from distant lands

And my islands from the ends of the earth (1).

Mysticism that all this, but this mysticism shakes millions of men. Kôvc, chimera, I willingly believe it-third party, but who, at this moment, triumphs over wisdom scribes and prudent people, because it is necessary that the leaders follow, as Ledru-Kollin said, when the troops are so determined to walk. But they are, and the leaders cannot refuse their membership. All that can obtain spiritual masters, formerly the only oracles of Judaism is to moderate the explosion of joy, to remove anything provocative and aggressive (2).

This joy could not fail to be unpleasant.
sive. It inevitably revealed the character of a revenge on Christianity.

(1). Is. HIM, 3 et selv.

(2) The Gorrcspondanf, delivery of April 10, 1918.

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 1 73

From the start of the war, our British allies-niques pampered the Jews. In IqiB, the general Rawlinson, commander of IV Corps, had lieutenant as orderly officer
of yeomanry Sir Philip Sassoon, who owed more later becoming private secretary to the marshal

Alexandria during our body's stay there Eastern Expeditionary, a detachment of the crew train, made up of volunteers
Jews and called The Zion Mule Corps.
Some Jewish units were later added
to the mi troops participated in the campaign of Palestine under the orders of General Allenby
and who, in 1918, "conquered" Palestine.

That was all it took to excite the gold-
military pride of the Jews.

When Cardinal Dubois and the French mission
caise landed at Caïffa in January 1920, a reception took place at Mr. Fouad Saad, at to which Muslim notables were invited mans, Syrians, Latins and Israelites. In response to a speech of cordial welcome, 1st cardinal,
whose courtesy and kindness are radiant, thanked those present of all races and all religions, and congratulated the Israelites for having,

174 M HEGNE OF iSRAEt AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

they too, did their duty and shed their blood for the cause of law and freedom. The bus-Dinal Dubois soon learned that his thoughts had was thus transcribed in a Zionist sheet:
"If the Entente was victorious, this is due also to the fact that the Jews, from the beginning until that at the end of the war, they shed their blood
for the cause of the Allies and supported it their best" (i).

The Zionist newspapers neglected to take from their readers that there were Israelis lites in the armies of the Central Powers and among their bankers and suppliers. They don't have not further mentioned the fact that at the start of the mission of Cardinal Dubois for Port Said,
the chief rabbi of Jerusalem handed over to the prince of the Church a protest against the invasion
Zionist, then in its infancy.

(i) The Palestine Weclily, January 23 i^ .

II

It was in Cairo that most of the organizers and pioneers of government Jew of Palestine. They held their conciliabules in one of the large hotels of Esbeideh, were in regular communication with the Zionist committees of London, New York, Vienna, from Warsaw.

From Egypt to Jerusalem, the journey is short, thanks to the strategic railway built by the English during the war. But the way, lightly equipped and poorly consolidated, is impassable wind during heavy rains. I made the experiment in February 1920, when I wanted take a closer look at the first tests of the diet Zionist. The sleepers sink into the ground wet, the rails become distorted and derailed ments would be dangerous if the trains do not move do not walk with the demure gait of pedestrians, when that we approach scabrous places.

Speaking of Cairo at six o'clock in the evening, the express from Port Said, we arrive around ten o'clock at Kanlara on the Suez Canal (place of passage caravans). This is where the focus is, after their disembarkation in Alexandria or Port Said, lousy Jews from Eastern Europe. They already feel like family and a little at home them. The passport officer, the doctor sanitary, customs employees are their co-religionists and, like them, speak Yiddish.

I76 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Everyone piles up with their packages in heavy automobile trucks starting slowly, cross the canal on a bridge mobile boats (1) and, after winding for two kilometers through tents and barracks, stop in front of the small Kantara-East station.

Here begins the domain of OETA (Occnpiied Enemy Territory Administration)
falling under the sole military authority. We pro-yields to a new customs visit in a crowded room where everyone is jostling. A soldier in khaki, with Semitic profile, auscultate conscientiously open each suitcase. Close

< 1) There is talk of establishing a tunnel at Kantara would enable the passage of trains, without interrupting the transit of channel.

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 177

of me, a sordid Jew spills the con-held a large canvas bag: a lot of old handleless brooms. I look at him attentivelylies while he carefully places it back in their bag and one by one their brooms; his features accentuate killed, his deep eyes, his long beard reminiscent of Rembrandt's head of the rabbi, a of the master's most beautiful paintings at the National G go there.

It's not far from midnight when we settle down in the train, which moreover must not be put into walking until seven in the morning. The route is not without interest. After the crossing from the desert of the Sinai peninsula, stop at El Arish, delicious oasis by the sea, with a pretty sandy beach. Sometimes, we pass through camps of Hindu soldiers. It is a pipe parallel to the track which supplies in Nile water stations and camps. After Gaza, the appearance of the country is changing; we see a few villages and clumps of palm trees.
Camel caravans are becoming rarer;
the soil is cultivated, sparingly moreover; of the streams coming from the Palestinian hills trace deep lines in the reddish earth furrows.

The weather is cold ; it rained continuously for several days and the natives, grouped around the stations, shiver and seem frozen in the burnous that cover them.

We were to arrive at Lodd (the old Lydcla) but the train stopped abruptly at about thirty kilometers to the south. The way was cut off in front of us and we remained twenty hours broken down while awaiting repair. HAS Lodd lies the branch of the League of Jafia and we are already getting on a train crowded by Jewish groups, who entered Palestine by Jafia or Cniii'a. This train is abominable; the cars with the disjeweled doors, the leathers torn, with broken windows reminiscent of trains of permittees the dilapidated pines... Finally, after having crossed a fairly fertile plain, the locomotive engages by blowing into a narrow and winding valley. The train winds between arid hills, with snowy heads, continues its ascent for two hours and finally stops in front of a poor station appearance, surrounded by muddy puddles: the station of Jerusalem.

Along the way, I had observed my companions. In the compartment where I had taken place, two gentlemen, a lady and two young people girls were conversing in German. We asked news from cousins who remained in Frankfurt and Darrnstadt. A close relative of one of the does had just obtained a position as an engineer in Palestine; a "herr professor" was soon expected, probably to do a course at the University. Jewish community in the process of being organized. Celtic family of German Israelites seemed lively of no religious passion, dreamed of no mystical ideal. Fathers and sons had found advantageous situations, welcomed them and tried to publicize such a boon relatives and friends.

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM ij(j

In the corridor, a Jewish woman in her fifties of years^ was talking out loud with an official English steel. She asked him about resources author of an Amsterdam newspaper, she said;

I have no religion, but I am a nationalist,
and it is for this reason that I am interested in the renovation
tion of Jerusalem".

Between this intellectual aristocracy and unbeliever and the crowd of Jews as Levites or caf-tan, temples adorned with corkscrew hair
chon, nourished by the precepts of the T/tora, a

180 THE REIGN OF ISHAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

harmony, a discipline are they likely to be easily established?

In any case, it is not yet a government autonomous Jewish ment that functions, but the self-British military rity on 0. AND AT. seems deploy prodigious activity to pre-clear the paths.

III

Palestine has as its governor a general of division, brave soldier, having as principal concern for commanding, administering one's troops and to maintain order in the territory which is entrusted. But Jerusalem is under orders of a brigadier general on a temporary basis, who is not a career officer. Before the war he exercised civil functions in Egypt, where he is very well known. Intelligent, Bible-literate in his capacity as a pastor's son, speaking Arabic, ambitious enough to take on missions
that others would not have accepted willingly,
he was well chosen to preside, in full

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 1811

agreement with the Zionist Federation on execution commitments made by England and more or less ratified by the Allied Powers.

clu that many Israelites entered into Palestine. Their arrival coincided with a mutinerie of Jewish soldiers, and influential Zionists
did not fail to intervene to subtract mutineers to the jurisdiction of courts martial.
They were not long in considering themselves as already being the masters of the Holy Land.

In an interesting study (i), Lord Syden-ham of Combe impartially exposed the colonial ambitions of Zionism and calculated the consequences that will result from this. Population of Palestine comprises approximately 5 1 5. 000 Muslims mans, 65.000 Jews and 63.000 Christians of various rites. The idea of installing "a people without land" tory on a territory without people a can theory-
to present some apparent seduction,
but it hardly bears examination if we applies it to Palestine. No doubt there, like in all countries subject to Ottoman rule, agriculture can be improved, industry

(i) Published in the Spectator and reproduced in the Egyptian Gazette of February 28, 1920.

182 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

developed, but to what extent these stoneware are they feasible?

The southern region is desert; the hills which surround Jerusalem are stony and arid; only the coastal and valley lands of the Jordan can be made more fertile and feed more people.

Let us admit that after the execution of major work irrigation valleys and the commissioning of a powerful agricultural and industrial equipment, the Palestine can support from 1,200,000 to 1.500.000 people; these figures cannot be certain not be overwhelmed and they bring out the fantasies of the Zionists who claim to bring together
six or seven million Jews.

Lieutenant Colonel Patterson, Commander of a Jewish battalion during the expedition, did not left unaware that we should get rid of Arabs and Syrians by equitably expropriating them

more air for the newcomers.

The twelve or fifteen thousand Jews who landed queried in Palestine as soon as the gates were opened, experienced serious disappointments. They found no houses, no shops, no occupations and almost died of hunger despite the money that was distributed to them, so much, the Food was expensive and scarce. Number of they, after a few weeks, left for the countries from which they came. If the immigration had continued like this, it was over of the experiment attempted. But the British authority that and the Zionist Federation, warned of the danger, changed tactics. The invasion had to was very slow and methodical to be sustainable and that the number of immigrants does not exceed the installation possibilities of the moment.

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 183

A committee, with considerable capital set to work. He bought or rented all the houses sons that he could buy or rent in Jerusalem; in the surrounding area he acquired, without discussing the prices, building land. In the countryside where, as a result of the war, the peasants had in debt, he bought lots of plowing land and olive plantations. These operations killed, we could import under conditions more favorable of the Jews of Eastern Europe. They were provided with a roof, a field to cultivate.

In the meantime, the recruitment of administrative executives nistratives continued. It was necessary to pass in the hands of the Israelites the responsibilities, the functions public actions, however modest they may be.

184 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

In order not to eliminate Muslims in principle, mans and Christians, an ingenious means was find. The salaries of small functions naries were modest; the abnormal cost of life made them insufficient to ensure existence tenancy of their holders and their families.

possible to increase them, but the Zionist Committee took it upon himself to increase – to double, it is said – the treatment of Israelite employees. It is as well as in a very short time, the Jews monopolized almost all uses of the roads, iron, posts, police, municipality.

As for the Hebrew traders, they found credits and loans at a rate of 3% in Anglo-Jewish banks, created for them, while non-Jews offering guarantees do not can only borrow at 10 or 12 %.

A specific fact will provide insight into the processes since from 0. AND TO. in financial matters.

Crédit Lyonnais has long had time an agency in Jerusalem. It was natural-closed during the war, but when the Holy City was taken back from the Turks, its former director received from his board of directors ordered to return to his post and reopen the French bank. However, our British allies made them wait in Egypt for more than six month, authorization to cross the border Palestinian, while, without the slightest delay, had operated the branches of Anglo-Egyptian, of the National Bank of Egypt, as well as than the spontaneously created Jewish banks.

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 185

IV

The populations of Palestine, morals gentle and peaceful, took some time to to be moved by Zionist projects tending more or less directly to their expropriation and their expulsion; but when they understood the gravity Avoiding the dangers threatening them, they sought to unite to protest against the attacks to their incontestable rights and then to organize resistance. On January 26, 1920, at Nablus, the Islamic-Christian Association, on the part of all the notables of the country, decided "to completely boycott the Jews, because of their claim to seize the land, not to not allow them, under any circumstances text, to enter and reside in this province; to continue this boycott and this opposition until the Zionist idea disappears, or we disappeared until the last one."

186 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

In February, the allocation to Jews of a vast domain, near Jaffa, that Djemal pasha had confiscated during the war, provoking only a deep emotion, which was not calmed not the statements made by General Governance verneur at the Mirai-el-Ghark newspaper.

Here is the text of these statements:

10 The Allies, notably the United States and France, approved the granting of certain rights to Jews in Palestine. They also approved the declaration of Mr. Balfour tending to create a national home Jewish, on the condition that this does not harm the religious, civil and political interests of the inhabitants.

20 England will subdue Jewish immigration in Palestine to restrictions, conditions and controls severe, so that it does not harm the situation economy of the country. We will only accept Jews who have a profession, or who are educated, or who have means, so that they are not a burden for the population and so that they can take advantage of their agricultural, commercial and economic knowledge. In any case, this immigration will only take place when the situation of the country will allow it.

THE ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 187

3 "The Government will safeguard the property of peasants and will not allow people to sell their goods only when necessary.

4° The country will be governed by a strong and guardian, who will establish justice and protect the rights of

5° The Allies do not have and will never have the intention to create a Jewish government in the country. The country will be governed by his own children and will judge them. Decisions will be rendered in accordance with laws passed by a Council elected by a majority of popular votes. THE government is currently taking useful measures to guarantee the rights of the population. He will prepare from now on the inhabitants to Self Government, in calling many of them to office, under the leadership of experienced and well-trained governors intentional.

These statements are skillfully balanced with frankness and hypocrisy. They present the general governor as the spokesperson for allied and victorious powers, to which he resistance is not permitted. They seem to act grant certain rights to the Palestinians, then that this gift is purely illusory. Farmers indebted or ruined will be allowed to sell or forced to sell their land and, as autonomous government will only be organized when the Jewish flood will have overwhelmed Christians and

188 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Muslims^ popular suffrage will then be everything acquired under the new regime.

As for the inhabitants called from now on to public office, they will almost be all Jewish and their insolent appearance denotes sufficiently the scruples they will experience when they are completely the masters, not not harm the weak*

Also, the Palestinians did not make any illusion about the fate that awaited them, if no one did not take their defense*

Their leaders had read the solemn words delivered by President Wilson, on behalf of the Allies it seemed. On December 17, 1917, United States Senate, he exclaimed: "We let us fight for the definitive peace of the world, for the liberation of all peoples for right of all people to choose the conditions of their existence..."

How to reconcile such statements with a policy involving expropriation progressive and the methodical expulsion of a little ple of his ancestral land?

Under the auspices of the Islamic Association

I/ZIONIST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM 18fl

Christian, chaired by Aref pasha El Dazani, important demonstrations took place on Friday Wednesday February 27 in all cities.

That of Jerusalem was particularly impo-health. More than ten thousand people took part go. The procession took place peacefully in the streets of the Holy City and its delegates return to the governor, representatives of Powers, examples of a protest the main passages of which are:

Palestine, homeland of Jesus Christ, Palestine where the Khalife Omar built a mosque that the muslims from all over the world, today refuses that its mountains are transformed into volcanoes throwing fire and flames and the water of his Jordan be changed into blood to the greatest shame of humanity.

Palestine, whose children fought in the ranks of the Allies and entered Syria as victors under the flags of the Arab army, refuses to be rewarded with the death penalty.

How could we allow the Jews, who do not form not even seven percent of the population and whose properties constitute only a tiny part land and buildings in the country, to become, without lesser rights, the masters of the territory!

Our rights, on the other hand, are most obvious. They are the same as those of the English in England and French people in France...

§ THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

The inhabitants of Bethlehem, all Christians, Latin or Greek, also made a demonstration similar.

In Jaffa, the city's stores were closed my. After having assembled at the Latin church, Christians and Muslims, headed by notables and community leaders, meet said to the governorate. The mufti presented to Stanton issued a written protest against the Jewish invasion, and a telegram thus worded was sent to the Peace Conference:

The Allies' decision to detach the southwest part beyond Syria and making it a Jewish national home constitutes a black coward for Western civilization; She condemns to death an entire population that lives in this country for thousands of years. We were expecting on the part of the Allies, greater fidelity to their commitments and their principles and more benevolence towards a people who demand justice. We confirm our repeated protests and, once again, we raise voice against any rights that would be granted to Zionists and which we will oppose with all our strength to the last drop of our blood for defense of our sacred country.

These unanimous protests, to which the oriental style gave a special color, concerned the British authorities and the

THE SIOMST IDEA. – THE ENGLISH IN JERUSALEM jfyî

Brigadier-General Storrs, governor of Jerusalem salem, went in all haste, by way of the airs, in Cairo, to confer with the chal Allen by.

It was agreed that we would give some good words to the delegates of the Associations Islamo-Christian; we would promise them their justice and we would temporarily restrict the arrivals of Jews* An English character, who by chance was already in Egypt, would go carry out an on-site investigation into the situation politics and administration of Palestine.

bert Samuel, was more than suspected of bias. Israelite and Zionist, he was named Post-master's degree in 1910; in that same year Sir Rufus Isaacs became attorney general.

Sir Herbert Samuel spent a few weeks in the Holy Land. His opinion was quickly established. He publicly declared that the opposition movement position to Zionism was purely superficial, that it had no deep roots. Point there was no need to worry seriously about it.

Events did not take long to give him convincing denials. Hardly Sir Herbert had he left Palestine that the first fight occurred. Police officers Jews molested in Jerusalem, without any ter the, Muslims who came from Hebron on occasion sion of the Nabi Moussa festivals. These do not did not allow them to be mistreated without retaliating. Result : four Muslims and twelve Jews killed. THE Troubles continued the next day. The law martial was proclaimed and the British year had to to intervene. Dispatches targeted by censorship estimated the number of victims.

192 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Jews are easily allowed to own weapons, a favor generally refused to Muslims, but these are in relation to the tribes of the Jordan, and they easily obtain rifles, because the Arabs of the kingdom eventually tually intended for the king of Hedjaz were largely provided by the English.

As for Christians, the demonstrations of Nablus, Jerusalem and Jafia were sufficient established that they made common cause with Muslims. They all regret the time Turkish domination, a little arbitrary sometimes, but generally paternal and very liberal in religious matter. The danger that threatens them tends to bring about close understanding between missionaries of various rites and faiths.

A religious eminent, fixed for a long time in Jerusalem, published in January 1920 a study very substantial on the Zionist question. He has advocated union between Christians on the one hand, that also between Christians and Muslims, like a "need for salvation" and he formulated valuable advice from Jews of all countries could also have benefited:

Politicians would be better advised to stop the pro-sandstone of Zionist immigration instead of encouraging it, so as not to have to struggle soon with difficulties inextricable cults; in Palestine, where six hundred thousand Christians well and Muslims will perhaps not admit guo the strangers come to lay down the law on them; in other countries of the world, where the anti-Semitic movement would awaken tick and where, by force of circumstances, the Jews, ayani their reformed homeland, could no longer be con-stunned as nationals (1).

It seems that the Christian states which had in the Holy Land of religious establishments, schools, hospitals, orphanages, all scientists, could have raised their voice, defend against British authority brought to light service of zionism rights and privileges

(i) La Documentation catholique, January 31, 1920, p. 153.

13

194 THE KINGDOM OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANNU-SAXONS

that they held Capitulations and firmans sultanics (i).

France owed to its history, to its traditions tions, to the glorious memory of its Crusaders, of to be the interpreter of the Christian nations and to force the Anglo-Saxons to listen to his voice. As Ernest Psichari said, still in-believer, the feeling of the French homeland "leads us inevitably to cherish the religious y>.

Wrest Palestine from the Turks to hand it over to the Jews, it was a desecration that was necessary

In February 1920, an English soldier, a soldier French and an Italian soldier took turns riding role guarding her at the Holy Sepulchre. Could we admit that they would soon be relieved of their noble faction by a Jewish soldier?

To oppose Zionism with a view to peace-fication of the Middle East, history, reason is in perfect agreement with Christian sentiment.
here.

(1) It was revealed by an indiscretion of Mr. Max Nordau that it was in 1916, under the war ministry of Mr. Briand, that the first openings relating to the state took place establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine, under the protection of the British Empire.

CHAPTER VIII

Xa Jewish Palestine

The San Remo Conference. – The British Mandate
fuck on Palestine. – The Jewish “National Home”
under the high commission of Sir Herbert Samuel.

– The Jewish high commissioner at the Holy Sepulchre.

– Protests and resistance. – An investigation of “Morning Post”. – The “c Keren Hayesod *. – Text probable of the Mandate. – Grandiose projects. – Say-feelings between Zionists in England and America
ric. – First disillusionments.

I

When the Conference held in San Remo in April 1920 was of the opinion to give England a mandate on Palestine which was incorporated re-establishment of the “Jewish National Foj’er”, the government of Mr. Lloyd George hastened

under the direction of an Israeli high commissioner
lite, equipped with the most extensive powers.

IIQÔ THE REIGN II'LSIttAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

However, peace with Turkey, a power suzerain of Syria and Palestine, was it not not yet concluded; the Treaty of Sèvres is still pending; the nature of the mandate had not
not yet been defined by the League of Nations.
Powers benefiting from Ottoman territory of the Capitulations had not renounced their centuries-old privileges. None of the stipulations had not been submitted for ratification by nations interested.

It's in these strange conditions, complete-abnormally, that, under the powerful auspices of our British allies, Zionism took office
heavenly possession of the Holy Land.

Protests against its establishment by the military authority had, however, taken on a serious character. During the Easter holidays, a veritable riot led to the burning of a synagogue and casualties rated at two hundred killed or injured.

But the Anglo-Indian troops were quite numerous to avoid a real uprising
ment of the indigenous population.

When General Allenby entered Jerusalem
salem, there were in Palestine about sixty a thousand Jews. We can estimate thirty thousand

JEWISH PALESTINE I97

immigrants who arrived during 1919 and ten thousand those landed in 1920. If the latter figure was not higher, it is because the General Staff of Zionism thought that it constituted killed the maximum of the contingent that he was possible to house, feed and occupy.

Where did most of these Israelites come from?
what social backgrounds did they belong to? The year-the organizers of the regime. Germany has sent professors, doctors, engineers deniers, lawyers, architects, everyone personal, of which no mystical consideration had not decided on the exodus, but who expected to find stable and remunerative situations in Palestine trices.

Very numerous Jews came from Poland, belonging to various parties and groups. These parties can be thus characterized and classified:

The "Orthodox Zionists" called Misrachie (Orientals) form a sort of aristodemocracy, imbued with international solidarity Israelites, possessing a sense of race and aiming for world power.

"The Zionist organization", group of Jews

I98 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

of all social categories, constituting a powerful association which has representatives at the Warsaw Diet and continues, at the same time time that the national autonomy of the Polish Jews But, the founding of the Jewish State of Palestine. It was this party which obtained from Mr. Lloyd George Sending of a British commission of inquiry in Poland, chaired by Sir Stuart Samuel, brother of the high commissioner in Palestine and whose the report was reported in the chapter relating to created to the "Anglo-Saxon champions of Israel k

Popular contribution is mainly represented felt by the "workers of Zion" (Poale Zion) y socialists adherents to the Third International Council of Moscow, who advocate the establishment establishment in Jerusalem of a common republic Jewish nist, ready to make a clean sweep of all the monuments and vestiges of Christianity and of Islamism.

Finally, small groups of poor people or mystics from Morocco, South Africa, also headed towards the shores of the Earth promised.

went through Jewish schools and drew from them the principles of nationalism and morality

JEWISH PALESTINE IQ9

Judaic. What do we teach in cheders (primary schools)? Mr. Maurice Pernot, in a recent study on Poland, gives some previews:

In the Talmud, children do not find alone—is a theological dogma and doctrine, but a morality and a policy, a method of thought and a rule of life.

Listen to what the Talmud says:

If you ever have to go to war,
Try to leave last
And come back first.

He says again:

A Jew who makes only Jewish money
Passes into the hand of a goijm
Deserves to be punished by death.

Money, for the Jew, is a sacred, religious thing. The law, for him, is Jewish law; Christian laws cannot oblige him. However, the Talmud does not forbid the Jew neither theft, nor denunciation, nor treason, if he practices them at the expense of a Christian (i).

These are the moral ideas which are imbued with very most of the Israelites imported to the Land holy, who claim to dominate, then overwhelm

(1} Revue des Deux-Mondes, November 1, 1920, pp. 178–179.

200 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

the old Islamic and Christian populations, who lived there peacefully and peacefully since several centuries.

The appointment of Sir Herbert Samuel to functions of high commissioner dedicated the birth of Jewish Palestine. She provoked joy in all Israelite circles. Without doubt many Hebrews, especially those enjoying great ease or great financial situation in the capitals of the old and the new world, had no desire to leave the countries where they had made their fortune to go and live on the banks of the Jordan, but the pride of the race was singularly exalted by the prospect of seeing it float triumphantly—The flag of Israel flies over Jerusalem.

The world war, which left so many states weakened and ruined, had opened for the people Jewish an era of victories and revenge, including the return to the promised land was the sign more brilliant. The ways had been prepared long in advance. Since 1914, associations, committees, Zionist groups had multiplied and developed. The directory of the Jews of England, the Jewish Year Book of 1920 contains information in this regard accurate. In London only work anymore of thirty Zionist societies in relation to a crowd of local committees in the towns of Angleland, Scotland, Ireland, in the colonies and Dominions. These companies, with subsidiaries and various organizations, literary or sports clubs, synagogues, Masonic lodges, philosophical works anthropogenic, are all linked to the Federal chaired by Doctor Chaim Weizmann, the great pontiff of Zionism.

JEWISH PALESTINE 201

An important financial tool corresponds to this Jewish religious crusade. The big bands who have been generous — especially those of New Vork — and, to facilitate colonization of the Holy Land, credit companies were established: V Anglo-Levaniine Banking C°, V Anglo-Palestine C°, Palestine Land Development C° y the Jewish Colonial Trust, the Macca-

for the purpose of making loans to the Israelites

202 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

very small interest, to buy land and highlight.

Before sailing to the East, Sir Herbert Samuel went to Rome and asked Sovereign Pontiff an audience which could not be refused to the senior British official. This audience was requested to abuse the Catholics and make them believe that Zionism would in any way harm their faith, their interests religious interests? It's quite likely. In all case, this visit to the Pope went almost unnoticed.

An English warship was laid to rest disposition of Sir II. Samuel to carry it in Jaffa, A salvo of seventeen guns saluted the earth and the high commissioner took up session of his government.

A "Zionist" Daily Mail correspondent telegraphed his newspaper: "When Sir Herbert Samuel arrived in Jerusalem, twenty thousand Jews, Christians and Muslims lined the streets to cheer him and the Union Jack flag floated on the Mount of Olives.

A witness to this solemn entry into the capital of the kingdom, wrote to me to make me know how things happened and his story, which I simply transcribe, gives a version of the event, significantly different annuity of the preceding and otherwise true:

JEWISH PALESTINE 203

On June 30, from one o'clock in the afternoon, the soldiers English, with fixed bayonets, blocked all the streets.

At half past two, a locomotive enters the station preceding the special American train by two hundred meters nating the British High Commissioner. Almost nobody

Here is the composition of the procession: four auto-machine gun-their armored vehicles surround the car in which Sir Herbert Place; then come two "automotive" trucks Biles occupied by soldiers in field dress, the finger on the trigger of the gun. Between two bayonet hedges clear, in a deathly silence, the procession goes to the Mount of Olives. Planes crisscross the sky like during the bloody week of Easter.

When the high commissioner arrives at Mount Scopus,
a battery begins to fire a salvo. The flag English floats over the Saint-Paul hospice, residence of the government verneur and on the German sanatorium which becomes the palace of the new sovereign.

Sir Herbert was not very reassured about the state of the Palestinians towards him, but he could count on the most complete competition of military authority, because he found as governor of Jerusalem the former brigadier-General R. Storrs, who, from the origin of Poccu-

204 I«B REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

pation, had made himself the protector and agent of Zionists.

On July 7, in front of an aéropage composed of Jews, Muslims and Christians (both latest handpicked categories), the top-commissioner solemnly read a message from King George announcing "the decision to England and allied states to create in Palestine
tine a Jewish national home." To what extent did the Allied States join in the decision?
from England? This is a point that still remains a mystery.
serious and neither in France, nor in Italy, nor in Bel-logically, there was not found a deputy to pose on this subject an indiscreet question in Parliament
of his country (i) and demand a precise response.

The reading of the message caused, it is said, in Palestine a deep emotion, although he did not reveal

(i) Mr. Lecnail, in the session of the Chamber of March 16, 1931, devoted to questions about the London Conference, and alluded to Palestine. He accused the English of having with the consent of the French Government "cast their net on Jerusalem, incomparable metropolis of religious thought of the world" to settle German-speaking Jews there.

The President of the Council, Mr. Liriand,* limited himself to responding that "the thing was done". The matter was resolved with our British friends... Without doubt we can hire friendly conversations, but "they should not give the impression, from the other side of the water, that we read

THERE JEWISH PALESTINE 205

nothing new, but it consecrated the order of things established.

To show that his goodness equaled his power sance, Sir Herbert pardoned some poor Muslims men incarcerated during the Easter riots, but he also pardoned an Israeli named Jabotinsky. He had served as an officer in the Jewish detachments of the Allenby army; her indiscipline, its acts of cruelty and its looting had him brought before a war council and sentenced to fifteen years of detention. The keyment of Sir Herbert would enable him to resume the course of his exploits and become one of the leaders of the New Palestine.

To celebrate with dignity the taking of possessions Zion of Jerusalem, the Israelites of London organized a large meeting over which Lord Rothschild, assisted by Doctor Weizmann and German Jew Max Nordau. Mr. Arthur Balfour, least ulterior motive of going back on what was decided and signed.

These are the explanations which the Chamber of Deputies had to be content. In the Senate" on April 5 and 6, during the discussion of the budget, MM. de Lamarzelle, Gaudin de Villaine, Dominique Delahaye protested against the abandonment of our rights and privileges in the Holy Land.

The President of the Council simply declared that France was bound by commitments about which he did not provide no details.

200 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

who deserved a place of choice in this demonstration, was acclaimed there. No doubt he had right to the gratitude and congratulations of the as-resistance. The enthusiastic cheers lasted a little to intoxicate the nephew and political heir of the marquis of Salisbury, because, during the speech which he uttered, after declaring himself a "Zionist convinced for a long time", he expressed the idea that if the world war had generated great misfortunes, she counted at least on her active a happy consequence: reestablishes it ment of the "home" of the Jewish people. A bit more, and he said that this could console that 1

The field therefore seems open to all Israel's ambitions. On the cell of the Palestine must engraft all the other cells which will allow the once hated race and persecuted to build her power and exercise its universal domination; but it is necessary that the mother cell is a model worthy of admiration tion.

Sir H. Samuel will see to it that this is so. It decides that, in accordance with the requirements of Jewish law, Saturday will be a holiday; of the measures are planned to improve the soil cultivated and to carry out the distribution among the

JEWISH PALESTINE B07

Jews from lands acquired by the government; an antiquities commission is established; studies are being undertaken with a view to developing development of the port of Caïffa, the adduction of water to allow the irrigation of territories uneducated; we are considering the construction of large schools, synagogues, and English newspapers Jews announce the opening of archival competitions tecture so that these monuments are worthy of Zionism. A little earlier, we had done great fuss about the launching of a fishing boat built by carpenters Jewish third parties and must be provided with a crew Jewish (i). It was the embryo of the future fleet mar-Zionist song.

Without doubt, from a political and administrative point of view nestrative, the new Palestine does not correspond hardly meets the democratic ideal defined in the pact
of the League of Nations. Municipalities, chambers of commerce have been dissolved or reworked by ukases of the high commissioner to make the Israelite element predominate, but

(1) The Jewish boat was wrecked after sailing
some months.

208 THE 11TH AGEN OF ISRAEL CUE THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Was it not necessary for the common interest? We cannot really ask the government Zionist to apply universal suffrage in Palestine, while its population does not count
another hundred thousand Jews against six hundred thousand Muslims and Christians. It will be time to react read this happy reform when the proportion tion will be reversed.

On July 24, the "prince of Israel" went to
with great pomp his devotions at the synagogue
of the Achkenaziins. He crossed the alleys of the district Jewish third; the floor was carpeted and littered flowers; prolonged cheers greeted the passage of the procession. It was really for the Hebrews an unforgettable hour.

The day before, Sir Herbert Samuel had gone to visit the Holy Sepulcher and, strangely enough, this visit had also had a festive character. Clergy Greek, disoriented and impoverished since he receives more from Russia instructions and subsides, seems to have decided on the conquest
Anglo-Jewish Holy Places. The patriarch Orthodox, Mgr Damianos, had decorated and illuminate the basilica in honor of the illustrious visitor, who paraded between Greek monks and Armenians carrying candles. I will add lou-

THERE. JEWISH PALESTINE 209

However, despite the invitation made to him,

not to enter the Holy Tomb and not to not climb Calvary. Within the Synod and in the Hellenic community, the attitude of Mgr Damianos was also severely qualified and provoked numerous protests. If, among the imported Jews, tinged with bolshevism, there are some who wish for destruction churches and the disappearance of the remains of the Christianity, Sir Herbert and his staff do not do not approve of them. They declare themselves willing to facilitate the pilgrimages of Catholics and Protestants as well as the travels of all rists. We must not forget that before the war, many Israelites made a living from trade in objects of piety. The resumption of pilgrimages, their multiplication would favor their industry; the arpeople of Christians and conswould be a useful addition to the budget of the kingdom of Israel and could contribute to the editing construction of new synagogues and the reconstruction of Solomon's temple.

u

210 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

III

During the first months of the experiment Zionist, neither public opinion nor the press, in France, as in England, did not seem to bear interest. It seemed like a mysterious shadowearth enveloped the Holy Land and that person had no authority to inquire about what had been happening there since the English occupied it. The only visitors to Jerusalem were who some English and French officers, coming from Egypt or from Syria, and eager, during a short permission, to make a pious pilgrimage to the country where the Savior was born and died. The authority britannique only issued residence permits to people supposedly not very curious and in no way willing to study the new regime in progress in Paris or London, if a question relating to Zionism was posed to one of the main authors of the peace treaty, to Mr. Lloyd George, to Mr. Balfour, to Lord Ilcading, to the Ambassador Morgenthau, she always received an answer dilatory. We felt like we were knocking on a door deliberately closed and securely locked.

JEWISH PALESTINE 311

However, we end up having some insights heard about what was going on behind that door. The analysis of Anglo-Jewish newspapers, certain some correspondence from Palestine made create the main projects, calls for funds, organizational preparations for execution Zionists. We also knew the abuses, the acts arbitrary, the denials of justice emanating from the military ministry and high commission.

In May 1920, HE Cardinal Dubois gave a conference in Rouen on the France in the Orient; and, calling on memories of his mission, he pointed out the dangers of the future pursued by the English in Palestine and indicated how contrary Zionism was to the rights and wishes of the indigenous populations Genoa.

In England and the United States, the publication of the "Protocols" aroused public attention and made it understood in certain circles the reality of the Jewish peril, including the conquest of Palestine characterized one of the aspects.

In a National Catholic Congress, the cardinal Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster,

212 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

did not hesitate to condemn the principle of Zionism and to denounce the subversive ideas of invaders of the Holy Land.

An American scientist, Professor Clay, of the University of Yale, which crossed Palestine

East, showed itself no less severe than the cardinal for the regime he had seen at the work.

The Anglican Bishop of Jerusalem, Doctor Mac Innés, although a British civil servant, did not fear, during a conference given in London, to bitterly criticize the actions and the policy of the Palestinian authorities. He claimed that the Zionists had surrendered odious to the former inhabitants of the country, Jews included; that Russian, Polish and Romanians professed Bolsh feelings—vists; finally that we cannot admit the expro—prayer and expulsion of the indigenous population embarrassed. The slavery we were heading towards would be much harsher than the autocracy of the Turks. British prestige, said the prelate, was very shaken by the application of the regime Zionist. However, not daring to attack directly—Sir IL Samuel, Doctor Mac Innés inscribes undermined his subordinates, whom he considered capable to exceed and distort its instructions.

THERE. JEWISH PALESTINE 213

These declarations and protests were cited or summarized in a few French newspapers and English.

The Congress of Catholic Jurisconsults, held in Metz, from October 22 to 24, 1920, under the presidency of Mr. de Lamarzelle, senator, after reading a report by Mr. Eugène Godéfroy, formulated an energetic wish in favor of the workforce maintaining the rights and privileges of France in East and especially in the Holy Land.

In Rome, where questions relating to international treaties are never examined that with great reservation, V0sservatore romano, in its issues of October 9 and 15 1920, and February 25, 1921, exhibited with a great moderation, but also with clearness perfect, the present state of Jewish Palestine, the aspirations of its leaders, the principles of their agrarian policy: (the land assigned to the Jewish colonization will be property of the com—

local council; only Jews will be employed in Culture ; the final goal to be achieved is colonization integral Jewish nation of the Holy Land.)

214 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

The unofficial organ of the Holy See deplores the proscription of the French language, symbol and precious vestige of the Christian and civilizing role of France in the East and ends his observations tions in protesting against the project of Sir H. Samuel to create in Jerusalem, for the tourists, luxury establishments provide health to their future customers of the attractions varied.

In a recently published book, The New Jerusalem, the great writer Chesterton trans-writes the impressions he brought back from a short visit to the Holy Places. He attached himself to especially evoke the glorious memories of the faiths*sades. The ghetto, the establishment of which is continuing ment, seems to him a conception of the Middle Ages, which could only be admitted if Palestine was placed under the suzerainty of a Christian state here.

THERE. JEWISH PALESTINE 21 5

IV

The Morning Post, which revealed to the public British the causes of the global malaise in studying the "Protocols", wanted to make known to its readers the true situation of the Earth Saint under the proconsulate of Sir Herbert Samuel. One of his collaborators was dispatched to Palestine and spent part of the autumn there. In Jaffa, in CaifTa, in Jerusalem, in the cities and villages, he carried out loyal investigations. He questioned the leaders of the religious communities the owners, the workers, the cul-tivers, traders of all races and an overall report, methodically

presented and breathing the most complete good faith.

The editor of the Morning Post, after name-brief interviews with former Jewish inhabitants and Arabs, has acquired the certainty that, under the Turkish domination, the Jewish religion had no
never been persecuted or hindered in her worship.
A rabbi could request a police officer,

21C> THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

if he needed his help in the exercise of his ministry. The first demonstrations of religious intolerance in Palestine are due to English authority. Today he is a Jew who chooses the judges of Muslim courts.

From an economic point of view, trade with Syria is paralyzed by formalities administrative, health, customs. It's necessary ten days to obtain a permit at destination
from Beirut; but all this imposed formalism
to the natives does not exist for the Zionists.

A long-term resident of the UK time in Jaffa, said that the Arabs had a hundred times right to relieve the Zionists. These demonstrate "a wild intolerance and arrogance towards the natives" (i) and their testify, whether they are Christians or Muslims.
mans, a hatred even more political than religious. The former Jews of the country do not sympathize not with the Zionists; they suffer them, and among young people many leave the Palestine, imitating the Arabs in this.

Sir Herbert Samuel rules as a monarch absolute. He only has with him a con-

(1} The Morning Po't, November 3 i<)20.

JEWISH PALESTINE 21 7

consultative, composed of eleven officials and ten non-civil servant members, whom it brings together when
as he sees fit. Appointed department heads

tice, works, public education. He was understood that England would maintain the occupying forces, but that would be its only contribution to the Palestinian budget. And that dissatisfied the most ardent Zionists who dreamed gigantic works, costing hundreds of millions and conducive to wonderful gains. Major projects had to be postponed due to lack of credits, and the popularity of the "prince of Israel" begins to suffer. Moreover, Palestine is not the Eden so vaunted to the poor Jews of Ukraine and Poland. It would be necessary to enormous capital to make its ports accessible suitable for ships, to equip them, to irrigate to protect the few thousand hectares likely to be cultivated, and the ports even equipped would be devoid of industrial hinterland. At say from the Morning Post, – this is whose opinion – anyone knows the country, – Palestine is not a promised land only in comparison to the deserts Sinai and Arabia. Pilgrims and all tourists would constitute its most fruitful resources sources. Is it for their intention that Mr. Grunberg, which once built paths iron in Russia, where he made his fortune, went to Jerusalem and prepares to build there six hundred houses?

278 LIC REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

The conclusion of the big daily investigation dien of London, reproduced without comments by the Jewish Guardian (1) is that Zionism, if it had consisted of facilitating Jews wishing to go to Palestine as in the old days Turks, the means to settle there and to earn their living, was a reasonable thing and eligible. But allowing Zionism to govern to govern the territory, to constitute "one's State" there, it would be "the assassination of the national rights of other peoples and a step towards the abyss" (2).

From a religious point of view, Yves of Prayer, after having evoked the joys experienced seen during the entry into Jerusalem of military forces allied silences, had previously expressed the anxieties of Catholics at the thought of the establishment of Jewish kingdom in the Holy Land: "There is a

(1) Issue dated November 1920.

(a) A wicked trespass on (the national right of other people and a step preffnant with disaster.

JEWISH PALESTINE 2IQ

paradox, in this strange outcome of the last first crusade: outcome that will count among the worst disillusionments of peace" (i).

English public opinion has certainly been informed in any way by the investigation of the Morning Post and, in parliamentary circles, silence, the question of Zionism is now asked and discussed. The considerable funds collected by Jewish associations beginning being exhausted, it was deemed essential to raise new capital and call on the solidarity of the entire Jewish race.

A general Keren Ilayesod foundation, the treasure of the Palestinian government, was intitled. Its headquarters are located in London, 75, Great Russell street, and the first issue of the bulletin of the work, of which I have a text in German mand, dated January 11, 1921, contains a solemn manifesto addressed to the entire population ple Jew and which can be summarized as follows: He is first explained how important it is to ensure the life of the "national home 3>. Beside the Keren Ilayesod, financial fund of the Palestine, an Economic Council is created composed of

(i) The Studies, delivery of June 5, 1920.

aa the regnk of Israel 'among the Anglo-Saxons of eminent men, having an acquired position in finance and business. THE work to be done is immense. In the East of Europe, we still have to fight for stop bloody attacks, and we have no that one hand is free, the other remaining armed, to rebuild our national home. The plan of Keren Haijesod understands all works

This territory can accommodate millions of inhabitants so much. Thousands are already at the doors. Procure them productive work; they will arrive in compact masses.

The help and the very special competition that is available to you requested must take the form of a tax heavy, systematic, continuous, personal tax on the model of the noble Jewish contribution the Maaser. Our appeal has no enforceable sanction. It addresses the Jewish conscience. None Jew worthy of the name cannot escape to this duty. If the faithful were lacking in their duty, they would be the ones to close the gates of Palestine.

This pressing manifesto is accompanied by several communications of a practical and practical nature ten signatures including those of Doctor Chaim

JEWISH PALESTINE 221

Weizmann, by Nahum Sokolow, by Lord Rothschild, of Sir Alfred Mond and Wladimir Jabotinsky.

The financial question is therefore one which appears to be of greatest concern to the leaders of the Zionism. The British government has budgetary charges which do not allow it to make new sacrifices in favor of Palestine. Several members of Parliament even believe that the maintenance of the army occupation is very expensive: 7 million pounds sterling, or more than 400 million black money. They will offer discounts of credits, consequently of staff and this would be serious, because only the troops prevent a uprising of the natives.

The question of mandate is also very delicate. Doctor Weizmann would like to obtain England a sort of sub-charter by which Zionism, having a complete autonomy, would organize as it wishes, not a Commonwealth of Jews, but a Common-Jewish wealih (1). As for the high commissioner, the Extremist Zionists would like it not to be appointed by the British government. They would at most admit that he was chosen among three names presented by the associations Zionists.

22 S THE REIGN OF I/ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

The League of Nations has not yet official* clearly defined the mandate that must be received England, but an indiscretion allowed the Jewish Chronicle to publish in early February 1921, the text emanating from the British delegation in Geneva, a text which has many chances to be accepted by the League without major modifications.

Here are the essential provisions:

This draft mandate contains 27 articles; he is based on the famous Balfour declaration and on articles 95 and 132 of the Treaty of Sèvres – still pending.

England, the mandatory power, exercises the powers of a sovereign state. She has the responsibility for establishing the national home Jewish, but must safeguard civil rights and religious of the inhabitants of Palestine of all races and religions.

A Jewish agency will be qualified to cooperate with the Palestinian administration for everything which interests his national home, as well as the social and economic development of the country. This agency will be the Zionist organization*

JEWISH PALESTINE 223

The administration of Palestine will facilitate and will encourage Jewish immigration, its settlement on the territory, and will grant rights of citizens to Jews taking permanent residence missing in Palestine.

The immunities and privileges of foreigners, including granted in the Ottoman Empire by the capitulations and customs "are definitely repealed". However, the administration of the Palestine will take the necessary measures to protect the interests of foreigners and certain foundations. The wakfs (i) in particular, must be managed and controlled in accordance with the law religious and the intentions of the founders.

A land system, appropriate to the needs of the country, will be established; the administration will agree with the Jewish agency for the organization of public values.

The mandatory power will exercise control external relations of Palestine and agreement dera Veccequatur to foreign consuls. He per-

(i) Pious foundations of Muslims.

224 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

will provide free access to the Holy Places and exercise ice of worship. Each religious community will be able to maintain its schools, but will have to comply with aao0 general instructions on education imposed by the administration.

The administration may organize, on the basis of voluntary commitments, the forces necessary for the maintenance of order and defense of the country, the mandatory power reserves before using ports, roads, railways to the transport of its troops.

With Passcntiemcnt of the mandatory power, the administration will be able to impose taxes and customs duties deemed necessary.

V English, ¥ Hebrew, ¥ Arabic 9 will be the lan-official guages.

Any dispute which may arise between the members of the League of Nations regarding the interpretation or application of the mandate, will be submitted to the Permanent Court of Justice of this society.

It is enough to read with some attention this pro-protected the rights and interests of Christian States and especially those of France, if such a status is definitively imposed on Palestine. It will be the end of our schools, of our works assistance, from our hospital foundations to Jerusalem. Is it really possible that the Christian nations accept such decline and that France, which enjoyed East of such dazzling and fertile prestige, does not not revolt against Anglo-Jewish pretensions? Has the Semitic virus contaminated it to this extent, she too, and suffers to the same degree as the Anglo-Saxons "Jewish rule!" ".

JEWISH PALESTINE 225

In this draft mandate, the Arabs obtain—at least some guarantees. We respect their religious privileges; wakf goods are managed by Muslim religious authorities. As for Catholics, they are treated as pariahs, their schools will be subordinate to the administration Jewish life and their works, crushed by taxes, will be condemned to a death more or less fast (i).

(i) By an agreement signed on December 23, 1920, the Foreign Office obtained from the Quai d'Orsay a rectification of the front Syrian territory, which takes away from France a strip of land 30 miles long: 15 miles wide. Sir Herbert Samuel, wishing to annex watercourses usable for irrigation gations and some villages, had requested this modification of the Picot-Sykes Treaty for the benefit of Jewish Palestine and our government was quick to accept it.

15

220 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

However, extremist Jews do not declare themselves not satisfied with a status subjecting them to a control of the British government, this con^ role even if it was more nominal than real and very well-watching. The Jewish Ghronicle does not conceal

Jewish enjoying complete independence.
The Jetais fi Guardian does not express any reservations.
The Judeo-English who run it claim
restor British citizens, while reconstituting killing the Jewish nation and they are very accommodating many terms of the projected mandate, especially (pi' they know the influence they exercise on the government of Mr. Lloyd George. However, the author of the first article in the February issue
vriier regrets the premature disclosure of the text of the mandate and judges that it would have been preferable to not make it known before its ratification by the Council of the League of Nations.

This cloud is not the only one that comes dark-cir the blue sky of the new Palestine. From last fall, some storms formed
mes and they cause real problems for the Zionists.
The rivalry, the antagonism that manifests itself between England and the United States regarding economic and maritime issues, have had

JEWISH PALESTINE 227

repercussions, in another area, up to the banks of the Jordan. An article, published under the title Secession in the Jewish Chronicle (i) introduced us to prodromes and the development
ment of the conflict that arose between ks Zionists
from England and those from America.

Disciple and successor of Théodore Lierai, Doctor Chaim Wcizmann was the head of the World Zionist Organization; It is him who had prepared for a long time with the government British ment, so well disposed in his favour,
the creation of this "national home:". And here that his authority is contested in New York. He displeases the Zionists of America that this home is protected by the Union Jack.

Without officially separating from the organization world, the Zionists of the United States, in during a congress held in New York, decided,
to make, in the future, a separate band, to continue a special policy in the Holy Land, not to know no other leader than Justice Brandeis.
This split greatly saddens the English newspapers.
Jews, because the highest subsidies given

(i) No. of October 15, 1920.

fl28 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

from America; some of them incriminate even Doctor Weizmann who would have carried out, on its own authority, certain negotiations, with lightness and without conforming to the statutes of Zionism.

A correspondence from the Mokattam, newspaper Arab appearing in Cairo (i), shows that these ferments of discord have already caused violent incidents in Palestine. The organization American Zionist from Jafia, who had given 50,000 pounds to the immigrants of this city, suffered-temporarily ceased its relief distributions. " Of the dissatisfied people then went to the office of this organization and engaged in a manipulation tumultuous celebration, breaking windows and doors with stones and asking for their immediate repatriation... They then launched calls in English, Russian, Hebrew, the address of the Palestinians, shouting that they are the friends of the Arabs. Some of them attacked that the house of Mr. Donikoff and clerk of depredations in Tel Aviv..."

All this explains the manifesto in favor of Keren Hayesod. The horses fight in front

(i) Correspondence reproduced in the Journal du Caire of October 15, 1920.

JEWISH PALESTINE 23Q

the racks wrinkle. Desperate efforts are made to try to win over the Americans and to restore unity of views and discipline in the Zionism. The circumstances are considered serious, since Mr. James de Rothschild himself crossed the Atlantic to converse with the Justice Brandeis and Mr. Mack, the two principal coryphees of Zionism in the United States.

whose name is close to that of Rothschild,
at the bottom of the appeal in favor of Keren Hayesod,
went to Germany to address the Jewish communities and raise funds.
From a diplomatic point of view, his speeches
seem to have left something to be desired – it's also Your life from the Jewish Guardian. In Berlin, speaking in front
a large and friendly audience, Mr. Jabotinsky suggested that England would not always be the protective power of the Palestine... In his eyes, the Zionist Association
German was the best organized in the world;
it was therefore up to him to take the head of the movement... This flattering invitation did not been "without offending the Jews of London a little who claim, while being Zionists, to remain English citizens.

a30 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Other disagreements occur. One of most prominent members of the Committee of Delegates Jewish organizations, Mr. Henry Sliosberg, addressed his resignation of the president of the Russian del Ration Mr. Sokolow. He thus wanted to protest against the claims of the Committee to represent, vis-à-vis
of the League of Nations, all four thirteen million Jews forming the people of Israel. And he says his feeling is shared by a considerable fraction of the Jews of America Africa, Eastern Europe, and even Sion-nists established in Palestine.

The Reuters agency announces, on the date of February 22, 1921, that the Hebrew newspaper Kuntress, was suspended for a month due to publication of a defamatory article targeting the governor of the district of Jerusalem and, the kid
day, the editor-in-chief of the Arab newspaper AI Kassa was sentenced to one month in prison and 50 pounds fine for having alluded to the hatred of Arabs against Jews! (1)

Concord and peace therefore do not seem reign everywhere among the followers of Jehovah,
nor among their subjects.

(1) The Movning Posé, March 5, 1921.

Last December, a character important which I have already spoken about, went to London: former Brigadier General Ronald Storrs, governor of Jerusalem for three years. Had he been called to the Foreign Office to provide information on the current status of Palestine, before they were definitively decided on the terms of the famous mandate of the League of Nations conferring on England the protection of the Holy Land? It's true enough—similar.

In his honor, a luncheon was given at the Overseas Club, under the presidency of Mr. Cecil Harmsworth, Member of Parliament. From guests, Cardinal Bourne and Emir Faisal had apologized. Lord Northcliffe, ill, had sent a letter welcoming the governor of Jerusalem and being one discreet allusion to the "Jewish National Home".

MR Storrs showed himself even more reserved, in his response to the toast of the president of the quet.

He spoke about his administrative functions, the war he had declared on the lumber houses—sounds, progress in hygiene in the neighborhoods populous, of its concern to respect and look at the monuments of the Holy City and everything that related to its history and its beauty. To engineers requesting a concession tramway service to serve Bethlehem and the Mount of Olives, Mr. Storrs had nobly replied: "Before laying your first rails, you will pass over the governor's corpse." In another effective sentence, he mentioned the memory of Pontius Pilate his "famous predecessor". Should we deduce from this that Mr. Storrs, wise official, already washes his hands and does not would like to take on more responsibilities in the future destinies of Jerusalem?

232 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

opinions collected demonstrate that the pro-Palestine's problem is not yet definitive. ment resolved. It contains many unknowns and can provide surprises.

This is why, after a year of experimentation tation of the Anglo-Jewish government, the songs joyful, the enthusiasm, the vast thoughts of Israel have noticeably lost their scale and their power.

After the bright lights of triumph,
Would it be dusk already?...

CHAPTER IX

Xa Society of Jfations organ
Anglo-Saxon of Israel.

The president's complementary "five points"
Wilson. – Christianity in the Middle Ages judged by Auguste Comte. – The European Directory. – THE
The Hague Congress. – The "League of Nations"
–Sir Eric Drummond. – Mr. Paul Mantoux and the Political section. – President "Wilson various-ment judged. – The League of Nations proceeds essentially tially of Jewish inspiration. – Serious disappointments at the Geneva Assembly. –Lord Robert Cecil and the League of Nations' Union. – THE articles from the Chicago Tribune. – The spirit of revolt
among the Jews. – Serious mistake committed, – Israel is not yet master of the Earth.

I

We know, in their essential arrangements
tielles the famous "fourteen points" stated
by President Wilson in his solemn speech course of January 8, 1918 in the United States Congress United.

The fourteenth point formulated the wish that a League of Nations was created to guarantee the independence of all States, large and small, and ensure world peace in the future.

The five complementary "points", enumerated in the speech delivered; At New York, the following September 27 – that is to say six weeks before Armistice – by Mr. Woodrow Wilson, are less well known, but their importance was crucial, because they were invoked as a basis for peace talks by the Prince Max of Baden, upon his accession to the Imperial Chancellery. These precise "points" knew the purpose of the League of Nations and specified the principles and prescriptions that it should apply; Equal justice for all, friends or enemies of the day before; abandonment of all considerations of selfishness or particularity; nationalism; forbidding nations to unite to form particular groups; prohibition of any economic boycott; prohibiting nations from concluding agreements among themselves; secret agreements.

In a recent study, The Armistice of November 11 /#/#, Mr. Mermeix showed how much these principles of a human morality

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS a36

silence, of such a naive concept, provided defeated Germany "an excellent field of discussions and bickering, d (i)

Full latitude was left to the marshal Foch and the Allied military experts to determine the conditions of the armistice, but it was hardly concluded that President Wilson tried to make his personal feelings prevail. sonnal on future peace. German unity was declared intangible and the idea of a super-government, called League or Society of Nations, whose principle and great lines had also been recommended, at during the war, in a Masonic congress – fuck the Allied Powers.

shown favorable to such an institution that he considered utopian and to which he willingly unchecked third of the sarcastic quips, but the negotiations continued for long month; Jewish and Anglo-Saxon influences accomplished their work. The English had obtained full satisfaction with regard to Egypt and the freedom of the seas. Mr Lloyd

(t) La Revue Universelle, March 1, 1921, p. 563.

236 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLICAN-SAXONS

George was able without a second thought to move away from side of President Wilson. These were the big ones three or the big four, depending on whether Italy took or did not take part in the deliberations of the supreme Council, who decided on the last clauses of peace, and Mr. Clemenceau, chaptered by MM. Léon Bourgeois and Tardieu, rallied, name of France, in the eyes of his colleagues.

The idea was not new to constitute a sort of superior court, responsible for appeasing the conflicts that may arise between nations and hold the office of sovereign arbitrator. Christianity of the Middle Ages seemed to have resolved this great and delicate problem. At that time religious faith, the moral authority of the Roman Pontiff were powerful enough to give sanctity to its judgments and to compel obedience to the proudest monarchs. The exercise of this authority had the effect of reducing the number of armed struggles and to mitigate the misdeeds of wars. In his Course in Positive Philosophy, Auguste Comte did not hide "the profound admiration of which all of his meditations philosophical has long penetrated it towards this general economy of the system Catholic of the Middle Ages, which we must connect

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS a37

see more and more as forming justice that here the political masterpiece of wisdom human, (i) cited as a real essay by the Society of Nations for perpetual peace. A very Christian republic of the States of Europe was to be instituted after the lowering of the House of Austria. But today it is demonstrated that this great project was only due to the resentful imagination of the brave Sully who, old and embittered, had outlined this plan in his Wise and royal economies of the State for glory at the expense of the new power, the government to which he had, moreover very usefully, participated.

We also find, in speeches and writings of the Saint-Simonians, allusions and theories relating to international agreements, that a higher body would have had the mission of settle and sanction.

But, even if the protagonists of the ideas Wilsonians to be very surprised by it, it's still the European Directory^ resulting from the Congress of

(r) Volume V, p. 23 1.

238 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Vienna of 1815, emanating from monarchies and not of democracies, which until now has the best carried out the attempt of a League of Nations.

This Society, which proceeded from mystical ideas of Emperor Alexander and claimed put an end to military ambitions and revolutionary upheavals of France, grouped in a political solidarity pact all the States allied against Napoleon. But he It happened that the minister of Louis XVIII, Talleyrand, originally excluded from the deliberations of the Congress, ended up participating and playing in it the interest of France, a preponderant role.

The "European Concert" which, in 1830, replaced placed the "Directoire", did not have the memorandum character. It did not aim at any specific goal and tended simply to maintain by means of force the balance – of which the small States were to be the victims – peace and balance between great powers.

The international organization in The Hague, of which the conferences of 1899 and 1907 made knowing the work, could have made great services to the cause of peace if its arbitrations had been made obligatory, and if sanctions tions had corroborated his decisions. On point from a moral point of view, the collaboration of the Pope, of highest and most impartial authority there is, would also have added a special prestige to the judgments rendered by the Court of The Hague (i).

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS 23^

But Germany never wanted to admit that the arbitrations were of an obligatory nature tory, and the all-powerful Freemasonry in the governments of France and Italy binds, in the same way as Anglo-Puritanism Saxon, could only tolerate a competition whatever conch was requested from the Holy See.

Entente delegates to the conferences of peace therefore decided that a League or Society of Nations would be founded according to the conceptions of President Wilson and that the status of this Society would be incorporated the different treaties spent with the belligerents of the Central Empires traux.

However, the establishment of this supergovernment international organization which claimed to ensure perpetual peace in a sort of earthly paradise stay, had not been welcomed everywhere with enthusiasm. Many good spirits remained skeptical about the destiny of an institution

(i) The League of Nations, historical and legal essay by Yves de la Brière (G. Beauchesne).

2/j0 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

whose claims they would have liked to limit and competence. In a study on La Fron- of the Ar ord-East> General Malletierre formulated expresses his feelings and hopes thus:
"Is it not permissible to hope that, from this Germanic and the restoration of a righteous world balance, otherwise there will be peace. she who is not of this world, nor even this League of Nations..* but an aspiration to resolve disputes through arbitration? (i)".

And a compatriot of President Wilson, Mr. David J. Hill, translated the printings thus opinions of the majority of Americans: "The truth table wisdom for America is to join good faith to the forces that want to achieve in the world peace for justice; but, for see its role played effectively, its first duty will be to always be ready to defend oneself herself (2)".

([]) Revue des Deux Mondes, January 15, 1918.
(2) The Reconstruction of Europe, by David Jayno Hill (Payot).

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS â'jl

II

Since the League of Nations constituted a supergovernment of the people, responsible for control the States, the Israelites had great interest in reigning supreme there – The Anglo-Saxons supported their ambitions and opened to them all large the doors of the international house national.

In such an organization, with a such a considerable number of delegates do not meet knowing that at fairly long intervals, it is the organ permanent, the General Secretariat, which holds the crucial role, ensures the functioning of cogs and has the greatest authority. This is undoubtedly due to the importance of their duties that all permanent civil servants members of the League of Nations receive salaries higher than those of ministers the best paid.

Sir Eric Drummond, the Secretary General, bureaucratic function) and parliamentary secretary

16

2^2 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

of Mr. Arthur Balfour, I have already pointed out the manner pro-Jewish celebration in which he took part, going with his staff, the same day of his arrival in Geneva, offer to the city's chief rabbi the expression of his admiration for the Israelites and his dedication to their cause.

The most important section of the Secretariat general, the one who constantly ensures the connection with the different countries, which studies the questions international organizations, prepares reports and presents conclusions, is the political section. She has as leader an Israelite, Mr. Paul Mantoux, capitaine French interpreter at the Conference of the peace. Former student of the École Normale, where he had for fellow student and friend Mr. Albert Thomas – also an official of the League of Nations and head of the Labor Section with support fantastic tenements – Mr. Mantoux became intimately together with Mr. André Tardieu, during the conference sessions held in Paris*

The head of the Political Section is primarily responsible for his colleagues two of his co-religionaries: Major Abraham, English member, and Ms. N. Spillcr, who fulfills the functions of secret-silence of the Section.

The idea came to me to leaf through the edition of

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS 243

1921 from Who's who the English Dictionary of contemporaries. In addition to British notables nice, quite a large number of foreigners known are there. I didn't find the names there of generals Mangin, Doute, Debeney, who did, however, play a certain role in the war, of Admiral de Lapeyrière who commanded in chief the fleets of the Mediterranean, of the ancient ministers Viviani, André Lefèvre. However, performs Paul Mantoux. We learn that he was born in 1877, he married M lle Mathilde Dreyfus. His academic titles, his works, his articles published in magazines, his decorations tions are copiously enumerated. We indicate his address in Paris. He has another one London, in the elegant thoroughfare of Piccadilly and the Who's Wlw pushes the indiscretion up to give your phone number.

There is therefore no reason to be surprised that the League of Nations strives to promote all measures corresponding to the desires of leaders of Israel. Representatives of the Joint Committee of Jewish Associations were involved cited recognized as the agents of a nation of thirteen or fourteen million individuals

2^4 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

due, scattered over the surface of the globe, but having some sort of head office since the Anglo-Saxons established the "National Home" nal" of the race in Jerusalem.

By imposing the minorities clause on States where the Israelites form fairly large groups important, the League of Nations created in favor of the Jews with singular privileges. They will be at home in Jerusalem, where the mandate of Great Britain, ([nor exercises itself entirely in their profile will only have a limited duration, and they will also be at home, under the pretext of avoiding that attacks be made on their freedom religious, wherever they form a minority ethnic of any importance.

The United States having refused to be part of the League of Nations, one could believe that the League would cease to maintain official relations skies with President Wilson. It was not Thus. When the Company received requests arbitration concerning Armenia and the islands of Aland, it is to President Woodrow Wilson, disavowed by the Senate and whose powers already seemed out of date, that she appealed for serve as arbiter in these delicate questions. And Mr. Wilson, to show that he was your-days the liegeman of Israel, delegated his authority to two Jewish diplomats: MM. Henri Morgenthau and Elkus.

We understand that, upon the advent to power see the new president Warren Harding-, the newspaper le Peuple juij ', wanted to greet Mr. Woodrow Wilson:

As the former President of the United States transmits in other hands the management of the affairs of the great Republic, we have the duty, we Jews, to fervently salute this noble figure who occupied a given moment – with what magnitude, with what dignity ! – the world stage.

By the influence he exercised on the events of his time and which will reverberate for many generations rations, Wilson is a true hero, in the sense that attri-Carlyle drank at the word. He exercised this influence as well as by the part he took in the entry into war of America, that through the ideas he has, makes prevail as a basis for peace talks.

An independent American newspaper, The Column-bia Sentinel (i), formulated on the former president a less favorable judgment. After citing some unedifying features of his private life, the author added: "he deceived France, deceived

(i) No. of November 8, 1920, cited by La Vieille France (no. 2ii).

2^6 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Italy, deceived Romania, deceived China; he sowed the dragon's teeth throughout the earth and they engender the intervening years in fifteen different countries of this turbulent world paid."

Regardless, the League of Nations is his work well; he was inspired to throw some the foundations, pseudo-human projects taries of Freemasonry and the conceptions Judaic. Mr. David Lloyd George, accomplice or prisoner of Israel, was his main collaborator

the British Empire.

Among the many Jewish newspapers that I have consulted to document this book, I did not note only an unwelcome note for the president Wilson and his "fourteen articles". About of a critical study devoted to the Year of the Peace by Mr. Joseph Reinach and published in Y Ac-French version, Mr. Emile Cahen declared that, no more than the readers of this newspaper, "a good number of our co-religionists from all countries are not infatuated with the humanitarian illusions of Mr. Wilson (i)."

(i) The Israelite Archives, issue of December 30, 1920.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS 247

Mr. Emile Cahen acted as the interpreter of a very modest minority of Israelites and I have no found nowhere else the echo of such opinions.

In the Jewish or Judaizing press of both hemispheres, the realization of the Society of Nations was greeted by transports of gresse. And, since it started working-tion, its decisions and its actions have fully responded to the hopes that she had conceived see.

On January 16, 1921, in a conference given to the congregation of the West Synagogue London, one of the 3 most authoritative coryphees of the Jewish associations of England, Mr. Lucien Wolf, after quoting a word from Israel Zangwill representing the League of Nations as pro-yielding "essentially Jewish inspiration)), eloquently developed the following ideas:

All Jews must consider it a duty formal to support by all possible means the League of Nations.

We have the greatest interest in the success of the League.

It is in harmony with our noblest and most holy traditions.

2f[S THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

ensures the most favorable solution to the Jewish question.
Its future is also assured (i)/

Although the future of the League of Nations seems assured, as firmly believed Mr. Lucien Wolf, we should not deduce from this that she will never experience difficulties and will live forever definitely happy days.

Already some miscalculations have occurred. THE United States refused to join the League Nations and that did not stop them from express reservations about certain mandates granted and to protest against the installation
Japanese on the island of Yap.

On December 1st, 1920, Mr. Puyerrredon, head of the delegation of the Argentine Republic, to the following the postponement of a proposal that he had presented, declared his withdrawal from the Company of Nations, and his attitude received the full approval of his government.

The Swiss Confederation, which however the honor of giving hospitality to the League, has not agreed to allow people to cross its territory armed troops mandated by the Society of Nations.

(1) Th.? hid'Jen H. null, fohrnary hj'îi, p. /".

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS 24°

Seven states have already presented eleven fines-ments to the initial pact of the League. A commission will meet in Geneva to examine these proposals which will be discussed before the Assembly of the League of Nations which must be convened next September.

Within the Society itself, disagreements serious enough therefore manifest themselves and they will be able to become more pronounced the day when the representatives of which that States will find that the interests of which they

with those of Judaism.

It has been founded for some time several "national" societies with the aim of propagating ideas and demonstrate the usefulness of the Company Nations; they have already held two congresses. The French society 1' "Association for the pagination of the League of Nations" has little influence and only grouped a small number of members. It is not the same for the League of Nations 3 British Union.

The latter constitutes a private organization very powerful and she publishes, at the bookstore Ilodder and Stoughton, a widely used magazine: To-day and To-morrow. The League of Nations' Union has given conference wool, launched a subscription to establish a fund of one million pounds sterling 1 and already has a big budget for its propaganda. She is not, as one might-would believe, an unofficial organ of the Society of Nations. She does not receive instructions from General Secretariat but seeks on the contrary to exert pressure on the Company and towards the ter from outside according to the views and interests of the British Empire.

250 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

The soul of the League of Nations' Union is Lord Robert Cecil, great friend of the Jews, but who, however, did not sacrifice on Faulel of Israel his independence as an English citizen and his ideas personal (i).

Officials of the League of Nations did everything to prevent Lord Robert Cecil to represent the United Kingdom at the first Geneva Assembly. He took part, however-dant, as delegate from southern Africa and there recommended two measures including the Elal-Major of Society would not see adoption without three because they would contradict Jewish methods.

(i) Third (they of the Marquis of Salishury, Lord Robert

(hji5-iG) and minister of blockade (ir>iC-i8).

THE DBS NATIONS COMPANY 25 1

Lord Robert Cecil requests that the appointment delegates are made on broader bases, in more democratic conditions; and the entire policy of the League, instead of being secret, happens in broad daylight.

The American newspaper The Chicago Tribune has published, in November 1920, a series of articles very interesting on this question. The action perceived, of Lord Robert Cecil was clearly there characterized, and certain "belows" of the League were revealed there. This is how we learned that the representatives of China and Japan had held numerous meetings between them and proposed to subsequently request the implementation on the agenda of the question of equality of races, were the foundations of the Society of Nations will be tragically shaken. One of the contributors to the Chicago Tribune, whose authority is all the greater because it belonged at the League Secretariat, suggests that the prestige of the League of Nations is unique down significantly since we can see it at the work: "The States which gave him their membership, in the enthusiasm of the first month, believing that the program displayed on his threshold would be executed, begin to experience the disappointments resulting from contacts with realities. The enthusiasm is fading in Scandinavian countries and Holland; in France, we wonder if the winners of the war were well inspired by boarding the Paves on this ship which is leaking. Switzerland voted, in May 1920, joining the League. She would have it likely refused if the referendum had been postponed for a few weeks. (1)".

252 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Is it to restore a little prestige to the League of Nations which were awarded the major Nobel prizes, peace prizes, to the president of this international organization and at its most fervent follower?

This result hardly seems to have been ob-held (2). When the text of the Paris agreements

(1) The Chicago Tribune, (European edition) November 29
1920.

{2) Mr. da Cunha, while president of the Society,
made a statement tending to somewhat diminish the understanding jurisdiction of the Litfue. Asked about the down received from Germany and protesting against the sanctions decided on London, Mr. da Cunha replied that the League of Nations did not have to intervene in such a case, She is only an "Association of States which only has executive power in exceptional circumstances tionally. Rather, it constitutes a means for gouvernments to make common decisions" {Le Temps, March 21, 1921).

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS 253

was communicated to the Reichstag and that reading was given the final sanction threatening Germany
magne not to be admitted within the Society of Nations only after having fulfilled the conditions stipulated and paid the compensation and repairs
tions placed in its charge, the members of the As-They were seized with Homeric laughter; And several of them did not hold back until the tar of the United States,, they would take, without much of anguish, their party to remain strangers to the League.

We should not, however, exaggerate this note and believe that the League of Nations does not represent a force. This force is above all made of the moral weakness of the States which have gave their support and who believed they would find it has political, economic and financial support can help them get through a period of acute global crisis.

The League of Nations, an Anglo-Saxon weapon forged by Israel, is undoubtedly, despite the flaws that can be discovered in its metal,
very formidable, but his task will be difficult. He him

nic, American imperialism and imperialism Jewishism, big business interests and

354 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

financial institutions of the three powers and, moreover, the socialism and Bolshevism, where Israel inspired. Certainly this task is delicate and complex, especially since these interests will be opposite winds. And then to this expansion of ambitions, pride, Jewish tyrannies will correspond to nationalist tightenings in the most threatened states.

In his recent study on The Renaissance of Anti-Semitism, Mr. Georges Batault strongly exactly located I battlefield which does not will not fail to commit: "While the International Jews are betting on these two cards:
Revolution and the Anonymous League of Nations, anti-Semitism put on the opposite map nationalist (t)".

There is still one factor that should not be neglecting to indicate is the spirit of revolt and of anarchy embodies, in the true sons of Israel.
For them it is an atavistic defect; we can follow through the centuries. Their historians, like Isidore Locb and James Darmesteter, in made the confession or even took pride in it.
The messianic idea is based on destruction

(i) Mercure de France, id Jan. 1931, p. 3rg.

the society OF nations 255

tion of Christian nations, and intellectuals Jews have always been agents of dissociation?
denationalization of institutions and organized societies. This is how one of them, Baruch Hagani, judges the work of Karl Marx and des Lassalle: "These thinkers saw with all the more accurately the imperfections and hypocrisies of the current social state and the denunciation spoke with all the more harshness, that, no
only the passionate preaching of the prophetes had perhaps infused thirst into their blood

no reason for feeling, that no bond of habit-study did not connect them deeply to this state social, to these societies which had always treated as pariahs. Israel was, in its wandering existence, a living protest against order established things, an irreducible element, violating slowly attached to his ideal and his hopes; oppressive laws had only contributed to maintain her in this isolation" (i).

Bernard Lazare, for his part, spoke "of this old Hebrew materialism which dreams perpetually of a paradise realized on earth and

(i) Political Zionism, p. 28.

256 THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

always pushed away the distant and problematic hope of an Eden after death" (i) materialism which shines through all of the work of Marx, Boerne and Lassalle.

Revolted by destination, if the Jew managed to bend the peoples of the universe under his yoke and establish a government agency according to his laws and his devotion, he cannot ignore milking his atavistic vocation of demolisher and would soon undermine with his hands the edifice erected by the power and for the glory of his race.

The dissensions, the divisions, which arose already manifested among established Zionists or camped in Palestine, bring a first proof to this assertion, and we know the antagonism that exists among orthodox and liberals.

But will we have to wait for the reconstruction of the Temple of Solomon on the ruins of societies Christian, as the messianists revere, and the demolition by the Jews themselves of this new temple to try to defend these companies?

We want to hope that the people of

(i) WAnfism, p. 347.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS r^

the old and the new world will know how to organize resistance to Jewish pushes and safeguarding their independence and their civilization. But it is essential to make them understand without delay the imminence and extent of the peril. That they gird their loins and stretch their muscles for the hard battles they will have to fight if they want to be saved!

However, the Jews, intoxicated by success brilliant in their recent campaigns, included made a serious error. They have, a little prematurely, sang victory and proclaimed their omnigallows.

Just as the Germans have too much in a hurry, in 1914, to unleash the World War, while the milestones planted by them in the two hemispheres, the increase in their population and their economic power, the prestigious development of their fleet including commercial and their military equipment put in place in the short term the realization of all their dominating ambitions: Deutschland ueber alles! Likewise the Jews, who had so carefully prepared the stages of their conquest, have recklessly rushed their victorious race. Their pride exacerbated them

17

258 THE REFINE OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

garlic, believe that the final goal was achieved, then that they had not touched him yet, and that the hour triumphant had sounded.

For having displayed too quickly on the walls of Jerusalem the flag of Israel, symbol of their all power, the Hebrews will have, I hope ardently, aroused among the peoples Christians, even among the Anglo-Saxons that they considered conquered, resistance forces superior to the attack forces.

And then the words formulated will be justified

the office of the Passion:

"The Synagogue is heading towards a curse. Obs-tuck in her error, she does not want to listen to anything,
see nothing; she distorted her judgment at will;
she exuded within herself the light of the Holy Spirit cl or will see it descend all the degrees of the aberration to the abyss (i)".

(j) Year liiun/ujue, your Passion, p. n3.

INDEX OF NAMES CITED

Abraham (J.-B.), 39.

Abraham (Major), 212.

Abramovjtch-Zalewski, 123.

Academy?ny {The}, 135.

French action (L f), 59, 107,
117, 120,240.

Adrian (Emperor), 165.

Alexander I (Emperor of Rus-sie), 238.

Alexandrovich (Grand Duke Serge), 87.

Allen (Colonel Sir James), 73.

Allenby (Marshal Lord), 196, 205.

American Hebrew {The}, 155.

Antibolcherist {The}, 146, 147,
1 18, 152.

Apfelbaum, 132.

Ashbot, 73.

Askenazy (Professor Szimon), 68.

ASQumr (Henry), 30, 33, H0, 141.

Astruc (Rabbi), 121.

Albert (Louis), 161, 163.

Baden (Prince Max of), 234.

Raird (Major), 39.

Balfour (Arthur James), 33, 36,
37, 170, 171, 186, 205, 210, 222, 242.

Bally (Doctor), 7.

Barbey d'Aurevilly, 18.

Rariatfnsky (Princess), 137.

Baruch, 56.

Batault (Georges), 101, 254.

Beaconsfield (Benjamin Disraeli Lord), 15, 17, 19, 109, 126, 167.

Beatty (Admiral Sir David), 136.

Beai-ciiesne (Editor G.), 239.

Beit (Alfred), 22.

Shepherd (Victor), 57.

IJernal, 44.

Berkstomt (Ambassador Comle),
54, 55.

Bmou (Henry). 111.

THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Bismarck (Prince of), 19, 109.

Blackwell (Editor Basil), 123.

BlackwoocTs Magazine (The), 109, 135, 142.

Catholic bloc (The), 58.

Blumenfeld (HD), 31.

Blumenfels (Major), 39.

Boerne, 250.

Bonald (De), 125.

Bourgeois (Léon), 236, 252.

Boijrne (Cardinal), 158, 211, 231.

Brandeis (Judge), 50, 158, 161,
169, 227.

Briand (Aristide), 194, 204.

BniKRE (Yves de la), 218, 239.

Brisbane (Arthur), 156.

BnOKSTEIN, 132.

Brummel (G.), 18.

Burnham (L. Uwson Lord), 25, 31.

Butmi (C.) » 86, 88.

Caiien (Emile), 246, 247.

Galle (Alonzo de la), 44.

Carlyle, 245.

Carvalho, 121.

Casrel (Sir Ernest), 25, 26, 136.

Catholic Word [The], 46,

Cecil (Lord Robert), 33, 79, 250, 251.

Champanhac (G.), 0.

CnAni.FS I, 125.

CHELMSFORD(Lord), 139.

Cherep – Shridovitch (General Count), 136.

Chesterton (G. Keith), 20.

Chicago Tribune (The), 251, 252.

Churchill (Winston), 136,139.

Clay (Professor), 212.

Clemenceau (Georges), 80, 81, 141,235,280.

Coghlan (Sir T.), 73.

Cojien, 118.

Cohen (Captain), 39.

Cohen (Felix), 112.

Cohen (Isidor), 121.

Columbus (Christopher), 43, 44.

Colttmbia Senline1 (TIie\ 245.

Count (Auguste), 23G.

Correspondent (The), 106, 172

Courier de Genève (Le), 107.

CnÉMiEUX (Adolphe), 31, 115,
110, 122.

Cromwell (Ollier), 125.

Cunila (Da), 252.

Current Opinion (The), 155.

Curzon (Lord), 63, 78.

Gyrtis, 172.

Daily Express (The), 31.

Daily Graphic (The), 31, 118.

Daily Herald (The), 114, 123.

Daily Mail (The), 32, 202.

Daily News (The), 31.

Daily Telegraph (The). 31.

Damianos (Mgr), 208, 209.

Darmesteter (James), 254.

DARBYN, 93.

INDEX OF CITIZEN NAMES

261

Dazany (Aief Pasha El), 189.

Deadborn independent (The) tribute 152, 154.

Debeney (General), 243.

Drip (General), 243.

Delahaye (Dominique), 205.

eagonsfield.

Djemal Pasha, 186.

Catholic Documentation (The), 193.

Donnay (Mauritius), 35.

Donikoff, 228.

Douglas (Lord Alfred), 135, 136.

Doyle (Conan), 21, 22.

Dreyfus (Captain), 2.

Dreyfus (Mr. Mathilde), 243.

Drummond (Sir Eric), 40, 241.

Druhont (Edouard), 1, 2, 3, 115.

Dubois (Cardinal), 173, 174, 211.

Eckstein, 22.

Edward VII, 24, 26.

Erjyptian Gazette (The), 181.

Einstein (Doctor), 160.

Elkus, 245.

Emerson, 159.

Emile-Paul (Editor), 101, 104.

Englishman (The), 64, 107,

Epstein (Doctor), 138.

Studies (The), 219.

New Europe (L*), 161, 163.

Evening News (The) t 32.

Eyre and Spottiswoode (Editors), 83, 85.

Faisal (Emir), 231.

Fisher (Andrew), 72.

Focii (Marshal), 235.

Ford llenry), 149, 150, 151, 156, 159, 160.

Frankfurter (Felix), 161, 162, 169.

Franklin (Mrs), 34.

Fry (L.), 89.

Wales (Prince of), 24, 71, 72, 73, 81.

Gambetta (Léon), 115.

Gaudeau (Canon B.), 86.

Gaudin de Villaine (Senator), 205.

George V, 204.

Gandhi, 108.

Gibbons (Cardinal), 158.

Ginsberg (Asher), 89.

Gladstone (WE), 18, 61.

Glasgow Herald (The), 137.

Gobineau (Arthur de), 16.

Gohier (Urban), 86, 106.

Gompers (Samuel), 154.

Godfrey (Eugene), 213.

Goschen (Ed.), 16.

Gottfried zur Beek, 85, 86.

Graphie (The), 32.

Grant (Robert), 13.

William II, 153.

Grunberg, 218.

262

THE REIGN OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Gunzbeig (Baron), 155.

Gwynne (HA), 22, 128.

H

IIaase, 7, 153.

IIaie (Maréchal Comle) 30, 173.

Hagani (liaruch), 255.

Haller (General), 66.

Hard (William), 155.

Hardika (President Warrcn), 161, 245.

Armsworth (Cecil), 231.

Hariuman, 52.

Hautoc (Pliilip), 38.

Haye (Alexandre de), 16,

IIRAIIRT, 150.

IÏKI.Ï.P.RONNKn, 50.

Henry IV, 237.

Hertz (Chief Rabbi), 72, 76.

Ilsnz (Cornelius), 14-1.

IImzl (Théodore), 88, 168, HERE".
227.

Ilidden Iland (The), 130, 248.

Hill (David J.), 240.

HtLLEL, 165.

Hillquit (Mauritius), 57, 147.

Hmsr.H, 153.

Hirscii (Itaron de), 33.

HoDbEn and StOugjton (Editors), 219.

House (Colonel Mandel), 56.

Huntbr (Max Ewan), 73.

Hi'Ssein (Kmir), 37.

I.

IsAACs(Godfrey), 140.

Isaacs (Hufus), Yoir Lord Reading.

Isabella the Catholic, 43.

Jarotinsky (Wladimir), 205, 221,

Oof)

Jameson, 21, 22.

Jannet (Claudio), 47.49.

Jerome (Saint), 166.

Jewish Chronicle (The), 127,
222, 226, 227.

Jewish Guardian (The), 71, 72,
82, 108, 120, 122, 127, 138, 160,
218, 226.

Jewish World (The), 118, 127,
156.

Jewry iibrr Ailes (The), 41, 107

John (Mgr), 86, 87.

Journal (U),Z\, 111,118.

Journal an Cairo (The), 228.

Jouve (Editor), 11.

Julien posted it, 166.

K

Kaiin (Otto H.), 52, 53.

Kassa (Journal Al), 230.

Kerensky, 86.

Killmayer (Captain), 39.

Kohn, 112.

Knur.ER (President Paul), 20.

Kuiix (Bêla), 69.

Kuhn Ukiï et C« (IJanque), 52.

Kuntress (Journal),230.

Kurth Eis>er, 153.

INDEX CHALLENGES CITKS NAMES

263

La Fayette, 163.

Lagrange (RP), 171.

Lamarzelle (Senator of), 205, 213.

Lapeyrère (Vice-Admiral of), 243,

Lassalle, 125, 255, 250.

Lazarus (Bernard), 152, 255.

Lechannel (F.), 106.

Ledru-Rollin, 172.

Lefèvre (André), 243.

Lenaîl, 204.

LENIN, 6.

Leven (Narcissus), 120.

Levy (Doctor Oscar), 125, 126.

Free Word (The), 2, 3, 107.

Liyingstoke (Brigr ad^general), 30.

Lloyd George (David), 5, 7, 30,
33, 60, 76, 108, 135, 130, 142, 170,
195, 198, 210, 226, 236, 246.

Loeb (Isidore), 254.

Loubkt (President), 81.

Loris XVI, 163.

Louis XVIII, 238.

Luther (Martin), 148.

Lwow (Prince), 86.

Lynihurst (Lord), 13.

Lyoxs (Lt-Colonel), 39.

M

Macaulay, 13.

Mach (Edmund von), 164.

Mac Innés (Evoque doctor), 212.

Mack, 229.

Mac Mahon (Sir Henry), 37.

MAfiNus (Sir Philip), 73, 113.

Matstre (Joseph de), 125.

Malleterre (General), 240.

Malone (Lt-Colonel), 105.

Mandel, 80, 81.

Mandel-Pi0Titscfuu>, 80.

Manc.ht (General), 243.

Mastodx (Paul), 242.

Marco, 44.
Marconi, 140, 141.
Marks (Lieutenant), 39.
Marx (Karl), 93, 125, 255, 250.
Maurras (Charles), 1, 59.
Mayer Amsciel (Rothschild), 136.
Mendùs (IL Percira), 48.
Mercury of France (Le), 104.254.
Mermetx, 234.
Metropolitan (The), 155.
Meyer (Sir William), 38.
Mii.ner (Lord), 22, 72, 74.
Mivat-el-Chark (Journal), 186.
MrrcfiELL (Major), 57.
Mokattan (El), 228.
"MriiNcziNSKi (General), 64.
Motui (Sir Alfred), 30,31, 130, 143.

Woktagu (Edwin), 30, 38, 108, 143.

Mi'NTEFLORE, 103.

Moxteffore (Claude), 113, 156.

Mo* iekjoue (Mrs), 34.

Moimvcn (General), 81,

Monr.EXTU.iu (Ambassador IL), 56, 109, 210, 245.

Morniny Post (The}, 22, 107, 108,
111, 115, H0, 122, 127, II2, 149,
151, 215, 216, 217, 210.

204

THE HEGNE OF ISRAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

MOR0Z (K), 111.

Myers (Major), 39.

NOT

Nathan (Major), 39.

Nathan (Sir Matthew), 31.

Nation (The), AS.

Netter (Charles), 121.

New Republic (The), 160.

New York Herald (The), 80.

Nicholas II (Emperor), G.

Nietzsche, 93.

Nietzsche (Mr. ne K. Foerster), 121.

Nilus (Serge), 85, 86, 87, 89, 102, 106.

North American View (The), 48.

Northcliffe (Lord), 32, 231.

Nordau (Max), 191, 205.

Oman (Khalifa), 189.

Opinion (The), 100.

Osservatore Romano (V), 213.

Palestine Weeklies (The), 174,

Patterson (Lt-Colonel), 182.

Pavot (Editor), 53, 240.

Peel (Sir Robert), 13.

Pernot (Munich), 199.

Picot (Georges), 225.

Jewish people (The), 245.

Pilsudski (Marshal), 09

Pitt-Rivers (George), 123, 125, 127.

Plain English, 135, 136.

Prothero (JK), 64.
Psichari (Ernest), 194.
Public Ledger (The), 149.

PUYERREPON, 248.

R

Ravlinson (General Baron), 173.

Reading (Rufus Isaacs Lord), 30, 31, 33, 38, 50, 73, 74, 129, 139, 140,
141, 142, 143, 109, 170, 210.

Uedlich (Celine), 118.

Ueinach (Joseph), 29, 246.

Reinacii (Solomon), 106.

Remijrandt, 177.

Revue des Deux-Mondes (The), 199, 240.

Revue Romande (La), 107.

Revue Universelle (La), 140, 235.

Rhodes (Cecil), 21.

Ricardo (David), 10.

Roberts (Marshal Lord), 23.

Roja (General), 65.

Roosevelt (Theodore), 54.

Rosenfeld, 132, 153.

rothberg, 112.

Rothschild (Baron Gustave de), 30.

Rothschild (James de), 229.

Rothschild (Lady), 34.

Rothschild (Lionel), 14.

73, 113.

Rothschild (Lord), 30, 141, 156,
108. 170, 171, 205, 221.

INDEX OF NAMES CITED

265

Rothstein (Theodor), 31.
Rouvier (Mauritius), 141.
Rumbold (Sir H.), 63, 68.
Russell (Ch. Edward), 57.
Russell (Lord John), 15.

S

Saad (Foaad), 173.

Sack, 155.

Salisbury (Marquis of), 206, 250.

Solomon, 36, 146, 209, 256.

Solomon (Dr Elias), 145.

Solomons (David), 14, 15.

Samuel (Sir Herbert), 31, 129, 143
169, 191, 200, 202, 203, 205, 206,
208, 209, 212, 214, 215, 216, 225.

Samuel (Marcus), 113.

Samuel (Sir Stuart), 63, 64, 65, 66,
07, 68, 112, 129, 143, 198.

Sanghez (Gabriel), 44.

Santagel (Luis de), 44.

Sassoon (Sir Philip), 30, 108, 141
173.

56, 60, 147.

Schiffer, 153.

Schmarof (Alexis), 120.

Scribner (Editor), 55.

Shinwell (Emmanuel), 129.

Simon (Lieutenant), 39.

Slisberg (Henry), 230.

Small & Meinard (Editors), 86, 97
99, 149.

Simlie, 33, 129.

Smith Elder (Editors), 21.

Sokolow (Nahum), 221, 230.

Sombart (Professor), 27.

Souchotin (Alexis Nicolajevitch),
87.

South African Jewish Chronicle
(The), 81.

Spectator (The), 114, 128, 135, 181.

Spielmann (Isidor), 113.

Spiller (M»-N.), 212.

Stahl (Friedrich), 126.

Stanton Pasha 190.

Steinberg, 132.

STEINBERG (Mrs), 39.

Storrs (Brigadier General Ronald),
191, 203, 231, 232.

Stuyvesant (Peter), 45.

Sully, 237.

Sunday Pictorial [The] 32.

Sydenham of Combe (Lord), 181.

Tabbush (Major), 82.

Taine (Hippolyte), 1.

Talleyrand (Prince of), 238.

Tardieu (André), 236, 242.

Time (The), 252.

Tharaud (The Brothers), 168.

Thomas, 129.

Thomas (Albert), 242.

Times (The), 84, 104, 105, 106, 118, 149.

To-day and To-morrow, 249.

Torres (Luis de), 44.

Tower (Sir Reginald), 110, 111.

Tribune (The), 145.

266

THE NÜGXE »'LSHAEL AMONG THE ANGLO-SAXONS

Trotsky (Léon), 6, 100, 142, 147, 148.

Tuck (*ir A), 73.

Victoria (Queen), 18, 21, 167.

Old France (The), 86, 89, 96,
106, 140, 245.

Viviani, 243.

W

Wadsworth 73.

Walling (WK), 57.
WAmirur. (Max), 147.
WAiiminG (Paul), 147.
Wiik.AMi ((léaerAl), 68.
Weizmanx (D<Xliaim), 73, 75, 139,
100, 169, 201, 205, 221, M, 228.

Wells (II. G.), 158.

Wehnheu (Sir Julius), 22.

Westminster Gasette (The), 31.

Whidley {Charles}, 100.

Wjlbrom (A. «.), 3U,

Williams, 129.

Wilson (President Woodrow), 4,
7, 40, 51, 54, 55, 56, 58, 60, 69, 71,
123, 141, 154, 158, 164, 188, 233,
234, 235, 236, 239, 240, 244, 245,
246.

Wisk (Chief Rabbi Stophen), 70.

Wolt (Lucien), 31, 78, 118, 119,
120, 137, 247, 248.

Woolf (AM), 72, 76.

Wright (Captain P.), 63.

Zangwil (Israel), 247.
Zimdeh, 132.

CONTENTS

Foreword

The Jewish Conquest of England.

The Israelites successively acquired all the civil and political rights of British citizens.

– A Rothschild in the House of Commons.

– Benjamin Disraeli created Lord Beaconsfield, pre-Prime Minister of the United Kingdom. – The Jews in South Africa. – Jewish friendships of Edward VII. – Israel's hold on the government, during and after the World War. not

CHAPTER II

Jewish influences in the United States.

The first Jews brought to America by Christopher Columbus. – The increase in population Jewish lation for fifty years. – The attitude Israelites during the war. –Otto H. Kahn and Jacob Schiff. – The president's Zionist entourage Wilson tooth 43

208 TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER III

The Anglo-Saxons champions of Israel.

Sir Stuart Samuel's mission to Poland. – A letter from President W. Wilson to the rabbi Stephen Wise. – The XVar Empire Memorial Round. – A toast from Mr. Lionel de Rothschild. – Jewish pride at its peak. 5i

CHAPTER IV

The "Protocols" of the Sages of Israel.

The publication in London of the first translation tion of the "Protocols". – An article from the Times. – Statement from Serge Nilus on the origin of the documentary is lying. – The Jewish campaign plan to settle down secure world domination. – The collapse of the Russian Empire. – The Jewish Peril 83

CHAPTER V

The Resistance in England.

A campaign by the Morning Post. – The league nationalist: The Britons. – A call from Crebetter, the authenticity of which the Israelites dispute.
– Mr. Lucien Wolf. – A pamphlet by MG Pitt-Rivers with a curious preface from the doctor
Oscar Levy. – A circular from the Jewish League of Petersburg. – Lord Reading. – An article from Blackwood's Magazine 105

CONTENTS

CHAPTER VI

The Resistance in the United States.

Bolshevism reveals the Jewish peril in New York.

– An American translation of the “Protocols”.

– Henry Ford and the Dearborn Independent. – THE Committee on the Rights of Religious Minorities. – THE ideas of Professor Frankfurter. – A demonstration Jewish-German tion against France 145

CHAPTER SEVEN

The Zionist idea. – The English in Jerusalem.

Zionist aspirations. – Theodore Herzl. –
The letter from Mr. Arthur Balfour to Lord Rothschild.

– The joy of the Israelites. – A visit to Jerusalem
salem after the occupation of Palestine by the Allies. – The first arrivals of Jews. – Protests of Islamic-Christian committees against new government. – Demonstrations and riots. – The Inquiry of Sir Herbert Samuel. . . 100

CHAPTER VIII

Jewish Palestine.

The San Remo Conference. – The mandate britannic on Palestine. – The “National Home” Jewish under the high commission of Sir H. Samuel.

– The Israelite High Commissioner at the Holy Sepulchre.

Morning Post. – The “Keren Hayesod”. – Text probable mandate. – Grandiose projects. – Dissensions between Zionists in England and America
ric. – First io5 disillusionments

Hf0 TABLE OF CONTENT

CHAPITKR TX

The League of Nations, Anglo-Saxon organ of Israel.

The president’s complementary “five points”
Wilson tooth. – Christianity in the Middle Ages judged by Auguste Comte. – – The Euro Directorypeen. – The Hague Congresses. – The Society of Nations. –Sir Eric Drummond. – Mr. Paul Man-cough and the political section. – President Wilson variously judged. – The League of Nations pro-essentially yields Jewish inspiration. –
Serious setbacks at the Geneva Assembly. –
Lord liobert Cecil and the Leaguo. of Nations' Union, – Articles from the Diicago Tribune. – The spirit of revolt among the Jews. – A serious mistake made. – Israel is not yet the Master of the Earth. . . « 233

Index of Names Cited 259

Table of contents 267

COMPLETION OF JMPBIMen

June fourth, nineteen hundred and twenty-one

by

THE ORLEAN IMPIUMENIE

In Orleans

For

BERNARD GRASSET

French

English

Full text of " The imperialism of Israel - Roger Lambelin "

See other formats

ROGER LAMBELIN

THE JEWISH PERIL

IMPERIALISM
OF ISRAEL

PARIS
BERNARD GRASSET, EDITOR

61, RUE DES SAINTS-PERES, 6 1

8* edition.

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

FROM THE SAME AUTHOR

TO THE. SAME BOOKSTORE

The Kingdom of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons, in-16.

Egypt and England. Towards Finddependence. Of Mohamed Ali to King Fouad, in-16.

OTHER WORKS

Sicily. Notes and memories, in-8<> illustrious (Desgles dk Brouwer), exhausted.

Our Merchant Navy, in-8o (Challamel).

Son of Chouan, contemporary novel (Plon).

Under the Egyptian sun: A Man's Heart, novel.

(NEW NATIONAL READING)

ROGER LAMBELIN

THE JEWISH PERIL

IMPERIALISM

OF ISRAEL

PARIS
BERNARD GRASSET

EDITKUK
64, RUE DES SAUSTS-PBRES, 61

HE WAS PULLED FROM THIS OR-VRAGK I TWELVE EXBMPLARIES
ON PURE WIRE VELIN PAPER
LAFUMA NUMBERS DK IA 12

51!

T}2_ tl

All rights of translation, reproduction and adaptation reserved for all countries.

Copyright by Bernard Grasset, 1924.

To General Ch. VANDENBERG

My friend in Saint-Cyr

and in Tonkin,

My Chief of the Orient Expeditionary Force,

This book is kindly dedicated.

FOREWORD

Mr. Victor Berard published a book in 1900: L'An-England and imperialism (1), which I reread last time with interest. After having painted a vigorous portrait resembling Joseph Chamberlain, Vautor retraced the genesis of growth and ambitions of Great Britain. He evoked the memory of a personality who had his moment of fame: Sir Charles Dilke, whose work Greater Britain, wrote returning from a visit to the English possessions of both hemispheres, had achieved great success; it was allusion to Disraeli Lord Beaconsfield, to whom the Queen Victoria owed her crown as Empress of India; to Lord Roseberg, promoter of the Imperial Federation League and it showed the successive stages covered by John Bull before having fixed in his empty brain that he was called to rule the world.

You regere imperio populos, Romane, memento.

This conception came from the development of his colonies and their wealth; she had entered the metro-

(1) Armand Colin, editor.

n Israeli imperialism

pole and dominated in government councils.
From now on, all efforts will tend to impose uni-
towards British hegemony.

But at the same time, or a few years later,
in the center of Europe, another nation demonstrated ambitions of the same order, nourished the mimes hopes. Without doubt, she did not own an estate colonial comparable to that of England; his pos-overseas sessions were of recent conquest and mediocrely endowed from an economic point of view, but great speed, leading to a parallel expansion of its commerce and its industry. By her emigration, she established colonies in the two Americas likely to usefully support his views. Furthermore, she possessed the finest army in Europe, the best trained, the most fantastically equipped for the war and the Triple Alliance seemed to allow him to have the best of the land and sea forces of Austria-Hungary and Italy, while his friendly relations with the Ottoman Empire opened up radiant prospects for him. His views towards Asia Minor and Persia.

Only France could have stood up to these ambitions. Her excessive actions and playing a personal role, in contrast to her valiant in maintaining a European and world balance. But, since the Republic reigned there, the democracy is flowing to the brim... France no longer has a foreign policy. Party quarrels absorb its rulers. The French had reached the point of "love each other more", following the expressive words of Charles

FOREWORD HI

Maurras, and the crises, the shocks coming from the East: Fashoda, Kiel, Tangier, no longer provoked beneficial reactions. We simply observed short oscillations, ephemeral emotions, and were born to take some preliminary measures with a view to a security that remained precarious and unstable.

It was visible that in the short term imperialism German and British imperialism would enter inevitably in conflict due to alliances and agreements concluded between the States, this conflict was to lead to a global conflagration.

This is what happened in the last days of July 1914.

The struggle was long and fierce. Millions of men, in billions, exceeded all forecasts. The social state, the economic life of vanquished peoples and even victors were shaken to their core. Their foundations. The peace treaties upset the map of Europe in the name of Wilsonian principles and generated new conflicts. However the United Kingdom, adding the German colonies to its flagship imperial, proud to have destroyed the military and commercial fleets of its feared rival, seemed to have picked up in a final victory - in which she had participated the world supremacy to which it aspired. But the Triumphal medal had a reverse side. The revolts and resistance from Ireland, India, Egypt, the choice made of the factories of the United Kingdom, the socialist push, which tripled the strength of the Labor Party at Westminster, projected unfortunate shadows on the image of victory.

IV Israeli imperialism

And one may wonder if the real beneficiary of the great war is not a power without territory, who possessed intelligence in all belligerents, directed international finance, exercised take action on governments and Parliaments as on socialist and Soviet organizations—
Unquestioned: Jewish power.

As the war dragged on, the Jews had supposed the party to draw from the tragic events which bloodied and ruined the old Europe, against etc more or less involved in the ranks of the combatants, it is difficult to accuse them to be “homeless”. Once the war is over, their people scattered, but always one, extending everywhere its tentacles, could impose its law on nations divided, jealous of each other — these jealousies would be skillfully maintained — and deeply morally and financially damaged.

After careful investigations Israel acquired the conviction that, despite the valuable assistance given by the Russian Revolution, fomented by him, the central empires would succumb in the struggle. So, he offered the allies, under certain conditions, to put to their advantage in the scales of war the weight of its gold and its occult forces. Victory would thus be advanced... Thanks to the competitions that the Jews had secured themselves in the governments of England, the United States and France, the deal was easily concluded. Among the conditions imposed included the gift of Palestine to the Jews, represented by “The Zionist organization”. The minister of Her Britannic Majesty's Foreign Affairs, Mr. Arthur Balfour made a strong declaration in this regard.

FOREWORD V

November 2, 1917.

The date and the declaration deserve to be remembered. They mark the origin of a period of history of the world. It is the birth certificate or rather the declaration avowed ration of Israeli imperialism, Vaurore of day when "the promise" made to the chosen people will be "fulfilled" plie", where the realization of the centuries-old dream will begin of the Hebrews.

It is good to note that by granting "allied" States and associate their assistance, their high protection with an hour which could be decisive, the Jews had not no intention of continuing with the crushing of the Germanic lis owned the other cole du Rhine too material merits which it was important to safeguard; and then, how many financiers, traders, dustriels which came for fifty years, fix their residence, build their fortune in England, France, in the Americas, were from Germany and had kept relatives, relationships, business I

Also the hostilities had barely ceased when the Israelites around the world, activating governments ments over which they had control, and particularly England and the United States had as their main concern to maintain territorial cohesion and Vave-economic crisis of the Reich, especially since the abdication of the Emperor William had allowed them to take to protect, in Germany, from all the avenues of power see. From there, the precipitation of Varmistice, the stipulations lations of Wilsonian peace, the opposition of the Anglo-Saxons have the autonomy of the Rhine provinces, the bad bad mood shown to the resurgent Poland, the fragmentation of Catholic Austria-Hungary which made it impossible to settle in the valley of Danube of a counterweight to the pro-Germanic bloc testing...

VI Israeli imperialism

The League of Nations, according to one of the writers the best known in Israel, proceeds "essentially from "Jewish inspiration", and Mr. Lucien Wolf, who con-all the cogs and twists and turns are born, in a conf-ference made in London in January 1921, encouraged all his co-religionists to support it by all the people

"We have the greatest merit in the success of the League. It is in harmony with our noblest and our holiest traditions, She has for us a Merit major in that it ensures the most favorable solution to the Jewish question. Its future is also assured. »

The final word is expressive. The Jews now have aware of their strength, and how could they not not when we compare the situation of their communities scattered nauts in 1789 to that of which they have some right to be proud today

See the positions they have conquered 9 since then, in different countries; the points of support that they were methodically organized for an offensive generate. Their financial power is formidable and they wonderfully know how to use it by directing the press, the masonic lodges; by maneuvering the governments, opinion, parliamentary assemblies. They are acquired in all circles, in salons worldly as in politics, auxiliaries, more or less conscious accomplices: that's what we named in the United States "the Christian front of Judaism".

FOREWORD VII

// would also be childish to deny the qualities of intelligence and labor of the race. Mr. Edmond Fleg, in the Jewish Anthology (1) which he has just published, complacently cited, according to Israel Zangwill, the illustrations contemporary practices of the Hebrews in business, letters, philosophy, sciences and arts:

In fact, it is in the impersonal and international science, philosophy and T erudition, that the race of Spinoza has won its greatest triumphs... Five times at least, the Nobel Prize for science was devolved to Jews: Albert Michelson (optics), Gabriel Lippmann (color photography) theirs), Albert Einstein (physics), Wilstaetter (chlorophyll). The fame of the Jews as doctors dates back to the time of Saracen Spain. The contrition bution of the Jews to other disciplines is no less outstanding. The names of Beufey, of Sylvain Levi (Sanskrit), by Jules Oppert (Assyriology), by Sylvestre, by Georges Cantor, by Adhamard (math-

(1) 2 volumes. Cres, 1923.

VIII I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Theodore Reinach (universal scholarship), d'Asser (jurisprudence), Hermann Cohen and Bergson (philosophy) will suffice as an example (1).

Let's not quibble about the value of the price Nobel and on the genius of the Israelites cited in this pamphlet; but let us simply observe that when we has the most press and advertising procedures efficient, it is easy to amplify talents and surpass reputations,

But I will not seek to reduce Intel-donations. lectuals of the race. If they promote its uses and ambitions tions, if they explain its successes, they do not justify them not.

In this study, I will exclude anything that could would give it the appearance of a pamphlet, I will expose it facts ; I will accompany it with sober considerations documents drawn from easy-to-verify sources and many of which are borrowed from publications and has official Jewish documents.

To the reader in good faith and without bias it belongs will want to assess whether the volume of this book is sufficient is justified and if Israeli Imperialism is a myth out of an overheated imagination or a reality tangible, a conquest begun and victoriously continued.

R.L.

(1) Jewish Anthology, vol. II, pp. 188-189.

IMPERIALTSM OF ISRAEL

FIRST CHAPTER

JEWS AND JUDAISM

What is the overall number of Jewish populations? –
How exactly to define Judaism? – Does he have
There has been a government of Israel since the dispersal
if we ? the declaration of arthur balfour and the gold-Zionist organization attest to the current existence of ge government. both international and nal and national of Jewish power. memories

FROM THE TIMES OF JSdOUARD DRUMONT.

I

What could be the total number of Israelites?
scattered on the ground of our planet? It is very difficult to determine it exactly. The Almanah of Gotha of 1900 estimated the number of Jews at 7,650,000
Europeans; V "Union for Israeli Statistics", of 1904, brought it to 11 million, in round figures.
The most recent Jewish Year Books, which include
| in their statistics the Jews of the five parts of the |world, give a total of 15 to 16 million, which still seems much lower than reality. Indeed,
there are many Israelites, residing in small groups

2 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

groups far from centers with a synagogue and which could not be identified. In some countries, the Jews still conceal their origin and are considered Christians or Muslims.

It is undeniable that the breed is prolific. THE Romanians have recently experienced this: so that among them the Christian population remains stationary
nary, the Semitic population gradually grows ment in a worrying manner, to the point of tify the apprehensions formerly expressed by Gou-

held, for centuries, on the surface of the globe, the level of the population that Judea supported during the death of Christ, an intelligent force, who never got tired of walking in agreement with the meaning of the Judeo-Christian prophecies, would like, in a few years, to side of intellectual power tural and metallic of Israel, suddenly achieve at the top of all social positions, double, triple its numerical value? Does she want you-should create for him, ready to move at the stroke of trumpet of the man she will call her Messiah, a master army in all places of Tor and iron, these two metals, which, on the ruin of the principles of Christian civilization, became the two levers of our social changes, the two reasons dominant of any modern power? »

All things considered, it is reasonable to think that in 1924, Judaism has at least a population lation of twenty million individuals (1). It is assured

(1) A statistic most recently drawn up for the states of the new Europe, given in the Nationalistul, by Jassy, organ of the Romanian patriot AC Cuza (Mon 17, 1923)

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 3

a tiny figure compared to the population lation of the world, and the dispersion of groupings of Hebrews seems to deprive their people of a truth cohesion table.

How dare the leaders of Israel conceive see the ambition to establish for their benefit an imperialism universal!

A crucial question arises: is there a government? Jewish? By this I mean an organization of liaison and direction, capable of imposing on all those of the race of disciplines and convergent actions.

Before trying to resolve it, let us try carefully understand what Judaism is, what are its principles, its character, its tendencies, according to history tory, according to philosophers, social writers, Jews and Christians, who are specially studied.

Mr. Sylvain Levi gives a complacent definition. skillfully reproduced in an important work

Judaism is a religion. It's like followers of a religion that the Jews were persecuted in middle ages; it is as such that they were emancipated—weighed down by the French Revolution... There is no France of nations other than the French nation... The present difficulty comes from the fact that the Jews establishes that for a Jew, in Sweden and Norway, there are 7,500 national; in Spain, 6,200; in England, 800; In France, 450; in Belgium, 420; in Serbia, 120; in Italy, 80; in Bulgaria, 78; in Russia, 76; in Germany, 63; in Austria, 23; in Türkiye, 21; in Hungary, 16. The two most favored countries The main sources of Hebrew contribution are Poland and Romania. In Poland, there is uh Jew in 13 inhabitants; In Romania, one in 7 Jews.

4 Israeli imperialism

found at different layers of Europeanization tion, according to the countries where they live; and the question is to know if those who are the most advanced in the modern progress will help others to ascend sion, or if the opposite will happen... If the Judaism is a religion, in what sense do the Israelites detached from religion, are they Jews? In the meaning that the French of Brittany are Bretons and that the French of Provence are Provengals. We have inherited from our ancestors the habits of took> character traits, including our long exclusion sion of Christian society ensured its conservation. Now that the Jews have given evidence of loyalty in all the countries which have adopted them, I think it would be good to develop their qualities hereditary as a contribution to modern society (1),

Israel in this way does not seem very formidable. Its followers only ask to practice their religion in complete freedom. They have assimilated or are in the process of assimilating with the inhabitants of countries where they live, and if, in the order of assimilation, there to latecomers, just hand them a ladder to call them to yourself. They are all ready to speak take the step that separates them from their co-religionists more advanced and civilized Europeans*

But Judaism is not only a reli-

Batault, "this phenomenon, unique in the annals of the world, of an indissoluble alliance, of a mixture intimate, of a close combination of the religious and national principle (2)".

(1) Jewish Anthology, Paris, Cres, 1923, t, II, p. 219*

(2) The Jewish Problem, Paris, Plon, 1921, p. 65.

I/IMPERULISM OF ISRAEL 5

Bernard Lazare, examining, scrutinizing with the a surgeon's scalpel, the faults, the defects of his race and analyzing the causes of antisemitism throughout the ages, has had the frankness to recognize for which the Jew was in turn hated by the Alexandrians, the Romans, the Persians, the Turks, the Christian nations here. This is because the Jew has always been a unsociable efcre. "Why unsociable? Because he was exclusive, and his exclusivism was both political and religious, or, to put it better, he was keen to its politico-religious cult has its law (1). » . In the conflicts of peoples, following wars, the vanquished accept the laws of the victors; if they sometimes revolt, it is to reconquer their independence. dependency and their territory. But they don't protest not against the general laws imposed on them, and support it is they who share with the winners their ancestral customs and prejudices.

The Jew, on the contrary, cannot admit submission sion to foreign legislation; your master, the God One, Yahweh, gave him his law, a complete law, which is not only a religious law, but which includes moral and political prescriptions, and even hygiene and cooking rules. Faithful to their "Torah", the Jews did not limit themselves to reclaiming freedom practices of their religion; they refused to subject to civil laws and customs of States who gave them hospitality.

It was not for their religion that they were persuaded. cute, but the Talmud, developed by doctors who, on certain points, amplified and distorted

(1) Anti-Semitism, Paris, L. Chailley, 1894, p. 3,

the laws revealed by Moses, further increased the spirit of exclusivism and pride of the nation that its great philosopher Spinoza described as "fierce" and insociable.

Faith in their predestination given to the Israelites immeasurable pride. The world will not know happiness only when their people, depositaries of the law, will impose its divine provisions on him. " II is the chosen one of the Lord. At the moment when the snake tried Eve, says the Talmud, he corrupted her with his venom. Israel, upon receiving the revelation of Sinai, he delivered himself from evil; the other nations could not cure it. Also, if they each have their guardian angel and their constellations protective functions, Israel is placed under the very eye of Jehovah. He is the favorite of the eternal, the one who only right to his love, to his benevolence, to his special protection, and the other men are placed below the Hebrews; they are only entitled to pity to divine munificence, since, only, The souls of the Jews are descended from the first man. THE goods which are delegated to the nations belong in reality in Israel... (1) »

These religious concepts illuminate the corners of Jewish Tame and facilitate its understanding. This soul is double, according to the confession of Bernard Lazare: it is both mystical and positive: "His mysticism ranges from theophanies of the desert to reveries metaphysics of Kabbalah; his positivism, his rationalism rather, manifests itself as much in the sentences of FficcMsiaste that in the provisions legislative decisions of the rabbis and the dogmatic controversies

(1) Bernard Lazare. V Anti-Semitism, p. 9.

Israeli imperialism 7

ticks of theologians. But, if mysticism succeeds like a Philo or a Spinoza, rationalism continues owes to the usurer, to the gold weigher; he gives birth to eager trader. It is true that sometimes both states of mind are juxtaposed, and the Israelite, like this happened in the middle ages, can be two parts of his life: one dedicated to the dream of the absolute, the other to wisest trade (1). »

The development of this special mysticism and already allow us to glimpse the dream of imperialism which haunts the brains of the Hebrews today.

Judaism – this seems certain – is therefore both a religion and a people. A young poet Israelite, Heli-Georges Cattau, does he not imply quotes the confession by dedicating one of his poems “To the memory of Charles Peguy, who died at the Marne for France, and Amedee Rothstein, who died in Verdun for France and for Judea (2)”. But Judaism is something else again, it's a race. Bernard Lazare disputes it, but without invoking in support of his thesis valid reasons. If it is not strictly correct to say that the Jew is a pure Semite, it is constant that his tribe of origin was one of the branches of the Semitic tree. Because we can find in China or Africa, groups, small peoples covered by the Jewish religion while being remained yellow or black, it should not be concluded that the race has changed, it has crossed with others elements likely to transform it. Without a doubt,

(1) Anti-Semitism, p. 20.

(2) The Promise Accomplished, Paris, C. Bloch, 1922.

8 the imperialism of Israel

over the ages, marriages have been contracted between Jews and Christians or Muslims, but these unions were not numerous enough, frequently enough quentes, to change the ethnic backgrounds of Hebrews. The breed has been guarded as strictly as to do was possible, and more than any other human race, its qualities and its defects. Disraeli, who, despite his conversion to Anglicanism, intended to facilitate its aims politicians, did not stop exalting Judaism, was singularly proud of the “original sap” of his race, so jealously preserved, and applied to it the famous theory imagined by Arthur de Gobineau for the benefit Germans. Didn't big Dizzy also have predicted (this is a parenthetical) that imperialism British, of which he had become the architect, prepared would one day take the triumphant path of imperialism from Israel!

Religion, nation, race, these three terms expressing very different things penetrate and confuse each other tooth in Judaism. The Israelites have difficulty disjoin them. An American magazine, V Atlantic Monthly one day published (1) a fashion-style article ree and very solid documents of Mr. Paul Scott Mowrer on "The Assimilation of Israel". The author there developed the idea that in our era of nationality intense lism, where it is important to fight against ferments of dissolution and internationalism, the Jews, cosmopolitan race par excellence, had to be put required to choose a nationality. That they keep their religion, no one sees any disadvantages in it,

(1) Book 4 season of July 1921 s

Israeli imperialism 9

but let them adopt a homeland. " United States are already crowded with German-Americans whose the hearts remained in Germany, from Irish-Am6-Yanks whose hearts remained in Irian, and other half-digested foreign varieties (half digested). » We should be able to at least consider our Jews as fellow citizens...

The invitation was flattering in a sense. She will exasperate the Hebrews and the Jewish World n I hesitated not to declare that "nothing had been written more abominable, in the type of insidious Tantisemitism gods (1)".

We can therefore, by relying on a series of historical facts and authoritative testimonies, Affirm that Judaism is a theocratic nation, coming from a well-defined race, which avoided all contact with other breeds deemed susceptible to it "pollute".

II

Let's take a look at the past. During the fall of Jerusalem, the government of the Hebrews was exercised by the "Grand Sanhedrin", which Abbot Joseph Lemanix, Jewish convert!, thus defined in his book Napoleon I and the Israelites (2):

(1) Issue of July 20, 1921.

(2) Quoted in the Jewish Conjuraton against the chvd-world
Hen, by Copin-Albancelli, pp. 337-338,

10 i/IMPERIALISM OF iSRAKL

"There was nothing greater in the ancient republic of the Hebrews as the Sanhedrin. He formed the Supreme Council of the Nation. He appears for the first time after Baby's return from captivity lone, towards the Machabian period; its date is between Tan 170 and Tan 106 BC. True sovereign assembly, the Sanhedrin had, in the recent times of Jewish nationality, replaces the monarchy: also its authority was considered reliable, at the same time doctrinal, judicial, administrative trative.

"He interpreted the law. He judged major causes.

He exercised over the administration of affairs an exact monitoring. As for its composition, it was 71 members, including the presidents. The 71 represent- were the three classes of the nation: the priests; THE scribes or doctors and interpreters of the law; the elders, taken from among the heads of tribe and family. »

According to Fabbe Chabauty, who, in the Jews our masters, specially studied this organism, this The assembly recruited itself. The high priest who was part of it by right was usually the president and bore the title of nasi, in Hebrew chief, prince. The class of priests included the representatives representatives of the twenty-four priestly families; THE scribes constituted a powerful caste of juris- consulted who were also theologians. Years- These people therefore formed a purely secular element of the Sanhedrin.

We have Jewish coins from the first two centuries before Jesus Christ and we discovered several dating from the Christian era, k Period of the first revolt of the Jews against the Romans.

the imperuxism of isrjlbl II

The latter bear the following inscriptions: Eleazar, the the high priest, Simon, nasi Israel, Simon, prince

It seems that the last official assembly of the Sanhedrin stood under Titus for a short time before the destruction of Jerusalem. After the ruin from the holy city, in the year 70, the Diaspora began, the great dispersion of the Hebrews throughout the world. It was completed under Adrian, in the year 135, after the defeat of Barchochebas. A current of emigrants took shape towards the south and west of the Earth and Jewish colonies were established in Egypt, in Italy, in Spain; another current towards the east fixed other elements in Syria, in Armenia and as far as Persia. Some families, hiding and at the risk of their lives, during the first years, were able to stay in Palestine. It was among them that was chosen the patriarch of Judea. He resided in Tiberias or at Japhne and it appears that he had authority over the Jews of the West, directing the synagogues, pre-making decisions in delicate circumstances, sending 6 "apostle" emissaries to carry his instructions and collecting tribute. This government of the patriarchs, sometimes tolerated, sometimes forbidden, according to the feelings of the Roman emperors with regard to Jews, functioned in a more or less discreet way until 429. Theodosius the Younger then strictly forbade receptively to the patriarchs to establish and perceive taxes on their co-religionists; and since From this date, there is no longer any mention of them in history (1).

But the Jews who had emigrated to the East, the

(1) Abbe Ghabauty. The Jews our masters.

12 imperialism p'xsrax

Eastern Jews also had leaders; these leaders, descendants of the royal line of David, had taken the title of "Princes of Exile". They resided in Babylon and Rabbinic Talmud which enjoys the most great authority, the Babylonian Talmud, tells us know that these Princes of Exile were the true rulers of the people dispersed. They governed directly the Jews of the East, thanks to the benevolence of the dynasties reigning in Babylonia and communication with the Jews of the West through the intermediary of the patriarch of Judea who was subordinate to them. Did the Princes of Exile have absolute power? or were they simply the presidents of a Council supreme reconstituted? We do not have any documents

The first of the Princes of Exile whose annals mention his name Huna. The patriarch of Judah, Judah the Holy, was his contemporary and openly recognized his authority. To the witness-family of Saint Jerome, who lived in Palestine, in the 4th century there were no longer any doctors of the law hebraic in the Holy Land and it was acquired only in the 4th century the sole seat of government of the Hebrews was in Babylonia and it is the descendants of Hillel who teach and comment on religious laws (1).

A thick mist surrounds the actions and gestures of Israel for a period of about four centuries, then a dazzling clearing occurs. In 1005, the caliphs of the East become the enemies of the Jews, close their academies, put their Prince to death of Exile or captivity: Ez^chias, The Hebrews

(1) Ibid., op. cit.

Israeli imperialism 1 3

have therefore made themselves very odious to the populations who had welcomed them so that such persecution has occurred. It is because the exclusivism of worshipers of Yahweh manifested themselves everywhere from most aggressive way. In his book V Intolerance religion and politics, M » Bouche-Leclercq Fa thus explains: "All peoples who, in anti-left, were in contact with the Jewish people, felt in him an unknown force, an energy which exerted a repulsive action on them to which they responded by an equal aversion. This energy was made of a indomitable faith in the power of one God, that the Hebrews were the only ones to worship and who should as a reward, ensure them superiority on other peoples, equal to that which raised it himself above the other gods. These were cursed powers that he would throw out of the world and would return to the eternal Fabime in the day mark in his unfathomable designs (1). »

The Jews of the East were forced to abandon most of the territories of Asia where they had established colonies and, since the 11th century, history has not no more mention of the "Princes of Exile".

Should we infer that from this date he between scattered communities, more impetus director from the religious point of view as well as from the

from a political point of view?

If there remained a secret government, it was necessary that his action was very mysterious, his role very

(1) Bouche-Leclercq. L y Religious intolerance and the Politick, Paris, 1911.

1 4 i/LEMPERIALISM OF lSRAEL

discreet, so that no traces of it were discovered.
On the other hand, if this central authority no longer existed,
if the Hebrew groups did not have among themselves
only accidental relationships, without any links hierarchical, it is truly prodigious that these groups, abandoned to themselves, could have preserve the integrity of their faith, the purity of their race,
the desire to refuse any contact with people who surrounded them, to prevent any assimilation
to foreign races.

The hypothesis of the continuity of a government occult – because we are here in the domain of hypotheses – can be supported by two documents from the 15th century, cited by Mr. Fabbe Chabauty. These are two letters, which a priest from Avignon published in 17th century in a book, the Royal Crown of kings of Aries, dedicated by him to “MM. consuls and governors of the city” (Avignon, 1640). They have was reproduced in 1880 in V Armaria prouengau
and in the Revue des Etudes Judaes, of which Baron
James de Rothschild had just established the foundation.
Mr. Copin-Albancelli also cited them (1).

The consuls of Aries, according to Tabbe Bouis, had collected complaints from residents “against the perfides Jews who lived in the city, because of the usury that they committed...”. We threatened to throw into the Rhone. King Charles, warned, “hunted by its edit this cursed race of the city and its terroir, Fan 1493”.

Four years earlier, the Jews of Aries had . wrote a letter to the Jews of Constantinople pro-

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 1 5

venial in which they said they were obliged, in execution of royal orders, to become Christians or to leave the territory of Provence. Their goods, their synagogues, their lives are threatened and they ask for this what they must do to comply with the law of Moïse: "That's why - they say in closing - Please kindly let us know what we must do. » (Chamor, rabbi of the Jews of Arles, the 13th of Sabath 1489.)

Bouis explains that the copy of this letter comes from "from the archives of one of the most famous abbeys of Provence."

If this letter may appear authentic, the one which constituted the response does not have the same character. It is written in Spanish, which is not surprising, because the Jews of Salonika and Constantinople Spanish milks; It was said that she had been found in the Toledo archives. But the text was strange and singularly compromising, because not only he advised the Jews to become Christians hold by "keeping in their hearts" the law of Moses, but also to become merchants "to strip the Christians", doctors and apothecaries "to take away life", canons and clerics to destroy their churches. And the initials of the signature were followed by the quality: prince of the Jews of Constantinople. However, we nowhere find mention of such a title. THE "Princes of Exile or Captivity" had disappeared since the death of Hezekiah.

The only thing to remember, the most true hypothesis-similar, is that when a Jewish community was in embarrassment, religiously or materially-ment, she sought the advice of a community

1 6 the imperialism of israjel

more powerful, less exposed to tribulations, possessed of renowned doctors, and it is always towards The eyes of the Hebrews were turned to the East. In the absence of Jerusalem, Constantinople inspired them trust.

Moreover, a great solidarity existed between the communities. When the Jews settled in Brazil and in South America came, in the 16th century, settle in North America, among the settlers from the Netherlands, on the territory of the current state from New York, they received a rather poor reception there. The governor even invited them to go and find tune elsewhere. But then the Jews of Amsterdam, already very influential and owners of a large number of shares of the Colonial Company. Grace At their intervention, Fordre's expulsion was reported.

As the means of land and sea communications, tions became more frequent, closer between the groups of Hebrews.

But yes, & Finstar of Freemasonry, in the ranks of which they infiltrated from its beginnings, the Jews managed to form a government occult, a secret hierarchy, this government was so careful, so wise, that his action remained invisible until the end of the 18th century. However, Femancipa-proclaimed on the threshold of the Franchise Revolution would give the breed a tremendous boost. One of his modern writers Fa recognized in these terms: "The Messiah came for us on February 28, 1790 with the Human Rights (1). »

(1) Israelite Archives, (VIII, p. 801, year 1847.)

IMPERIALISM ©ISRAEL 17

The hidden hand, the coffee hand of Israel is visible in the Merits of the illuminists, in the theories of the revolutionaries of Europe, in the pursuits Masonic, in the plots of the "High Sale" Italian, but the occult power, directing towards a single objective the efforts and ambitions of all the Jewish communities, has not yet revealed itself.

Finally, the progress made in the states of Europe are such as a public organization of the Jewish race seemed possible. In 1860, Adolphe Crebetter, which owed to his republican opinions before having been a minister under the pro-government visory of 1848, founded the Universal Israelite Alliance. Thanks to this organization, regular reports having a sort of official character will be established between tick covers and safeguards this association* It has its headquarters in Paris. The imperial government, as Mr. Paul Raphael notes, "resumed, in this which concerns the Jewish question, the role which, since 1789, had traditionally been that of France; he pro- left freedom of conscience outside and looked with sympathy the creation of the Isrmlite Alliance universdle, founded by a group of young people who aimed to work for emancipation and to the moral progress of their oppressed co-religionists my. (1). » These "young people" included an elder minister, a rabbi, a poet, civil servant versite (Eugene Manuel) and under the pretext of propagating the principles of 89, they laid the foundations of an Inter-

fl) Antis&nitism *t Bangermamsme, Paris, Atean, 1916, p. 52.

1 8 Israeli imperialism

national Jewish political, whose action was not going delay in merging with that of the International workers and the financial International.

It hardly seems that we then suspected the dangers which would result from this foundation. A few years later, in 1869, the year the Vatican Council, held in Leipzig, under the name of "Israelite Synod" a true Council of Judaism.

The Hebrews of Germany, England, France, from Russia, Austria, Asia Minor were found there felt by many delegates. The teacher Lazarus, of Berlin, presided, assisted by the knight Joseph de Wertheimer, of Vienna, and Rabbi Geiger, of Frankfurt, as vice-presidents. For good establish that theological questions would be Fords in the background of the debates, we held the scales equal between Orthodox Jews and Reform Jews mists. It was above all a question of knowing each other, of understanding each other communicate information, adopt measures common, to follow converging paths and two factions of Judaism voted by acclamation tion a sort of declaration of principle, or their ambitions appear barely veiled:

"The Synod recognizes that the development and sure guarantees of the present and future of Judaism and its members. These are the conditions most energetically vital for expansive existence and the highest development of Judaism. » (1).

The sentence is of dubious French form,

(1) The Problem of the Present Hour, by Henri Delas-sus, Paris, Desclee and de Brouwer, t. I, p. 618.

THE IMPERIALISMS OF ISRAEL 19

but the ideas that emerge from it are sufficiently clear. The democratic idea is the viaticum which allows Jews to enter organizations governments at the end of the 19th century and to raise their race on the mines of institutions and civil Christian reading.

To cement all the elements of the race, for him give indestructible cohesion, a govern- clearly strong and undisputed, it is necessary to show him an ideal religious and political to pursue, to encourage him to do everything to do, to dare everything for its achievement.

Zionism responds to mystical aspirations of Israel, to its pride, to its thirst for domination. At return from a recent pilgrimage to the Holy Land, where he saw Sir Herbert Samuel's administration up close under the British mandate, Robert Vallery-Radot notes his impressions: "In Jerusalem, Zionism ruminates on the bloody crisis of imperialism occult and universal (1). » Occult imperialism, both that it will not be fully obtained; but the project and will only be chimerical if the Christian nations unite to oppose it and do not deliver to this effect tough fights...

The Zionist dream is not new. He was already haunting the brains of the Jews in the time of Julien FApostat. Saint Jerome spoke of it in his writings; but it appears It was up to Theodore Herzl to give Tidee a strong concrete political mule, capable of stirring the race whole, to provide it with a strong and independent government cute, to open up the radiant perspectives of a supremacy over all other nations.

20 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

L'Aigleterre, for complex reasons, including Tune is certainly a multifaceted religious identity Judaism and Puritanism, has long been proclaimed protector of Israel. Before I could deliver Palestine to the Jews, she had promised them Uganda, which they did not want, because the land
secret, Judea, was not in Africa.

Zionism, as defined by Mr. Fernand Corcos, It's "Faction orxjatiisise en vile 4e la resiaarettion poli-
tick of the jaif people cornftve nation ctuidnome, el celiz
on the soil of Palestine (1) >>.

In fact, we can say that Zionism, organized by Theodore Herzl, and well before the mandate conferred a P England to give Jerusalem a "home" for Hebrews, endowed the race with a true government,
i.e. a management and centralized body sation.

During the Dreyfus affair, there was not a leader
of invisible orchestra which regulated the procedures, dictated the dispatches of the agencies, determined the procedures to follow, purchased the competitions, formulated threats, and this not only in the states of Europe, but also in the United States, in America
from the South, everywhere 7

From this government, what can be good at present-is the boss lying? Is it Lord Rothschild, to whom Arthur Balfour officially made, in the name of England and of its allies, the promise of the national "home" 7
Is this the successor of Th. Herzl, the professor Chaim Weizmann, president of ^organization sit)* worldist and "animator of jxiive consciousness",

(1) Israel on the Biblical Land, p. 10.

the imperialism of israel 21

according to the qualifier given to him by MF Corcos?
If the leader does not make himself known, the government exists. It constantly manifests its existence, that either during the armistice of 1918* during the negotiations

Leagues of Nations, at the time and since the occupation Franco-Beige pation of the Ruhr.... (1).

Ill

Has the government of Israel developed a plan of operations, has it issued directives with a view to this global hegemony? He wouldn't reveal them more ... than. the Germans did not make it known before the war their plan to invade Belgium and debark from the North the forces of the French left wing. But, from the observation of the methods, the processes that the Jews were employed to conquer positions tions, points of support in the main states of Europe, we can learn some lessons. It is by international finance and by fashions of influence and corruption that Tor entails, it is by flattering democratic instincts and appetites, by provoking religious persecution, by exploiting

(1) The Zionist Congresses which are now held that year and the last of which had its meetings in August 1923, in Carlsbad, allow delegates from all committees to exchange manage their views, organize propaganda and receive, at need, instructions and watchwords.

22 i/IMPEAUALISM OF ISRAEL

both wars and peace treaties, dividing the citizens of a country, sparking class struggles, that the Hebrews arrived, by successive stages, to impose oneself, to force the avenues of Power, from participate in the administrative and legislative work of nations among which they were established.

A little book, translated into all languages, Protocols of the Elders of Zion caused their indination and their fury. I spoke about it in the Kingdom d! Israel among the Anglo-Saxons (1) and, without carrying me guarantor of the authenticity of the document, I have, on the request of Mr. Bernard Grasset, writes a preface for a translation of the pamphlet, which he had under press, according to Russian Fedition of 1912. These "Proto-

as a singularly disturbing book, gives on Israel's ambitions and plans for enslavement of the Christian nations of curious details, and announced, eight years before the world war, The collapse of Russia.

The Jews, that the distribution of the pamphlet had exasperated, uttered a cry of triumph when the Times, no doubt at their instigation, published three articles intended to demonstrate that "Protocols" were not a Jewish document, but a plagiarism of Dialogue aux Enfers, by Maurice Joly, pamphlet against Napoleon III published by a republican, a few months before the fall of the government imperially. I gave, in an article published in the Weekly Review (2), my feeling about the

(1) Paris, Bernard Grasset, 1921, pp. 83-104.

(2) Issue of December 17, 1921.

Israeli imperialism 23

pamphlet and the transposition of some of its passages wise in the text of the "Protocols".

Basically, the origin of these famous "Protocols" remains mysterious. It only appears that the brochure proceeds from Judeo-Masonic maxims, of which some date back to the time of the Illuminists and even beyond. The codification of these maxims was probably a collective work whose authors will undoubtedly remain unknown. But the document carries its own interest and strength. It is why a Morning Post editor responded to the Times articles that, whatever their origin, gine, the "Protocols" constituted "a vade mecum methods by which great empires have been or can be destroyed (1)".

The destructive force of Israel is singularly formidable and his ambitions are limitless. THE Talmud commentators have done everything to overexcite. They said to their disciples - I quote Bernard Lazare: "Do not cultivate foreign soil; you will soon cultivate yours; don't get attached to anything earth, because then you would be unfaithful to the memory of the homeland; do not submit to any king, since you have no master than the lord of the holy land, Jehovah; born

your salvation and you would not see the day of resurrection shine
rection; keep yourself as you came out of your house her ; The time will come when you will see the hills of a'ieux and these hills will then be the center of the world,
of the world which will be subject to you (2). »

(1) Issue of October 27, 1921.

(2) Anti-Semitism, pp. 18-19.

24 i/IMPERIALISM OF JSRAEL

The Talmudic promise must seem to the Jews partially accomplished since the mandate pales-Tinian made them return as masters to Jerusalem; For whether it is fully done, it remains to "submit the world" and this is what their leaders apply themselves to their best.

They must already feel very powerful to dare undertake a colossal, almost superhuman task to covet world domination, to aim a goal that could not be achieved at the beginning of our twentieth century nor the English, masters of sea, owners of the richest colonial domain and the most people, hi the Germans, warlords
and trading rivals of Great Britain.

Israel has no army, no fleets, no occupation territory other than Judea, and this occupation of poor soil is still quite precarious, because its children, who camp there, protected by bayonets English, form only a tiny minority of the population and are hated by Christians and Arabs whom they claim to subjugate or expel.

But Israel has international finance;
he holds the majority of For in circulation, he controls the metallurgy, the oil trusts, the high-circulation publications, news agencies and of advertising. In all states, in all governments verments, he has acquaintances, accomplices and alliances. It will suffice to take an overview of the course of this study, to move successively into reviews the main countries where its action is taking hold,
developed, to dispel all doubts in this regard.

Jewish power is international in this sense that it has representatives, disciples, helpers

^'imperialisms b'israel 25

related, Hebrew and even Christian, hey all peoples, but it is also national since all the Hebrew communities belong to the same race, same nation, follow the same laws religious and political, aspire to the ideal mystical.

Its international power has as its main organ the high bank, which orders governments states, of which it authorizes and regulates the prunts and which, although it seems at first glance strange and paradoxical, also exercises its power over the revolutionary and communist parties and holds the fls of their organizations (1).

It is difficult to understand how to big capitalists can encourage supporters of the collective ownership of all the means of production and the monstrous regime of Sovietism, of the dictatorship of the proletariat; but it's a fact acquired, from which we can simply deduce that the The ways of Israel are always tortuous and full of mystery.

The international of finance, like that of the most extreme socialism, therefore work in at the same time for the benefit of the Jews, their ambitions national, their imperialist aspirations.

Is it childish to believe in the existence of a plan of Jewish domination, when we see the collapse of Russia provoked by revolutionaries

(1) It is worth remembering that Jaures and his friends founded and launched the socialist newspaper VHumanite with the competition of twelve capitalists who were called: Levy-Bruhl, Levy-Brahm, Dreyfus, Louis Dreyfus, Ely Rodriguez, Leon Picard, Salomon Reinach, Blum, Rouff, Cazewitz, Herr, Sachs.

26 Israeli imperialism

Israelites, the abnormal clauses of the peace treaty, particularly in favor of ethnic minorities, the establishment of the supergovernment called "Society or League of Nations", the pro-

lives on pretext?

In an article in Le Monde Nouveau on "L'Impromptu of Zionism (1)", Mr. de Monzie, senator du Lot, very courteously, incriminated me to have "renovated among us, with Mr. Robert Lounay (2), anti-Semitic literature".

Is it anti-Semitic to expose the aims of Israel and to point out to its fellow citizens perils that can become fatal for our country, for Christian civilization?

There is no literature either.

fidouard Drumont who, in 1886, threw the greatest cry of alarm, was not a politician, a writer eager for advertising. He was a scholar, a fine writer; I knew him at a time when he was writing in Liberia delicious chronicles and collaborated on a review bibliography headed by Octave Uzanne. When he had studied the conquests of the Hebrews in Paris and publishes Jewish France, he qualifies himself: social historian. He was certainly entitled to this title and yet this was contested because the abundance of people sounds that he offered as food for curiosity public, the indignation that smoldered in the chapters and also some detailed inaccuracies gave

(1) Delivery of September 1, 1922.

(2) Author of Jewish Figures (New National Library, 1921).

I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 27

his work has the appearance of a pamphlet. Without doubt, he there was a bit of "literature" also in his first first book and in the following ones; he affected the contrasts, the oppositions which gave unexpected, spice to his arguments, but the hindsight allows us to assess more equitably the fruit of his research and his work, of note the accuracy of its observations, its studies of morals and to pay homage to his professional insights phetics.

his life, he realized the meager results obtained by his efforts, his talent, his work. Her fame was great, his books had a number editions, his newspaper, La Libre Parole, had known strong draws, but without being able to maintain them; the Algiers voters had sent him to sit in the Palais-Bourbon, where Ton has a grandstand weaving. But, in short, if a few salons and some Parisian circles had closed their doors has financial barons, Jewish influences remained as strong, as active in the government advice, in politics, in Stock market, in the business world.

Drumont, who had nothing of an organizer, had wanted to group good wishes around him your to lead an electoral campaign. He had ins- establishes a "National Anti-Semitic League of France" under his presidency, with as general delegate a very vigorous publicist, Jacques de Biez, renowned disillusioned blican. The league has few members, even less money and could not find any candidates for the elections of 1889. The author of France

28 imperialism b'israel

Jewish woman had illusions about the iBouve^neitt bou- langist and on the "brave general" which the populace owes rity had exploded like wildfire i ees illusions dissipate when one approaches the designation of Alfred Naquet as vice-president of GoiRite baker. Drumont wrote the manifesto that his eomite addressed to voters on September 1, 1889 and he wrote to me, asking me to insert this document in a weekly magazine that I directed:

"We don't have absolutely the same ideas in politics, perhaps we even differ a little of opinion on the definitive solution to be given to the question Jewish tion; but we agree to hate the terrible regime which brought France from Saint-Louis, of Henry IV and Louis XIV between the dirty hands of all the business gamblers, all the cosmopo- lites vereux, of all the ghetto escapes. »

The manifesto was interesting, but very long. II did not contain political directives, did not defied any principle of government and

"good French people from France".

But some passages were profound chisels. After having withered Facquinement of Bou-changing with the Jew Naquet, the manifesto said:

Geci has nothing that could surprise us. It's 1&, and everyone realizes it today, the constant political and tactical variable of Israel; he has in each party the man responsible for protecting the interests of Jewry and to perpetuate financial exploitation. Whether it is Fould qu Cremieux, Raynal or Naquet,

I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL $2

it is always, with a different name, the same Jew responsible for the same task, carefully ensuring in the councils of the prince or in the assemblies of the Republic, so that Mr. de Rothschild.

We don't want any more than that in general. We do not associate ourselves with those who open them with outrage, without reflecting that they are themselves whom they dishonor, since it is they who also made him a minister of war. He arrived at Baker what happened to so many men of our time; he had too costly vices and he had to inevitably become Jewish and fall into the hands of those who would provide him with the means to satisfy these vices.

We only wish to note that there is no no more illusion possible; we would like to clearly indicate what would be the meaning of a success which, moreover, theirs, now seems undesirable to us.

Assuming that the general triumphed, nothing would be modified. Proudhon's words, in 1848, came true would say once again: France would change its Jews. We have been governed for a long time by a Jew one-eyed, we would be governed by a hunchbacked Jew and the hunchbacked Jew would absolutely do what the Jew did one-eyed; he would help the Semites of all countries to enrich yourself at the expense of the French... Now, this is precisely sows this enslavement of our homeland to a bartender of cosmopolitans that we fight with all our forces (1).

would not get many echoes; the Jewish peril was still misunderstood and little feared; but, as if he had

(1) Samedi- Revue, September 7, 1889, p. 152.

3o Israeli imperialism

the gift of tearing the veils hiding the future, he formulated this reflection:

"Events that are near, disasters that seem imminent, the disappointments that are coming to you reserved, will alone shed the definitive light in you (1)."

Events and disasters have occurred.
Will the elites who govern the masses know draw out the necessary lessons?

Today, the danger is more serious than in 1889. Jewish power planted its flags on peaks of which, thirty-five years ago, she had only not yet undertaken the ascent. And France is not perhaps not the most invaded country, the most completely enslaved.

When he published his Testament of an Anti-Semite, Drumont was preparing a Jewish Europe which never published. I don't know what happened to the documents that he had collected, but everything suggests that they disappeared.

The Great War and the post-war period revealed well new facts about the actions and conquests recent developments in Judaism. Without pretending to make a complete and definitive work and observing that the unstable situation in Europe makes it very difficult certain surveys and methodical research of documents, I will try to give as exact an idea what can be done about the Jewish upsurges which have produced in Europe and the United States.

(1) Ibid., p. 153.

CHAPTER II

IN ANGLO-SAXON COUNTRIES

Jews among the Anglo-Saxons. – The election of Saint-George, Westminster. – The Order of B'nai B'rith.

– An article by Mr. Lloyd George. – The “Keren Ha-Yesod.” – The Jews of South Africa. – The community

NAUTUS of EGYPT. THE JEWISH INVASION IN THE UNITED STATES.

– The New York ghetto. – A debate in Congress

on the Jewish “race”. – Henry Ford's campaign.

The “Ku Klux Klan”.

I

In the Kingdom of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons (1), I tried to show to what extent the Anglo-Saxons were subservient to Jewish power, contributed to promote its ambitious projects, to serve devote-ments its interests. Since 1921, this policy of governments of the British Empire and the United States United States of America has not been modified and, taking advantage of the speed acquired, Judaism has still, at various

(1) Paris, Bernard Grasset, 1921.

62 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

times and in many places, conquered positions news.

The disappearance of the president's political scene Woodrow Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George, agents the most representative of the “Christian front” of Israel, has not slowed down the upward march of the race.

One would have thought that in England, the dissolution tion of the “Coalition”, which led to the fall of the government ernment of Mr. Lloyd George, and the brilliant success conservatives in the general elections would have

and that Jewish influences would have been exerted less freely, less imperiously in Downing Street that when Sir Philip Sassoon (I) was V alter ego of "Welsh trickery". We very quickly had the impression that he would be nothing.

Following the meeting of conservatives at the Carlyer Club, Mr. Lloyd George resigned.

(1) The Jewish World, December 14, 1922, gave fairly precise information on this family, associated with Rothschild, and whose descendant played an important role during and after the World War. The Sassoons declare descend from the Shoshans, Jews originally from Spain. David Sassoon, born in Baghdad in 1792, was the founder of the house established in Bombay (bank, cotton ginning factories, etc.). Branches were established in Calcutta, Shanghai, Canton, Hongkong. Obtaining the Opium monopoly in China contributed to the colossal enrichment of the Sassoons. The Jewish World, while admiring the commercial genius of this tribe, makes a reservation about re-poisoning the Celestials and says that it constitutes a regrettable fact, a regrettable feature in the fortune of this family. A son of David Sassoon* ftior in Brighton in 1896, was a close friend of the Prince of Wales which became Edward VII. His name was Albert and he was created a baronet. Sir Edward Sassoon was his son, and Sir Philip, Mr. Lloyd George's secretary and advisor is his grandson.

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 33

Mr. Bonar Law formed the new cabinet and the Parliament was dissolved.

The Saint-George district (Westminster) avails for representing an independent conservative, Mr. Erskine, active, energetic; You imagined that the ministry would not oppose his re-election and would not sue him would not name an adversary. We forgot the grudges of Israel towards him. Mr. Erskine had been appointed the previous year in a by-election, defeating, with a majority of 2,000 votes, his competitor, a strong Jew rich, Colonel Jessel, official candidate of the coalition Lloydgeorgian edition. He even had the audacity, in its program, to call into question the policy pro-Jewish ministry and to treat irreverently sows the Palestinian mandate.

All this deserved punishment. Israel wanted bis mangy. Mr. Bonar Law, espousing quarrels of his predecessor, who had already designated the future deputy for Saint-George: Colonel Wilson, important character fulfilling the functions of chief whip of the coalition conservatives, donna the official nomination to this candidate and wrote him a warm letter to wish him every success.

But the voters remained loyal to their elected official and, k a majority of 3,000 votes, sent it to its ger again at Westminster. It was difficult failure for the cabinet, for the Jews and for the colonel Wilson who had to look for another constituency to find a seat in Parliament (1). In a

(1) The post of governor of Bombay, grants all remuneration ment to Colonel Wilson, rewarded him for his tribulations and was devotedly shown by him to the interests of Israel.

34 israeli imperialism

another district of London, in the same elections generals, Mr. Lionel de Rothschild, usually elected without opposition or ballot, was only appointed at large barely, with a slim majority of 500 votes on 30,000 voters (1).

Would there therefore be in the great city a reaction against the Jewish movements? In any case, this reaction does not manifest itself in government spheres tales.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin, who became Prime Minister after the retirement for health reasons of Mr. Bonar Law, followed exactly the political line of his predecessors. successors, suffered the same suggestions, defended the same interests. Lord Reading is still viceroy of India and Sir H. Samuel still proconsul of the Palestine. The accession to power of the workers' party with Mr. Ramsay Mac Donald has no more changes the pro-Jewish policy of the British government tannic.

The high British aristocracy, the very one who approach the steps of the throne, do not fear to ally with the aristocracy of money where the great Jews. Is the granddaughter of the famous Sir Ernest Cassell did not become the wife of Lord Louis Mountbatten, close relative of the king (2)?

part of Germanic origin, who make the law; Note

(1) In the general elections of December 1923, Mr. Lionel de Rothschild did not apply. For the first time since 1847, the Rothschild family is no longer represented sent to the House of Commons.

(2) During the Great War, the Battenbergs judged good to anglicize their name and call themselves Mountbatten.

THE IMPERIALISM OF Israel 35

that they give is echoed in England and abroad
ger. Is it any wonder that the campaign against France and Belgium in favor of Fessor economic of Germany! London bankers had bet on the financial recovery of the Reich and the collapse of the mark plunged them into a cruel embarrassment. They had one figure in their portfolio considerable German annuity 3% and agreed the biggest sacrifices to consolidate the courses. At August 20, 1923, the 3% was still listed in London,
13 shillings, or 53 French francs, the pound being worth 82 francs. However, the pound sterling was then equivalent to 8 million marks! There is a very strange mystery there-tere and undoubtedly one of the causes - the main perhaps - from the relentlessness of the government British government to fight our occupation of the Ruhr, before leading a campaign against the franc
French.

This financial anomaly was reported in a article in the National Review and in a note from Daily Mail, but no plausible explanation
could be provided.

England believes it needs Jews, and what's more more closely parted with them, and the Jews
are absolutely counting on England to pro-protect their interests and help achieve their biggest projects.

This protection was manifested in a very visible during the war, particularly in the East.
The Jewish Chronicle of September 15, 1922 collected
the impressions of an Israelite from Hungary, Mr. Julius Neumann, established in Smyrna for quite a long time.

&f> i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

in Konia, where he was responsible for the representation of commercial union. He had no reason to complain about Turkish authorities, experienced, like all the natives, some supply difficulties, and was then able to return to the coast, where he remained quietly until the armistice. When the English landed at Smyrna, order was given to expel all subjects Germans and Austrian-Hungarians. But it is enough for Mr. Neumann to declare himself a Jew and a Zionist in order to be exempted from the expulsion order. It was recognized as the birth of the nationality of the Hebrews before their people were not given a territory.

Placed thus under the patronage of the British Empire, Mr. Neumann was part of a committee organized for the protection of the rights of Jews in Asia Minor; and, on behalf of committees representing 40,000 Semites, he went in January 1919 to Constantinople, to the interallied commission. Equipped with a recommendation of the powerful lodge of B'nai B'rith, he was received by the American commissioner, by the president of the Israeli community, which had just obtained important concessions from the Turkish government in favor of the Jews of Constantinople. To return to Smyrna, he had plenty of time to organize a group of Zionist men, in complete agreement with its protections.

The B'nai B'rith lodge, like all organizations secret societies, has obscure origins and paths. But since Israel became aware of its strength, it willingly displays elements of its power. On December 10, 1922, was given in London, in honor of the "Barmitzvah", a members' banquet of the "London Lodge of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith." Dr. Israel Feldman chaired and the main speaker was the chief rabbi of Angle-earth, Doctor Hertz, of whom I spoke elsewhere. The occasion of the triumphant journey around the world that he accomplished in 1920-1921 under pretexts of collecting reads in the British Dominions and Colonies war (1).

Israeli imperialism 57

After having entered the Masonic lodges operating in different countries and have taken the most important positions if not the most in view> the Jews had wanted to have single lodges exclusively Jewish* In his remarkable work, contemporary United States (2), Glaudio Jannet had previously signaled the existence of this lodge of B'nai B'rith, quickly became a cell and federation of other very Jewish lodges. The chief rabbi, wearing the health of the "Order", at the Hyde Park banquet Hotel, gave valuable details which highlight The importance of this association. He started with spread a sweet cheerfulness among the guests by telling as long as he sometimes had letters in his mail whose superscription was strange. One was addressed a "His Holiness Doctor Hertz, King of the Church of England for the Jews", another to the "Rabbi universal". His notoriety, his overseas travels excused a little the singularity of these appellations; but, then taking the serious tone which came, F orator celebrated Fanciente, the services made by the famous "Lodge", which was the oldest

(1) See Le Rhgne d'Israel chez les Anglo-Saxons, pp. 72-76.

(2) Contemporary United States, t. II, p. 372.

38 Israeli imperialism

and remained the most important of "all associations Jewish fraternal relationships around the world.

I borrow from the Jewish Chronicle (1) the principal p points from the report of the doctor's speech Hertz:

The B'nai B'rith lodge was founded twenty years before V Universal Israelite Alliance, thirty years before V Anglo-Jewish Association. In 1843, the population Jewish population in America which today amounts to approximately three and a half million, hardly had more than 20,000 representatives. It was before the great emigration due to the disorders and uprisings of 1848, before the persecutions and progroms of Russia. It was then that twelve Jews, with Henry Jones

although the creation took place in New York, the promoter creator of the idea, the founder was an English Jew. THE number of members, twelve in 1843, rises today today k 100,000. There are currently 550 functioning lodges operating in America, Germany, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Denmark, Switzerland, Romania, Bulgaria, Türkiye, Palestine, Egypt.

After having obligingly listed the insti-established school, hospital and charitable care under the auspices of B'nai B'rith, the chief rabbi showed the part taken by the Order in the development of the power of Israel. The Order has a very broad ment contributes "to awakening consciences and the sense of the responsibility of the Jews of America..." In 1870, it is thanks to him that the government of the United States Unis was led to establish a consulate in Romania,

(1) Issue of December 15, 1923.

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 39

where its commercial interests were minimal, and to entrust this position to a Jew, Benjamin Peixotto. At this time, many Hebrews emigrated to Romania, and it was valuable for them to know each other protected and defended by a co-religionist feeling of great power. The lodge succeeds & unite for common action the Israelites of all countries to prevent persecution and achieve recognition give citizenship rights to the Jews of Romania.

Later, the B'nai B'rith succeeded, exploiting both the Kishineff pogrom, to organize a cam-press campaign and meetings against Russia. Circumvented on various sides, President Roosevelt transmitted to the Tsar a petition that the sovereign and his Minister of Foreign Affairs refused to receive, judging, not without reason, that this act constituted an intrusion into the internal policy of the country.

The Order continued its efforts and obtained government government of the United States denunciation of the treaty of trade with Russia, claiming reasons of humanity! The United States could not maintain friendly relations with an empire or citizens were mistreated because of their religious beliefs gious! Recently crossing Canada, from Van-

all the stages of his journey from the B'nai lodges B'rith working ardently for the cause of Israel and he was struck by the results obtained by the Order, since its foundation, to give the Jews strength and self-confidence. "Life and the institutions of Judaism had, consequently, acquired a new vitality. The B'nai B'rith had

40 Israeli imperialism

were blessed in their works and it was appropriate to carry a toast to the prosperity of the great Jewish Order which surrounds clear the globe (1). »

Sir Alfred Mond, Member of Parliament and former Minister in Lloyd George's Cabinet, took next the word to extol the merits and successes of the lodge which had affirmed "the magnificent optimism of race ■". No other people "would have wanted leave, so small as it was numerically, with a ideal so great and the hope of achieving it (2)". Then, by intoning the inevitable verse about Zionism and his future, Sir Alfred Mond related that his returning from Palestine, he had an interview with Mr. Briand, who allegedly told him: "There is always something mystical in Tame des peuple. » The French have not often heard the old prime minister formulate thoughts or feelings religious ments, but they already knew that Mr. Briand was one of the most decided supporters of the adventure Anglo-Jewish in Jerusalem, long before it was approved by the Treaty of San Piemo and the Council of the League of Nations.

There is no shortage of former ministers in the "Christian front of Judaism". The most honorable rable David Lloyd George, in June 1923, gave to the Daily Chronicle and the Daily Telegraph a large

(1) Ibid. 9 p. 14.

(2) Correspondence from New York made it known that the "Convention" (the Freemasons of France would say "Conwind «) held at New Haven, Connecticut, on July 1, 1923, Mr. Nathan Chazan was elected Nazi of the Order of the B'nai B'rith. It is quite curious to note the resumption by the power health Lodge of the title that formerly bore in Babylon the ft Princes" by Pexil.

Israeli imperialism 4*

article on "Zionism and Palestine", which the Jewish newspapers in London were quick to re-lead.

He began with this pithy sentence: a From all the bigotries that make nature wild human, there is none more stupid than the anti-semitism. » Then, after having ridiculed as best he could those who criticize the actions and ambitions Jews, he enthusiastically praised colonization in the process of being accomplished under the senior leadership of Sir Herbert Samuel. " Everywhere – he wrote – the Jewish farmer produces on the ground more abundant and richer harvests than the Arab his neighbour. » This would have to be demonstrated: because the Jews hardly like to move the earth with their arms, and if the capital that is placed in their hands allows them to put into service agricultural machinery perfected, they are almost always Arabs who are called to handle them.

The Palestinian mandate, which oppresses and tends to expelling indigenous populations is, in the eyes of Mr. Lloyd George, "a charter of equality", and cause of harm to any race. There is a work to accomplish in the Holy Land: "The Arabs have neither the means, nor the energy, nor the ambition to accomplish it ter. The British Empire has too heavy burdens on the shoulders to carry out this enterprise. The Jewish race, with its genius, its resources, its tenacity city, and, in addition, with its riches, can alone accom- fulfill this essential mission. »

The former Prime certainly has dis- enables in matters of equity, justice, rights of peoples has self-government, but it has become an eloquent advocate of the ambitions of the Jewish people. It is not surprising that this article was made a leaflet with a large circulation, distributed everywhere in the British cities. Mr. Lloyd George now quality to be ranked among the best servants of Israel, and already Miss Megan Lloyd George was featured as a bridesmaid at the wedding

42 i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Guardian of July 13, 1923 published the photographs phies, taken in front of the synagogue, of the brides and of the "bridesmaids" group.

II

The activity carried out by the various associations
Jews in England is truly remarkable. II
To be convinced of this, it is enough to browse through the Anglo-Jewish newspapers the notes published under the heading Jewish National Activities. In all cities, committees, lodges, associations hold meetings
frequent, organize propaganda campaigns,
develop schools, dispensaries, hospices, all works having a national character, that is to say strictly Jewish. Quests are made for synagogues, for the War Memorial – construction of a major rabbinical seminary – and especially for the Keren Ha-Yesod, supreme treasure of the race, The Eretz-Israel which must make it possible to achieve all the

i/IMPERIALISM OF iSRAEL 4^

projects making Jerusalem the capital, the center
nervous, the brain of the "chosen" people.

The Zionist organization did not wait for the treaty of Lausanne, the ratifications, by the Conference of San Remo and the Council of the League of Nations, Palestinian mandate, to launch a solemn mani" feast in favor of the Treasury of Israel. She was sure that the Holy Land would be delivered to him. At the beginning of 1921 appeared, by the publisher Leonard Parsons, of Londres, a manual: The Keren Ha-Yesod Book, which gives the most complete details on this Treasure, its principles main objects, the means of feeding it. At the front tispice is reproduced the manifesto, quite short besides-theirs, betraying the Israelites of their duty. It is not a question not a charitable work or a pure business colonially. The construction to be undertaken is not other than that of the Jewish Commonwealth (1). Pen-For twenty centuries, the people of Israel have patiently expected. Here begins the accomplishment of the divine promise. "The exceptional financial effort demand today must take the form of a tax

worse by the noble Jewish tradition of tithing. A very heavy burden of taxes is imposed today on all the peoples of the world for reconstruction national tions. There is no Jewish state; Call that we formulate is addressed to the Jewish conscience and does not cannot be supported by any coercive measure; but no Jew worthy of the name will want, at this time solemn, take responsibility for shelter behind the timidity of our people. »

(1) The Keren Ha-Yesod Book, p. 7.

44 THE IMPERIALISM OF Israel

The manifesto is a sign of the main coryphees of English Judaism: Lord Rothschild, Alfred Mond, Joseph Cowen, of the two leaders of the organization Zionist vision, doctor Chaim Weizmann, his first sident and Nahum Sokolow, president of his committee executive, and several associates, including the famous Wladimir Jabotinsky, condemned by a war council during the Palestine expedition and pardoned when Sir Herbert Samuel took possession from his position as high commissioner*

The manual includes a financial introduction From this it emerges that, to meet the needs and to the projects envisaged, it is important that the Keren Ha-Yesod has, within five years, twenty-five million pounds sterling. A table shows the distribution which could correspond to a pre-first tranche of five million pounds. Procurement of urban and agricultural land figures for 600,000 books, the construction of workers' houses for 400,000, etc... An entire chapter is devoted to "the tithe in the Jewish tradition" and shows that the Bible, like the Talmud, prescribed the perception of tion. Get tax is absolutely in accordance with the law religious and cannot be avoided by believers. In the ghettos of the past, no Jew would have tries to haggle or argue over the tax Ma'aser. On the contrary, if this tax was insufficient due to community charges, its rate was relieved and everyone paid it willingly, had to borrow to find the necessary money.

Considerations are then developed in the book on agriculture, industry, schools, banks, hygiene, the Jewish University of Jerusalem, of which we must make a model institute and for which special funds will have to be sought and found. The chapter entitled Jewish Troops deserves attention. deny attention. During the World War, a small body of Jewish conveyors was organized in Egypt under the name Zion Mule Corps. It counted approximately 600 men and rendered some services in the East, services that the British did without in 1916 by ordering the dissolution of this detachment. In August 1917, a regiment of Jewish volunteers was created for the Palestine expedition. He wore the name of 38th and 42nd royal riflemen. The volunteers were present in large numbers, coming from England, from the United States, from Argentina and even from Judea, about 10,000, but barely 5,000 were equipped and sent to the Palestinian front when it took shape Allenby's offensive. The regiment was demobilized during the winter of 1919 and only one frame was left restricted under the orders of Lieutenant Colonel Margolin.

The Jews deplored the absence of troops from their race during the riots in Jerusalem in April 1920; and now that their people have a territory, it seems natural to them to also have an army. English taxpayers find it quite unpleasant to maintain in Palestine an Anglo-Hin contingent gifted to defend the Hebrews against the Arabs. By having a Jewish army, this objection disappears. would be and the Jews, proud of having "na-" "I would soon have, to respond to the aspirations Zionist rations, a Palestine "as Jewish as the Angletterre is English." But the maintenance of an army, its weapons, its equipment are expensive and it is why Keren Ha-Yesod must bring together very big capital. The editors of the book acknowledge however, not without some melancholy, that the idea of the constitution of a Jewish army is not very popular in Israeli communities. The recruit- would be difficult, both in terms of men and officers. ciers. Military traditions are being lost, among Israel, in mists too far away for him to

However, in England, persistent efforts are made to encourage sports in the game-ness. In all cities, gym clubs-sports, football, tennis, etc., were created. Jewish newspapers give portraits of athletes, champions who stand out in competitions. Israel has a boxing champion of whom he is very proud. The Jewish lads are increasing their meetings, their military exercises and the Prince of Wales deigns attend reviews of their brigade and their distribution enjoy rewards.

But sports things don't absorb the Hebrews of London to the point of making them neglect other ambitious companies. Since some years, they seek to monopolize the trade of the supply of the metropolis, and in a fairly To a large extent they succeed. The number of maid-sounds of tea, restaurants, bars, dance halls or managed by Jews has increased in proportions fantastic stories since the war. Companies financial institutions were formed to purchase a number big hotels, and if you arrive for the first time in London without having taken sufficient information jumps, a Christian has three chances out of four

the imperialisms of Israel 47

to stay in a jiiiiif hotel and eat kosher meat.

"Jewish national activities" are not "only" ly visible in England and London; they exercised with equal intensity in the Dominions nions and colonies of the British Empire, but the Usual modes of propaganda are very diverse.

In Canada, oft Chief Rabbi Hertz found so many flourishing B'nai B'rith lodges, it is the Immigration problem that attracted attention leaders of Israel. It was necessary to endeavor to do to favorably modify the legislative provisions and administrative, to provide immigrants with the income they need we must justify at the time of disembarkation k Quebec or Montreal. Ten-year statistics established by the federal office show the results obtained.

In 1901, there were no

1911 and 126,196 in 1921. The reason for the progression is strong. As usual, it is in the large agglomerations that the Hebrews group together. In the agricultural regions of Alberta and Columbia in Britain, they are few in number, but, in the province of Quebec, where there were only 7,600 in 1910, today there are 48,000; in that of Ontario, they went from 5,300 to 47,800.

In South Africa, where gold mines had once attracted so many adventurers and speculators, they are also very numerous and their number is increasing constantly. The statistics are quite impressive; but, in December 1922, Mr. Bernard Alexander, President of the Jewish Board of Deputies of Africa of the South and legal advisor to the King of Swaziland, came to London accompanied by one of his congeners of the colony, M. Manfred, MB Alexander received an editor from the Jewish Guardian and he provides very interesting information which I will summarize the essentials, because they seem to me give a very accurate idea of the situation of the Jews in the colony, their institutions and their ambitions.

48 iskael's imperialism

In the Pays de Vor rouge (1), Jean Carrere told formerly the actions of the Hebrews in the Transvaal, who contributed to unleashing the war against the Boers. The victory, so painfully won by the English, consolidated their situation. Wine emigrants come en masse, from Poland, from Ukraine. In the person of General Smuts, whose attitude was so strange, so favorable to socialism during the missions he carried out settled in Austria, in Hungary after Tarmistice, they found better than a benevolent protector, a devoted friend (2). Also see what is, according to Mr. Alexander, the power of their organizations:

Our "Board of Deputies" is an analogous Council to that of the Jews of England. Its head office is in Johannesburg and it works pretty much like that

(1) Paris, E. Flammarion.

(2) The speech given in London on October 23, 1923 against The occupation of the Ruhr, against "French imperialism" shows the sentiments of the Prime Minister of South Africa South, one of the tenors of the Society* of Nations.

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAJSL 49

from London. In certain respects, its activity, its action are even superior. For example, we study currently the establishment of an Immigrant Office Jewish tion, with an immigration official in Cape Town Harbour. The Board, which does not take care policy, has existed since 1912. Previously, we avians a Council of Deputies for the province of Gap and another for the Transvaal. The merger of the two Boards was very happily operated on. Each syna-recognized gogue, each organization or friendly society holds nonime from two to five deputies depending on his strength digital. Notable feature: the Board, as that body constitutes, directly represents the Fed-Zionist ration in South Africa. Both years ago a Gongres of delegates is held specially chosen from among those who were called upon to name the members of the Board. The main works are done by the Executive Committee and its Commissions. THE current president (Mr. Alexander) is assisted by Mr. § r Raphali, vice-president; of Mr. Hillman, treasurer, and of Mr. Percy Cowen, Secretary.

Ask about the following point: Your Board atH obtained advantageous results for the status of Jews in the colony, Mr. Alexander replied:

Certainly, our organization has been very fruitful in profits. There was a time when every Israelite was not that an individual, when he spoke in favor of the com-Jewish community. Today we have a repre-permanent feeling recognized by the government. An example, among others, of the success of our inter-vention. Naturalization rights had been raised from 5 shillings to 11 pounds sterling. Our approaches succeeded in bringing it down to 5 pounds. During the recent rebellion, there was great agitation anti-Semitic tion, because < ;c: propagates* the ferments of among ministers, their naries were in no way i Prime Minister said]■•

exonerating Jews from tc obvious when both betrayal, Tun was released
Court hearing.

The idiot's situation:
ly good. There are ,'.'
Provincial councils, da joined to the mayor of Johanr

son of Reverend E. Harri ^

Joseph Benjamin. In i, y

let's take care of beautiful positic v iv

medical professions and the ba-T> ■■:•'•> ; rt - I - -^

we several advise '■■■■■:■ cxab (Ki: -r/^ Counsel) (1).

We see that in fact the: a AJ>.ku.u: -1
would have bad grace J': . 1

tinee. reads exercise on the u= • influence table and this expl^~ n ~ ~ ^r^~, pcu aventure, they have had trouble with justice, a breath salutary, coming from above, disperses the mists and gathers rene le del.

iStant calm, powerful, conscious of their strength, South African Jews are pious and generous. Schools and Talmud Torahs maintain have faith. In some government schools*
there are study hours during which we teach hampers Hebrew. In Universities - always at

(1) The Jewish Guardian, December 15, 1922.

say of Mr. Bernard Alexander – we can perhaps be in-questions about the Hebrew language. To this end, Rev.
AP Bender teaches in Capetown and Rev. Dr. Landau, chief rabbi, professed at Witwatersrand.

To help the exiled Jews of Europe
Eastern, communities and isolated subscribers donated more than 400,000 books. An orphanage has was installed in the former residence of the govern-generals of the Cape Colony; that's where they are raises 90 children from Ukraine.

The almost privileged situation of the Jews of Africa
of the South results from a complete agreement, of a kind alliance concluded with the government of the empire British, an alliance which will last as long as the two powers will follow parallel paths, but which will end when the Imperialism of Israel,
judging himself strong enough to realize the centuries-old dream,
will launch alone to conquer the world.

*
* *

In the northeast of Africa, it is a fertile country,
with a mild climate, long governed by the Angle-
land which, despite a proclamation of independence dependence, still has troops, councils
lers, numerous civil servants and a high commissioner
sary British. There too, in figgypt, the Jews have prospered. They are not very numerous, 70,000 in-viron, but apart from a certain number of craftsmen,
of bank and administration employees to treat
modest ments, they form a sort of aristoworldly democracy, going hand in hand with the diplomatic corps

52 Israeli imperialism

matic, the magistrates of the mixed courts, the representatives of foreign colonies (1).

On the banks of the Nile, the race is satisfied in all his vain aspirations as well as his interests.
An Israeli, Irma Kraft, in an overflowing story of enthusiasm and not devoid of poetry, wanted to what extent Egypt is "a paradise for the Jews".

"There are 40,000 Jews in Cairo, 18,000 in Alexandria; in all of Egypt there are not 8,000 who have sometimes need some help or assistance... The generosity of the rich classes in favor of the poor rites are inexhaustible. The heart of Israel is always hot when it comes to helping an unhappy brother.

"The resources of the middle-class Jew are very sufficient, even at Mouski and in the small bazaars. There are few needy people. Everywhere Your notes an abundance of foodstuffs, vegetables, Btc. Great luxury of fruits and produce Earth. In the farthest corners of the center of Cairo, in Mouski, in the Shariahs El Garia, El Cattai, El Rab Modie, in the dark corners of Aftet Hassam, we find food, shelter, contentment.

"Most Jews have good incomes. naked, "comfortable" credits in the banks, Several thousand of them occupy Cairo positions of prime importance; almost all bank employees, of both sexes, belong to

(1) Egypt and England, Paris, B. Grasset, 1921, pp. 191-200.

(2) The Jewish Chronicle, July 27, 1923, pp 17-18.

i/IPERULISM OF ISRAEL 53

belong to the race of Israel. In figypt, a good proverb known throughout the course: "You may have known trust him if he is a Jew! »

"The percentage of Israelites devoted to professions liberates is very satisfactory in the categories- ries doctors, lawyers – the best lawyers from Cairo are Jews – ■ writers, theater directors. Notable fact in Egypt, the entire banking industry is in the hands of the Jews, as well as the offices judicial and ownership of newspapers and periodicals dics. »

The Jewish Chronicle correspondent attributes

of its congeners. She complacently lists the synagogues built in figgypt, around which pious congregations come together. In Cairo, he there are no less than seventeen Orthodox temples, plus a very rich temple of reformist Jews (Ashkenasi); in Alexandria, there are six or seven, etc.,

Every day, prayers are made for the king of Egypt and the king of England. These prayers, other-once obligatory, have become optional, but the offices where they are pronounced continue to be famous regularly. How could he be otherwise? "The Jews did not receive these souvenirs other than testimonies of benevolence and goodness. Why wouldn't they show their feelings of gratitude? »

Everywhere there are schools, dispensaries, Israeli nurseries. A school for immigrant orphans gres was recently founded, as well as a clinic for the blind. We also take care of education

54 THE IMPEFUALISM OF ISRAEL

Arab women from the point of view of child-culture.

Israel spreads such blessings on the banks of the Nile that the prestige he enjoys from a social point of view and worldly seems quite natural in the eyes of Ms. or Miss Irma Kraft: "Distinguished Jews are welcomed by the oldest families in the country » there are Israeli pashas and beys, like there are some in England who are earls and lords; several are government advisors. From a few years, the number of those who are functional public funds has increased remarkably. The king of Egypt, it is said, has a special interest in the pro-roots of Judaism. » It was obviously the best means of acquiring or retaining good graces Prime Ministers of Great Britain. It would be tedious to continue this journey around of all the colonies and dominions of the British Empire tannic, because the results of Fenquete would be all identical. On all points of the globe oil England exercises its authority in various capacities and his influence, Israel felt protected, encouraged, surrounded with consideration and sympathy. He has some fathers of his race, to develop his action and enlarge say his conquests.

Note that to encourage its progress in Australia lie, since 1921, Queensland has had a gou-Jewish winemaker: Sir Matthew Nathan.

Israeli imperialism 55

III

In the United States, the Jewish push comes (Ten above and below and the Anglo-Saxon elements and Germans who constitute the population fund hardly seem to put up any resistance to them. THE bankers from Frankfurt, Mainz or Cologne arrive in America, all prepared & manage financial and industrial companies, and wishing to have as auxiliaries young coreligonaires who later become their associates. The names of Jacob Schiff and Otto Khan, of the major bank Kuhn, Lceb et C°, are represented tives of this category of Israelites (1). For others, a generation was necessary for their accession to the class of multimillionaires. Let us name one, dead, a few months ago, in Southampton, upon his arrival d* America. Meyer Guggenheim, emigrant from German Switzerland, had settled at a very young age in New York and had made some money selling strong glue and stove varnish. He then became silver foundry and succeeded in this branch merciful to the point of being able to merge your house in very advantageous conditions with V Ameri-can Smelting and Refining C°. Isaac Guggenheim, his son, born in 1854, developed the business of this company. More police and educated than Meyer, because

(1) See the Kingdom of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons, pp. 51-55.

56 Israeli imperialism.

he was a graduate of the Philadelphia High School. phie, he took rank in the financial aristocracy and director of the Smelting and Refining C°, of the Mexican Union Railway, of the American Smelters' Securities C°, of the Yukon Gold C°. He also had important interests in many commercial enterprises of An-England and often came to London. Well received in English society, he married his niece Helena, daughter of her brother Salomon, to Yicount Stuart, Fame surviving sons of Earl Castle-Stuart. It is as Jewish blood mixes with that of the oldest aristocracy of England, into which he infused the iron ments of the race of Israel.

For a long time we could believe that, in its economic life, North America should not much to the collaboration of the Jews. A book by Professor Sombart (1), recently translated eii French by Doctor Jankelevitch, shows with a copious documentation that it was otherwise.

Apart from Smelter's Trust, the Israelites occupied^; pent of the predominant situations in Tobacco Trust ($500 million), in Asphalt Trusty in the Telegraph Trust, etc., (2).

Werner Sombart, gives valuable indications on the influence they exercise in organizations banking and industrial:

Jews are also at the head of very large banks and thus exercise indirect control over a,

(1) Jews and Economic Life, Paris, Payoty 1924.

(2) John Moody. The truth about the Trust, 1905, pp. 45 and following.

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL h 1]

large part of economic life. Therefore the Harriman System, which sought to effect the merger of all American railway networks, found its main support in the new bank Yorkist Kuhn Loeb and G°. The Jews mainly occupy prominent positions in F Quest. Ornie California is largely their creation. During the founding of this fitat, the Jews distinguished themselves as judges, as deputies, as governors, as mayors, etc., but also and not lastly [as men business. The Seligman brothers, Guil. Henry, Jesse, Gerstle, in Sacramento (where they founded Alaska Commercial G°); the Hellmans and the Newmarks, Los Angeles: these are some of the firms the best known whose activity was carried out in this region. During the period following the discovery of gold mines, it was the Jews who established relations with FEst and with F Europe. Transactions the most important financial statements of this era were due to the initiative of men like Benj. Davidsohn, F agent of the Rothschilds; Alb. Priest, of Rhode Island; Alb. Dyer, of Baltimore, etc. ; the three Lazare brothers who founded the international bank Lazare brothers (Paris, London, San Francisco); THE Seligman, the Glaziers, the Wormsers... And today still most banks and industrial companies trielles calif orniennes are in the hands of Jews. I will cite The London Paris and American Bank (Sigm. Greenbaum, Rich* Altschutz); Tea Anglo-Calif Ornian Bank (N. Lilienthal); Union Trust G°; Farmers and Merchants Bank of Los Ange- THE ; John Rosenfield, coal mine owner Good ; The Alaska Commercial G° J North America can Commercial G°, etc f

58 i/LEMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

But the Jewish invasion in the United States is manifest also by the immigration of the sordid Hebrews hunted located in Ukraine and various countries of Eastern Europe tale, not by persecutions which are rare, but by the need to find means of existence.

The Jews originating from these fitats onfc people of neighborhoods of New York; they prosper there, find themselves there at home and consider themselves in their vast ghetto like the masters of the metropolis. They found in New York and Brooklyn an earthly paradise, like the rich and civilized Jews of the East found some one in Cairo.

With joyful pride, Mr. Victor Basch described the charms of this ghetto:

A ghetto I Come on, a city within a city, a city within the city, k Fetalon prodigious of FAmé-rique, the most colossal agglomeration there is in the world, more teeming, more teeming than Lodz, Brody and Lemberg, the largest Jewish reservoirs in FEurope; more populated than Lyon and Marseille; a wide open, where the powerful breath of the broad and westernized by the feverish breath of Fim-

New York, where they mingle fraternally and harmonize the tenacious labor of the old Indian race
tractible and the hectic toil of young America.

They came, the Russians, the day after a pogrom
The man, the woman, Faieul k the long beard, the children with the pensive heads of little old people, with,
hand, stuffed bags and poorly tied baskets;
and clutched to their chests the handful of rubles,
for lack of which entry into the new world is forbidden... Then, piled up in the 'tween decks, they crossed the seas and finally arrived, exhausted

Israeli imperialism 5g

and stunned at the pier. There, after having passed victoriously
the visit, they disembarked and they walked among panting, bellowing and bellowing
of the city that never rests, blinded by the lights and stunned. And now they have reached Eastbroadway or Canal Street... where their brothers and their sisters. They stop brant in front of the lit shops and children stretch out their arms and They want to moisten their lips. Here is the pastry where the boles, the tor-
bread tilloris sprinkled with poppy seeds and azimes crackles. Here is the charcuterie where the roses are spread "kosher" languages and smoked meat veined with fat yellow, near the pyramids of tasty fat and candied goose breasts. And all the brands are in Yiddish, all passers-by – except the police – men – speak the colloquial jargon and everyone has the start lanky face and dangling arms of the people of the down. And they close their eyes so as not to suddenly see-escaping the dream. Beyond the seas, they have finds their native suburb... It's their old home and new at the same time: it is a homeland found (1).

What need to sail towards Palestine, when such radiant perspectives open before you!
Polish Jews are less out of place in New York than they would be in Jerusalem. But the new calves that came were not satisfied with the calm and of the serenity of this family and tribal life, of Attendance at services in their synagogues. Theyveuslow to spread, gradually extend their area
of action, conquering influences in politics

(1) Edmond Fleg. Jewish Anthology, vol. II p. 170.

60 ishael's imperialism provide hospitality. Mr. Raymond Duguet* who lived in New York in 1910, when a million Jews already lived there, carried out a survey seriousness which gave the following results: "On the twenty main stores, most of which have 3,000 to 6,000 employees, fourteen were among their hands; three of the seven major dailies belong to them held (not to mention those written in Yiddish or Hebrew) ; they had fifty-two temples, seven hospitals, six shelters and asylums; the head of customs was one of them, and, at the Supreme Court, out of thirty judges, seven were Jews; they had already, moreover, the upper hand over everything that concerns the theater... (1) » In fourteen years, the Jews have seen growth in high proportions of their race and the war world has singularly facilitated their upward march dante. In New York, there are now 1,500,000 instead of a million and, without the housing crisis which rages there as in all large cities, they would be much more advantageous. In Chicago, there are 250,000"; in Philadelphia 210,000; in Cleveland, more 100,000; in Boston, 80,000; in Baltimore, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Newark, Detroit, about 60,000. We understand that this Jewish population, scattered but united and disciplined, led by characters occupying important positions in banks, businesses, newspapers, business organizations niques, represents a considerable political force. In the United States, the presidential elections are coming has short periods disrupting the administration and the body of civil servants of the country, the two great

(1) La Voix nationale, January 7, 1923.

the imperialism of Israel *6i parties, Republican and Democratic, had great interest reluctant to gain favor and votes Jews ; also, to detain them, they did not retreat ahead of nothing. The Jew Morgenthau (later appointed ambassador to Constantinople) was the treasury laugh and fun of the principal members of the Elec- committee

Woodrow Wilson. This one, surrounded by Rabbi Stephen Wise, Jacob Schiff, Warburg, etc. ceased to defend, to exalt the Jews, of whom he was in reality the protege and the agent* During the war, most large organizations depended on Hebrews. A little-known Jew, Mr. Bernard M. Baruch, was once appointed president of War Trade Board, a committee whose remit seemed quite waves and clouds. After the cessation of hostilities lity, the United States Congress wanted to be informed on the services rendered by this committee and Mr. Baruch was called before a commission appointed for this effect. He declared without modesty: "I probably exercises authority greater than that of any other man during the war (1). » And like the com- The missionaries looked with wide astonished eyes, he added: "My power was exercised in its fullness and without control. I had authority over the use of capital in the private affairs of Americans, on all raw materials, on industries, on all the classes of men likely to be called to military service. » And Bernard Baruch does not boast was not. He was telling the strict truth. After Farmistice, he was sent as an advisor to the Peace Congress,

(1) The Patriot, July 26, 1923, p. 402.

62 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

as a member of the Supreme Economic Council, and he returned to America with President Wilson. Should we be surprised if the program developed by the Jews was entirely and without modifications incorporated pore to the stipulations of peace?

Woodrow Wilson's successors in the House Blanche followed the same policy, that is to say the protectors or rather the agents are shown devoted to the Jewish power which continued to grow.

In colleges and universities, students Israelites swarm and the <7ewish Yearbook gives These figures are eloquent in this respect.

At the college of the city of New York, we count 78 Jews per 100 students; at the University of New York, 47 Jews per 100; at Hunter College (equal ment in New York), 38; at the University of Chicago, 18. It is at Harvard University, in the state of less strong, 10%, and it is still appreciable if you reflect that, on a population of more than 100 million inhabitants, the American territory has approximately 4 million Jews. I say approximately, because a rigorously accurate statistic is strong difficult to establish.

Jewish directories list those of their core legionnaires appearing on the controls of the various synagogues in large cities, but may ignore others. Moreover, until recent years, community leaders did not want to include their flock in official statistics skies. This emerges from a curious discussion raised vee in 1909, during a session of Congress.

The officials of the recerisation, wishing to make their more complete statistics, had requested authorization to make a classification not only by place of origin, but by race. The Semites of the assembly, feeling targeted, rose vehemently against the proposal. Senator La Follette, who was presiding, asked one of the protesters, Senator Guggenheim, what objection could he have make this request. This one is a little congested, cried: "The Jews are not a race...it is a matter of a question of religion. » Does the word Jew does not awaken an idea of race? observed the senator Lodge. Mr. Wolf intervened in his capacity as representative both American Hebrew congregations and wanted to invoke, in support of his thesis that the Jews do not form a race, the opinion of Doctor Cyrus Adler. But Senator Lodge, who seemed docu-ments on the subject, cited a statement absolutely opposite of Cyrus Adler, appearing in the preface from the Jewisk Encyclopedia, as well as a passage from the same encyclopedic written by Joseph Jacobs, former president of the Jewish Historical Society of England." Quite upset, poor Mr. Wolf, questioned about Disraeli's race, finally declare that the day he was baptized, the future Lord Beaconsfield, the author of Tancred and Coningsby, had ceased to be Jewish, which did not leave than to provoke a few smiles on the benches of the Congress (1).

Israeli imperialism 63

repudiate these self-righteous tricks. they are no more ashamed of constituting a race; they are unique

(1) The Patriot, August 2, 1923.

64 Israeli imperialism

really proud and that is enough to highlight the progress made by Judaism in the political and among all peoples.

Is it necessary to transcribe some testimonies to demonstrate it?

In his book Rome and Jerusalem, Mr. Moses has writes: "The Jewish religion is above all patriotism Jewishism... Every Jew, whether he wants it or not, is closely united with the entire nation and is solitary and alone. »

Scholar M. Leon Simon, in Studies in Jewish Nationalism, states: "The idea that Jews are a religious sect, similar to those of the Catholics and Protestants, is an absurdity. »

And Mr. Arthur D. Lewis, of the Zionist Association of West London, is even more explicit in The Jews a Nation: "When some Jews claim consider their people as a religious sect, they misunderstand their own feelings, their own attitude. If a Jew is baptized or if – and it is not necessarily the same thing – it is sincerely converted to Christianity, people will consider that he has ceased to be a Jew, His blood, his temperament, his spiritual affinities They remained the same (are unaltered). »

Moreover, in the associations where they felt at home, the Israelites had never concealed the conception they had of Judaism. One of the first B'nai B'rith members, Leo N. Levy, died in 1904, in a publication made under the auspices of the Grande Loge, had written: "It is false to say that the Jews are only Jewish because of their religion... They are outside dispute that among us religion and race are so melted together that no one would know say where one begins and where the other ends (1) »«

This in time union of race and religion*
Zionism would cement it even further. GOOD that the head of the Zionist organization was a Jew from An* gleterre and the head of its executive committee a Jew from Russia, it is the Hebrews of America who testify generate the most enthusiasm for "home"
National of Palestine; they are the ones who show themselves are by far the most generous to facilitate the success of the sacred enterprise* There were many personal rivalries, some differences of views between Dr. Weizmann, Nahum Sokolow from UAE on both sides Judges Brandeis and Mack, promo* leaders of Zionism in the United States, but it is thanks to
to American dollars that could have started there Jewish colonization in the Holy Land*

Moreover, the most active propaganda was made in the United States in favor of Zionism* All leaders officials of the organization dear to Mr. Arthur Balfour crossed the Ocean to preach the good word* The physicist Einstein, represented thanks to an advertisement frantic like a scientific genius next to whom Newton was just a schoolboy, was dragged by Ghaim Weizmann in all major cities, no for speaker – he doesn't like to speak in public – but to show off on a platform and say that he proved the statements of the Zionist speakers. For-will we refuse a rich contribution to the "Keren Ha-Yesod", at the future University of Jerusalem,
when the people of Israel gave birth to such scholars!

(1) The Patriot, August 2, 1923, p. 418.

66 the imperialism of Israel

New York and its 1,500,000 Jews made Einstein
a triumphant reception. The right to cite was given to him given by the municipal assembly of the metropolis
American; and, on his return to Europe, Lord Haldane, Faneien, Germanophile minister, did everything possible to live in England, to the relationship theorist
tivite, a warm welcome.

The Zionists of America also wanted to attract
in Forbes of their propaganda Sarah Bernhardt,
that his reputation and his theatrical tours overseas

very popular. The opportunity seemed propitious when Miss Elise Roow, reporter for the New York Herald, published in this diary the report of a conversation that she declared to have had with the tall and old tragedienne. These confidences – because it was indeed a question of confidences – were reproduced with tenderness – sment by the Jewish Guardian (1) and as a wildfire hit the Jewish press two hemispheres.

On the threshold of her eightieth year, Sarah Bernhardt felt remorse... A Jew by birth- At that time, she converted to Catholicism at the instigation of his father. She regretted having forgotten the interests of his race and now wanted to repair his faults. His confessions were formal and how all songs!

I gave, she said, to France more than I had to give him and I gave the Jewish people a lot less than he had the right to ask of me... What I did for the French people, others

(1) Issue of August 18, 1922.

Israeli imperialism 67

could have done it. But there is a people for whom alone I could have done something and I didn't not done. I hear the Jewish people who are mine. To this people have always belonged my thoughts, the product of my mind, and I gave my art to France! I have to examine my conscience. I do not want not die confessing that I loved the whole world except my people... Two things fascinated me: drama and politics; now, the politics of my people remained a stranger to me until recently. A day A Jewish pamphlet falls before my eyes: it tells me realized that the Jews of the entire universe were on the move. vement to create a home in Palestine. This to me transported. I don't know if I have long left live, but there arises in me an old love for a new life! I would still like to love the people Jewish as I loved it in my childhood and work-work for his happiness as I worked for myself-same and for French Tart. I will leave for the Soul-ric and the benefits of my tour will be for the Jewish home. I hear that Jewish theater has done great progress. Another Sarah Bernhardt will come,

This confession, this repentance, although formulaic in a somewhat emphatic manner, seemed more than probable to the Hebrews. The return of Tillustre tragedy to his race and to Judaism they were famous throughout the Israeli press. The New York article Herald was reproduced with ray comments—nants of enthusiasm. What a wonderful tract from propaganda constituted the story of Miss Elise Roow! Alas! it was soon necessary to become disillusioned and the delirious joy newspapers turned into a painful melancholy. The Jewish Tribune, to whom Sarah's conversion

68 the imperialism of Israel

Bernhardt had inspired a rave article, rejection and late but categorical denial, in which the declarations improperly lent to the artist were described as "stupid and idiotic". The Jewish leaf of New York thus reflected his indignation and his sadness: "In our editorial — she said — we we said that the height of tragedy has been reached when a cultivated mind recognizes at the end of its life that he served all peoples except his own and expresses his repetition* We were wrong. Ge pinnacle is exceeded; the tragedy is more poignant when this spirit manifests neither confession nor contrition. »

The Jewish Tribune took these things seriously.— In any case, Sarah Bernhardt, who was then at the doors of the tomb, did not want to pronounce words testamentary roles that Zionism could have exploited for its benefit, in the United States and elsewhere.

Only one man, since the end of the war, Henry Ford, a desking of the automobile, had the audacity to resist Jewish power, launch a campaign followed against its ambitions and its propaganda. In his newspaper, the Dearborn Independent, he had revealed the actions of the race which he described as "para-international and international", responsible for the revolution Soviet tion* This campaign, actively carried out, greatly worried the Jews of the United States; it's in It was in vain that they tried to undermine Ford in boy cot-tan I: its factories and its cars* while seeking to debauch dear to its engineers and workers. For more than two years the Dearborn Independent continued the series of his articles, without abuse of personalities, without literature, without emphasis, the dangers of invasion and social. The circulation of the newspaper rose in considerable portions, despite the steps taken with distribution agencies to prevent diffusion, and articles on the Jewish question, brought together in volumes, had on their side numerous Editions tions. Then, one fine day, the Dearborn Independent, stopped being interested in Judaism. What had happened? Word spread in New York that, in order to develop his business in Europe, Henry Ford planned to build vast factories in Hamburg and that he had was able to obtain the necessary authorizations and assistance that by promising to put an end to his fight against Jewish power. A little later, when spreading says the news that the major automaker Biles would run in the presidential election of In the United States, other explanations seemed plausible. In any case, Ford stopped reporting the conquests and the ambitions of the Hebrews; but these do not did not forgive the blows dealt by the Dearborn Independent, and when their former adversary brought the president of the Trust des cinEmas, corporation very important, they made his candidacy fail.

Rid of Ford, the American Israelites were still going to find certain obstacles erected on their triumphant path.

I transcribed above, from the Jewish Yearbook, some figures from the statistics giving the proportion of Jews attending Universities and large schools. To the great scandal of the rabbis, among the students, a strong antipathy was manifested against the sons of Israel and petitions were written for demand the establishment of a numerus clausus, c? East- & say the limitation of the number of Jewish Students authorized to follow courses at universities and large colleges.

70 THE IMPERIALISMS OF ISRAEL

President Lowell, of Harvard University, in response to a protest received on the subject of the attack torney of Cleveland, Mr. Benesch, explained that a

that we no longer wanted Jews in a lot of schools, in many private establishments and even in some hotels. He therefore advised the Israelites – and the council was found bitter – to accept in their interest, the restrictive measures requested by students and public opinion.

Something even more serious. The city of New York and the large cities being saturated with Jews, he had was understood that emigrants coming from Ukraine and Eastern Europe, would be directed towards the state little people of Texas, where the official authorities facilitate would literate their establishment. But the population showed herself to be very ill disposed towards these new calves come.

After the Civil War, it was formed in the southern states a secret society, the "Ku-Klux-Klan", whose object was to terrorize the Negroes to prevent them from participating in the elections. This company, long gone, is resurrected in Texas and has spread to other states. To say recent articles in the Jewish Chronicle, it is against Israeli immigrants that are practiced today today its evils and its brutalities. The organ of the "British Jewry" declares that America is now nant "infested to an alarming degree with the anti-Semitic".

How will the virus act, if there is a virus?

Israeli imperialism 71

It is the secret of the future, but what is certain, it's that President Harding, President Colvin Coolidge (1) and their ministers continued to pursue follow the pro-Jewish policy which was that of the president Woodrow Wilson.

(1) In honor of "Rosh Hoshana" 5684, first of Tan of 1923, President Coolidge thought it necessary to send his congratulations to the Jewish communities of the United States and offer its tributes "to the marvelous Rational culture, to the spiritual lism, with the splendid heritage of command of the people Jew."

THE EMANCIPATION OF THE JEWS AND THEIR CONQUEST IN GERMANY AND IN AUSTRIA

A REMARK FROM MR. ASQUITH. – THE CONDITION OF THE JEWS
FROM GERMANY AND AUSTRIA IN THE 18TH 6TH CENTURY. –*– THEIR

progressive emancipation. henri heine and karl

Marx. ^ Attempts to react. –~* The congress of Dresden in 1882. – An anti-Jewish municipality
Yienne. – The role of Albert Ballin before AND during

The world war. after the defeat of empires

central, < – The democratic makeup of Germany*

MAGNE. I^A DISLOCATION OF THE HARSBURG EMPIRE,---

Renaissance of anti-Semitism in Germany.

Mr. Asquith, the former British "Prime",
in the interesting articles published during Yett de 1923 by the Saturday Evening Post, Philadelphia, on "The Genesis of War," reported a con-
payment he had at Buckingham Palace in 1911, with the empexor Guillaunie II, the Kaiser first made an enthusiastic praise of a recent book by Houston

74 i/IMPERIAXISM OF ISRUEL

Chamberlain: Foundations of the Nineteenth Century, summarizing in his eyes "the Germanic idea in all its splendor. Then, during the same interview, adds Mr. Asquith, (the Emperor tells me that, in his army, there was not a single Jewish officer. I aven-turai to answer that, for the Jews, it was in his worsens certain compensations, among others this one,
that they had conquered and controlled the major part of the Germanic press. The Emperor in con-came (1)".

Mr. Asquith could have added that if the Jews had not no access to high loads and functions of government , some of them were however- in the councils of the sovereign, with regard to to finance, to industry, to the commercial navy cial, to the diplomacy of the empire.

At all times, moreover, the Hohenzollerns have not not disdain to employ as agents representatives feeling despised races. When the great Frederic, too penniless to easily continue his Belizean aims, wanted to obtain resources additional, it is to a Jew named Ephraim that he applied to have counterfeit money made. And it's a fellow with the same name as Frederic- William II dispatched to France at the end of the 18th century century, to finance the first riots of the Revolution (2).

There were always certain affinities between the Germans mands and the Jews, but these were no less considered by the first as a dangerous race

(1) The Patriot, August 9, 1923, p. 14.

(2) Mrs. Webster. World Revolution, p. 166.

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 75

reuse that it was necessary to monitor and move away from the columns forming the structure of national life.

If you examine the condition of the Jews in 1789, we could measure the extent of the route traveled by them and the conquests achieved since the revolutionary era to the present day.

The status of the Jews differed significantly depending on the state, the principality of Germany where they resided.

In the kingdom of Prussia, the Israelites were not admitted neither to public functions nor to arts and crafts corporations. Some businesses and professions were forbidden to them: textile materials, breweries, hairdressers, bakers, butchers, merchants of fish. They did not have the right to exercise as surgeons, to own rural properties.

They could be land owners in the

for example, they should not have more than 40 houses (1). We didn't receive them in the hospitals, rates and charitable establishments. They inspired such distrust that their testimony in court was considered to be of a lower category; and, when they were convicted of crimes and of crimes, the penalty incurred was for them more severe than that applied for the same case to a Christian.

Jews were also classified into two categories: the ordinary and the extraordinary. The first ones enjoyed certain privileges. They could marry, having paid a sum of 4,000 thalers for enjoy this right. Before 1763, only the groin of each family inherited this privilege. As for the Jews "extraordinary", marriage was forbidden to them. read could not be bosses and they had to be in the service of one of their privileged colleagues for have a permanent residence permit (1).

(1) Paul Raphael. Antisemitism and Pan-Germanism, p. 7

76 Israeli imperialism

A rather different regime existed in Silesia and it was complicated. There were two kinds of privileges, the first being able to sell and trade directly; the others having authorization to tamper that was not hereditary. Tolares (Toleranten) could only practice trades second-hand dealers and peddlers. Fixintristen, at the price of a tax, obtained the ability to stay temporarily in a city or to cross it. To the last category, in Schutzgenossen, all trade was prohibited.

In Glogau, commercial freedom was acquired to the Israelites, as well as [the right to possess buildings, but their number was rigorously limited.

In Bavaria, Jews were excluded from services public and Farmee. Schools and universities were closed to them; they were forced to wear a badge visible when leaving the ghetto.

To reside in Saxony, Israelites had to pay their homes every month to ensure that son lived there improperly.

In Frankfurt am Main, which would become the birthplace that of the great bankers of Israel, we would tolerate the presence of 550 Jewish families. It was forbidden to celebrate more than twelve marriages in the same year and the economic freedom of the community was strong restraint. Prohibition of acquiring functional properties cieres, to carry on the trade in new fabrics, ble, weapons; prohibition of employing servants Christians. The Jews had to, as in Bavaria, wear distinctive signs when they were walking outside the ghetto*

(1) Op. cit., p; 8:

Israeli imperialism 77

The situation of the Jews was therefore not very good. viable in Germany at that time, and yet a movement that was called Mendelsohnian* name of its initiator, had manifested itself some years ago, a movement tending to adapt, if not to assimilate, the Israelites to the peoples in the middle which they were called to live.

Moses Mendelsohn (grandfather of the famous musician) was a philosopher of real vakur (1)* Mahngre and counterfeited, he had devoted himself to psychological, had studied the Talmud with great freedom freedom of interpretation* Preceptor with one of his rich co-religionists from Berlin* he met there Lessingj with whom he became friends, In contact with this one, son of a Protestant pastor, Mendelsohn "lost its Jewish exclusivism and was always inclined, if not to sympathize with Christians, to less to get closer to them (2)".

King Frederick II took an interest in him and his work, Lessing made him known and guided him in literary circles. A competition was organized

(1) He was born in Dussau in 1728 and belonged to a family miserable.

(2) The Jewish Problem and the Principle of Nationalities, by Pierre Mignot, p. 37."

78 Israeli imperialism

nized by the Berlin Academy, Kant was its principle main competitor; he was first class.

Mendelsohn intended to rejuvenate Judaism, that is to say, to appropriate it to the necessities of life among other peoples and to alleviate the causes of the antipathy he provoked. He had made a translation of the Pentateuch into German and advises his peers to learn this language. It's without doubt that we must find the origin of the Yiddish patois what do the Jews of Russia still speak today and Eastern Europe.

In his book: Jerusalem 011 Religious Power and Judaism, Mendelsohn wanted to demonstrate that Tfitat's role was not to deal with ideas religious beliefs of citizens, if their beliefs were not not dangerous for his safety, and he strove to It was clear that Judaism had no political character. If we admitted the government's indifference in religious matter, there was no need to distinguish German Jews from Catholics or Protestants so many Germans. It is in this sense that Mendelsohn can be considered as the "founder of a re-Jewish birth (1)". He was an apostle of assimilation and while his friend, Ephraim Gotthold Lessing, applied himself, in his literary works, to presenting Jews to their Christian readers in a favorable light reasonable, he himself strove to initiate the Israelites into modern culture and to reduce the aversion they felt towards Christians. Mendelsohn wrote German with rare perfection and, in his Phaedon, he formulated a very remarkable demonstration of Tame's immortality.

(1) Moses Mendelsohn and Modern Judaism. {The Jews Chronicle of August 31, 1923.)

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 79

From certain points of view, the "Jewish Plato" exercised an action on his contemporaries. Under his inspiration, too exclusive and anti-Christian of the Talmud; and other part, because of these efforts towards assimilation to national, the governments of the German states slightly softened the measures of rigor and surveillance of which the Jews were Fob jet.

There were some conversions to Christianity, notably that of Mendelsohn's daughter, and the his-Torian of Israel, Graetz, thus explained the mentality of these reformer, baptized Jews: the "ficlaires": "they rejected everything which, in ancient Jewish life, could offend modern taste, anything that does not did not seem to be explained by human reason, everything that had a national character recalled the events of the past and helped to distinguish the Jewish from Cbretian. filter "illuminated", that is to say to resemble in all respects to Christians, this was the watchword reformers (1). »

But these theories met little of followers. They aroused the hostility of almost all the rabbis who wanted to keep in their rigor the prescriptions and teachings of the Talmud, they could only admit that a German writer mand as classic, that a thinker so independent While Moses Mendelsohn was a sinister Jew, cere and believer. The attempt at assimilation, Tssais of reform ultimately only had results

(1) Graetz, t. V, p. 301.

80 i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

ephemefes* Fiercely orthodox, doctors of Hebrew law by vinreiit to stifle the aspirations rations of the "ficlaifes" and, as Fa rightly notes—says Mr. Pierre Mignot: "The Jewish mass will become free from all contagion (2), »

So this Jewish mass remained and was a slave to the Alleffian populations, suspected, despised and he it took the propaganda of the revolutionary ideas of freedom, equality, by the Napoleonic armies, to crush, following the expression somewhat partial of Mr. Paul Raphael, "the old prejudices" and "so that real improvements are made garlic comes out of the Israelites (3)."

This is how, in Magdeburg, in the Grand Duchy

to the family of Napoleon and his abolished lieutenants know all the tax and administrative measures taken with regard to the Jews and emancipated them en bloc by applying the legislation of the Revolution* We understands that Henri Heine glorified in his Reisebilder the memory of beneficial France!

The other states only successively emancipated ment their Hebrew subjects. It is by an edit of March 12, 1812 that Frederic-Guillaum© II granted to Jews established in Prussia the same civil rights as for the other inhabitants of his kingdom,

(2) P. Mignot, The Jewish Problem, p. 41.

(3) Anti-Semitism and Pan-Germanism, p. 19.

8i

II

In the hereditary fitats of the house of Habs-town, the situation of the Israelites in the 18th century was similar to that which was made to them in Germany; sometimes even, administrative measures restrict them However, they seem to have been more severe. THE Jews could not stay in Upper Austria; we neles authorized them to settle in Lower Austria only if they founded factories there. Only Toleris Jews, in limited numbers, could live in Vienna. read had to prove a fortune of 10,000 thalers and their children, by marrying, lost this privilege lege and had to request another authorization. However, some Jews, pretending to be Ottomans, by presenting passports issued in East; managed to reside in the capital, because the treaties of Passarowitz and Belgrade had stipulated pule for Ottoman subjects, whatever their reli-region, the right to settle in Vienna.

In the provinces of Carinthia, Styria, all cities in Bohemia, except Prague, Facets was forbidden to anyone who practiced the Jewish religion.

To limit the population, in Austria, in to marry. In Bohemia they were called Familianten people having the right to found a family and their number could not exceed that of the deaths of 1 year (1).

82 Israeli imperialism

Israelites were excluded from official functions and were not authorized to acquire properties real estate in Galicia, Lombardy, Venetie. They could not employ as workers agrioles than their congeners. However, we admit was that they had the funds to stay there. building factories or factories. Taxes, called tolerance (Schutzgeld), were also applied to them; depending on the provinces, they had an individual character. visual or collective.

The majority of these vexatious measures and flscales disappeared in 1785, when Joseph II, Voltairian verain and revolutionary in his own way, published his "edit of tolerance". Propaganda based on the theory of human and citizen rights will accelerate the emancipation of the Jews. " Men are born and remain free and equal in rights," said the first article; and Article 10 specified that "no one should be worried about their opinions even religious." It was an attractive formula, but it left aside the "race" question and did not foresee not only foreign and harmful races, mingling with the national population, could contaminate it, attempt to enslave, and that it was the duty of the governments vernants to take measures against them defense.

The victories of the coalitions in 1814 and 1815, Teflon period of Napoleonic domination, marking a time of pause, a regression even in Tascen-

(1) Jewish Encyclopedia, art. Familiatengesetz, t. V, p. 335.

Israeli imperialism 83

sion of Israel in Germany and Austria. The Jews had "won so much by hand", since Y abo-version of the legislative requirements aimed at them, that a would be like the protégés and agents of Revolutions which had oppressed Europe. Elsewhere On the other hand, they had monopolized certain businesses, notably the banks, had enriched themselves through usury and performing parasitic functions.

In February 1815, a brochure appeared with the aim of title: Die Ansprüche der Juden an das deutsche Bürgerrecht (1), who achieved great success in intellectual circles. Its author, Friedrich Ruhs, professor at the University of Berlin, there developed an interesting study on "Tribute of Christendom" and demonstrated the existence of a Jewish peril. In a form much more violent, a few years later, in the "Mirror of the Jews" (Judenspiegel), Hartwig von Hundt-Radowsky pointed out the misdeeds of Hebrews and demanded repression against them draconian.

From the world of students, this agitation gained soon the popular masses and found an echo among the representatives of kingdoms and principalities Germanists sitting at the Congress of Vienna (1819). It is especially in the free cities that this reaction against the Jews was energetic, because it was in these rich trading cities that the Israelites had multiplied and prospered to the detriment of citizens. Without bringing into force the regulations of 1811, in Frankfurt, it was decided that freedom of residence and commerce would be left to the Jews, but that they would not have access to any administrative functions. The number of authorized households was limited to fifteen per year; the brides could not have more than a house and a garden. In Lübeck and Bremen, the Israelites were simply expelled. In Hamburg, they were confronted with formalities and vexatious restrictions.

(1) Jewish claims to German civil rights.

84 i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

In Prussia, the status of the Israelites, governed by eighteen laws, takes very diverse forms. Functions in public places were forbidden to them, as were the pharmacist and surveyor jobs. Defense for them to take Christian first names with the aim of concealing their origin.

In countries dependent on the Austrian crown female dog, the reaction was perhaps a little less lively, except in Lombardy and Carniola. However, in Vienna, Jewish doctors could not have other clients than that of their co-religionists (1). In this capital, the number of "tolerated" families was limited treint: 135 in 1820; 121 in 1830.

Mr. Paul Raphael notes with satisfaction, in Anti-Semitism and Pan-Germanism, that "most democratic revolutions... have results happy for the Jews (2)." The same has been said of wars, and I will not contradict any of these statements mations*

It is certain that the Revolution of 1830 and especially that of 1848 caused throughout Europe

(1) Paul Raphael: Anti-Semitism and Pan-Germanism, p 40 passim.

(2) Ibid., p. 52*

I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 85

so-called liberal currents, from which the Jews drew great profit.

The German Parliament, sitting in Frankfurt in May 1848, the Prussian National Assembly proclaimed occurred at the same time Complete Emancipation Israelites. It was the same in Austria for ten months later. On the other hand, Bavaria, the Grand Duchy of Baden, Saxony, by granting them the right to vote and Fegibility, maintained certain provisions restrictions of previous laws.

However, tenacity, diplomacy, money of Israel, succeeded in bringing down the last barriers that separated them from German populations niques. Under William II, Prussian Jews were able enter the bar, become professors and federal law rat of July 3, 1869, promulgated in Bavaria three years later, recognized to all Jews the fullness of civil and political rights.

Various successive laws from 1859, after

Franco-Sardinian, resulted in a proclamation by Emperor Francois-Joseph, of Tegalite rights civic rights for all subjects of the dual monarchic list. "However," observes a Jewish writer (1), "the high classes of Germanic society who, while despising the Israelites, had to accept their emancipation, locked them up in a sort of moral ghetto.

From this moral ghetto, the enriched and powerful Jews tried to escape. We will see that their efforts will often be successful.

(1) Ibid., p. 55.

80 Israeli imperialism

One may wonder how the insurrection ma-
The Annunciation of 1848 was so profitable to the Jews and their provides such a wonderful springboard to bounce back and rise very high towards new conquests; is that they were really the promoters of this democratic movement, whose program includes carried both the supremacy of Prussia and its eman- cipation of the Jews – this last claim being the ransom of the other.

Disraeli had formulated in 1844, four years before the events which so deeply shook FAllemagne, a prediction that was to come true. Over there mouth of Sidonia, in Coningsby, he said: "This powerful revolution which is currently being prepared in Germany, which will be a second and larger reform and of which we know so little in England-earth, developed under the auspices of the Jews who began to monopolize professional chairs
rales in Germany. » And the dialogue ended with these meaningful words, recalled by Mrs Nesta Webster in his book World Revolution (1): "You see, my dear Coningsby, that the world is governed by characters very different from those we imagine gine when you are not behind the scenes of the theater (2)".

To govern the world, it is important to weaken its political organs, to arouse among the people internal struggles, class wars, in consequence of developing socialism revolution-

(1) World Revolution, p. 165.

(2) "The world is governed by very different characters from what is imagined by those who are not behind the scenes.

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 87

nary and anti-religious spirit. In the decline of the Restoration, two Jews from Germany, Henri Heine and Louis Boerne, come to Paris, not to think revolutionary doctrines, but to study the best methods of propaganda. The first is a great poet, the second a talented journalist, They are celebrated in the franchise capital and received in aristocratic salons, especially since they pretend love France, but their real objective is to transmit in Germany, through books like Lucie, Germany, the Letters from Paris, the viruses of anarchy that they secret (1).

Fernand Lassalle, son of a rich Israeli merchant lite, continues a parallel campaign in Berlin and proves to be the bitter enemy of Christianity. Bismarck forgives him for playing an important role in the riots of 1848, because he advocated the idea to make greater Germany "the united republic" verselle" and that he was not repugnant to placing his head a Hohenzollern I

To these letters, to this excited agitator was going to be added-ter a man of action who was also a philosopher sophe, a doctor of socialism. Karl Marx, did not Trier in 1818, had a lawyer as his father Jew named Mordechai. Came to Paris in 1843 to study political economy, he was expelled in because of his revolutionary efforts. With Friedrich Engel, he founded in Brussels, in 1845, a league communist who, two years later, published a sensational party. Sentenced to death in absentia

(1) Article by Felicien Pascal in La Gazette de France of October 12, 1908.

in 1848, he settled in London, and it was there that he prepared his famous work Das Kapital, catechism of modern socialism, which could soon be called "the Working Class Bible (1)",

We will not go into the details of this documentation. social trinity, founded on false principles, but exposed with art and seduction despite the device scientific which surrounds it, and whose deductions are so logical, that after having accepted its premises, we can uncomfortably contest the conclusions.

Karl Marx's action in popular circles exercised parallel to that of Henri Heine in the world of artists, letters, dilettantes. Heine declared himself an atheist. We deduced that this poet, with a crude wit, who joked so willingly third party Germany, could not be a dangerous Jew. He was called "the most French of the Germans". He himself described himself as "a nightingale who has made his nest in M. de Voltaire's wig (2)." But Voltaire had, in his time, a very influential influence nefaste and Heine followed in his footsteps. Favored-welcomed at the Court of Louis-Philippe – before being admitted into the Intimite de l'Impatrice of Austria-Hungary – he successively denigrated the legitimists and republicans. It is true that, on his request, Guizot had him allocated a pension of 5,000 francs from the secret funds of the ministry Foreign Affairs. That didn't stop me from being subsidized by the Rothschilds and, rightly, because he served in his own way the intentions of Israel.

(1) World Revolution, p. 167.

(2) Jewish figures> by Robert Launay, p B 84.

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 89

"I am a Jewish poet... and I gladly use national metaphors" he wrote, in his play ness to his friend Moses Moser. Nothing ee who is Jewish does not seem foreign to him and if he sometimes enjoys "blawar" the Talmud, he is no less proud of his race, of his people, and it is with joy that he discovers, London Stock Exchange, what are the locations reserved for "brokers" of different nations, a

The Stock Exchange 1 It is still a field of operations where the Jews maneuver with growing success health. Their financial skills, flexibility and also their lack of scruples, their qualities and their atavistic defects, their internationalism, everything this tends to assure them an overwhelming superiority on the bankers and brokers of other nations.

The economic development of Europe brings states to take out more and more loans important; luxury, the thirst for pleasure create needs and aspirations of all kinds. The powers health houses of the Rothschilds of Frankfurt, London, Paris, Vienna, their correspondents from Berlin, New York, Amsterdam, Brussels, of Italy, who usefully assist them, become the masters of the money market. Without their assistance, the large loans could not be carried out and they also become the bankers of the souvenirs rains. Their relationships with princes and kings flatter their self-esteem and their vanity like them serve their interests. A Rothschild becomes a peer of the United Kingdom and the most aristocratic court

(1) Ibid. p. 97.

90 the imperialism of Israel

of Europe, that of the Habsburgs, welcomes a whole tribe of financiers from Israel, to whom the emperor successively grants the title of baron.

Ill

However, the prestigious development of the power Jewish movement did not fail to provoke certain reactions in Germany and Austria, in the theoretical maine first, then in the political order and administrative.

A philosophical movement, which Mr. Paul Raphael calls "Hegelian anti-Semitism (1)" manifested in the writings of Nietzsche and history Torian Pan-Germanist Treitsehke. The latter, in his chair at the University of Berlin, did not fear unfavorable day the mentality of their race. Her disciple, W. Marr, published a brochure: Der Sieg of Judenthum über das Germanthum (The Victory of Judaism on Germanism – Berne 1879): which had a great impact in Germany and France. In France, Mr. Burdeau devoted a study to it in the Journal des Debats (2) and Bernard Lazare summarizes it thus: "Marr declared there that Germany was the prey of a conquering race, that of the Jews, a race possessing and wanting to Judaize Germany, like the

(1) Anti-Semitism and Pan-Germanism, p. 58

(2) Numfro of November 5, 1879.

IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 9 1

France moreover, and he concluded by saying that the Germany was lost. He mixed with his antisemitic ethnologicalism, metaphysical anti-Semitism, if I may say, that Schopenhauer had already pro-buttock... (1). »

The defeat of the French, in 1870–71, had exalted German national pride; race theory, formulated by Count de Gobineau, tickled pleasantly their self-esteem. Bismarck, else part, began to take umbrage at the progress of socialism and distanced himself from the liberals. He didn't have no longer need these to complete Funité de Temp-worse and was led to move closer to the conservative Protestants and the Catholic center. He lives done (Tun favorably a reaction against the left-wing, liberal and socialist parties, which had at their head the Israelites.

In the general elections of 1878, the so-called parties confessionals obtained a strong majority in the Parliament and various organizations hostile to the Hebrews were formed, such as the Social Christian Union, the Anti-Semitic League, and Pastor Stoecker, great friend of the imperial chancellor and preacher of the Court, created the Social Christian Party, whose program included the surveillance of major financiers and the withdrawal of civil rights granted to the Israelites. The Gazette de la Croix, the main organ of the so conservative, energetically supported this politician including a schoolmaster, Ahlwardt, and a former officer, Liebermann von Sonneberg, elected since

(1) V Anti-Semitism, p. 241.

92 THE IM PERIALISM OF ISRAEL

An international anti-Semitic Congress was held in Dresden, in September 1882. The attendance was strong and numerous and the demonstration takes on a character imposing. Among the delegates we noticed: Colonel Bismarck, Pastor Stoecker, Baron d'Istoezy and Mr. Henrici, the leaders of the anti-Jew in Hungary and Prussia, officers, civil servants Austrian and German tionaries. The Catholics who had abstained from participating in the Congress, but they did not forget the odious attitude taken in their regard by the Israelites throughout the duration of the Kulturkampf.

The proceedings of the Congress were laborious, lively and sometimes, and the discussions continued there, sometimes passionate, but always courteous. The VAs review Catholic society, on the social issues and ourvriers were treated with as much competence and that of authority, published a detailed account of the debates (1). Representatives of German delegations from Magne and Hungary described the Jews as a "race Asian unassimilable by European nations, among which they play a role of parasite and of solvent, by means of Tusure, Tagiotage, of the press, etc..." and the rapporteurs, after investigations and the accumulation of suggestive documents, came to this conclusion: The Jewish question can only be resolved by reelimination and prosradical description of the Jews, carried out not by violence, but by decrees inspired by reasons of state. The fiery Pastor Stoecker was not going too far. He recognized that: "By their race, their ma-

(1) Delivery October 1882.

Israeli imperialism G3

exclusive relationships, their religion, their customs, their relationships cosmopolitan tions, the Jews constituted a nation international among other peoples, but he believed that from the triple religious, economic, social, it was enough for TAU Germany to withdraw part of the rights granted to him the law of emancipation. » And the royal preacher declared—would say, in finishing his speech, that the best remedy against Jewish peril was strict observance evangelical principles.

Very peaceful for a soldier, the colonel of Bismarck limited himself to recommending propaganda electorate and parliamentary means.

Before separating, the congressmen voted the moderate conclusions of Pastor Stoecker. But they wrote an address intended for the sovereigns and heads of state of Europe, inviting them “to take common rigorous measures against preponderance of Judaism.” A wish was also formulated for the purposes of national defense. He asked that Jews were exempt from military service silence upon payment of a special tax and that immigration across the Test border was severe strictly prohibited.

The address to the heads of state remained without effect, as that was to be expected. However, in Germany, without involving legislation and powers public, various preventive measures were taken. Certain Jewish professors were refused to be named in gymnasiums and universities; several states do not put more Jews as teachers in the public schools nor as assessors in tribunaux. Following a student conference, the Jews were excluded from the friendly societies of the United States. versites, except that of Bonn (1).

94 Israeli imperialism

In Austria, Cardinal Raucher, Archbishop of Vienna, reported in a letter the dangers of the Jewish invasion and communist propaganda; the advent of the Taaffe ministry, the elections continued vatives at the Reichsrath were conducive to the measures of defense. The German National Party led by Shonerer, the social Christians at their head Doctor Lueger and Prince Aloys de Lichtenstein, very popular great lord and economist distinguished, were clearly hostile to the Hebrews. These, great bankers and industrialists on the one hand, poverty-stricken artisans from the ghettos of Poland and to the bourgeoisie as well as to the working classes. THE elections to the Reichsrath, to local diets, to the municipality capital of Vienna testified to this. In 1897, the Doctor Lueger was elected mayor of the Austrian capital female dog. We remember the cries of indignation uttered its by the Jewish and Judaist papers during this nomination. It was a throwback to the bar days—barie, to the persecutions of the Middle Ages, to the bloody hecatombs of the Inquisition! In reality, the Jews Viennese had to observe Sunday rest, the Council municipal prohibits them from participating in tenders tions of supplies and their closure Faeces to uses from the city. Some scholarships, some grants to Jewish schools or orphanages were abolished... and that was all.

(1) P. Raphael, op. cit, p. 62.

Israeli imperialism 95

In all states of Europe, including Germany Magna and Austria, the children of Israel continued to enrich oneself, to seize the strongest positions of finance, industry, commerce, laughter from newspapers, news agencies and broadcasters nonces, to buy precious competitions in the assemblies and political circles, to insinuate itself into the Masonic lodges in such a way as to dinger them and direct them according to the interests of Israel and this conquest for successive objectives continued in the ber with wonderful tenacity.

In Berlin, Emperor William II, who had boasts to Mr. Asquith of not having a single Jewish officer in his army, maintained the best relations with the major bankers of the capital, with Mr. Rathenau, the magnate of the electrical industries ques, and a recent and most suggestive work (1) showed the confidence and feelings of friendship that inspired him by the Jewish director of the big company navigation, the "Hamburg Amerika", Albert Ballin.

It is a curious story that of this Israeli lite who, after having started as an employee in a modest maritime and emigration agency run by his father, reached, after a few quick steps—ment crossed, to preside over the destinies of the most major shipping company in the world,

the total of which represented more than a million tonnes.

Emperor William II, who was passionately interested in ment to the German merchant navy and

(1) Albert Ballin by B. Huldermann, London, 1922;

96 Israeli imperialism

also worked very effectively on its development ment, had met the large shipowner during the launches of "sea greyhounds", with dimensions
colossals, who fought, often with advantage,
with the latest liners from the English companies
the "Cunard" and the "White Star". He had appreciated his lively intelligence, extended by his knowledge;
he knew it in relationships with in-fluent in Britain and the United States and he resolved to call on his enlightenment and his skills diplomacy to negotiate certain matters of order
very delicate.

From 1908 to 1912, the governments of Germany and the British Empire made the greatest efforts to bring about political rapprochement between the two countries.

The expansion of the German navy,
the plan for new constructions to be implemented
short-term construction site, had produced in England earth a deep emotion. The Liberal Minister of Mr. Asquith, a supporter of economies and very peaceful fist, was little concerned about starting a ruinous struggle neuse to provide the Amiraute with a number of dreadnoughts or cruisers notably superior to that provided for by German budgets. Couldn't we agree and conclude an agreement limiting on both sides maritime armaments? The disclosure gation by the Times of a letter written on this subject by William II k Lord Tweedmouth, First Lord of The Admiralty, had raised a lively debate at Westminster and lively comments in the press.
Nevertheless, the chancelleries began discussions
lers, the competent ministers negotiated, the

between the head of the Foreign Office, Sir Edward Grey, and Mr. de Bethmann-Holweg, the new chancellor imperial, that the negotiations were continuing, but, in reality, the real negotiators, the power bases sees and trusted figures of the sovereigns were not not these official figures, but two Israelites of German origin: for King Edward VII, Sir Ernest Cassel, his confidant and friend; for Guillaume II, Albert Ballin.

Despite the skill and flexibility of the two diplomats unofficial mates, it was not possible to achieve an agreement and it's a sort of fool's day that after four years of effort, the private interviews come to an end. On both sides, public opinion is refused to admit foreign intervention in matters of national defense and maritime equipment. The incidents of Agadir had, moreover, somewhat little bother to the negotiators, who were also warned by the Rothschilds of the emotion caused in Paris and London by German provocation (1). A letter from William II to Albert Ballin, dated Berlin, February 9, 1912. written to the fabric of an audience given to Lord Haldane, British Minister of War tannic, shows to what degree the emperor trusted to his unofficial ambassador and wanted to return account of his personal efforts (2).

This confidence should not be faltered. In July 1914, Doctor Ballin was in the waters of Kissingen, when a letter from Mr. von Jagow Tap-

(1) Huldermann, Albert Ballin, p. 163.

(2) lipid., p. 283.

98 Israeli imperialism

urgently at Wilhelmstrasse. We were there eve of the war and neutrality was expected from England ; however, information inserted in the Berliner Tageblatt announced the conclusion of a con-Anglo-Russian naval intervention. Although the, new seemed unlikely, the imperial government wondered if there was not, at this hour crack, eel under rock. The chancellor thought that the director of "Hamburg Amerika" would have bassador, Prince Lichnowski; and it is so that Albert Ballin was in London during the sending of the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia, which was going to trigger world conflict (1).

In 1915, the Kaiser again used his services by sending you unofficially to Vienna to make an enquiry into the state of mind at Court and in the various environments. The opinions he collected were not encouraging. The Ballplatz did not forgive Wilhelmstrasse for having so generously offered from the Austrian provinces to Italy in exchange for maintaining its neutrality and the dominant impression, from that time, was that the sovereign of the monarch-chic dualist would seize the first auspicious opportunity to engage in peace talks.

Albert Ballin was again consulted by Guillaume when it was proposed to intensify the submarine warfare. He fought this policy which would bring the United States in the war, but his advice did not prevail. Finally, he lives for the last time

(1) An artisan of Germanic imperialism. Corresponding of December 10, 1922, p. 928.

Israeli imperialism 99

The Emperor on September 5, 1918. He found him "badly informed as usual. The last advice that Ballin gave him was listened to. He realized that Germany was in dire straits and declared "there is no "didn't have a minute to lose" to get started relationship with President Wilson, who had not no territorial ambition in Europe and was "an idealist (1)". We guess that this word, in the mouth of the director of "Hamburg Amerika", not ? was not pronounced without a certain irony.

When, a few weeks later, it happened the predicted catastrophe, when Farman's governmental and military structure, Hugo Stinnes, in the name of many parliamentarians, begged Albert Ballin to take the lead in negotiations with the states of the Entente. The Israelite declined this honor; he no longer had faith in the future of the empire; he believed in the total ruin of the shipping company and power. Two days before Tarmistice, he committed suicide.

In these tragic circumstances, it seems that in throughout Germany an evolution took place spontaneously. To save from national disaster what could still be saved, it was important to sort of new skin. The emperor and the kron-princes had fled, leaving power to whoever should take it. Acts of indiscipline and revolt had occurred in Farmee – almost exclusively – ment among the Farriere formations – c! was a precious pledge given to the revolutionary spirit.

(1) Ibid., p. 929.

100 I/IMPERIALISM of iSRAEL

Three men were the masters of the hour; THE English called them the big three: two politicians radicals, Lloyd George and Clemenceau (who had shown energy and qualities of command during the war and, as a result, enjoyed great popularity among the people of the Entente) and President Woodrow Wilson, a great "idealist" puffed up with pride and disposed to regenerate the world.

These three characters had close relationships with the high international bank and were in-tours of Jews and Judaizers, from which they suffered clearly the influences.

To gain their good graces, it was necessary that Germany camouflages itself as a republican fitat and democratic; she had to bow admirably before the "fourteen points" of the powerful president of the United States of America. These famous postulates could well turn into planks of salute for the shipwrecked Alleniagne and then too many bankers from London, New York, Paris and Rome had interests in Berlin so that we deliberately wanted the mine to be integrated, economical and finance, of the former Hohenzollern empire.

Socialists and Jews got along wonderfully to carry out this camouflage, under the benevolent gaze of the bourgeoisie and former officials of the country. The first Reich Ministry included of Foreign Affairs, Finance and Telecommunication laughing ; the Prussian cabinet was almost entirely Jew and Catholic Bavaria bowed under the rule by communist Kurt Eisner. It was not necessary any further stage to have it proclaimed a second time, and this once for the benefit of the vanquished, the unity of the Reich fuck.

Israeli imperialism 1 01

Austria-Hungary was less well treated. There approach of Prince Sixtus of Bourbon had however affirms Emperor Charles's desire for peace. As a Catholic and traditionalist fitat, the monarch-dualist shit was unsympathetic to those in power Allied Powers; Italy coveted its ports of the Adriatic, its fleet, the Trentino and part from Tyrol; the bankers of Israel were interested mediocre in his finances. She was the victim atonement for this war, that the old emperor FranQois-Joseph had only triggered Instigation of William II and his advisors military. When, after the defeat of the German armies Mano-Bulgarians, General Franchet d'Esperey arrived on the banks of the Danube, a dislocation of the various nationalities of the empire will operate almost as a matter of course automatic nier. Already, on the Italian front, the Austrian troops had laid down their arms and resumed the way to their homes. In Budapest, Count Ka-rolyi faded and ceded power to the Jew Bela Kun who, a prisoner in Russia, had become the disciple by Lenin and Trostky, The Emperor Charles, who, however in collaboration with professor Lamash, had developed a project transforming the empire into a federation of autonomous peoples responding to the aspirations of the Czechs and Hungarians, descended with dignity from his throne, retaining the respect for all, refusing both to go into exile and to abstain to mark his double crown... A few days later,

102 Israeli imperialism

The Prague Assembly proclaimed the Republic Czech and placed on his head Mr. Masaryk, an outlaw, who, during the war, had gone to the United States and had won the friendship of President Wilson, from whom he

While Hungary and Austria were going to be mutilated and crushed, the Czecho-Slovaks, due to that certain elements of their nationality had surrendered to the Russians, in the midst of battle, were going to be no longer considered as enemies, but as friends of states of the Agreement and treated as such.

This is how the big three wanted to make old austro-hungarian building a juxtaposition of states democratic nationalists, hostile to each other, but devotedly submitted to the high inter-bank national and the League of Nations.

As for the Viennese city, where the conservatives, Social Christians formed the majority of the population, it was abandoned to a handful of future JMF turiers, refugees from Russia, Poland, Galicia. The Republic of Ravoly (1), arising spontaneously from anarchy and misery, removed all freedoms you and made Soviet terror reign around her.

It seems that England, France and Italy could have made a gesture in favor of misfortune rous Austria... General Smuts, one of the replemost notable representatives of the "Christian front of Judaism" in South Africa, in the council of the British Empire, to the League of Nations, was sent on a mission to Vienna. Already the heads of

(1) The Tragedy of Central Europe by Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett. London, Thornton Butterworth.

the imperialism of israjel io3

The Soviets were trembling and trying to escape. What were not their joy and their cries of triumph when they learned that General Smuts was coming to recognize their government and in some way come and punish his actions!

This regime was fortunately ephemeral; the Vienna we pulled ourselves together; they now have at their head honest people and in the person of the chancellor, Mgr Seipel, a diplomat who is believed to be skillful.

The League of Nations, by facilitating the issuance of a loan, by designating a delegate responsible for those of the ancient kingdom, certainly rendered service

vice to Austria; but nevertheless the recognition of the former subjects of the Hasbourg must be limited.
If Jewish financial tycoons work to raising the economic strengths of Austria is that they began by ensuring mastery of these forces, and what has the appearance of good action must become an excellent business for them.

The Jews of Austria also continued to show the greatest activity to monopolize commerce and industry, to interfere in the public functions. They meet in congress, come together and do not fail to give thanks to the League of Nations, from which they received and from which they still waiting for so many benefits. The correspondence following dance, addressed from Vienna to a newspaper
Paris (1), bears witness to this:

The Congress of "Agudas Jirsroel" (Jews faithful to laws of Israel) was solemnly opened in the presence

(1) Le Temps of August 20, 1923.

104 LEMPERIAUSM i/iSRAEL

many political figures from all sides
countries and representatives of the French legations,
from England, Germany, Switzerland, Turkey, Czecho-Slovakia and Poland... After a speech of the president, Congress adopted a resolution saying notably :

"A historical place where the delegates of the Jews faithful to the precepts of Israel come together for the
for the first time, Congress salutes the organization of the League of Nations, in the holy hope that this society will inspire in nations the desire to conform,
in their relationships, to the principles of law and justice, and will thus bring reconciliation and peace
on the ground. »

The Jewish actions, however, provoked certain resistances. In Vienna, as in Budapest and Bucharemains, the universities demand the numerus clausus, and the leaves of Israel (1) are indignant at the thought that MPs Ursin and Jerzabek dared to ask insert the question: "To which race does do you nose? » in the declaration form

housekeeper, and the president of the Austrian Republic Hainisch, did not dare refuse to inaugurate the recent Universal Congress of Jewish Women.

For their part, the Jews of Germany do not stay inactive. A circular from September 1923, from the Jewish Correspondence Bureau, teaches us the multiplication of subsidiary lodges of the grand e lodge of B'nai B'rith, who was discussed in the previous chapters cedents. New lodges were created in Berlin,

(1) See Antisemitism in Central Europe, in the Jewish Chronicle of August 31, 1923.

THE* IMPERIALISMS OF ISRAEL 105

in Augsburg, in Stettin; others are in the process of forming training in Munster and Aschaffenburg. Incidentally, it is announced that the first Jewish lodge in Holland has just been inaugurated in La Have. . On the other hand, the Israeli press informs its readers that on the occasion Queen's Twenty-Fifth Birthday Anniversary Wilhelmina, a delegation led by the great rabbi went to congratulate the sovereign and thank her "of his friendly attitude towards the community Jewish naut (1)".

. But Germany, which hardly admitted its defeated, remained proud to have preserved its unity and only thought of reconstituting an economic power mic and military allowing it to consider the prospects of a dazzling revenge. To under- comply with the obligations imposed by the Treaty of Versailles, to drag it into its financial debacle the France, its main creditor and its great enemy mie, it resorted to a prodigious inflation fiduciary ciary. The occupation of the Ruhr forced it, for continue its policy, to a new inflation of which the progression reached fantastic figures. THE million marks which was worth one pound sterling at the time mid-July 1923 (i.e. approximately 75 francs) was no longer worth that fr. 25 the following October. Termination of passive resistance hardly changed the situation financial situation and it led to strikes, unemployment mages, riots, and the misery of the poor classes adding to this, the Reich was certainly in enough sad posture. The role of the Jews in these troubled times and amid the inextricable complications of politics economics is quite difficult to grasp.

First of all, large industrialists and banks The Israelites strove to take advantage of the circumstances for their personal affairs. The decline progressive mark allowed them to realize huge profits by deferring debts, making deposits of foreign currencies abroad; but if, later, it was necessary to buy k Texteur des raw materials, a good part of the gains are evaded porait... It was also important to display one's patriotism and to taunt over France, whose rapacity was starving poor Germany.

Another category of Jews operated in the popular circles, in Saxony, in Berlin, propagated socialist and communist doctrines, began in close contact with the Soviets of Russia and inci- was the Reich government to contract a economic alliance which had prepared conventions military (1).

The Reich expected divisions among the allies. The British ambassador in Berlin did not hesitate neither his advice nor his sympathy to the government; the resounding declarations of Mr. Lloyd George and even of his successors left only courage resistance towards France, considered isolated, half-ruined, suffering in the upper spheres of his regime of influences depressing.

Little by little, Germany regained confidence; she can will give, in some way, free rein to its

(1) The Treaty of Rapallo revitalized these maneuvers.

Israeli imperialism 107

feelings. The links uniting its different states in the Reich tended to relax; parties policies were reconstituted with programs somewhat resembling those before the war.

seized power; in Bavaria, these were the monarchists who dominated. The Catholic center reconstituted itself solidly and gave chancellors to the Reich. In Prussia, pietist conservatives reformed their cadres. As it crumbled the makeup imposed by the debacle of November 1918, Germany regained its senses, its faculties of observation; she considered, not without fear, the importance position taken by the Jews in the various organizations of the ancient empire and the dangers that resulted from it. It was also assumed, not without anger in certain circles, that this reign of Judaism had been encouraged otherwise imposed by the Allied Powers who had defeated Germany.

The Reich government, powerless and moreover their subservience to socialism, did not seek to inter- come to build dikes of defense against this rising tide of Judaism, but private initiatives appeared and they aroused many echoes.

Some anti-Semitic pamphlets having been collected brought to the Rhineland, the president of the high com- interallied mission made them seize, as if he wanted clearly show that French and English were the protectors of the Jews. This observation was not not designed to slow down anti-Jewish propaganda: it stimulated her. We know how Tassocia was organized. tion "C" (Consul). Attacks were committed.

108 "ISRAEL'S IMPERIALISM

Walter Rathenau was murdered; the famous publicist, Maximilien Harden, attacked in front of his house Griinewald (a suburb of Berlin), was half knocked out with iron bars and the trial of his assailants lants showed to what extent public opinion was rise against the sons of Israel, promoters of the Bolshevism, exploiters of Germany, protected by its enemies. A large group was formed under the term Die Deutschen Partei; its organ is a bulletin published every two weeks. The first number, which I have in front of me, indicates the conditions required of members: "they must be of German blood mand, not having Jewish relatives, not being Freemasons, deny Judeo-Christianity (without doubt in memory of the Mendelssohnian movement), accept the party's directives, contribute "to the “promise obedience to leaders. »

Its first words, the organ of the “German Party” mand visibly breaks with democratic prejudices: The “German Party” is the first organization, – for more than a hundred years, which establishes the principle of Fine equality, non-equality of rights, and who studies and practices, as being the only support nable from a scientific point of view, Tidee fundamentally conservative and monarchical tale, which is also the Aryan-Indogermanic and Aristo- cratic. Until today, the Jews have deceived, divided se, misled the people with Tappat of Tega- lite of men and rights (1).” The brochure con- maintained by a vigorous charge against the politicians

(1) Die Deustchen Partei, n° 1, May 1923.

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL IO9

ticians “in the service of international powers” and the declaration that “the Jews are the real enemies hereditary mis of Germany”.

The author of the article, after having affirmed that the Russian generals who tried to fight the bol- chevism: Koltschak, Judenitch, Wrangel, were not supported by the allies only on the condition of showing themselves be friends of the Jews and do not receive money from the France, at this price, appeals to the Bavarian Hitler: “It is not against the Marxist workers nor against the French that he should launch his assault troops, but against the Jews. » The very day I was communicates this bulletin, the Morning Post (1) pu- wrote a telegram from his correspondent in Rome reporting an interview that the correspondent of Corriere Italiano had had with the leader of the nation a- Bavarian lists. The latter had fully science of the Jewish peril. “Germany,” he said, “is the battlefield where two forces are engaged opposed: nationalism and Judeo-Marxism; if the latter is victorious, from the Rhine to Vladivos- tock, there will be nothing left but a vast Jewish empire with Moscow as capital (2). »

The Munich trial and Luden's acquittal dorff, the creation of a “racist” party with a view to general elections showed the importance and progress of the German anti-Semitic movement.

(1) Nnmero of October 17, 1923.

(2) A monthly publication, Auf Vorposten, to which collaborates with Mr. Gottfried zur Beek, leads a vigorous campaign against the Jews.

CHAPTER IV

JEWS IN EASTERN EUROPE

the Jewish invasion into Romanian country. the baron's reports from Bois-le-Comte. the Jewish pressures exerted

at the constantinople conferences and the congress of Berlin. – After monopolizing trade, the Israelislites WANT TO CAPTURE THE LIBERAL PROFESSIONS.

– Student protests and defensive campaign.

– In Poland before and after the resurrection. –
Israel receives guarantees and privileges; Alle-

MAGNE RETAINS THE ADMINISTRATION OF DANTZIG AND OBTAINS

THE PLEBISCITY IN SLESIA. THE ROLE OF MR. LLOYD GEORGE.

JEWISH INFILTRATIONS IN HUNGARY. THE COLLAPSE-

MENT OF THE DUALIST MONARCHY. THE ADVENT AND THE FALL OF THE JEWISH REIGN OF BeLA KUN.

Edouard Drumont, in Jewish France 9 qualified of Vagina Judeorum (1) the triangular territory inscribed in the former common borders of Poland, Hungary, Romania and including Wilna forms the northern tip. It is, indeed, that the thousands of Israelis came out to

(1) Jewish France, t. I, p. 8.

them, speaking Yiddish, who gradually understood
vahi F Eastern Europe and are considered there a real scourge by patriots keen to conserve ver Findedependence, traditions, nationality
of their respective countries.

Romania is the state which suffered the most from these progressive and continuous invasions. His his" tory bears witness to terrible ordeals. She was submerged and devastated in its infancy by the invaders
barbarian nations of the Huns, Goths, Tartars;
from their foundation, the principalities of Moldavia and of Wallachia had to defend themselves against attacks Hungarians and Poles who coveted their fertile territories. Then a new enemy arises:
the Turk, who forced them to recognize suzerainty
sultan's estate and appropriated part of their land.
The "thrones" of the principalities were put up for auction
by the grand viziers, and the ephemeral potentates exploited populations in times of peace by processes more brutal and cruel than those of the conquerors quers in times of war. Finally the hour struck of Tindependence. Vassalage disappeared; I'm the era of difficulties were not over, but at the cost of hard battles and bloody sacrifices, the Roman kingdom hand was formed. The two sister principalities'

israel's imperialism ii3

united under the authority of a foreign prince, because local sensitivities and particularities do not
did not allow the establishment of a national dynasty
nale and the homeland of Rotimania doritia in Europe Finipressidii d'ttii small model fitat, dignified and peaceful fictitious, developing its economic and economic strengths, perfecting promoting its own agriculture, open to all progress.

It was up to the Jewish race to add tests
ves and new threats to those who do not had not been spared in the past (1).

The wealth of the country – which has been singularly increased since the exploitation of oil fields feres – the painful morals of the inhabitants, the character patriarchal and debtor of self-governance,

the Hebrews had been favorable to Immigration Jewish in the valleys of the Lower Danube and the Bistritza.

Under the reign of Louis-Philippe, the due de Broglie. sent Baron de Bois-le-Comte on a mission to the East to try to find out about the projects of Mehemet Ali, Pasha of Egypt and their chances of success, and also to study the state of mind of Moldavians and Vlachs and supply their countries detailed information. The French diplomat conscientiously visited the principalities, made surveys of personalities likely to give him precise information and transmit it to Ministry of Foreign Affairs also reports judicious and interesting.

In a work published shortly before the

(1) Romania and the Jews, by VăraX, p. IX*

9

n4 Israeli imperialism

world war (1), a Romanian historian, Mr. Pam-piliu Eliade, summarizes and appreciates them as follows:

Bois-le-Comte is the only European traveler who understood, in the blink of an eye, the Jewish question in Moldova, although it did not have, in 1834, the gravity which she presents today. He was shown figures and eloquent documents; it was proven to him that the Moldovan Jews distinguish themselves from those in the center of Europe... First feature: the very recent date of their immigration; second trait: their mentality inferior and hostile...; third feature: their proportion overwhelming compared to the inhabitants of the principality. This third feature is especially striking. We searched the archives and compared figures. In 1803, during the census of the hospodar Moruzzi, we had found 604,000 Christians and 12,000 Jews (that is i.e. 2% of the population). Seventeen years later, in 1820, there were 19,000. In 1827, there were 24,000, which forced the native prince Ion Sturdza to take strong measures against them. The conclusion of the Treaty of Adrianople, which opened Moldavia to international trade, the obligation of service military in Russia for the Jews as well as for new immigration, greater than all previous ones. The 1831 census discovered approximately 37,000 Jews out of a population of 920,000 souls (2). »

Bois-le-Comte was appalled by the statistics which were communicated to him in 1834: "There are 5,000 in Wallachia, 50,000 in Moldova! » And, after having studied on site their modes of invasion, their com-

(1) Romania in the 19th century.

(2) Ibid., pp. 319, 320.

Israeli imperialism ii5

mercial, their demoralizing influence, he writes: "lilies invade the most lucrative branches of public administration. Their action is done by—mainly felt in the flow that they make of the water—de-vie... they sell brandy on credit to the peasant and excite his passion by the ease they give him to satisfy her, and, when they have grown during which that time his little debt towards them and that he can no longer acquit himself with his ordinary means, the unfortunate man finds himself, with all his family and his house, delivered to their discretion. If this abuse maintains, it will reduce the Moldavian peasant to the sort of brutalization where he has already reduced the Polish peasant... They invade everything and substitute everywhere their monopoly on the free and direct sale of goods... All retail trade has passed between the hands of the Jews. »

The procedures of the Jews were the same with regard to peasants of Russia; but in the empire of the Tsars, we had certain recourses against the usurers, while that the Hebrews of Romania, by virtue of the article 94 of the regulations concerning them, were considered as a "nation k part" not subject to law national.

The Jewish invasion continued, not significant in the Vlach countryside, but frightening in Moldova and the trade grab is taking place killed with a rigorous method, to the extent that Agriculture developed in the fertile plains.

Barely had a large landowner obtained Authorization to found a village on your domain

n6 imperialissia of israel

The mud hut, decorated with the name of the store, was quickly built: V eau-de-vie, taken on credit from the neighboring distillery, and the merchandise obtained from the negotiants in general, always Jewish, from the neighboring town, left cash. part in the long term. It was rare, moreover, that the value of this merchandise exceeded two or three hundred francs. Buildings are safe and quick, the first three or four months alone were difficult. ciles.

Next to the traders, the Jews settled artisans. Jewish solidarity was in action; they received raw materials for half the price at which they were counted to Romanian artisans; they possessed sophisticated tools > they knew how to develop newer, more pleasant models here, better; the Romanian artisans of the camps gnes: bottlers, pelietiers, dyers, tailors, etc.*., They quickly disappeared before the newcomers.

In 1859, the economic capture of Moldavia could be considered complete.

They held the large property by the numerous mortgages that she had granted to them on her lands. Each banker in Iassy had a iiombfe considerable number of owners entirely dependent from him.

They were complete masters of commerce, firstly by their absolutely preponderant number rant, and then by the fact that small traders Christians, who still existed, Were forced to contact etix to build credits and pre- a large part of their merchants were born say at the commission agents and wholesale merchants Jews (1).

(1) Verax, op. cit, p. 110.

ment of commerce which was the consequence had provokes certain protests in the principalities and even certain defensive measures. THE Israelites, satisfied with enriching themselves, feeling at home they and each other, did not think of claiming political rights. It is curious to note that it is in the protocol of the Conferences of Constantinople (January 11, 1856) that the intention is manifested of certain powers to demand for the Red Jews hands the enjoyment of political rights granted to the nationals. Proposals in this direction had was presented at the Conferences by the ambassadors of France and Great Britain (1).

The reigning prince of Moldova, Gregoire Ghyka, strongly protested against these demands and argued that "the presence in the principality of a population very numerous Jewish community, which always claims to be of foreign protection" and who seizes the property, "would be a certain cause of ruin for the country ". If Europe wanted prosperity and tranquility of Moldova, it was going to be left to its inhabitants, by virtue of their autonomic right, the care to establish their local legislation.

The Jews agitated for satisfaction. Those of Iassy addressed a petition to the Caimacan "in the name of humanitarian principles I" The Baron de Rothschild wanted to intervene with the government French ment and received from Count Walewski a fairly banal answer. Only representatives of

(1) DA Sturdza. Act so documented relating to the Istoria Uenascerei Romdniei, t. II,

Il8 i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

powers k Constantinople, the commissioner of Russia had issued a favorable opinion to the Romanians and declares that "the moral and social state of the Jews of the Moldova was such that their admission to the enjoyment political rights and the suppression of certain legal restrictions which concern them may lead to great inconveniences (1)".

Finally, the Paris Convention of August 19 1858, which endorsed the constitution given by the plement that the Moldavians and Vlachs of the Christian rites would enjoy all political rights, but "the enjoyment of these rights could be extended to other religions by legislative provisions".

It was an indefinite postponement of the claims of Israelites.

Shortly after, the double election of colonel Couza put an end to the opposition of Austria and of the Ottoman Gate. The personal union of the two principalities became an integrated merger and Roumania was definitively constituted as a self-imposed fitat no me. Hospodar Couza reinstated a circulation late prohibiting Jews from establishing themselves as hostels gists in the villages and the first article of the law organizing the bar stipulated that, only the Romanians and naturalized foreigners could exercise profession of lawyers.

On February 11, 1866 a revolution, moreover peaceful fic, forced Prince Couza to abdicate and Prince Charles de Hohenzollern was elected prince of Rou-

(1) Romania and the Jews, p. 118.

Israeli imperialism 119

mania. A Constituent Assembly was immediately convened to endow the country (Tune Constitution.

It was not without surprise that we saw the landing at Bucharest, a Jew from France, Cremieux, former minister Minister of Justice in 1848, founder of the Alliance universal Israelite, who came to plead the cause of his eong&ières with the Romanian government (1). II was received as an important character by the ministers very, the president of the House and many deputies your. He demanded Tegalite for the Jews of Romania civil and political, and, as a good mercanti, offered in exchange forgiveness of a loan of 25 million low interest (2). Romanian finances had great need for resources; the offer was attractive and the members of the Cabinet were quite dis-ready to accept it, but an unforeseen factor intervenes came. In one of the major newspapers, La Trompeta Carpatilor, the Jewish peril had just been exposed with a persuasive eloquence. The day the project was dis-cute k the House, the people invade the court of the and went on to ransack a synagogue. The deputies, strong impressed, had rejected the project favorable to Jews.

It didn't take much for the whole *
Israeli press uttered skunk cries and shouted
Romanians with gemonies: cruel, barbaric people as we must have been in the Middle Ages, only dreaming massacres and religious persecution. The author of Romania and the Jews inserted in his book the

(1) Paul Raphael, op. cit, p., 75.

(2) Aus dem Leben Koning Karls von Rumanien, I, p. 70.

120 Israeli imperialism

reduction of an engraving published in Paris in Le Monde illustrated. It depicted soldiers in armed sacks.
cageaat a street in the Jewish quarter of Iassy, stoning
the feiaetres, forcing the doors, knocking people out with rifle butts. Now, this fight and this demonstration-- military action had never taken place. drew it-
The author had imagined them from scratch.

The failure of the Cremieux mission and the vote of the Romanian Chamber already illustrates the power of Judaism k eette epoch. The Minister of Business foreigners from France, Mr. Drouyn de Lhuis, thought it necessary send a protest to the government in Bucharest
tation against "the feelings of intolerance" of the population of the capital. Napoleon III himself was encouraged to write to Prince Charles: "I must not let VA ignore how much public opinion here is moved by the persecutions of which the Israelites are said to victims in Moldova (1). » The emperor was persuade that the Jews of Romania, innocent as
The child who has just been born, were victims of explosion of religious fanaticism. A French historian cais, Mr. Ernest Desjardins, member of the Institute, It wouldn't be long before we got things straightened out. II went to Romania, made an investigation into the matter
Jewish life and published a book (2) in which he said:
"I affirm that the religious motive has no part in the measures taken by the government, nor in the hojstility that the population testifies to Jews", and a little further: "It is as a result of a

(1) Verax, op. cit., p. 125.

(2) The Jews of Moldavia, Paris, Dentu, 1867.

L ? IMPERIALJSM of I&RAEL 121

Romania, when it was formed, found them established long before its creation. Those who con-arise the question and Font learned here will not read
not without some surprise the passage where it is said:
that the Jews of Moldova are fixed in this country
since the capture of Jerusalem by Titus! There you go truth on this crucial point: The majority of families Jews living in Romania are by birth, as of will and morals, of mind and language, foreign managed in the country. »

However, the Jewish press continued its campaign against the principality. Prince Charles negotiated with the powers a facilitating trade treaty with them exports and imports. Alone Austria concludes a treaty. France, England,
Italy recused themselves.

The war of 1877-78, which resulted in the capture of Plevna and the victory of the Russians allied with the Rushands against the Turks, must have had as its logical sequence the proclamation of Independence absolute of the principality. The Treaty of Berlin resumed the issue on the table and imposed conditions.
On the proposal of Mr. Waddington, plenipotentiary of France, which was subject to the influence of Al-universal Israeli alliance and high banking,
we will insert in article 44 of the treaty signed on July 23
let 1878 the following clause: "The nationals of all the powers, traders or others, will be treated your in Romania, without distinction of religion, on the foot of perfect equality. >> This formula, which pre-sought to grant Jews full civil rights and which characterized Timmixture of Tetranger in the internal affairs of Romania, was adopted

ceano.

At the insistence of foreign firms, a new Constituent Assembly was convened in May 1879 to put the Constitution in harmony with the stipulations of the Treaty of Berlin. Article 7 of the Constitution was modified, but the new edition interprets as Article 44 of the Treaty of Berlin did not give the Hebrews the mass naturalization they hoped for. The Jews were like other foreigners, and in the same conditions, the right to ask the Chambers their naturalization. Only Jews who had served in the army during the Revolutionary War were naturalized en bloc; They were about nine hundred (1). As for the right to acquire rural buildings including the Congress of Powers had not had the leisure to occupy himself, he remained reserved to the Romanians, which did not fail to exasperate the Jewish and Judaist press.

It was important to take a look at the history of Romania in the 19th century to understand how The Jewish question still arises today in this kingdom; the world war cost him new tests, but doubled, at the expense of Russia and Hungary, the extent of its territory.

This territory is one of the richest in Europe. The plains are very fertile, the valleys very suitable for Telelevage, the forests contain little massifs exploited forming considerable reserves. After the United States, Mexico and Russia # it's Roumania which is the country producing the most oil.

f (1) Romania and the Jews, p. 167.

THE IMPERIALISM OF Israel 123

The probes, deliberately obstructed during Tin-German vessel, are partly returned to service. Coal, natural gases, white coal constitute very valuable resources to the industry sort. As means of transport, the kingdom possesses nearly 12,000 kilometers of railway lines and 2,840 kilometers of waterways, including 1,470 on the Danube with the seaports of Galatz and of Braila which connect them to global traffic.

We can imagine that a country so privileged by

THE. children of Israel. Wilsonian peace brought down the dikes raised by a government planning to limit the invasion. Civil equality was proclaimed and the Jews continued to enter the kingdom in numerous bands. The annexation of Bessarabia, where the Hebrews represented more than half of the urban population, brought them a contingent additional important. It's also towards Roumania towards which the Semites of the Ukraine were heading. Chas- besieged by some pogroms, including the Jewish press sit Timportance to excite pity... A brochure very rich, published in 1923 by M. Em. Vasiliu (1), gives precise statistics on populations of Romania, by provinces, by cities, and they are very eloquent. From their whole and from the latest information reaching my knowledge, it results that out of a total population of 18 thousand lion inhabitants, there are 2 and a half million Jews. This kingdom is therefore the country where the proportion of

(1) Situatia demografica a Romaniei. Cauze* Urmari, Remedy. Cluj 1923.

124 i/fltfPEMALJSftfE D ? ISRAEL

the semitic element is the highest. If your note as Hungarians, Germans, Russians and Ruthenians encompassed by the extension of the former territory represent around 3 million, we see that the Romanians strictly speaking, there are barely 12 million. In a country where universal suffrage has just been instituted, where, for various reasons, strangers can be led to ally with the Jews, we understands the dangers that threaten inner life .and the very nationality of the Romanians.

Agrarian reform, proposed in 1917, in full swing war, caused the large rural property to disappear. The owners of the large estates were expropriated, but the peasant farmers, to whom were attached drunk from small plots of land of five hectares in moyenne, immediately fell under dependence Jews. The reform could only have been beneficial if popular banks, agricultural cooperatives had preceded and accompanied her; it is to be feared until the efforts tending to institute them have been tents too late.

Furthermore, the Jews broadened the scope of their ambitions. The monopolization of trade and Industry is not enough for them. they want to conquer the liberal professions, invade the universities, colleges. In 1920, for example, in Iassy, we included there were 17 Jewish lawyers; today there are 59.

There was excitement in student circles about this new invasion that threatens culture, Findepen-intellectual dance of the Romanian nation. Due to sound of the concentration of high schools in the cities of Tr^nsylvania, of Bessarabia, of Mpjclavie, of Bukowine, where Jews are legion, students

THE IMPERIALISM OF lSftAEL f25

Romanians are almost a minority everywhere (1). So what a real battle is being fought in the country around the numerus clausus* consistent claim to request the limitation of students and professionals Jewish spankers proportionally to the number of the race of the country. Violent unrest shook the world of colleges and universities; It's in vain that the University Senate wanted to calm the spirits. He wrote a long manifesto saying that the demands known under this barbaric name of numerus tiausus, imported from Hungary, "were 6tran-managed in Fame, in the interests of the Romanian people and outside international possibilities. The words in italics sufficiently show that the large University Council feared interventions foreigners, aroused by the Jews. It's not without ulterior motive that the League of Nations has revealed read the clauses concerning ethnic minorities in the text of the paiXi treaties

The government felt it necessary to take measures of rigor: closure of universities exclusion exams and competitions pronounced against the students who took the initiative of the protests, deletions of uii journal guilty of having published a translation of the "Protocols", prohibition of a congress which was to bring together 5,000 national students lists. Any fufc implemented to stop a movement vement of opinion which is reflected in all the classes of the Romanian population.

"Our nation is dying," wrote Mr. Eim Vasi. liu at the end of the introduction to his book on Siiua-

(1) See the Jbimineaza of March 15, 1923.

12(5 Israeli imperialism

demographic lion of Romania – because, its culture being alienated, effective government will pass into the hands of foreigners. »

But Romanian youth do not want them to die; she wants to save her homeland at all costs, greater and purer exit from the crucible of war. She organizes herself for the defense of independence and eminent personalities are ready to put themselves as his head, & guides his efforts. The “Nationalist Party Chretien” has already been organized for quite a long time and has roots in all provinces. In Moldova, young people created the “National Defense League”, headed by Professor Cuza, one of the masters of thought ; in Wallachia, “Fascia” (Roman fascism) main) group of very numerous members; in Transylvania is developing a similar organization, “Romanian Action”, to which six pro-spankers from the University of Cluj, among whom Mr. Gatuneanu, many lawyers and almost all students. All these associations publish newspapers or bulletins and will undoubtedly unite with short term into a powerful federation which exercises it will be an effective action on the destinies of the country (1).

Romania has the advantage of possessing

(1) Under the signature: A Danube peasant, V Action French of October 28, 1923 published an interesting letter of Romania, whose conclusion is as follows: “Let continue The current state of affairs, this is equivalent for Romanians have a national suicide. »

Following searches carried out by the police and which gave rise to the trial known as “the Guzist students” heads of several university associations were arrested and held for five months in prison. Their acquittal by the Assize Court of Bucharest on March 29, 1924 gave rise to has violent protests against Jews.

and the plutocracy that derives from it. Let it be felicitee! The salutary reactions which occurred in Italy with Benito Mussolini, in Spain with General Primo de Rivera would they have been possible, if hereditary sovereigns had not not reign in Rome and Madrid?

II

No sovereign reigns in Poland and establishes it ability of the elected head of state does not favor Torganisation of a strong power, dominating the parties and ca-able to resist suggestions coming from abroad
ger. However, the Catholic faith of the great majority of the Poles, awareness of the dangers which threaten on almost the entire line of their frontiers third party – borders are indeed very artificial – constitute a cement strong enough to maintain the cohesion of the resurrected nation. However, after Romania, Poland is the state which possesses
on its territory the greatest number of Jews (one in thirteen inhabitants) and there is in perspective
a new peril added to the others.

No country, except the Spain of the Caliphs,
as Mr. Pierre Mignot (1) so rightly says, do not

(1) Pierre Mignot, op. cit., p. 72.

128 Israeli imperialism

was more benevolent, more welcoming to the Hebrews than Poland of old (1). Protect openly by the sovereigns, they owed to their financiers the favor of having been responsible for collecting Taxes. "The impot farm and the distillery
The alcohol was almost entirely between them.
hands," notes their national historian (2).

The communities had advantages that no other no other condition suited them. The Jews enjoyed rights and civil liberties, dressed like the Christians, without any distinctive sign and were even allowed to wear Tepee. The "Kahal" (commune) had a life of its own, administered itself freely, chose

Jewish laws. These communes, initially isolated, grouped themselves into provincial unions and, in the 18th century, other cogs are superimposed on them: differences or waads. There are two. A waad works in Lithuania, another for the four "countries" of Poland. Ges difetes exercise a high magistracy and have legislative powers. A Marshal of Empire appointed by the provincial unions, exercises the executive power, represents all the communities and defend their interests before the Crown and Betting.

The partition of Poland put an end to this autonomy. The situation of the Israelites varied according to the kingdoms to which the territory where they were assigned was resided.

(1) At the end of the 15th century, when the Jews were expelled from Spain and Portugal, Poland offered them refuge, an oasis.

(2) Graetz t. IV, p. 462.

i/IMPERIAUSM OF ISRAEL 120,

To the Jews of Galicia, Joseph II granted almost complete assimilation to other subjects of the Austrian Empire; his "tolerance" edit also applied the measure to all the Israelites, but he suppressed the autonomy of the communes, except regarding religious affairs.

The Jews of Lithuania and the territories whose Russia took possession were less favored. Their old organization was suppressed* They were confined in the localities where they inhabited, with the prohibition of go out, and a certain number of professions were banned at the same time as they were imposed vexatious restrictions. Also, when insurrections Polish tensions broke out, the Jews held on participate and, during the uprising of 1794, a regiment Israelite, commanded by Josielewitz, fights under Kosciuszko's orders (1).

As for the Jews incorporated into the Kingdom of Prussia, they shared the fate of those of their race in the conditions indicated in the previous chapter.

In the resurrected Poland (2), the negotiators wanted to give the Jews a privileged situation recalling that which they had once enjoyed, and, For this purpose, guarantee clauses were imposed under the pretext of respecting the rights of 4th minorities ethnic and religious. In reality, Jews alone should be called upon to benefit from these measures.

Article 1 of the treaty decreed that

(1) Mr. Pernot. Vfcproof from Poland.

(2) In Russian Poland alone, there were, in 1910, five million Jews.

10

i3o Israeli imperialism

known as fundamental, intangible laws, the stipulations contained in articles 2 to 8. Articles 2 to 7 explicitly stated that an integrated assimilation would exist between the Jews and Polish nationals, in terms of rights civil and political.

Article 8 is worth quoting verbatim:

Art. 8. – Polish nationals belonging has ethnic, religious or linguistic minorities, will benefit from the merae treatment and guaranteed meraes in law and in fact that other Polish nationals nais. They will notably have an equal right to create, direct and control at their own expense cha-ritables, religious or social, schools and others educational establishments, with the right to do so freely use their own language and exercise freely their religion.

Article 9 completes the previous one and adds significant advantages:

In towns or districts where a proportion considerable number of Polish nationals belonging has ethnic, religious or linguistic minorities, these minorities will be assured a fair share in the benefit of the allocation of sums which could be allocated from public funds by the budget

an educational or charitable purpose.

The Catholics of France do not enjoy, under the Republic, of a similar status which includes the school proportional and an age proportional public support.

Israeli imperialism 131

But, to make it clear that ethnic minorities interesting and having special rights are unique—ment the Jews, Article 11 stipulates that Poland undertakes to never prescribe that elections or voter registrations take place on Saturday: “The Jews will not be forced to perform acts any violation of their Sabbath and must not be subject to any incapacity if they refuse to go to court or act perform legal acts on the Sabbath. »

The Poles, despite their reluctance to grant in their resurrected homeland of such favors to foreigners, with whom they had too long neighbor to maintain illusions with regard to them and sympathy, were forced to bow to the will of the Entente Powers and to insert in their Constitution, promulgated on March 17, 1921, the commitments of the so-called “in favor of ethnic minorities”. However, they understood the dangers of incorporating into their nationality re-emerging a Jewish fitat, foreign and hostile.

And this danger had appeared to them in all its gravity. quickly when Red Farmee invades their territory. Polish Jews offered themselves as couriers and the officers of the Soviet troops treated them into allies.

But the British government did not waited for these events to show themselves the protector leader of Israel. Complaining about some fights, baptized pogroms, the Jewish press in London had draws upon the Jews of Poland the benevolent attention tion of Mr. Lloyd George. This one, of his own initiative—tiative and without referring it to the League of Nations, dispatched to Warsaw a fact-finding mission at the head of which an Israelite quite naturally asks:

Sir Stuart Samuel. I have recounted elsewhere (1) the works of this mission, which were condensed into a White paper (2) submitted to the British Parliament. The report acknowledged the exaggeration and sometimes Tiiianity of complaints, but he expressed different wishes who seemed foreign to the object of his mission, notably the creation of Jewish banks in Poland, Addition of a secretary speaking Yiddish in tones British consulates and the Angle competition land to facilitate Jewish immigration to Palestine tine and elsewhere!

The Poles believed they were winning the favors of the "Pre* "better" British by being represented in London by an Israeli charge d'affaires, Professor Szi-my Askenazy, who was then delegated to the Society of Nations. The politeness had little effect when the Soviet armies rushed into Warsaw, Mr. Lloyd George advised the marshal's government Pilsudsky to deal without delay and conclude a peace which would have been fatal for his homeland. By good-Well, General Weigand gave other advice which we followed and a military competition which had the most happy effects.

During the first peace conferences, our Minister of Foreign Affairs having spoken incidentally to give Poland its borders

(1) The reign of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons, pp. 61-69.

(2) Report by Sir Stuart Samuel on the mission to Poland. Miscellaneous, No. 10, 1920.

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 1 33

of 1772. Mr. Arthur Balfour was indignant. It was per-bring the resurrected state to extend from the Baltic k the Black Sea; it was undoubtedly excessive, especially that the limits of Poland had noticeably varies; ruah we seemed to agree on the question of Danzig, because the thirteenth point of the president Wilson said in one of his paragraphs: "We assume will give Poland free access to the sea." However, Mr. Lloyd George as Judeophile as the author of Sioiists, rose against the Polish claim. Danzig had undoubtedly been a Polish port, but it had become a German city and by virtue of famous principle of nationality we could not tin- incorporate Poland (1). Woodrow Wilson having assigned to Tavis by Lloyd George, Dantzic was given of a bizarre status which gives the city an administration German version incompatible with real usage of port by another nation.

The Silesian question provides the plenipotentiary British the opportunity to show its hostility to view of Poland and its Judeo-German sympathy fuck, because all the powers of Israel were taking left for Germany, which they wanted to keep one and powerful.

The treaty of May 7, 1919 awarded Poland the whole of upper Silesia. On June 2, the discussion of this attribution was reopened at the request of Mr. Lloyd George and occupied no less than five sessions of the conference* The Prime Minister of England said the tenacious, devious and ultimately victorious lawyer.

(1) Mermeix. The Battle of the Three, p. 235.

1 34 Israeli imperialism

Germans and Jews demanding a plebiscite.

Mr. Mermeix, in the Combat des Trois, gave a very lively account of these sessions where deliberations rerent MM. Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau. THE British "First" found the request justified of the Germans, while saying that in his opinion the majority biscite would be favorable to the Poles. Clemenceau declared "that as far as Poland is concerned, there was a historical crime to be repaired and also to create a barrier between Germany and Russia (1)". Wilson pointed out that a frank plebiscite was impossible in a country that has dominated for so long and which will always have the fear of reprisals, if the Germans mands do not disappear.

Woodrow Wilson agreed with Clemenceau and maintained his opinion during the first debates, then finally gives in.

This extract from the report gives an idea of the Wilson. – We said, in the peace bases,

that all the provinces would return to Poland
unquestionably Polish.

Lloyd George. – But, precisely the Germans
say that this is not the case for Silesia.

Clemenceau. – How ? You know well that the German statistics themselves show the Mostly Polish Silesia.

Lloyd George. – But it's not just the law,
there is the feeling, I ask you to know it.

Wilson. – The ethnographic question is not doubtful. For the rest, I would like us to add

(1) The Fight of the Three, p. 236.

Israeli imperialism 1 35

let us have something to do with what we have decided;
but we are not obliged to do so by the bases of the peace.

Lloyd George. – With ethnographic bases,
it would then be necessary to say that Alsace is German.

Clemenceau. – The question of Alsace-Lorraine could, as you well know, compare it to any other.

Wilson. – What I maintain is that our decision relating to Silesia is not contrary to the fourteen points.

Lloyd George. – Who among us had thought of that?
Upper Silesia before the report of our experts seized us?

Clemenceau. – You are making an absolute mistake;
all Poles, from the beginning, claimed the Upper Silesia.

Wilson. – Mr. Clemenceau is right; when I received in Washington Dmowski and Paderewski, I I questioned at length with the cards in hand;
their claims were excessive, but we are
agree on the formula "give to Poles"

Lloyd George. – I repeat to you that we have not never could think of giving Poigone a province which for 900 years was not Polish (sic).

Clemenceau. – I repeat to you, that the return statement on Upper Silesia has always been formulated by the Poigone and recognized just by us.

Wilson. – We must succeed; we could agree to a plebiscite under the control of a commission interallied; we would declare that the plebiscite is zero if the commission reported to us that a pressure was exerted (1).

(1) Mermeix. cit, pp. 242–243.

i36 the imperialism of Israel

President Wilson rallied to the principle of plebiscite. Through this open door Mr. Lloyd George ends by passing his entire project and the modalities of the consultation of the Silesians were such that the The Germans were able to exert pressure at will more shameless and keep under the authority of the Reich truly Polish districts.

The “Welsh ruse” had well deserved the Germans and the high international bank which has become open their ally against Poland.

Poland was not discouraged, it established a certain cohesion in its provinces, resolving sections separated for a century and a half; but the Jewish question does not fail to preoccupy its leaders. The Israelites elected to the House a certain number of deputies, whose action can be come harm and which are a ferment of dissociation for national elements.

Marshal Pilsudski had shown certain quality soldiers and he was truly patriotic, but his ideas put forward could lead him to compromise the financial and economic situation of the country, to undergo pressures coming from external democracies (1).

(1) The Jewish press in London is carrying out a methodical campaign and an Israelite subject matter has a note inserted under the rubric that: Antisemitic Rioting in Poland; and if the police don't have arrested the Christian before any investigation and defended the Jew, she is accused of complicity. On the occasion of Yom Kippur, a Jewish merchant who left his store open was the object of an attack on the part of a gang of his co-religionists* The police having dispersed the demonstrators and arrested those who resisted him is severely incriminated. (The Jewish Chronicle Nice, September 28, 1923.)

THE IMPETT JALLSjtfe ^ISRAEL 1 37

The elections of November 1922 had for result of the election of Mr. Narutowicz to the presidency of the Republic. He was a socialist, and he had to his election to a regrettable coalition of inino-German, Ukrainian and Jewish rites. An artist named Newiadomski, in a Charlotte-style gesture Corday, Fassassina. The act of this desperation he did change the diet? In April 1923* Mr. Witos, Head of agrarian populist party, allied itself with the conservatives whose Mr. Korfanty, Fanimatetir of the Polish Resistance in Upper Silesia, is the leader. People say good things about the president Woynechowski, successor to Newiadomski, and the new Witos ministry is a government truly national, to which the Jews look grim, as was to be expected (1).

Ill

In Hungary as in Poland, the absence of a middle class has given considerable importance rable k F Jewish element, because it allowed him to become an initiator, an agent of industrial activity and commercial. The Israelites are a little less numerous in Hungary than in Poland, but they form even more than 7% of the population.

(1) Ministerial changes have occurred since then, and the very democratic constitution, which is that of the Poland, hardly seems designed to ensure stability government of a long duration.

During the 18th and 19th centuries, they underwent some details about the fate of their co-religionists countries grouped under the Habsburg crown. However, after 1830, contrary to the laws and regulations, they were able to acquire properties urban. This tolerance, due mainly to neglect authority of the authorities, became a legal measure in 1839, on the condition of being limited to towns where it was practiced (1).

A few years later, in 1846, Timpot de tolerance which fell to the Israelites of Hungary was abolished upon payment, in five annuities, with a capital of 1,200,000 florins. The law of July 28 1849 granted them full enjoyment of rights civil and political subjects of the kingdom.

They knew how to take advantage of the advantages of this new situation. Their number increased rapidly as a result of the increase in the birth rate and filtrations from Russian Poland. "They fran- the stages go quickly, as M. de Hevesy writes, but anarchic ideas haunt their brains: They start with small jobs and end up by dazzling fortunes... The Hungarian Jew has the superstitious respect for knowledge. If he indulges in studies in his attic, his ideas waver like the flames of his candle. When he enters life, it naturally goes to scholars, to letters which are> like himself, without direct experience of men. These spirits, which have no memories, collide to spirits enslaved by traditions. Impossible to im- generate more opposing mentalities: some... obstinately

(1) P. Raphael. cit, p. 50.

the imperialism of israel i3g

only closed to what is new; the others, animated with a feverish impatience to reach, embrace, without criticism, everything that is bold, unexpected, finds blant. Here, sourdough; there, an inert paste; One and the other are insufficient as food... (1). »

These contrasts explain many crises in history. contemporary history of Hungary. Next to the greats chivalrous, light, prodigal, unsoulful lords vres, place religious, timid, road-going peasants intelligent, imbued with daring theories and poorly digested rees, having atavistic hatred of Christians that they serve and exploit while waiting to become deny their masters. There is no need to be a big policy to predict what will emerge from the crucible where encloses the disparate elements. The owners nobles will be vanished and the peasant mine will be the es-clave of the Jew. The iron fist of a monarch could intervene, stimulate some, protect others, repress usury and alcoholism. It seems that the mo-narque does not accomplish his mission. It is necessary to recognize that the emperor-king did not always have a stain

easy in Budapest, due to political discord following the revolution of 1848-49 which resulted in has a civil war. The Hungarian Parliament had exasperates Austria with democratic aspirations and separatists who led him to vote for forfeiture
of the Habsburgs and elected Kossuth as governor.

The intervention of a Russian army decided Tarmee
Hungarian to lay down her arms; the reprisals carried out Ceased by Austria left hatred in Hungary

(1) The Agony of an Empire, pp. 186-187.

140 THE IMPERTALISM OF ISRAEL

perennials that autonomy aceordee more tafd to kingdom is not enough to erase. Dualism had also the serious inconvenience of leaving & part deux peoples, the Czechs and the Croats, who claimed also k autonomy and independence. Croatia concludes a compromise with Hungary, but on precarious bases and Bohemia pushed the disaffecttion until turning its aspirations towards Russia and his hopes. Weakened by these internal divisions tines and also by the unfortunate wars which had for epilogues Solferino and Sadowa, the government of Francois-Joseph did not have an internal policy coherent and resolute. Financial needs prompted to manage the high Jewish bank and consequently k not take any action likely to cause complaints, whether founded or not, from the Israelites of the empire.

It is in vain that, in the midst of the world war, as soon as accession to the throne, Emperor Charles strove to re-respond to the aspirations of its peoples in accordance with them regarding the share of autonomy to which their nationals various elites could legitimately claim,

which had singularly shortened the duration of the hostilities lity. .. the battle had to continue until the end, and lead as a consequence to the dissolution, decomposition, the dismemberment of the Austrian Empire Hungarian.

In February 1918, on the advice of Lord Northcliffe, pre-resident of the propaganda committee sitting in London, it had been agreed that the allies would seek to fight against the dualist monarchy by rising against it all its non-Germanic populations and, in April, a congress of "nationalities" met in Rome

i/IPERIAXISM OF ISRAEL 141

oppressed 6,e The monarchy of Hat>sbourg(1)", Avee prisoners and defectors from BoMme, Hon-grie, from Yugo-Slavia, we organized units that we placed in the trenches of the Italian front and who contributed tried to demoralize the troops loyal to their flags.

Of the events of October, of the victory of the mee d'Orient, of the retreat of German troops on the fronts of France and Relgique, in advance Italian on positions which were no longer cracked, it would result in a total collapse of Austria-Hungary and almost inextricable chaos which the Jews were preparing to take advantage of. In Vienna, they installed a Soviet regime; in Prague, they supported Mr. Masaryk, who was made president of the Czecho-Slovak Republic. It was a real "carnaval of peoples (2)". Hungary was the last to proclaim the Republic; King Charles remained specthe events, but refused to abdicate.

After the assassination of Tisza, falsely accused by The opinion of having been the main cause of the war, Karolyi, appointed prime minister, wasted no time not to abandon his sovereign. He wanted to preside over the Hungarian Republic and believed it could count, like Masaryk, on the sympathy of President Wilson and the Entente competition. He was treated as an enemy; the Romanians invaded the national territory. Of-pitiful, losing his head, convinced that a revolution was going to overwhelm all States, Karolyi abandoned

(2) Ibid, p. 241.

1 42 Israeli imperialism

gave power and handed over to the communists.
The hour of the Jews and Bela Kun was about to strike.

MM. Jean and Jérôme Tharaud are not alone—Although they are talented novelists, they are also conscientious and informed observers and, in When Israel is King, (1) they showed how the Jews had seized Hungarian soil by becoming intentional
dants and businessmen of large landowners,
by ruining the gentry:

Sometimes the gentleman couldn't accept Tidee to dispose of property whose name it bore. For continue to assert it, he began by dig out what was left of his fortune, then he borrowed to his Jew and he, one fine day, expelled you from the House. Other times, the hazi jido (steward) leases but the domain for nine years, subjected the earth to an exploitation of banditry, according to the expression dedicated. After which, the soil exhausted, the livestock poor condition, upon renewal of the lease, he requested that we reduce our rent for land that does not was giving back more of what it once brought in. The hobe-Reau then found herself very embarrassed. What to do ?
Leaving the capital... saying goodbye to the cafe, the club,
all the pleasures of this city, where he spent so pleasantly—
is living, while waiting to marry a rich bourgeois woman, or even a converted Jew?... be the domain in good condition! But it would have taken money and our man doesn't have the money, either, to do figure, he needs what little he has left. Only one solution tion remains: sell the land to the hazi jido. This is what that he decides to do (2).

(1) Paris, Plon, 1921.

(2) When Israel is king, pp. 33–34.

Israeli imperialism i 43

And to fully understand the progression of the con-
Jewish quest for the country of the Magyars, see

Orczi, built by a magnate under Marie-Therese and became a ghetto, a cell of old came out powerful generations of parasites, usurers and of goods merchants.

Bela Kun is indeed of their race, but he has a physical particular sionomy, ambitions of another order. His face, his CV as witness-gnent:

Round head, completely shaved, large ears the sharp ones, the big and protruding eyes, the short nose, huge lips, a wide open mouth, Fair of a lizard: such appears Bela Kun. Morally, a little Jewish employee, resourceful and cunning, like one sees thousands in Budapest.

Before the war, he was an obscure journalist that we had seen pass, 9a and there, in the rooms of editorial team, doing small reports, and who had a day gone. It is found in the provinces, in Koloszar, in the functions of secretary of a mutual society worker. Accused of having embezzled a small amount from the cash register, his comrades chased him away from this position of trust and we were going to hear his trial when war broke out. With his regiment he left for the Karpathians, where he was taken prisoner during de Fannee 1916. He was sent to Siberia, to the camp of Tomsk detention. He learned Russian there and, some time after Kerensky's revolution (a co-religion gioionnaire), he became friends with the famous propa-Gandist Radek, whose real name is Zobelsohn, today today a big character in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs transferred to Moscow, and who was responsible for propaganda

144 i/LMPBJIIAUSME p'jSIUEI*

Bolshevist among the prisoners. In Petrograd, Bela Kun quickly became one of Lenin's friends (1).

Returning to Budapest, he created a newspaper, the Voros Ujsag (the red newspaper), so violent in its revolutionary remarks that we do not take at face value serious. We read sentences like this; "It is not enough to kill the bourgeoisie, we must also tear them into pieces. » To create agitation communist and prepare his dictatorship, Bela Kun confessed that he had received, from Moscow and the Cross Russian red from Vienna, twelve million rubles.

On January 1, 1919, with unemployed people, mobilizes and Russian prisoners, Jewish agitator attempted to seize the barracks in Budapest. He failed, was arrested, but upon the intervention of one of his colleagues, Doctor Pagany, he was released. A few weeks later, Karolyi abandoned the power "to the proletariat of the Hungarian people", that is to say to Bela Kun and his gang. An executive council was instituted. Out of 26 commissioners, 18 were Jewish. One of them, Tiburce Szamuely, took office president of the military tribunal. He was the boss executioners.

Cecile de Tormay, in the "Scenes of the Revolution" communist tion in Hungary", published in the Universal Review (2), Ta describes in a few lines: "He was not a hunchback and yet he had a physical hunchback sionomy... a black hyena... At the cafe, he usually placed himself in a secluded corner and he

(1) When Israel is rotten, pp. 171-172.

(2) Delivery of October 15, 1923,

i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 1 45

was alone at his table. He almost never took off his black gloves. He always wore a black coat and a black tie, let his black hair grow health and threw them back. His face is shaved tuberculosis was marked with bluish shadows," Like Bela Kun, he had surrendered to the Russians during during the war. He became a recruiter of prisoners for the red airmii when the Soviet revolution broke out and had the satisfaction of having 92 officers massacred Hungarian. He was well prepared for the role which hush. He was traveling on a special train armed with machine guns and carrying the executioners. Following the circumstances, the people arrested were, after a judgement for form, massacres in the wagon of third person attached to the train or hung from gallows after having been victims of outrages and cruelty nameless.

s Tiburce Szamuely, writes Gecile de Tormay, is thus the most complete type of this race whose ele- dominant elements developed in secret, in a Hate has reappeared; the representative of the breed has throws off the mask and the centuries-old resentment, reawakened, look all around Elie... By the choice of Szarcuemy, the revolutionary government of the Soviets places above the Magyar people this executioner, soul of his soul and blood of his blood (1)".

And let no one say that the Jews are associates o,vi exceptions in the republic of "proletariat of the peoples of Hungary". C6cile de Tor-may specify: "lis {Jews) are all there in the list of {-!') La Repue unwerselk, t. XV, p. 195.

he

1 46 i/LEMPERIALISM OF lSRAEL

revolutionary government. As under Karolyi, a Christian jester is put forward to amuse the crowd... the others are foreigners: commissioner from the People to Foreign Affairs: Bela Kun (Kohn), with his deputy Agoston (Augenstein); clerk-sary & the War: Joseph Pagany (Schwartz) and his alternates Bela Szanto (Schreiber) and T. Szammueli (Samuel); Interior Commissioner: Eugene Land-ler and his deputy Bela Vago (Weiss); commissioner k V Public education: Sigismond Kunfi (Kuns-tatter) and his deputy Georges Lukacs (Lowinger)... All the people's commissars are Jews. Alone, some substitutes are Magyars. Jews, the clerks soldiers who hold the capital, the national guard, the police ".

The author adds: "Who could read this list without stay thoughtful? »

The sad nightmare dissipated. The arrival of the troops Romanians and the organization of a national resistance put an end to the dictatorship of the proletariat in Hungary. A number of people's commissars were hanged or shot. But, as Toobserve MM. Tharaud: "the Jewish problem remains".

Some Israelites left Budapest, in the fear of retaliation. The authors of When Israel is King makes us witness the departure of the train which take:

The accent of despair:

"Yes, yes, look at them! Today, tomorrow elsewhere ; at home everywhere and nowhere. Always rages of hope. The Turk on the Bude Hill

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 1 47

was no more dangerous than this disheveled Jew, sitting there, on his suitcase. In the last assault on Asia
we have been defeated (1). »

Israel has not given up on reigning in Hungary. II thinks that the Red Terror organized by Bela Kun is already forgotten by Christians, and information received recently from New York tells us ".that the federation of Hungarian Jews in America, which pretends to have 200,000 members, would have asked the trip of Count Laszilio Szrchennyi, consul general of Hungary, under the pretext that he had sends strong reports to its government shades of anti-Semitism (2)".

It is difficult to push consciousness further,
but must the Jews be convinced of their power to show such impudence!

(1) When Israel is king, p. 291.

(2) International Review of Secret Societies of September 16
1923, p. 672.

CHAPTER V

THE JEWS OF ITALY, GREECE AND FROM TURKEY

An anecdote told by Luigi Luzzatti. – The Jews
of Italy, from the renaissance to the "rlsorglmento".

Judeo-Germanic infiltrations at the end of the 19th century century. a sensational book by mr. giovanni pre-

ZIOSI. THE COMMUNIST MOVEMENT AND THE BANKS

Jews. – Mussolini and the fascist reaction. ~ The Jews of Salonika. – The situation of the Jews of Tur-

WHO WAS IN THE 18TH 6TH CENTURY, AFTER LADY WORTLEY MONTAGU.

– Concerns caused to Jews by nationalism

OF THE GOVERNMENT OF ANGORA.

The year of minister Luigi Luzzatti, an Israelite who was so long involved in the politics of his country, completes the writing of his memoirs. He gave k a review the first of a fragment of these memories and this fragment contains interesting details on the the way in which the famous conversion of the Italian annuity. The French government (Messrs. Rouvier, Delcasse, Barrere) contributed a

i5o Israeli imperialism

part and the house of Rothschild, with a consortium of bankers for the rest. In this regard, Mr. Luzzatti tells a significant anecdote, which Mr. Jean Carrere reproduced in his correspondence from Le Temps, dated Rome, January 7, 1923:

At the Nice Congress – which took place a few weeks before the Russo-Japanese War – Mr. Delcasse tells me showed a telegram from Petersburg giving as certain peace between Russia and Japan. Barely returned to Rome, I found a telegram from Rothschild who announced to me the imminent war between the two fitats. So the great banker was better off informs that the vigilant minister 1

Execution point of former minister takes place to surprise. He is aware that the leaders of Israel are better “informed” of the events contemporary as heads of state; that's what they allows you to predict them and take decisions in advance arrangements to take advantage of it.

In the Italian cities, at the time of the Renaissance During this session, the Jews were treated very well. In the 14th century si'le, we know that Dante had a Jewish friend Ma-

mom. Humanists sought the society of Educated Israelites.

"Elie del Medigo taught published metaphysics only in Padua and Florence; Leo the Hebrew published his Platonic dialogues on Love. The printers Jews, like the scholar Soncino, were in contact constant with the letters of Tepoque; Soncino, of which the bookstore was the center of Hebrew publications, even entered into rivalry with Aide and also printed

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 151

Greek authors. Hercule Gonzague, bishop of Mantua, disciple of the Jew Pomponazzo, of Bologna, accepted the dedications of Jacob Martino, who had worked ducted the Compendium of Averroes, while others princes encouraged Abraham de Balmes (1) in his role as translator (2)."

This was not without concern to the authorities religious. Bishop Maiol, in his Dierum cam-cularium, notes that there are "people and often of quality, both men and women, who are so crazy and senseless that they consult with the Jews from their most intimate affairs, to their great prejudice" and complains that Christians are witnessing religious ceremonies in synagogues.
It is certain that we went to Ferrara, at the end of the 18th century century, hear the sermons of an eloquent Jew: Judas Azael (3).

The sovereign pontiffs deemed it necessary to inter-come. Popes John III, Paul IV, Pius V, Clement VIII condemned the Tamul; Innocent XI threatened Catholics with re-excommunication attending synagogues. But the Holy See thought rather of converting the Israelites than of oppress or bully them. Those who resided in Rome were required to attend certain sermons.

In the 18th century and until the convulsive agitations whose epilogue was the Italian Tunité, the Jews little was said about the Italian fitats; that is to say that they were not badly treated there. The country was not

(1) He had translated most of the works of Averroes.

(2) Bernard Lazare. Anti-Semitism, p. 146.

(3) Ibid, p. 147.

1 52 L/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

rich. The Israelites were sparse there. We find some goes all over the cities, like loan sharks and as bankers. In Venice, they were more nom-breous and traded with the ports of the Adriatic and the Orient (1). In Rome only they were groups in a small ghetto-forming neighborhood. In his work on the History of Italian Unity, Mr. Bolton King quotes as persecution does that in Tiirin itself, in 1838, "the Jews were excluded public jobs and universities (2)". That proves that they were simply considered foreigners not participating in national life.

But if they were generally excluded from functions public tions, the Israelites were welcomed in the Masonic lodges and the secret societies which, under various names: Ausonie, Orisis, Triomphe Ligurian, Carbonari, Federes, fought the Catholic licism, the Bourbons and played an important role in the Italian Risorgimenio. Their influence is increasing when, with Rome as capital, the kingdom unified became a great parliamentary state. It is good not to not forget that Rome had as its syndic (mayor) the Jewish Nathan (3), grandmaster of Freemasonry Italian. With the revolution, the Israelites had everywhere conquered the rights of citizen, and, as many of them had their names italiamsed, or had some difficulty discerning their origins.

(1) According to Goldschmidt (Univ. Geschichte, p. 452), it is in Venice that Jewish bankers introduced the practice of the endorsement of bills of exchange.

(2) History of the Italian Uniti y t. I, p. 50.

(3) Ernesto Nathan was a Jew from England. Her mother, who was intelligent and very beautiful, had a group in her Mazzini, Crispi, Saflì and other Italian revolutionaries

the great foreign bankers, their peers, at times the finances of the kingdom had needing to be rescued, several Jews rose quickly from the benches of the House to those of the government vernment. Once ministers, they facilitated Fas-censorship of their co-religionists and the war dialeleurprovides a valuable springboard to bounce back and intensify their action.

The Jewish peril would still be unknown to many Italians. links if a publicist of great talent and character energetic being, Mr. Giovanni Preziosi, had not try to reveal it, to highlight its gravity. We must Mr. Preziosi a most endearing book: La Germania aka conquista delU Italia (1). By studying the infil- German trations that occurred in Italy for half a century, the author has noticed that, at the same time lement and often in harmony with these infiltra- tions, Jewish influences gradually penetrated the country's organizations to absorb them or contaminate and destroy them.

These influences increased on the surface and in founder, dominating the nerve centers of the machine government.

At the head of all the big banks, in the boards of directors of major businesses industrial, in shipping companies, in public services, in education, we find of the Hebrews. Statistics evaluate their number

(1) A French translation has been published in the bookstore Delagrave, in 1820. This book is not without analogy with Before the War by Leon Daudet,

1 54 the imperialism of Israel

between 50,000 and 55,000, or approximately one thousandth of the Italian population.

At the cost of patient research, the magazine La Vita italiana draws up the table of public functions and administer ves occupied by Jews, taking based on the General Directory of 1920. Here is the detail, by ministerial departments and by body of the state:

Parliament: Senate and Chamber 64

Advisory bodies: State Council, Court of

Gomptes, Heraldic Council. 25

Foreign Affairs: Central Administration

trale and agents abroad 54

Colonies: Central administration and agents

abroad 11

Interior: Central and provincial administration

cial 317

Justice 398

Finance 470

War: Central administration and army. . . 267

Marine '. 117

Public education 846

Public works 96

Industry, Commerce, Agriculture: Minis-

land and provincial administration 62

Posts and Telegraphs 532

Total 3,259

Expecting a Jewish population of 50,000 souls, we therefore see that one Israelite in 15 is function-public minister, deputy or senator. If the children of Israel had no other ambition than to gain
to the state budget, the evil would be less frightening, although civil servants hold a

i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 1 55

plot of government authority; but their ambitions are broader, their aims higher.

the vast majority of daily newspapers, almost all publishing houses, information agencies tions. The organ of Italian Zionism, Israel, published in Rome, was not afraid to display impudent Forgueil of race and its atavistic exclusivism: "Just as oil does not mix with water, nor does Israel must not mix with the nations of its neighborhood. The oil rises above the water. Like her, Israel must rise above other peoples (1). »

And, in fact, Israel tends to dominate other nations, and his offensive against Italy occurs from above and from below. Socialist and community groups ists were almost all led by Jews when the revolutionary movement took place which almost establish in Italy a regime similar to Sovietism Russian.

Under the complacent gaze of the government of Mr. Nitti, the entire industrial part of Italy (the northern provinces) was abandoned to the communities nists; factory directors were chased out and replaced places by workers' councils; the commercial fleet Merce was treated in the same way; eco-life The country's economy was suspended. The kingdom is was going towards the abyss.

The Vita Nazionale gave an impressive image of an anarchic state which was being prepared. Two Israelites – she said – were part of the minister Father: Alessio (Justice) and Sehanzer (Foreign Affairs)

(1) Così Israele deve sourastare agli altri popoli.

1 56 imperialism of israel

managed) (1) and the government was keen to give satisfaction to the communists by giving a broad place for union delegates in management industrial and commercial companies. Lice-see was out of water. The soldiers who had brazenly vely beaten were insulted in the streets of big cities ; the traitors and cowards who had contributes to the disaster of Caporetto, condemned by the war councils, were amneste.

Everywhere the hand of Israel was visible. In the Rivista di Milano (2), a patriotic writer, MA Rai-mond, showed the collusion of the high banks attempts of revolutionary upheaval; " THE socialism, cooperativism, collaborationism

who have troubled and still trouble national life
are the consequences of the international Jewish conspiracy..."
The Banca Commerciale, run by the Hebrews Toeplitz, Goldschmidt, Castiglioni, had, during throughout the war supported an anti-national policy,
as well as the Pisa bank, another affair of the Hebrews.
It was she who financed the revolutionary movement,
seconded by Jewish senator Delia Torre.

(1) The origin of Senator Carlo Schanzer is disputed.
He is, it seems, a Catholic by religion. But it is claimed* as being of Hebrew race by the Jewish press. We know that he had been the head of the Italian delegation to the Conference of Washington. The Jewish World of December 1, 1921
then published his portrait (frizzy hair and long beard black) between those of two other Semites, the attorney Elmar Schlesinger, advisor to the Shipping Board of the United States, and Mr. Oscar S. Strauss, permanent chairman of the Committee
general of the limitation of armaments, instituted by the Fed-American labor ration.

(2) Delivery of September 10, 1922.

the imperulism of Israel i 57

And Mr. Raimondi also pillories the Jews of Treves, Donati and F agent provocateur Nardi.

It was high time that Italy pulled itself together and said the solemn warning that Dante gave to the Italians of his time:

Uomini state e non pecore matti
Si che 'I Giudeo travoi non rida (1).

At a tragic hour in his history, Mussolini was the savior of his country. Coming from the confines of society lism, in the light of war its false ideas and his prejudices vanished; he was aware of the danger, and, to ward him off, placed at the service of the beautiful intellect-gence that God had given him fierce energy,
an iron will. Around the newspaper he edited;
II Popolo d'Italia, and oh he wrote remarkable articles, he gathers adhesions to his doctrines and active sympathies, but he quickly understood that to resist violence, attacks by comrades communists, something other than im-functional. It was in March 1919 that he trained his first first groups of fascist fighters, destinies k fight against the socialists on equal terms, and at least take care to attack them when the offensive appears more indicated that the defensive,

In a recent work, already translated into English 12),

(1) Parad, ch. V, v. 80-81.

Be real men and not stupid sheep.

So that, in your home, the Jew does not sneer while ignoring you

(2) The Fascist Movement in Italian Life, London, T. Fisher Unwin.

1 58 Israeli imperialism

Doctor Pietro Gorgolino gave the history of fascist movement. It is naturally in the patriotic youth that Mussolini recruited his soldiers volunteers, his "black shirts". He organized them and trained them militarily, provided them with the opportunity to to compete with the communist troops, who were beaten and terrorized. Without doubt, the regular army could have intervened, but the government had stood up to be so weak, so powerless to act against the per-communist troublemakers, that he was poorly qualified to crack down on their adversaries. He let it happen and Public opinion and the feeling of the officers were soon oriented in such a way that when Fascist detachments had Fordre go and beat the socialists of a city, demolish their printing press, burn the house where they had their headquarters, They usually arrived the evening before in small batches. fractions, and received, at night, hospitality in a garrison barracks.

Among the fascists were former soldiers, students and even workers happy to be to escape the tyranny of the "Reds". Mussolini was a supporter of workers' unions, but he condemned the class struggle, which earned him competition in conservative and monarchical circles chists. As for militant Catholics, classified under the banner of the Sicilian priest Don Sturzo, liberal and socializing, they remained strangers for a long time. if not hostile, to the fascist movement.

House around thirty fascist deputies. It was little to exercise serious parliamentary action, but this minority stimulated and facilitated propaganda

the imperialism of isbakl i5g

in the country. It is also a patriotic cord that Mussolini knew how to make people vibrate – as had done d'Annunzio during the war – he mentioned the old glories of the Roman Empire, complained of the insufficient performance of the Italian conquests in relation to the sacrifices works accomplished during three long years of struggles and suffering... His popularity grew, The number of his legions increased and when sixty a thousand fascists marched militarily through the streets of Rome, in front of their leader, amidst acclaim reactions of the crowd, the revolution was accomplished.

The king, happy to save his crown and his kingdom, stretched out his hand to the victor, the ministry collapsed, Parliament bowed, even flattened itself to the point of abdicating all his constitutional rights and to give Mussolini dictatorial powers.

The task of the leader of fascism was not announced like ease. So far, he has acquitted himself with happiness, not without extraordinary skill. II reformed the administration, achieved significant savings; he modified the electoral status in such a way k ensure a strong majority in Parliament; he has consolidates royal power, demonstrates its respect with regard to the sovereign pontiff, replaces the crucifix in schools. He made a masterstroke by adjusting manu militari the conflict with Greece, motivated by The assassination of Italian officers on the borders of Albania and thus doubled its popularity. The change has singularly benefited from the recovery taking place in Political and social state of the country. In the Popolo from Italy, a talented journalist, Mr. Francesco Meriano, continues to expound the doctrines of the fascism, the directives of its action. The solution of

160 Israeli imperialism

social problems often catch his attention*
Like uiH 6cole which is developing in France under the auspices of the leaders of I 9 Action franaise, professionals uniting capital and labor in the same industry, instead of pitting them against one another. Isn't that the best way to expand all the forces of production of a country: "The socialism – writes Mr. Francesco Meriano – was disappointed the working masses by the mirage of the implementation of community of property and universal peace. A doctrine based on the principles of production real vision cannot ignore inequality of strengths and talents, nor rational rivalries, peaceful or warlike, with a view to conquest of global markets (1). »

The Catholics had every interest in rallying to the social and economic recovery policy and religious freedom inaugurated by Mussolini. But Don Sturzo, in coquetry with the socialists, the Jews and the internationalists, with whom he shares certain ideas and certain illusions, like Marc Sangnier in France, opposed it with all his power.

The Tribune of July 11, 1923 strongly characterized precisely the errors and dangers of the doctrines of the Sicilian priest:

The White International, which had good intentions, indisputable intentions, individual good will, sincere and honest, betrays a democratic deviation, a liberality of Christian thought and action: because,

(1) Text quoted by The Patriot of June 28, 1923.

the imprudence of Israel 161

through the most diverse channels, it communicates with all forms of religious and social modernism. I Also it is, in fact, the synthesis of the most serious dangers who threaten the integrity of the doctrine and Catholic life... That's why we sympathize in the most sincere and selfless way with the honorable Mussolini, as soon as he has wanted to show that he appreciated the value of the forces spiritual, and force everyone to come out of ambiguities, ready-made sentences, of irresponsible exploitation responsible for policy. For he must inevitably lead to the fight against "populism" à la Sturzo, just as, logically, we had started over there.

This is why, as long as the current regime maintains will uphold its fundamental principles and acts of national resurrection, thanks to the frank and sincere highlighting the religious and moral forces of the country, to the implacable war politically declared to parliamentary and democratic parasitism, we let us sympathize with him because this orientation is parallel to ours.

The vast majority of Italian Catholics have shares the feelings of the Tribuna and, when Mussolini put the "populists" on notice to choose between him and Don Sturzo, all right tail of this powerful party lined up under his banner. " These are not not the vicissitudes of this party, tossed around in the House from Nitti to Giolitti and Facta, and from the collaboration-socialism to alliances with the lodges which could will reassure the country (1). » The dictatorship of National Salvation has dissolved this evil party.

(1) International Review of Secret Societies, September 30 1923.

12

1 62 Israeli imperialism

However, the leader of fascism never addressed the Jewish question head on. It has been claimed that among the prime ministers of his choice had found a Israeli by race; the fact was incorrect. But if Mussolini has not yet considered the most delicate of problems, it is indisputable that by his energetic acts and reasons: social conservation measures, rigors against leaders of communism – including most crossed the borders – benevolence with regard to Catholics, hunting given to mercantiles and war profiteers, surveillance of financial companies, suppression or suspension of newspapers with subversive ideas, the leader of fascism built dikes to protect against the Jewish invasion.

And when Benito Mussolini, without hesitation, declared that he did not admit that the Italo-Greek conflict, made more than acute following the occupation of Corfu, submitted to the League of Nations, it broke in visor with this league, imagined by Freemasonry, imposed by Woodrow Wilson and Lloyd George, league which is properly the Anglo-Saxon organ of Israel (1).

II

Let's cross the Otranto canal. The Greek Islands and mainland Hellas themselves were not a place of election for Jews. Apart from a few

(1) See The Reign of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons, pp. 233-258.

THE IMPERJALISM OF ISRAEL 1 63

fertile valleys of Corfu, some olive plantations rivers and fig trees, meager vineyards, the country is arid, rocky. Its inhabitants live on little, have simple morals, which does not exclude a habit consummate and unscrupulous commercial summer. It is understandable that the "Jews believed that there was no for them there is no advantage in coming to colonize among them descendants of the cunning Odysseus.

However, the mutilation of European Turkey, which followed the last Balkan war, incorporated to the Hellenic territory the region of Salonika, where the Jewish population is very dense. They are mainly Jews who came from Spain at the time of the expulsion which had fallen on Salonika, pushing offspring on Constantinople and Asia Minor. They had found in this Aegean port a broth of culture specific to their development and responsible for their prosperity. Turks are ignorant and naive, have no business aptitude and claim intermediaries, brokers, in most cases part of the cases of material life. In Asia Minor, the Jews found rivals: the Greeks and the Armenians; in Salonika, they emerged as masters and the maritime city became a Jewish city. The Alliance universal Israel installed schools there, at the end of the 19th century, which, moreover, was encouraged by the government French. A hotbed of liberal, hostile ideas to the sultan and to Islam, was created there; you should not forget that it was in Salonika that the revolution of the Young Turks which would throw into the arm of Germany the Ottoman Empire.

The population of Salonika had welcomed without enthusiastic about the stipulation of the peace treaty which incorporated the town into the domain of Constantinople. Large numbers of Jews emigrated to America at this time, but there remained a considerable amount for not to make the race a minority in the city; and, when the new annexed territories were called to elect their representatives, Israel made its entry into the Greek Parliament. In the midst of difficulties dynasties and politicians who attacked the government ment, Mr. Gounaris thought of confiding to Mr. Mallach, deputy of Salonika, the finance portfolio-. It's not that he felt much sympathy for his person and his race, but he thought, no without reason, that the collaboration of a Jew in his Cabinet would be favorably received by Mr Lloyd George and the Entente Powers.

The situation of the Jews in Türkiye was essential-variable, depending on time and region, but they rarely escape persecution and seem less hated by Muslims and Eastern Christians: Armenians and Greeks. Did they exploit in lesser proportions the peasants; Were less dark in the villages? This would be worth clarifying; In the 17th century, if a correspondent is to be believed of Howell, dated June 3, 1663 (1), they were not still times fortunes and could inspire? more than of pity than of envy, but it was no longer like that sixty years later; a great traveler, who was also a renowned gunslinger, Lady Wortley Montagu, in a letter dated from Adrianople, May 17 1717, and addressed to Abbot Conti, gives an interest aware of the wealth and influence enjoyed by then know the Israelites in Türkiye:

(1) the Jewish Chronicle supplements, October 26, 1923.

I note that most rich merchants are Jews. This people enjoys incredible power in the country. They have special privileges greater than those of the Tatars themselves, and constituted a gou-autonomous system, equipped with courts of law according to their own laws. They have monopolized all the reigns between them and as a result of the lazy temperament peace and lack of inclusion of the Ottomans. That Pasha has his Jew, who is his businessman; he Tinitie has all his secrets and entrusts him with all his business. No deal is done, no money received, no merchandise bought or sold without passing by their hands. You can judge the profits that result for a people knowing how to take advantage of more minimal affairs. They found a way to make themselves so indispensable that the protection of the Court is acquired by them regardless of the minister in power.

The English, French and Italian niarchands, who are aware of their artifices, are however obliged to negotiate with them, because no significant market cannot be processed without their knowledge and it is not necessary to disobey manage the least of them, because the community all whole would support him with the same energy as if he was one of its leaders. There are many among them who are immensely rich; but they take care of not display their wealth in public. However, in their homes, they live in luxury and magnificence cence (in the utmost luxury and, magnificence) (1),

Perhaps we should not generalize the observations made by Lady Wortley Montagu to Andri-

(1) Works of Mary Worthy Montagu (1803), t, il, p. 173.

1 66 Israeli imperialism

nople and Constantinople and believe that in all the provinces of the Ottoman Empire the Jews were opulent and considered, but it is appropriate to recognize that, from the 15th century, a time when religious struggles were tearing Europe apart, the Turks admitted the principle of freedom of religion. Having themselves a theocratic government, they did not refuse other breeds established on their territory benefit from it virtue of an analogous constitution. Yes, several sifecles afterwards, Muslim fanaticism committed terrible atrocities is that the Greek patriarchy, for example, become a hotbed of intrigues against the government, incited rebellion and that the communities of Armenian cities, in addition to sowing usurers in the smallest villages, were always ready to provoke foreign interventions.

The Jewish communities of Türkiye, except that had always shown themselves docile and loyal to towards the sultan. When the Greek armies occupied perent Thrace and invaded Smyrna and part of Asia Minor, the Jews, especially those of modest condition, were molested and chased. Most left took refuge in Constantinople. A 6writer of talent who applied himself to studying on site the questions of foreign policy, Mr. Maurice Pernot, questioned an occupying Israelite in Constantinople a high political situation on the reports of Jews with the Muslims of Türkiye and with the other peoples in general, and this one said to him:

The condition and organization of the Jews differ deeply depending on whether they have established themselves in country of a superior, equal or inferior civilization to theirs. In Holland, England, France, the Jews must tend to assimilate into the environment in which they lived in; in Poland, Russia, Balkans, they were, on the contrary, sometimes brought, sometimes soon forced to isolate themselves from this environment, and consequently to organize oneself, either to ensure a better existence lure, or with a view to resisting measures of ostracism or acts of persecution. When we are came to Türkiye, we found there, like ele- dominant, a people less civilized than us, proud of its military successes, jealous of its hegemony political, but otherwise affable, fair and tolerant. Life was relatively easy for us in this country: we had privileges, guarantees sufficiently broad to ensure the maintenance of our traditions religious and ethnic; guarantees and privileges were generally respected. We have never had complain about the Turks, as we had to complain about them the Armenians. When we suffered, we suffered with the Turks, neither more nor less than them- same (1).

Israeli imperialism 167

The initial thesis of this statement is well argued- table, because the tendency of the Jews to assimilate to the national, in Holland, in England, in France, is hardly visible, while their tendency to increase filter into the organizations of these countries to practice there a dominating action manifests itself in the following way sharper.

conceded and of which they make Taveu, the Israelites of Türkiye aspires to complete independence,

(1) Maurice Pernot. The Torque Question, pp. 178–179.

j 68 the imperialism of Israel has an autonomy based on clauses in favor ethnic minorities, designed for them by the League of Nations. On May 1, 1921, the delegates Jewish guages gathered at the Chief Rabbinate of Constantinople in a sort of Constituent Assembly for demand the granting of a charter “which would consecrate solemnly all the privileges granted by the sultans to the Israelite communities of their empire, would transform these privileges into permanent rights and irrevocable, and would finally provide them with a guarantee International (1)”.

But if nationalist sentiment developed among the Israelites, it also grew among the Ottomans, and the diplomatic successes, obtained at Lausanne by their tenacity and the memory of their victim stories on the Greeks, added to this the feeling of their strength.

Mustapha Kemal galvanized the old empire that we believed to be dying; he awakened his sleeping senses, restored his awareness of his nationality. To the juxtaposition of several autonomous peoples jealous, hating each other over racial issues and religion, he wanted to substitute an Ottoman nation homogeneous mane, that no Christian promiscuity or Jewish would come to annoy or disturb.

No more Armenians! They are the ones who made the couriers of the Russian invasions and the agents of European powers by provoking their inter-diplomatic or armed interventions. No more Greeks! They are the worst enemies of the Turks; they committed the wildest atrocities against villagers

(1) ibid, p. 177.

THE IMPERIALISM OF iSHAEL 1 69

harmless, during their last offensives. Then– provinces currently attached to Greece, in Albania and in Thrace for example, is⁴¹ not natural to exchange them with the Greek populations of vilayets of Asia Minor? Get exchange is by the way in the process of execution, but is not accomplished without difficulties. The attachment to the ground is such that Muslims men from Thrace would rather call themselves Christians than return to Türkiye.

As for the Jews, their stay in Turkish country is not more very desirable. Under the British protectorate, they founded a national home in Palestine, where they oppress an Arab population ten times their own. Would they have the right to complain if they were subject to a similar treatment?

Anyway, they start to moan and cry complain, even before having been beaten or expelled his. We read in the Israeli newspapers that the government Angora inaugurates a permanent campaign secution against the Jews of Türkiye. In many cities, posters were put up to encourage boycott of Jewish stores. Restrictions are allowed free movement of Israelites in the country; the chief rabbi is no longer authorized to make protests trances to the authorities on behalf of the community. Another grievance: the Jews are forced to close their shops on Friday. It should also be noted that none Jew was not called to be part of the House newly elected, due to the fact that an order of Angora made it known that only Muslims were eligible for the Assembly. Furthermore, the Turkish press, according to a Jewish-British newspaper, is leading a violent anti-Semitic campaign and there are fears that the situation does not get worse. The prospect of a Mass emigration is already being considered⁽¹⁾. If you consider that in Constantinople there are approximately ron 80,000 Hebrews, it must be admitted that the question Jewish problem arises in Türkiye as elsewhere.

170 Israeli imperialism

(1) The Jewish World, July 19, 1923.

RUSSIA AND THE JEWS

THE TESTS OF ALEXANDER I WITH A VIEW TO THE ASSIMILATION OF

JEWS. MEASURES OF RIGOR. THE JEW SURRENDERED

OBEDIENT BUT ESSENTIAL. HE BECAME THE FOURIER

of the revolution. the bangal organism is in its hands. – Role of American Jews in Business

Russians. – Financed by the high international bank,

the Soviet regime was established by Jews.

Israel's concerns. – – The last words of Le-

NINE.

It is through Poland, Turkey and the Caucasus that Jews entered Russian territory. The differences

rents people forming the vast empire of the tsars

only enjoyed relative freedom, narrowed down

health as we got closer to power

central. The children of Israel accepted this regime, spread throughout the towns and countryside,

practiced, as in Poland, Romania,

Hungary, number of small trades and particularly

Tusure. They knew how to make themselves useful as an intermediary diaries and traders, sometimes even essential

172 the imperialism of israjel

when they operated in deprived regions

of means of communication, of which the peasants do not found no outlets for their crops.

They became, on the other hand, odious by exploiting

the working classes, by monopolizing certain com-

merces, showed their contempt for the beliefs

Christians of the inhabitants, living an existence separate and strange. Also, by different ukases, were they are subject to rigorous measures, confined in certain districts.

fate of the Jews, believed that, through their intelligence and their diverse abilities, they could make services to the empire and that it was possible to modify proud of the unsympathetic and surly earactere of their mentality. Russian Judaism suffered in its religious organization a serious crisis following the dissolution of the synod which directed the communities Russian-Polish sailors and the extension taken by the dissident and fanatical sect of the Hassidim. THE tsar wanted to win the recognition of the Jews by helping to get through this chaotic and controver- contribute to their assimilation by creating schools for them use, by opening the doors of universities to them. "By tax exemptions, he encouraged Jews to engage in agriculture, manual work, to the arts and sciences, rather than holding cabarets and being money-grubbers. Afm of to disaccustom them of their awful dialect, he had them named have honorary positions those who knew how to bet and write Polish, Russian or German (1), »

(1) P. Mignot. The Jewish Problems, p. 50.

THE IMPERIALISME OF ISRAEL 173

But these efforts of the sovereign were fruitless. The great historian of Israel recognized it: "Instead to consider the instruction that we wanted their gift born as a blessing, the Jews of Russia and of Poland looked at her like a curse tion and an invitation to the Apostasy. In their eyes, their horrible jargon and their ridiculous attire had a sacred character and they were *firmly rtsolus does not bring it? no modification (1). »

Discouraged not? the failure of his attempt, Alexander I revoked the favorable measures taken k view of the Israelites.

depending, a few amines later, the mou- emancipation movement which had occurred in Germany magne had an impact in Russia. A sect of "6elaif es", the Maskiliins, was formed, with the aim of vivified local Judaism and initiated its elements young people to modern culture, to knowledge of languages, sciences, letters, philosophy. Alexander II also showed his good intentions to favor Jews by promoting these tendencies; he renewed the concessions previously made the people of Israel. For this purpose, anyone who had diplomas, engaged in agricultural work, had served in the armies, was, from the point of view of individual rights, assimilated to citizens of the empire.

But this period of pacification and tendency the assimilation did not last long:
"Far from recognizing the advantages granted by the tsar and to confirm his good intentions

(1) Graetz. cit. f t. V, p. 344.

174 Israeli imperialism

by their submission, the most exalted among the intellectuals Jewish scholars, seduced by revolutionary ideas, believed to obtain more through violence. they were of all the plots and endeavored with the anar-heists of undermining the very foundations of the state. Their der-deny attack, the assassination of the liberating tsar, was the signal of a violent anti-Semitic reaction (1). »

From then on, the most vexatious measures, the treatment strict regulations established by the Ignatieff laws were inflicted on the Jews. The result was to reject them ter all in the revolutionary groups more advanced and to reinforce among them the idea of a nationalism refractory not only to all assiforeign milation, but enemy of all others peoples.

In the first part of a very remarkable book quable, France conquered, published around twenty years ago years, Mr. Flourens, former Minister of Affairs foreigners, painted a very vivid picture of the Jews of Russia and showed that persecution is a double fault of madness when "the persecutor is incapable of doing without the assistance of the persecute, when he is condemned by his apathy to resort, for the satisfaction of his needs, his passions, of his vices, to the daily intervention of the one of which he makes his victim (2)".

The demonstration is easy to establish:

Without the good offices of the Jew, the moujick would not be able to sell his wheat or buy his cattle, the merchant supply your store or deal with your

(2) Flourens. France conquered, p. 17.

Israeli imperialism 175

due dates, the officer pays his gambling debts and these feasts sumptuous where the general staffs ruin their purses and their health, the noble maintains his servants and killer mess of his household. The Jew pe-be included in all private and public administrations bliques; he has access to ministry offices, in the secretariats of the great dues and even in the private office of Her Imperial Majesty. It is the organizer of industrial and commercial companies, Direct matchmaker in matters of the heart and money. He has his foot in the intrigues, in the cliques which become agitated, expend themselves in powerless activity within of a society worried, troubled, demoralized by the despair and boredom. He is the provider of debauches, the promoter of orgies. He knows the mysteries of the alcoves like the secrets of the staggers ries, the defects of state men like the vices of men of the court. In the middle of Tinertia, lymphatism, of general numbness, it is the spring acting ; ultimately, he is the occult master and hates (1).

It is not surprising that young and old fear him as much as they hate him. "We feel it alters the blood of his victim no less than his gold. After having stripped her of her property, he will take his flesh, the last pledge of Tinsolvable. By Taccumu-ruthless lation of his demands, he pushes the melancholic to madness, the gambler to suicide, Tivogne to crime. » So many dramas at Court, in the high society, in Tarmee and the navy, illustrate the role and the action of Israel in the social life of Russia!

Hate and contempt, the Jew supports everything, but keeps

(1) Ibid., p. 18.

17^ THE IMPERIALISM i>'l$RAEL

the hope of future revenge. Did his abuses exasperates the population of a district, at the slightest text breaks out a riot followed by a killing. Those immediately to work, that is to say to the exploitation of the Christian* Chased out of the door, they return through the window, always obsequious and feline. " In reality the Russian is the slave of the Jew, but a slave in perpetual revolt and against the yoke which Topprime and against the weakness which makes him bear it, a slave who has enough strength to beat his master, not enough to break his chain..." (1)

As a revolutionary ferment, the Jew is of a diabolical skill. At the time when the property private sector hardly existed for the peasant, the broker Jewish, traveling through the villages to buy cattle and sell wodka there, boasted to the moujicks the quality of the seigniorial lands and their beautiful dementia. When a sharing was made and the pro-individual peasant prayer was an acquired fact, the Jew insidiously applied himself to persuading the peasants that the operation had been accomplished most unfair manner. The good lands were remained with the lords and the clergy, and, for the redistribution of others, no account had been taken of the agricultural skills and family responsibilities of cultivators. It was necessary to sow seeds of discontent and revolt.

On the other hand, the Jew realizes that the moujick, stupid and improvident, will almost never know make his little estate grow and he manages to

(1) Flourens. cit, p. 19.

L. IMPERULLISM OF ISRAEL 1 77

that the earth passed from the hands of the lord into those of the peasant finally falls into his own. There Ban que hypothecate, the Land Bank, plaisament called Peasants Bank, were created for this purpose by happy capitalists. A liquid land dation of this scale must huge profits and it is fatal, because, if the Russian peasant owns land, he borrows; his passion for alcohol makes him lazy and leads him to contract new debts. Finally, the hypothecate creditors sell the land and the moujiok ruin no longer has either fire or place. Without suspecting it, the first Duma, under the benevolent eye of the Tsar, was Israel's accomplice and its instrument, in favor of laughing, under the pretext of liberalism and reform

The banks are almost all under control of the Hebrews, La Tribuna Russa (published in Berlin) gave a suggestive statistic of the Israelites fulfilling the functions of administrators, of powers and main employees in the major banks of the empire of the tsars at the beginning of the World War (2).

1° The Azov-Don Bank had a board of directors nistration of 5 members. The president and 3 administrators The directors were Jews. Out of 42 deputy directors and inspectors, there were 23 Jews. On 69 direct-directors of the branches of this bank, 44 were Jewish and the powers of the main filiates are left as follows: in Minsk, 6 Jews out of 6; has

(1) Ibid, pp. 23-24.

(2) This statistic was reproduced in the Vita Italiana of August 15, 1923.

13

178 Israeli imperialism

Warsaw, 9 out of 10; in Moscow, 12 out of 20; in Odessa, 7 out of 9.

2° Russian-Asian Bank. 4 Jewish administrators out of 6; 30 agencies out of 112 have Hebrews for directors; in the main ones, in Minsk, 4 out of 6 are Jews; in Odessa, in Kerson, all are Jews; a Kar-kof, there are only 6 out of 8.

3° Russian Bank for Foreign Trade. THE Hebrews are a little less numerous there. The board of directors includes a German, president,

3 Jews and 2 Russians. Out of 68 agencies, 33 have directorates Jewish actors; in senior personnel, we note 69 Allemands, 134 Jews and 197 Russians.

4° Russian Bank of Commerce and Industry. Of the 4 directors, 3 are Jewish and the directors of the most large agencies (Odessa, Kief, Novorossik) are also Jews.

Jew in the council, he is the vice-president, but on 42 agency directors, 26 are Hebrews. THE agencies in Warsaw, Vilna, Kief, Yevpatoria, Odessa, Moscow, Rostov-on-Don, have high staff entirely Jewish.

6° Banks united. In the council, 2 vice-presidents Jewish teeth; out of 83 agency directors, 41 are Jewish and it is the agencies of the big cities that they direct.

7° Franco-Russian Bank. 3 of the 5 agencies have Jewish directors.

If you recapitulate the senior personnel of these seven banks—that we see that in 1914, out of 2,320 people com-taking the members of the boards of directors, directors, powers of attorney, there were no less of 1,115 Jews.

Israeli imperialism 179

Revolutionary liberalism was favored in the youth of schools at the end of the 19th century, and each year, doctors, lawyers and cats, engineers penetrating this harmful culture. The Jews threw away, in the form of pamphlets and leaflets, embers ignited in these hearths. A former Russian officer from a noble family, Michel Bakunine, was their powerful auxiliary. He had known Karl Marx, shared his doctrinal ideas, pushing them knew further and had become the theorist of anarshit. Having escaped from Siberia, he took refuge in London, then to Lugano, where his disciple was Prince Kropotkin.

Jewish propaganda skillfully used his writings, exalting political assassination, the liberating bomb, disturbing brains, generating fanatics and imbalances.

The old nobility was also contaminated. Number of its members were ruined in casinos and places of pleasure of Tetranger. To try to redo their fortune, they associated themselves with businessmen crooks who took the last rubles from them, the last denied plots of land that they owned and made their creatures. "From the ancient pillar of the throne — said precisely Mr. Flourens — the Jew acted as an agent blind of the Revolution (1). »

(1) Flourens. cit, p. 26.

ISO IMPERIAUSM © ISRAEL

II

The formidable revolution which has upset⁶ if deeply affected the political and social state of Russia and scaffolds the blood on piles of corpses glamorous dictatorship of the proletariat is too pitiful of us so that we can undertake a study on it in-depth history. Behind the borders of the Federation of Soviet Republics, there is still too many mysterious shadows, The stories in tendue or read from what is happening in Russia emanate of refugees having seen only tiny details of a huge painting, or friendly travelers to the Revolution, accredited to the leaders of the regime in a political or commercial interest (1). The latter only saw this new Russia, what we wanted to show them.

On the other hand, we are better fixed on the prodromes of the revolution, over its long and methodological preparation in the cenacles of Israel.

Nietzsche and Dostoevsky had foreseen the development

(1) Among the latter we can cite M. Herriot. Visiting the Museum of the Revolution, he noticed around the round room macabre photographs illustrating scenes of massacre. Surprised at first to see these images of violent crimes exposed Chevists, he was informed that they were pogroms: "The people of Israel displays its wounds with more pride than pain. » (W. d'Ormesson. In the European night, p. 262.)

1/IMPEMAXISM B'ISRAEL 181

development of Jewish power and its character threatening for old Christian civilizations*
Hear the solemn warning given by

All these Bismarcks, these Beaconsfields, the Republic French, Gambetta and others, all* they are not for me only an appearance. Their master, like that of everything else and all of Europe is the Jew and his Bank... Judaism and the bariqties re&grieti iriaih-tenattt on everything, tatitt on V Europe that silt Finstfuc-tion, on all civilization and on socialism – by^ particularly on socialism, because, with its help, the Judaism will uproot Christianity from the race and will destroy Christian culture. And, if of that rlen does not fate, if not Anarchy, then at the head of all is will see the Jew * with his racial brothers, outside of socialism, and when all the assets of Europe will be plundered, only the Jewish bank will persist... The Jews will take Rus-sie (i).

Around the same time, 1879, a publicist who had played a role in the revolutionary movement in 1848, Wilhelm Marr, also formulated truly prophetic opinions. " I declare k out loud – he wrote – without the slightest intention ironic tion, the triumph of Judaism in Vhis-world tory; I publish the battle bulletin lost, of the victory of the enemy without any quarter-tier for Farmee defeated. » The emancipation of the Jews alleiiiiands was carried out in 1848 and, since then, the ju-Daism became an institution in the empire,

(1) Quoted* in Nicholas II and the Jews. by General Netcii-wolodow, p. 380,

1 82 i/IMPERIALISMR OF ISRAEL

a fetish that can no longer be touched; he is forbidden to defend oneself against its encroachments, to ward off the resulting dangers.

And, after listing recent victories of Israel on the various peoples of Europe, he announces solemnly the advent of Jewish Caesarism. " This is, he says, only a matter of time. » Only one state, Russia, still puts up resistance against the End-escape of the Semites. It is the last defense against which the Jews dug their last trench, and undoubtedly the capitulation of the place is imminent. In this enormous empire, "Judaism will find this point of support for Archimedes which will allow him to dear definitively of its hinges everyone of

Should we add to these predictions the testimony of a Hungarian half-Jew, taken in by Mr. Wickham Stead (2) and specifying, twelve years before the revolution Russian, that the duel was engaged between the race of Israel and the great empire of the North! From this time, this "half-Jew by blood" considered England and France as more or less conquered and the states-United as if entirely taken, without suspecting it, in the nets of Israel.

Moreover, it is among American Jews that the Russian revolutionaries found the competitions the most effective and longest lasting. One of these Israel-lites, Jacob Schiff, who was a partner, then head of the large bank of New York, Kuhn Loeb et C°, was, in 1890, reported by foreign agents of the

(1) Wilhelm Mark. Der Sieg des Judenthums, Bern, 1879, pp. 24-35.

(2) Published* in The Habsburg Monarchy.

Israeli imperialism 1 83

imperial government as a mortal enemy of Russia. The information reaching Petersburg in 1904 and 1905 show him making starts in diplomatic circles to encourage Japan declared war on Russia. He advances merae for this purpose of capital to the mikado (1).

Precise information is provided on this point by Mr. Boris Brasol, in his book The World at the Cross Road, and by Israel Zangwill, the famous writer, in The Problem of the Jewish Race.

On the other hand, Count Witte, in his Memoirs (2), recounts the interviews he had in New York during the conclusion of the Treaty of Portsmouth with delegates generations of Israelites. This is how the Minister of tsar sums them up:

Of this deputation were Schiff, if jeneme Trump, the head of the Jewish financial world in America; Doctor Strauss (former American Ambassador in Italy, I believe), both happened to be in the best terms with President Roosevelt (3) – and a few other well-known personalities. read

Jews in Russia and the need to grant them Equal civil rights. I received them very kindly-lies and cannot deny the painful situation of the Jews Russians, although pointing out to them that some
the data they transmitted to me was examined managed: but I do not try to prove to them, as I

(1) General Netchwolodow, op. cit. f p. 73.

(2) Audiences in Berlin in 1922.

(3) It is known that Jacob Schlff, Rabbi S.Wise and the leaders of the Zionist movement in America were all of mity of President Woodrow Wilson.

1 84 Israeli imperialism

am myself convinced, that if you granted a single blow to the Jews Equal rights, that could do them more harm than good^ This caused,
from Sehiff, sharp replies that the reasons
Strauss's more weighted sounds attenuated.

Compares this story to a speech given in 1920 at the grand lodge of B'nai B'rith by its president tooth, Mr. Krauss, and where reference had been made to the reception of the Jewish delegation by Count Witte, the general Netchowolodow establishes that one of the sentences sharp words said by Mr. Jacob SchirT was the following:
"If the Tsar does not want to grant his people freedom desired, then a revolution will establish the republic,
by means of which these rights will be acquired. »

The threat was serious and it appears that some sort of a syndicate of Jewish financiers was created, shortly afterwards, to promote the Russian revolution. There Russo-Japanese War and World War, if lasts and if prolonged, singularly facilitate the socialist propaganda. In this union included the bank Kuhn Lceb et C°, whose five directors were called Jacob Sehiff, Felix Warburg, Otto Kahn, Mortimer Sehiff, Hanaiier and two others Semites: Guggenheim and Max Breitung (1). It is in February 1916 when the first news arrived
of the Russian revolution which would lead to Teflontraining of the eastern front and prolonging the struggle more than two years... In the spring of 1917, Jacob financial, brings about the social upheaval of

The empire of the tsars.

(1) General Netchwolodow. Op. til., p. 98*

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 1 85

His interventions clearly showed the close relationships existing between Judaism and Bolshevism, between financial internationalism
and the workers' international.

Among the pieces published by the government
ment of Washington to the fabric of the war, figure one letter dated from Stockholm, September 21, 1917, and addressed to a Jewish socialist named Raphael Scholan. Its text leaves no room for any equivokes (1):

"Dear comrade. — The M. Warburg bank,
after receiving a telegram from the president of the Syn-Rhenish-Westphalian Diet, opened an account at the made of Comrade Trotsky's enterprise. A man of law, probably Mr. Restroff, obtained ammunition and organizes their sending at the same time as that of Vargent.... and it is to him that the sum must be remitted requested by comrade Trotsky.

« Kind regards,

FURSTENBERG.

The participation of the Rhenish-Westphalian union
This link sufficiently shows the interest that Germany had wished to promote, in concert with Jewry, the Russian revolution.

When Kerensky seized power and had proclaimed the republic, Jacob Schiff had not was able to restrain the expression of his joy. The New York Times published the text of the dispatch on April 10, 1917.
British, the current Viceroy of India, an African whom

(1) This piece was reproduced by the Dearborn Independent tooth and cited in the Old French

the Jewish banker thought it necessary to address Mr. Paul Milioukoff, the new Minister of Foreign Affairs:

Allow me, as an irreconcilable enemy of a tyrannical autocracy which mercilessly pursued our co-religionists, to congratulate, through you, the Russian people of the action they have just accomplished if brilliantly and to wish your comrades in the government and to you, full success in the great task which you assumed with so much patriotism (1.)

The patriotism of the first team of the revolution The Russian solution consisted of handing over to the second, chaired by Lenin, and which included among its leaders giants under the names of Trotsky, Morton, Zinovieff, Kameneff and so many others, Jews whose real names were Bronstein, Zederbaum, Apfelbaum, Rosenfeld.

As for Jacob Schiff, his joy was profound as he stand for the bloody victory of his race, not only lies about Tsarism but also about the Russian people whole.

Moreover, Fallegress was general on the entire front d*Israel. The great novelist Zangwill, a terrible of Judaism, written in the Jewish Chronicle, of London, a lyrical article exalting the race "which had given birth to a Beaconsfield, a Lord Reading, a Cremieux, a Friedrich and a Victor Adler, a Eisner, a Trotsky."

It's quite exciting to see them reunited, in the same spirit admiring tribute, the promoter of Imperialism British, the current viceroy of India, a minister

(1) Quoted in Nicholas II and the Jews, p. 72.

the imperijllism of Israel 187

being French, an assassin, the executioners of Hon-Grie and Russia. But the thing is clear: in various capacities and in different countries, all these characters had served the cause of Israel.

All remains, Rabbi J.-L. Magnes, in a speech pronounced in New York in 1919, had expressed before a working audience of sentiments of the same order; he had also analyzed the effects of Jewish neurosis

When the Jew gives his thoughts, his dedication in the cause of the workers, the underprivileged of the world, The spirit of exclusivism that is within him pushes him than at the roots of things. In Germany, it becomes tin Marx, a Lassalle, a Haas, an Edward Bernstein; in Austria, a Victor or a Friedrich Adler; in Russia, a Trotsky.

Consider for a moment the present situation of the Russia and Germany. The revolution liberated the creative forces; see what a large team of Jews immediately took action. Socialists revolutionaries, menclieviks, bolsheviks, socialists majority and minority – the Jews are part of all the recognized leaders, the natural leaders of these revolutionary parties (1).

In a socialist magazine, another Israelite, Mr. Co-han, exalting the role of his fellows in the revolution Soviet lution, cast a satisfied glance at the hecatombs of the world war and observed ver that: "As many Gentiles had been killed by Gentiles that there are Jews on the surface of the globe (2). »

(1) French action of April 12, 1921.

(2) The Communist, April 1919.

1 88 THE iMiPisftULisME b'tisKJUSL

III

However, the crimes, the atroeties coimnised in Russia aroused such feelings of horror and of reproach in all countries, that the Jews in experienced some embarrassment. After being published boasted of having been the sponsors of the revolution lution, they seek to escape in some way way to accountability for abominable excesses which had been the fatal consequence.

Some pogroms launched in Ukraine gave pretext to claim that the Jews were of Russia. All the leaves opened subscriptions in favor of Ukrainian Israelites.

Does the Soviet government make any declarations?
anti-religious actions? There are rabbis from Aii-England and America to protest and demand for their fellow human beings the right to practice their religion gion. The Sioiists complained, through the oigane of doctor Sapir, that 800 of them, who wanted to returned to Palestine, had been prevented from doing so by the Moscow government (1). They neglected to make it known that a Soviet decree had prohibited
Immigration, considering that the measures taken

(1) The Jewish World, February 8, 1923*

the imperialism of israjel 189

Tegard of the Fusses populations cannot apply
ask those of their race.

As if they had a presentiment that the regno dictatorship of the proletariat over the old empire of the tsars will no longer be for a very long time, it seems that a slogan is given to attenuate, otherwise stain
to forget the role of the Jews in the formidable revolution.

In a very recent book (1), Doctor Pasmanik seeks to establish that "Bolshevism" is a phenomenon essentially Russian nomene and that the coups
who gave birth to Soviet power have no
were prepared, but were provoked exclusively sively by war. The thesis is difficult to sustain hold on and it is in vain that, for Tetayer, Tauteur states that the secret report from Dournovo, public recently by order of the government, and which relates to the origins of the revolution, does not speak of the Jews, However, it is enough to go through the list of people's commissars to see in what proportion the Jews were called to seize the main positions of the new regime. Having so active vely participated in the destructive work, they wanted to be the architects of Tedifice... But the doctor Pasmaanik has claims to serene impartiality.
His conclusion is that Bolshevism is the work of Christians and Jews and that, to fight against this scourge, collaboration, close union of the forces of both are necessary. We will not try

Another confidential report relating to

(1) The Russian Revolution and the Jews, Paris, 1923.

190 the imperialism of israel

events of 1905, that of Count Lamsdorff, addressed on January 3, 1906 to Tsar Nicholas II (published in The American Hebrew newspaper and reproduced in the International Review of Secret Societies of December 9, 1923), did not fail to point out Fac-Jewish capitalists against Russia and to assert sea that "the revolutionary movement" was, this time "not only supported, but, until a certain point, directed by the foreigner.

Count Lamsdorff was not content with firmer, he explained the reasons for his conviction:

On the one hand, the strike broke out with particular and extended over all of Russia, neither before nor after October, that is to say just when our government was trying to make a foreign loan considerable without the participation of the Rothschilds, and just in time to prevent this financial operation crier e, the panic caused among buyers and the owners of Russian bonds being unable to aim to provide new advantages to banks Jews and Jewish capitalists, who speculated ment and wisely on the decline in Russian funds (1).

On the other hand, the anti-government movement which ignites after the appearance of the manifesto of October 17, slows down considerably when the masses of the Russian people, who were not taken into account consideration by the revolutionaries, began to react against anti-government demonstrations killed by pogroms.

In addition, certain very significant facts, including the press also mentioned, fully confirm the link

(1) Telegram from private advisor Nelidow dated 1/14 December 1905.

obvious that exists between the revolution movement-Russian naire and foreign Jewish organizations. Thus, for example, the importation of weapons which, according to The information of our agents was trafficked on the European territory by order of England, may be properly appreciated if you take into consideration deration that, from the month of June 1905, a committee special Anglo-Jewish was openly established in England-land, with the aim of collecting money to arm fighting groups of young Jews and that the well-known anti-Russian publicist, Lucien Wolff, was the managing member of this committee. On the other hand, in faced with the fact that the sad consequences of the revolutionary propaganda reached the Jews themselves same, another committee of Jewish capitalists formed in England, under the presidency of Lord Rothschild, which raises considerable sums in England, in France and Germany, with the official aim declares to help Russian Jews, victims of pogroms. Finally, the Jews of America, without thinking that it is necessary to make a formal distinction between two objects, raised funds to help the victims of pogroms and to arm the youth Jewish (1).

It is difficult to maintain that the Jews, who had so well prepares the way for the Soviet government, ceased to be closely linked to him after his triumph and seek to separate themselves from it.

On September 13, 1923, we officially inaugurated-an all-Russian exhibition in Moscow, as a first sence of MM. Tchitcherine, Commissioner for Affairs

(1) Communication by Emile Deschamps in the Journal of Saint-Pertesbourg (December 23, 1905).

192 L? IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

foreigners; Krassine, commerce commissioner exterior; Enukidze, member of the Central Committee executive of the Soviets. Mr. Mereszin, head of sections Jews of the exhibition, gave an inaugural speech gural. In response, Mr. TchitcUerine declared that "the Jewish worker had and the most active agent of the mou-?

laughed and loved him so much. "Before the war, he himself had campaigned in Whitechapel with workers Jews against an imperialist war. It was for him a very great joy to inaugurate the pavilion Jewish (1). »

Mr. Erukidze spoke in the same sense and Mr. Kras-sine expressed his personal congratulations. He explains that the reasons why the government had believed it necessary to prohibit emigration. Russian Jews were not so keen to leave the territory tory of the Soviet Republic, where they collaborated rayed to a grandiose work. The Jewish pavilion of the exhibition attested to their efforts and success. Russians will never forget: "that we owe Judaism Karl Marx, Ferdinand Lassalle and Leon Trotsky! »

A note from the Jewish Correspondence Bureau stated that Palestine had participated in this exhibition all-Russian through the Jewish Confederation of work that operates under the Jewish mandate British.

However, Israel's leaders are not without having serious concerns about the fate Jews from Russia. These hold the best

(1) The Jewish Chronicle, September 21, 1923.

i/IMPERIALISM of iSRAJSL ig3

government positions, firmly occupy the avenues of power, but sinister creaks manifest themselves in the Soviet framework. The soldier, the peasant, the worker are detaching themselves from this regime which gave them certain satisfaction, but stopped inspire them with confidence. And like the pro-masses founders of the country know that the Jews were the instigaters, authors, profiteers of the upheaval-social ment which brought down the empire of the tsars, they will bear the responsibilities of their misery and their disillusion. In a communication recently, the Chief Rabbi of England alluded to the pogroms of which the communities are victims your Jews when the Soviet dictatorship ends.

The death of Lenin, who was a force of intelligence at the same time as a symbol of communication and the beginnings of a great popular anti-Jewish? Some symptoms, although still unclear, seem to indicate this.

What is curious is that Lenin, one of the rare characters of Russian blood who appear among the promoters of the revolution, affected by an illness die cruel and who, for many months, has not participated only intermittently pays to the government councils ment of which he remained as president tooth, Lenin, whose exhausted brain was not projected more than passing lights, was aware irreparable evils of which he was the author. II in wanted those who were his accomplices, his helpers related, to those who had perhaps sown in him these poisonous germs, developed by its time perament of impulsiveness and revolt.

14

194 THE IMPERIALISMS OF ISRAEL

A Daily Mail correspondent, Sir Percival Philipps, very documents on Russia and on under the Soviet regime, asserts that, in his retirement of Gorky, Lenin was, some time before his death, prey to nervous crises and k a exaltation which obliged his people to exercise on him close monitoring; he constantly repeated this sentence: a May God save Russia and kill the Jews(l)! »

Lenin feeling remorse, Lenin believing in God and cursing those who, in agreement with him, prepared and carried out the bloody revolution... There. enough to surprise general opinion.

However, the various elections which took place during the fall of 1923 have already caused surprises to Russian communists and their friends from abroad. The documents provided on this subject by the Interior police station, on November 3 ber 1923, are very eloquent. In the Soviets district capitals, out of 1,501 elected officials, there are 872 communists, or 58%. At the cantonal assemblies, out of 45,224 elected officials, there are only 7,529 communists, or 16.6% and in the rural Soviets, 10,327 out of 98,605 elected, or 10.5% (2).

Soviet nationals, gives an idea of the misery of the popular classes:

"If you go very late at night or early in the morning on the streets of the Moscow ring road you will see in boilers intended for Asphalt an "as-

(1) The Daily Mail Issue of February 1, 1924.

(2) See The Jewish Tribune of December 10, 1923.

the imperialism of Israel 195

"living phalte": homeless children, hold them against each other to be warmer, including lottent. It is the same around boilers, On Pavement. »

We understand that the dictatorship of the proletariat has generates disaffection and hatred.

The NEP (Novaia Economiceskaia Politica), who wanted to reestablish certain freedoms and authorize some private initiatives in the economic field mic, did not produce appreciable results. Strikes are increasing, despite draconian measures coniennes taken to stop them.

In the International Review of Secret Societies (1), MB Arkow also asserts that a religious reaction and morality manifests itself in rural environments and even among urban youth:

Soviet efforts to establish in Russia Morality and a frenzied anti-Christianity, which is worst of the Talmud, have not obtained all the results that were expected. On the contrary, they have rather provokes a serious reaction from the mass popular and these odious campaigns have alienated the Soviets even the youth. Faith, Christian virtue, become the forbidden fruit, only have more attraction traits of diffusion and strength: today sincere and often heroic, they can only be fruitful, The few young people from honest families who include ^1 the famous "Consomol" (Communis- iiceskaja socialisliceskaia molodiegi – youth com-socialist communist) only do it themselves to higher education courses that exist in Russia. But if Tune or

(1) Issue of December 31, 1923.

1 96 Israeli imperialism

Another one of these recruits was trying to act real "consomolist", he would be quarantined by his comrades.

If we are to believe a correspondent from the Patriot (1), from London, several months before Lenin's death, the situation of the Soviet government was already become very precarious and this would explain the efforts of certain Russian Jews established in Paris to link party with a group of liberal monarchists formed by Russian refugees in France. Meadow-resident of this group was once the leader of a monarchical constitutional party and led a philosemite journal. He therefore seems acquired in this campaign against which the General Netchwolodow, during a meeting quite tumultuous which ended without any decision being made socket.

Russian Israelites are not reassured about the fate that awaits them when the regime disappears of which they prepared and ensured the triumph over Tsarist autocracy.

(1) Issue of October 18, 1923.

CHAPTER VII

THE JEWS OF FRANCE

In the time of Saint Louis. – In the 18th 6th century. – Their

CIVIL AND POLITICAL EMANCIPATION. NAPOLEON AND THE Jews of Alsace. – Under the July Monarchy.

– Adolphe Isaac Gremieux. – The founding of al-UNIVERSAL ISRAELITE alliance. NATURALIZATION IN full Franco–German war of the Jews of Algeria.

ÉDOUARD DRUMONT AND “JEWISH FRANCE”. LAKE-
JEWISH TION IN PANAMA, BAKERY AND BUSINESS

Dreyfus. – Mr. Émile Cohen and the assimilation of FRENCH JEWS. TUNISIAN AND MOROCCAN JEWS.

France was always “a sweet country” for Hebrews. Some pseudo–historians of Israel have tries to establish that their race was persecuted there, but this thesis is contradicted by doctors of good faith like the famous Talmudist Jacob Fromer and Rabbi Korb. The latter wrote: “It seems that the Jews were attracted there as much by the charm of this rich and picturesque country only by the character
open and generous of its inhabitants with whom

I98 i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

they had, for several centuries, relations
the most cordial. Without enjoying all the freedoms, they benefited at least from a broad tolerance...
Israeli schools, attended by many disciples eager to learn, merged into many of cities and in particular in Paris, Orleans, Melun, Corbeil, Troyes, Narbonne (1). »

In the Middle Ages, at the time of the Crusades, there were many tumults from which the Israelites were victims ; they were reproached for the practice of usury
more than that of their religion, but in fact of battles nuns, let us compare those who were delivered to the Jews, to those where the Christians were involved dissidents: Albigensians, Waldensians, Protestants!

It is true that Saint–Louis had the Talmud burned,
but an Israelite, MR Groos, explains that, in this in doing so, the holy King did not “persecute” his co–religious gonaires:

His only intention was to destroy this book stable, which he regarded as the main obstacle to kingdom, and thus eliminate this heterogeneous Element

gefcne, whose dissidence was more and more evident in Tfitat and became a danger for National Tunite.
The Jews having remained resistant to any attempt ative of assimilation and tending, on the contrary, to form a true fitat in Tfitat, Saint-Louis must have bow to the evidence of the fact and recognize & this exotic people their quality of foreigner that they want preserve milk. G is to mark with an external sign laughing at this voluntary isolation where the Jews placed themselves

(1) Quoted by Mr. Rene Groos: The Jews in France before the Revolution, Universal Review of October 15, 1923.

i/IMPERIALISM OF LSR AEL 1 99

stubbornly, that he obliged them, by the ordinance of 1269, to carry the wheel, not (it must be insisted, because this subject has caused a lot of ink to be spilled) for the humiliate, but to distinguish them, to empfc-expensive to conceal, when they believe they have an interest to do so, their status as foreigners (1).

The ghetto was not, as is generally believed-element, a neighborhood, a sort of prison where Jews
had orders to reside, it was a location
granted, often by the generosity of the sovereign,
where they could, according to their desire, live among themselves quite apart from the Gentiles. What if the ghetto was often next to the church, this is because, in the event of trouble,
the church was a place of asylum offering complete security.

But the ghettos in France do not survive
in medieval times and the Jews no longer sought to distinguish themselves, by their external appearance and their gender of life, of the populations among which they reside
dait.

When the Israelites were driven out of Spain and Portugal, a fairly large contingent of fugitives came to settle in Bayonne and Bordeaux. They were well received and their situation became well-very prosperous. In Bordeaux, they seized the majority of maritime trade and, for be favorably seen by the royal authority, they did not hesitate to convert to Catholicism. We called them the "new Christians"; they pretended the most loyal subjects of the kingdom. During
of the serious illness of Louis XV, their community

(1) Mr. Ren  Groos. Universal Review of October 15, 1923, p. 275.

200 Israeli imperialism

transmitted to the king a most touching address and most pious. But their religious conversion was quest of sincerity and when the authorization to them was given, the descendants of the "new chrif- here" returned en masse to the religion of Israel, which they never stopped practicing secretly.

The Portuguese Jews of Bordeaux had your days enjoyed successive advantages and privileges confirmed by Henri III, Louis XIV, Louis XV, Louis XVI ; the governors protected them openly ment and this explains the wealth they acquired in industry and rearmament. Their freezers established in the Comtat Venaissin were not nan no more to complain about. They formed four communities main: Avignon, Carpentras, Cavaillon and risle-sur-Sorgue, enjoying a constitution com- mune, of aristocratic essence, which assured them a broad autonomy Advisors and bayons directed the administration, fixed and collected taxes, controlled the schools; a rabbinical court f one- was talking. The domination of the Holy See was demonstrated benevolent, paternal, Attending sermons, the wearing of a yellow hat, the ban *-■ any theoretical - to exercise professions other than that thrift store, were the only measures of order a little vexatious imposed by the pontifical viguier appointed to the surveillance of communities (1).

In Alsace, reunited with France, the Jews suffered are still subject to certain restrictions for some time and vexations imposed by Germany. It's that Protestant Germany had shown itself differently

(1) P. Raphael. Op. cit., p. 20,

Israeli imperialism 201

rigorous as Catholic France, k Tegard of Hebrews. Luther, after having tried in vain to convert to his Reformed religion, had them harshly treated in his pamphlet: The Jews and their Mentheir synagogues are pore stables, they must be burn, because MoSse would do it if he came back to the world.

They drag divine words through the mud; they live on evil and plunder; they are evil beasts
I should be chased away like dogs rages. »

Under the domination of the kings of France, restrictions customary traditions of Alsatian Jews diminished gradually and, on the eve of the Revolution, the communities numbered around 19,000 souls, and monopolized in Alsace and as far as Lorraine the trading horses and cattle.

As for the Jews of Paris and the big cities, they could hardly consider themselves badly treated,
In the 18th century, Joseph Athias was a printer in the capital, a Cohen was a pensioner of the king, under a foreign scholar; Samuel Bernard was re^uk
the Court, The Marseille traders having claimed the expulsion of the Israelites in 1681, who were for them formidable rivals, Colbert invited the government neuror, Mr. deRouille, is carrying out an investigation, but adding so much ; "You must be careful that jealousy of commerce will always lead merchants to be of opinion to chase them away (1). » An extract from "the state of Jews domiciled in Paris on June 13, 1775," drawn up by Paul d'Estrees, mentioned (six trading families*

(1) R. Groos. cit, p. 276

202 Israeli imperialism

Qants, one of professors, one of industrialists, a director-
director of the tobacco factory and a secretary interpreter of the king's library.

Bernard Lazare recognizes this: The situation of Jews were rather enviable in France; from day to day
day, a wider tolerance was manifested towards them
regard ; the world was closing in on them. » But, added
he was silent: "Did they get closer on their tour around the world?
No. They seemed to become more and more attached to their mystical patriotism; the further they went, the more the dreams of Kabbalah haunted them... (1). »

And, after having alluded to the collusions of the Jews
with the Illuminists, Tecrivain Israelite continues his indictment:

As the world became kinder to them, the Jews – at least the mass – withdrew in themselves; they narrowed their prison, they bonded with closer ties. Their decay was unheard of, their intellectual collapse was only matched by their moral degradation... (2).

The Israelites should have loved France, where they had been able to live peacefully and get rich under effective protection of kings and clergy. Their directions giants, those among them who were intellectuals, had as their objective, at the end of the 18th century, the upheaval of its social order, the ruin of traditions which had given it its strength (3). They affiliate

(1) Anti-Semitism, p. 153.

(2) Ibid., p. 155.

(3) The first pamphlets against Marie-Antoinette were published in London by a Jew named Angelucci and who called Hatkinson (The Hidden Authors of the Revolution) tion, by Pouget de Saint-Andre) p. 38.

Israeli imperialism 203

to the secret societies, to the Masonic lodges that we created in Paris and in the provinces, and it is from Berlin that the slogans came on various occasions.

A wave of prosematism had crossed Europe central during the publication, in 1781, of the great vrage of Dohm on Improvement of the condition Jews. It was in France that it broke. Mirabeau, sent on a mission to Berlin, frequented the salon of a beautiful Jewish woman, Henriette de Lemos, met Dohm there; and, having become a philosemite in his turn, he published, in 1787, in London, a book inspired by the same documents trines and the same ideas (1). Voltaire, while hating- both personally the Israelites, however, made their play-by-law of Christianity, and so as not to put into contradiction with human philosophy nitarian k fashion.

The French Revolution would promote T emanci- political pation of race. Already in 1787, Louis XVI had asked Malesherbes to convene a commission notable Jewish people responsible for preparing Tamelioration of the situation of their co-religionists. The Israelites of Bordeaux and Bayonne participated in the elections bishops of Alsace and Lorraine had the faculty of present their demands.

The Constituent Assembly would not take long to understand deny their wishes by opening the doors of power to them policy. After several sessions filled with discussion lively sessions where Abbe Maury, Prince de Broglie, Rewbell, Bishop of Nancy, fought a proposal situation tending to benefit the Jews from the advantages

(1) Mrs. Webster. Op, cit, p. 19.

204 i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

of the "Declaration of the Rights of Man", which held the Marquis of Clermont-Tonnerre, Rabaud-Saint-fitienne, Fabbe Gregoire and Robespierre, the Constituent Assembly, on January 28, 1790, gave full satisfaction faction to the Jews of Bayonne, Bordeaux and Comtat venaissin whose territory was going to be annexed tory. Twenty months later, a new deliberation, against which Rewbell alone seems to have protested, extended the measure to the Israelites in all regions.

II

We cannot write, nor even condense and summarize sea in a chapter of a book of this format, the history of Jews in France. The most I can try to mark the stages of the upward march from Israel.

The Revolution, I indicate in the pages consacred to TAUGermany, was an excellent vehicle to promote Jewish emancipation. These had been one of the best "ferments" ever tionaries, to use a word from Renan; they should be rewarded.

Everywhere the armies of the Revolution penetrated and the Empire, democratic ideas spread, carrying with them the principles of tolerance, lity of rights, of fraternity, so conducive to liberation of the Hebrews of all restrictive measures or vexatious acts to which they were subjected. At the time of the Crusades, we exalted the Gesta Dei per Francos; we were going to record in Germany, in Austria, the Gesta Judceorum per Francos.

Bonaparte had no prejudice against the Jews. During the Egyptian expedition, he tried to constitute a body of Israelite troops, and to recruit it, in precursor of Zionism, he almost promised to help the Jews to retake Jerusalem to rebuild the Solomon's temple.

After having girded the imperial crown, he received numerous complaints relating to the processes including used, with regard to rural owners, the Israelis lites of Lorraine and Alsace; and he was thus led to study the Jewish question. A recent work (1) gives curious details on the way in which the Council of state and Napoleon himself considered the pro-pale poses. The Minister of the Interior and the Great Judge, in reports addressed to the Emperor, had reported the distress of the owners of several several Test departments following the borrowings made to Jews at ruinous interest rates. Lesson- The State Council received a voluminous file annexed to these reports and a young auditor, Mr. Mole, was put in charge to strip it and examine it.

In his Memories, Count Mole relates that this matter seemed very important to him and Tinteressa digitally:

I wasn't entirely new to this question – he wrote – I knew and believed what religion gives us

(1) Count Mole (1781–1855). His life. His memoirs, by the Marquis de Noailles, Paris, Champion.

206 Israeli imperialism

teaches about the curse of which the Jewish people are trapped I had searched more than once for an explanation of their strange morality on the usury that they practiced towards Christians; finally, I had asked myself, everything by continuing my studies on this subject, if the Christians and Christian governments had not

of these duties was not to seek to render them more honest, failing to be able to convert them and I rejoiced at the opportunity that had arisen to examine them again and have a practical point of view tick (1).

So he set to work, working in the library imperial to document itself on the Jews, read carefully all the documents of the reports, and went realizes that the evil complained of by Alsations and Lorraine was real, free from exaggeration and that it it was important to remedy this.

But when he presented his presentation and his conclusions ions, he came up against the bias of the president of his section, Mr. Regnault and advisors.

Mr. Regnault showed himself to be the resolute defender of Israelites:

Submit them to the same laws, grant them the same conditions as other men, do not not an exception, for their worship nor their beliefs, has this great principle of freedom of conscience, the most precious of the conquests of 89, and you will see them soon rise from their abasement and abandon false maxims with the help of which they practice usury, and which were for them only a means of defense, a

(1) Ibid., t. I, p. 90.

the imperialism of Israel 207

revenge, or, if you like, revenge taken from their oppressors (1).

After a short debate, in which Mr. Beugnot abounded in the meaning of President Regnault and represented the Jnifs as life times of Christian prejudice which had "made weigh degrading rigors on them," this advisor was appointed rapporteur.

It therefore seemed that an agenda devoid of sanction would end the affair. But Napoleon, who was then in Saint-Cloud, gathered the Council there of state on the very day when the "affair" was to be liquidated of the Jews and presided over the session.

Mr. Beugnot, "red and trembling," repeated the speech declamatory and philanthropic in favor of Jews, whom the Emperor seemed to like poorly. He shrugged his shoulders several times, and when the rapporteur finished, in a few nervous sentences, Napoleon "expressed his contempt for firm minds who accused Christian prejudice. To come to relief of Beugnot, Regnault, disconcert like he declared to the Emperor that the reports transmitted to the Council of State had been the subject of an examination in-depth and that an auditor had been responsible for research the status of the Jews: "What is it? interrupted Napoleon. – Mr. Mole. –Is he there? He got up. – Do you have your job? – No, sire, I gave it to the president of the interior section. » Then, addressing Mr. Re-

(1) Count MoU, t. I, p. 92.

208 Israeli imperialism

gnault: "I want you to give it to Maret to let him send it tomorrow to the Moniteur (1). »

The Emperor read the printed report, found it interesting sad, and the following Sunday, after the reception habitual, summoned the young listener and deigned to maintain with him. The statements he made were collected by Mole:

Have you examined, he said to me, these Jewish affairs? It's serious. I cannot allow all the pro-priests of Alsace and part of Lorraine be despoiled by usury, they and their children. Ge would be a come to my face to tolerate it any further tage. I owe the same protection to all French people and I cannot regard these Jews as French who suck the blood of true French people. The way to use is, I know, very difficult. The lawyers oppose me the respect of the commitments subscribed freely is lying. But I only see the practical result and, if I did nothing, this result here would be spoliation of a multitude of families by usurers rapacious and merciless. The Jewish people, of whom tence is so singular, presents great problems to solve. To what extent do governments could enlightened people and Christians raise it little of his abasement? Since you did bad comes especially from this indigestible compilation called the Talmud and where is found, alongside their veritable biblical traditions, the most corrupt morality stinks, as soon as it comes to their relations with the Christians hold ?

(1) Ibid., p. 95.

Israeli imperialism 209

Ending the interview, the emperor expressed his astonishment that Jewish schools were not supported placed under no supervision and his desire to "purify the rabbis" and give them a hierarchic

As an epilogue, an imperial decree, dated May 6, 1866, countersigned by the minister secretary d'état Maret, came to the aid of the farmers of Alsace and called an assembly of notable Israelites. The first two articles were written as follows:

First article. – It is suspended for one year, from the date of this decree, to all executions judgments or contracts, other than by simple precautionary acts against farmers or traders from the departments of Sarre, Roer, Mont-Tonnerre, Haut and Bas-Rhin, Rhine and Moselle, Moselle and Vosges, when the titles against these cultivators will have been granted by them in favor of the Jews.

Art. 2. – It will be formed on July 15, in our good city of Paris, an assembly of individuals professing the Jewish religion and living in the territory French (1).

The assembly meets; it included sixty fourteen deputies from the Israeli communities, including sixty-one represented Alsace, Lorraine and the Rhineland. The State Council commission responsible for the application of the decree was composed of two advisors, Pasquier and Portalis, and of Mole, appointed master of requests. She invited the assembly appointed a committee of nine members, which appointed a Portuguese Jew, Mr. Furtado, as president.

(1) Count Molt, t. I? p. $9.

According to Mole, this one "was from Bordeaux and combined with a beautiful face and the best manners a cultivated mind; he knew infinitely better the writers of the 18th century than the Talmud and sought the truth much more in Voltaire than in no Jewish or Christian writer (1)."

The assembly appeared docile, declared that the Jews considered France their homeland and would defend it "until death"; she accepted the directives given by the Council committee of state, except as regards management mixed between Christians and Jews. A great Sanhedrin bringing together rabbis from all corners of the world had to approve the conclusions adopted by the assembly. The rabbis of France would be civil servants, paid by the state like curés and Protestant pastors. We would expel from the Talmud the most unfortunate passages. Enclosed in frames rigid of the centralizing empire, the Jews abandoned would not realize their national dreams and, "given their little number, no longer being protected by barriers linked to religious or social, they would inevitably be absorbed by the natives (2)".

But this Napoleonic dream was not to come true. The administrative measures taken with regard to Israelites were without effect or even had an effect contrary to what was expected (3); they don't take them

(1) Ibid., p. 105.

(2) The Jewish Problem and Nationalities, by P. Mignot, p. 46.

(3) Abbe Leman, in Napoleon I" and the Israelites, accuses Emperor for having galvanized rabbinism and for having given

Napoleon, moreover, absorbed through his campaigns soldiers, no longer had the leisure to take care of the Jewish question. However, a decree dated March 17, 1808 came to restrict commercial freedoms of the Jews of Alsace and the Rhine departments (1), for a period of ten years, but it does not appear that this decree was rigorously executed.

Under the Restoration, the Jews did not do much suddenly talk about them; they continued to benefit from the regime that they owed to the principles of the Revolution. Some bankers from Frankfurt and Germany came to reinforce those who had already storefront ; several Israelites converted to gain the good graces of the royal family – among others Deutz, who became the steward, the man of confidence of the Duchess of Berri, and who owed her betray, deliver her, like Judah, to the government by Mr. Thiers.

The July Monarchy, considering the Jews at only religious point of view, wanted to abolish inequality still existing between faiths. The Minister of Public Education and Religious Affairs, Mr. Merilhou, took the initiative to submit a proposal granting state salaries for rabbis and a sort of official character to the Talmud by organizing permanent meetings of rabbis and allowing the central consistory of Paris.

(1) P. Raphael. Op. cit., p. 27.

212 I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

pastors and members of the clergy. When defending his bill – which was voted on by a large majority in Parliament – he was referring to the fitats of Germany and Austria in these terms: “While that most neighboring nations are still, at this respect, under the empire of the prejudices of the Middle Ages, you show that the initiative, in legislation, of ideas large and generous, still belongs to our beautiful homeland (1). In the House of Peers, Admiral Verhuell was almost alone in fighting the project, which two of the commissioners of the Council supported of State of the Empire: Portalis and Mole.

Not content with showing their sympathy for the Jews of France, certain politicians became defenders of Jews abroad. La Fayette chairs a committee whose purpose is to improve of the fate of the Israelites in Poland. Hippolyte Carnot is outraged by the situation of those of the Confederation Germanic, declaring that it was "permitted to France to remind Germany that if all humanity owes reparations to the people of Moses, for so many centuries of humiliation and barbarism, the Aue-magne particularly registered, in her own history, among its main debtors (2)". He leaves The Chamber almost had to invite Guizot to inter-come to the Saxon government in 1841, because a Jew from France had been expelled from Dresden under a local law excluding its con-generates professions...

The revolution of 1848 would allow the Jews to

(1) Monitor, November 14, 1830.

(2) Anlisemitism and pan-Germanism. p. 46.

I/IMPERIALISM OF Israel 21 3

take a new step and, for the first time, to achieve a partial conquest of political power.

The usurping monarchy was overthrown by a republican insurrection and two Israelites became members of the provisional government: Michel Goud-lime, Minister of Finance, and Adolphe Cremieux, Justice Ministry. The first was a sidekick without great importance, but the second played a role prominent in the history of Judaism in XIXth century.

A small lawyer at the Nimes bar, he had acquired a reputation as a very gifted orator and a habit quickly consumed. Its ugliness was proverbial. Mr. Robert Launay analyzes it thus: "A huge head that her frizzy hair grew even larger, foreign to any culture, the face of a cabotin specialist in ugly creations, an irregularly broken forehead, a ball nose taunting the sky, lips between gapes revealing teeth without freshness; raised eyes, half-closed with heavy eyelids, slow, soiled with dirt. His Quasimodo body, stocky, heavy, picked up, did not gain much from relevation of Taccoutrement; he wore it scrupulously, not even knowing how to usually avoid the tri-viability of attitudes (1). »

From the Nimes bar, the Jewish lawyer, who had become a reputation as a liberal and patriot in defense dant before the courts of the Restoration of Bonapartist conspirators, emigrated to Paris. The avement of the Orleanist monarchy was favorable to him.

(1) Jewish figures, p. 11.

214 i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

With some intrigue and some money, he bought the office of Odilon Barrot and became a lawyer at the Con- the king's throne and the Court of Cassation. In 1837, he half of these functions to get started more freely in politics. It was around this time that he met countered a young Jewish theater woman – the famous Rachel – in difficulty with the Comedie-FranQaise for the termination of his contract. He was his lawyer, his protector, his French teacher; like her had little spelling and good manners, he accepted to be her volunteer secretary and to guide her in her romantic correspondence as in his letters business. He certainly found in this collection boration of charm and real profits with a view to his ambitions. We know that the range of relations of the great actress was lying down: from the doctor Veron, director of the Opera, to the Prince of Joinville, passing through Alfred de Musset, Count Duchatel, Ms. de Girardin and Chateaubriand.

Sent to the House by the voters of Chinon, Cremieux took part in the banquet campaign and he maneuvers as best he can during the days gone by tionaries. On February 24, terrible disarray reigned at the Tuileries. The Jewish deputy sneaks in; the Due of Montpensier introduces him to Louis-Philippe, to whom he has the confidence to advise the formation of a ministry Odilon Barrot, of which naturally he would be part.

He returns a little later, having learned of the abdication of the King of the French in favor of the Count of Paris, nant, he accompanies Queen Marie-Amelie until her car, under color to protect it.

Israeli imperialism 21 5

In the end, he realizes that the regency is no longer possible, and he goes up to the rostrum of the House to demand the constitution of a provincial government evening. Names are put forward: Ledru-Rollin, Marie, Lamartine, Garnier-Pages. We cheer them; that of Cremieux led to protests; but the Jew doesn't care, joins his acclaimed colleagues in the room where they retired and he himself told adventure: "As I entered, Marie and Garnier-Pages said to me: – But, Cremieux, you are you not a member of the provisional government? I said to Marie: If you are one of them, it is only me who you must (1). »

And, without further ado, remarks M. Robert Launay, "he settles down, decrees, initials. His conversion was made: he who, in the morning, was in the opposition dynastic order, signed a proclamation at four o'clock mation ending with this article: The government provisional wind to the Republic (2). »

He did not stay in power long. Although Louis Napoleon owed him a certain gratitude, because he had contributed to the repeal of the law banning against the Bonapartes, the Prince-President passed on his competition, which Cremieux did not forgive not to Telu of the plebiscite. His ambition was very vast, but it is fair to recognize that he always put it in the service of those of his race.

When during the war that Mohamed supported Ali against Sultan Mahmoud, a French cleric was assassinated by the rabbi of Damascus with the complicity

(1) Ad. Cremieux. In 1848.

(2) Jewish figures, p. 20.

confessions and were sentenced to death. The word "crime ritual" having been pronounced, the Israelites of the world around Third parties were upset and demanded a review of the trial. Cremieux was their spokesperson; he left for Damas, harassed Mohamed Ali, took advantage of his needs financial to make him attractive offers, and the Pasha of Egypt pardoned the assassins.

This news was greeted with explosions of joy in Israel. In his turn <T Orient, Cremieux, treated as a triumphant by the Jewish colonies of cities he crossed", Trieste, Vienna, received from Germany magne a gold hand staff, badge of sovereignty net (1). His popularity was prodigious among his congeneres and he took the opportunity to found, in 1860, Y Al-universal Israeli alliance, powerful and formidable who, beneath a harmless exterior, does not tend meant for nothing less than to federate, to closely unite Jewish communities scattered across the world and k reconstitute the government of Israel.

The apparent purpose of the alliance was stated in the statutes and consisted of: 1° working to remancipation and moral progress of the Israelites; 2° lend effective support for those who suffer through their qualite of Israelites; 3° encourage any publication suitable for bringing about this result.

But, alongside these publicized objectives, it was less admitted. Cremieux also counted on their on the support of Freemasonry to develop his work; he himself was a grandmaster of the Scottish Rite and we saw, in a chapter

(1) Jewish figures, p. 30.

Israeli imperialism 217

precedent, the influence exerted in the countries Anglo-Saxons the Jewish grand lodge of B'nai B'rith. The Universal Israelite Alliance therefore prospered; she has multiplies Jewish schools, particularly in the East, and, under the pretext that our language is taught there, she receives subsidies, encouragement, French government books.

((Napoleon III – an Israeli writer notes this – resumed, with regard to the Jewish question, the role which, since 1789, had traditionally been the one science and looked with sympathy at the creation of V Universal Israelite Alliance... (1)". He thought he was obliged to intervene with the Roman government hand, which sought to defend itself against the invasion of the Jewish race, without having the slightest idea of persecut his religion, and was not afraid to confide to a Israelite a ministerial department. Under his reign, the number of Jewish bankers had increased singularly increased; their relationships had become closer with their confreres from abroad and the foundations were established international high finance, which was to soon exert its action on all governments and become mistress of the money markets.

(1) R. Raphael. cit, p. 53.

218 Israeli imperialism

III

New stage in Israel's victorious march:
the war of 1870-71. Revolutions and wars are always auspicious for Jews. During these periods morally and materially troubled, the genius d'Israel knows how to maneuver wonderfully. Oven-troops, armament, negotiations for positions
loans, commercial treaties resulting from peace,
all this provides material for commissions,
combinations advantageous to bankers,
merchants, to the merchants of Judaism, and, when they have the good fortune to have agents at within governments, with financial advantages greatly increased are added to the profits of another order: administrative, honorary and political.

Was Gambetta Jewish? Drumont claimed that he descended from German Jews established in Genoa and who had, like many others, Italianized their names. In any case, in the government of September 4, Cremieux, renewing the blow which had succeeded in 1848, had taken over the management of Justice, and his colleagues were Picard and Si-
My. Gambetta, Jewish or not, had been secretary of Creamy and trained at his school. Also, when the fundator of the "Universal Israelite Alliance"

But did all the Jews of Algeria encounter no opposition. A few weeks after seizing the power, in the middle of the war, on October 24, the government of National Defense issued a decree health this serious reform. There followed a serious revolt, because the Arabs, who bowed to our weapons and our nationality, could not admit that the Jews, whom they despised, were assimilated to the conquering race and became their masters. We had to send reinforcement troops to Algeria, including we would have had a great need for the defense of the territory, but Cremieux and Gambetta cared nothing about that. The Jews of our beautiful African colony were emancipates!

The National Assembly clearly expressed the intention to cancel this decree which gave us a serious insurrection and hostility of the Arabs, but Cremieux was watching and fate was on Israel's side. The mid-interior minister author of the repeal project died suddenly, and M. de Fourtou, his report director, after having approved the project, abandoned it... This abandonment was the last success of old Cremieux. The nonagenarian Jew was going to appear before Jehovah, with a clear conscience. He had done enough harm to Christians, enough good for those of his race. Like the Moses of Alfred de Vigny, rightly quoted by Robert Launay (1), he could implore God from Israel.

Let me fall asleep with the sleep of the earth,
So what have I done to you to be your chosen one?
I led your people oft you wanted.

(1) Robert Launay. Op. cit., pp. 35-36.

220 the imperialism of israel

At the time of his youth, he had abolished the more judaico oath; to begin the destruction of Catholic families, he had presented to Parliament a divorce law that another Jew in the policy, Alfred Naquet, was to achieve more late ; he had obtained subsidies from the state and dater of a powerful international league, the Alliance universal Israelite, thousands of Jews from Algeria owed him to enjoy the rights of French citizens. Nothing was missing from his glory.

The author of Jewish Figures asked himself what could think of the beautiful cuirassiers who made honors at the funeral of Cremieux:

– French trooper, who escorts this tank, do you know well what do you salute with your saber?

“My chiefs,” he would have replied, “order to present put down the weapons. It is therefore that this dead man was a great citizen.

How, in fact, could this simple person have conceived that the noblest title of Isaac Cremieux to gratification national study was to have chosen the moment of our defeat and our despair to infuse sly-lies in our sap, weakened and sacrifice, Timpurete of thirty-three thousand beggars, the dregs of the world, all strangers to our life, to our hereditary customs, to our loves as well as our enmities?

The resignation of Marshal Mac Mahon and the arrival vee to the government of true republicans allowed for Jews to quickly climb several rungs of Fechelle who leads to power. And this is explained. They had joined the circles where ideas were the most advanced; they held the highest positions important Masonic lodges; they were holding on announcements and finance a large number of days-nals. Their influence on public opinion had progressed in astonishing proportions. To be named deputies, senators, ministers, politicians of the Republic should humbly request their support, and this support was not always given freely quietly and without compensation.

Israeli imperialism 221

Gambetta had been the disciple and protégé of Cremieux; he was in turn the protector and master of Joseph Reinach, who, supported by his powerful tribe, became, at one point, almost the master of the France. A Raynal was a minister, thanks to his race rather than his talent. In almost every Cabi-owski at the time I am writing these notes; in the previous ministry a Strauss, previously a Klotz; and that does not prevent prime ministers from having eminences grises, who are not capuchins letters and patriots as before, but who are called Cornelius Herz or Mandel, when Mr. Clemenceau exercises the power, behind the scenes or on stage.

And, moreover, is it necessary for the Jews to be Featured ? They have too many Christians at their service who more or less consciously betray the interests national networks so that their presence and action direct are necessary in all circumstances.

When Fidouard Drumont published his Jewish France, many curiosities were awakened, eyes opened were discovered, but it is especially in the circles intellectuals and worldly people that this ardent demand toirefutlu. It contained a host of anecdotes sjnnp-

222 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

tomatics, involved a considerable number number of personalities -- and this was one of the reasons for its sucked. Jewish France and the books that followed-rent did not penetrate into the deep masses of the population and, it is only when La Libre Word came to popularize Drumont's ideas that a a slight wind of anti-Semitism blew over the country. THE Algerian settlers who suffered so much from Jewish usury and the Cremieux decree, wanted to send the author from Jewish France to the Palais-Bourbon. He didn't play what a thankless and effaced role.

In the high Parisian aristocracy -- if Ton in except for a few very closed salons in the suburbs Saint-Germain -- the Israelite bankers were received and pampered. We remember that Drumont reproduced cha to the Count of Paris for having made the prince do ceases Amelie her entry into the world among the Rothschild. At this time, the Jewish peril did not appear little knows that a few rare writers called by their historical work to study the actions of Israel and secret societies since the end of the 18th century.

And then, the Jews admitted into the great circles displayed conservative, royalist opinions even. At the time of the general elections -- I believe

Paris received from Rothschild a sum of 300,000 francs. for the fund of the electoral committee and he experienced one great gratitude to the donor, considering ders as a political friend. His gratitude would have been less if he had known that on the same day, Rothschild handed over three million to the government republican.

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 223

The Dreyfus affair occurred. Its phases, its complications tions, the incidents of all kinds that it provoked have been condensed with method and logic into a remarkable book signed: Dutrait-Crozon (1). What whatever the opinion one professes with regard to the colonel Henry, of the famous slip, of the strange role of Commander Esterhazy – recently died – he is a fact impossible to deny is that “the affair” allowed has the Jewish power to display its formidable strength, its international action, the empire it exercised over the government of France.

Accused of espionage, convicted twice by councils of war, an artillery officer, because he was Jewish and supported by his entire race, was amnesty then, in a way, rehabilitated by the Court of Cassation, which overturned the judgment without referral of the military court. All the forces of Israel in both worlds, all its press, all the members members of his “Christian front” had been mobilized for the circumstance. Under the baton of a golden chef-invisible chest, their voices were marvelous-united and the entire universe was deafened. A pornographic novelist, whose books sell dated by hundreds of thousands, played the bass drum and behind him advanced a menacing army. There wife of Joseph Reinach, daughter of Baron Reinach who committed suicide after the disclosure of the scandals of the Panama, had she not said in front of witnesses: “We we will have Dreyfus innocent, even if we unleash civil war and, if necessary, foreign war (2)? »

(1) Precis of the Dreyfus affair. Paris, New Bookstore national, 1909.

(2) Jewish figures, p. 200.

Georges Sorel was right to write: "For amateurs of revolutionary curiosities, the Dreyfus affair constitutes a historical experience of unparalleled value timable (1) ? »

Since the Boulangist agitation, in which the Jew Alfred Naquet, to vice-chair the committee from the general to the black horse, which he had to desargone by becoming the accomplice of Minister Constans, even than to the ministries of Combes and Briand, in passing by the Dreyfus affair, the Waldeck-Rousseau ministry and the High Court which condemned Deroulede, Buffet and Lur Saluces, we can follow the combined actions of the Jews and Freemasons dividing the French, abolishing the information service of the ministry of War, instituting denunciation everywhere, bridging manning officers, disorganizing the army and navy, persecuting Catholics, driving out religious people, stealing their property.

However, in 1899, a voice was raised from exile to signal the danger to the French patriots. In San Remo, on February 22, the head of the House of France, Mgr le Due d'Orléans, in an address addressed to the delegates of the royalist committees of the South, had dare to show the danger, to assert that there was a "Jewish question", declaring that it was necessary to defend the homeland and protect it "against its crushing by the anonymous and vagabond fortune." This fortune was incontestably in the hands of Israel and it was used to divide, corrupt, demoralize the French.

Faced with these formidable powers of Jewry

(1) The Dreyfusian Revolution, Paris* 191% p* 10,

Israeli imperialism 225

international religion and governmental freemasonry government, some good will united and stood up. Public opinion, especially in Paris, had a background of patriotic intelligence which, by moments, was exteriorized. The "French Homeland", directed by Jules Lemaitre and Francois Coppee, a fine letter and a coeardier poet, grouped many members, but the man of action of his committee, Gabriel Syveton, elected deputy and who suffered in full ficiencies in the army, was mysteriously supreme.

The "French homeland" was mortally struck. The "League of Patriots" hardly included more than one core of citizens who are passionate admirers of Deroulle, Author of Soldier's Songs, the evocative eloquent of Revenge; but a new group – had been constituted, having supremacy over others priority of a political doctrine – which assured him a cohesion and a special force of expansion. Founded by Henri Vaugeois, directed by a great thinker, Charles Maurras, by a writer overflowing with sap, Leon Daudet, she would take in a few years a surprising rise, rallying all the monarchical elements exists of the country and attract into its ranks parties without resolution coming from the most opposite points of the political horizon, converted to its ideas logically deduced with a view to "public safety".

16

236 Israeli imperialism

IV

| T. The bankers Bleichroeder and Alphonse de Rothschild, "who celebrated Bismarck in his castle in Ferrières, monitored the negotiations which resulted to the Treaty of Frankfurt (1)". All representatives of international high finance – that is to say Jewish – also monitored the peace negotiations of Versailles and their representatives had otherwise influence on MM. Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau, than their predecessors had on William I, Bismarck and Thiers. In forty-eight years, Israel had progresses.

During the war, Jewish high finance was not not remain inactive. Through his connections with the banks than neutral countries, it had been able to achieve large profits by supplying Germany and satisfying its hatred against Russia by subsidizing the revolutions in England, it favored defeatism. However, Israel had counted on the victory of the Entente, but this victory had to be modest, precarious even, so as not to compromise the interests and affmities that he possessed in the central empires.

(t) Salon Bolshevism and Jewish Pheasantism, by Jean Maxe.
p. 547.

Israeli imperialism 227

And that explains maneuvers and intrigues which, at first glance, would seem illogical and contradictory.

Israel remained behind the scenes, the socialists did know the game.

November 1914 was formed in England The Union of Democratic Control, under the leadership of a committee in which appeared, with Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader, now first Minister of Her British Majesty, the writer Zionist Israel Zangwill and Brailsford, the future admirer creator of Bela Kun. They defended "pacifism more absolute" and their program included the abolition of secret diplomacy, restitution, of a "League of Nations", the suppression of industry deprived of arms, conscription, etc.

In France, in 1916, certain intellectuals, former Dreyfusards for the most part, founded a "Societe of documentary and critical studies on the war » and entered into relations with the most socialist advances. Among the leaders: the Gide professors and Seignobos; Morhardt, Oscar Bloch, the union-Merrheim list (1). The Working Life of Pierre Monatte did not wait for this foundation to protest against the war in the name of the French proletariat and the Jew Trotsky had already launched the idea of a new International, while Lenin, in the Social-Democrate, declared: "The work which pursues the goal to turn the war of peoples into civil war is the only socialist work at the time of the conflict imperialist weapon of the bourgeoisie of all nations... Let us raise the flag of civil war... (1) »

(1) De Zimmerwald an Bolshevism, pp. 49 and passim.

 The internationalist socialist meetings which took place held in Zimmerwald and Kienthal in 1915 and 1916, marked the beginnings of a real offensive defeatist. It is good to remember that delegates French people received passports to participate regulars of Mr. Malvy, Minister of Interior. read found there German delegates and representatives members of Latvian social democracy and the Bund. This last group is the union of Jewish workers of Lithuania, Poland and Russia. It's from her breast that emerged Bolshevism, destroyer of Russia. As for the Jew Trotsky, it was from Paris that he directed the revolutionary movement. It is only in September 1916 that Briand had him served with an arrest of expulsion, which – according to the Peres report – ■ he was "obligated at the insistence of his colleague at the war ".

In Switzerland, a parallel campaign, more or less sneaky, was led by Romain Rolland and the traitor Guilbeaux, against the war, that is to say against France.

– In Paris, defeatist propaganda was increasing. Dridzo had replaced Trotsky among the comrades Russians and directed a new leaf: Nat chalo (The Debut),* a violent pamphlet, in which we read "that the main enemy of all people found in his own country", was widespread fusion, right down to the trenches. Strikes and mutinies which broke out in the spring of 1917 were the consequence of these revolutionary efforts and defeatists that the government affected for too long* time to ignore.

(1) Ibid., p. 31.

The patriotic recovery carried out by Clemenceau had happy effects. The Red Hat trials, of Bolo, of Malvy, of Caillaux brought useful reactions. Military discipline, confidence in victory was restored, but the socialists advanced these did not disarm. At the "national" Congress held motion demanding: "immediate cessation of hostilities lity, collective reparation by all nations of the war damage, due to liability collective of the governing classes; advent of the socialist society (1)".

When the armistice put an end to hostilities, the International "worker and Jewish wanted to intervene, but to the great chagrin of the leaders, his troops remained return hesitantly. It was in vain that Lenin offered his good offices in Germany and that Karl Radek (Jew Austrian deserter, real name: Sobelsohn)
announced that a red army of a million men would go to the Rhine to stop and beat the allies. Everything is limited to an attempt to blackmail Fegard of these.

However, the action of internationalist Jewry during the war had not been useless. The idea of the institution of the League of Nations, already launched in Masonic congresses and by the Union of democratic Control, was going to take shape, and thanks to patronage of President Woodrow Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George, behind whom stood the

(1) Jean Maxe. Op. cit., p. 109.

230 i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

major financiers of Israel, this institution would serve vir basic to the conditions of peace, essential peace-Jewishly, politically, economically... The good sense of Clemenceau, which had manifested itself with laudable energy in the direction of the war, had 6te veil during the advances of Austria and was going to escape completely tie up, or rather his Jewish ties, of which he had never freed himself, were going to obfuscate his ideas personal, paralyze his good will (1).

When we write the definitive history of the treaties of peace, we will see to what extent they have
was inspired by the Israelites who had quality to direct the destinies of the chosen people. Their orient-tation, their essential clauses in favor of the na-functionality, ethnic minorities, the maintenance of German unity, the dismemberment of the Catholic Austria: everything contributed to creating an unstable Europe, tormented by aspirations of various kinds, in the middle
from which Jewish power can establish its domination

distant limits that it seemed possible to envisage.

It is not only through Tor that Israel wants to govern
verner. Demoralization, corruption of a people greatly facilitate his enslavement. The Jews are masters of the vast majority of newspapers

(1) The Israeli Georges Mandel, chief of staff of Mr. Clemenceau, exerted an undeniable influence on him. At the session of the Chamber of Deputies of November 24, 1923, this personage did not ignore that he had in his possession letters very exchanged between Mr. Clemenceau and Mr. Poincare, then president of the Republic, in 1917. He is another familiar of the President of the Council, Mr. Dutasta, recruited into numerous Jewish societies, which would fill in the confederations of peace the important functions of secretary general.

the imperiaxism of isrljel a3i

French; they own or manage most of the theaters, cinemas in Paris; a good number of publishing houses are in their hands. By the law of divorce, which Alfred Naquet had promulgated and which has been greatly worsened since then, they worked there; destruction of the family. The plays, the pornographic novels launched and propagated by their care, contribute to lowering the moral level of French. Do you remember the vile novels of Zola, whose editions were printed in hundreds of a thousand copies? Zola was so in the hand of Israel that it was made the defender and the apostle of Dreyfusism, and the race showed its power in obtaining in the absence of a Parliament blinded to the law which transferred in the Pantheon the ashes of the sad and nauseabond per-ringing.

This kind of demoralizing and pornographic propaganda graph is always practical. Mr. Paul Margueritte is not Israeli; his father, heroic rider was killed on the field of honor while charging at Sedan k the head of his brigade; but this writer, of whom I does not dispute talent, places himself among the first ranks of the "Christian front" of Israel.

His novel La Gargonne, of an immorality which made scandal, had a success even surpassing that of the Zola's worst works. But you shouldn't believe to cover with a romantic form the substratum of a book: Marriage, philosophical in style, including The author is the Jew Leon Blum, former master of requests to the Council of State and socialist deputy.

I hardly dare quote passages from this book, and yet—in which they illustrate the plan of demoralization developed by race. Leon Blum blames the virginity of girls and this is how he understands new society her life and the lives of young girls:

232 Israeli imperialism

Everything will happen for them like today young people... Will they be as you see them? now... What alters or degrades is fear or awareness of fault. But, following Timpulsion of their nature, girls will no longer clash... the artificial principles introduced into their consciousness. The freedom of instinct will therefore not spoil freshness. heart of their youth. They will return from their home lover with so much naturalness that they return to present of the course or to have tea at a friend's house.. v Virginity rejected cheerfully and early would no longer exercise this singular constraint made of modesty, dignity and a kind of fear (1).

This abominable Jew still supports theses more daring: "I have never discerned — said—he ~ what is truly repulsive about Vinceste..., I simply note that it is natural and common to love one's brother or sister with love (2). »

Here is the philosopher deputy whose Mr. Paul Margueritte has become the disciple! Tinstinct's contempt bestial which characterizes human beings is qualified "somewhat artificial idealism" and makes a mockery of it.

However, when asked: "Would you raise yourself like this? your daughter ? » Mr. Leon Blum asked ^ think. "No question has tormented me more — he

(1) Quoted by Jean Maxe. Parlor Bolshevism and Pheasant-Jewish dism, p. 503.

(2) Du Manage, p. 82.

answered – and I still don't know what to decide (1)", and he admits, during his treatise: "I renounced for a long time finding myself in agreement with myself-even. » In reality, he finds it very easy to per- to corrupt and desecrate young Christian girls, but he makes no comparison between them and the daughters of Israel.

Leon Blum is not the only Jew to profess to such theories. Andre Spire, Albert Cohen, have sings in verse the glory of the race, the charismatic instinct nel at its most brutal and degrading; for them "beatifying peace will be the consequence of Jewish domination. The city of love "will not have neither laws nor magistrates. Its citizens will have no rights nor duties; F love alone will govern them and will see to their needs (2). »

And a Jew, Magdeleine Marx does not hesitate to saying that we had to "move towards communism sexual (3)".

Colonel de La Tour du Pin was wrong in his mulate this thought: "The Jews are a nation, This nation is convinced that the empire of the world belongs to him. She can only achieve this by the corruption of minds which brings decomposition social tion (4) »?

However, there are Israelites who will protest against certain generalizations and will tell you that, among Jews as among Christians, there are

(1) Jean Maxe. Op. tit, p. 504.

(2) La Diane, social review (November 1918), under the signature Fiat Lux.

(3) Jean Maxe. cit. y p. 534.

(4) Towards a Christian social order, p. 347.

distinctions are necessary. It would be unfair to equate miler to communists like ML Blum, decadent poets like MA Spire, a philosopher spiritualist soph like Mr. Bergson, an econo- miste, collaborator of the Revue des Deux Mondes, like Senator Raphael-Georges Levy. I do not don't disagree. There are Israelites who have held, who are neither socialist nor even republican cans, but do they not in any way suffer the in- fluency of those who lead their people? Leader of English Conservatives, Prime Minister of the ronne, did not Disraeli favor with all his power see the Jews of the East, and did he exalt in his works of imagination the race to which he belongs born by its origins?

One of the main editors of the Archives Israelites (1), Mr. Emile Cohen one day analyzed the votes of the Jews sitting at the Palais-Bourbon. It's about- knows about the vote on the confidence agenda which allowed Mr. Briand to represent France at Washington during the congress intended to limit maritime armaments. MM. Erlich and Bokanowski, of republican and social action, supported the ministerial policy; Mr. Klotz, radical socialist, Levy, communist, and Mandel voted against; while that MM. Leon Blum and Uhry, socialists, abstain are born.

Mr. Emile Cohen deduces this: "Don't you find not only this interesting broadcast at the Palais-Bour-

(1) Issue of November 2, 1921.

THE IMPERIALISM OF Israel 235

good Jewish voices is indeed indisputable proof of the complete fusion of all French people, without dis- distinction of party or religion? »

I am not convinced of this and believe that we can- would draw a very different conclusion; It is that Jews insist on occupying positions in all political parties, in all categories social, and that their influence is exercised as well in the financial aristocracy, where the star of Rothschild, that in the Soviet circles which are represented in the Chamber by Citizen Levy (1).

people with whom they live, if they wanted to be "nationalized" in France, how could we explain the resurgence of the international movement that they stir up, of Palestinian nationalism in whose name they move heaven and earth? In Paris itself, a new international Jewish organization, the Inter-Jew, has just been constituted under the title expressive: "The Inter-Jew". The Jewish Chronicle, always well informed, has given details on the purpose for follow-up. This international association publishes a monthly newsletter written alternately in Hebrew* in French, in English. There you will find articles of sociology, news from Palestine and the world Jewish in general, the list with their addresses of all members to give them the means to enter into relationships with each other. The InterJew does not will not play politics and intends to reunite the Jews of all spiritual or religious tendencies. When the number of members reaches 5,000, we will take care of creating social clubs in all centers where the number of members will make it possible. Jewish Inter also aspires to serve as an intermediary with all associations, groups and communities of Israel to work with them in perfect harmony in the reconstruction of the home national, to the rebirth of the Hebrew language, the exaltation of Jewish prestige. The Anglo-Jewish organ of London closes its notice by giving the address of the committee central: 11 bis, rue Faraday, Paris.

(1) French Action of December 6, 1921.

236 i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Did Mr. Emile Cohen speak about Inter-Jewishness in the Israeli Archives, and does he persist in believing in the assimilation of French Jews?

Information from the Associated Press (1) learned, some time ago, that during the months of September and October 1923, 40,000 Jews coming from abroad had entered our territory. In all probability, this invasion reached The figure would be 100,000 at the end of the year. A ceremony of these Semites come from the parts from Eastern Europe which are saturated with it; but the

(1) Reproduced by Free Word and by Action Française of November 8, 1923.

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 237

nationalist government of Bavaria, considering that the Jew is the main propagator of the doctrinaire, sources of anarchy and revolution expulsions, carries out expulsions by administrative means and carries out this purification at our expense.

These poverty-stricken Jews would hardly find it to establish yourself in France in a stable manner; most share camp, piled up in Parisian slums in the third and fourth arrondissements, pending given the opportunity to embark for America, or their co-religionists welcome them.

But if France is not for the Israelites a land of settlement, it is not the same for its colonies. Their race has long been fixed in North Africa and is developing there under the protection from official authorities. In our post-distant sessions, the Jews, without being very numerous, are powerful and very supported there. View the list of foreign trade advisors and you will see what is the proportion of Hebrew names that there are shown.

The Cremieux decree, by conferring on the Jews of Algeria the quality of French citizens, gave them, not prestige vis-à-vis the Arabs, but a political influence which they very skillfully used and served, which however suffered a short eclipse during of Drumont's campaigns which brought reflection of anti-Semitic deputies.

In Tunisia, there are currently approximately 100,000 Jews, half of whom reside in Tunis, and the remains in the other cities of the Regency. The Jews of Tunisia belong to two distinct groups: the Spaniards, who came to the time when the Moors

238 Israeli imperialism

were driven out of Andalusia, and immigrants

Livornese and Poituguese. They keep their customs special events, their family ceremonies, do not demonstrate shows no tendency towards assimilation.

In In Tunis, behind the walls (1), lieutenant-Colonel de Voligny devoted several chapters the study of the Jewish population of the Regency; he transcribed into other pieces of folk lore, a legend quite curious, the legend of the Hara, which shows by what skillful maneuver did the Jews succeed in enter the fortified walls of the capital. We can be summarized as follows:

At the time of Sidi Mahrez, whose mosque dominates still the Bab Souika district, the Jews cannot were going to stay within the city walls only sunrise to sunset. They were obliged to leave at closing time and they generally lived in the village of Melassine, located north of the city. But there they were exposed to the plunder of nomads, and, periodically, with the complicity of the natives, they found themselves yours from the fruit of their commercial and usurious labor. How could they obtain permission to reside? der in the capital, in the shadow of its beneficent walls! On the advice of a rabbi, the Jews of Melassine made two damascene yatagans, with marvelous carving, and a delegation went to the palace to offer one to the dey. The memory rain, who had artistic tastes and loved beautiful weapons, admired the yatagan and warmly thanked

(1) The book was translated into English by Mrs LE Douglas

Israeli imperialism 239

ment the donors. In retiring, the rabbi, chief of the delegation, told the dey that there was a second saber, similar to this one and of equal richness. – Com- How could we get it? asked the memory rain. "The army is in Constantinople," replied the rabbi, but since your Highness has among his followers subjects Sidi Mahrez, gifted with the magical power to instantly transport where he wants to go, it would be enough to order him to fetch the coveted saber and the gun would be here tomorrow. Sidi Mahrez, requested by the dey listened to the request and, without saying a word, withdrew. He was very surprised by the mission entrusted to him and for which the almighty help of Allah

Jews, he went to their village and was informed rant about their scheme. He agreed to serve their cause and play their game. The next day, the saint man returned to the palace and handed over to the sovereign
the yatagan similar to that offered by the Jewish delegation.
marvel and charm, the dey promised to Sidi Mahrez to grant him what he could desire because of the trouble he had taken. Allah's favorite said to him having made the wish, if his journey was accomplished happily gently, to ask His Highness to authorize a Jewish Hara to reside within the walls of Tunis. The Hara, comprising four families, does not hold There wouldn't be much room in the city. The dey consented to it; at his command, the holy man of Islam climbed the minaret near Bab Souika and, throwing As for his stick, he determined where it was going settle the Hara. The four families were namedbreuses, they were cousins very far away and soon the town age of Melassine came to establish itself entirely in the

a4o Israeli imperialism

district, still known under the name of Hara, repressed moving further on to the natives who resided there.

This conquest process is entirely done in the note of the invasions of the Hebrews. In any case, your idiot-
May the tomb of Sidi Mahrez be so venerated
of the Jews of Tunis than of the Muslims (1).

In his remarkable Itineraries in Morocco, the lieutenant of Foucauld, who was to become a saint apostle and lead an ermite life in the land of the Tu-reg, had studied and frequented the Moroccan Israelites cains. After having indicated that they were divided into two classes, those residing in the regions under put to the sultan and those of the independent districts,
he defined them thus:

The first, protected from European powers,
supported by the sultan who sees in them an element
necessary for the commercial prosperity of his empire
and a his own wealth, hold by corruption the magistrates, to whom they speak very loudly, while kissing their hands, acquire great fortunes, oppress poor Muslims, are respected by rich and manage to solve the difficult problem to satisfy at the same time their avarice, their pride and their hatred of what is not Jewish. They live well, the weaknesses of civilization, without having any delicacies... The Jews of Blad el Sita are not less contemptible, but they are unhappy; attached on the glebe, each having their Muslim lord—^man, whose property they are, pressured without measure^

(1) The Jewish Chronicle, September 31, 1923.

Israeli imperialism 241

seeing themselves taken away from day to day what they earn with difficulty, without security neither for their persons, nor for their property, they are the most unfortunate of men. Lazy, covetous, greedy, drunkards, liars, thieves, haters above all, without faith or goodness, they all the vices of Blad el Makhzen, minus their cowardice.

Foucauld's lieutenant knew as much better Jews than, to explore Morocco, has a time when Europeans could not have penetrated inside the empire, he was accompanied of a rabbi from Algeria and himself was said to be Israelite.

The situation of Jews in Morocco has significantly modified since France exercised its protection there. The Blad el Sita is reduced to little, Taza's "pocket" having been occupied almost entirely by our post after shipping from 1923.

Ghettos have disappeared in the main ports, but the towns of the interior still have mellahs — that's what the ghettos are called — oil Jews living in small trades live there. The origin of the word is curious. Mellah means deposit salt. When the Maghzen wanted to punish a tribe revolted, he sent a military detachment against her silence which brought back the heads of the main rebels intended to be exhibited on the walls at the end of perches. These heads were previously salted, to delay their decomposition, and it is up to the Jews that it was the responsibility of carrying out this operation. The salt was therefore placed in their neighborhood. They had also the responsibility of cleaning the sewers, removing the dead animals, chores which were repugnant to the Moroccans cains (1).

Today, there are still small artisans in the mellahs, but the Jews are aware of the strength they represent. The United Israelite Alliance verselle, the Anglo-Jewish Association created there schools. Sellahs, Talmud thoras give the idea primary and higher education. The Jews learn there come, at the same time as Hebrew, French, Pagnol, FEnglish, and, as they all know Arabic,
they serve as interpreters and intermediaries in the commercial transactions between natives and Euro-peens, transactions which were prodigiously developed over several years.

The government of the protectorate is singular-favorably towards the Jewish people; this one develops loses, gets rich; all high commerce is between his hands in the ports, and it is through him-diary that agricultural affairs are handled with tribes of the Interior. So they think they are allowed to do anything.
The sons of lousy Jews still living in the mellahs dress in European style, frequent the cinemas, cafes, speak very loudly and give the tone. An old French settler from Rabat told me that, during the war, a band of young Israelites elegants led a happy life in a southern port, k Mogador, I believe, when the representative of the government decided to have the idea of publishing a notice making know that France needs soldiers,
all Jews dressed in European clothing would be considered
dere as French and registered on the controls

(1) Mr. Zeys. A Frenchwoman in Morocco, p. 262.

i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 243

recruitment. The next day, this youth Doree had resumed the dark dress, the soutache vest and the black cap!

In a recent study: Morocco today (1),
Mr. Louis Vignon, professor at the colonial school, attracts attention to the danger that Israel's ambitions

How could we forget a fault which had the effect of sequence the serious insurrection of 1870-1871: nature mass reading of Jews? Moroccans, no more that Algerians do not like Jews. Are they wrong? Are they right? The fact is there. The Jews are here 85,000 (2); before our coming, fates, despise, beaten and stolen; today reassured by our father sence... they have already committed imprudence, chosen as for the Muslim population that we saw picked up ser stones.

And Mr. Louis Vignon cites an anecdote that he reported an eyewitness:

I was in Marrakech, the day the new arrival arrived. news of the signing of the armistice. Soon we live arrive at the municipality The teacher from a Franco-Israelite school followed by their students. All this world carried flags, sang Marseil- lay. A little girl dressed as an Alsatian, another in Lorraine, belted with tricolor scarves. Say- course to the head of the municipality: "The victory of France... republican France... feelings of love that we feel for her...". It was strong

(1) Published by the Correspondent of September 10, 1923.

(2) By adding the Jews of Spanish Morocco and the international zone of Tangier, the total exceeds 100,000.

244 Israeli imperialism

GOOD ; it was too much. The procession was booed on its route by the Muslims, had even received some stones. Regrets among the natives that France was victorious? No. Rather "Muslim" worry that this France would soon distinguish the Jews in something ; perhaps by naturalizing them as All were those from Algeria (1).

Did the leaders of Israel in Morocco have the prescience that the peace following the World War would be a Jewish peace conducive to all ambitions tions of the race?

In any case, a fact already noted elsewhere is quite symptomatic. Some groups of Jews Moroccans, seduced by the promises of propatine, came back after a few months, degus and repentant. Should we conclude that, under the tectorate of the French Republic in Morocco, the Israelites are happier than their peers governed by the Zionist organization under Tauthority of Sir Herbert Samuel and the protection of the bayon-English nets (2)!

(1) Morocco today. Op. cit., p. 800.

(2) The statute of Tangier, signed on December 18, 1923, which governs
the political and administrative situation of the International zone nationality of Morocco, stipulates that three Israelites will represent the Jewish nation in the Mendoub (legislative assembly).

CHAPTER VIII

ANGLO-JEWISH PALESTINE

CONTRADICTIVE PROMISES BY THE BRI-GOVERNMENT

tannic. -Sir Herbert Samuel. - A Zionist poet
MHG Cattai. - The enthusiasm of MM. Jacques Calmy and Fernand Gorcos, - Some statistics
cqngangering colonization. - ' i/irreduc- opposition

tible of the Arabs. objections and criticisms emanating

of Israelites. - Sensational speech by Israel Zang-
will a New York, - Catholic protests.

- FAILURE OF JUIYE COLONIZATION. - SUPPORTED BY AN*

England, political Zionism continues its work.

- His drape is the symbol of imperialism
d*Israel.

In the spring of 1915, when the Dardanelles countryside, the British government tannique had made formal commitments towards the Arabs, to decide them to separate their cause from that of the Turks. He had solemnly declared, by had figypt, that he was ready to "recognize and assume reaffirm the independence of the Arab countries included in the

246 the imperialism of Israel

limits proposed by the clerif of Mecca". Gold, Palestine was part of the designated territories.

In October 1918, General Allenby, entering vic-reverently in Jerusalem at the head of the allied troops, had, in the name of the same government, proclaimed "the complete and final liberation" of peoples, since long oppressed by the Turks, and the establishment
next year of national governments "including Fau-Tory would emanate from initiative and free will
of these peoples themselves.

But England, which, three years apart,
knows of such promises to the Arabs, had taken by other commitments elsewhere. She thought she had to deal, in agreement with its allies, with this form-
the international force that is Jewish power.
In November 1917, Mr. Arthur Balfour, head of the Foreign Office, by a famous letter addressed to Lord Rothschild, had promised the Sio-organization
nist to favor with all his power the establishment sowing in Palestine a "national home for Jewish people."

These various promises and commitments were not obviously not reconcilable. As soon as Tarmistice had put an end to the hostilities, the government of Mr. Lloyd George endeavored to give every satisfaction to the Jews; and the commitments made towards the Arabs and Palestinians were considered not avenues.

The English military authority opened the way to The Zionist administration, which the bayonets imposed net losses of British and Hindu troops, without wait for the San Remo conference which admitted the principle of the Anglo-Jewish mandate over Palestine, and

Israeli imperialism 247

the meeting of the Council of the League of Nations, ok
this mandate was explained and defined (1).

Visiting Palestine in February 1920, I was given to witness the beginnings of the Zionist government, to the arrivals of the first contingents of Jews who came of Ukraine and Poland (2). As soon as the population was able to realize the regime we wanted impose on her, masters that were going to be given to her, she gave free rein to his indignation and his protests Energetic actions sometimes turned into fights which provoked the intervention of the police and the armed force. From all corners of Palestine complaints arose which were only too justified. tifies Addresses, bearing thousands of signatures and written in a form where the imagination directs tale was added to the energy of the protests, were dispatched to the Peace Conference.

The British cabinet considered it appropriate able to carry out an investigation into the situation tion of Palestine and the state of mind of its inhabitants. Just as he was to send an Israelite, Sir Stuart Samuel, to investigate pogroms in Poland imaginaries that had been pointed out to him, he hurried Jerusalem another Zionist Israelite, Sir Herbert Samuel, brother of the first, who, after a stay of three weeks in the Holy Land, establishes a beautiful report port from which it resulted that the oppositions of the natives to Zionism were very superficial and that the reign

(1) This meeting was held in London in August 1922. The Conference The San Remo meeting took place in April 1920.

(2) See chapters vn and vm of the Kingdom of Israel chez the Anglo-Saxons.

248 Israeli imperialism

of Israel in Palestine would bring happiness to the populace tions.

A few weeks later, real riots broke out were present on all sides, which were only mastered price of bloody battles.

Mr. Lloyd George had so little grudge against Sir Herbert Samuel of the lack of insight demonstrated by his investigation that he entrusted him with the government of the Palestine with the title of high commissioner and com-

The joy was great, in all the communities from Israel, when the good news spread. The in-pledge taken by Arthur Balfour towards the "people elected" was in the process of being realized under Tegide de Fem-worst British and its allies. The conquest of the Palestine opened up the brightest prospects of nir, justified the broadest, most glorious hopes.

A young Israelit from Egypt sang the Promise decompiled, in a volume curiously dedicated "to Maurice Barres, through whom I find Unit6 in myself-
even, in my race and in the human race (1)".

Admire his mystical lyricism:

Mountains of Israel, you will push out your branches
And bear your fruit for the chosen people,
For here he comes to you; because here it is
Who comes to you, Promised Land, O beloved,
earth and you will be plowed and sown...

Here is the signal grace and the promise:
The ears of corn will sprout in your new furrows,

(1) Heli-Georges Cattau. The Promise Fulfilled, Paris,
C. Bloch, p. 19.

THE EMPIRIALISM OF ISRAJEL 249

And your temples will be girded and crowned,
Judea, and you will be blessed and forgiven,

my brothers, a new song!

A song of joy, a song of joy, a song of joy!

You, daughters of Judea, wave like a bundle,

Myrtle and laurel and the prickly palm.

Do you hear the voice that proclaims the times
Where will you own the Earth that is yours?

Get up, get up, penitent Lazarus!

The shofar sounds from one end of the world to another.

The impoverished Jews of Eastern Europe wandered that Palestine would be a true fiden for them, where, in a mild climate, they would live without too much work valor, an easy and happy existence. And the big ones Israelites, holders of world wealth, the religious leaders of Judaism, considered that Jerusalem would become a political, intellectual capital tual, mystical, independent of all influences foreign bodies, a nerve center from which the initiatives, impulses, slogans of the government government of Israel.

The only objective admitted, openly pursued, was the colonization of Palestine. In which Has this measurement been carried out since 1920?

In July 1922, while the Council of the Society of Nations drafted the text of the Palestinian mandate nothing, the newspaper Le Temps rewarded its readers with a superb illustrated supplement with the title "The Palestine and the Zionist Effort", The engravings represent felt the monuments of Jerusalem, of Jaffa, of Ca'iffa, gave the plan of the future university Jewish. Two sided images showed on one side a barren sand dune, another superb plan-plantation of orange trees. Lotion leaflets for to regrow hair has a similar character by presenting pseudo-photographs before and after drug use.

250 I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

One might believe that the admirable transformation of the soil is due to the work, to the genius of the immigrants Zionists! In reality, the Jewish colony of Richon-le-Zion, in question, dates from 1884. Baron Edmond de Rothschild had liberally provided the funds necessary for the creation of an establishment Jewish farmer around Jaffa. After which-Over the years, the land was cleared, irrigated, culture, which made it possible to grow vines there and orange trees; but it is Arab labor who had carried out the transformation. Agricultural Jews immigrates at the expense of the big banker, he little remained at the colony that the directors, accountants and commercial agents; the others had dispersed traditions of the breed.

The author of the text of the supplement of Le Temps, Mr. Jacques Calmy, son of a rabbi from Jerusalem, is a passionate Zionist. After writing in the Palestine Weekly, the first Jewish newspaper founded in Jerusalem after the arrival of General Allenby, he collaborated with the official French newspaper of Syria, all by representing the Zionist organization in Beirut. Truly strange thing! When Sir Herbert Samuel demanded a rectification of the Syrian border to annex to Palestine some villages and tributaries of the Jordan rich in hydraulic power. MJ Calmy boasted of having been part of the com-French mission responsible for fixing, in agreement with the Jewish commission, the new delimitation.

Israeli imperialism 25 1

This journalist has become one of the most zealous place-supporters of Doctor Chaim Weizmann, head of the world Zionist organization and it is not surprising Since he exalted the benefits in his pamphlet, the excellence of the regime imposed on Palestine.

On occasion, he even borrowed the lyre of one of her co-religionists – another contributor to Le Temps – Ms. Myriam Harry, return from Jerusalem:

The hexagonal star replaced the crescent and the cross. We see it in radiator caps on cars, on the nurses' headdress, or even on the sleeve British soldiers dressed in khaki, or the bou-David's tree alternates with the Salamonian candelabra has seven branches. And everyone greets each other with greetings Hebrew: "Schalome! »

It is undoubtedly very touching for Jewish souls, but the Hebrew salvation does not demonstrate success of the colonization of Palestine. A lawyer from Paris, Mr. Fernand Corcos, delegate of the Zionists of France, following a trip to the kingdom of Sir Herbert Samuel, published a book, moreover habit-mentally written, where he strives to make this demons-tration.

The work is presented by two polite men-ticks belonging to the "Christian front" of Israel:

(1) Israel on the Biblical Tent, Paris, Jouve, 1923.

252 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Mr. de Monzie, former minister. It is "offered in single tribute for the very beautiful and very human work that they have attempted and will carry out successfully, to Mr. Sister Chaim Weizmann, president of the organization world Zionist and consciousness-raiser Jewish, to Mr. Baron Edmond de Rothschild, head helping the suffering race, to Mr. Nahum Sokolow, chairman of the executive of the Zionist commission and sagacious historian.

I literally transcribed this dedication because that she "situates" these powerful characters well. A word from Israel Zangwill: "A flourishing Palestine will help the development of the entire Orient", is recalled peels at the threshold of the book. It would include explanations cations, just like another aphorism of the same Jewish novelist: "Give to a people without land a land without people. »

First, Palestine is not a land without people, and in its current state it is far from being flourishing. But Mr. Corcos is imbued with optimism to any test. He admires everything he sees, or more everything we show him. Sir Herbert Samuel receives him wonderfully in his palace, "an impossibly health residence on the top of a hill near Jerusalem, visible and delineating its aristocratic form on all points of the horizon. He is not less enchanted with the welcome given to him by the government neur of Jerusalem, Mr. Storrs – which he spells Besides, the name is wrong: Storz. He is a character which "no one refuses Intelligence nor flexibility, nor above all the diplomatic spirit (1)". Mr. Corcos is

(1) F. Gorceqs. Op, cit. t p. 27t

Israeli imperialism 253

wonder of the landscapes; he is ecstatic in front of the col-agricultural sciences, admires the plans of the University of Mount Scopus, the grandiose water supply projects water, the industrial development of the country. II is the time when the Jews of Jerusalem had as their principal main concern the worship of Jehovah and the study of the saints books, and to learn that the Arab population continues to protest against the government regime mental. To all this, the Jewish lawyer does not attach much importance importance* These are sulks which, like these kinds of mood swings, are ephemeral* Israel's conclusion about the biblical land is strong clearly: "The Zionist experiment will succeed. The oil there is Without vision, the people perish, it has been said. But there has, in the Palestinian Jewish people, a generic vision reuse and wide. Michelangelo, in the Sistine Chapel, shows us God animating man by touching him of the finger: the Jews will animate Palestine in return-plowing their land with the shares of their plows (1). »

This animation is not yet very noticeable, but when we want to carry out large undertakings, Shouldn't we be optimistic?

Apart from the Jews, the British government nique, whose mandate over Palestine is encumbered of the mortgage of the "national home", and outside the personalities belonging to "the Christian front of Israel)) are there many declared supporters of Zionism? There are certainly a few, among whom an Austrian nobleman qualifies for the

(1) Ibid., p. 321.

254 Israeli imperialism

circumstance of "great thinker (1)". The count H. Coudenhove Calergi, in question, is not a banal character. A former diplomat, he held positions official posts in Athens, in Rio de Janeiro, in Constantinople, in Tokyo. He married a Japanese woman and devoted himself to the comparative study of religions. At the age At the age of forty-four, he went to the University of Prague the final exam in Semitic philology. In-believing himself, he encourages others to have a religious faith, any. He admires the reli-Catholic region, but by condemning its church, who showed himself to be fanatical and sometimes unkind with regard to the Jews; he admires the bud more dhism and Judaism. How could we blame to the Israelites their usury? They have been slandered by more deplorable than anti-Semitism (2), which distorts ideas, maintains racial hatred. The most beautiful of religions is a "human religion", proceeding others but dominating them with his generosity. And, to conclude, Count Coudenhove-Calergi urges his fellow Christians to support the Zionist enterprise as best they can.

(1) The Jewish Guardian, October 26, 1923.

(2) Das Wesen des Antisemitismus, Leipzig, 1923.

Israeli imperialism 255

II

After a period of four years, we can do an assessment of Zionism considered from a cultural point of view. A certain number of facts are easy to observe and testimonies can be recorded very who explain and complete them.

According to statistics published by the Colonial Office, the current population of Palestine is rising at the figure of 757,000 inhabitants; she understands 590,000 Muslims, 83,800 Jews, 73,000 Christians various rites. Before the war, or more accurately—at the time of the entry of the allies into Jerusalem, there were approximately 60,000 Jews. Since then, the population has only increased in round figures of 24,000. However, if you note the total immigrants listed annually by the government Zionist, you get a much higher figure. laughing. Palestine being a very healthy country, mortality is not raised there; it is therefore necessary that the waste comes from an exodus of Jews imported from Russia and Eastern Europe. If the services of Sir Herbert Samuel complacently reports the arrivals, as testimony to the success of the joint venture, they pass over the departures in silence. I read however, in the Jewish Chronicle (1), that the "Vaad

(1) Issue of October 12, 1923.

Leumi" (National Council of Palestinian Jews) held a meeting to address the issue of Jewish emigration from Palestine "which, for several several months, has taken on considerable proportions. The newspaper correspondent adds, to reassure readers, that this emigration is not as alarming as we supposed. In any case, it is happening does not fit well with official declarations. The development of Palestine, under the reign of Israel, is far from being satisfactory. Compared to those of 1921, the imports of the year 1922 are down by 290,746 pounds; exports* down by 63,000 pounds, and the figure of these The latter is really minimal: 1,353,368 pounds. The sale of oranges used to be one of the main resources of Judea. We exported Last year 400,000 cases fewer than in 1923. And however the Zionists created agricultural villages schools and claim to have developed irrigation, perfects cultivation methods... The Keren Ha-Yesod, this Palestinian treasure in favor of which were asked for from all the Israelite communities of two hemispheres has received* since its foundation, say Israelite sheets, more than 750,000 pounds sterling, or more than 60 million francs, to facilitate literate the settlement of immigrants. The budget breaks tannic has largely contributed to public expenditure bliques, which did not fail to raise certain protests from taxpayers United Kingdom. Can we say that from an agricultural point of view school and economic, the Zionist experience has given great satisfaction! Lord Northcliffe, who visited Palestine in February

1922, gave the Times a summary of his impressions, which greatly displeased the Hebrews. Lord Raglan, returning from a trip to Mesopotamia, Syria and Holy Land, was clearly unfavorable to the policy followed by England in the exercise of his mandate (1). It was the same with the big one writer Chesterton and Hilaire Belloc, author of remarkable military chronicles published during the war in the magazine Land and Water. The professor Sister Clay of Yale University accused the government British action to violate Article 22 of the Covenant cessation of his mandate of theories contrary to rights Palestinians to govern themselves. Lord Sydenham of Combe, in a study published by the Nineteenth Century, declared that Zionist policy of Mr. Lloyd George, not only "compromised the vital interests of the British Empire, but also jeopardized the future peace of the world.

It even happened that one day, in the Chamber of Lords, a motion clearly hostile to the mandate
Anglo-Jewish, supported by Lord Islington and fought by Lord Balfour (newly elevated to the peerage) was adopted by 60 votes to 29 (2). This vote remained a state of platonic indication, but it nevertheless establishes while in the high political spheres of London, Israel's control over the Holy Land met oppositions.

As for the Arab and Christian populations of Palestine, they never stopped rising

(1) Jewish Guardian, March 17, 1922.

(2) Meeting of June 21, 1922.

18

258 Israeli imperialism

ver against the tyranny and oppression of the impose by English balonettes. Mr. Winston Churchill, during an on-site investigation, had refuses to entertain their complaints. We had neglected to publish reports relating to health disorders
gloves from Jaffa, so as not to attract public attention than on the responsibilities incurred by those provocative Jewish tors. An Arab congress met, appointed a executive committee which drafted the following protest,
in May 1921:

The bloody struggle which is currently ravaging the city of Jaffa, as well as the Bolshevik principles, spread by Jewish immigrants to Palestine,
are that the natural consequences, first of all Balfour declaration, then measures taken by government to convert Palestine into a national home for Jews, and finally, adoption plans drawn up by the Zionist commission having with the ultimate aim of driving the Palestinians from their

It is also this inconsistent policy which facilitated the spread by Jewish immigrants of Bolshevist ideas and principles among the Jews, as well that the shedding of blood and devastation throughout country.

It is in vain that the Nation has repeatedly protested against this declaration and this policy; but also well at a time when the fire of Bolshevism consumes a of our most important cities, that its red flag is openly deployed in our streets and that its publications revolutionary cations are freely and assiduously distributed throughout the country, come and ask once again that this declaration and this policy tic be abolished before the Bolshevist spirit has invaded the country so much that it would make all our efforts to help the government extinguish it (1).

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 25q

Mr. Kazim el Husseini.
President of the executive committee.

This protest was sent to the Pope. to the king of An-England, to the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the great powers, had little result; She nevertheless signaled a real danger. The Jews of Poland belonging to the "workers of Zion" party (Poale Zion) were true communists, sean-dalizing the rabbis with their anti-religious sentiments gods, by their abject immorality and striving to propagate their doctrines and morals.

The Arabs were not discouraged. they sent in Europe a delegation which went to Rome, Paris, in London, was received differently, declared that the Palestinians would never accept the com-political combinations deriving from the Bal- declaration oven.

Moreover, the status of the mandate as it was defined by the Council of the League of Nations was not even not put into practice. Article 2 of the mandate, after having planned the establishment of the Jewish National Home, claimed to ensure "the development of institutions autonomous and safeguard civil and religious rights pious of all the inhabitants of Palestine, without dis-

extremist Zionism everywhere declared that Palestine had to become as Jewish as England was English and they did not hide their intention

(1) French Action of June 27, 1921.

260 Israeli imperialism

to expropriate and gradually drive out the Arabs of their ancestral land.

Mr. Winston Churchill, Minister for the Colonies, estimated that the Jews were still going a little far away, and his opinion was shared by certain great Israelites of London, such as Mr. Lionel de Rothschild unwilling to embark on a path which logical outcome would have caused them to lose nationality British reality. Moreover, F article 7 of the mandate, which granted Palestinian citizenship rights to Jews willing to settle in Palestine, were not invoked by all the Hebrews. In 1923, Jews citizens of Palestine were not more than 33,000.

However, after much hesitation, Sir Herbert Samuel judged that it was clever to give what—that appeasement to the indigenous populations and constitute a sort of elected chamber of notables. The attributions of this Chamber were moreover very limited, and it should not be forgotten that the article first stipulated that Her Britannic Majesty, resumed by the Jewish high commissioner, “had the right to exercise, as agent, all powers relating to the government of a sovereign state.

The election of a small Parliament produced something that illusion. From afar, we imagined that representation of the populations participated in power, to the administration of the country, and that, consequently, all reasonable people had to accept the new government regime. The peoples of South Africa, after the Transvaal War, had they not accepted the British protectorate and enjoyed the broadest autonomy 1 The Arabs, well wise, did not fall into the trap set before the number of votes collected was so ridiculous that we did not dare to publish the results of the vote.

A few months passed without bringing the slightest relaxation between the Jewish administration and the populations, then a brilliant idea germinated in the brains of the High Commissioner and his colleagues. For-what not to create an Arab agency, functioning side of the Jewish agency planned and established by the date ? Overtures were made on this subject to heads of the Palestinian delegation. How to- Could they refuse such a boon? read the refusal however, and you understand the reasons. By accepting, they would have first recognized that the 600,000 Muslims established for several centuries in Judea had no more rights to the land of Palestine than the 84,000 Jews dependent on the agency Zionist; and then, in the conflicts that never fail-would not arise between the two organisms, whatever would be the supreme arbiter? The high commissioner Israelite commissioned by England for the creation and to the development of the Jewish Home (1).

And this is how Sir Herbert Samuel obtained due of Devonshire, successor to MW Churchill to the Ministry of Colonies, the authorization to govern create Palestine without the collaboration of the natives, that is to say as an absolute sovereign, solely devoted to the interests, aspirations, ambitions of Jews.

(1) The Zionists for their part protested against Tidee of the Arab agency. Waad Leumi and representatives of Jewish communities in Palestine adopted resolutions where it was said that a similar institution would constitute a violation of the political pact and mandate. (The Jewish Guardian, December 7th 1923.)

262 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Under these conditions, is it possible to say that the colonizing work of the Zionists was crowned through success, focused on results?

A Daily Mail contributor who visited Palestine & the same time as Mr. Fernand Corcos, whose timism strengthens, MJMN Jeffries, gives a note which seems more consistent with reality, in a book, whose title is sufficiently expressive: The Palestine Deception (1). Former correspondent of war, knowing Asia Minor thoroughly, Mr. Jeffries was qualified to make, without bias, an en-serious inquiry into the situation in the country. He walks through it-rutted in all directions, questioned inhabitants of all races and backgrounds, examined and compared the statements from the British authorities and Zionists, and his conclusion can be formulated as follows: the Zionist dictatorship has become intolerable. The die- . military stature which followed the occupation of Jerusalem was temperate; the generals exercising command- They were animated by the feeling of Tequite; their decisions were not without recourse, while the Israeli high commissioner, who is at the same time "commander in chief", governs without control, by having at its side only an advisory committee (Advi-sory Council) appointed by him and assembled when he please. Mr Jeffries spoke to social leader list Ben Zweek and communist leader Chaim Katz, the first supporter of the second international, the

(1) London. Carmelite House, 1923.

the imperialism of Israel 263

second being attached to the third. Both dili-people from groups of Jews from Slavic countries who form the vast majority of immigrants. Their main concern is not to cultivate the land, to work work in industrial establishments, but spread their ideas, to build a socialist state. As a result, they fight Jewish nationalism, but are a little discouraged by noting the penu-lough at Jewish finances. We cannot say by Mr. Chaim Katz, "to create a communist oasis in a capitalist desert (1)".

The two main foreign sources of Palestine are the "Jewish National Fund", whose object is the acquisition of domains to give or rent to immigrant families, and Keren Ha-Yesod, fed by a sort of tithe collected in all the Israeli communities. The latter is not also productive as the Zionist organization hoped. THE annual revenues barely reach half amounts provided for in the budget. In two years, treasure only 15,000 pounds sterling, while the Jews poor people of Poland gave 22,000.

There are also certain scandals which disturb the spirits and cast a bad veneer on the Colonial Office as on the services of the high commission-laughed. Mr. Jeffries does not hesitate to clarify the points principals of the Rutenberg business. In September 1921, was granted to a Zionist Jew from Russia, Mr. Pinhas Rutenberg, the right to use and equip the hydraulic forces of the Jordan and Oudja

(1) The Palestine disappointment, p. 66.

264 Israeli imperialism

(the latter river in the district of Jaffa) and the monopoly of the electric current coming from it. There concession had not been put out to tender and it was negotiated, on the one hand, by the Zionists and Finteresse, which was supported by Jewish bankers from America, of r other by Mr. Winston Churchill and Sir John Shuckburgh, of the Colonial Office.

For seventy years, the Arabs will be there thank you from Mr. Rutenberg, who will hold them accountable to his gre, and for the moment, the major works carried out, according to Mr. Jeffries, who visited them in 1923, consisted of tent into a small electrical factory with two motors German-made diesel, suseptiblesdefour-bring light and strength to a small village (1).

Concord did not always reign among the leaders of Zionism. The Israelites of America, Justice Brandeis and Justice Mack, among others, including the generosity supplied more than two-thirds of the Palestinian treasure, did not see without dissatisfaction-the world organization governed by the document author Chai'm Weizmann, nationalized German Jew Englishman and the Russian Jew Nahum Sokolow, both acting in agreement with Sir Herbert Samuel, who was a British civil servant and, although a Zionist, was, wanted to retain the advantages of nationality English. Serious disputes arose between these high personages, that a triumphant travels in America of the Jew of physical sciences Einstein, fails to appease.

An early Zionist, Henri Mor-

(1) Jeffries. Op. cit., p. 69.

Israeli imperialism 265

Constantinople and great friend of President Wilson, did not hide his disillusion and let it be understood that he lost interest in the Palestinian enterprise (1).

Another Israelite, well known in Paris, where he lived for a long time, Max Nordau very clearly disapproved. He ment the goals and processes of the organization of the Palestinian. Originally from Budapest, he had abandoned his father's name, Gabriel Sudfeld, for a name that seemed more euphonious to him. After having studied medicine and served as a doctor, a soldier in the Austrian army, he traveled throughout Europe and recorded his impressions in a volume, From the Kremlin to the Alhambra, which obtained some success. This book was followed by several others, whose sale was banned in Austria and Russia due to attacks on religion and families regnants that they contained. He also composed several plays, performed in Germany. He was, with Israel Zangwill, a lieutenant of Herzl, in the definition and launch of Zionism, and introduced Herzl to Baron Edmond de Rothschild after the appearance of his work: Jewish State (2).

Max Nordau had been leader of the first congresses of Zionists and in particular that of Bale, where he pronounced a resounding speech and slanders the Jews "who deserted their people and embraced Christ

(1) During the war, the Germans had made him advances. We were also considering in Berlin, to attract the course of the Jews, the project of giving them Palestine after the victory and Mr. Zimmermann had declared* to the ambassador Morgenthau "that the Israelites had conducted themselves in a manner exemplary during the war and that the Germans "Were extremely grateful."

(2) The Jewish Chronicle, January 26, 1923.

266 Israeli imperialism

tionism with a lie on its lips." He doesn't sists and followed the sessions of the War Council of Rennes.

Nordau was so convinced that he had no other nationality than that of his race, which he was very surprised to be arrested in Paris for a few weeks after the declaration of war and being expelled from France as an Austrian subject. Refugee in Spain, he found many German Jews there and was suspected of having engaged in maneuvers with them spy.

This distinguished Israelite, whose notorize was great in literary and opinion circles advanced, died in Paris on January 22, 1923. His coffin was covered with colored draperies Zionists and numerous Israeli delegations seated were at his funeral. However, he had stopped for several years of being interested in the life of Zionism. He considered that the body resulting from the declaration Balfour ration in no way corresponded to the Herzl's conception and, in a letter addressed to a Zionist association in London, in December 1919, he declared: "We must have the courage to say clearly and frankly what we think sounds..." He who agrees to belong to a Jewish state under the protectorate of Great Britain as mandatory power cannot be called a Zionist.

Israel Zangwill is not dead, but the Zionists would have greatly wished that he had become mute, because the great speech he gave on October 14 1923, at the Congress of the Jews of America held in New

Israeli imperialism 267

York in the immense Carnegie Hall, deeply surprised and injured. Surprised, because they considered the famous novelist, the former comrade in arms of Herzl, the author of The Dreamers of the Ghetto, as a faithful friend, serving a little far away but always dedicated to the cause; hurt, because the critics emitted were singularly sharp, and that the scornful sarcasm, sharp irony accompanied constantly the framework of his argument.

As the "motto" of his speech, Israel Zangwill borrowed the title given by the chief rabbi his flock a few weeks earlier: "Veil-them, how does the night look? (Watchman what of the night?) » After recalling his dedication

ment to the Zionist idea, the charges he assumed again as president of the "territorial organization"
Jewish Rial" and the service regulating migration,
after giving this amusing detail that he had recently provided Mr. Lloyd George with the elements of the sensational article devoted to Antisemitism
by the former Prime, he vigorously attacked the political Zionism, as it was practiced by the leaders of the organization and the high commissioner in Jerusalem.

The former ruler of the Bulgarians, Ferdinand, had gives current Zionists a definition that he finds fair and appropriate: "The Zionist is a Jew who pays another to live in Zion," and Israel Zangwill cites this fact: The Jews of America provided two thirds of Keren Ha-Yesod, and do we know how many of them emigrated to Palestine in 1922?
Exactly seventy. Mount Zion,

268 Israeli imperialism

born by the Balfour Declaration, gave birth to a mouse (1).

To establish a Jewish fitate in Palestine, it would have been necessary receive the concession of the territory and constitute it the entire population. However, in the country, the Jews found in the proportion of one per nine inhabitants and they only own 4% of the land. The speaker pleases health pleasantly his co-religionist Sir Alfred Mond, who had declared, in a speech pro-announced a few days earlier, that the Jews had to apply to justify the confidence of England to ensure the maintenance of the mandate Balfourian...

In his speech, where too many subjects were discussed of and who, according to the reports published by the Jewish leaves of London, seems a little bushy, subtle remarks abound, criticisms bitterness accumulates, criticism of ideas, criticism of facts, without any concern for the personalities involved, and sometimes mystical ideas arise: "What is Judaism, condensed in a walnut shell?
It is the torch of reason in the hand of Love.

cradle of civilization; but she marked it with the stamp of his own ethnic genius. Enserres in the powerful meshes of monstrous empires, its prophets cried out from afar to claim humanity and justice...".

And the great writer of Israel lost faith in Tave-nit of Zionism. "There will be no Jewish state," he said. in Palestine; there will only be a certain extent

(1) The Jewish Chronicle, October 18, 1923.

Israeli imperialism 269

sion of the Jewish population who once lived there (1). » The League of Nations does not inspire him more confidence: "It's more of a league of damnations than a League of Nations. As for the rabbis (rabbi), just add a/a their name (rabbit) to explain quer that they are as brave as rabbits.

To support the attention of its numerous audiences tory, Israel Zangwill does not hesitate to sprinkle his speeches of spicy anecdotes, puns, but his peroration takes on a serious and almost prophetic.

When the prophet Isaiah asks: to Watcher, what Are you worried about the night? » An admirable response to him is made: "Dawn comes, but so does night. " II is possible that, coming from the depths of Europe, a wave of Cliretian madness. For the love of God, openly resist for a cause worthy of service life unto death and, if it is necessary to die, fall into holding our flag high. In this fight for your own ideal, you will not only find a death worth dying for, but a worthy life to be experienced (2).

We can guess that such a speech was very poorly executed. picked up by the Hebrew press, which, almost all whole, but with certain nuances, is in the hands "Political Zionists".

However, Zangwill's prestige is such among those of his race, who were not dared to attack him too harshly- is lying. The newspapers limited themselves to reporting a few

(1) Ibid., p. 24.

(2) Ibid., p. 28.

370 the imperialism of Israel

contradictions in arguments, exaggerations
and a pessimism that does not fit well with the conquests carried out by the Israelites since the World War
dial. (1).

Ill

Palestine, which contains the holy places, would have dii be energetically defended against invasion Jewish by Christian nations. It doesn't seem that they were clearly opposed to Zionism.
Due to the fact that they had joined the Society of Nations, that Anglo-Saxon and Jewish influences incontestably dominated, they were hit of helplessness. Spain remained silent, the Au-cheats and Hungary, defeated and collapsed states, did not dare to raise their voice; in France and England land, a few isolated protests and without much repercussions were formulated in the assemblies parliamentary blees. Catholic Belgium remained silent like Spain.

However, in Jerusalem, the Zionists believed themselves everything allowed. Did a newly arrived Jew not have

(1) Dr. Stephen S. Wise, a close friend of the President dent Wilson, insisted on declaring that Congress was in no way responsible manner of the speech of Mr. Zangwill and Mr. Nathan Strauss said that this speech was an eloquent illustration
d* erroneous information. (The Jewish Chronicle, October 19, 1923.)

Israeli imperialism 271

not bold to ask doctor Mac limes,
the Anglican bishop: "What will we do with the Church of the Holy Sepulchre? Will it be razed to the ground or burned? " THE Doctor Mac Innes came to London and gave several

did not cause a significant movement of opinion nion in his figlise. There are too many affinities between the Judaism and Puritanism, as has been so well established
Georges Batault, for it to have been otherwise.
The Greek Church was only supported by Russia,
and its representatives in the Holy Land, completely helpless, are reduced to saving their works to implore the help and charity of Anglicans and even Zionists.

A question asked in the House of Lords by Lord Sydenham, one of the best politicians initiated into the affairs of the East, gave in this regard curious details (1). Lord Sydenham asked if it were true that the high commissioner in Palestine had ordered, in agreement with the representatives of Orthodox worship, the sale of property belonging to ant to the Greek community, and if it were true that the conditions of the sale significantly favored the Zionist organization. The Duke of Sutherland, replied on behalf of the government, provides the explanations following statements: "When was the new regime of Palestine, a sort of schism existed between the Greek patriarch and the majority of the synod. Of Moreover, the finances of the patriarchate were in a state of lamentable state, A commission responsible for examine calculated that, at the beginning of 1921, the debts

(1) See V French Action of November 17, 1921.

272 the imperialism of israjbl

amounted to 550,000 pounds sterling. It became impopossible to support schools and charitable institutions tables of Christians of this rite. To avoid bankruptcy, the deadline for which a moratorium had postponed, it was necessary to alienate part of the heritage of the church and that is what was done. The conditions of the Did the sale favor the purchase by the Zionist treasury?
The Duke of Sutherland does not vouch for it, and he is right, because the Jewish organization had an interest in buy at the lowest price. As for Sir Herbert Samuel, it is said that he was full of tact. The due of Sutherland will enumerate the various properties of patriarchy, among which is the Holy Sepulchre, and argued only land of relatively recent acquisition and located in the suburbs of Jerusalem were alone
for sale.

of patriarchy were not extinct, Sir Herbert could put in Fencan the basilica sheltering the tomb of Christ and have it purchased by the organization Zionist statement!

Christians around the world should reflect k this possible consequence of the declaration Bal-oven and the Palestinian mandate.

It seems that certain observations, of which the most serious issues emanating from Rome, obtained a result. Article 14 of the draft mandate prepared by the government British government stipulated that a commission special, where the religious interests in question would be represented, would have the authority to designate the places saints and ensure their custody; but, monuments and holy places remained "subject to the provisions of laws on public monuments which may be decreed in Palestine with the approval of the "proxy session". With this text, the Zionists and the British government, in case of difficulties, would have been the masters of last resort.

Israeli imperialism 273

A new redaction of the article transferred to the League of Nations attributions and prerogatives Jews and England. It is thus conceived:

The mandatory power will appoint a commission special committee which will be responsible for examining and defining the rights and claims relating to the Holy Places, as well as the rights and claims concerning the various religious denominations in Palestine. The mode appointment of the members of this commission, its composition and its attributions will be submitted for approval by the council of the League of Nations and the commission may neither be appointed nor enter into functions without the approval of the Council (1).

Although seized of this text since 1922, the Council of the League of Nations had not yet nuncio on his subject in May 1924. If you consider which is in Jerusalem and in Bethlehem Fenclivetrement holy places and the competitions in which their possession has long since given rise, we conceive The importance which will be attached to the composition and attributions of this commission which is both religious,

There is no doubt that the establishment of justice Daism in Palestine will deeply undermine the rights of Catholics. But, like interests national and political are also at stake, the Holy

(1) P. Mignot. The Jewish problem, p. 163.

19

274 Israeli imperialism

Siege only intervened with caution and extreme reservations in all debates relating to the man-
dat. In 1920 and 1921, the Roman Osservatore had criticizes Jewish immigration and measures contrary to freedom and the functioning of Catholic institutions, taken by the government Zionist government. The fact of having excluded French languages having the right to be cited in Palestine do not Shouldn't it have provoked the most energetic protectors?
tations of our government?

In May 1922, the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem
salem, Mgr Barlassina, went to Rome, and, before a large audience, held a conference which constitutes one of the tightest indictments, the more documented, pronounced until now against the Anglo-Jewish regime imposed on Palestine. He showed the proposed plans for the progressive elimination of Arabs, who imbibe it "when they have served well of porter for the Installation of the Jews". He establishes that the vast majority of immigrant Jews are not not believers and pursue purely polite goals
ticks, while Orthodox Jews, for a long timefixed times in the Holy Land and deeply religions, are treated as pariahs, like simple Arabs or Christians, and encouraged to leave the country.

The millions received from America are not used for works of general interest nor for states blessings of beneficence; they are reserved for Zionists. Before the British conquest, we breathed in Jerusalem a scent of patriarchal simplicity.
The women's attire was modest; most were veiled. With the Zionist regime, all modesty has disappeared, Young girls outrageously décolletees

THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 2^

stroll on foot or on horseback through the streets of the quoted. Mgr Barlassina gives details which explain his indignation:

During the time of the Turks, the law and the authorities always 3 bears forbids houses of ill repute, particularly k Jerusalem, k Bethlehem, k Nazareth, while that a few months after the occupation, on August 1, 1918, to clarify, a decision authorized the creation of some of these houses in Jerusalem – thing never seen ! – Later, Sir Herbert Samuel abolished, by an order of February 3, 1921 (Gazette offered cial, n° 37) all previous restrictions, and per-allowed anyone and wherever you want to open brothels. This permission is extended, outside Jerusalem, k Jaffa, Gaza, Bersabee, Ram-
leh, Bethlehem, Caiffa.

“It is an indignity that cries for vengeance,” proclaims the Latin Patriarch: “This is what the Zionists know make the unhappy Holy Land. The world Chretien should revolt and not tolerate any further such a great and sacrilegious desecration of land watered with the blood of the Redeemer. »

Orthodox Jews protested against these morals news and against the scandalous debauches which resulting. There are more than five hundred Jewish women immigrants in Jerusalem who refused to work in the workshops to make a living from prostitution and three thousand people are suffering from honest diseases testers.

Mgr Barlassina adds that certain colonies
Jews, populated by Bolshevik Zionists, practice
communisrae “in the broadest sense of the word”.

276 Israeli imperialism

Also, certain honest and religious Jews, attracted in Palestine through their mystical feelings,
they re-embark after a stay of a few weeks,
disgust and discouragement.

As for Catholics, in addition to personal taxes
very heavy, they are taxed for government schools government while they support with their own

they are treated by the courts with the most complete injustice. If there is conflict between a Catholic and a Greek Orthodox, it is always to the latter that he is proven right. By policy and interest, Protestants and Greeks are getting closer to the Zionists. Only Arabs and Catholics stand up to resist and are treated as enemies.

The message addressed in 1922 to the Society of Nations by the Sovereign Pontiff, the head of TfigUse – the only international one that holds – according to just expression of Charles Maurras, was therefore singularly justified. Pope Pius XI spoke of the law and justice; he spoke in the name of religion and reason and his voice addressed conscience universal...

In England, it aroused echoes among Catholics. liques. During the last congress of the Women's League Catholics, held under the presidency of the Countess of Denbigh, the Palestinian question was the subject of energetic statements. Lady Sykes, one of the delegates fords, was indignant at the thought that England, protecting aunt, but Christian, had conquered Palestine to deliver it to the Jews by accepting the mandate defined by Balfour. All language Catholics English, she said, should go and fight in the Land

i/LEMPERIALSM OF ISR AEL 277

holy, as the Crusaders once did. A religious great man from Palestine, Dom Bede Camm, declared that the Zionist experience will not last ten years and, among the reasons given in support of this assertion tion, he indicated – which aroused the anger of the Jewish press – that the Jews, traders up to the marrow, would find that in Palestine there is no enough Christians to exploit (1).

*

As a colonial enterprise, despite the efforts accomplished and F money spent, the Zionist adventure failed; it is even more than a failure, it is a bankruptcy. Ambassador Henri Morgenthau, a Sio-recognized :

The truth is that Palestine, even in a state of prosperity cannot feed a large population.

It has a meager and stingy soil. It's a country of hills rocky places on which, for centuries, a people courageous man strived to live by cultivating with multiple difficulties a few scraps of earth scattered its $h and the... The rivers, in small numbers and of low current, are totally insufficient for a system large irrigation system necessary, however, to rationally exploit the country. The underground layers water fountains can only be used if prodigious expenses... After a thorough investigation founded on site, I can announce that Palestine

(1) The Jewish Chronicle, August 17, 1923.

278 Israeli imperialism

will not be able to support more than a million new inhabitants (1).

This testimony was undoubtedly one of the most nibles of those that Sir Herbert Samuel and the doctor Chaim Weizmann had to record.

But if colonial Zionism seems strikingly im-power, it is not the same for political Zionism tick.

First, England essentially holds, for reasons of a strategic nature, to be exercised, under the term of mandate, a military protectorate over the Palestine. When were sanctioned by Sir Edward Gray and Mr. Paul Cambon the agreements reached between Sir Mark Sykes and Mr. Francois Georges Picot, separately rant, against all historical and ethnic rights, the Palestine from Syria, France is suffering a heavy defeated and lost a large part of its prestige in East. But the British Empire, usually taking advantage element of a period of the war where all our efforts were directed on our western front, won an important victory. Zionism helping, France was distanced from Egypt and Suez Canal (2).

Furthermore, the legal creation of the "Foyer na-Jewish nationality" gave to the race of Israel a force of political and mystical which singularly add to its power and has its ambitions. New launches of Jerusalem by the Zionist organization, the extracts Palestinian newspapers are read in communities

(1) H. Morgenthau. Zionism a Surrender, not a solution, p. 5 (The World's Work, July 21, 1921).

(2) P. Mignot. The Jewish Problem, p. 169.

Israeli imperialism 279

Jewish nauts from around the world; a television agency graphic is being formed under the direction by Mr. Grossman, administrators of the Jewish Correspondence desk weight (1), to orient as appropriate all information concerning Judea.

Every year, a Zionist congress is held in Central Europe, where the delegates of the associations Zionists of all countries hold solemn seated. This is where major projects are developed d* Israel and the rare opposition to Zionism, the dis-critical comments formulated in the press or during of certain meetings, find no echo.

At the Congress of the Jews of America, October 1923, where the biting voice of Israel Zangwill did not spare not the leaders of the official Zionist organization, The effect produced by the great writer's feloquence was k almost insignificant. It's barely a few applause greeted those of his critics which seemed the best justified, and the numerous assembly, in the resolutions adopted, manifested his wishes to resolutely pursue his plans of conquest in Palestine, plans that the governments of England and the United States also support their best.

The beginning of the final resolution voted by the congressists is a tribute of gratitude in verse "Tatti-magnanimous study of President Coolidge with regard to of the American Jewish Congress, to whom he expressed, through Dr. Stephen S. Wise (2),

(1) The Jewish World, July 12, 1923.

(2) Rabbi Stephen S, Wise was remined gray from the first resident Woodrow Wilson throughout the duration of the negotiations

280 the imperialism of Israel

his sympathy for the policy of reconstruction of the Jewish national home in Palestine.

The Congress also thanks the British government for the "noble task he undertook" and asks him "with respect and gratitude to do everything possible to remedy the grievances expressed by the Carlsbad Congress", grievances which had sur- any aspect of the rational limitation of immigration.

As this limitation is partially due to the shortage of the Palestinian treasury, an appeal is made in favor of Keren Ha-Yesod and Sir Herbert Samuel is invited "to no longer delay remission of its loan for the development of resources from the country".

A sentimental appeal is similarly addressed to Arab victims of the Jewish invasion:

Congress asks them to recognize that, during more than 1850 years, the dreams, the hopes, the prayers of Jewish people turned towards this country, and that the return of a large Jewish population in Palestine would be a blessing for all its inhabitants and would cast a bridge of mutual understanding between the East and the West.

It is doubtful that the Islamo-Christians of Earth holy, rancor and mistreatment by the Zionists, appreciate the value of such a blessing. In all case, the final paragraph of the resolution is sufficient cleverly suggestive:

Finally, the Congress sends its fraternal greetings to all the parts of the Christian and Muslim worlds that Palestine interested. Our hope with the object of our prayers is that Jerusalem will be rebuilt in our day and become the center of world peace for all nations, all races and all religions, as our great Jewish prophets predicted, and let the darkness dissipate that threatens to extinguish

Israeli imperialism 281

for the common good of all humanity (1).

Under this democratic and frank phraseology
Masonic ambitions are rather difficult to hide Judaic. The "reconstruction of Jerusalem" is the temple of Solomon rebuilt on the ruins of the Holy Sepulcher and mosque of Omar; it's Israel
sovereign arbiter of the destinies of the world.

It is not in vain that the Talmudists pre-says the re-establishment of the Jewish empire. In "do not cultivate "not before foreign soil", by not submitting to no king, by not mixing with any other people, the Jews deserve the resurrection... "The hour will come
– said the prophets – where you will see the hills again
of the forefathers, and these hills will be the center of the world,
of the world which will be subject to you (2). »

And this hour of triumph, the poets of the race
have already celebrated it:

Here is day 1 Here is sign 1
Israel, Israel, here you are green again
Like the dead wood of the vine,
Erases the hard branch that sleeps during winter
And pushes for the renewal of new foliage! (3).

Is it reckless to think that the Zionist flag which floats in Jerusalem is the symbol of imperialism from Israel?

(1) New York Times, October 17, 1923.

(2) Bernard Lazare. Anti-Semitism, p. 19.

(3) HG Gattau. The Promise Decompiled, p. 17.

CHAPTER IX

SOME THOUGHTS AND QUOTES IN CONCLUSION

A BROCHURE SIGNED SIEGFRIED PENTHA TULL. • PA-SUBSTANTIVE ROLES » OF RABBINS CHAJES AND ASHER GLINSBERG,

deliberately the ambitions of Israel. lord robert

Cecil calls for Jewish support for the Society of Nations. – Should distinctions be made between the Jews ? – Sephardim and Askenazim. – Jews “goodnes” by MR Groos. – Against Israel's offensive, national and international efforts are needed

SAIRS.

The overview is complete. We left aside the small fitats, where the Jewish question exists also, but does not assume, from a political point of view, a serious character, keen acuity. Without doubt, he there are Israelites in Holland, Belgium, Portugal, in Spain, but their influence there is relatively minimally. The governments of these states do not pass under the caudine forks of the high bank

284 Israeli imperialism

Jewish only intermittently, when they emit large loans on foreign places.

We were able to see, during this study, that it is otherwise among the great powers. The action of Israel is exercised in a continuous manner, in all areas, economic, social, political.

The documents presented, the testimonies recollected are concordant enough to force the judgment of anyone who is free from prejudice and of bias. Compare the situation of the Jews from Germany, Russia, France, England, the end of the 18th century, to that which is theirs today of today. Consider the prodigious leaps made killed by them in their upward march, after the revolution of 1848, after the Franco-German war order of 1870-71, after the world war! And We will judge whether it is rash to talk about their ambitions. limitless tions, of their imperialism, of their thirst of universal domination...

A curious brochure appeared in Austria in 1923. Its title is: The victorious idea and we the Jews, and author Dr. Siegfried Pentha Tull (1).

between the Reichspost, a conservative Catholic organ, and the Morgenzeitung, Jewish newspaper of Vienna.

This pamphlet celebrates Israel's triumph and sings her glory, at the same time as she shows the skillful procedures, the marvelous diplomacy which prepare for victory. Judge by these passages extracts from the conclusion:

(1) An analysis, extracts and comments from this brochure appeared in the Revue Internationale des SocUtds secretes. Issues of November 4 and 11, 1923.

Israeli imperialism 285

We Jews have always been men of this world ; the duplicity of Germanic fame has never gate any of our designs; our lack of prejudices have always let us see everything clear light of reality. We thus "dare or the crowd hesitated", thus we made fruitful discoveries and inventions and protected Tart of the future, with an ardent sense of all that is new yeal and revolutionary.

Thus, from being helots that we were, we became naked, in half a century, the masters of industry, of commerce, press, theater and politics. There is nothing in the whole world that can be done without us, because our daughters stretch over the borders lands and beyond the oceans; and they are not hard son ; they wrap themselves limply around obstacles without breaking. We had to spin them slowly, in Todarkness; we never got tired, no not from a sense of duty, but from a clear view, careful and bold in the circumstances, going as far as end ; we knew the human soul right down to its final depths and let's not introduce ourselves like angelic candidates, but we grasped men by what interested them most, in order to attract them where we wanted them. We had to everywhere be first of all an "element of decomposition" in order to fertilize the plowed field on which we could sow and reap. We have always been merciless where pity would have been weakness, but also always good and ready to help where you wanted to live at peace with us...

Israel has a heart full of generosity and will be a will humbly bear his yoke. Sure of his victory, he can now display its flags and reveal its

286 Israeli imperialism

modes of domination: "We used boldly of these two means, F money against Fil-Lusionism of the former governments as against that of the socialists and the Bolsheviks, and the suggestion against the power of militarism and the money of the illusionist bourgeoisie. And no one can imitate the use we have made of these means, because it is based on the specific excellence of our breed I »

The author of the brochure recognizes that there remains still something to do, and some pitfalls to be avoided in order to achieve the universal domination of the race :

We must become aristocrats like Beaconsfield, generous like Isaac Montefiore and intelligent people like Marx and Lassalle. We will then not have more than one thing to fear: our oriental passions! We must not experience the dizziness of victory obtained, nor wanting to tighten the power cord too much. see, nor take vengeance on our enemies as other-time Mordecai. Our unique weapon must now be before the spirit that we must not let soften in the satisfaction of our senses. We must stay cold, not from an illusory feeling of duty, but for the simple reason that the smallest error in a account gives a false result I We won the world: now we must earn his esteem in order to cif he recognizes our domination as merited, that he is happy with the measures we will take and accepts them as the best solution of an order world which can never function perfectly resolved. So, finally, a single kingdom, built on a observation of the world without illusion, will understand all the peoples and the promise of Moses will be fulfilled for us, Jews, in a higher sense than they would hope for our oppressed fathers: our spirit will reign over all people! (1).

i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 287

In a less brutal form than that of the Protocols, with, in addition, a few escapes of idealism, it is the same victory song of the race, the same statement of his methods and ambitions supreme. Also your guess is that the extracts from the brochure published by the Reichspost were poorly welcomed into Jewish circles.

The Wiener Morgenzeitung, a Zionist organ, declared that this document was a "forgery". She doesn't know not this Doctor Pentha Tull. Is this Fanagram de Tulpenthal taken as a pseudonym by Fabo-pathetic author of the brochure, which must be or a malicious Christian from Germany, or a "Jewish scoundrel enters the bosom of Ffigliseromaine, and that. to earn money, is ready to write everything down and sign everything? (2) »

The Jewish paper opines for the Christian, because a Jew would not have called Isaac the great philanthropist Moses Montefiore and would have written Mardochai and not Mordecai. The argument is not very convincing. But let's not quibble with the Israelites on this subject. He is not necessary to read the Protocols or the brochure of the mysterious doctor Pentha Tull to know the mentality, the ambitions, the methods of conquest of the "chosen race", to define its "imperialism", his thirst for world domination.

Bernard Lazare, Israel Zangwill and many others

(1) The International Review of Secret Societies, n° 33, p. 819.

(2) Reichspost of July 21, 1923.

288 Israeli imperialism

Jews revealed to us, long before publication of these documents, the origin of which does not have, I agree, of historical character, all that it is necessary to know in order to understand in one's amplitude and its gravity the Jewish peril, which threatens to so distressing in the manner of Christian civilization.

Other voices from Israel are raised from time to time to formulate "substantive words" on the question Jewish tion, and these words cannot be treated of anonymous or perverse voices. We can't no longer contest their value, because they emanate from most qualified giants.

Open V Jewish National Almanack for Vannee 5682 (1821-22), published in Austria by the same publisher as the Wiener Morgenzeitung, you will read there a definition of the imperialism of Israel by the coming rabbi nois ZP Chajes, member of the "Massadok" lodge, affiliated with B'nai B'rith:

Jewish imperialism, the only one that does not oppress, which raises, on the contrary; which does not make you a slave, but who liberates; who doesn't hurt? but who heals; Timpe- Jewish rialism which has its greatest expression in this words from the Bible: "The time must come, the time will come where your ideas will fill the whole world. » Our imperialism is the only one that can get away with impunity defy the centuries, the only one who need not fear defeated, who, without going astray and invincible, walks to soa goal with a slow but slow step.

And Rabbi Asher Ginsberg (in Hebrew Achad ha Am, Telu of God), which the Zionists consider

like a sort of prophet, because he expresses himself

the Imperialism of Israel 289

sometimes in nebulous language, seems very learned and claims to be the spiritual leader of the movement Jewish renovation, Rabbi A. Ginsberg, as the Talmud, justifies imperialism by choice divine from which the race benefited:

Throughout the duration of the Diaspora, our fathers despite the most terrible persecutions and all their miser es, had the custom of thanking God every day of having created them Jews. We have never heard say that a Jew wondered about this benefit diction: "What reason do I have to rejoice in being Jewish? "A fortiori it would not have come to him r mind to ask, "Why am I Jewish?" » Such questions, if anyone had asked them, would have been considered not only as blasphemy, but like nonsense. Everyone knew, as a natural axiom, that, on the technology of creation, there are degrees: undermine them, plants, animals, men and, above them, the Jews. Would we think of ask why the animal is an animate being and why couldn't it just as easily have been a ask why the Jew is a Jew and why he desires to be (1).

The Jew being convinced that he is a superman,
Is it any wonder that he conceived a dream of domination?
universal?

In 1902, the Jewish lodges of Vienna having given a party in honor of the twentieth anniversary of the independent order of B'nai B'rith, doctor

(1) Revue international?, des Socides secretes, 1923. n° 34,
pp. 838-839.

20

290 Israeli imperialism.

Gustave Karpeles wrote an article on this occasion
on the Order and Judaism, in which he exalted the role of the great Masonic federation which had awakens energies and confirms among the Jews Fidee
of the future reserved for their race:

In our lodges, we have done a lot in this direction. But we must do much more and everyone must take part in this work... so that they can draw from it courage and pride, telling ourselves that our cause has triumph of changes, of times, and that on the blood and on the peoples... on tears and thrones, through revolutions, it made its way to the modern times, to be, in this historical era
so eventful, witness to the last great struggles of race... for the triumph of the ethical instinct of Fenteaching of Israel (1).

It should be noted that Doctor Karpeles formulates
these hopes of victory and alludes to the "last
"last great racial struggles" twelve years before the beginnings of the world war.

In the field of economics, relying on statistics and order considerations
social, a learned writer who was not Jewish had,
a long time ago, formulated in a documentary book
ments (2) forecasts of the same order, singularly ment favorable to the aims of the Hebrews and announced

(1) Page 17 of the brochure published by the Grande Loge [^] B'nai B'rith for Germany. Berlin, 1902.

(2) History of the political economy of ancient peoples, by du Mesnil Marigny, Paris, Plon, 1878.

THE IMPERIALISMS OF ISRAEL 2()I

Political Uvation of Israel at the height of greatness therefore seems certain, since, at this moment, nothing does not seem to be able to ward off it. Thus, less than one great modification in Fordre and the movement of societies, we will see before long, some extraordinary dinary that such a twist of fate seems, to govern the nations, after having applied all their chesses, and, consequently, multiply without measure in driving out before him (Exodus XXIII, 30) the inhabitants of all the earth, as he used for the Chana-neens and for the natives named Gessen. Certainly, we will recriminate against this presentiment of substitution of the Israelites to the present races of the various parts of the globe, and we cannot disagree that this prediction is not very daring. But the story is to teach us that, in each country, the populations indigenous populations are gradually being replaced by the plade who, camped on their territory following treaties or happy feats of arms, is incontestable to them—superior in wealth, in industry, in faculties productive of all kinds (1).

Such predictions have singularity flatter Forgeuil of the race, especially as Mr. du Mesnil Marigny joyfully bore the mourning of the civil Christianization and willingly accepted domination nation of Israel: "If the sons of Jacob, taking advantage of their superiority in everything that provides superiority and longevity in this world, manage to survive with any other race, as we know Tattament, the spirit of brotherhood which unites them, no one will not dispute that it is through them that we will see

(1) Quoted in The Problem of Present Time, by H. Delasus, t. II, p. 644.

202 THE IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

then realize this era of humanity, this wish of all philosophers, this aspiration of all big hearts, we mean united brotherhood versale... From today, by the facts that we have exposed, one would have to be blind to put into question the superb future which is reserved for Israelites (1). »

There were other Christians from various countries to serve as agents, accomplices, auxiliaries more or less conscious k F elevation of Isiael.

The author of the letter to Lord Rothschild on the "Jewish National Home", Mr. Arthur Balfour (today (now Earl Balfour), is one; his relative, Lord Robert Cecil is another and not one of the least harmful.

We know the role he played in the League of Nations, where he served as delegate of South Africa and became the fierce defender of all measures claimed or suggested by the Jews* He founded in England a League of Nations Union, intended to propagate the cult of the League of Nations – of which Philosemite tendencies are undeniable – and perhaps also to direct the Society more on this dangerous path.

In May 1922, the Union held at the Queen's Hall in London a solemn meeting under the auspices of the rabbis of England with Lord Robert Cecil as the main speaker. Chief Rabbi Hertz, who presided, received the noble lord with the Hebrew salute that: Shalom Alechem (peace be with you I); he praised the League of Nations, whose aim was to

(1) Ibid., p. 645.

i/LEMPERIALISM OF lSRAJSX 293

monise with "the sublime prayer of the new year hebrai'que" to ward off tyrannies and iniquities and ask Jehovah for the establishment of ternity of the peoples of the earth (1).

Lord Robert Cecil speaks easily; he deployed peace, tarnish the famous abuses of which people complain the Hebrews of Ukraine and implore assistance Jews in favor of the League of Nations Union. "I don't belong to your community," he said, but I know the tenacity, the skill, the resources of which you have always given proof. At the service vice of a great cause, you have the opportunity to exercise recognize all these qualities. I ask you about us help create a powerful movement in England of opinion for the benefit of the League. »

And this appeal, Forateur addresses to British Jews niques, as English citizens and also in the name of their religion (sic). "Should I remind you of your his- toire, your great men, how your greatest king, in times gone by, re$u1? the name of the man the peace ; how your great city, connected center gods of the majority of the world, is the city of peace; how your prophets, your psalmists, your poets, moved from the idea of victory to the conception of a national peace, and from this has the conception of a universal peace (2). »

We can guess that the Jewish audience welcomed these statements. rations of a Christian with warm applause- ments, and it is in the midst of a gene-

(1) The Jewish Chronicle, May 19, 1922.

(2) Ibid., p. 22.

294 Israeli imperialism

ral that a resolution proposed by Mr. Lionel of Rothschild, in favor of the League of Nations and propaganda intended to popularize it, was adopted.

Let us not forget that the League of Nations and the An- gleterre, its agent for the administration of Jewish Palestine, contribute directly to the union communities and the dominated aims of Israel.

It is not uncommon to hear people say that there are Jews and Jews, that we should not be embarrassed realize the misdeeds and ambitions of some of them them, that they do not all have the same mentality, do not are not to the same degree refractory to being assimilated tion to the peoples among whom they reside. Jews from Egypt told me that they loved the culture French and that it would be wrong to confuse them with the Jews of the West.

Without doubt, if you judge from an individual point of view duel, there are distinctions to be made, but are they SUFFICIENT TO REVERSE THE OVERALL JUDGMENTS A bear on race, after careful investigations and repeated?

In Doctor Fromer's book: From the Ghetto to Culture, translated by Louis de Chauvigny (Paris 1924) we find an Israelite ardently in love with

i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL 295

culture, full of gratitude for the Goym who have it educated, developed his intelligence. He asks to his co-religionists to respect them... Can we say that his equals are legion?

It is undeniable that there are differences note between two varieties of Jews who live next to each other taposes in parts of Africa and in East. In his interesting work on Turkey, Mr. Maurice Pernot transcribed what an Israelite told him said about them:

The Jews of Türkiye come from two origins and belong, one could say, to two civilizations different.

The Sephardhim, who came from Portugal, from Spain and the south of France are linked to T the West, k Latin civilization; they speak for mostly Spanish jargon.

The Askenazim originate from Central Europe or oriental; they speak German jargon and it's towards the Germanic culture that they feel attracted to (1).

A general of my friends, who spent a good part his side, that there was reason to make a serious difference

ence, I will not say between the two races, since the origin is certainly the same, but between the two categories.

The Latin Jews, affirms the Jew of Constantinople,
are all supporters of assimilation; I want it a lot,
but if they are supporters of it, they have not achieved it at all go.

(1) The Turkish Question, Paris, B. Grasset, 1923, p. 179.

296 I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

There is also a touchstone: it is the Zionism. Individually, you will find Israellites moderately approving the installation in Palestine of the "National Home". You will find one large number not having the slightest desire to go live in Judea and build a modest house there or a sumptuous villa; they will limit themselves to paying a modest contribution, as small as it is for them will be possible so as not to be taxed as a lousy person, but at the same time
no Jewish group, no personality will dare to to openly stand against Zionism, a symbol of the resurrection of the race and its nationality.

The organizers of the Carlsbad Congresses claims that they made no difference between the Askenazim and the Sephardim. These two sections, long separated, are all the less divided today
today that the means of communication have allowed to join together, if not to merge. The star of Zion shines for the Israelite universe and its light illuminates his triumphal path.

An Israelite from France, Mr. Rene Groos, who declared an integral nationalist, a royalist and an ally of Action franchise" published an Investigation into the Jewish problem (1)
for which he received many responses
has a skillfully prepared questionnaire. These answers are accompanied by comments tending to demonstrate that there are two categories of Jews: the
"Well-born" Jews, that is to say, according to Mr. Groos, those who are capable of noble passions and ideas disinterested. These Jews wanted to "become like pletely French" and want to "deserve to be".

(1) Paris, New Rationale bookstore, 1924.

THE IMPERIALISMS OF ISRAEL 207

In the other category are the other Jews, which the author is not interested in. As a pro-typical of "well-born" Jews, Mr. Groos cites a "hero Jew of Action française", Pierre David, kills the enemy and who, in a touching will, asked Charles Maurras, his intellectual guide, his model, a posthumous right of citation.

The "well-born" Jews as defined by the author of The survey should not be numerous, their nature realization, as Eugene Marsan explains in a very literary preface, should constitute a privilege, determined not by promises and declared rations, but according to actions. The judgments to be rendered in such material would be of a very delicate nature.

Having personally contributed a small tribute to this investigation, I transcribe here the text of the letter by which I responded to the questionnaire of M, R, Groos:

Sir,

I am fully aware of the reality of the Jewish Peril. The articles that I give to Action Française on "the Jewish Pushes" and my book: The Reign of Israel among the Anglo-Saxons V establish superabundantly.

The democratic regime is undoubtedly the most pro-part of Jewish domination, because it leads to plutocracy tie, and the high Jewish bank holds the gold, has the credit said and the most effective means of action on opinion.

This is one of the reasons that makes me consider the rStablishment of the national monarchy as a necessity sity of public safety.

As for the duties of "well-born" and patriotic Jews, I do not have the authority to specify and define them. I am-time that the French must consider the Jews as

298 L/LEMPERIALISM OF LSRUEL

strangers and dangerous strangers; in a country firmly ordered, it would belong to the powers

special cases of naturalization letters could One granted to those of these foreigners who would have sufp.sam.ment proves their French patriotism for deserve to be assimilated to our nationals (1).

Mr. Rene Groos deliberately ignores the religious question in the commenatiures accom-supporting the documentary part of his book. Without doubt, Christians, no more than Muslims and Hindus do not reproach Jews for their beliefs religious and the observation of their precepts. However-Therefore, from a social point of view, Judaism has notions special rules regarding usury and interest-bearing loans.

The Jews – writes Georges Deherme (2) – do not admit were the interest of money only towards foreigners.
Moi's present to them: "You will practice among yourselves brotherhood, and the Hebrew will not lend usury to his brother ; towards our enemies, Tusure will be your war weapon; through this you will dominate them and no one will have no influence over you. »

We know the convictions brought by the officials Roman tifes against the interest loan; the Quran is not no less severe in this regard. It is written there: "God permitted sale but prohibited usury", and the vouchers Muslims would not be careful not to violate this precept.

Reporting in VOpinion on January 12
1924, from Werner Sombart's book: The Jews and the

(1) Inquiry into the Jewish problem, pp. 207-208.

(2) V Money and wealth. Paris, B. Grasset, 1919, p. 139.

THE IMPERIALISMS OF ISRAEL 299

economic life (1), Mr. Lucien Romier releases very precisely the guiding ideas of the Jewish religion and shows their harmony with the most brutal, the most oppressive of capitalism:

The Jewish religion is based on a contract, "a rule-commercial mentation", says Sombart, between God and Israel. God promises and gives something, exchange for what a just man owes him services.
Man, according to the Holy Ventures, has "an account
in the del." You would think that these are methods

previous: they passed from religion into practical life. It is the rabbis who teach: "Man must always be able to dispose of his money" or even: "Sell your goods before for shaking the dust off your soles. ", etc. Finally – a trait of extreme significance – religion Jewish considers wealth, not at all as a thing tolerated, but as the sign of blessing diction of God. The Christian who becomes rich owes apologies to the Gospel; the Jew is encouraged by his law to get rich.

Should we not deduce that these trends generate are the "most unbearable and most dangerous ? (2) »

We understand the dangers that threaten other races and the other peoples, when Israel gathered for one common action all its elements scattered on the various points of the globe, when he monopolized Tor mon-dial, when he rules over the governments of

(1) Paris, Payot, 1924.

(2) French Action of January 13, 1924.

300 t/ IMPERIALISMS D'ISRAEL

great powers, that he directs international finance national and orients as it wishes the workers' international as well as the League of Nations!

Is it possible to admit that there are many of pusillanimous minds in France and elsewhere disposed to meekly accept Jewish domination?

For the honor of Christians, we must hope that revolts will arise, resistance will be organized will be.

It is not a question of organizing for a conquest, for the persecution of a race. It is this breed which threatens us; his strength is formidable, his impetus rialism asserts itself more every day. She has undertaken, since 1917, a general offensive against other nations and it has tools to war infinitely superior to that of the adversaries divided that it claims to conquer and reduce by serving vititude.

To defend against the imperialism of this race united nationally and with financial strength and international social, efforts both national and international are necessary.

It would be necessary, in each country, to reveal the danger Jew and take internal measures to so much to ward him off. It would also be important that the conservatives, traditionalists, monarchists of the various States can exchange views, conclude close agreements with the specific aim of blocking the road to imperialism of Israel and to escape his hideous domination,

The Dresden Congress, held in September 1882, had issued wise warnings in this regard and addresses to the heads of state a strongly motivated wish inviting them to take effective measures "including munes against the growing preponderance of ju-Da'ism."

Israeli imperialism 301

Alas! such agreements will be difficult to carried out at present. They suppose reactions prior political actions and the re-establishment of a real balance in Europe. May the dangers imminent, the coming catastrophes open your eyes people and rulers!

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Alexinsky (Gregoire). – From Tsarism to Communism, Paris, 1923.

Angell (Norman). – – Le Chaos europden, Paris, 1921.

Ashmead Bartlett (Ellis). –The Tragedy of Central Europe, London, 1923.

Aubin (Eugene). – The English in India and Egypt, Paris, 1899.

Auricoste (J. Martial). – Next year... Jerusalem, Paris,

Batault (Georges). – The Jewish Problem, Paris, 1921.

Bellog (Hilaire). –The Jews, London, 1922.

Benigni (Bishop Umberto). – Storia sociale della Chiesa, Milano, 1922.

Berkowitz (Joseph). – The Question of the Israelites in Roumania, Paris, 1922.

Bernfeld (Marcel). – Zionism. study of international law national, Paris, 1922.

Bourbon (Prince Sixtus of). – UAu-'s Separate Peace Offering cheat, Paris, 1921.

Bourgeois (E.) – – Historical manual of foreign policy, Paris, 1911.

Brasol (Boris). –The World at the Cross Road, Boston, 1921.

Briere (Yves de la). – The League of Nations. Historical test ric and legal, Paris, 1920.

Carrere (Jean). – Le Pays de Vor rouge, Paris, nd

Cattai (Heli Georges). – The Promise Accomplished, Paris, 1922.

Copin-Albangelli. – The Conjuring against the Christian world, Paris, 1909.

Corcos (Fernand). – Israel on the biblical land, Paris, 1923.

Coudenhove-Calergi (Graf H.). – Das Wesen des Antisemitismus, Leipzig, 1923.

304 Israeli imperialism

Cramon (General von). – Unser Oesterreich-Ungarische

Bundesgenosse im Weltkrieg, Berlin, 1920.

Darmesteter (J.). – Les Prophetes d'Israel, Paris, 1895.

Delassus (Henri). – Le Probleme de Vheure presente, Paris, 1905.

Desjardins (Ernest), • – The Jews in Moldavia, Paris, 1867–

Dutra.it- Croz on (H.). – Summary of the Dreyfus Affair, Paris, 1909.

Drumont (fidouard). – Jewish France, Paris, 1885.

1891.

Eliade (Pampiliu). – Romania in the 19th century, Paris, 1914.

Fleg (Edmond). – Jewish Anthology, Paris, 1923.

Flourens (Emile). – France conquered, Paris, nd

Fromer (Dr Jacob). – From the ghetto to culture, Paris, 1924.

Gavard (Charles). – A Diplomat in London, Paris, 1895.

Geiger (Raymond). – Jewish Stories, Paris, 1924.

Glagau (Otto). – Der Borsen und Grundergsswchwindel in Berlin, Leipzig, 1876.

Gorgolino (Dr. Pietro). –The Facist Movement in Italian

Life, London, 1923.

Gougenot des Mousseaux. – The Jew, Judasm and Judaization of Christian peoples, Paris, 1869.

Graetz. – Geschichte der Juden, Leipzig, 1870.

Groos (Rene). – Investigation into the Jewish problem, Paris, 1924.

Hag any (Baruch). – Political Zionism, Paris, 1917*

Harry (Myriam). – The Lovers of Sion, Paris, 1924.

Hennebicq (Leon). – Genesis of English imperialism, Paris

1913.

Hevey (Andre de) – The Agony of an Empire, Paris, 1923.

Hoetendorf (Conrad von). – Aus meiner Dientzeit, Wien, 1922.

Huldermann (B.). –Albert Ballin, London, 1922.

Hurt (Walter). – Truth about the Jews, told by a Gentile,

Chicago, 1923.

Hyamson (Albert). – History of the Jews in England, London, 1908.

Jeffries (JMN). – The Palestine Deception, London, 1923.

Jorga (Nicolaus). – Geschichte des rumanischen Volkes,

Gotha, 1905.

Jouin (Mgr). – Judicial Masonry and the Catholic Church,
Paris, 1921.

BIBLIOGRAPHY 3o5

Jouin (Mgr). – The “Protocols” of 1901, Paris, 1922.

Kahn (L.). – The Jews of Paris in the 18th century, Paris, 1894.

Keren Ha Yesod Book (The), London, 1921.

King (Bolton). – History of Italian VuniU, Paris, 1901.

Lambelin (Roger). – L'figypfe et V Anglais, Paris, 1922.

Paris, 1921.

Launay (Robert). – Jewish figures, Paris, 1922.

Laveleye (E. de). – Contemporary Socialism, Paris, 1902.

Lazarus (Bernard). – L 9 Anti-Semitism, Paris, 1894,

Lemann (Abbe). – Entry of the Israelites into the Society

French, Paris, 1886.

Loeb (Isidore). – The Literature of the Poor in the Bible,

. Paris, 1892.

Mackenzie (FA). –Russia before Dawn, London, 1923.

Malvezin (Theophile). – Stories of the Jews in Bordeaux, 1875.

Marr (W.)– – Der Sieg des Judenthums über das Germanthum, Bern, 1879.

Maulde (R. of). – The Jews in the French Mats of the Saint-Headquarters, Paris, 1886.

Maurras (Charles). – Socialist leaders during the war,

Paris, 1918.

Maxe (Jean). – From Zimmerwald to Bolshevism, Paris, 1920.

Maxe (Jean). –4 Salon Bolshevism and Jewish Pheasantism,

Paris, 1923.

Mermeix. – The Combat of the Three, Paris, 1922.

Mignot (Pierre). – The Jewish Problem and the Principle of Nationalities
lity, Paris, 1923.

Morgenthau (Ambassador). – Memoirs, Paris, Payot, 1919.

Netghvolodow (Lieutenant-General Alexandre). – UEm–

Father Nicholas II and the Jews, Paris, 1924.

Noailles (Marquis of). – Count Mold, Paris, 1922–23.

Novagk (FK). – Der Weg zur Katastrophe, Berlin, 1919.

Novagk (KF). – Chaos, Munehen, 1923.

Ormesson (Wladimir of). – In European Night, Paris, 1923.

Pernot (Mauritius). – The proof of Poland, Paris, 1921.

Pernot (Mauritius). – The Turkish Question, Paris, 1923.

Pasmanik (Doctor). – The Russian Revolution and the Jews, Paris, 1923.

2i

1875.

Pouget de Saint-Andre. – The Hidden Authors of Revolution, Paris, 1923.

Rabellieu. – History of the Hebrews brought closer to time contemporaries, Paris, 1825.

Raphael (Paul). – Anti-Semitism and Pan-Germanism, Paris, 1916.

Reinach (Th.). – History of the Israelites, Paris, 1903.

Rodogianchi (E.). – The Holy See and the Jews, Paris, 1891.

Sombart (Werner). – Jews and Economic Life, Paris, 1924.

Sorel (Georges). – The Dreyfusian Revolution, Paris, 1909.

Spencer (Harold Sherwood). – Democracy or Shylocracy,

London, 1918.

Springer (Rudolf). – Der Kampf der Oesterreichischen Natio-

nem um den Staat, Wien, 1902.

Stead (H.W.). – La Monarchie des Habsburg, Paris, 1914.

Tharaud (Jerome and Jean). – When Israel is king of Paris, 1921.

Toussenel. – The Jewish kings of Vepoque, Paris, 1863.

Treistchke (H. von). – Ein Wort ueber unser Judentum,

Berlin, 1888.

Tyssary. – A diplomatic error: Hungary mutilated.

Paris, 1922.

Vasiliu (Em. DB). – Demographic situation in Romania,

Cluj, 1923.

Verax. – Romania and the Jews, Bucharest, 1903.

Vincenty (Charles). – Nationalities in Hungary, Geneva, 1918.

Vulliaud (Paul). – Jewish Kabbalah, Paris, 1923.

Webster (Nesta H.). – World Revolution, London, 1921.

Wellhausen (J.). – Israelische und Judische Geschichte,

Berlin, 1914.

Witte (Count). – Memoirs, Berlin, 1922.

Zangwill (Israel). – The Problems of the Jewish Race, New York.

Zeys (Mathilde). – A Frenchwoman in Morocco, Paris, 1909.

French action (I/), 126, 160, 187,
235, 236, 259, 271, 297, 299.

Adler (Gyrus), 63.

Abler (Friedrich), 186, 187.

Adler (Victor), 186, 187.

Adrian (Emperor), 11.

Agoston (Augenstein), 146.

Ahlwardt, 91,

Alcan (publisher), 17.

Aldus Manutius, 150.

Alemaní, 150.

Alessio (Minister), 155.

Alexander (Bernard), 48, 49, 51.

Alexander I (Tsar), 172, 173.

Alexander II (Tsar), 173.

Allenby (General), 45, 246.

Altschutz (Rich.), 57.

Andrew (General), 225.

Angelucci, 202.

Annunzio (Gabriel e), 159.

Israelite Archives (The), 16, 236.

Arkow (B.), 195.

Ashmead Bartlett (Ellis), 102.

Askenazy (Szimon), 132.

Asquith (Henry), 73, 74, 95, 96.

Asser, wine.

Catholic Association (Revue L'), 92.

Athias (Joseph), 201.
Atlantic Monthly (The), 16.
Auf Vorposien (Journal), 109.
Averroes, 151.
Azael (Judas), 151.

Bakunin (Michel), 179.
Baldwin (Stanley), 34.
Balfour (Arthur), v, 20, 65, 133,

246, 248, 257, 266, 276, 292.
Ballin (Albert), 95, 97, 98, 99.
Balmes (Abraham de), 151.
Barlassina (Mgr), 274, 275.
Barrere (Ambassador), 149.
Bars (Mauritius), 248.
Barrot (Odilon), 214.
Baruch (Bernard), 61.
Basch (Victor), 58.
Batault (Georges), 4, 271.
Beagonsfield (Disraeli, Lord), i,

8, 63, 86, 186, 234, 287.
Bela Kun (Khon), 101, 142, 143,

144, 145, 146, 147, 227.
Bela Szanto (Schreiber), 146.
Bela Vago (Weiss), 146.
Bellog (Hilaire), 257.
Bender (Rev. A. P), 51.
Benesch (Attorney), 70.
Berard (Victor), i.

308

i/IPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Bergson (Professor), wine, 234.
 Berliner Tagblaii (Das), 98.
 Bernard (Samuel), 201.
 Bernhardt (Sarah), 66, 67.
 Bernstein (Edward), 187.
 Berri (Duchess of), 211.
 Bethmann-Holweg (Chancellor of), 97.
 Beufey, vii.
 Beugnot, 207.
 Beez (Jacques de), 27.
 Bismarck (Colonel of), 92, 93, 226.
 Bismarck (Prince of), 91.
 Bleichroeder, 226.
 Bloch (G.), 7.
 Bloch (Oscar), 227.
 Blum, 25.

 Blum (Leon), 231, 232, 233, 234.
 Boerne (Louis), 87.
 Bois-le-Gomte (Baron of), 113,

 114.
 Bokanowski, 221, 234.
 Bolo, 229.
 Bonaparte, 205.
 Bonar Law, 33, 34.
 Bonnet Rouge (Journal Le), 229.
 Bouche-Leclercq, 13.
 Boms (Abbe), 14, 15.
 Baker (Gendral), 28, 29.
 Bourbon (Prince Sixtus of), 101.
 Brailsford, 227.
 Brandeis (Judge), 65, 264,
 Brasol (Boris), 183.
 Bratiano (John), 122.
 Breitung (Max), 184.
 Broglee (Due de), 113.
 Broglie (Prince of), 203.
 Buffet (Andre), 224.
 Burdeau, 90.

 Butterwotrh (fpublisher Thorn-your), 102.

 Cadllaux (Joseph), 229.
 Calmy (Jacques), 250, 251.

Gambon (Paul), 278.
Camm (Dom Bede), 277.
Cantor (Georges), wine.
Carnot (Hippolyte), 212.
Carrere (Jean), 48, 150.
Gassell (Sir Ernest), 34, 97.
Gastiglioni, 156.
Gastle Stuart (Gonte de), 56.
Cattai (Heli-Georges), 7, 248, 281.

Catuneanu (Professor), 126.
Cazewitz, 25.

Cecil (Lord Robert), 292, 293.
Ghabauty (Abbe), 10, 11, 14.
Ghadlley (fiditor), 5.
Chajes (Rabbi ZP), 288.
Chamberlain (Joseph), i.
Chamor (Rabbi), 15.

Charles I –IV (Emperor), 101, 140, 141.

Chateaubriand (Viscount of).
214.

Chauvigny (Louis de), 294.

Chesterton, 257.

Churchill (Winston), 258, 260,
261, 264.

Clay (Professor), 257.

Clemenceau, 100, 134, 135, 221,
226, 229, 230.

Clement VIII (Pope), 151.

Glermont-Tonnerre (Marquis
of), 204.

Cohan, 187.

Gohen, 201.

Cohen (Albert), 233.

Cohen (Hermann), true.

Colbert, 201.

Golin (publisher Armand), i.

Combes (Minister), 224.

Communist (Journal The), 187.

Gonstans (Minister), 224.

Constantine (King of Greece), 164,

Conii (Abbe), 164.

Goolddge (President Golwin), 71, 279.

INDEX OF NAMES CITED

30g

Pal Albancelli, 9, 14.

Goppee (Francois), 225.

Gorcos (F.), 20, 21, 251, 252, 262.

Oorday (Charlotte), 137.

Correspondent (Revue Le), 98, 243.

Corriere Iialiano (II), 109.

Coudenhove Galergi (Gomte H.)

254.

Couza (Hospodar), 118.

Go wen (Joseph), 44.

Cowen (Percy), 49.

Gremieux (Adolphe), 17, 28, 119,

120, 186, 213, 215, 216, 218,

219, 220, 222, 237.

Gres (editor), VII, 4.

Grispi, 152.

Guza (Professor AC), 2, 126.

D

Daily Chronicle (The), 40.

Daily Mail (The), 35, 194.

Daily Telegraph (The), 40.

Dante, 150, 157.

Daudet (Leon), 153, 225.

David, 12.

David (Peter), 297.

Davidsohn, 57.

Dearborn Independent (The), 68,

69, 185.

Deherme (Georges), 298.

Delagrave (fiditor), 153.

Delassus (Henri), 18, 291.

Delcasse, 149, 150.

Denbigh (Gossett of), 276.

Deroulede (Paul), 224.

Desclee and de Brouwer (:fdi-tors), 18.

Deschamps (fmile), 191.

Desjardins (Ernest), 120.

Deutz, 211.

DEVONSHniE (Due de), 261.

Dblke (Sir Gharles), I.

Dimineaza (Journal La), 125.

Dmovsky, 135.

Dohm, 203.

Don ati, 157.

Dostodzwsky, 180, 181.

Durnovo, 189.

Dreyfus (Case), 20, 223, 224.

Dridzo, 228.

Drouyn de Lhuis, 120.

Drumont (Edouard), 26, 27, 111,

218, 221, 222.

Duchatel (Gomte), 214.

Duguet (Raymond), 60.

Dutasta, 230.

Dutrait-Grozon, 223.

Dyer (AB), 57.

E

EDOUARD VII, 32, 97.

Einstein (Albert), VII, 66.

Eisner (Kurt), 100, 186.

Eleazar (High Priest), 11.

Eliade (Pompiliu), 114.

Engel (Friedrich), 87.

Enukidze, 192.

Enver (Bey), 166.

Ephraim, 74.

Erlich, 234.

ERSKINS, 33.

Esterhazy (Commander), 223.

Estrees (Paul d'), 201.

EZECHIAS, 12.

Facta (Minister), 161.

Feldman (Dr Israel), 37.

Ferdinand (Tsar of the Bulgarians), 267.

Flammarion (fiditor), 48.

Fleg (Edmond), VII, 3, 59.

Flourens (E.), 174, 176, 179.

Ford (Henry), 68, 69.

Foucauld (Lieutenant of), 240, 241.

I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Fould (Minister), 28.
Fourtou (Minister of), 219.
Franchet d'Esperey (General), 101.

Francois-Joseph (Emperor), 85, 140.

Frederick II, 74, 77.
Frederick William II, 74, 80
Fromer (Jacob), 197, 294.

FURSTENBERG, 185.
FURTADO, 210.

G

Gambetta (Leon), 218, 219, 221.

Garnier-Pages, 215.

Gazette de France (La), 87.

Geiger (Rabbi), 18,

Ghyka (Prince Gregoire), 117.

Gide (Professor), 227.

Ginsberg (Rabbi Asher), 288, 289.

Giolitti (Minister), 161.
Girardin (Mme de), 214.
Glazier, 57.

Gobineau (Gomte de), 8, 91,
Goldschmidt, 152, 156.
Gonzaga (bishop Hercules), 151.
Gorgolino (Doctor Pietro), 158.
Goudchaux (Michel), 164.
Gounaris (minister), 164.
Graetz, 79, 128, 173.
Grasset (editor Bernard), 22,

Greenbaum (Sigm.), 57, 63.
Gregohie (Abbe), 204.
Gray (Sir Edward), 97, 278.
Groos (Rene), 198, 199, 201, 296,

297, 298.

Grossman, 279.

Guggenheim (Isaac), 55, 184.

Guggenheim (Meyer), 55,

Guilbeaux, 228.

William II, VI, 73, 74, 85, 95,

96, 97, 101.

Guizot, 88, 212.

Haas, 187.

Hainish (President), 71.

Haldane (Lord), 66, 97.

Hanauer, 184.

Harden (Maximilian), 108.

Harding (President), 71.

Harris (Rev. E.), 50.

Harris (M.-J.), 50.

Harry (Myriam), 251.

Heine (Henri), 80, 87, 88.

Hellman, 57.

Henry III (King of France), 200.

Henrici, 92.

Henry (Lieutenant-Colonel), 223.

Herr, 25.

Herriot, 180.

Hertz (Grand R.abbin Doctor),

Herz (Cornelius), 221.
Herzl (Theodore), 19, 20, 265,
266, 267.
Hevesy (A. de), 138.
Hellman, 49.
Hitler, 109.
Hohenzollern (Prince Charles)
de), 118, 120, 121,
Huldermann (B.), 95, 97.
Hundt-Radowsky (Hartwig von),
83.

Innocent VIII (Pope), 151.
Isads (Prophet), 269.
Islington (Lord), 257.
Istoezy (Baron of), 92.

Jabotinsky (Wladimir), 44.
Jacobs (Joseph), 63.
Jagow (Von), 97.

DBS INDEX CITED NAMES

311

Jankelevitch (Doctor), 56.
Jannet (Claudio), 37.
Jaures (Jean), 25.
John III (Pope), 151.
Jeffries (JMN), 262, 263, 264
Jerome (Saint), 19.
Jersabek, 104.

Jessel (Colonel), 33.

Jessel (RH), 42.

Jewish Chronicle (The), 35, 38, 52,

53, 70, 78, 104, 136, 164, 192,

235, 240, 255, 265, 268, 270, 277.

293.

Jewish Guardian (The), 48, 50,

66, 105, 254, 257, 261.

Jewish Tribune (The), 67, 68.

Jewish World (The), 9, 32, 156,

170, 188, 279.

Joinville (Prince of), 214.

Joly (Mauritius), 22.

Jones (Henry), 38.

Joseph II, 82, 129.

Josielewitz, 129.

Journal des Dibats (Le), 90.

Saint Petersburg Journal (The), 191.

Jouve (editor), 251.

JUDENITCH, 109.

Judah the Holy (Patriarch), 12.

JULIAN THE APOSTOLATE, 19.

K

Kahn (Otto), 55, 184.

Kameneff, 186.

Karolyi (Gomte), 101, 141, 144, 146.

* Karpeles (Doctor Gustave), 290.

Katz (Chaim), 262, 263.

Kazim el Husseini, 259.

Kemal (Mustapha), 168.

Kerensky, 143, 185.

kestroff, 185.

King (Bolton), 152.

Klotz, 221, 234.

Kogalniceano, 122.

Kolttschak. (General), 109.

Korb (Rabbi), 197.

korfanty, 137.

Kosciuszko. 129.

Kossuth, 139.

Kraft (Irma), 52, 54.

Krassin, 192.

Krauss, 184.

Kuhn Loeb and C^o (Bank), 55,

57, 182, 184.

Kunfi (Sigismund), 146.

La Fayette, 212.

La Follette (Senator), 63.

Lamartine, 215.

Lamash (Professor), 101.

Lamsdorff (Gomte), 190.

Land and Water (Review), 257.

Landau (Chief Rabbi), 51.

Landler (Eugene), 146.

Lassalle (Ferdinand), 87, 187,

192, 286.

La Tour du Pin (Marquis of), 233.

Launay (Robert), 26, 213, 215,

219.

Lazarus (Bernard), 5, 6, 7, 23, 90,

151, 202, 281, 287.

Lazare (The Brothers), 57.

Lazarus (Professor), 18.

Ledru-Rollin, 215.

Lemaitre (Jules), 235.

Lemann (Abbe Joseph), 9, 210.

Lemos (Henriette de), 203.

227.

Leo the Hebrew, 150.

Lessing, 77, 78.

Levy (Leo N.), 64.

Levy (Raphael Georges), 234.

Levy (Sylvain), VIII, 3.

Levy-Brahm, 25.

Levy-Brubx, 25.

Lewis (Arthur D.), 64.

312

Israeli imperialism

Lewis (Miss), 42.

Lewis-Gerstle, 57.

Ilbermann von Sonneberg, 91.

Libertd (Journal La) t 26.

Free Word (The), 27, 236.

Lichnowski (Principal Ambassador)
ce), 98.

Lichtenstein (Prince Aloys de), 94.

Lelienthal (N.), 57.

Lippmann (Gabriel), VII.

Lloyd George (David), 32, 40,
41, 42, 106, 131, 132, 133, 136,
162, 164, 226, 229, 246, 248,
257, 267.

Lloyd George (Miss Megan), 42.

Louis XIV, 200.

Louis XV, 199, 200.

Louis XVI, 200, 203.

Louis-Philippe (King), 88, 113, 214.

Lowell (President), 70.

LUDENDORFF, 109.

LuEger (Doctor), 94.

Lukacs (Georges Lowinger says),

146.

Luther, 201.

Lur-Saluces (Gomte de), 224.

Luzzatti (Luigi), 149, 150.

M

MacDonald (Ramsay), 34, 227.

Mac Innes (fivSque), 271.

Mack (Judge), 65, 264.

Mac Mahon (Marshal de), 220.

MacMahon (Sir Henry), 245.

Magnes (Rabbi JL), 187.

Mahmoud (Sultan), 215.

Mahrez (Sidi). 238, 239, 240.

Maiol (bishop), 151.

Malesherbes, 203.

Mallach, 164.

Malvy (Minister), 228, 229.

Mandel (J. Rothschild, known as Georges), 221, 230.

Manfred, 48.

Manoello, 150.

Manuel (Eugene), 17.

Mordecai, 287.

Maret (Minister), 208, 209,

Margolin (Lieut enant-Colonel),

45.

Mary, 215.

Marie-Amelie (Queen), 214.

Marie-Therese (Empress),

143.

Marigny (Du Mesnil), 290, 291.

Marr (Wilhelm), 181, 182.

Marsan (Eugene), 297.

Martino (Jacob), 151.

Marx (Karl), 87, 88, 179, 187,

192, 286.

Marx (Madeleine), 233.

Masaryk (President), 102, 141.

Maurras (Charles), III, 225, 276, 297.

Maury (Abbe), 203.

Maxe (Jean), 226, 229, 232, 233.

Mazzini, 152.

Medigo (firic del), 150.

Mendelsohn (Moses), 77, 78, 79.

Mereszin, 192.

Meriano (Francisco), 159, 160.

Merelhou, 211.

Mermeix, 133, 134, 135.

Merrheim, 227.

Michelangelo, 253.

Michelson (Albert), VII.

Mignot (Pierre), 77, 80, 127, 172,

174, 210, 273, 278.

Mdlioukoff (Paul), 186.

Mirabeau, 203.

Mirandole (Pic de la), 150.

Mohamed Ali (Pasha of Egypt),

215, 216.

Moses, 6, 201, 219, 287,

Mole (Gomte), 205, 207, 208,

209, 210, 212.

Monatte (Pierre), 227.

Mond (Sir Alfred), 40, 44, 268.

Illustrated World (The), 120.
 New World (The), 26.
 Monitor (The), 212.
 Montefiore (Moses), 286, 287.

MONTPENSIER (DUC OF), 214.

Monzie (Senator of), 26, 252.
 Moody (John), 56.
 Morgenthau (Ambassador H.),
 61, 264, 277, 278.

MORHARDT, 227.

Morning Post (The), 23, 109.
 Mortoff, 186.
 Moruzzi (Hospodar), 114.
 Moses, 64.
 Moses Moser, 89.
 Mountbatten (Lord Louis), 34.
 Mowrer (Paul Scott), 8.
 Musset (Alfred de), 214.
 Mussolini (Benito), 127, 158, 159,
 169, 161, 162.

NOT

Napoleon I", 80, 207, 210.
 Napoleon III, 22, 120, 231.
 Naquet (Alfred), 28, 220, 231.
 Nardi, 157.
 Narutowicz, 137.
 Nathan (Ernesto), 152.
 Nathan (Sir Matthew), 54.
 Nat Chalo (Newspaper), 228,
 National Review (The), 35.
 Nationalistul (Journal), 2.
 Nelidow (private advisor),

190.

Netchwolodow (General), 181,

183, 184.

Neumann (Julius), 35, 36.

Newmark, 57.

New York Times (The), 185, 281,
Nicholas II (Tsar), 186, 190.
Ndztzche, 90, 180.
Nineteenth Century (Review), 257.
Nitti (Minister), 155, 161.

Noailles (Marquis of), 205.
Nordau (Max), 265, 266.
Northcliffe (Lord), 140, 256.

Opinion (Journal I/), 298.
Oppert (Jules), VII.
Orleans (Due d'), 224.
Orleans (Princess Amelie), 222.
Ormesson (Wladimir d') > 180.
Osservatore romano (Journal L'), 274.

Paderewski, 135.
Pagany (Doctor), 144, 146.
Painleve (Paul), 125.
Palestine Weekly (The), 250.
Paris (Gomte de), 214, 222.
Parsons (fiditor Leonard), 43.
Pascal (Felicien), 87.
Pasmandx (Doctor), 189.
Pasquier (Ghancelier), 209.
Patriot (Journal The), 61, 63, 74,

160, 196.
Paul IV (Pope), 151.
Payot (fiditor), 56, 299.
Peguy (Charles), 7.
Peixotto (Benjamin), 39.
Penta Thul (Doctor Siegfried), 284.

Fathers, 228.
Pernot (Mauritius), 129, 166, 167,

295.
Philipps (Sir Percival), 194.
Phelon, 7.

Picard (Ernest), 218.

Picot (Francois Georges), 278.
Pius V, 151.
Pm XI, 218.
Pilsudsky (Marshal), 132,

3i4

I/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

Plon (fdttteur), 4, 142, 290.
Poincare (President), 230.
Pomponazzo, 151.
Popolo d'Italia (II), 157, 159.
Portalis, 209, 212.
Pouget de Saint-Andre, 202.
Associated Press (The), 236.
Preziosi (Giovanni), 153.
Pravda (La Newspaper), 194.
Priest (AB), 57.
Proudhon, 29.

R

Rabaud Saint-ftienne, 204.
Rachael, 214.

Radek (Zobelsohn), 143, 229.
Raglan (Lord), 257.
Raimondi (A.), 156, 157.
Raphael (Paul), 17, 75, 50, 84, 90, 94, 119, 138, 200, 211, 217.
Raphali (S.), 49.
Report, 229.
Rathenau (Walter), 95, 108.
Raucher (Cardinal), 94.
Ravoly, 102.
Raynal, 28.
Reading (Lord), 34, 186.
Regnault, 206, 207.
Reichpost (Die), 284.
Reinach (Joseph), 221, 223.
Reinach (Solomon), VIII, 25.
Reinach (Theodore), VIII.
Reinach (Baron of), 223.

Weekly Review (La), 19, 22.

International Review of Societies

secrets (The), 147, 161, 195, 284,

287, 289.

Universal Review (La), 144, 145,

198, 199.

Rewbell, 203, 204.

Rtvera (General Primo di), 127.

Rivista di Milano (La), 156.

ROBESPEBRRE, 204.

Rodriguez (Ely), 25.

Rolland Romain, 228.

Romdsr (Lucien), 229.

Roosevelt (President), 183.

Roow (filisa), 66, 67.

Rosebery (Lord), I.

Rosenfeld (John), 57.

Rothschild (Alphonse de), 226.

Rothschhj3 (Baron James of), 14.

Rothschdld (Baron of), 117.

Rothscheld (Baron Edmond de),

250, 252, 265.

Rothschild (Lionel), 34, 260,

294.

Rothscheld (Lord), V, 20, 44,

133, 191, 292.

Rothstein (Amedee), 7.

Rouff, 25.

Rouelle (de), 201.

Rouvier (Mauritius), 149.

Ruhs (Friedrich), 83.

Rutenberg (Pinhas), 263, 264.

Sachs, 25.

Saffi, 152.

St. Louis, 198.

Saturday Review, 29.

Samuel (Sir Herbert), 19, 34, 41,
44, 244, 247, 250, 252, 255, 260,
261, 264, 272, 278, 280.

Samuel (Sir Stuart), 132, 247.

Sangnier (Marc), 160.

Sapir (Doctor), 188.

Sassoon (Sir Edward), 32.

Sassoon (Sir Philip), 32.

Saturday Evening Post (The), 73.

Schanzer (Carlo), 155, 156.

Scheff (Jacob), 55, 61, 182, 184, 185.

Schiff (Mortimer), 184.

Scholan (Raphael), 185.

Schonerer, 94.

Schopenhauer, 91.

INDEX OF NAMES CITED

315

Schuckburgh (Sir John), 264.

Seignobos (Professor), 227.

Seipel (Mgr.), 103.

Seligmann (The Brothers), 57.

Simon (Julius), 218.

Simon (Leon), 64.

Simon (Nasi Israel), 11.

Smuts (General), 48, 102, 103.

Sokolow (Nahum), 44, 65, 252,

Sombart (Werner), 56, 298.
Soncino, 150.
Sorel (Georges), 224.
Spinoza, VII, 6, 7.
Speyer (Andre), 233, 234.
Stead (Wickam), 182.
Stinnes (Hugo), 99.
Stoecker (Pastor), 92, 93.
Storrs (Ronald), 252.
Stoss (Louis), 57.
Strauss (Minister), 221.
Strauss, 181.
Strauss (Nathan), 181.
Stuart (Viscount), 56.
Sturdza (DA), 117.
Sturdza (Prince Ion), 114.
Sturdzo (Don), 158, 160, 161.
Sutherland (Due de), 271, 272.
Sydenham of Combe (Lord), 257,

271.
Sykes (Lady), 276.
Sykes (Sir Mark), 278.
Sylvester, VIII.
Syveton (Gabriel), 225.
Szamuely (Tiburce), 144, 145,

146.
Szrchennyi (Laszilio), 147.

Taaffe (Count), 94.

TCHITCHERINE, 191, 192.

Time (The), 103, 150, 249, 250.
Tharaud (Jean and Jerome), 142, 146.

Theodosius the Younger (Emperor),

11.
Thiers (Adolphe), 211, 226.
Times (The), 22, 96, 257.
Tisza (Gomte), 141.
Trurus (Emperor), 11, 121.
Toeplitz, 156.

Torre (Senator Delia), 156.
Treitschke; 90.
Treves, 157.
Tribuna (The), 160, 161.
Tribuna Russa, 111.
Jewish Tribune (La), 194.
Trompeia Carpattlor, 119
Trotsky, 101, 185, 186, 192, 227.

228.
Tweedmouth (Lord), 96.

u

Uhry, 234.

Unwin (fiditor T. Fischer), 157.

Ursin, 104.

Uzanne (Octave), 26.

v

Vallery-Radot (Robert), 19.

Vasiliu (Emile), 123, 125.

Vaugeois (Henri), 225.

Verax, 113, 116.

Verhuell (Admiral), 212.

Veron (Doctor), 214.

Old France (The), 185.

Vignon (Louis), 243.

Vigny (Alfred de), 219.

Vita Italiana (Revue La), 154, 177.

Vita Nazionale (The), 155.

National Voice (La), 60.

Voligny (Lieutenant-Colonel of), 238.

Voltaire, 88, 203.

i/IMPERIALISM OF ISRAEL

W

Waddington, 121.

Waldeck-Rousseau, 224.

Walewski (Gomte), 117.

Warburg, 61, 184.

Webster (Nesta), 74, 86, 203.

Weigand (General), 132.

Weizmann (Chaim), 20, 44, 65,

251, 252, 264, 278.

Wertheevier (Joseph de), 18.

Wiener Morgenzeitung (Die), 284,

287, 288.

Wilhelmina (Queen), 105.

Wilson (Colonel), 33.

Wilson (President Woodrow), 32,

61, 62, 71, 99, 100, 102, 133,

134, 135, 136, 141, 162, 183,

226, 229, 265, 279.

WLLSTAETTER, VII.

Wise (Chief Rabbi Stephen), 61, 183, 270, 279.

Wrros, 137.

Witte (Gomte), 183.

Wolf (Lucien), VI, 191.

Wolf (Senator), 63.

WORMSER, 57.

Wortley Montagu (Lady), 164,

165.

Woyneghowski (President), 137.

Wrangel (General), 109.

Zangwill (Israel), VII, 183, 186,
227, 252, 265, 266, 267, 269,
270, 279, 287.

Zeys (M»e) f 242.

Zbvimermann, 265.

Zinovieff, 186.

Zola (£mile), 231.

Zwee (Ben), 262.

CONTENTS

Foreword.

FIRST CHAPTER

The Jews and Judaism.

What is the overall number of Jewish populations?

How to define exactly and completely the Judaism? – Is there a government of Israel?

since the dispersion? – – The Balfour Declaration and

The Zionist organization attests to the current existence of this government. – Character that is both international and national and national of Jewish power. – Memories

from the time of Fidouard Drumont

CHAPTER II

The Jewish Invasion in Anglo-Saxon countries.

Jews among the Anglo-Saxons. – The election of Saint-George, Westminster. – The order of B'nai B'rith. –

sod." – The Jews of South Africa. – The community
naute of Egypt. – The Jewish invasion in the United States.

– The New York ghetto. – A debate at the Congress
on "the Jewish race". – Henry Ford's campaign.

– The "Ku Klux Klan" 31

3i8 Israeli imperialism

CHAPTER III

The Emancipation of the Jews and their Conquests
in Germany and Austria.

Pages

A remark from Mr. Asquith. – The condition of the Jews
d* Germany and Austria in the 18th century. – Their progressive emancipation. – Henri Heine and Karl Marx. – Attempts to react. – The Congress of
Dresden in 1882. – An anti-Jewish municipality
Vienna. – The role of Albert Ballin before and during The world war. – After the defeat of the central empires
traux. – The democratic makeup of Germany.
– The dislocation of the Habsburg Empire. – Renaissance of Fantisemitism in Germany 73

CHAPTER IV

Jews in Eastern Europe.

The Jewish invasion in Romanian country. – The reports of the Baron de Bois-le-Comte. – Jewish pressures exerted
cees at the Constantinople Conferences and the Congress from Berlin. – After having monopolized the trade, the Is-Realites want to monopolize the liberal professions.

– Student protests and campaign to defend sive. – In Poland, before and after the resurrection.

– Israel receives guarantees and privileges; F Alle-Magne retains the administration of Danzig and obtains the plebiscite in Silesia. – The role of Mr. Lloyd George.

– Jewish infiltrations in Hungary. – The collapse-
ment of dualist monarchy. – The advent and

CHAPTER V

Jews from Italy, Greece and Türkiye.

An anecdote told by Luigi Luzzatti. – The Jews of Italy, from the Renaissance to the “Risorgimento”. – THE Judeo-Germanic infiltrations at the end of the 19th century. – A sensational book by Mr. Giovanni Preziosi. – THE

TABLE OF CONTENTS 319

Pages

communist movement and Jewish banks. – Mussolini and the fascist reaction. 5 – The Jews of Salonica. – The situation of the Jews of Türkiye in the 18th century, after Lady Wortley Montagu, – Concerns caused by Angora nationalism 149

CHAPTER VI

Russia and the Jews.

The attempts of Alexander I with a view to the assimilation of Jews. – Rigorous measures. – The Jew made odious but indispensable. – He becomes the quartermaster of the Revolution. – The banking organization is in his hands. – Role of American Jews in Russian affairs. – Financing by high banks internationally, the Soviet regime was established by the Jews. – Concerns of Israel. – The last words by Lenin 171

CHAPTER VII

The Jews of France.

In the time of Saint-Louis. – In the 18th 9th century. – Their civil and political emancipation. – Napoleon and the Jews of Alsace. – Under the July Monarchy. – Adolphe Isaac Cremieux. – The founding of F Al-universal Israeli bond. – Naturalization in full Franco-German war of the Jews of Algeria. – Fidouard Drumont and Jewish France, – Jewish action in Panama, Boulangism and the Dreyfus affair. – Mr. Emile Cahen and the assimilation of French Jews boxes. – Tunisian and Moroccan Jews 197

Anglo-Jewish Palestine.

The contradictory promises of the British government
fuck. –Sir Herbert Samuel. – A Zionist poet:
MGH Cattau. – The enthusiasm of MM. Jacques

320 the imperialism of Israel'

Pages

Calmy and Fernand Corcos. – Some statistics
regarding colonization. – The irreductive opposition
ble of the Arabs. – Objections and criticisms emanating
of Israelites. – Sensational speech by Israel Zang-
will be in New York. – Catholic protests. –
sheetc of Jewish colonization. – Supported by FAn«
England, political Zionism continues its work. –
Its flag is the symbol of Israeli imperialism. 245

CHAPTER IX

Some concluding thoughts.

A brochure signed Siegfried Pentha Tull. – " Words background" of Rabbis Chajes and Acher Ginsberg, of Doctor Karpeles. – Some Christians second
deliberately the ambitions of Israel. –Lord Robert Cecil calls for Jewish support for the Socktet* of Nations. – Should distinctions be made between Jews? Sephardim and Askenazim. – "Well-born" Jews
by Mr. R. Groos. – Against Israel's offensive, national and international efforts are necessary. . 283

BIBLIOGRAPHY 303

Index of cited names 307

Table of contents 2

ORLEANS. – IMP. ORLEA.NAISE. – 30-5-J923.

Dernteres Publications of the BERNARD GRASSET Bookstore

61, Rue des Saints-Peres, PARIS

CLAUDE ANET

Ariane, young Russian girl... 7. So

Persian leaves 50

When the earth shook...6.75

EMILE BAUMANN

The golden ring of the great mysteries ticks 7-5°

job the Predestine 7."

(BALZAC GRAND PRIX)

ALPHONSE DE CHATEAUBRIA

Monsieur des Lourdines, Roma. . 6.75

La Briere 7-5°

MARTIN CHAUFFIER

Patrice or the indifferent 7.50

JACQUES CHENEVIERE

Innocence 7*5°

EMILE CLERMONT

Lauie, novel 6.75

AUGUSTE COMTE

Pen ees and Pieceptes 7*5°

B. CREMIEUX

Top of the class...6.75

PIERRE DOMINIQUE

Our Lady of Wisdom. . 7.50

EDOUARD ESTAUNIE

The cripple in the hands of him-

miere, novel. 6.75

FR. FOSCA

Monsieur Quatoize 6.75

JEAN GAUMENT AND CAMILLE CE

The highway of men. 7."

JEA-N GIRAUDOUX

Siegfried and the Limousin ... 6.75

(BALZAC GRAND PRIX)

COUNTY OF GOUINEAU

Travel Memories 6.75

BALTASAR GKACIAN

The Courtyard Man 6.75

PIERRE GRASSET

The Torrent in the city... 7.50

PAUL GSELL

Comments by Anatole France. . . 6.75

DANIEL HALEVY

Vauban 7.50

LOUIS IiEMON

Maria Chapdelainc, novel. . 6.75

Colin-Maillard 7.50

HORACE VAN HOFFEL

The two Ingenus...*. $6.7

GEORGt.S 1MANN

The Nocturnes 6.75

The Chebre son 6.75

RENE JOHANNET

Praise of the French bourgeois. . 7.50

RENT JOUGLET

The Child gives up 6.75

MAURICE LARR UY

Rafael Gatouna 6 75

ALBERT MALAUKIE

Judas' Wife 6.50

FRANG0IS MAURIAC

The Leper's Kiss, novel. 5."

Genitrix, novel 6.50

The River of Fire 6.75

ANDRE MAUROIS

Ariel or the Life of Shelley. . 7.50

The Speeches of Dr. O'Grady. 6.75

HENRY DE MONTHERLAND

Paradise in the Shadow of Swords. 6.75 -

The Dream 7.50

PAUL MORAND

Lewis and Irene 6.75

Mr. PIECHAUD

The Last Inn 6.75

PAULE REGNJER

The Living Peace 7"50

(BALZAC GRAND PRIX)

ROBERT DE TRAZ

Accomplices • . . . 6.75

Plutarch lied 7.50

RODIN

Art, illustrated edition 20. >

JACQUES SINDRAL

Lure of Death 6.75

ANDRE THERIVE

The biggest i fishing 7.50

The Journey of JV1. Kenan...6.75
({"}RAND PRIX BALZAC)

ALBERT THIBAUDET

The Princes of Lorraine 7"S°

ALBERT TOUCHARD

The Death of the Wolf 7.50

French

English

Full text of " The Key to the Mystery - Adien Arcand "

See other formats

For copies

additional,

send orders to

POST BOX 2290

Montreal, PQ Canada

bnQ

Almost suddenly the world in general, and all countries in particular, were plunged into a veritable hell.

Humanity is burdened by...

Wars,
revolutions,
Acute attacks,
Waves of unemployment,
Gigantic ruins,
Terrible upheavals.
Political assassinations,
Social divisions,
Fears and anxieties,
Unprecedented depressions.

Morals change,
Morality is declining, the authority is undermined, faith national and religious faith are attacked, civil sation is shaken.

Where does so much evil come from?
The French? English people?
Italians? of the Americas cains? Poles? of the Arabs? Eskimos?
No !

However, there are people who admit their guilt
té, who boast of it, who explain why, in what purpose for what purpose

great evil, where it leads.
All you have to do is read,
the interior.

^

r

KEEP THIS BROCHURE:

Read it, reread it, meditate on it. She gives you will reveal the key to the mystery, will clearly explain what is happening in the world, will make you understand the major events which are happening today, which will happen tomorrow. A blindfold that propaganda had placed on your eyes will fall, you will see clearly; because you will know the danger, you can save yourself from it.

Page 2

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

A Jewish plan for world conquest

TAT

In its issue of July 1, 1880, "The Contemporary", major Parisian review, published bliuit a long article entitled "Report of Sir John Rcadcliff on political events
historical events occurring in the last ten years born". It was the text of a speech given ced in Prague by Rabbi Reichom, in 1869,
on the tomb of the great rabbi Siméon-ben-Jé-

This document has also been reproduced in the livre "Jewish Russia", by Calixte de Vodsky,
then by "The Britons", London, "La Vieille France" (No 214) and many other days-nals. "La Vieille France" revealed that, Rcadcliff was killed shortly after the release of the documentary lies, and that the Jew who had made him hold it (Lasalle) was killed in a duel.

Here is the speech given by Rabbi Rei-chom:

"Every hundred years we, the Sages of Israel,
we are accustomed to meeting in Sanhedrin,
in order to examine our progress towards domination
tion, which Jeshovah promised us, and our con■ quests on enemy punishment.

"This year, gathered at the grave of our venerated Simeon ben Jehuda, we can to note with pride that the past century has given us closer to the goal, and that this goal will soon be reached.

"Gold has always been, and always will be, the power irresistible performance. Handled by ex-hands losses, it will always be the most useful lever for those who own it, and. the object of desire for those who don't have it. With gold, we buy the most rebellious consciences, we
FIX THE RATE OF ALL VALUES
^<$UJ?S; Te" COURSE OF ALL PRO-DUITS, we provide for BORROWINGS OF STATES which we then hold at our mercy.

"Already the main banks, the Stock Exchanges
of the whole world, the claims on all governments
ernments are in our hands.

"The other great power is the press.
tirelessly repeating certain ideas, the press
makes them admitted in the end as truths, I^e theater provides similar services. (Note: the cinema did not exist then). The press everywhere and the theater obey our directives.

"By the tireless praise of the democratic regime
tick, we will divide Christians into parties
political, we will destroy the unity of their na-
We will sow discord there. Helpless-days united, always devoted to our cause.

"We will push Christians into wars by exploiting their pride and stupidity. They will massacre each other and clear the place where we let's push ours.

"The possession of land has always benefited curated influence and power. In the name of the social justice and equality, divides us up let's go to big properties; give us some
We will send the fragments to the farmers who want them.
return with all their strength, and who will be well-early in debt from exploitation. Our capital will make us masters of it. We will be at our be the turn of the big owners, and the possession
sion of the earth will assure us the power.

"Let us strive to replace in the circulation
lation, gold through paper money; our crates
will absorb the gold, and WE WILL SETTLE IT VALUE OF PAPER, which will make us masters of all existence.

"We have among us speakers able to feign enthusiasm and per-
to persuade the crowds; we will spread them among the people, to announce to them the changes
who must achieve the happiness of humankind
,hand. By gold and by flattery we GA-LET'S DEMINE THE PROLETARIAT, which, will manage to annihilate Christian capitalism. We let's promise the workers the wages they don't have never dare to dream, but we will also raise the price of necessary things, so much so that our profits will be even greater.

"In this way we will prepare the re-evolutions that Christians will make themselves and from which we will harvest the fruits.

"By our taunts, by our attacks, we
we will make their priests ridiculous and odious;
their religion as ridiculous, as odiSws as their clergy. We will then be masters of their souls. Because our pious attachment to our religion, to our worship, will prove the superiority of our souls.

"We have already established our men in all important positions. Let's strive-us to provide the goyim with lawyers and doctors; the lawyers know everything the interests; doctors, once in trouble sound, become confessors and leaders tors of conscience.

"But above all, let's monopolize teaching. By this we will spread the ideas which are to us useful, and we will knead the brains of our graciously.

"If one of ours unfortunately falls in the clutches of justice among Christians, let us run to his aid; find as many witnesses what it takes to save him from his judges, while waiting for us to be ourselves judges.

'The monarchs of Christianity, swollen of ambition and vanity, surround themselves with luxury and numerous armies... We will provide them all the money their follies demand, and we will keep them on a leash.

"Let us be careful not to prevent the marriage of our men with Christian girls; because, by el-the, we enter into the circles [of the fer-my. If our daughters marry goyim, they will be no less useful to us, because the children of a Jewish mother are ours. Let's spread the idea of free union, to destroy among Christian women attachment to principles people and practices of their religion.

"For centuries, the sons of Israel have despised "persecuted, worked to carve out a path to power. They are reaching their goal. They control the economic life of evil Christians said, their influence is preponderant on the politics and morals.

"At the desired time, fixed in advance, we let us chain the Revolution which, ruining all classes of Christianity, will enslave us definitively Christians. For thus it is accomplished-is God's promise to His people.

(Naturally, the Jews disowned this document. Didn't they often deny the authenticity of the gospels? A fatigue! The Canadian Jewish Congress found an ar-formidable gument: Reichorn, who spoke in 1869, never but existed because we do not find his name in the list of rabbis buried in the old cemetery of Prague. . . closed in 1787 I t ' The Canadian Jewish Congress jious refers, as proof, to the "Jewish Encyclopedia" which, in vol.

Paul are fake. This shows what the value of Jewish arguments).

Love of the homeland

DR BERNARD FISCHER, rabbi. "Chres-Talmudic tomatie", p. 230:

"Let us not deceive ourselves and confess openly-lies that all the pains we will take to inoculate enthusiastic patriotism to the Talmudic Judaism will be lost. The ju-Daism is quite old and, in its migrations painful, he has had too many bitter experiences to that he can still indulge in this inclination
childish with great style, name that I would desire give to love of the fatherland"

The bottom of the struggle
"for the proletariat"

j

The Jew Baruch Lévi, close friend of Karl Marx, Adolphe Crémieux and Rothschild, wrote the following letter to Karl Marx, - reproduced in numerous books and logs:

". . .In the new organization of humanity, the children of Israel re-will spread across the entire surface of the globe
and will become everywhere, without opposition,
the leading element, especially if they succeed-feels to impose on the working classes the firm control of some of them
them. The governments of the for-gt* nations/

effortlessly in the hands of the Jews under the covered with the victory of the proletariat. There private property will then be deleted
by the rulers of the Jewish race, who will control public funds everywhere. 4
Thus will the promise of TaL be fulfilled, "
and that, when the time of Messiu happens, the Jews will possess the goods of all the peoples of the earth." (Letter quoted in "La Revue de Paris", June 1
1928, page 574)–

Well "informed" %

Dr EHRENPREIS, Chief Rabbi of Sweden,
in the "Judisk Tidskrift", No 6, August–September.
1929:

"Theodor Herzl foresaw twenty years in advance–
these events before we had any experienced, the revolutions, brought about by the Great War, and he prepared us for this that was going to happen."

(The "Protocols of the Elders of Zion", which several authors attribute to Herzl, have also announced current events twenty years ago move on!)

The collapse of "Gog"

^

"BEITISH ISRAEL TRUTH", 1906, by the Jews Dennis Hanau and Aldersmith:

"The complete, final and triumphant return of the Jews, will take place after the collapse of Gog (Russia).

"We can expect changes
considerable losses of the Great War which followed comes, which hangs over the nations of Europe.

"According to our interpretation of the prophecies, great power like England cannot not allow another power to occupy the Palestine." (Please note the date of this document).

Program
of jewishness
|from all over the world

The "Jewish World", one of the main
the Jewish newspapers of England, published in London, February 9, 188: "the li-following significant signs:

"the dispersion of the Jews was the cause of them
a cosmopolitan people. They are the only one truly cosmopolitan community and, in this quality, they must act and (7s act like a REMOVER OF ALL DISTINCTION BY RACE OR NATURE
TIONALITY.

"The great ideal of Judaism is not let the Jews gather one cheek in |ùel(iue corner of the earth for purposes
"jaralists, but let the whole world be imbued with Jewish teaching and that, in a universal brotherhood of Nations –
a greater Judaism in progress – all the few and separate religions disappear feels.

, "him as a cosmopolitan people, the Jews have passed the stage that represents in social life the national form of ."separatism". They will never again be able to but come back to it. They made people in-tier their "home" and they are now tending giving their hands to the other nations of the earth so that they follow their example
ple. They do more. By their activity in ^u literature and in science, by their "dominant position in all branches of public activity, they are!
will gradually flow
and non-Jewish systems in Jewish molds."

Benjamin Disraeli confesses
the Jewish conspiracy

Benjamin Disraeli (lord lleaconsfield) was first minister of Anglcler-D. This Jew published in 1858 a book intitule "The Life of Lord George Bentinck – a Political Biography". On page 357

</(■ this book, this is what Disraeli wrote;

"Let an insurrection break out against tradition of the aristocracy, against religion and property rights. Then destruction of the Semitic principle, the destruction of the Jewish religion, or in its Mosaic or Christian form, the natural equality of man and the abolition of the right of property are proclaimed created by secret societies which form provisional governments, and men of Jewish race are found at the head of each of these companies. THE people of God cooperate with allies; the most skillful accumulators of wealth ally with communists; your particular and chosen breed gives the whip to all the dregs and all the scum of bottom of Europe! And all this because they (the Jews) want to destroy this ungrateful Christianity which owes them even his name and which they don't want no longer endure tyranny.

On the same page, a few lines more bottom, Disraeli writes, about the famous Greyhound Revolution of 1848 which plunged several countries in chaos:

"If it hadn't been for the Jews, that per-unwanted turbation would not have ravaged Europe".

The "glands" of humanity

•

Poem composed by the Jew Louis Lévy in 1918, published by the house "Nytnordisk Forlag", from Copenhagen, (recited by the Jewish actor Samuel Beskow at a party in support of Karen Hagesod, in Copenhagen, Dec 8, 1935, according to the "Berlingske Tidende" of December 9, 1935, in front of an audience in delirium:

"The times have come, – and one thing only matters now – it's that we misfestations for what we are: a nation between nations, – the princes of money and intelligence. A sigh will rise from all the earth, and the crowds will tremble while that they will listen attentively to the wisdom that resides among the Jews. Who doesn't know what it means do the glands of the human body? Hey! GOOD, now, by a judicious instinct of conservitude, the Jews settled in the glands of the modern community of peoples. THE glands of this community of peoples, this are: stock exchanges, banks, ministries, major daily newspapers, publishing houses, arbitration commissions, insurance companies these, the hospitals, the peace palaces. There is p-ublican gmelques and some sinners, scholars and professors who assert that it there is no Jewish Question. So ask for it to the first thug who passes in the street, he is better informed. By his bellicose jealousy, this boor is an anti-Semite!

Naturally, the Jewish people would have to has international representation and a territorial territory of its own. _ But do not do not believe that the Jews of Western Europe will move one step.

Apparently, everything will remain unchanged, and for everything will be transformed. Jerusalem will become read new papacy. Jerusalem will look like a laborious spider spinning a web whose wires of electricity and gold will shine on the world entire. The center of this golden network from which where all the sons go, it will be Jerusalem. "

By whom the world
is governed. . .

BENJAMIN DISRAELI, Jew, in his book
"Coningsby", 1844:

"And at this very moment, despite centuries or dozens of centuries of degradation, the mind of Europe. I'm not talking about their laws to which you always obey, from their literature of which your brains are saturated, but the Israeli intellect-current lite.

"You'll never see a big move intellectual in Europe to which the Jews will not have not widely participated. This mysterious di-Russian plomacy which alarms Europe as it is organized and led mainly by Jews; this GREAT REVOLUTION (that of 1848); WHICH WILL IN FACT BE A SECOND REFORME, MORE IMPORTANT THAN 1848, and of which we know so little in Angleterre, DEVELOPS UNDER THE AUSPICES THESE JEWS who largely monopolize the professorial chairs of Germany. Neander, the founder of Spiritual Christianity, and who is a royal professor of theology at the University located in Berlin, is Jewish. Benary, also famous here, and from the same university, is Jewish.

. "A few years ago, we addressed it to us from Russia. In truth, there is never had between the Court of St. Petersburg and my family the (Rothschild) of bonds of friendship. . However, circumstances inclined towards a rapprochement between the Romanoffs and the Sidonias (Rothschild). I resolved to go to St. Peter myself. town. On arriving, I had an interview with the Minister of Finance of Russia, Count Cancrini; I found myself face to face with the son of a Lithuanian Jew. The loan was in connection with the affairs of Spain. I traveled in one go. As soon as I arrived, I obtained an audience of mid-Spanish minister, Senor Mendizabel; I found myself in front of one of my peers, the son of a nuevo Christiano, a Jew from Aragon. As a result of this who was sweating in Madrid, I went straight to Paris to consult the President of the French Council that ; I found myself face to face with the son of a Jew French, a hero, a Marshal of the empire, and there was nothing surprising in this, because where would the military heroes if not among those who worship the God of Hosts?

—And Soult, is he Jewish?

— "Yes, and many other French marshals, the most famous of them, for example, Masséna, whose real name is Mannasseh, but consultations was that it would be good to appeal to some northern power in quality friend and mediator. We fixed our choice on Prussia, and the President of the Council made a representation to the Prussian minister who attended our conference. Count Arnim entered the cabinet, and I found myself face to face with a Prussian Jew. YOU You see, my dear Coningsbv, that THE MY-OF IS GOVERNED PAU OF ALL OTHERS CHARACTERS THAT ARE NOT IMAGINED THOSE WHO ARE NOT IN THE COU-SMOOTH." – Pages 219–252.

The 300 despots

WAI.TEU KATHENAU, Jew, minister in Al-Germany, in the "Wiener Press" of December 24 bre 1921. :

"Three* hundred men only, each of whom knows all others, governs destinies from Europe. They choose their successors in their own surroundings. These German Jews have in their hands the means to put an end to all form of government that they consider unreasonable".

»?»((• 4

"We have conquered you

??

JIARCUS ELI RAVAGE, Jew, writing in the "Century Magazine" of January and February 3928.

"You're making a lot of noise around the undue fluency of the Jews in your theaters and the movie theater. Very bond; admitted that your complaint is founded, but what is that next to our penetrating influence in your churches, your schools, your laws and your thoughts of each appreciate the real depth of our guilt lity'. We are intruders. We are spoilsport. We are subversives.

We took your natural world, your ideals,
your destiny, and we have confused them. We
'you been at the bottom not only of the last great war but of almost all your wars res, not only of the Russian revolution but of all the major revolutions in your history.
We have brought discord, confusion and frustration in your personal life and publique. We still do it. No one can say how much longer we will do this.

"Who knows what great and glorious destiny
would have been yours if we had left you quiet. But we didn't leave you quiet. We took you in hand and descended the beautiful and generous structure that you had built, and we changed the course of your story. We won you over as never one of your empires has subjugated Africa and Asia. And we did it without armed, without bullets, without carnage and without fra-case, by the sole force of our mind. We we did it only by the irresistible force of our mind, our ideas, our propaganda.

"Take the three main revolutions of modern times, the French, the American and the Russian. What are they if not the triumph of the idea Jewish on social, political and economic justice that ?

"We still dominate you. Is it surprising (pie you were mad at us? We put a hinders your progress. We have simple-■ divided your soul, thrown confusion into your impulses, paralyzed your desires ^i we were in your place, we would hate you more cordially that you hate us... You call us subversives, agitators, foment-currents of revolutions. It's true. We can learn with the simplest and least effort dre realization of the facts that we have been at background of all the major revolutions of your history. Without a doubt, we had a important part in the Lutheran revolution,

main instigators of the bourgeois revolutions its democrats of the penultimate century, in France and the United States. If we didn't have it not been. we would not have known our interests loans. . ".

Conspiracy in the Middle Ages

"the Revue des Etudes Juives", financed by James (the Rothschild, published in 1880, two documents which show the Sages (the Zion in 1 work from the 15th century to direct the conquered action
rant of their race.

January 13, 1489, Chamor, rabbi of the Jews
from Arles in Provence, written to the Grand Sanhedrin
sitting in Constantinople, and asks his advice in critical circumstances. The French of Aix, of Arles, of Marseille which does not betray itself-
do not know, at that time by the election (1 a Léon ISium, threaten the synagogues; that
TO DO ?

Answer :

"Beloved brother in Moses, we have received your letter in which you inform us
born the anxieties and misfortunes that you endure. We were also penetrated by one great pain than yourselves.

"The opinion of the great Satrap* and Rabbis is the
following :

"To what you say that we do you well
oblige you to become Christians: do it, since you cannot do otherwise, but the law of Moses is kept in your heart.

"From what you say that we order from you strip yourself of your possessions: make your children walk chands so that little by little they strip the Christians of their own.

"At this point you say that there are attempts on your lives:
make your children doctors and apothecaries so that they Lie to Christians about their lives.

"As you say they destroy your systems-
nagogues • make your children canons and clerics

"To what you say that we do you well
other annoyances: make sure that your children children are lawyers, notaries, and that always they meddle in the affairs of States, so that, in putting Christians under your yoke, do you mine k world and you can all avenge of had".

"Do not depart from this order which we give you, because you will see by experience
nothing but the degraded that you are, happens to you-
be aware of the power."

Signed: VSSVFF Prince of the Jews, the 21 de Casleu (November) 1489.

tl.e

■ss to you island •

ion .Incijji
ee document, in s'q>/iu>y«'U on an article, of.
that "Le Patriote" had confused in March 11
an iHimpt'lct on (this question, the CJC p.
the "Protocols of the Sayes of Sion" were piiM
first time in London in 1920, when iliisetem denied catalonui the ■■Protocols-', Mi
iffj 1906, under M cofe 3920 11-17,10 00Ilt 19'
mentioned by the editors of the first ylaise, Kyres and SjioHise ooile, Limited, iml> British ooieerneinenl.)

•'Have 34. he extends es poio
the Bru

"We will order
to the nations"

ISIDORE LOEB, Jew (quoted by G. Batault (^ in his book "The Jewish Problem")):

"The nations will come together to carry their homage to the people of God; all the fortune of the nations will pass to the Jewish people, they will march behind the Jewish people in chains
born, like captives, and will bow down before him; kings will bring up his sons, and princes ceases will be the nurses of his children.- The Jews will rule the Nations; his name is-will have peoples of their own that they do not even know me not, and (the people who do not know them will not run towards them. The riches of the sea and the fortune of nations will come from them-even to the Jews. The people and the kingdom which will not serve Israel will be destroyed. The people-elected will drink the milk of the nations and suck the breast of kings, he will eat up the fortune of nations and will cover with their shine. The Jews will live in abundance and joy, their happiness does not will not end, their hearts will rejoice, they will ~ A will be like grass. The Jews will be a W race blessed by God, the priests and ministers of God and all the people will be a people of "pious". The posterity of the Jews and their name will be eternal, the smallest of them will multiply will multiply by thousands and the smallest will become a great nation, God will make an al-
eternal bond, he will reign over them again,
and their power over men will be such that, _
according to a time-honoured expression, they will walk
by long strides on the heights of the earth. Nature itself will be transformed into a sort of earthly paradise, it will be the golden age - of humanity".

Mind good instilled

WERNEU SOMBART, in "The Jews
and economic life", page 51, 1926;

"To a certain extent, we are entitled to affirm (pie it is the Jewish imprint that the United States must (be what they are, that is) express their Americanism; because what we call our Americanism is not (pie the Jewish spirit having found its definitive expression... And, being green, America has not stopped exercising on a economic life of Europe and on the whole of European culture, the role that the Jews played in the building of the American world has become of paramount importance for all you the evolution of our history."

The monarch of the world

In July 1920, on the return of the Grand-Rab- ^ Jerusalem linen from a trip to England, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency transmitted from Jafa, Palestine, in all countries, these words of co-adjutor of the chief rabbi:

". . .The Jew appears from now on as the true monarch of the world.

"Empires like Russia, Germany-gne, Austria, are governed by Jews; the Jews are the leaders of the peoples.

"Soon other countries will follow and other nations, and the Jews will see their flag all over the world."

The faith of revenge

HENRI BARBUSSE, Jew, in his book "Jesus":

"WE WILL PEAR THE NATIONS WITH A ROD OF IRON. But justice is THE RESTORATION OF THE DYNASTY OF DAVID; pity is that of the condition Jews; faith is that of REVENGE. I tell you that we, the true and only ones fold of the law of the final struggle for the ro- kingdom of God and for eternal life, which is the eternal glory of the Jewish conqueror.

"May the Word of the Lord roll through you over the cities like a scroll.

"I have in my mind an uprising that res. seems to the revolution.' d

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

Page 5

THE TERRIBLE PLOT

""(FOLLOWING) -

■auucam

The Universal Israelite Alliance
and Adolphe Crémieux

(KvnYoduil in the "Morning Post", London, (September 1, 1920.)

"The union that we wish to found will not be not a French, English, Irish or German, but a universal Jewish union.

"Other peoples and races are divided into nafunctionalities; we alone have no citizens,
but only co-religionist islands.

"Under no circumstances should a Jew become-will be the friend of a Christian or a Muslim before that the moment comes when the light of faith Jewish, the only religion of reason, will shine on the whole world.

"Disjxn\sôs among the other nations, which. of-then a time immemorial were hostile to our rights and our interests, we desire first-ment to be and remain immutably Jewish.

"Our nationality is the religion of our fathers, e(we do not recognize any other Nationality.

"We live in foreign countries, and
.should we be worried about changing ambitions?
giants of pay3 which we 'are entirely foreigners while our marine problems and materials are in danger.

"Jewish teaching must extend to all the earth, Israelites! Somewhere (pie destiny leads you, scattered as you are on all the earth, seen "always stand up looking at you der as part of the Chosen People.

"If you realize that the Faith of your father-f is your unique patriotism:

"If you recognize that despite the national nities that you have adopted, you remain and always and everywhere form one and unique nat ; we :

"If you believe that Judaism is the only
and unique religious AND POLITICAL truth;

"If you are convinced of this, O Israelites of the Universe, so come, hear our app:d,
and send us your membership.

"Our Cause is great and holy. and its success is assured. Catholicism, OUR IN-NEMI OF ALL TEMI'S, lies in the dust
siere, fatally struck in the head.

"The net that Israel is currently casting over the terrestrial globe widens and extends, and the great
Your prophecies from our holy books will finally ye realize.

"The time is near when Jerusalem will become create the house of prayer for all nations and all peoples, where the banner of God unites that Israel will be deployed and hoisted on the rivers farthest reaches.

"Let's take advantage of every opportunity.

"Our power is immense, let us learn to adapt this power to our Cause. What did-do you have anything to fear? THE DAY IS NOT

> AWAY FROM ALL THE RICHES, ALL THE TREASURES OF THE LAND OF-

OF ISRAEL."

(Attributed to Adolphe Crémieux, Jew, minister of France, who later served as president of the Al-bond).

(This r.nnniicsic seeoborc well 1st texts of the writings 'the hnd Mor.r, lienjamin Disraeli, Hases Joe), the "I:wlsh On- nui vie", rie., public towards Ui vi(:>ne vi-0<}vc. The ('ena-(l'ai» darish l'cmpress a iciile". without success in proving that the tertr is no longer in the mind of the IsmSlilc Alliance. United-ifutc.tlr vi in the one tVAilolphr Crc>uiciu\ which came tic um./iiphr the Turkish authority with Moses Montrfiore for Juui-c ct'vnnv.ucr the death sentence of eight Jews founding-jirv for ritual murder ri Damascus (1İ-12J. 1,'tcni or la neighboring culohnc, proof of lacon,'crasuutr the idea of thought, vl of style between the muni throws el iüt'uiic uu (Jië-better).

Nationalities and religions must disappear

Adolphe. Crémieux, (jraud-maitre tin (irund Orient Maçonnit/eu, president of the Alliance Israelite Universelle, minister of Justice in France, declared in the Jewish newspaper "Les Archives Israelites", notebook Xo 2o, l«S(it:

"you messianism of new times
will arise, the Jerusalem of a new gold dre, holy foundation between the Orient and the West, it replaces the double empire of popes and emperors, .the don't hide the fact that over the years I have never devoted my thoughts to anything other than that only work Has barely begun
his work that the influence of the Alliance Universal Israelite made itself felt at far. Kilo is not only limited to our worship, it penetrates into all religions as it penetrated into all countries. The ntdiontdities must disappear, religions must be deleted.

"Israel must not disappear, because this little people are God's chosen ones. In all countries we must master the

so that at the first news of an al-lacquer, we can get up like just one man. Our voices want to be to be heard in the cabinets of midnistres, up to the ears (the princes, el come what may, too bad if we have towe are going to make use of laws of force, incom-compatible with current progress, we
we will then join all the protests silence. We are adjured to forgive the past, the moment is there where it is created on unshakable foundations an alliance iiniuoilellc".

(lùlouard Druinont, in his "Libre Parole", reported numerous findings analogous claralions made by Adolphe (Ircinieiiix).

Why fight
nationalism

I,'heî>clnma(!uire Jewish "The Staitind", pa-rising in Chicago, reports, in its issue of September 24 liKÎ0, that the conference centers
trale of American rabbis made the observation following statement: "The most remarkable and also the most harmful of the consequences of the World War
diale was the creation of new nationalists
mes and the exaltation of those who already existed.
ATIONALLS.ME IS A DANGER FOR THE JEWISH PEOPLE. Today, as in throughout history, it is proven that JEWS CANNOT REMAIN IN THE STRONG STATES WHERE THE CREATED A HIGH CULTURE NA-TIONAL."

.,,<>*&■ D xe N/A, The symbol
of
the conquest
Jewish

The Star of Zion, formed of two Inintertwined angles, also called "Seal of David", is the religious emblem, na-

diale the dial appears on all synagogues, in all the organizations listed above vile Jews, on the Palestinian flag Jewish. This is the only symbol displayed on Jewish flags flown in Montreal and in all countries of the world by Jews.

The Jews revoke to make it the flag world of the universal republic, if they can succeed through communism to take over all the countries.

The Star of Zion is an official symbol heaven of all Kabbalistic organizations—your.

It is an official symbol of France masonry.

It is an official organizational symbol. communist and Godless tions.

It is an official symbol drawn on the header of the Treaty of Versailles.

It is an official symbol in armoiries of two Soviet republics.

It is an official symbol printed on ' French and Dutch postage stamps, etc.

It is an official symbol incorporated in the Great Seal (of Masonic origin—nic) from the United States; this Great Seal appears on the new American dollar caine

It is an official symbol appearing in back of millions of Koo medals sevell, distributed by the Jewry of Améric. •

(There is also the five-pointed star, ap-peeled "Seal of Solomon", kab—symbol Batist, Freemasonic, Sans-Dieu, comnuinisle, imposed as a symbol of—official in the coat of arms of the USSR, the Ilouge Army of Russia, and in the coat of arms of a host of countries by the ju—lions that she inspired and led).

The two faces

RENE GK00S. Jew, in "The New Link-cure", May 1927:

'The two Internationals of Finance and island the Revolution works with ardor; they are the two faces of the Jewish International... There is a Jewish conspiracy against all nations.'

. . .

The Jew BLUMENTHAL, editor of "Judisli Tidskrift", 1929, No 57:

"...The black race has given the world a new calf prophet; but he has two faces and. door two names; on the one hand, its. name is Rothschild, leader of the great capitalists; on the other, Karl JMarx, the apostle of the enemies of the other.' 1

P»ge6

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERÉ

THE TERRIBLE PLOT

Secret Jewish deliberations exposed by the Catholic Gazette of England

In its February 1936 issue, the "Catholic Gazette", a men-official guide of the Catholic Missionary Society of England, published the record of secret deliberations held by a Jewish society at information source.

Shortly after, "Le Réveil du Peuple", a Parisian weekly, reproduced the same report adding that the declarations had been made at a B'naï B'rith congress in Paris. (The B'naï B'rith are Masonic lodges in which only Jews are admitted).

Here is the text published by the "Catholic Gazette":

"As long as there remains among the Gentiles a moral conception of the social order, and as long (pie faith, patriotism and dignity will not have been uprooted, our reign on the world will not happen.

"We have already accomplished part of our task, but we cannot yet claim (pie all work is done. We have (die
•a long distance to go before overturning our main enemy: the Catholic Church.

"We must always bear in mind that the Catholic Church is the only institution which has been maintained, and which, as long as it is maintained—dra, will block our way. Catholic Church by his methodical work and by his teachers edifying and moral ments, will always hold its children in such a state of mind that they will have too much self-respect to bow down our domination and to bow to our futur King of Israel.

"This is why we have strived to discover the best way to shake the Church Catholic to its core. We have spread the spirit of revolt, and a false liberalism among the nations of the Gentiles so as to persuade them to abandon their faith and even to their worsen the shame of professing the precepts of their religion and to obey the commandments of their Church. We have driven several of them ous to boast of being atheists, and, more than this, to glory in being the descendants of sin—ge! We gave them new theories velles, impossible to achieve, such as the communism, anarchism and socialism, which serve wind today for our purposes. . The Gentiles stupides accepted them with the greatest enthusiasm. siasm, without realizing that these theories come of us "and that they constitute our powerful

"We have blackened the Catholic Church with the most ignominious slanders*, we have soiled its history, and cast disgrace on its most noble activities. We blamed him of his enemies, and thus brought them to come closer to us. So much and so much so that today we are witnesses, to our great satisfaction, of rebellions against the Church in several countries,. We have turned its clergy into an object of hatred and derision, we exposed him to the contempt of the crowd. We considered it as old-fashioned and as a waste of time the practice of religion catholic.

"And the Gentiles, in their stupidity, shown to be easier fools than we have-

I was waiting. We would expect more intelligence and more practical sense, but they are not going to slow no better than a flock of sheep. Let them graze in our fields until that they are fat enough to be worthy of being immolated to our future King of the World.

"We have founded numerous associations secrets which all work for our ends, under our orders and direction. We made some an honor for the Gentiles to join our organizations, which are, thanks to our gold, more flourishing than ever. However, it is our secret that those Gentiles who betray their most valuable interests by joining our conspiracy, never know that these associations are our work and that they work for our purposes.

■ "One of the many triumphs of our Franc-Maeonner'e is that these Gentiles who become members of our Lodges never suspect that we use it to build their own prisons, on whose terraces we let's erect it. throne of our Universal King of Israel; and never know that we do to them forge the chains of their own servility to our future King of the world.

"So far we have indicated our attacks against the Catholic Church following the strategy •operating from outside. But that's not all. Now let's see how we pushed the Catholic Church, and how we came to nested in its most intimate circles, and even led part of its clergy to become the pawn-deny our cause.

"In addition to the influence of our philosophy,
we have taken other measures, to open a breach in the Catholic Church. To leave
I will explain to you how it happened. t.

"We induced some of our children to
se. join the Catholic body, with the intimation explicit that they had to work in a way
even more effective at the disintegration of the Church is Catholic, creating scandals in his breast. We therefore followed the advice of our Prince of the Jews who had said so wisely: "Do your children of your canons, so that he can feels destroying the Church." Unfortunately, the "Converted" Jews were not all faithful to their assignment. Several of them betrayed us!
But on the other hand, the others kept their promise and kept their word. So the advice given by our Elders proved that it was effective.

"We are the fathers of *all the revolutionaries-lions – even those which sometimes turned conti't; We. We are the supreme masters mes of peace and war. We can boast of having been the creators of the Reshape ! Calvin was one of our children; it was of Jewish descent, the Jewish authority made him engaged and he had the help of Jewish finance to draw up your Reform plan.

"Martin Luther gave in to the influence of his friends Jews, and there again, thanks to Jewish authority and Jewish finance, its plot against the Ca-Church
tholic was crowned with success.

/

"Thanks to our propaganda, to our theories of Liberalism and our misrepresentation of Liberty, the spirits of many Gentiles were prepared to welcome the Reformation. They separated from the Church to fall into our fillets. And so the Catholic Church was very sensitive noticeably weakened, and its authority over the kings

"We are grateful to the Protestants for their loyalty to our designs: – although the most of them, in the sincerity of their faith, unaware that they are loyal to us. We, their are grateful for the wonderful help that they give us in our fight against fortified castle of Christian civilization, and in our preparations for the advent of our supremacy over the whole world and over the kingdoms Gentiles.

"So far we have managed to reverse-ser most of the thrones of Europe. Others will follow in the near future. The Kussie serves already our domination. France, with its government Masonic government, is under our thumb. England, through its dependence on our financing this, is under our heel and in its Protestantism lies our hope of destroying the Catholic Church. Spain and Mexico are no longer only toys in our hands. :And many other countries, including the United States, are already fell in front of our suits.

"But the Catholic Church is still alive-you. . .

"We must destroy it without delay-vanity and without the slightest pity. Almost all the world press is under our control; inlet us therefore courage in a more violent way to hate her of the world against the Catholic Church. Intense-let's focus our activities on the poisoning of morals of the Gentiles. Let us spread the spirit of revolution in the hearts of the people.' We must love them
ner to despise the patriotism and love of their family, to consider their faith as rubbish, their obedience to their Church as servility degrading*, so that they become sour to the call of the Church and blind to its cries of alarm against us. Above all, let us make impossible meeting at the Catholic Church of Christians wish who are outside its fold, and the meeting non-Christians to the Church; otherwise, the principal great obstacle to our domination will be strengthened and our work will remain undone. Our com-plot would be revealed, the Gentiles would turn against us, in a spirit of vengeance, and our domination over them could never come true.
ser.

"Let us remember, as long as there is militant enemies of the Catholic Church, we can hope to become the Masters of the world
by And let us always remember that the future Jewish King will not rule the world until the Pope of Rome is dethroned, as well as all other reigning monarchs of the world
on }es Gentil, »". : ■ , -. , ,; ,...,'_„

>

The Key to the Mystery

Page 7

COMMUNISM, MEDIUM
OF JEWISH CONQUEST

What the Jews themselves say about it

i>

RALililN JUDAIIL L. MAGNÉS, New York, 1919:

"(«s radical qualities which are in the Jew
unites at the bottom of things, in Germany it dec-
' comes a Marx and a Lassalle, a Haas and a Edward Bemstein; in Austria it becomes a Victor Ailler and a Friedrich Adler, in Russia
a Trotsky. See the present situation in Al-Germany and Russia. The revolution puts into effect action its creative forces, see what great contingent of Jews is immediately ready for the battle. • Revolutionary socialists, men-sheviki, bolsheviki, majority socialists and minorities, whatever name they are called,
we find in all these parties Jews like their dedicated leaders and like their workers regular."

« • •

il 'cOflAN, Jew, in his newspaper "The Com-

\ "It can be said without exaggeration that the bloody Russian revolution was made by hand Jews... It was precisely the Jews who led the Russian proletariat to the dawn of the International, who not only led

but who still lead the cause of the Soviets, which remains in their reliable hands. . . It is true that there are no Jews in the Red Army in concerning the soldiers, but the Jews understand bravely serve as heads of committees and Soviet organizations, such as commissars,
and lead the masses of the Russian proletariat to . victory. The symbol of Jewry has become the symbol of the Russian proletariat... With this symbole comes victory, with this symbol will come

the death of the parasites of the bourgeoisie, who pay ra Jewish tears in drops of blood."

. . .

NAI1UM SOKOLOV, great Jewish leader, in k his book "The History of Zionism", admits that F "Zionism played an important role in the carried out by Bolsheviks in Russia.

. . .

RABBIN LEWIS BROWN, in his book
"How udd of God":

"We want to remake the non-Jewish world:
do what the communists do in Russia.

. . .

Prof. REINHOLD NIEBUHR, Jew, speaking the i! Oct. 1934 in front of the Jewish Institute of Re-lion, New York:

"MARXISM IS A MO- FORM
LAST OF THE JEWISH PROPHECY".

. . .

-THE AMERICAN HEBREW", 10 only. 1920: '

"From economic chaos, the Jew designed the organized capital with its mechanism of application

fc "One of the impressive phenomena of W our modern times is the revolt of the Jews against the monster his mind had conceived and that his hands had shaped.

"The Bolshevik revolution of Russia, this iicaccomplishment destined to appear in history
re as the primordial result of the Great war, was to a large extent the result links JEWISH THOUGHT, DISCONTENT-JEWISH MENT...

"What Jewish idealism and discontent-Jewish people have contributed so powerfully to complete in Russia, the same historical qua-Jewish hearts and minds tend to act
complete in other countries.

"Is America, like Russia
of the tsars, will overwhelm the Jew with bitter and vile reproaches like a destroyer and force it to be an Irreconcilable enemy? Or does America will benefit from Jewish genius? It is at the people of America to respond to this question."

Mr. HERMALIN, Jew, communist, in a speech, in New York, 1917:

■ "The Russian Revolution was made by the Jews. We formed secret societies.
We imagined the Reign of Terror.
We made the revolution succeed through our convincing propaganda and our assassinations in mass, in order to form a government well
We."

. . .

"JEWISI1 CHRON1CI.E". London, April 4 1919:

"There is much in the fact of boichewsmyself, in the fact that so many Jews are Bolshevists, in the fact that the ideals of the liol-

with the highest ideals of Judaism"

Rabbi JUDAH L. MAGNES, of . . -Y., speaking before the National Radical Conference
the United States, April 1918:

"I claim to be a true Bolshevik...I then say definitively that the president of United States, in a short time, will launch allied governments a call to conclude immediate peace. . . he will ask for peace immediately on the simple basis put forward by the Bolsheviks of Russia."

. . .

OTTO WEININGER, Jew, "Sex and Character", Vienna, 1921:

"The idea of property is indissolubly linked-
ment with individuality, with, what the character-There is something special about it. This is one of the causes which causes the Jews to flock in flocks to the communism." Munism." – Page 406.

"The Jew is a communist" – Page 413.
"The complete incapacity of the Jew to understand the idea of the State." – p. 407.

. . .

editor-

"TO MOSCOW", Soviet newspaper
Jewish edition, September 1919:

"We must not forget that the Jewish people forms the true proletariat, the true International which has no homeland."

. . .

ANGELO S. RAPPOPORT, Jew, in his book

"The Pioneers of the Russian Revolution", London, 1918:

tale, were responsible for the revolution."

• • •

MORITÄ UAPPOI'ORT, commenting on the revolution
German version of 1918:

"The revolution reminds us once again
the importance of the Jewish question, because the Jews are the leading element of the revolution."

• • •

"JEWISH TRIBUNE," July 5, 1922:

"The German revolution is the work of Jews; liberal democratic parties have a large number of Jews there head them, and the Jews play a leading role in senior positions
your government."

KADMI COHEN, Jew, in his book "Noma-des", 1928:

"The very instinct of ownership, moreover,
resulting from attachment to the soil, DOES NOT EXIST
NOT AMONG THE SEMITES – these nomads – who have never owned the land, who have never wanted to own it. OF THEIR TENDENCIES UNDENIABLE COMMUNISTS SINCE THE HIGHEST ANTIQUITY" – Page 85.

"Is it not enough to recall the names of the great Jewish revolutionaries of the 19th and 20th centuries, the Karl Marxes, the Lassalles, the Kurts
Eisner, the Béla Kuhns, the Trotskys, the Léons Blum, so that the names of the theorists of the so-modern cialism are thus mentioned? If he is not possible to declare Bolshevism taken globally, as a Jewish nation, it nonetheless remains true that the Jews have nor several leaders of the maximalista movement
and that in fact they played a considerable role in it.

"Jewish tendencies toward communism, in outside of any material collaboration with party organizations, what confirmation dazzling do they not find in aversion deep as a great Jew, a great poet,
Henri Heine, felt for Roman Law.
Subjective causes, passionate causes

cheba of the year 70 AD, against the Pax Romana and the Jus Romanum, understood and felt tied, subjectively, passionately to a Jew of the 19th century, which, apparently, had not conserved no connection with his race.

"And the Jewish revolutionaries and the communists who attack the principle of private property, including the most important monument The idea is the Codex Juris Civilis of Justinian and Vulpian do they do anything different from their ancestors who resisted Vespasian and Titus? In reality, it is the dead who speak". Page 86.

. . .

"The Maccabean" Jewish newspaper from New York, Nov, 1905, 250, "A Jewish Revolution" s

"The revolution of 1905 in Russia is a revolution Jewish lution, a cry* in Jewish history. It is a Jewish revolution because Russia is the shelter almost half of the world's Jews, and that the overthrow of his government poetry will have a very great influence on the destinies of millions of Jews living in this country and on those of the thousands who have recently emigrated welcome on all sides. But the Russian revolution is a Jewish revolution especially because the Jews are the most active revolutionaries of the Tsar's empire."

. . .

MAURICE SAMUEL, in his book, "1, the Jew," 1923, writes:

"We, the Jews, are revolutionaries-born. God us & thus made and constituted that if it were given to us to reach a few some of our goals, objects of our avowed desires, we would immediately get to work, by simple principle, I try to demolish this which has just been built."

. . .

AD RAPPOPORT, "Pioneer* of the Russian Revolution", 1918:

"Throughout all history the spirit of the Jews subversive with the idea of building on ruins nes." – Page 1 00.

'(continued on page 8)1

Page 8

L*C

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

COMMUNISM, MEANS OF JEWISH CONQUEST (continued)

BERNARD LAZARE, Jew, in "Anti-semiism":

"I/O Jew plays a role in revolutions, and i! participates in it as a Jew, more correete-Tnent, as tj. he remains Jewish... The spirit of Jew is essentially a revolution-spirited nary and, consciously or otherwise, JUIE IS A REVOLUTIONARY".

:--:-x-;->-i:--:-:--;->'i-->-î-ifH-^^

f --H~î+-H"H->+-KM -î-J ->■;*

"THE ISRAELITE UNIVERSE", late September 1807:
"The revolution, with its Equality and its Fraternity
nity, is the star of Israel.

"Israelite Archives", G July 3889:

French evolution has a very Hebrew character pronounced".

"NEW YORK TIMES", March 24, 1911:

"Kennan replays the story. He says how-ment Jacob Schiff (Jewish banker) financed the revolutionary propaganda in the army tsar.

"Mr. Kennan spoke about work and revolution accomplished by the friends of Liberty Russian. He says (pie i>during the Russo-Japanese War-
But he was in Tokyo and he was allowed to visit the 12,000 Russian prisoners in the hands Japanese link. He had conceived the idea of impregnating
the Russian year of revolutionary propaganda...
He brought from America all the propaganda re-Russian evolutionary that could be obtained. He said that one day Dr. Nicholas Russell came to meet him.
counter to Tokio and told him that he had been sent to help him in his work.

"The movement was financed by a bank
quiere from New York that you know and that you all love, he said, referring to M-Schiff. 'Soon we received a ton and half of revolutionary propaganda in Russian.
At the end of the war, 50,000 officers and soldiers Russians returned to their country as if revolutionary teeth, Friends of Liberty [tusse had planted 50,000 lily seeds berthed in a hundred regiments. I don't know how-many of these officers seized the fort retrograde last week, but we know what part the army just played in the revolution."

"Then a telegram was read to the assembly
by Jacob I. Schiff, reading in part as Fiiiit: "Say for me to those who are there this evening
how much I regret not being able to celebrate with the Friends of Russian Freedom reward it while gible of what we hoped for and did during these long years!?"

Elie Eberlin, Jew, in his book "The Jews
of today". 1928:

Russia, Palestine and elsewhere. At the time he is it appears as the only PROLE PARTY-TARIEN INTERNATIONAL. One of his factions joins the Communist International, the other to the Socialist International." – Page 24.

"During its autonomous existence, the Jewish people have gone through many forms of government. But neither the father dictatorship of the great Moses, nor the power of kings governed by a religious constitution, nor the republic of the faithful under the presidency of the great priests, nor the despotism of the last kinglets appears relying on Rome have not been approved by this people of dreamers. The Jews have always had >n gou-government, but they only ever did the undergo." – Page KM.

"As a result, the Jews were unable to maintain their State, among the States of antiquity and have must inevitably become the ferments of revolutionaries of the universe''. – Page 143.

"WHAT THERE IS STILL JEWISH IN THE ROLCUEVIKME is the renunciation of rewards from beyond, in the other world, and the search for happiness here on earth. But this idea which marks the triumph of the va-their Jews on "mystical-Christian" values lies" is common at present to all peoples." – Page 155.

(see also page 26)

! WHO PROFITS FROM THE CRIME!

"JEWIS1İ CRRONICLK", Lindres, late January 1933;

"MORE A THIRD OF ALL RUSSIAN JEWS BECAME SOVIET OFFICERS."

MANIFESTO signed by Chief Rabbi Menahem Cluskin of Minsk, Rabbi Hosea L. Zimballist, Rabbi Iterz Max.el, Rabbi Gabriel Gabrielow, Rabbi Oseher Kerstein and Rabbi bin Mendel Jarcho, February 25, 191.10. This manifesto was published by the Jewish communist Michael

protiv USSR", Moscow, 1930, page^ 103 and 104:

"It is not possible for us to separate our destiny of that of the Jewish people, with regard to whom the government of the USSR can be proclaimed the only one who openly fights all demonstrations tation of anti-Semitism.

"From a global perspective, it is a fact of greater importance than the leader of the party communist and head of the Soviet state. Lenin, has issued a decree in which anti-Jews were declared the enemies of the people. And while under British domination brings bloody conflicts naries are still possible, and that in Romania and in other countries pogroms and others Anti-Jewish demonstrations still occur, in USSR all means of propaganda are mobilized against anti-Semitism, and the apparatus of the law is even put into action.

"Under the Soviet regime, WE DID NOT NEVER BEEN SUBJECT TO ANY PERSON-CUTION BECAUSE OF OUR CONVICTIONS RELIGIOUS.

"We consider it our duty to declare categorically that in USSR NO RABBIN HAS NEVER BEEN THREATENED WITH SENTENCE OF DEATH OR ANY OTHER PUNISHMENT LY, nor is it in any way right now. Throughout the period of soldiers' councils and workers in Soviet Russia, not a single one rabbi was executed."

LNTote. _ During the same time, 42,800 high dignitaries, priests and ministers of con-Christian faiths suffered!*■ martyrdom).

"Nt-w York Jewish Tribune", by Juit Louis Eisiier. correspondent of "Nation", in Russia (18-1-24):

"If we judge the Bolsheviks in consideration <\e what the Jews gained through them in the maine of the instruction, the verdict is certainly in their favor.

"Jewish children by the tens of thousands public schools operate today is lying .

"The Government has established seminars special educational Jews, where the masters are trained to give instruction in schools Jewish, in Yiddish.

"There are even sections in universities where Yiddish is the language of instruction.

"Before the Revolution, under the Tsar, the proportion Jewish students were limited to 4 per hundred of the workforce. Now there are no more limits. In some universities, 50 percent of students are Jewish; in Minsk (White Russia) for you percentage is even higher.""

"THE MACCAÏSEAN", article by Uaas, Jewish:

"The Russian revolution is a Jewish revolution—ve because it marks a stage in the history Jewish tory. It is also a Jewish revolution because the Jews were the most active revolutionaries lutionaries of the Russian Empire."

"JEWISH WORLD", August 13, 1922:

"Business is picking up in Russia and, under the new regime, the Jews quickly became ment the "captains of industry". There are many holding 100,000 Jews in Moscow, and the signs kosher butcher shops can be seen in many streets However, anti-Semitism is growing in my city, alongside the increase in the Jewish population."

"t i'.nadian Jewish Chronicle" (10-8-23), re-pivducing the "Jewish Correspondence Bureau":

"The number of Jewish bandits in Moscow is increasing is growing alarmingly. It hardly happens daytime as attacks on public roads or violent burglaries are not committed by gangs whose members are Jewish in big party."

book "The Jewish Spirit":

"By blood and tradition, Karl Marx belongs body and soul to Judaism.

"Karl Marx and Rothschild represent the two extremes; but, as has often been said, the extremes touch;

"Karl Marx and Rothschild all personify two Jewish idealism raised to its highest power-session.

"The further the masses move away from Christianity, the more visibly Jewish they become,

"Jewish regenerative idealism perhaps prepares to be for the twentieth century a revolution disastrous."

"each intense manifestation of idealism me properly Jewish in Europe coincided with uprisings, murders and rebellions-/'

"NOVY MIR". Bolshevist organ, 16 husband 1922, published an "Appeal to Jewish Workers and Jewish citizens of America, Europe and your country country", in which we read:

"Our Soviet government spent billions to help the Jews who had suffered from the programs. But today our Republic is without resources. You have to put pressure on your governments. . so that they prepare the districts for their fra's evaded Jews, and so that they can compensate the Jews who suffered in Russia.

"All Jewish organizations in the world are invited to submit this request to the Con-Genoa conference by the organ of the Delegation of the Soviets.

"It is your sacred duty to weigh in on your governments, whether or not they are represented in Genoa, to force them to support the demands Jews from Russia.

"You must insist that the delegates of that the Jews will have presented by THEIR REPRESENTATIVES, Soviet Delegates."

©

J". OLG1N, communist leader, in his day-nal "Morning Freiheit", N.-Y. :

"Every Jew must support the Front Popu-lary because it is the defense bulwark of the rights of the Jewish people."

(see also page 25),

The Key to M

YSTERI

r*i» 9

US Secret Service document

Jewish communism supported and financed by the high Jewish bank

It was the big Jewish bankers of New York who provided the first finance to establish communism in Soviet Russia. - The proof fcen was given to the world by the United States Secret Service (office of Second Army) in a document which was communicated to all am-bassades of the Allied countries.

This sensational document has been reproduced since 1920 in many many patriotic newspapers from different countries. It was also reproduced in "The mystical body of Christ in modern times" with the im-primatur of a bishop, by the Rev. P. Denis Fahey, professor of theology gy at Black Rock College, Dublin, Ireland .

Here are the remarks of Father Fahey and the text of the document in question:

'I* main document which deals with the way from which the Russian Revolution was financed, is the one which was published by the American Secret Service ol traimniia by the French high commissioner to his • government. It was published by "La document-Catholic tation" of Paris, March 6, 1911, pre-made the following remarks: "We guarantee let us weave the authenticity of this document. In this "it concerns the accuracy of the information that it contains, the American Secret Service in takes responsibility."

This document was published in 1920 in a supplement to the newspaper "La Vieille France", by Paris, who added: "All governments of. 1. Kntente were aware of this memorandum dum, written according to information from the Service .American Seeret, and sent in time to high commissioner from va: s and his colleagues". This memoir can also be found in the book of Mgr Jouin "The Judeo-Masonic Peril", part I, page 249-351, with the additional remark fe that the Jews obstructed its publication, in P. so that the vast majority of the public does not know it not its existence. Although the key Jewish origin Kerensky who played, has the first reason. Russian of 1917, was I suspect, it, -emblo pretty sure he was his son of the Jew Aaron Kerbis and Jewish Ailler. The documentary ment is divided into eight sections. In sections Sections IV and Ise VI to VIII are reproduced here I enjoy the benefit of readers.

THE DOCUMENT

US Secret Service report

"Section 1: On February 1911, it was first discovered that united, revolution was fomented had Russia. It was discovered that people ei-aprè _ named, as well as the banks* mentioned»: i.

were engaged in this work of destruction: -Jacob Schiff, Jew; Gtighenhcim, Jew; Mak Breitung, Jewish; Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bank Jewish of which the following people are directly authors: Jacob Schiff, Félix Warburg, Otto Kahn. Mortimer Schiff, S. II. Hanauer (all Jews). He there is no doubt that the revolution will broke out a year after the above information it was received was fomented and triggered by distinctly Jewish influences. In fact, in April 1917, Jacob Schiff made a public declaration blique has the effect that it is him with his financial aid-

Section II: In the spring of 1917, Jacob Schiff;
.started providing funds to Trotsky (Jew)
to bring social revolution to Russia. 1/;
"New York Daily Forward", which is an organ

Judeo-Bolshevik, there is a subscription in the same goal. By Stockholm, the Jew Max Warburg also provided funds to Trotsky & Compagnie. They also received funds from the Syndi-Westphalian-Krupp cat, which is an imputant Jewish banking company, as well as a another Jew, Olaf Asehberg, from the Nya bank, from Stockholm, and from Givontovsky, a Jew whose "
daughter is married to Trotsky.

Jewish Capitalists United with Communists

"Thus was made a connection between the multinational Jewish nation and Jewish proletarians.

"Section III: In October 1917, the revolution broke out in Russia. Thanks to this Russian revolution Soviet organizations took over the leadership of Russian people. In these Soviets the individuals followers, all Jews, made themselves remarkable:
Lenin (from his real name Oulianoff); Trotsky
(L. Bronstein); Zinovieff (Apfelbaum); Bring back (Rosenfeld); Dan (Gourevitch); Ganef/.kv (Furstenberg); Arvut (Lilienthal); Uritsky (Pade-milsky); Flour (Lurie); Lilienthal (Xathanher); Martinoff (Zibar); Il. Gdum. li (Zilb.; r-sieu); Garine (Garfeid); Suehanoti (Gimel); Kamneff (Guldmann); Kagevsky (Kna-hmami); Ryazanoff. (Gokhman); Kollontai (Lilienthal); L. iatnitsky (Ziwin); Axelrod (Orfodox); Glasunoff (Schulz/.e); Xur"e.healthy (Weinstein); Lapiusky (Fevcnsolii0.
The author wishes to add that some authors are convinced even- Lenin's mother was a Jew-
vi.

(Night: the publishers; Lenin studied at the United Jewish students in Switzerland. A correspondent to Russia, Victor Marsden, declared (that Lenin was a "Kalmyk" Jew ma-labeled at a Jewess (Krupskaya) whose children spoke Yiddish. Herbert Fitch, a detective from Scotland Yard who had spied on Lenin as station. at the table, declared that he was typically
.Jewish}).

"Section IV: At the same time the Jew Paul Warburg who had been on the Federal Reserve Board, stood out for his active relationships with certain notorious Bolsheviks from the States T Tjnis. These circumstances, together with other points on which we had obtained information, were cause that he was not elected to the above-mentioned committee tioned (Federal Reserve).

Jewish Labor and Jewish Capital

"Section VI: On the other hand. Judas ilagiiès. which receives subsidies from Jacob Schiff, is in close relationship with the Zionist organization dial* PoâLe-Sion of which it is said 1* dir-Actau 1 .

The ultimate goal of this organization is to establish the international supremacy of the Tra-Movement Jewish valiant. (1)

Here again we see the relationships between the Jewish multi-millionaires and Jewish proletarians.

'Section VII: The social revolution had to barely broke out in Germany as the Jewess Rosa Luxembourg automatically took the lead political direction. One of the main leaders of the. international Bolshevik movement was the Jew Haase. At that moment, the revolution was cial in Germany developed in a parallel manner lele to the social revolution in Russia.

"Sjctioji VIII: If we take into account the fact that the Jewish Bank Kuhn, Loeb & Co. had in connection with the Weatherphalian-Rhineland Union, Jewish-German bank, and with Lazare Frères, Jewish bank of Paris, and also with the house Jewish Gunsburg of Petrograde, Tokyo and Paris; century plus we notice that all the houses Jewish sounds mentioned above are corre- sponding close relationship with the Jewish house Speyer & Co., of Ivondres, New-York and Frankfort-sur-1-e-Mein, as well as with Nya Banken, established- Judeo-Bolshevik headquarters in Stockholm, it appears It is clear that the Bolshevik movement is to a certain extent the expression of a general Jewish vement and that certain banks* Jews are interested in the organization of <m IWiLIVeni! ut".

Jewish capitalists

'A few additional remarks on certain tabis of the characters mentioned above can be interesting. According to "L'Echo de l'ar's", from 2% April 19'20, Max Warburg is 1* cln-f of the bank Max Wurburg & Co., of Ham-town. He is the main shareholder of Ham-burg-Amrica Line and the Deulseher-Lloyd. His two brothers Paul and Felix, one of whom is ma-laughed at the sister-in-law and the other at Jacob's daughter Schiff, born in Frankfurt, are with Schiff, at the head of the Kuhn, Loeb & Co bank.

"In the "German-Bolshevik Conspiracy", p. '27, published by the Committee of Public Information, Washington, DC, in October 1918, we learn that Max Warburg advanced money to the Bolsheviks. The following message appears raît: "Stockholm, September 21, 1917: Mr. Raphaël Seholak, Haparand: Dear Comrade- En compatibility with a telegram from the Westphalian-Rhineland Syndicale, Max Warburg Bank & Co. informs us that a credit has been opened k Comrade Trotsky's enterprise". (Signed) J. the ^irstenberg.

"According to information from a French source, Jacob Schiff appears to have donated $12,000,000 for the Russian Revolution of 1917.

"If now we read the book of Neata H. Webster, "The Surrender of an Empire", p. 74-79, we find additional information tional on the rise of Bolhevism.

The Revolution is a Jewish Investment

"It appears that the individual's real name mentioned in section III above below designation of Parvus, is Israel Lazarevitoh Helphand, a Jew from the Minsk province, in White Russia. Towards the end of the last century, tt took part in revolutionary work in Odessa.

(continued on page 10)!

•(1) Judah.3 Mugiib was then 'rabbi in New York; He was later sent to Jerusalem to direct the university there.

litaati, has a powerful dt trfc" active subsidiary in MontrAal

'Page 10

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

Should the world
be led by lunatics?

;► (continued on page 24)1

Jewish Dr MJ GUTTMANN, "Zeitschrift fuer Demography". 111th year, H. 4-6, p. 112:

"Dementia praecox is a mental disorder Nui, among the Jews, is of a frequency quite extraordinary fact."

The Jewish Advisor KKEl'PEL, "The Jews and Judaism today", Amallhea edition, 1925, pay 387:

"As far as dementia is concerned, we have established that in public and private insane asylums,
the percentage of Jews exceeds three laws this him Christians.

HAS * *

CONCLUSIONS. – Shall we continue to let the world be led by what the Jews themselves call a tribe of lunatics,
of neurasthenics, hysterics and degenerative
res? We understand why propaganda and Jewish cinema launches so many hysterical waves on the world and try to contaminate it, to important that all people react and destroy this evil spirit that threatens them.

•

"THE SENTINEL", Jewish newspaper, June 9
1930, article by Rabbi Louis I. Newman: "It's Jews must always be on the side of liberalism, now and always, even if liberalism may suffer temporary setbacks
res. Judaism has nothing in common with reaction (nationalism), but everything in its tradition is liberal."

Head everywhere!

IN CHINA, the organizer of Bolshevism is
the JEW Borodin-Crusenberg.

IN ITALY, the leader of the Marxists was the JEW Claudio Treves.

IN RUSSIA, only Lenin was only HALF-
JEW (son of a JEW), Trotsky, Kerensky, Zino-viev Radomiliskj-, Ronstantinovilch, Abramovitcb, lloscnblum, I.itvinoff, Lmdé, Ravitch, etc., all were JEWISH.

IN HUNGARY, the revolutionary movement
re of 1919 was led by Bela- JEWS Kuhn (Cohen), Kungsi, Agoston, Peter, Grun-fcaum, WeinsWin, etc.

IN BAVARIA, the revolution of 1918 had for leaders of the JEWS: Kurt Eisner, assisted by Lcwenberg, Roscnfcld, Koenigsberg, Birbaum, Kaiser, Hoch.

IN BERLIN, it was the Lundsbcrg JEWS, Riesenfeld, Lcwisohn, Moses, Rosa Luxem-
town, Cohen, Reuss, Hodenberg in 1918.

IN MUNICH, in April 1919, the leaders were the JEWS Levine, Levien, Axelrod.

IN HAMBURG, in 1923, the JEW Sobelsohn
;(Karl Radek).

IN BRAZIL, in 1936, a marxist broke out, the leaders are the Roien-Jews

berg! Stemberg, Jacob Gria, Weis Friedmann.
IN SPAIN, in 1936 during the revolution
tion, we see the Bela-Kulin JEWS "working",
Neumann, Ginsburg, Julius Deutch, the JULVh Nelken the JEW Rosenberg, ambassador of USSR, JEW Del Vayo, delegate to the S DN, and all the immense crowd of JULih
of Spain presides over massacres and atrocities
tees, like in Russia.

And each of these revolutions resulted in massacres of PEASANTS and WORKERS "- Faithful to the JEWISH cause,

Official document
British accusing
the Jews !

In April 1919, in London, was printed by order of His Majesty a White Paper entitled:
"Russia, No. 1. (1919). A Collection of Reports on Bolshevism in Russia". This document sky was submitted to the House of Commons.

The document, on page 6, contained a report
port of His Excellency Mr. Oudendyk, Minister of the Pays-liaison in Petrograd, who acted at the same time time in an official capacity as protector of British subjects and interests, in place of the representing English (Captain Cromie) assassinated
signed by the Bolsheviks. Dated September 6 1918 and received by Balfour on September 18, 1918, this official report reproduced in the White Paper said:

"In Moscow I had repeated interviews with Chicherin and Karachan. All government-Soviet development has fallen to the level of criminal organization. The Bolsheviks are launched into a real criminal madness...
The danger is now so great that I believe
of my duty to attract the attention of the government
British government and all other governments
ments on the fact that all of civilization rises
diale will be greatly threatened if Bolshevism
' in Russia is not immediately deleted...
I consider that the immediate deletion^ of Bolshevism is the biggest problem facing now poses before the world, without ex-accept the war that is raging at the moment, and

Egg without delay, it will spread in a form or under another in Europe and throughout the world tier BECAUSE IT IS ORGANIZED AND BUILT BY JEWS WITHOUT NATIONALITY AND WHOSE IJ3 ONLY PURPOSE IS TO DESTROY FOR THEIR PARTICULAR END THE ORDER EXISTS SO MANY THINGS. The only way this danger can be avoided would consist of action collective action on the part of all the Powers."

(Note. – The great diplomat had come to this conclusion, that the events since 1918 were perfectly justified, after "en-repeated meetings" with the Bolshevik leaders and after seeing what was happening on the spot).

Jewish communism supported and financed by the high Jewish bank

⇒ (continued from page 9)

In 1886 he went abroad and finally, after several wanderings, came to Copenhagen where he amassed a large fortune including chief coal distribution agent German in Denmark, working through Danish Socialist Party.

"Dr. Ziv, in his "Life of Trotsky", relates that when he was in America, in 1916, he asked Trotsky: 'How is Parvus?' , has to which Trotsky replied laconically: "He is in completing his twelfth million".

"It's this multi-millionaire Jew who, after Karl Max, was the greatest inspiration for Lén-born. It was through the intervention of Parvus that I*m-was not sent to Russia.

"Russia is not the triumph of labor-theirs, but only seems to be a gigantic placement of Jewish capitalists for their near ends."

And RP Fahey's book exposes an abundance of dante documentation which makes him conclude that the Jews alone are the cause and the profiteers of the com-

named are not "detached atheist Jews of the Synagogue", but very Talmudic orthodox often cited as models by great rabbis,

The flag
red !

For white people, the red flag has days been a symbol of danger. At the ar-behind a train, on the edge of a precipice, on a broken road, on the outskirts of a quarry or a mine, wherever he is in danger of death or ruin, the drared skin is deployed to prevent passers-by. VS$,

Today the red flag is de-bent and imposed on the ignorant crowds by those who dream of seizing the flooded with massacre, ruins, riots, disturbances, chaos, social divisions, human misery Maine.

the red flag is the standard of international Jewish finance and was a-edge deployed by Rothschild, at the same time time that the standard of politics world deo-proletarian and was of-edge deployed as such by Karl Marx,

the first of the Rothschilds was called Amschel Mayer. 11 lived in Francfort-sur-le-Main, Germany, where he had lived a collector's shop and chan- w geur island coins. When he wanted to indicate that there was a sale ■ special in his shop, he displayed al carries a red flag. The people he going there said: "I'm going to the dra-i red skin". One day just a passer-by! had made a mockery of this flag, kl Jew Amschel Mayer replied: "('.ci flag will one day dominate the world."

The initiator of big finance in-> ternationale soon changed its name euf
that of Rothschild, a name which means<j

niands: schilrf, standard, flag, e( burps, red.

Once they had control (})tW
world from above, finance, JiuW decided to also obtain the. control
from below, the proletariat. Us laneerenll Karl Marx, with his socialist bible and communist, and financed the great* international movements that emerge shoot. Kt the red flag (rote seild), of Jewish international high finance*
also became the flag of the proletariat
international.

Let the conquest of peoples take place
by Jewish finance or by the international Jewish control systems, it's still law Jewish race which wins, it is always I(j same red flag of domination
Jewish which replaces the national flags nationals. Jfc

And legions of gogos, of goyim,
considered by the Jews as vul-
cattle herder, follow with ecstasy this pulling red skin from their own slavery,
like the sheep of the slaughterhouse follow
idiotically the leaders, the "leaders" erected specially designed to help them move forward^
believing they are walking towards their "freedom."

Red flag, Jewish flag, drapeafl
of the high finance of international bandits nationals, flag of the destroyers of «; ,
country, flag of the massacrers of Spain,
cne, of Russia, Hungary, etc., flag ■.*
Trotsky, Bela-Khun, Litv!. J
noff, the Kaaanovichs, the Rosenberfts |
of the Rothschilds, standard of the .Veau d'oeL^

The Key to the Mystery

Pa M u

The Jewish Bank's alliance with communism

A GREAT JEWISH BANKER MADE

At the end of 1936, the Count of Saint-Aulaire, French ambassador, published a book entitled "Geneva Against Peace" (Librairie Pion, Paris, 15 francs). In this book he reported the statements made before him by a great Jewish banker from New York in a café in Buda-Pest, ca- the pit of Hungary that the Jew Bela-Kuhn had just bloodied in a terrible communist revolution. The bank referred to in the statements below is most likely the bank Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, whose directors were then the Jews Jacob-H. Schiff, Otto-H. Kahn, brothers Paul and Felix Warburg. (see page 9).

Here is what we read on page 85 (and following pages) of the book the French ambassador:

"This situation explains how the allies masked men of Bela-Kuhn had remained at the uapest after its rout and how we could meet them at the table of interallied missions some of you, moreover, were members, which kur was very convenient for .accomplishment i.-' their other mission. They also sanded joy-eu- ties the Tokay among the allies than among the ela- Kuhu and, when they had drunk more than the little ones children, their official protégés, had no milk, their tongues loosened. Number of re- Israeli Revolutionaries, expelled from Hungary, including had returned after the armistice, under the uniform me American, -and these are their reports to Wilson who inspired the policy of the Supreme Council in central Europe. I remembered the words of one of these augurs of whom I was the neighbor of your- ble to one of these international dinners which are the best school and the most dangerous rock diplomacy. He had become one of the directors of a large bank in New York, one of those who financed the Bolshevik revolution. But he wasn't one of those "sealed" bankers on the ground like a safe", according to the words of Louis Philippe on C.tsimii l: tm:i. It was necessary "deepened" in his specialty and willingly punctured it third party to reach higher regions. In good Oriental, he expressed himself through images to which- the, in cerebral, it gave in- telectuals. .A guest having asked him how- how high finance could protect the bohemian vism enemy of real estate property, condi- tion of the banking industry, like wealth real estate which is no less necessary to him, our man, responsible for supplying the homeless time, taking a drag from his enormous ci-

station (at five gold francs each) and says:

'Those who are surprised at our alliance with
'the Soviets forget that the people of Israel are
"the most nationalist of all people/ because he 'is the oldest, the most united, the most exclusive,
"they forget (pie his nationalism is the most
"heroic, because he resisted the most terrible
"persecutions. They forget that it is also the
"the purest, most immaterial nationalism,
"since it has existed throughout the centuries and
"despite all obstacles without support
"of a territory. It is ecumenical and spiritual
"like the papacy. But it is turned towards
"the future instead of being towards the past, and its
"his kingdom is here below. That is why he is
"the salt of the earth, which does not prevent it
"to be, as they say on the boulevard, the most "desalinated from nationalisms, that is to say the most
"decanted, the most .bare..."

word with a smile replied by this

"When I say 1
"nutre nationalisa
"the one who. has the pi
"other peoples;

"with delight and without m;
"come to the salt, con'nai
l \\'.:-, .his codfish'/
"bank of Newfoundland,

nal repressed, this wise man of .Siun
gloss:

more stripped down, I hear that He is the most drinkable of all,
s of .bottle, the one that the absorb most easily,
.1 with hair-. For follow the precept
I learned it on the
here it is: too much salt

'for the spirit and for the people. -We apply-
let us follow this precept wisely, as it con-
salt, salt being the emblem of wisdom.
"We discreetly mix it with the bread of men
"mes; we do not administer it in corrosive doses
"only in exceptional cases, when it comes to
"to burn the remains of an impure past like
"pai- example, in the Russia of the tsars. This "already explains to you a little why the bolclie-
"visme pleases us: it is an admirable salting room,
"to burn, not to preserve. But, beyond
"outside and above this particular case, we
'commune with integral Marxism in
"the International, black religion, because it is
"the weapon of our nationalism, weapon in turn
"defensive and offensive, the shield and the sword.

"Marxism, you will say, is the antipodes
"of capitalism which is also sacred to us.
'It is precisely because they are anti-
"can both of them deliver to us the
"two poles of the planet and allow us
"to be its axis. These two opposites finding,
"like Bolshevism and us, their identity
"in the International. And these two opposites
"who are at the antipodes of Society like
"of the doctrine come together in the identity
"of the same end: the renovation of the world by
"at the top, that is to say by the control of the river
"chess, and from below, that is to say by the resolution. For centuries, Israel was segregated
"decorated with Christianity, pushed back into the ghetto
"in order to show the faithful what was called
"the witnesses of the ancient law in a lower-
"deny which, it was said, was the expiation of the dei-
"cide. This is what saved us and, through us,
'will save humanity. We have thus kept
"ve our genius and our divine mission. It is
"we today are the true faithful. Our mission consists of promulgating the new law and
"to create a God, that is to say, to purify the notion
"of God and to realize it when the times are "gone. We purify it by identifying it with the-"notion of Israel, having become its own Messiah, this
"which will facilitate its advent by our t.rïom-
"phe definitive. It is our new Testament.

"like David, the prophet-king or the king-pro-
'phete, united them in his person. We

"please and we are prophets not to
"not stop being kings."

"I. above, this king-prophet drank another glass of Tokay.

"The skeptical LIn made this objection to him: "It
"Messiah, whose prophets and apostles are
"very, don't you risk being one too3
"martyrs? Because, finally, however stripped down your "nationalism, it sometimes robs other people
"ples. If you despise wealth, you will not U
"do not disdain, even if only as a means,
"not of enjoyment, but of power. How
"the triumph of the Universal Revolution,
"tructive and negator of capitalism, can he pre-
' "to adorn the triumph of Israel, holy ark of this "same capitalism?"

"I am not unaware that Jeroboam founded, in
"Dan and in Bethel, the worship of the golden calf. Jo
"do not ignore either that the Revolution is, .
"in modern times, the high priestess
"of this cult, the most diligent provider of "his tabernacles. If the golden calf is still "standing, its most comfortable pedestal is the "tomb of the Empires. That for two rajsons.

"First the Revolution" is never more than a beginning
"placement of privileges, based on wealth,

"Now what feeds our golden calf is not .
"not the creation of wealth, nor even their
"exploitation is above all their mobilization,
"soul of speculation. The more it changes
"hands, the more there are left in ours. Ncus
"we are brokers who receive corn-
"missions on all exchanges or, if you
"preferably, toll collectors who control the cars
"refours du globe and collect a tax on
"all the movements of wealth "anony-
"me and vagabond", that these .displacements
"are transfers from one country to another,
"or oscillations between classes. Quietly
"and monotonous song of prosperity, we
"we prefer the passionate and alternating voices of
"the rise and fall. To awaken them,
' "nothing beats revolution, except war
"which is also a revolution. Secondly,
"the revolution weakens the people, puts them in
"state of less resistance against inter-

"gold demands the sickness of certain nations,
"those who are incapable of developing
"by themselves. We are, on the contrary,
"in solidarity with the great modern States like
"France, England, the United States, Italy—
lie, represented at this table, who have given us
"granted generous hospitality and with
"who we collaborate for the progress of the city.
"vilization. But take, for example, the Tur—
"quie before the war, "the sick man", com—
"the diplomats called him to me. This man
"illness was an element of our health, because
"he lavished concessions on us for everything"
"nature, banks, mines, ports, railways,
'etc. His entire economic life was con—
"fied. We took care of him so well that he is "dead, at least in Europe. By placing ourselves
"from the down-to-earth point of view of accumulation
"tion of wealth, with a view to achieving
"ment of our mission, we need a
"another gloomy man. It would already have been a reason ■'

■"■Some guests having welcomed the latter "We reconcile the burps ^t, my properties,

■MM.fô^J- 2 ^

f

Pigeon 12

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

VJ

A big

made of sensational confession!

(continued from page 11):

"its sufficient, apart from considerations
"higher, to inoculate Bolshevism to "former Russia. She is now man-
"I'm sick after the war, much more "nourishing that the Ottoman Empire and which "defends even less. Here she is just in time for "a new feast. It will soon be a cada-
"vre; we will only have the trouble of
"cut up

"At the other end of the table, a co-religion
naire, enfant terrible of the synagogue, was lying in wait the moment to say something. He cried out: "We

■ we think we are birds of prey, we are more early scavengers!"

"Yes, if you want to," replies the storyteller of the new law. But add that we are for the good of humanity, for its moral health, as in countries where roads, is rudimentary, other birds are so for public health. Also add that our essential dynamism uses the strengths of creation and the forces of creation, but uses

the former to feed the latter.
What were countries like ancient Türkiye,
ancient Russia and even, to a lesser extent scale, ancient Hungary with its feudal regime dal and his latifundia? They were members paralyzed people who hampered all movements of the world; rather they were embolisms of the Europe who could die from it, blood clots obliterating vital vessels. By dissolving them Before, we return them to the circular torrent of the entire body. If, during the operation lion, squirt a few drops of this liquefied blood Well, why should we be moved by it? This is the price small part of an immense benefit. Another said that we are revolutionary, because3
we are conservatives of ourselves.

let's prove our organization for the revolution
and for preservation by this destruction, Bolshevism, and through this construction, the SDN which is also our work, one being the accelerator, – the other the brake of the mechanics of which we are the engine and the direction. THE aim? It is marked by our mission. Israel is a synthetic and homogeneous nation; She
"is formed of scattered elements in all parts of the world, corn melted in the flame of our faith in ourselves. We are one SDN which summarizes all the dens. It's that which qualifies us to unite them around us.
We are accused of being the solvent. We don't we are only on the points refractory to this– your synthesis of which ours is the example and the AVERAGE. We only dissociate the surface to awaken in the depths the affinities which

.ignore you. We are not the biggest commun divider of peoples only to become one
• the greatest unifying common. Israel is I gniorocosm and the gene of the future City"*

"We, the Jews, have led you in a new hell", admits Dr. Lévy

In 1920 the English writer George Pirr-Rivers, of Worcester College, Oxford, published a pamphlet under the title "The World Significance of the Russian Revolution". (The global significance of the Russian Revolution) published by Basil Blackwell, Oxford, two shillings. Dr. Oscar Levy, Jewish, highly regarded in literary circles, wrote a preface of which here are extracts:

"Bolshevism is a religion and a faith.
How could these half-converted believers
they dream of defeating the "true" and the "faithful"
of their own faith, these crusader saints, who had rallied around the red flag of the prophet Karl Marx, and who had fought under the bold deed of these experienced officers of the last revolutions: the Jews'!. . .

"There is no MORE RACE in this world
ENIGMATIC, MORE FATAL, and BY

CONSEQUENTLY more interesting THAN THIS JEWS.

by the aspect of the present and embarrassed by its anxiety about the future, must seek to elucidate der! the Jewish Question and its bearing on our time that.

"Because the Jewish Question and its influence on the ancient and modern world dives to the root even of all things, and must be discussed by every honest thinker, however great the differences ficulties that it involves, however complex the subject as well as the individuals of this breed . .

"You reveal, and with great fervor, the relationships that exist between the collectivism of Immensely rich International Finance – democracy of money values, like you call it – and the international collectivism of Karl. Marx and Trotsky – the democracy of and by corrupting cries. And all these evils and these miseries, economic as well as political ticks, you trace them back to just one source, a single “fons et origo malorum”: the Jews.

"Well, other Jews could help you or– trager and crucify yourself for this expression forceful with your opinions. For my part, I I will refrain from adding to the chorus of condemnation nation...

"But, first of all, I must say this:

"There was hardly an event that happened in modern Europe without being able to go back trace it back to the Jews.

"ALL IDEAS AND ALL MOUNTAIN
VEMENTS OF THE PRESENT TIMES HAVE SPRINGS FROM A JEWISH SOURCE, for simple reasons reason that the Semitic idea finally conquered and completely enslaved our universe. . .

"There is no doubt that in everything they do, the Jews are getting better or worse on the Gentiles, and there is no doubt that THEIR INFLUENCE TODAY JUSTIFIED
A VERY CAREFUL INVESTIGATION, and he it is not possible to envisage this influence without serious alarms. .

friend, we were very seriously mistaken.
And if there was truth in our error,
3,000, 2,000, no, 100 years ago, THERE IS NO MORE
TODAY LET FALSENESS AND MADNESS,
* A MADNESS THAT WILL PRODUCE MISERY
EVEN BIGGER AND AN ANAR-SHIT EVEN DEEPER. I you confess it, openly and sincerely, with the sorrow of which only an ancient psalmist can would whisper the depth and the pain in our time on fire. We asked saviors of the world, we who were ourselves boasted of having given you "the" Savior, we today we are nothing more than seducers

of the world, its destroyers, its arsonists, its executors. We promised to con-lead into a new paradise, and at the end of account, we have only led you in a new hell. There has been no progress, at least moral progress. And it's only our morality which has prevented any real progress and, what is worse, which obstructs the path of all future and natural reconstruction in our ruined world. I look at this world, and I shudder at the sight of its horror; I shudder all the more more than I know the spiritual authors of all this horror.

'But its authors themselves, unconscious in this, as in everything they do, do not know nothing of this astonishing nature has yet been revealed. Pen-while Europe is in flames, while his victims moan, while his dogs howl at the conflagration, and while its smoke descends in thicker sheets and darkest on our continent, the Jews, or at least some of them and not less worthy, try to escape the building by flames, eager to pass from Europe to Asia,
from the grim scene of our disaster towards the sunny corner of Palestine. Their eyes are closed to misery, their ears are deaf
to complaints, their hearts are hardened to anarchy from Europe; 'they only feel their their own sorrows, they only think of their their own fate, they only sigh under their own burden."

but by the . . . goyim

%&>'

In its issue of September 24, 1936,
the Jewish weekly "The Sentinel", published in Chicago, published: "The central conference of American rabbis made the decision to stand up to the American government for him
ask to RELEASE FROM ANY OBLIGATION MILITARY TION THE JEWS who, by object-conscience, are opposed to war."

So these cunning Jews are already taking their precautions. In short, they want to push them
United States to make war, but they hear that only Americans of Aryan race have the duty to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for Judah.
Aryan blood will weaken; the Aryans will lose their fortune. Judah. wants to be the master.

THEODOR HERZL, great Jewish leader, in "The New International Review", Jan. 1897:

"The agrarian question is only a question of machines. America must defeat Europe, as well as THE LARGE PROPERTY ANNILATE THE LITTLE ONE. . The farmer is therefore a type destined to disappear. Do we want to therefore ask the Jew who is intelligent
to become a peasant of old rock..

The Key OF MVstere

Page .1 3

A rabbi pleads guilty and prove the anti-Jews right!

(Article published by Jewish labbi Manfred Reifer eight months later Hitler's rise to power, in the "Czernowitz Allgemeine Zeitung" edition of September 2, 1933. This article greatly displeased the Jewish verie, who did everything to make the edition of this issue disappear, but without completely succeeding. The town of Czernowitz, now Romanian, Bukovina).

"The current situation of the Jews of Germany is the culmination of a historical process that. It is a development whose beginning can be traced back to the time of Kaiser Wilhelm. I had to admit that it ends in this way, if we understand the profound historical importance of this movement anti-Semitic, of which Hitler is the strongest expression. The one who could not foresee this was blind. We tried to turn a blind eye to events and we acted according to the axiom vulgar: "What we do not desire, we do not see." I don't believe." It was a convenient way to avoid asking fundamental questions, to look at the world through rose-tinted glasses. The Predictors of Jewish assimilation attempted to throw a veil over the reality of things and they played, as their last card, liberalism, and for a long time. They didn't understand the course of history and believed that they could escape by declaring themselves "Germans of faith mosaic", denying the existence of a nation Jewish, by cutting all the threads that connected them to Jewry, by erasing the word "Zion" from their prayer books and inaugurating Sunday Service. They viewed anti-Semitism as a temporary phenomenon that could be eliminated by intensive propaganda, by the organization of societies founded with a view to combat it. These were the thoughts of a great number of Jews from Germany. Hence the immense challenge and disappointment, the deep resignation before Hitler's victory, hence the nameless despair, the growing psychosis culminating until the suicide, complete demoralization.

"But he who judges the events of Germany following the principles of causality, will manage the Nazi movement as the culmination of a natural development; he understands it will also say that History knows no accidents, that each epoch is the result of the epoch that precedes it. This is the key to understanding the current situation. The struggle against Jewry was carried out in Germany with intensity for half a century, with a completely German precision. Anti-Semitism took root in the very soil of "The Jews of Germany refused all this—come to see him. They fed on false es-pears, ignored reality and dreamed of cosmopolitanism of the Dohm era, Leasing, Mondelsaohn. The uprooted Jews surrendered to fantastic ideas and deluded themselves into dreaming ves cosmopolitans. And this manifested itself doubleifuçon. Or say acclaimed liberalism general where they became the standard bearers of the socialism. The two fields of activity provided—provides new fuel for anti-Semitism.

the^. DESTINY

" "Read in good faith, wishing to serve their cause
and humanity, the Jews began to infiltrate
be actively in the life of the German people With their characteristic Jewish passion, they launched knowledge in all fields
these. THEY SEIZED THE PRESS,
THEY ORGANIZED THE MASSES OF WORKERS, and they endeavored to influence the whole spiritual life in the sense of liberalism and democracy. It had to, na-naturally, cause a deep reaction in the people who sheltered them. When the Jews, for example, took control of the so-called international ciplines, when they distinguished in the fields of physics,
hence, chemistry, medicine, astronomy and,
up to a certain point in the 'field of Ifi',
philosophy, ; at most they could inspire envy of their Aryan colleagues, but not a lialnè "general' of 'the whole nation'." We didn't like not to see Jews getting Nobel Prizes, but we accepted the thing in silence. But in the fields of national disciplines, that's all something else. Here each nation strives to develop one's original strengths and transmit to present and future generations the fruits of the spiritual works of the race. It's not an indifferent matter for the people to know who writes articles about Christmas, who celebrates mass, which requires attending church. THE people of any nation want their young people be educated in one's own mind. But while large sections of the people go

mand fought for the maintenance of their species, we Jews have filled with our clamors the lovers of the world and we thought of influencing public life through our Ideas. We rang the bells and made the call to silent prayer, we prepared the "renot of the Lord" and celebrated the resurrection.

"We played with possessions holiest of the people and have turned aside everything that was sacred to the nation. We are confident in the imperishable rights of democracy and we felt equal citizens of the state in the community German. We asked the censors of the morality of the people, and we have paid cuts full of satire on the German Michel. We wanted to be prophets in "the fields pagans of Germany", and we forgotten to the point of forgetting that all this was to bring destruction upon us.

"WE HAVE MADE REVOLUTIONS. and, as eternal seekers of God, we are launched at the head of the popular masses laries. We gave a second bible to the international proletariat, a bible in relation to port with the times, and we raised the passions of the third estate. From Germany, the Jew Karl Marx declared war on capitalism, and the Jew Lasalle organized the masses of the people in Germany itself. The Jew Edouard Bernstein popularized the idea, the Jews Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxembourg gave life to a mou-Spartaeist vement. The Jew Kurt Eisner created the Bavarian Soviet Republic, and was the first president. And against all this- the na- The German movement rose up and revolted. She will-milk forge its own destiny, determine itself even the future of her children...and she should not not be blamed for wanting it.

"What I first objected to was the global citizenship, cosmopolitanism, which had Jews in the front ranks of their troops. These uprooted people imagined that they could seduced the strength to transplant the ideas of Iaaie in the plains of Germaine, and to take ■ jump Valhalla with Amos. At times, they succeeded, but they swallowed themselves up with all the Jewish people under the ruins of a world that has collapsed.

"3. THE SEEKERS OF GOD IN SO-VIETIA.

"We must know how to examine the regime's struggle Hitler from a different angle, and learn to understand it. We, the Jews, are not did we not revolt and did we not (have bloody wars against all that was stranger,?. What were the wars of the Maccabees otherwise protests against a foreign and non-Jewish way of living? And Well what do the eternal battles consist of? prophets? Surely in no other place that in the elimination of foreign elements, foreign gods, and in sacred conservation of the original nature of the. Juiyjs|ne^ jNe. nftiu are we not revolting against the racial kings-mixed from the house of the Idumeans? And have we not excluded from our community the Samaritans because they practiced evil mixed laughter? Why are the nationalists going would they not do the same, when a Kurt Eisner personally appropriates the prerogatives of the Wittelsbaohers? We must learn to look the truth squarely in the face and draw final conclusions. " !

"I would like to be a false prophet, but dismissing the hard facts will not resolve the problem issue. What is happening today in Germany Magne will arrive in Russia tomorrow. For everyone the crimes that arose from the common system nist, the Jews of Soviet Russia will have to suffer one day. We will have to pay dearly-lies the fact that Trotsky, Joffe, Sinovieff played leading roles in Soviet Russia tick.

"Have we not sinned more with the wind against the democratic form in 'Soviet Russia that in Germany ? While in Germany Hitler was elected by the majority of the given roU in an election tion, nothing of the sort took place in Russia. In that country, a small minority - which today today has barely four million people after 16 years of organization - has proclaimed the dictatorship of the proletariat. . . In Russia Soviet Jews also tried to be the precursors and proclaimers of a new interpret the Bolshevist Bible and to influence the thinking of the Russian people. It is a process which calls for the strongest resistance and which, even today, leads to the anti-Semitic disruption that. What will happen when the government Soviet will have fallen and democracy will cease will celebrate its solemn entry into Russia? THE Will Jews have a better fate than what they suffer today in Germany? Behind the Trotskys, the Kameneffs, the Sinovieffs, etc., will the Russian people not discover their old Jewish names and will not make children suffer children according to the wishes of their fathers? Or even,

will the regime last so short that the fathers themselves have to atone? Is not there any back examples of this?

Didn't "thousands" of Jews lose their life, in Hungary, because Béla Kun had donated a soviet republic on the land of saint Etienne V (Note: we know that Béla Kun had massacred more than 25,000 Christians in less than 3 hundred days). The Jews of Hungary paid dearly for wanting to be prophets your Within the Internationals, the Jews appear as the most radiant elements cals. The Germans, the French, the Poles, the Czechs have a homeland and their international
ism is disappearing in Germany, France, Poland, Czechoslovakia. They are indigenous nes, under a national power. This is demented tie in practical life. In 1914, the Germans burned their red flags in the Third garten of Berlin and ran to war with patriotic refrains on the lips. The O-Polish cialist Daszinski was at the forefront of the struggle for the resurrection of Poland,
and the Czech socialists sang with enthusiasm enthusiasm their "Kde domov muj"; only the Jews didn't want to hear anything about homeland, and they fell as ostensible prophets on the battlefield of freedom. (1) Charles Liebknecht, Rosa Luxembourg, Kurt Eisner, Gustave Landauer: no Kaddosh will be recited, no mass will be said 1. . .

"They, and to a certain extent, the children of Liberalism, all these poets, authors, artists
your (Jewish) journalists have prepared the times present, fueled anti-Jewishness, provided the basis and materials for an era of. .Nazis-

they have only achieved its opposite. The curse-blindness had struck them, they did not see the catastrophe approaching, they did not strain the steps of Time, the heavy steps of Destiny, the very heavy steps of the Nemesis of the story".

(1) These four Jewish revolutionaries fled killed during troubles and battles iMwo^tiedS' by -the/ revolutions.(ju'ijs had or»anj3Çes.j,

Page 14

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

The cruel pogroms of history,
their perpetrators and their victims!

u

If the Germans want to be judged by German judges and treated by doctors Germans; if Polish students want to be educated by Polish masters; if the peasants
Romanians want to trade with merchants
Romanians; if young Canadians want
Canada is developed above all by Ca-Nadiens, the Jews excluded from the cheeses cry out persecution all over the world, they scream
naked massacre, in the pogroms.

However, the Jews do not talk about the most cruel pogroms of history, if the victims are., non-Jews. For what ? Let's go back quickly.
tell the story and we will understand. • “•

In antiquity, under Ahasuerus, 70,000 non-.-

Jews are massacred. at the instigation of the Jews,

day that yips celebrate, every year ■-
under the name of Purim. ' '

The day before the Exodus from Egypt, massacre of:
all the first born of Egyptian families.

At the birth of Jesus Christ, mass massacre
ral of Saints Innocent* throughout the Pales-; tine, in the hope of killing the Child-God.

~ They extract the death sentence from Pilate:
of the Savior. ' ' <'

They stone Saint Stephen. V; '. :

They pursue and massacre the apostles. .

Nero's chief advisor was the Jew At- "

tilius and for 'favorites the Jewess Ppppea, who in- r

called for the massacre of hundreds of thousands of Christians.
hold. ',.•.'/'.: 1:

The Jewish book "Sepher Juchasin" (Amsterdam

3717) reports that at the time of Pope Clement (91- •

100), the Jews were put to death in Rome and in:

outside, "an innumerable crowd of Christians"
like the sands of the sea."

Dio Cassius, the great historian, in his "Roman history". Anthpine translation of B.an-dole, 1660), writes: "During this time, the Jews ■;
who lived along Cyrene, having for ea- - pitaïue a certain Andreas, killed all the Greeks and Romans ate their flesh
and their entrails were bathed in their blood and, dressed themselves in their skins. They laughed about it.
shooting some very cruelly, sawing them.' of-
then the top of the head all 'at. through the /mi-location of the body; they threw them to the animals and con-;
feared others to fight against each other'
the other; so much so that they killed 220,000. '
A similar and similar cruelty did they exercise in Egypt and in the island of Cyprus, having for leader and conductor of their cruelties a certain

240,000 people, because of which it is no longer allowed no Jew to go down there.

A note from Guizot, in "The Decline and the Fall (the Roman Empire", by Gibbon, also says; "In Cyrene they massacred 220,000 Greeks, 240,000 in the island of Cyprus, and in Egypt one very large multitude of inhabitants. Most of these unfortunate victims were sawed into two, in accordance with the example that David had "authorized by his conduct"'. .

The Jewish book "Sepher Hadoroth" teaches us that Rabbenu Jehuda possessed the favor of Emperor Antoninus the Pious. "He pointed out to him malice of the Nazarenes as the cause of an illness die pestilential and obtained the death of all Nazareans who were in Rome in the year 3915 (ad 155). The same book tells us (pie ce was through the influence of the Jews that Marcus Aurelius made massacre "all the Nazarenes whom he took", in the year 177. (Of these Nazarenes were Saint Pothinus and 47 of her faithful, including Saint Blandine with the Macturus and Sanctus Christians).

The same Jew tells us how the Jews were able to have fun under the monster Oaracalla, "the fierce beast of Ansonia". The "Sepher Hadoroth" says that in the year .1974 (ad 214) "the Jews killed 200,000 Christians in Rome and all the Christians of Cyprus.

■ i The "Sepher Juchasin", Jewish book, also says to page 108: "On the desire of the Jews, Diocletian killed a large number of Christians, among them- which popes. 'Caius and Marcellinus, likewise 'that the brother of Caius and his sister Kosa".

Mohammed was assassinated by a Jewish woman, same as I Tsar Nicholas II and his family ..were by. 'Jews, Alexander of Yugoslavia and Barthou. by the Jew Peter Kalmeii, Huey Long by the Jew Weiss, Archduke Franz Joseph by the Jew Princip, the Archduke Rudolph by a Jewish; there were numerous Jewish assassinations acquainted me with Tsar Alexander, with Gustave III, Louis XVI and' his family, Rossi "(minister of Pius IX), Garcia Moreno, King Carlos, Doumer, de Lambrecht, Mores, Judge Prince, Felix

Tisza. '•

Horrible pogroms of Christians by the Jews Szamuely and Béla Kun, Jew and dictator communist from Hungary who, in 100 days, made massacre 80,000 Christians (1918).

The biggest program in history, the 'Russia under the yoke of Trotsky, Sverdloff, Zinovieff, Kameneff, Litvinoff, Yagoda, Joffe, Kaganovitch, Karakhan, Levine, Rappaport, Parvus-Halphand,' ■ Radek-Sobelsohn, Garine, etc., etc. One million nine hundred thousand bishops, priests, princes, these, noble, rich, army and police officers, . bourgeois, teachers, engineers, workers and ■ peasants martyred in 18 months; thirty million , died of hunger and epidemics due to famine artificial. since 1917, (figures from Dr Fritjof Napsen, – of the International Red Cross).

' Under the Jew Kurt Eisner and the Levine brothers, massacre of the Munich hostages, Bavaria.

Huge Judeo-Communist pogrom in Esloincloth where, for eleven months, 400,000 Spaniards Christians were massacred, (apart from lines of fire), for their religious and national faith, ' under the reign of the Jews Zamorra, Azana, Rosenberg.

Huge Judeo-Communist pogrom (fold a cost the lives of ten million Chinese since fifteen years in China, in the provinces under Soviet control. Massacres and artificial famine the terrible ones.

We only name the main ones of these countless pogroms of people and population entire nation. The Lives of the Saints, the story of antiquity, the Middle Ages and modern times are filled with them. And, everywhere, when the Jews were punished, they did not suffer a tenth of the evil that they had inflicted on the races who sheltered them were shepherding.

The Jews in the history of the world appear rise like a people of ferocious persecutors these and not as a persecuted minority. They tried, through their propaganda, to make people believe contrary to general opinion, but the facts are there who accuse them, even" in the books

Chief Rabbi NEOFIT*

CHIEF RABBI NEOFIT, converted to Christianity and became a monk, published in 1803, in the Moldovan language, the volume "Christian Blood in the Israelite rites of the Moroccan Synagogue last." This book was translated into Greek in 1843, in Italian in 1833. On page 19, Néofit writes:

"This terrible secret is not known to everyone Jews, but only Chakam (doctors in Israel) and rabbis, who bear the title of "Conservators of the Mystery of Blood." These communicate it verbally to fathers thousand and they, in turn, entrust the secret to the one of their sons who seems to them the most dignified trust, while adding gruesome threats \antables against the one who would betray him, ^^ Néofit then relates: "When I was thirteen^p years old, my father took me aside in a room obscure and, after having represented the hatred to be Christians as a pleasant thing to Jehovah, he told me that our God had us ordered to shed Christian blood and preserve for ritual use. "My son, said- he, kissing me, now that you are in- possession of this secret, you have become my most intimate confidant, truly another myself! Then he placed a crown on my head and gave explanations concerning the mystery a blood, once revealed to the Hebrews by Jehovah; from now on I will be the custodian of the most important carrying the secret of the Israelite religion. Im- terrible warnings and threats were made against me if I ever revealed this se^^. credit to my mother, my brothers, my sisters or my JJ future wife. I didn't have to communicate it only to the one of my sons who would be most capable of !e keep. So the secret would pass from father in sons through the generations to the centuries keys to come."

"The Gazette"

"La Gazette", Zinovieff's personal diary (Jew), official organ of the Petrograd Soviet,

"We will make our hearts cruel, hard, impious toyable, so that clemency does not enter into it and that they do not shudder before an ocean of blood enemy. We will release the floodgates of this ^a^ bloody tide. Without pity, without mercy, nod^; kill our enemies by the thousands. We drown them-in their own blood."

"The Northern Commune"

"The Northern Commune", Petrograd, September 18.
1918, reporting a harangue by Zinovieff-Apfelbaum (Jew):

"We will prevail; from the Russian population,
90 million are under Soviet power.
The rest we will exterminate."

(Note. - Since 1917, we have in fact destroyed
o5 million Russians by the murder and famine.) - ^m

The Ole of Mystery

Page 15

PONTIFFS OF THE GOLDEN CALF
and MASTERS OF THE WORLD

U Jews control major agencies (Pdo news which presents to the world the events
t nements in the direction of Jewish interests.

Jews control all companies
of cinema which shape the mentality through the film
of the rising generation* in all countries.

Jews control fashion and tailoring which drain the domestic budget and undermine the family by undermining its main support: the economy.

The Jews control the gold and its handling,
which set the rate and value of natural currencies nationals (Rothschild, Bleichroeder, Kuhn-Loeb

The Jewish Sassoon family controls

opium throughout the world.

The Jew Lord Melchett (Alfred Moud) controls nickel.

The Jew Louis Louis-Dreyfus controls the wheat.

P The Jews control the three Internationals* proletarians, founded by them.

Jews control secret societies.

The Jews control the workings of the Society of nations, imagined by them.

; The Jews exert a tremendous influence directly on big governments (Horelshah, Sassoon, England), (Blum, Zay, Denain, Mandel, etc., in France), (Morgenthau, Perkins, Barueh, etc., in the United States), Vanderweide, Hymans, in Belgium), (Kaganovitch, 'I. itvinoff, etc., in Russia) and an independent even in governments where they do not? not shown.

The "Jewish Encyclopedia" dictionary of Jewish affairs written by a committee of Jews, gives us some clarification on the power economic performance of the Jews.

9 Thus, we read that, from the beginning, the loans national funds and loans from large companies its industrial companies (especially the railways) were financed by Jews, the only ones rich enough to do it. Since the beginning of the penultimate century, they have. dominance in finance international.

The Jewish Encyclopedia tells us that Stern and the Goldsmkl financed, almost exclusively ingly, Portugal: Baron de Kirsch financed cé the railways of Türkiye, the Rothschilds those of France, Strousberg those of Romania, Poliakov and Speyer & Co. those of Russia, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. a good part of those in America.

"Perhaps the largest company today Poraine financed with Jewish capital, says the En-

by Sir Ernest Cassel.

From 1902, by the admission of the Jews, their tribe con-

- came close to dominating the international market in important countries. "The activity of the Jews on the international market is directly linked to their work as foreign stock brokers managed, to the global movement of pre-metals skies which are for the most part between their hands".

We can still read: "The Rothschilds control mercury; Barnato Brothers and Werner, Bett & Co. control the diamonds; Lewisohn and Guggenheim control copper and in a

some measure money.

We can add that the 3 Graustein interests and Dreyfus control the wood pulp market and paper.

This is how we can measure power of a single Jewish financier. The example, that of Jacob-H. Schiff (who financed Lenin and Trotsky

in 1917), is given by the Jewish Encyclopedia.

^k "Under the direction of Schiff, his firm operated the financial reconstruction of Union Pacific Railroad around 1897. In 1901, he engaged in a battle against the Great North for the possession of- Northern Pacific Railway; this caused a panic that at the Stock Exchange (May 9, 1901) in which the firm Kuhn, Loeb & Co. kept the situation in check

THANKS. Schiff's moderation and wisdom in this circumstance prevented a disaster

and made his firm become one of the first

influences in the financial world of paths

of iron, CONTROLLING MORE THAN 22,000 MIL-

RAILWAYS AND FOR $1,-

321,000,000 IN STOCKS. He financed large broadcasts from the Union Pacific, Pennsylvania

vania Railroad, of the Baltimore & Ohio, of Norfolk

& Western, Western Union Telegraph, and several others. H financed and partially

Japan in 1904 and 1905.

All the banks of Canada combined, represent feeling the savings of millions of Canadians, didn't have half the fortune of this Jewish bank, representing the fortune of five people. If the great Jewish agitators demand to destroy our national banks, custodians of the savings of Canadians, they never speak of destroying these monstrous international banks that finance the communism, as has been proven.

The Jewish Encyclopedia also tells us that the house of Sassoon (the Rothschilds of the Orient) the opium monopoly in the world, controls in Asia vast textile monopolies, spinning res, dyers (silk, cotton, etc.) of powerful banking organizations, insurance, brokerage, trade. Branches in Kolkata, Shanghai, Guangzhou, Hong Kong, Yokohama, Nagasaki, Bagdad, etc.

The Péreire Jewish family, from France, according to the Jewish Encyclopedia, is branched in Spain and has powerful interests in many country. Here are some businesses she founded—deed, or of which it has a monopoly, or of which it de-holds major interests: Crédit-Foncier of France, Société Générale du Crédit Mobilier, Midi Railway, Northern Railway of Spain, Gaz de Paris, Omnibus de Paris, Compagnie Générale Transatlantique, Lighting of Paris, Assurance Union and Assurance Phénix of Spain, docks and factories of Saint-Nazaire, the Credit Mobilier of Spain, Bank of Tunis, Banque Transatlantique, railway: Pans-Ar-genteuil, Auteuil; Cie des Quais de Marseille, Gas of Madrid, Ottoman Imperial Bank, railways in Switzerland, Russia, Austria cheating, in Portugal, etc., etc.

The Bischoffsheim family, from Paris and Bruel-the: Société Générale de la Banque des Pays-Bas, Crédit-Foncier Colonial, Société du Prince Imperial, Franco-Egyptian Bank, Union of Credit (Brussels), Comptoir des Prêts sur Mar-goods (Antwerp), Union du Crédit (Liège), National Bank, etc., etc. (Jewish Encyclopedia).

The Strauss family, from New York: control

RH Macy stores, pottery, glassware, {Jewish Encyclopedia).

Seligman Brothers, of New York, financiers of the Secretary of State and the Navy of War of the United States since 1876/Has been interested in all American government bonds. Led the union that distributed the Canal to the United States. In 1879, the Rothschild and Jesse Seligman absorbed only the government's $150,000,000 loan American money. MANAGED IN A WIDE MEASURES the finance of the American Civil War came. "In 1877, Judge Hilton refused to accept see Seligman and his family, for racial reasons, at his Grand Union Hotel in Saratoga. One is-time that this incident caused 1* ruin of the store

AT Stewart, then managed by Hilton, and which by the suite became the property of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia". (Jewish Encyclopedia).

It is the same for all countries, whether are the fabulously rich Rothschilds, capable of destroying any government English or French who would dare to challenge them, whether it concerns the extremely wealthy international bankers Camondo, Fould, Montagne, Stern, Bleichroder, Warschauer, Mendelssohn, Gunz-village, Japhet, Lazard, etc., next to which the Ford, the Carnegies, the Duponts, the Mellons, the Rockefeller are like dwarves. The press Jewish only talks to us about Christian financial deg but carefully hides the formidable power ble of the great international blackmailers, power out of proportion to population Jewish and especially with the production of Jews.

The somersaults of some little Jews, such as brothers Insull ($5,000 million), Stavisky (450 million francs), Lévy (120 million francs), in the French catastrophe of Panama, etc., make us better see the size of the others.

The Jews are truly the undisputed masters of global finance, which allows them to tighten their control over food prices, lei international organizations of all kinds, the

is immoral for a single race to hold so much of power over all other races of the earth. The times are over, the time is come to destroy this colossal octopus which sucks humanity and feeds on all peoples in work. Local controls of Jewry in our country (alcohol, furs, meat, slaughterhouses, furniture, confection, taverns, gold, nickel, paper, etc.) represent only a tiny part of its power. The greatest and worst power is the one we don't see but which is more effective, that of the hundred-headed international body. He must work" for deliverance, each in his own country, in his province, in his city.

CANADIAN JEWISH CHRONICLE", September 7 1935 ("The Czar in Rothschild's Castle):

"The palatial residence of Rothschild was still in a state of Solomonic splendorne, such that no caliph could have sustained without reducing his kingdom to poverty. Of made, at least half of the treasures of the earth are preserved in the Rothschild vaults. . . Rothschild exercises its power over agencies inaccessible to other mortals. The kings fear, and the fortress of Sevastopol will not would never have fallen if he had taken up the cause for Russia... This man controls the destiny born of nations. . . he is the Lord of Israel,, 1 *

"TAG", Jewish newspaper, New York, April 9 1936:

"The Jews of America, because of their number, their interests and their ability, constitute A GREAT POLITICAL FORCE THAT. It belongs to them by right. They go use it/as they see fit. What will you do you about this?" " ' ~ ' ;

Page 16

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

A BREED OF VULTURES. . .WHO

In 1934, the New York Jew Samuel Roth, a well-known author and bookseller, publish a 320-page book, illustrated by John Conrad, at the Golden Hind Press, Inc. He had previously published two books for defend your race against anti-Semites: "Europe" (Liveright, 1919) and "Now and Forever" (McBride, 1925). But by force to study why the Jews had been unpopular in all centuries and all the countries, after having examined them better and especially having suffered their blows, Roth changed of opinion altogether and gave entirely The anti-Jews are absolutely right. As soon as his book had appeared, the Jews overwhelmed it fiercely cement on all sides and tried but without success in making him appear crazy. See- Here are some extracts from Roth's book:

TAT

Hypocrisy and cruelty

"Disraeli put out the word that the peoples have the Jews they deserve. We can say with as much truth as the Jews have the enemies that they deserve.

"The history of the Jews has been tragic, tragic- only for the Jews themselves, but it did not not less for the people who suffered from it fert. . . Our main vice, today as in the past, is parasitism. We are a people of vultures living from work and good nature of the rest of the world. But despite Without our faults, we would not have done so much harm in the world without the evil genius that animates our leaders. . . Our parasitism can have a good ne utility, considered as that of certain parasitic germs essential to the regular flow of blood in the arteries. The shame of Israel does not

QUIERS and the dressers of the world, but the tremendous hypocrisy and cruelty that we are imposed by our leaders, and by us at rest of the world.

"The first of all Jewish laws is that the Jews must live. He is indifferent to know how, by what means, in what goals. They must live. When (they can conquer by force of arms) they are returning to their old methods of conquest through cheating, lies and seduction pimping.

Anti-Semitism

"I must reaffirm that anti-Semitism is (simply one of the primal instincts of humanity, one of the important instincts by which a race seeks to DEFEND ITSELF AGAINST TOTAL DESTRUCTION. I would not know say it too much. Anti-Semitism is not, like the Jews tried to make the world believe it, an active prejudice. It's the instinct to conservice that every man brings with him in emerging, like the instinct that lowers if blink sharply when something flies in the direction of the eye. Also fast and also fcûr is the instinct of anti-Semitism.

Of mortal persecutors

"From time immemorial, the Jews have been admitted freely and kindly, almost with pleasure, by the nations where they wanted to be admit. The Jews have never had to make a petition to enter a country... the first first time. Read the story of the progress of the Jewry in Europe and America. Everywhere they were well received, we helped them to develop establish, to mingle in the affairs of the community. But one by one the country's activities are closing down. will soon lie to them because of their in-righteous... and, inevitably, they make themselves ignominious deniedly expelled from the country. There is not one This is the only case where the Jews did not fully misunderstand rity the bitter fruits of the fury of their persecutors. . . We come to the nations before tending to want to escape persecution, cancels evil.

"Judaism is like a venomous disease.
nothing moral. Results for the people who allow themselves to be infected are invariably treacherous and unhealthy. If you doubt it, take a look glance at any European people in the hands of the Jews. If you want to conquer more, look what happens before-feeling in America.

"Good business"

"In Ustcha, Austrian Poland, where I am
born, the Jew Reb Sholom sent his wife all Sundays and Christmas Day at church with the key to the church, and if the interest was not paid
she refused to open the iron door to the faithful the... From my early childhood I learned that the Jew's only reason in business was to get the best out of non-Jews. When the non-Jew had been cheated, so business was good. More evil committed against a non-Jew in a transaction had been great, phi s the pleasure seemed profound to the Jews I listened to shut up... The contempt of Jews for non-Jews is part and parcel of Jewish psychology. ..

The famous heritage

"In the minds of the Jews, there was no question-recognition of their superiority over the rest of the population lation of the city. It was simple. They were Jews. And the goyim (non-Jews) were only goyim!... Their superiority in possession legal, ah! that was the real one. What belongs-born to the goyim was only a passing possession manage that the stupid laws of the good guys were trying to make permanent. Since the first goals, didn't God want all good things to Do earthly things belong to the Jews?
It was the duty of the Jews to remember this by
at all times, particularly in their transactions with the goyim. . . The Jews do not do not weave others into their religion because they are firmly convinced that they will inherit finally of all the goods of the earth, and they want slow as few heirs as possible to share this heritage.

"We despise the goy (non-Jew) and we tories hummed to the ears of children, teenagers stupidly re an ugly creature called yoisel, and called by a dozen other names too hideous to repeat them. This yoisel had been a human being and a Jew. But one day he became mad, and in his pitiful madness announced that he was the Lord himself, (the rest, which we can also read in the "Sepher Toldoth Jeshu" or life of Jesus by the Jews, is too blasphemed matory to be reproduced here). This extraordinary caricature of the founder of the religion opposite was to cause one of the most serious funny adventures of my life...

"Being a Jew is not a disadvantage only if we do business following Jewish tradition. But you can be a Jew doing business recently and honestly. I have not met than two Jews of this category in all my life. . .

"Since all the goods that the Jew sees have was created to enrich Israel, it must be at his disposal a good little way of ar-buy it back from the crude goy who holds them. . . He ... not can help but have this dishonest feeling-do not. It's almost instinctive for him. It is this is how little Isaac is raised. And what a little Jew has learned, he never forgets it. For "to know how a Jew is raised, one must have lived in a Jewish house.

War to continue

"The preservation of religion and culture Jewish culture is simply an excuse for to be a thing, a screen. What the Jew desires truly and hopes, through Jewish schools, is to cultivate in your child awareness long live that he is a Jew and that, as a racial Jewish, he must continue an ancient war against be his neighbors. The Jew must always remember deny that he is nothing other than a Jew and that his first allegiance is firstly due to the ple Jew. He can be a good American if he is paying to be. He can even ask the right Chinese. But no obligation that: he contracts with a non-Jew m can be considered as

This is how the

. defines the

valid if it steals the interests of its most important bearing obligation.

"The young Jew first learns that he is Jewish. Then he learns that being Jewish makes him different from all other peoples of Earth. . . We strongly impress the young Jew the feeling that he must be a professional. . Being forced to work, to do labor manual to earn a living is the worst state in which the young Jew can fall, whatever who must shame and humiliate him. THE The Jew's disdain for manual labor is a second nature in him, an innate feeling, in-meant. .

Professions

"Jews do not consider professionals liberal positions like other people. Not reverence for the profession or its traditions tions. . . The young Jew does not consider his prey- ^k sion (law, medicine, etc.) as a^F gangster considers a new "racket"; ouel amount of money he can get in exchange of the slightest effort and enthusiasm.

"What happens to young Jews who do not can reach professions, which do not have the means to buy a newsstand or do not have the imagination to become salespeople? Most of them stand on the corners neighborhood streets and become the little ones thieves, bandits, strikebreakers, gambling dice, peddlers and narcotics smugglers ques, agents of trafficking. white, delighted-ers and "racketeers" from all communities peaceful lands of America. Other races have also theirs, but they become so by hard necessity of living; the Jew becomes one because he sees it as a career.

"Nothing the Jew does is essential ^^ to the well-being of America. On the contrary, bucket- ^B suddenly what he does is contrary to the best America's interests. H does not contribute even in labor at general work if shops" and in the traps he sets himself even. . . In literature, he only contributes obscenity, journalism that digs into people's affairs res intimate of others and, often, is tinged of blackmail. It is indeed in the national... We are still a nation of sinister busy lazy people. . . In business, the Jew has only one code: know how to create something <nothing, getting rich through the bargaining of things- what he didn't do; but you have to know how- ment he proceeds to find out what it is.

Deals

"America is full of businesses

bearing old Christian names but in reality lity owned and operated by. Jews. These acquired them in the way I described (the gradual tufting); this is how the Jew shoots something from nothing.

"I am a Jew, better than anyone in the world, knows how to dispossess the poor and the poor bres of the middle classes. For every non-Jew who goes into business, there are two Jews who are waiting for the exit.

"We therefore see the Jew, as a man-businessman, promoter, lender, seller by excellence, the author and the main instigator of a credit system by which usury of national scope' rises like a monster to millions of hands- suc- millions of. throats.

e

The Key to M

YSTERE

P i3 to 17

ERSECUTE ALL OTHERS

,

•

if Samuel Roth,
ws Must Live"
this Jewish.

to strangle the honor and freedom of movement
life of a hard-working people.

"When Heine said that 'Judaism is not not a religion but a misfortune," he does not think-knows that to his personal misfortune. But no one-has not yet calculated the extent of this misfortune
for the rest of the world.

The "Kol Nidré"

"No religion in the world offers a spectacle as contradictory, as mischievous and as unreasonable as reciting prayer re of Kol Nidré in the synagogues on the evening of the holiday of Yom Kippur. . . Whatever the case make him have business with his neighbor, material or moral, the Jew makes God understand
in advance that this will be on an explicit condition:
the execution must be favorable to God, without which the Jew will consider it null, of no effect, entirely useless, as if it had never been even mentioned, as if nothing on it yet had not been negotiated... The specious argument that this prayer is exclusively of a re-litigious seems to me OBVIOUSLY DISHONEST-DO NOT. If the author had wanted to understand only obligations towards God, he does not not written "the obligations and commitments of ALL names". There is no more meaning nor of sincerity in the other explanations. . . By After reciting Kol Nidre, the Jew denies responsibility sanity of the crime even before committing it.
Can we doubt the terrible evil influencehealth that. this can influence its character
citizen and human hearth?

Jewish civilization

vee. The seal of spirit and temperament Jews have deeply impregnated our institutions.
...If the Jews are ever expelled from America,
it will be because of medical practice
sing Jewish doctors and lawyers.

"The Jew is a nomad who has a weak
for the building. I hear the undene-of the earth- as soil to cultivate and to make it flourish. The tFuif only has one use of possession of land, or any other choae: speculation. Civilized peoples have stain a kind of weak holiness in the possession of the ground - a holiness that the Jew will violate whenever he can. - Herzl was probably probably the first honest Jew in two a thousand years... a Jew without the itch for money or real estate.

The "women's market"*
> "The presence of the Jew in the theater is the ■ large, prevention of side development, spirituality of the theater. The history of theater and related arts proves that they flowered alone-ment when the Jew could not get involved. . . THE moment when the Jew entered the theater, a kind of impotence has fallen on the scene...
In America, the Jew controls the theater, there throne, For the: Jew, theater only means two things: : an easy way to make art gent, and a market of pretty women. . , The May-your. de, pass receives its recruits from the agent theâ-, > tral and, in nineteen cases out of twenty, it is a Jew*. ,.

The surplus of these poor, kind creatures
is shipped with our surplus cotton, pa-tates and copper in Japan, China, Panama, in South America and in all ports of dark regions. of the Pacific... Cinema is, in the hands of the Jews, a stupid industry and obscene. . .

"The Jew is dirty and he dirties everything place he lives, even temporarily. I say this without a shadow of malice, this is the conclusion of my own life among the Jews.

"In the struggle for civilization, the outcome
has always been between the world and Judas; lemon-of seeking to ascend, Judas pulling from below."

Opinions
antiques

Prophet Jeremiah:

"The Jews have despised me," says Jehovah.
why would I give their wives to others
and their fields to new owners,
for from small to great all are eager for gain:
from the prophet to the priest, all commit mistakes; they will be confounded, because they abominations, but they do not blush and they know no shame; they will fall,
in the day of punishment they will be overthrown. – I will destroy them." – VIII, 10-13.

"The Jews spy like the fowler who falls, they set traps and take
men. Like a cage full of bait, their manners are full of fraud; a* is like this
that they grow and enrich themselves; they? have a. embrilliant point, they go beyond even evil." –
– V. 26-29.

Prophet- Isaiah:

"Your hands are stained with blood and your fingers of crimes, your lips utter the men-dream and: your tongue speaks per-towards. None of you assigns with good right and* no one pleads righteously. CARRYING THE MALICE IN THEIR BOOST, THE JEWS IN-FANTASTIC CRIME. We incubate eggs of asps and warp. Spider webs:
WHOEVER EAT THEIR EGGS
DIES, AND PRESSES ONE OF IT
OUT A VIPER. Their frame is not useful not to clothe and from their work they cannot make a coat: their works are works
of malice and violence is in their hands.
Their feet run to evil and hasten to shed innocent blood.

"Woe to those who add house to house, join land to land, until no more to leave, and to be alone established in the country!... Woe to those who shoot at them – crime with the cords of vice, and sin as with shovel evil good and good evil, which change darkness into light and light into darkness, which changes bitterness into sweetness and sweetness in bitterness!" – V. 8-21.

"Jewish World", March 15, 1923: "THE JUDAIS-ME IS – BASICALLY –'– ANTI–

. CHRISTIAN." ■■" ..',_!. ■ Ha,'-iàit^i •^;l*&'h.-^ ai >,,',. ■■

An impassable chasm

Dana her book "You Gentilea" (You the Gentils), published in 1924, the Jewish and Zionist leader, Maurice SAMUELS. wrote :

|'Between the Gentiles and the Jews there is an infranchissable abyss. Your life is one thing, our life is another. This first difference cannot have conciliation. She binds the gulffre.

"Wherever the Jew is, he constitutes a issue. He is a source of misfortune for him-even and for those around him. THE JEWS
EVERYWHERE ARE, TO A HIGH DEGREE, FOREIGNERS – indisputably, a spirit foreigner in your academies. He does not accept your rules of good and may because it does not not include. For the Jewish system of life, the Gentiles are essentially without morals. These two conceptions of life are entirely foreign to each other. They are enemies.

"Our Jewry is not a creed; it is our totality. A Jew is a Jew in all things. We cannot conceive of a duality – religion and '
life, the sacred and the profane. I could say :
"We and God grew up together." In the heart of every pious Jew, God is a Jew.
Only Jews can thus understand the universality of God.

"There didn't seem to be a single country that a story and which was not anti-Semitic at all one era or another.

"You could say: 'Let's exist side by side groups are not simply different: they

' are opposed by mortal enmity.

"Dansrvstra mono*, unhMm^dolf.be loyal has. his country, his province, his city. FOR THE JEW, PURE LOYALTY (naked loyalty)
IS AN INCOMPREHENSIBLE THING.

"Jews are the most racist of all peoples. The fact that they persisted for 80 generations to maintain their racial identity and spiritual, attests to an essential discipline of astonishing rigor and strength.

"We Jews attach little importance to l'au-de" (the after-life). We thank God for making us different from everyone.

"The Gentile's instinct is to distrust the Jew,
the Jew's instinct is to distrust the Gentile.
Placed side by side with us, see fans
farons, cowards, vulgar crowds.

"We are not among you by our own will, but to oiw ie your action.
WE ARE. INTRUDERS AMONG YOU because we feel what we are.
WE HAVE MORE RAISOWSDK FOR YOU
HATE that you can have it against us.

_ "Liberal Jews, radical Jews, modern Jews-nists, agnostic Jews become the element dominant of Jewry. We. we produced a countless number of revolutionaries, bearers banner in the armies world* of i* "liberated-ration.

"The repudiation of the Jewish religion does not change
in no way a Jew.

, "We, the Jews, the destroyers, will remain always destroyers. Nothing ee but you- >r will not satisfy our needs and requests.
We will always destroy because; we will - -'•
lOnii a world to ourselves", -■-' .- , .

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

The League of Nations Jewish organization!

The Canadian government has engaged the Canada in the arms race, saying that our country is obliged to do so because it has subscribed to the idea of "collective security" being part of it of the League of Nations. "Collective security" means "collective war" when the Society of Nations will judge that its interests require it, how close we came to having the "collaborative war" lective" against Italy in the Halo-ethiopienne. If we didn't have this war, it's because the British countries were not still quite armed, like several men states have repeated it over time.

So what is it then that the Society of Nations what is its origin, what are its interests? loans? The Jews themselves take care of tell us. Here is ;

Dr KLEE, Jewish lawyer, New York, speaking in public on January 19, 1936, said:

"The League of Nations was in no sense the work of President Wilson, It is a creation essentially Jewish and of which Jews can be proud. The idea goes back to the Sages of Israel. It's a pure product of Jewish culture."

(See the quote from Saint-Aulaire, in a previous page, on the role assigned to the League of Nations by a Jewish banker from New York).

JESSH E. SAMPTER, Jew, "Guide to Zionism" wrote:

"The League of Nations is an old Jewish ideal."

the Jew Litman Rosenbhal in his book "When Prophets Speak:

"Soon, perhaps, a sort of Congress World Cup must be convened." Words spoken cements in 1903. On the same occasion (1903), Nordau said: "Let me show you the scales lons that climb higher, ever higher: Ilerzl, the Zionist Congress, the English offer of 1'Onganda, THE FUTURE WORLD WAR-LE, the peace conference where. with the help of England, a free Palestine will be created and Jewish.

NAHUM SOKOLOW, great Jewish leader, speaking at the Zionist Congress in Carlsbad, August 22

1922:

"The League of Nations is a Jewish idea and Jerusalem will one day become the capital of the world peace. What we Jews have accomplished fold after a twenty-five year fight, we owe to the erenia of our immortal ohef, Theodor Horzl.

LUCIEN WOLEF, Jew, in his report to the American Jewish Congress.? on his work as Jewish plenipotentiary at the Conference of the peace :

"If the League of Nations foundered, the entire publishing house fice so laboriously put together by the delegates Jewish populations in England and America in 1919 would collapse."

The Jew LENNHOFF, in the "Wiener Prei^maurerzeitung", No 6, 1927:

"We are right to bring together Freemason-rie (Jewish instrument) of the Soci  t   des Nattons, The League of Nations was born from Masonic ideas.

The Jewish newspaper "JUDISCHE RUNDSCHAU", No. 83, 1921:

"The exact seat of the League of Nations is not neither Geneva nor The Hague. . . Ascher Ginsberg dreamed of all nations will visit a temple at the Peace. Eternal peace will only be a real fact when all the peoples of the earth have gone to this temple." *

NATHAN-LARRIER, Jew, quoted in the Bulletin Official of the Grand Lodge of France, 1920, pp. 34-35:

"Brother Nathan-LARRIER, Great Orator, shows how he sees the role of francophone masonry for the definitive formation of the Society of Nations'*

SIR MAX WAECHTER, Jew, speaking before the London Institute, 1909:

"All States must come together and draw up the constitution of a Federation of the countries of Europe on the basis of a single tariff, a single currency, a single language, the abolition of borders.

LENIN, half-Jew (Kalmyk), writing in the "Social Democrat (Russian Jewish newspaper), No 40, 1915:

"The United States of the world (and not only of Europe) will be achieved by communism which will bring about the disappearance of all States, even those who are purely democratic.

EMIL LUDWIG, Jew, in "Genius and Character":

"When the United States of Europe will be one reality, Woodrow Wilson will be named its founder dated by the peoples (because it gave rise to the League of Nations)",

At the Grand International Masonic Convent, on June 28, 29 and 30, 1917 (before we thought of the League of Nations), this conspiracy of Jews and enjuivés proposed:

"It is appropriate to build the Happy City of tomorrow. It is this truly Masonic work. that we have invited you. . . What cons- are we tampering? This war turned into a formidable quarrel between organized democracies ques. . . In this storm, secular power of the tsars in Great Russia has already foundered. Other governments will be swept away, in their turn, by the breath of freedom. It is therefore unnecessary to create a super-national authority. Freemasonry, worker of peace, proposes to study this new organism: the League of Nations".

The official report of the Convent of the Grand Orient, 1932, page III, publishes:

"Is it not within the lodges that the spark springs the one which caused the emergence of the League of Nations, of the Bu-International Labor Union and all organizations international organizations which constitute the draft laborious but fruitful work of the United States of Europe rope and maybe people? "

"JEWISH COMMUNAL REGISTER", 1918:

"At the Congress of 1909, the American Jewish Committee successfully opposed the bill who asked that the census enumerators ment inquire about the RACE of the inhabitants of," UNITED STATES".

TT

"Jewish Guardian," February 6, 1920;

"A triumph

For

Jewish rights

(Work of the Anglo-Jewish Delegation.)

"The Treaty of Berlin (1878) was acclaimed for more than forty years like the charter of Jewish emancipation in Eastern Europe tale.

"Even his greatness is cast into the shadows now by the splendid work of the recent Peace Conference for Minorities (Jewish) in the States of Europe, new

"The solemn meeting of nations in Paris offered a golden opportunity to resolve the old Eastern Jewish question. Our community has promptly measured the magnitude of luck who offered himself, and immediately grabbed her with both hands. — When we know that these hands were the hands of Mr. Lucien Wolff, who spent a almost a whole year of DRAWING EFFECTIVELY—LY THE STRINGS IN PARIS, we understand—will show that the work of the Anglo-Jewish delegation AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE were crowned with a resounding and complete success."

This

brochure

is sold

5?

• •
•

Address

any order

has :

P0 Box
2290

MONTREAL — Can.

p

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

Page 19

^••Kv*v*-H'-:-«K-*+^';"K--!--i--i->

FREEMASONRY:

dangerous instrument of the Jews

If Jewry controls the price of all national currencies by controlling gold, if it controls the price of raw materials and commodities by its large international trade bodies international, if it controls world opinion by news distribution agencies and the cinema, if it controls the proletariat by the International companies, it also controls large crowds of politicians and businessmen all countries by Freemasonry.

Freemasonry has always been called by the Popes "the SYNAGOGUE of satan". This it is not for nothing that the word synagogue is thus employed. Freemasonry dechristianises Christians at the same time as it Judaizes. It imposes atheist schools everywhere its members take power. She preaches to its members the "Great Architect", [unigod person] modeled on that of the rabbis, and made forget the God in three persons of Christians.

The avowed aim of your Freemasonry is "reconstruction of the temple of Solomon", that is - that is to say of the Judaic world temple, on the born from all other religions. The franc-masonry helped the Jews retake the land Latin to Arabs; she forces the government English to use force of arms to ensure Jewish power; she undertook to force England to make it a Dominion tonome for Jews; she will soon help have the temple of Solomon rebuilt on the remains of the New Testament, if she is capable to destroy it.

BENJAMIN DISRAELI, Jew, first minister
the of England, "The Life of Sir George link-tin ek":

"At the head of all these secret societies, which form provisional governments, find themselves
wind of men of the Jewish race".

"The ISRAELITE TRUTH", Jewish newspaper, 186J,
volume V, page 74:

"The spirit of Freemasonry is the spirit of Judaism in its most fundamental beliefs
mental; these are his ideas, this is his language, IT'S ALMOST HIS ORGANIZATION. THEperance which enlightens and strengthens the Freemason-
Its crowning glory will be this marvelous house
sound of prayer of all people including Jerusalem
She is the one who enlightens and strengthens Israel. . .
will be the center and the triumphant symbol.

BERNARD SHILLMANN, Jew, in "Hebraic Influences on Masonic Symbolism", 1929, cited
by "The Masonic News'', London:

"Although I have in no way dealt with the in-Hebrew fluencies on all the symbolism of Freemasonry, I hope I have enough proven that Freemasonry, as that symbolism, FULLY REST
ON TRAINING THAT IS ESSENTIAL SO JEWISH."

BERNARD LAZARE, Jew, in "The antimitism and its causes", page 340:

"The Martinézist lodges were mystical,
while the other orders of Freemason-nerie were rather rationalists; what can allow us to say that secret societies pre-felt both sides of the Jewish spirit: the practical nationalism and pantheism. It's in-dances arrived at the same result: the collapse

"bliss of Catholicism".

RABBIN IAJDWIG BLAU, D.Ph., professor, at the col-
Talmudic Church of Budapest, Hungary:

"Jewish Gnosticism preceded Christianity-

heads of the Gnostic schools and the founders of Gnostic systems (including Freemasonry is issued) are designated as Jews by the Fathers of the Church.

RABBIN ISAAC WISE, in "The Israelite of America" August 3, 1866:

"Freemasonry is a Jewish institution whose history, degrees, charges, words order and explanations are Jewish in the beginning to end."

BERNARD LAZARE (quoted above), Jew:

"It is certain that there were Jews in the cradle Freemasonry; certain rites prove that they were Kabbalist Jews.

"TRANSACTIONS OF THE JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY", Vol. 2, page 156:

"The crest of the Grand Lodge of England is entirely composed of Jewish symbols.

"THE FREEMASON'S GUIDE", New York, 1901:

"The Freemasons erect a building in whom the God of Israel shall live forever."

"AN ENCYCLOPEDIA OF FREEMASONRY", Philadelphia, 1906:

"Each lodge is and must be a symbol of Jewish temple; each master in his chair, a representative of the Jewish king; every freemason, a representative of the Jewish worker".

"LATOMIA", Masonic publication, August 7 1928, quoting the Jew Rudolph Klein:

"Our rite is Jewish from the beginning to the END; the public should conclude that we have direct links with Jewry.

"MANUAL OF FREEMASONRY", by Richard Carlile:

"Grand Lodge Freemasonry is today entirely Jewish.

"THE FREEMASON", London, April 2, 1930,
quoting Rev. S. McGowan:

"Freemasonry is based on the ancient ne law of Israel. Israel gave birth to moral beauty (!) which forms the basis of franco-masonry".

"LE SYMBOLISM", Masonic journal,
Paris, July 1928:

"THE MOST IMPORTANT TASK OF FREEMASON must be to glorify the race Jewish. . You can count on the Jewish race to dissolve all borders.

"THE TEXTBOOK OF FREEMASONRY",
London, page 7:

"The initiate of the master's rite is called "a humble representative of King Solomon".

"ALPINA", official organ of the Freemason-nerie in Switzerland:

"Go to the Hall of Mirrors, in Versailles.
There you can read the immortal declaration of human rights (Treaty of Versailles), It is our work. Decorative Masonic symbols enter the header of the document".

"TUAT WIIICH WAS LOST, A TREATISED
ON FREEMASONRY AND THE ENGLISH
MISTERY", by the F.-'M.' W. Sanderson, 1723,

page 55:

"It's easy now, but also unfair
to criticize the founders for having introduced Judaic traditions in Freemasonry laugh. They had taken a big step by removing the New Testament for the benefit of harmony between Christians and Jews.

SAMUEL UNTERMEYER, chairing a meeting reported by the "Jewis-h Chronicle", 14 December 1934, had a resolution approved saying "The boycott of Germany by the Jews will have to be continued until the government

FREEMASONICS their status and their property of which they were stripped." (Boy-Jewish cott for Freemasonry!)

"DIE JUDEN ALS FREIMAURER" (The Jew as a Freemason), by the Jew and Late Mason of the :

"It's less a fight for interests of humanity than a struggle for the interests and the domination of Judaism. And, in this struggle, Judaism reveals itself as the power dominant to which Freemasonry must adhere submit. There's nothing there that should surprise us-ner, because in a hidden and carefully disguised, Judaism is already in fact the power dominant position in many Grand Lodge of Europe, As far as Germany is concerned, we should not forget that Judaism is the master of mar-financial and commercial managers, master of both political and Masonic press, and that millions of Germans are financially its debtors.

"THE JEWISH TRIBUNE", New York, 28 Oct. 1927, Vol. 97, No. 18:

"Freemasonry is based on Judaism-me. Eliminate Jewish teachings from ritual Masonic, and what remains?"

"THE JEWISH ENCYCLOPEDIA", 1903, Vol. 5, page 503:

"The technical language, symbolism and rites of Freemasonry are full of ideas and Jewish terms. . In the Scottish Rite, the dates of official documents are designated as follows: before the calendar and the months of the Jewish era, and we makes use of the ancient Hebrew alphabet.

"The influence of the Jewish Sanhedrin is greater than ever, today, in Freemasonry-rie". - O.-B. Good, MA, "The Hidden Hand of Judah", 1936.

"B'NAI B'RITH MAGAZINE", Vol. 43, page 8, quoting the rabbi and mason Magnin;

"The B'naï B'rith are only a stopgap. By-everything where. Masonry can confess without danger

But ordinary lodges are sufficient for the task.
(The B'nai B'rith are Masonic lodges closed to whites and where only Jews are admitted put. In 1874, Albert Pike (for the. Ecos-Rite know) signed an alliance with Armand Lévi (for the BB); by. this secret treaty, the B„B. s'dnga-happy to contribute 10% of their revenue to the universal freemasonry). ■ ^ ■ -*

r>g» 20

The G

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

WHY THE JEW

A CA

The hypocritical mask of snatched by ave

In this country, Jews use the title of "Canadians" to obtain favors, title of "British" to obtain rights and privileges vileges. If we read carefully what they write their leaders everywhere, we understand that the Jew does not
can be a national citizen in a country who is not officially Jewish. The Jews do not are and never will be Canadians. Us in provide the proof themselves.

Dr CHAIM WEIZMAN", Jew, great Sio-leader
nist, in his pamphlet "Great Britain, Palestine and Jews": ' ' '

"We are Jews and nothing else,
a nation among nations."

"Israel", 1926:

"The Jew remains a Jew. Assimilation is imposed eible, because the Jew cannot change his national character. Whatever he does, he is Jewish.
He remains Jewish.* The majority have discovered this fact,

as she was to discover sooner or later. THE Jews and non-Jews realize that there is no pa? of outcome. All gentle believed in a way out. He there are none. None I".

"ISRAEL'S MESSENGER", Jewish newspaper,
Shanghai. Feb 7 1930:

"Judaism and Jewish nationalism are working hand in hand. 'The Jews have always been a nation, even when driven out and scattered from their ancestral homeland. The Jewish race is a race pure. The Jewish tradition is an in-interrupted. The Jews have always considered themselves dered as members of the Jewish nationality.
This is where invincibility and solidarity reside.
darity of the Jewish people in the dispersion".

JESSE E. SEMPTER, Jew:

"Judaism, name of the national religion of?
Jews, is taken from their national designation. A , [Irreligious Jew is still a Jew"

In the "JEWISH ENCYCLOPEDIA", Dr.
Cyrus Adler, Jew, says that the Jews, what qv
"regardless of their religious allegiance, they are all part of the "Jewish race",

Rabbi S. Wise, quoted by the "NY Tribune",
March 1920! <
"When the Jew Pledges Allegiance to Another"

law, ' he's lying.''' ' ' ' ..

MAX NORDAU, "The Jewish People, Paris, 6
tishri, p. 2:

"The Jews are one people, one people.
Herzl understood the failure of assimilation.

Rabbi M. SCHINDLER, in the "Jewish Chronicle", April 28, 1911;

"For fifty years, I have been resolutely supporter of the assimilation of the Jews, and I believed in it. But the American crucible will never produce the fusion of a single Jew"

"ISRAELITE ARCHIVES", Paris, March 24 1864:

"-• this unique miracle, in the life of the world,
of an entire People dispersed for eighteen hundred years in all parts of the universe
without being confused or mixed in any way with the populations among which he lives.

LEVY-BING, Jew:

"The entire Jewish religion is based on the idea
national".

BERNARD LAZARE, Jew, speaking in front
the Alliance of Russian Israelites, March 7, 1897:

"What is the bond that unites us, we who come of the most diverse countries? This is our quality of Jews. So we are a nation."

"PRO-ISRAEL", Paris:

"Israel is a nationality, like France...
The true Jew does not assimilate. And how many those who would be believed to be assimilated, who would believe so themselves, feel a beautiful day, under the blow of an exceptional circumstance, such as mysterious shock that causes the race to awaken
and speak in them."

MAX NORDAU, Zionist leader:

"We are neither Germans, nor English, nor French. We are Jews! Your mentality
Christian is not ours.

NAHUM SOKOLOW, great Zionist leader, in
"Zionism in the Bible", pp. 7-8'

"The fundamental thought of Moses is the future of the Jewish nation and the eternal possession of the promised land. No sophism can remove mic to see Jews, supporters of the mono-theism, claiming to be Germans* Hon-grois, etc., "in the opinion of Moses." If it's not not blasphemy, it's mockery. . Little^ it matters whether Jews call themselves a religion or a nation; the Jewish religion cannot be separated from Jewish nationalism."

S. ROKHOMOVSKY, Jew,
Jew, April 21, 1919:

"The People

"We have the right to be what we aremes: Jews. Today more than ever, we we would like to state it loud and clear: we are 1
a nation", , -!■.

"THE ISRAELITE UNIVERSE", Paris, citing less bulletins of the central committee- of "The League of!
human and citizen rights", self-committee
saying "specialized in Israelite issues".
May 15, 1918:

"Judaism is a national and non-religious bond.
gieux. He therefore claims the right of peoples to dispose of themselves. . National feeling of a Russian Jew or a Romanian Jew, is neither, Russian nor Romanian, but Jewish!"

"ISRAELITE ARCHIVES", Paris, 1864:, .

"Israel is a nationality. The child born to:
Israelite parents³ is Israelite. The birth of him imposes all the duties of an Israelite. This is not by circumcision that we receive the quality of Israelite. We are not Israeli, lites because we are circumcised; but we;
circumcise our children because we
We are Israelites. We acquire character of Israelites by our birth, and we are not for
We are going to lose this character, nor relinquish it. .
The Israelite who denies his religion, even the one who-is baptized, does not cease to be an Israelite. ;
All the duties of an Israelite continue with him.
";

"JEWISH CHRONICLE", December 8, 1911, p. 38:■

'The patriotism of the Jew is only a cloak'
with which he covers himself to please the Englishman.
Jews who claim to be able to be both patriotic English "and Jewish bols are all simply living lies."

"JEWISH WORLD", January 1, 1909; under signature of J. Wodislâtfski/Jew: ' ' '

."JSnJevpns the niasqie. So let's play the Lion of Judas, for a change. ; Let's tear off not.r^^

•

The Mystery Key

Page 21

IT CANNOT BE NADIEN

I

dual nationality is unequivocal ux.

false patriotism. A Jew cannot recognize only one homeland: !a Pai-srine!".

| Zionist, writing to the Sunday Chronicle,
Manchester, September 26, 1915, page 4:

"Whether they are naturalized or not
This country, we are not at all -Lies Britanniques. We are nationals, Jews by race and by)a faith, and "ion of the British."

"JEWISH WORLD", July 15 1919, page 6:

'I/O Jaif nationalism is a Jewish issue
:_:iii must be governed by Jewish principles
?î must not be subordinated to convenience

wearing either:!. As a people, the Jews do not pa.3 make war among themselves, English Jews enter German Jews or French Jews against Austrians; divide Jewry into is to international differences we

■ seems to be the abandonment of the whole principle of nai'jitalisnif? Jewish."

THEODOK HERZL, the greatest Jewish leader
i^ilt-rne, in his book "The Jewish State":

5"

"1*1 Jewish question is no longer a question
- purely religious.. It's a na-national, which can only be resolved by making it
'a global political issue.

LEO N. LEVL, president of B'nui B'rith in 1900, in his "memorial" published by the li'naï K'rith:

"The Jewish question is not a question which can be resolved through tolerance. There are k right-thinking people who make it their point to exhibit be a spirit of tolerance towards the Jews. He is certain that the race and religion of the Jews
.are so melted together that we don't know
jfias where one begins and where the other ends There is no

4 h no worse mistake to pretend (pie the word
"Jew" is the name of a religion, not that ' of a race. It is not true that the Jews are Jews only because of their religion. An es-Huirnau or an American Indian could

.adopt the Jewish religion, but he* does not become one Jews would not do that. The dispersion

: of » Jews did not destroy in them the national idea

.nor ia race. , Qa\ can say that the Jews do not

■ ment no longer a race? Blood is the basis and

.aub-stratum of the idea of race, and no people

-cej the surface of the globe, cannot claim a ^~ |tlua great purity and unity of blood that the Jews Religion does not constitute race. SJn

A Jew, even if he renounces his religion, remains a Jew.
Jews are not assimilated. They infused their blood in other races but they took very little foreign blood in their own race."

"JEWISH WORLD" 1915:

London, September 22'

"No one would dare to claim that the en-child of a Japanese or an Indian is an Anglais, under the pretext that he was born in England-
The same reasoning applies to

D ;

Ju

"JEWISH WORLD" 1922:

London, December 14

"Ixi Jew remains Jewish even when he changes
religion; a Christian who would adopt the religion Jewish ut* would not therefore become a Jew, because that being Jewish does not depend on religion,

but to the raee, and that a free-thinking Jew, atheist,
remains as Jewish as any rabbi."

RABBIN MORRIS JOSEPH, in his book
"Israel as A Nation":

"To deny Jewish nationality, one would have to deny the existence of the Jews.

. Association), ibidem:

"Considering the Jews as a religious sect religious, similar to that of Catholics or Protestants, is an inaccuracy. If a Jew is baptized, there are few people who will believe that he is no longer Jewish. His blood, his temperament and his intellectual characteristics are not in link modified".

LEON SIMON, Jew:

"The idea that Jewry is a religious sect, comparable to Catholics or Protestants, is nonsense."

MOSES HESS, Jew, in his book "Rome and Jerusalem":

'The Jewish religion is, above all, the pa-Jewish triotism. Every Jew, whether he likes it or no, is united in solidarity with the Jewish nation *n-. third".

"JEWISH CHRONICLE", May 11, 1923:

"The first and most imperative duty of a nation as of an individual is the duty of its own conservation. The Jewish nation must first take care of everything over herself.

"JEWISH COURIER & JEWISH WORLD", January 17, 1924:

"The Jews may well adopt clothing and the language of the countries where they live, they do not become will never become an integral part of the population Native".

GH STERN, in his book "Debatable Ground":

"The Jews are a nation. If there were not that a theological difference would have caused distinctions marked in the treatises and in temperament? To go to the synagogue instead of going to church, does that change what mes a nation, a scattered nation but, by race, the most united nation in the world."

S. GERALD SOMAN, in the "World Jewry" (speaking to the 17 Jewish MPs in the Commons English):

"You can't be English Jews.

We belong to a distinct race Our mentality is Jewish, and it absolutely differs from that of the English. Enough subterfuge! Affirm-openly that we are Jews

international!"

Thus, always and everywhere, the Jews refuse
. to blend in with the peoples who host them, they refuse to associate themselves with ex-national interests
cepted to exploit them in their favor, and they no recognize that Jewish interest. Their religion, is a purely national affair, an affair of race, according to their most eminent leaders. They don't cannot be, they will never be Cana-say, but always exclusively and fanaticallyment of the Jews.

They form a state within a state, a nation
in the nation, having their regular government-bind (called kahal), their courts (beth din), their taxes and special taxes. They are Like everywhere else, a danger for the -paya. *

I

ni* 12

There Gle- of the Mystery

44

THE

How are they explained?
in all of the above
tion which maintains a and unique. .

'Christians have a faulty code of practice
religious and moral conduct: the catechism.
Jews have a corresponding code called the Talmud. formed of several volumes- separated into two large parts: the Mishna and the Gemara.
they were codified into a simpler book called the Schulchan Aruch, by the famous rabbi Joseph Caro. Jewish encyclopedias, newspapers and leaders affirm that the Talmud has the force of law for Jews <\e.> Jews, today as in the past,

There are a few; years, Abbot Auguste Rohling, doctor and Hebrew scholar translated from a passage from the Talmud, offering a reward of 10,000 francs to anyone who could prove that a single word of its translation was inaccurate. . The translation had been revised by another learned doctor, Abbot Laniaque.
This translation has been reproduced in many many books and newspapers from Europe, in, four languages, without the Jews ever daring answer to. Here are some passages from this "category"
chism" of the Jews, Rohling translation, reproduced from the book "Fair solution of the question Jewish", by Mr. Abbot Charles, doctor in theology and former professor of philosophy, priest of Saint-Augustin, France:

"The Bible is water." But (the Talmud)
Jerusalem is wine, and Gemara is wine aromatic." - Masech Sopharim, 13b- .

"He who despises the words of the rabbis is worthy of death." - T. Chag, Col. 10b.

"You should know that the words (the rabbis are sweeter than those of the prophets", Midras Mishle, Fol. 1.

"The words of the rabbis are the words spoken Living God", Bochai ad Peu., Fol. 201,. Cab. 4. •

"The fear of the rabbi is the fear of God",

"The rabbis* have sovereignty over God."

Treatise 5 Madkatam 10. – .

"All that the rabbis say on earth is a law for ■God'*, Tr. Rosch-IIasha.

"(.they who study the law of the rabbis are free from everything in the world" Sahar 1, .K12a.

"He who studies the Talmud will never fall
in need ; but he will draw from it the art of deception per."

19. Sota 216,

"If the Jew passes sentences and doctrines
from the Talmud to the Bible, he will no longer have happiness.'
Chag trait. Fol. 10-b.

"If the Jews follow the Talmud, they will eat

while the non-Jews will work. Otherwise, they will work themselves." – Tr. lieras hush 351-1).

■ "He who reads the Bible without the Mischa and.
the Cémara (that's the Talmud) is. similar to one who has no God." –Sepher, Sa-Tare Zedeq. Fol. St.

This is what Israel thinks of itself:

"God first cries every day for fault,
. which he committed by sending his people into exile."
Bera Treaty. chot. Fol. 3-a.

"The souls of the Jews are parts of God,
of the substance of God, just as a son is
'of the substance of his father.' — Treatise Sela, 262 a.

"So a Jewish soul is dearer, more pleasing to God than all souls to*^* others
peoples of the earth. – Sela IC and Sefa Fol. 4.

"The souls of other peoples descend from demon and resemble that of animals. THE
A non-Jew is the seed of cattle." – Treatise Sefa and Sela id. Sepher Hanecbamma. Fol. 221, collar. 4. Jalqût chad. Fol. 154 b. Jebam Treaty-

"All non-Jews are going to hell." – T. Sepher Zerov Ha-mor, Fol. 27 p.m. and Bâchai. :(t; Masmia Jesua, Fol. 19, Col. 4.

"The Jews will have temporal empire over the world". Perus Hea-misma, Ad Tr. Sab. le.

"All Christians will be exterminated."–Sepher Zerov Ila-mor, Fol. 125 b.

"All the treasures of the peoples will pass between their hands." –Sanhedrin, Fol- 110 b.

"For all peoples will serve them, and Lies them kingdoms will be subject to them.'" Sanhedrin, 'Fol. 88b and Kcthuboth, Fol. 111b.

"God measured the earth and delivered the non-Jews to Jews." – Baba Quanima, Fol. 37b.

"The Gentiles were created to serve the Jew day and night. God created them in the form of men in honor of the Jew; because he cannot suitable for a prince {and any compatriot of Judah, the hanged man, is a prince) to be served by an animal in the form of a quadruped". ■– Sepher Nedrash Talpoth. The Warsaw edition from 1875, p. 225.

"The goods of non-Jews are things without master. They belong to the first Jew which passes." – Pfefferkorn, Dissertation. Philos. P. IL

"We are children of Noah (a young Jew who steals from a Jew even less than a farthing must be put at death." – Jebammoth. Fol. 47b.

""But it is very permissible for a Jew to see a^ non-Jew. – Beat. Fol. 111b. ^

"For the property of a non-Jew is equivalent to abandoned thing (since we are animals). The real owner is the Jews who takes it first". Baba Bathra, Fol. 54b.

"If a Jew has a case against a non-Jew, (says the Talmud– ad Jewish magistrate) you will give win your brother's case, and you will tell him

"If the Jewish colony was able to impose some ■ of its laws (like divorce, schools without God, the theft of the property of the congregations) gives you rez still wins the case,, to. your brother, and you you will say to the foreigner: this is how your law. But if Israel is not powerful in the country, or if the judge is not Jewish, it will be necessary to turn- - lie to the stranger with intrigues until that the Jew has won his cause." -T. Baba Gam-my, Fol. 113a.

"He who returns to the non-Jew the object he has lost will not find favor with God; because he. strengthens the power of the non-Jews." - Sanhedrin, Fol. 76b.

"God has ordained to practice usury towards a non-Jew; because we must wrong him, even when it is useful to us. If a goi (non-Jew) needs money, the Jew will know how to deceive him as master. He will add usurious interest, up to that the sum is so high, that the goi can no longer pay it without selling his goods, or that the Jew begins to make a trial, and obtain-judges have the right to take possession "the goods of the god." - Sepli. Mizv. Fol, 73. 4..

"It is necessary to kill the most honest among the non-^B Jews" - Tosaphoth a. 1.

"He who sheds the blood of the Gentiles* offer a sacrifice to God." - Nidderas Bamide-bar rabba, p. 21.

"Three Jews together are enough to loosen their compatriots of every oath." T. Rosch-Haschana.

The famous Jew Frank says that: without the Kab-bale, it is impossible to explain the numerous texts of the Mischna and the Talmud". However, the Kabbalah teaches the following: "The Jew is therefore Living God, God incarnate; he is the celestial man, Adam Kadmon. Other men are earth-very, of an inferior race. They exist only for serve the Jew... They are the offspring of animals." - Ad May;, Fol. 97-3/ -.1 -\ M

Page read

CAN NOT BE ME THE OTHERS "

horrors exposed
of. -- Disastrous formadangerous mentality

in the world.

IE OATH OF THE JEWS

In "The Jewish Encyclopedia", Vol. 7, and in the prayer books used in the synagogues, we find the following text that the Jews recite together three times, on the evening of the feast of Yom Kippur:

"Of all the wishes, obligations, servments or anathemas, commitments of all kinds, which we have dedicated,
sworn, sworn or to whom we
we are committed, since that day of forgiveness until New Year's Day
next, we repent
THE ADVANCE, of all of them, they will be considered absolved,
given, without force, void and of no effect;
they will no longer bind us nor have a force; wishes will no longer be re-
known as vows, obligations
will be more obligatory and the oaths will not be considered as service
"

To justify this prayer, of which the text speaks
clearly enough by itself, the Jews re-say that it is only a matter of (the "commitment* personal relations that a Jew makes with God". If such is the case, why does the prayer not specify it?
not and why have we always refused to bring der the text? Then, if a Jew can per-to renounce commitments made towards God, how much more easily will one deny
| Are there no commitments made to men?

KLATZKIN, Jew, Zionist leader, in his book
"Der Jude", 1016:

"Only the Jewish code regulates our life. Chathat whenever other laws are imposed on us,
we consider them a harsh oppression
sion and we avoid them (we dodge them). We let us form within ourselves a legal corporation closed dic and economic. A thick wall built by us separates us from the peoples among which we live – and behind this wall is the Jewish State.

JACOB BRAFMANN, «x-iabbin, in fU

two volumes "The Jewish Fraternities", Vilna 1868, and "Book of the Kahal". Vilna, 1869:

"Jews must obey the instructions of the Kahal and beth-din, in contradiction with the law of the land."

MAROUS ELI RAVAGE, Jew, in the "Century Magazine", January 1928:

"We are intruders. We are spoilsport. We are subversives. .
We have sowed discord and confusion in your personal as well as public life." ; .

DAIUIESTETER, the great Jewish historian:

"The Jew is the doctor of the unbeliever, all rebels of the spirit come to him in the shadows or open air. He is at work in the immense workshop blasphemy of the great emperor Frederick and princes of Swabia and Aragon; it's him who forges all this murderous arsenal of reason-ment and irony that he will bequeath to the skeptics
from the Renaissance, to the libertines of the great century, and Voltaire's sarcasm is only the last echo of a word whispered ten centuries ago
in the shadow of the Ghetto and, even earlier, in time of Celsus and Origen, in the very cradle of the religion of Christ.

KTJRT MUNZER, Jew, in his book "The Voice of Zion", 1910:

our enemies triumph over our bodily weakness
real, it will be impossible to get rid of
We. We have corroded the bodies of the people and we have infected and dishonored the races,
broken their vigor, rotted everything, decomposed everything by our moldy civilization. No way to ex-strain our minds."

OTTO WEININCER, Jew, in his book
"Sex and Character":

"What distinguishes the Jew in the revolution
French, is that it is an ELEMENT OF DE-COMPOSITION".

BERNARD LAZARE, Jew, in "L'Anti-Semitism and its causes":

"The Jew is not content to dechristianize,
he Judaizes; he destroys the Catholic faith and protects aunt, he provokes indifference / he imposes his idea of the world, of morality and of life to that^ whose faith he ruins; he works on his safe work

laire: the annihilation of the religion of Christ",

RENE GROOS, Jew, in "The New Sea,
cure", May 1937:

"There is a Jewish conspiracy against all M nations",

II.- J. OLGIN, Jew, in the newspaper of New-York, "Freiheit". January 10, 1937 I

"In accordance with the Jewish religion, the Papa
"is an enemy of the Jewish people simply because he is the head of the Catholic Church. RELIGION!
JEWISH, let us remember, IS OPPOSED to CHRIS-TIANISM IN GENERAL, AT THE CHURCH CA-THOLIC IN PARTICULAR."

"Medina Iviit" (The Jewish State), Prague, No 33,
date of September 27, 1935:

"In our hearts there is only one feeling | revenge ! We command our hearts*
island banish all other emotions and never knot
let yourself be led only by this unique feeling S that of revenge. Our people, to whom the)

today only one desire: to RAVE, DESTROY, BOYCOTT 1",

The Jewish Marxist magazine "The Sur-Revolution" realistic", published on December 15, 1929, under the) signature of the Jew Koppen:

"Every time you meet on the street^
a servant of the . . (ignoble term designated* the Blessed Virgin), you must insult her on this tone which leaves no doubt about the quality of ( your disgust. But, insulting the priests did not other goal, apart from the moral satisfaction that this provides sua- the moment, that of you enter-
keep in this state of mind which will allow you,
the day you are free, to slaughter by day,
while playing with you, two or three tons of these dan-great criminals."

Editor's note - This is "Christian charity" d^
those who claim them as soon as we want will put them in their place. We see that their students from Russia, from Mexico and Spain are well followed the cn,- teigiies' of certain Jewish "educators"! -

Should the world be...

driven by lunatics?

The Jews,]*l<-

L-uts wiiiit-urdises and ieut'.s

hv'oiix, we make s, .'■•ir that they control!a fi

global malice, lf >*

great commerce, politics

international, the ;

ruiah nro-instruments

paganda-, the arts ■■•*.

l.-s letters, and they dream

•OS US jmyS says MinLdr. (L ri.ntrûli-nt, by L n commerce and emifeetiim. THE Iraead market f

minin; this last detail is fscessively: i/n; o

both regarding W

H.Ulg llt.-S nVi'.'.l (j:>'

■ ■some Jews boast of contaminate.

Connmm, !--.- .Ii

^ smil-ii.- inieliee.tu-iiemvni

■H mentally, q;.

i if you are punished' detcni'- so much d>.'

power .on 1 *o;>in ■n global? They r<ms half-themselves

'•êp.iiiise, corroborated by

o'ÏLL statistics; 1

k of public institutions.

Let's see from Diord

a "Jevvisii Lncyelopedia". year

word "diseases nev\ t

u^es". vol IX:

nervous than other races and peoples among which they live. Hysteria and neurasthenia appear to be the most frequent your. Some doctors with a long experience experience of the Jews" go so far as to say that almost all Jews suffer from neurasthenia and hysteria. Tobler al'i'.mo that ALL Jews* 'the Palestine are hysterical; and Raymond said that he Warsaw. Today, hysteria meets frequently both in men and in women of Jewish race, ha population of this city alone is exclusively the natural source supply of male hysterics for all clinics ques of Europe. In regarding Austria and]'AllomatfiK\ the same condition of necrosis among the Jews is. denounced by Krafft Lbiug, who says that nervous diseases, and particularly re m had neurasthenia, affects Jews with ■exceptional severity, T'iswanger, Krl", Joly, Mordus, hw-"ifeld, Oppeuheim Féré, ('har-eot, lîmiveret and most all the other specialists lists of nervous diseases*, say the same thing in 1 - h-iirs rMdvs on neurasthenia and hysteria, and emphasize the fact that hysteria, if i-urt* r\\rz males of other races, is very he-queiiii' chrz les JuiiV [/Jewish encyclopedia adds that the study of Talmudic thenology in mid age preerwp ed for something dan* - quote calamié.

Oi. Istiud da (<->ta. "l-rael ami the Sentd-the". I. (MHh.it, p. U»:

"In the Orient in- although in the OCci-tooth, but particularly in Europe, their relay story.- 1 little thing other than a contin-r.Lialion cm l*\\r nrserre, of their humiliation and of U'ur deyérescence ' ' iteinaid La/are. quoted by Maingniul ("La Jewish question*\ll.H)!):

"As the world became more sweet for them, the Jews - at least the purple one

m withdrew into themselves; they were shrinking their prison, they tied themselves with more bonds? narrow. Their decrepitude was unheard of, their subsidence intellectual does not need to be born! that their AHMSSl 1)-MHNT MOLAL."

llr llli<;0 (L\NZ. Jew from Koumunie, in

"'Hcise^kizzcii au-* Itvtmaentens". Berlin. '(90'L

p. 138:

"It is the exclusive study of a theologitfie that these !na!he: >reuK owe their chests narrow and theirs ?nend<res >rélc* and weak:

- it was the hunt for the eternal "affair*"
- that they owe the characteristic flow which gives

IVitisétuimme a* ;>rineip»le reason of itx*.

Where we can understand the aberration, the monstrosities ties and the savagery of what takes place in Russia and in Spain.

"... i! is ate^so po-i-dbU" that he suffers from a pm:i'< dt- "head-e".

'llIi:(H)OKE HKINACH, .lit of the water. has the "Jewish" article of the (irande LncyeUqu'die. tom« 21. parRc 27^.:  <div data-bbox=

rather this mural nihilism."

Dr. ULDOLF WASSLKMAN. .lu il' d'Allemagne, in his study on Jewish criminality:

"Among the Jews, it is intelligence, among the vlu'éd'ens. it is the hand which is the instrument of offense.

"The Christian achieves the criminal success which is in his intention through physical activity
direct (robbery, theft, assault on people) sounds and things). I/e Jew achieves this success in an indirect way by inducing psychic
another person, by means of deception
perie and trickery, to grant him an advantage illegal."

CI'JKLBKKU l>K iMKDKLSHUBL Jew, in his book "The Kghse and the Synagogue". 18-17. page
J:t0:

" (pie the .1 s rushed! you are from France and prcnneui »arde; they are perhaps running towards a reaction disastrous whose effects we would like to prevent by our advice and warnings. UI does not notice nas «mbleti. oliez oux, U »r:>r*!«

is released, abandoned; how much ideas come out ideas and. the desire for easy lucre equals them
ient by dazzling them. A simple connection-statistical calculation will make it easy to understand all the truth and the scope of our thought."

MUMti Ali ITLLR. in "The Jews". Paris*
18;>7. Mît page:

"Usury has provided the Jews with half of their Alsace; it is the great plague of our time.
[/usure so committed in our campaigns with as much imiideiice as impunity; the little property is devoured by this canker, which gnaws everything, "it would take a volume to emrm the shameful and perfidious means employed by the Jews to attract to themselves every particle of land which excites their lust; and U.S we do not know if he will ever find himself in the mind of our modern laws?* some provisions quite strong:- jx.tur stop progress to this evil, when-

No longer are the Jews who cover themselves with bag of sorrows, these are the peasants of our cam-loincloths which carry the mourning of*. inequities of Israel."

OSC AH JKANKE. Jew, in* his book
'■U's Jews", Leipzig, 1005. p. 84:

"From time immemorial, this occupation of the Jews (usury) had been stigmatized by the poets
In an era as remote as the 16th century
key, the Jewish usurer was a well-known character naked."

"In the carnival games, the Jew likes loan shark and swindler was the special role-ment enjoyed by the public. And, in this case, the writing vain people had no difficulty in lending him features taken on the spot. (page 98).

"...he is a man who, generally speaking,
deceives the Christian environment in which he finds himself
ve and everywhere is inspired by the desire to get rich.
For this reason, almost everywhere, opinion prevails that the Jew is the exploiter of the people Christian". - V. i>9.

LRALT/. the great historian of the Jewish people, quoted by the philo-Semite Iton.sirven ("On the rui-nes of the Temple", p. 'V24):

"The defects 1* of the teaching method Talmudic, the subtlety, the way of quibbling, the finess penetrated into the glass; practical and generated in duplicity, in deviousness, in loyalty. It was difficult for the Jews to make a mistake.
per between them because they had received an education
approximately identical cation and, therefore, they could use the same weapons. But they often used trickery and devious means loyal to non-Jews.

Jewish Dr. KUDOLF WASSEUMANN, "Zeit-sclüii't fuer Sozialwissenschaft". 12th grade, 190", p. 6G.1:

"We have ciphers a material co-God which shows that the Jews, especially statistical tations) and, in the specialist doctrine list, there is unanimity in recognizing it (quote tions!.

has * *

l>t WASSKKMANN (quoting 1< Dr Kretzdeny):

"Olie the Jew, the nervous system is the !jcu* minores re.ii.iieatiae".

.(continued on page 10).

Lake

M^

THE OF MYSTERY

Pigeon 25

The French flag
seen by an "assimilated" Jew

JEAN ZAY, Jew, member of the Lodge "L'Independence", of Orléans, minister in the cabinets
net Sarraut and lion bed united (Jew), nignait the ar-following article in a Parisian newspaper, March i> 1924:

THE FLAG

"There are fifteen hundred thousand who died for this shit. . .

"Fifteen hundred thousand in my country, fifteen thousand-lions in all countries.

"Fifteen hundred thousand dead men, my God! . . .

"Fifteen hundred thousand dead men, each of whom had a mother, a mistress, children,
|To one house, one life, one hope, one heart. . .

W "What is this rag for which they died 7

a thousand deaths for this scum; quhize
a hundred thousand events, torn to pieces, annihilated,
in the muck of a battlefield;
fifteen hundred thousand that we will not hear never again, that their loves will see again Never again.

"Terrible piece of sheet nailed to your shaft, I hate you fiercely, yes, I hate you in blade ; I hate you for all the misery
you represent, for fresh blood, blood human with harsh odors that squirt under your folds; I hate you in the name of skeletons. . .

"There were fifteen hundred thousand of them...

"I hate you for all those who greet you; I hate because of the ass-grippers, the coyons and whores dragging themselves through the mud
hat before your shadow; I hate in you

3 all the old centuries—old oppression, the god

bestial, the challenge to men that we do not do not know how to be; I hate your dirty colors:
the red of their blood, the blue that you stole
in heaven, the livid blane of your remorse. . .

"Let me, vile symbol, cry alone,
cry loudly, the fifteen hundred
a thousand young men who died, 't
do not forget, despite your generals, your iron and your victories, that you are for me of the f vile race of ass-torches."

(But, the red flag which made 50 million of victims in the world, Jean Zay does not talk about it
. not!)

The Jewish greeting:

©

When Jews celebrate their land
ble festival island revenge, the festival of the Purini, which recalls the massacre (the 70,000
non-Jews, they all do the sa-read with a clenched fist. This sign symbolizes that, both religious and racist, is the counterpart of the religious sign of the cross and the greeting of friendship of the Latin races and meaning: "I come as a friend, frankly-lying, not hiding a weapon in my hand"). At the international Socialiste and Communist founded by them and whose political power they hope for world, the Jews imposed the greeting Jewish tion of the closed fist, the salvation of revenge, the salvation enemy of civilization lization and white races. And we sees fairly equal white people res to bring about Jewish salvation, the salvation of the Jewish vengeance and domination!

What Jews must laugh at seeing so many "dechristianized enJews serve obediently their cause, e! walk, think ser, speak, act as if they were circumcised from tribulation

WHO PROFITS FROM THE CRIME!

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE S r w+Hv^^WWHiHH^'W'WWv'H*

During

that the Russians

burst. . .

"THE OFFICIAL ANiNUAIKK" Junene Island
(Government of Israel), published in the USA, proudly list the following Jews creating an iwuvair in Russia, the year 5(>78 of the era Hebrew:

"Aaronson, to Witebsk; Go, to KanieiieU-Podolsk; Apielbaum known as Zinovief, in Petrograil;
lieilis, magistrate; Bekerman, magistrate at Ka-
.l.iin ; Bi-rnstam, in Petrograd; Blnell, at the minismother of Justice; Boff says Kamkoff, at Petrograd; Bothncr, Moscow police; Bramsoil (Abrahamson), in Petrograd; Braunstein says Trotsky, dictator, in the army; Bi'udsky, judge at Petrograd; Cohen, judge in Lodz; Davidowitch, of Kherson, in Petrograd; Dickstein, attorney; Dalbrowsky, commissioner in Petrograd for Jewish Affairs; Freeze, commissioner for the Af-Polish doings; Fisher, municipal judge in Pé-missionary of Justice; Friedman, in Petrograd; Ccilman, commissioner of the Bank; Ginzburg, Kolomensky; Grcenberg, Moscow police; Greenberg, Petrograd District Trustee; Grodsky, judge in Petrograd; Grusenberg, investigated tor on the naval affairs of the old regime, commissioner of the new navy; Gunzburg, Commissar of Supply; Guitnik, from Odes- sa, commissioner of Commerce; Gurevitch, deputy at the Interior police station; Guterman, com- missar an Supply from Saratov; Halperin, secretary general of the cabinet; Halpern, deputy to the mayor of Kolomensky; Hefez, deputy com- missionary of Justice; Hillsberg, judge in Lublin; Hurgin, vice-commissioner for Jewish Affairs; Kalian, judge in Petrokov; Kalmanovitch, procu- reur in Minsk; Kaminetsky, judge in Petrograd; Kantorovitll, deputy in Petrograd; Kempner, judge in Lodz; Kerensky, from Saratov, deputy; Ko- han.liernstein, coal commissioner; Laza- rowitch, mayor of Odessa; Lichtenberg, judge at Warsaw; Lublinsky, in Petrograd; Luria, com- letter to the Bank; Maldelberg, mayor of Zito- rnir; Mamlzin, prosecutor; Meyerowitch, com- missar to the Armies; Minor, president of the con- Moscow city council; Nathansoi, at the Con- state council of Poland; Per. judge in Warsaw; Prelman, judge in Saratov; Perlmutter, Consulting State of Poland; Pfeffer, State Council of Po- log; Podghayetz, mayor of Moghilev; Poznar- sky, Court of Cassation; Rabinowitz, commissioner of Labor in Tavrida; Rafes, deputy clerk sar of local affairs in Ukraine; Ratner, ad- minister of the city of Naehiehevansk; Ro- senfeld dit Kameneff, deputy; Rundstein, Court of Cassation; Phineas Ruttenberg, commander second in command of the Militia in Petrograd; Sacks, com- missar-ad joint of Education; Sehreiber, procu- reur in Irkutsk; Ilirseh Schreider, master of Pé- trograd; Silvergarb, Minister of Jewish Affairs .in Ukraine; Steohen, senator; Steinberg, com- missar to Justice; Sterling, judge in Warsaw; Trachtenberg, judge in Petrograd; Unschlicht, commissioner in Petrograd; Vinavcr, deputy; Wain- stein, administrator of Minsk; Warshavsky, Commissar of Commerce, Petrograd; Kachnin, Labor Commissioner in Kherson; Yonstein, may- Oriel Island; Wegmeister, State Council of Polo- gene; Zitzerman, prosecutor in Irkutsk; Isaacson, to the Navy.

The most beautiful theater
to the Eluf people

"JKU1SH OHRONICLE", London, February 18 1921:

"The (. *annissariat of the Bolshevik Arta
restored the most beautiful theater in Moscow, to assign it to Jewish dramatic art. Spending amounts to several million rouufcleg. A hole small Jewish actors, graduates of the .dra- School Jewish matics, occurs in the modern repertoire

The danger

"other hands"

SCHLoM ASCII, Jew, in "Goloa Rossii":
"The slightest shake-up to the Soviet regime
It would be the death of the Jews."

The same Jew adds (quoted by "Jewish World"),
Tender, 29-6-22:

"Not only in revolutionary circlesnaries, but even in the Red Army, the anti-Judaism is so strong that only iron discipline imposed by the Bolsheviks and the fear of capital punishment prevents soldiers and women
my to start programs everywhere,

"In Russia, peasants, soldiers, women, city-dine, everyone hates the Jews. . . All the Jews in Russia are unanimous in thinking that fall of the Soviets and the transfer of power to other hands would be the greatest calamity imaginable for the Jews. The flame of antijiulaism is burning in Russia today d1u3 strong than ever."

Hebrew,
official language

cry, Paris, the Jew M. SLATOPOLSKY, president of Tharboulh, declared:

"Kn Russia, as soon as the Revolution took place
provided the Jews with the means to develop through their activity, they began to publish proud by hundreds of schools and high schools Hebrew where all subjects are covered in Hebrew.

"him Palestine, it was decided that, if everyone can be a voter,
Only those who speak Hebrew will be eligible.
Breu will be the only language admitted to the Par-part of Kretz Yisrael."

J-

Keep this brochure. Read it again, meditate on it, make it known!

.r

Page 26

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERB

Communism, a means of Jewish conquest

Continued from page 8 -- ^^

E(tes>===--

<^S!

A "vital interest

u

Alfred Nossig, Jew, in his book
"liilcHralcs .ludciiluiu", Berlin, Wi'i. :

"The modern socialist movement is!
for the greatest palliation a work
Jews; they were Jews (|him there im-took precedence over the mark of their brain, this also killed Jews who had nu i>'art predominant in the direction-tion of the first socialist republics
tes: however, most customers so-Jewish cialists, were for the most part distant from Judaism; despite this, the role they played does not depend solely on lies of them alone; in them operated in a way unconscious çonon the old eugé principleiiiiuue of mosaicism, the blood of the old apostolic people lived in their cer-
calf and in their social temperament.

"The current world socialism which forms the first stage of the accomplishment-ment of mosaicism, the beginning of the real-tation of the future world announced by our prophets.

"Only when there is a Li-gue des Nations; it's only. when his AUMKF.S AI.LIKKS will be employed effective manner for the protection of all weak, that we can hope that iu-
the Jews will be even able to develop without hindrance in Palestine their Ktal na-national, and also it will only be one league of nations imbued with the spirit of cialist who will make it possible for us to enjoy sauce of our international necessities
as well as national.

"This is why all Jewish groups,
whatever (|ii they are, .Zionists or followers of dispersal, have a vital interest in the victory of socialism; they must exiger not only out of principle, no

Inosaism, but also by tac- principle tick."

Soii 11

1918

Control of all
the groups

AS RAL'POL'OKT. Jew, in
"Pioneer? of the Hu-sian Revolution"

"There was not a single organization po-politics of this vast Russian empire which was not influenced by or led by Jews. THE social democratic party, the socialist party re-revolutionary, the Polish socialist party, includes were all Jews among their leaders. Full was perhaps right when he said that the struggle for political emancipation in Russia and Jewish question were practically identical.
The Bund. or General Union of Workers
Jewish", was founded in 1897. It was an association political and economic of the Jewish proletariat, according to opposite side* to any nationalist distinction,
then gradually imbued with na-
Jewish nationalists''. – Page 25.

"More than the Poles, the Latvians, the Lin-Landes or even any ethnic group
the vast empire of the Ttomanofs, they (the Jews) were the aiti#gi>g (J» jf «ïglftiwt dj J9U". – Page 28İ,

The revolution, the dream of the main lines of
"messianic times" the conspiracy

Jewish
' '– Page

"Anti-Semitism and its causes" by BER-NARD LAZARE, Jew, Paris, 1894:

"In the midst of all the nations of Europe, the professional, having its nationality, having retained has a special personality, special abilities and a own mind." – Page 297.

"The Jew is a confessional type; such as he is, it is the U) and the Talmud who did it; more strong than blood or climatic variations. they developed in him characters that he imitated tation and heredity are perpetuated." – Page 283.

"No religion so much as religion was also filled with soul and spirit." 283.

"Older, more immutable, narrower and more strictly respected than any other." – Page 281.

"Animated by this old Hebrew materialism who perpetually dreamed of a realized paradise on earth and always pushed back the distance and problematic hope of an Eden after the dead." -- Page 346.

"The philosophy of the Jew was simple, not having that a limited number of years are allotted to him, he wanted to enjoy it, and they were not pleasures morals that he asked for, but material pleasures riels, suitable for beautifying, making one's existence sweet tension. Like heaven didn't exist. he ... not could expect from God in return for his faithfulness. of his piety, only tangible favors; no vague promises, good for researchers beyond, but formal realizations, are re-solvent by an increase in wealth, a increase in well-being

"Having no hope of future compensation, the Jew could not resign himself to the misfortunes of the life'; it was only very late that he was able to console himself his ailments while thinking of the celestial beatitudes.

■ To the scourges which affected him, he neither responded nor by the fatalism of Muslims, nor by the tion of the Christian, he responded with ' Page 307.

"So the conception that the Jews had of the life and death provides the first element to their revolutionary spirit. Starting from this idea that the good, that is to say the just, had to come true no not beyond the grave, since beyond the grave there is the

but during life they sought justice and, never finding it, perpetually dissatisfied done, they agitated to have it." – Page 314.

"Without the law, without Israel to practice it, the world would not be, God would bring it into nothingness; and the world will only know happiness when it will be subject to the universal empire of this law, that is to say, to the empire of the Jews." – Page 8. (1894, Protocols V).

"Happiness will be achieved through freedom, equality and justice. However, if among the nations, that of Israel was the first to think of these ideas, other peoples, at various times in history, supported them and were not therefore people many rebels, like the Jewish people. For- What ? Because if they were convinced of the excellence of justice, equality and freedom blundered, they did not achieve their total realization. as possible, at least in this world, and by therefore, they did not only work*. at their advent.

"On the contrary, the Jews not only believed- ment that justice, freedom, equality could to be the sovereigns of the world, but they believed themselves rent specially commissioned to work at this diet. All desires, all hopes that these three ideas gave rise to, ended up crystallize around a central idea: that of messianic times, of the coming of the Messiah. who was to be sent by Jahweh to seat the power of the terrestrial realms." – Page 32Î, resigna-

revolt" –

Bernard Lazare, Jew, in his book "L'antisé- mitism and its causes:

"As he was, with his dispositions, with his tendencies, it was inevitable that the Jew played a role in the revolutions: he played it.
'– Page 329. , |

"The Jews were always discontented:
I do not want to claim by this that they were simply rebellious or systemic opponents things did not satisfy them; they were perpetuated totally worried while waiting for something better that they never found realized... The causes who gave birth to this agitation, who continued it held and perpetuated it in the soul of which that modern Jews, are not external causes such as the effective tyranny of a prince, of a people or of a fierce code; This are internal causes, that is to say which hold relates to the very essence of the Hebrew spirit. HAS the idea that the Israelites had of God, their conception of life and death, it is necessary ask the reasons for the feelings of revolt by which they were animated. – Page 305.

"During the second revolutionary period, that which starts from 1830, they showed more ar- harder than during the first. They were there / moreover directly interested, because in the i most of the States of Europe, they did not enjoy not the fullness of their rights. These same me of them who were not revolutionary by reasoning and temperament were by interest: by working for the triumph of liberation realism they worked for them. He is out of doubt that through their gold, their energy, their talent, they supported and seconded the Euro-revolution pagan... During these years, their bankers, ^ their industrialists, their priests, their writers, their tribunes, driven by very different ideas moreover, worked towards the same goal... they – found involved in the Young Germany movement magne; they were numerous in the societies secrets, which formed the fighting army re- revolutionary, in the Masonic lodges, in the coal mining groups, in the Haute Roman sale, everywhere, in France, in Germany- gne, in Switzerland, in Austria, in Italy". – – Page 311. (

"On the one hand, they were among the founders of industrial and financial capitalism and they collaborate actively tolerate this extreme centralization capital which will undoubtedly facilitate their socialization reading; on the other, they are among the most artful teeth adversaries of capital. To the draining Jew gold, product of exile, Talmudism, le- gislations and persecutions, the Jew opposes revolutionary, son of biblical tradition and prophetic, this tradition which animated the ana- German Libertarian Baptists of the 16th century and

"A ROTHSCHILD CORRESPONDENT

MARK AND LASALLE, fighting for money,
the fight against money and cosmopolitanism
of the stockbroker becomes proletarian internationalism
tarian and revolutionary." – Page 343.

"The emancipated Jews entered the nations like strangers... They entered in modern societies, not as guests,
but like conquerors. They were sem- 1
able to a packed herd. Suddenly the bars- 1
Their shoulders fell and they rushed into the field which was open to them. However, they were not warriors... They made the only conquest for the-how armed they were, this economical conquest mic that they had been preparing to do for so many years." – Page 223.

"The French Revolution was above all a economic revolution. If we can consider it like the tarnish of a class struggle, we must also see in it the outcome of a struggle between two forms of capital, real estate capital and movable capital; land capital and capital industrial metal and stockbroker. With supremacy of the nobility disappeared the supremacy of capital
land, and the supremacy of the American bourgeoisie na the supremacy of industrial and agio-capital
tor. The emancipation of the Jew is linked to history of the preponderant part of this industrial capital", -.
Page 224,

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

Page* 27

THE MESSIAH IS THEIR TRIBE

, Rabbi KAUFMAN K01ILER, >l;ins
his book 'Systematic Theology of Judaism", page 291):

"All |)orU'-'>ai'oli' ilu Judaism
reformed yes UNANIMOUSLY protested against remaining in the liturgy
in the doclruii: passades relating to belief in a personal Messiah. They only insist more on the. belief
.in a messianic age of universal-
the knowledge of God and love em-mixing all of humanity, an idea that closely related to the mission of the Jewish people. In accordance with the bel-
the words that the second Isaiah devotes to the sorrowful servant of God, the liter of Messiah is now conferred on the few ple of Israel, the suffering Messiah, who will come, at the end of time, victor crown".'

Their materialism

Rabbi LEONARD l.EVY, sermon of November 7, 1909. Pais, reproduced in iMy Jewish newspapers:

"In the past, it was believed that each mol
of the ilible was absolute truth. 11
is no longer like this, the work of researchers researchers have established that the liible is a pro-product of the human intelligence of the flax seeding, containing certain errors, some inaccurate views, due to:'i <hi the help of its authors, who were men. This is a result of the most precious". (We always understand
'God damn it, Jewish materialism!)

Destroyers of Ja Loi

Rabbi SAMUEL ÎIIIÎSCII, in his book, "Reform of Judaism", page M5:
"Judaism presents its truths

neral. Better yet, he asks eachcun to recognize it without the help of a special miracle, which means that each
no one can achieve this through natural faculties natural aspects of his mind. Judaism is not so not a confession. For the Judaisme, the Bible is nothing other than a history book. Judaism does not see in the Holy Scriptures that the history of education cation of a people. Judaism is united oriented towards the future of the earth;
^; it is on the land that he wants to see bequeathed the W-'onnaissanee of God; it's on earth that he wants to see the celestial kingdom come to fruition light of Truth and virtue. It is why Judaism is. feels so good harmony with the spirit of our time.
This (pie these new times seek â based on the principles of reason (the rationalism), the Jews experience it themselves same as a religious need, and their whole religion is there. . If the practice of our ancient religious symbols, instead of helping ourselves to hit the goal, we prevents us from building this kingdom of truth,
then it will be necessary to appeal to the principle that. OUR SERVE GOD AND CONSERVE TOWARD THE LAW, IT MUST BE DESTROYED",
'(And how they destroy it!)

What Karl Marx was,
the founder of Communism

From "Anti-Semitism and its causes", by Bernard Lazare, Jew, about Karl Marx;

"the descendant of a line of rab-
bins and doctors who inherited the whole island logical force of his ancestors. 11 was a lalmudisle lucid and clear, that does not embarnot satisfied with the silly minutiae of the practice, a Tahnudist who did so-ciology, and who applied his natural qualities exegete's criticism of economics political mie. He was animated by this old Hebrew materialism (he constantly dreamed tually of a paradise realized on the problematic hope of an Eden

after death; but he was not alone—
Although a logician, he was also a rebel,
an agitator, a bitter polemicist, and he took his gift of sarcasm, and invective there where Heine had taken it: from the Jewish sources
ves."

Official accusation
of assassination

In the "White Paper", presented on 3
March 1919 in the House of Commons,
General Knox's report, telegraphed from Omsk on February 0 to the War Office, re-shows that the massacre of his imperious family
rial tle Russia in Ekaierinburg was im-
j>asé (in local soviet, despite its repgnance, by FIVE JEWS, and that the as-Latvian sassins were commanded by THREE JEWS, in the company of a band
said named Medoydof, convicted in 1906
for murder and fire, in 1911
for rape of a 5 year old child.

The "Jews' decision"

The "HAMMER", Jewish newspaper of Vienna, October 191,'t, No. 274, concerning the pro-
ritual murder at. Kiev:

"The (Russian government has decided to

"wage a decisive battle at Kiew

"to be the Jewish people.

"From the outcome of this titanic struggle"
fate hangs – not of the Jewish people I because the Jewish people are iiwincible – but the fate of the Russian state.

"To be or not to be: this is how the question for Russia.

"The victory of the Russian government is the beginning of its end. There's no

"of loophole. Put the good in your head.

"We will demonstrate in Kiew in front
the whole world that the Jews do not allow

"If the Jews, until now, by considerations lactic rations, concealed the fact
if they lead the Revolution in Rus-sie, now, after the attitude of the Government Russian government at the Kiew trial, this lactic acid must be abandoned.

"Whatever the outcome of this conjuncture, (7 no longer has salvation for the (Russian government. THIS IS THE DECISION OF THE JEWS: AND IT ACHIEVES WILL COMPLETE."

Resurrection which costs us dearly

"THE ISRAELITE UNIVERSE", Paris, !2q
dee. liKiô, under the title of "Zionism and Messianism", Edmond's conference
1-leg:

"Today we are witnessing the re.surrection of a movement which was not not extinct since ancient times. And this movement is still active,
because the Talmud, this great educator
The Jewish people have preserved it." (Page 1.'S7(Ik'ii-Atsmi),

The boycott already established in 1895

SAULES, Jew, in the journal of Mayeiiice, "Wucherpille", January lHDô -,

"If a book appears that is relevant to us
hostile, we* do not buy it and the edi-
It doesn't take long to move on from macuialure with a pestle. . . The Piiblieist is no longer nothing, we just have to organize con-
very him the war of silence."

"Y

.r

if

this brochure enlightened you

she can enlighten others

o

For copies

additional

write to . . . »

Post office box

2290

Montreal

- \

Page 28

The Key to the Mystery

.«

THE LAND OF THE OWNED Class hatred

]);in his book "Asiulcn", the Austrian Jew
dog LANDSISEIUIEIÎ writes:

"We tend the ilcl black all over
".Lipoi. We exert influence
"decisive on all institutions
"of love for this country. Everyone will play the "airs that we will give them. Eepre-
"see yourself as a country as a body
"gigantic. The one who regulates the functions
"abdominal lions of ee body bind it

"(pie I want? The fight for dominance-universal relationship between America and
"Japan must be led in this way
"let the .lapan be absorbed. America
"don't trust only love. She "takes the pavs by his most instinct
"developed. In a country where the act of char"nel is a natural function of the body,
"similar to all the others, we have no
"than to take it shimmeringly to provoke the necessary impulse, and Sex-
"unleashed will exhaust itself in a
"drunkenness of which we will fix the duration. In "constantly renewing the processes
"of seductive excitement, we can make

"that permanent intoxication and make this
"land the land of the possessed".

This is a sample of Jewish ideas on Culture ! (Juand the Jew Landsbcrger written "we" (Americans), this is a usurpation! His ideas are Jewish, but not American. 11 is the same for the psychoanalysis of Ereud, who is only a creation of the Jewish mind, which Only a Jew could be born as a leader.

This captures the Jewish spirit of corruption menace to do in Japan, a still healthy country,
he has already started to do so in the Western countries, with \[i\ immense suc-
these among those to whom he had previously made them lose their faith.

When the Jew degrades and demoralizes a people through the white slave trade, the printed literature, obscene cinema, subversive fashion, theater and music
that subversives, he does it by calculation, execution cutting a deliberate plan. To defeat the other peoples, they must be weakened
blis, morally anemic, because never Israel has not been and will not be capable of vain era a strong people.

Height of cynicism

"Warsaw. – Elected by a thousand young Jews converted to Christianity from– then a few months in Ologne. . THE converted are almost all professionals ers who, like Jews, were Inca– unable to obtain any position, even as manual workers (?). Their conversion assures them almost invariance clearly a good position, key that ex– causes the sudden rush of these Jews to conversion".

I La Jewish l.ncyc lopedia", to the words "conversion", "inarrano", insists more several times that a Jew does not convert only for personal advancement in Christian society, that it does not not out of conviction, that it always remains deep in his heart attached to Judaism– me; she demonstrates how, during centuries, the "convcrilis" of Elspngnc played hypocrisy and did not stop, in secret, to observe Judaism).

WHAT TO BUY
THE ROPE

Dr. HI AVER AISNElt, H nui li'rilh. deputy Jew from Ilnhonine to Clmbre Roumai– born; extract from his speech he read Chamber reproduced in the "Osljiidische 'A.eitung iorqane of the Jews of Itulcovinc, I July 1 lil'ill. No link:

for all Jews without exception, ihoia, the Talmud and its recapitulation systematic: the Sebulelian Aruch, are indisputable and recognized source of Jewish religious life. There cannot be in fact no dogmatic difference eluv, we Jews. Black strength lies in the rigid maintenance of tradition three I'm a thousand years old 'Newspaper. Competitions":

"11) October liS(i2. – In mol which says it all

ne, their power, their rapid rise in this silver century. Mirés learned to , Saint-Victor copy, in the Jewish school where M was raised in Bordeaux, we don't give no calculation price is born, ■-- because Ions would have deserved it. This revelation makes old Itotc hschilcl's face turn pale:
In your purse, there is a time when. For to win, you have to know how to speak Hebrew."

Same. , '!(l March 18(i(i.

",Sainl-Viclor spoke to me softly of a very illustrious Jew, to whom a friend asked said, at the end of a dinner where we had gement him, why, Unite you so rich, he worked like a nigger to become one even more. "Oh! we don't know
the pleasure of feeling under one's feet
tired of Christians!" replied the very illus First Jew.

Idem, December 28, 1871).

"At the Spartan dinner tonight, the General Tiir recalled this word c\\\
Jewish Mirés, word spoken to him in 18(10: "Yes.
In fifty years, you won't ane us:
not jicndus. we Catholics. . he ... not we i estera not (pioi buy the rope
to do it".

xxx

Ee Jew 15ASCII (Hungarian key), prey sister at the Sorbonne, in the journal of Cuslave Hervé, April 2.1 lllliti:'

"Al'EEL TO THE JEWS!—Friends, all makes you sense, the day is near, it after the thunders of the giant cannons
the flashes of machine guns, the Messiah,
your Messiah will arise!"

LAVAIS, Jewish, an initiator of the terred leader in Russia: "We will exterminate
we not only individuals, ^ but the bourgeoisie as a class. He is no need to ask us for proof
giving conviction of criminal actions

is decided by the class to which they belong to them by the education they have received".

Why this fear?

THEODORE HIRSH, Jew, in "The State Jew:

"Anti-Semitism is long overdue, ^
1)1 they furiously it must burst". ~^f

• • •

"THE JEWISH PEOPLE". 20 Tammuz 1936:
"The infiltration of Jewish immigrants"
drawn by I apparent security, as well as / the ascendant social movement of the Jews indigenous, act powerfully in-seems and pushes towards a cataclysm". _ S

They didn't do anything for Humanity

Said. J. HIRSH, Jew, "Das Wesen des Judentum", Berlin 1905, p. 35: I

"The anarchic situation... demonstrates copies the Jewish religion applied with consequence is essentially incompat-
ble with the maintenance of an ordered State,
that she cannot live in lasting peace
WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF A ANOTHER CONCEPTION OF LIFE. And
this conclusion applies forcefully equal to the religion remaining on the basis
strictly orthodox and to the religion in,
as long as she tries to adapt too
although possible in the mind these days."

Same author: "By reading the accusations of the rhetoricians against whom defends Josephus, we are surprised that a life common of three centuries and the participation most intense tion to the civilization of ( fellow citizens (in Egypt) could not establish provide a basis for compromise and a friendly understanding; that. in their

Jews remained so entirely foreign gers who are unsympathetic to their fellow citizens kids."

Same author: "Since that time (of your transmission of the writings of Arislole) the Jews have done nothing for humanity nor tried to do something. Where is it clearly the meaning of the Jewish mission which fills if modern Jews ruin
each new movement by the fact that they cooperate with their language and their activity V"

P«f«29

Jewish rot

A new global "Plan" is that of the World League for the Rehas Sexual form. This League has for Pre-wsident the Jewish doctor Imianitoff, of Belgium.

Here are the ten points of this program that we deliver to the 'reflections of all those who are concerned about saving guard of the most basic TRUE moral.

1) Political, economic and gender equality
ual of men and women;

2) Liberation from marriage and special-
ment of divorce, "tyranni-
ques" of the Etjlise and of the Chosen;

3) Design control, such
so that procreation is consented tie deliberately and with exact meaning responsabilities;

♦ 4) Improvement of the breed by the application
tion of eugenics methods and childcare;

5) Protection of unmarried mothers and children
illegitimate children;

towards sexual (inohmwx like
pure example homosexuals, men
men and women, the fetechisles, the exhibitionists, etc.;

7) Prevention of prostitution and
• venereal diseases;

8) Incorporation of disorders due to im-

sexual drive in the classroom pathological phenomena and no longer considered as we did until today as crimes,

• vices or sins;

!)) Only can be considered as criminal sexual acts that transinfringe on freedom or infringe to the rights of another person. THE sexual relations between adults
responsible, mutually agreed,
must be respected as private acts and which only involve
their persons;

■10) Systematic sex education in the sense of the greatest freedom and with respect for oneself and others."
We wonder how there is a way to reconcile points Nos. 4, 7 and 10 in-Ire them and even how there is a way to preach preventive medicine in
at the same time as the greatest freedom.
F\ in the sexual domain.

(Ref.: the "Psychagogue" of January 15.
Life RM and 2nd trimester 103.1. It is the official organ of the Modern Circle of sexology, which became the Belgian Society of Studies Psychoanalytic, of which Iniiianitol'f is honorary member "for services rendered due").

Another example of rot
Jewish tendency to degenerate the people
ples Christians.

Oriental leprosy

The joyous road song of the Wandering Jew

Having neither home nor country,
I don't fit in anywhere.
Away with vain nostalgia!
I don't care about the cockroach!
—My soul has hardened,

From all your thresholds, like a thief,
Chase me away! — I know people envy me
And seeks me ardently.
I drink from your sources of life
Kl I know your value!

Under the humble rag where my soul sleeps,
I hide the gold of the universe.
The virgin you want for a wife,
Greedy, turns an eye of flame
Towards the cursed son of the deserts!

'Smoking your tobacco without delight,
You brood over your heavy troubles,
But here I am, king of vices,
And I offer to your novice mouths
The fruit of unprecedented sins.

So I play with the ball,
This subtle game, this fatal game
Who amuses you and catches you
—And whose secret escapes you—
The oriental blood game!

PAUL MAYER, Jew.
—in "Aktion", Jan. 1913.

Even a minister of France !

Here is what Léon Blum, minister of France, wrote in his novel "Du ma-laughing", talking about the life of young people
girls in the new society:
"They will return from their lover's house
with as much naturalness as they come back are now taking the course or have tea at a friend's house. . The virginitee, rejected cheerfully and early,
would no longer exercise this singular contrain made of modesty, dignity and
of a sort of fear."
Same book, page 82: "I have never repulsive, I simply note

that it is natural and common to love
love his brother or sister.

The return to barbarism

WALTER RAHENAU, Jew, in his book
"Der Kaiser" (Paris, Kra, 1930):
Pages 141-147: "The migration of peoples from bottom to top started. She began in Russia. , .

"In a hundred years, the French Revolution made the tour of the earth and was carried out without restriction.
None. State, no institution, no society,
no dynasty was spared by it. .

"The oratorical formula of the Russian revolution,
it is: Humanity. His secret desire: Dictatorship (provisional) of the proletariat and ideal anarchism
se. His practical plan for the future: elimination of European stratification is the political form
tick of socialized republics

"In a century, the plan of the Orient will be realized-

been as completely as is today
island the West.

"After, for centuries, our planet
built, collected, preserved, preserved, accumulated material and intellectual treasures, to serve to the enjoyment of a few, here comes the century of demolitions, destruction, dispersion, of the return to barbarism. . .

"Ruins behind us and ruins in front
We; we are a transitional race,
tained with dung unworthy of the harvest", wrote
I at the beginning of the war.

"Yet not only must we par-run the road we are on committed, but we want to go through it."

"Our" Russian boys

The Krupskaya woman, widow of Lenin, Jewish, in the Soviet newspaper "Outchit Gazeta", which belongs to him, 10 October 1929:

"It is imperative that the state resumes its anti-religious work systematic among children. No only we must return our gar-non-religious boys and girls, but actively and passionately anti-religious. The influence of religious parents at home should be vigorously fought."

Is this the explanation difficulty?

Karl Marx, writing in "Deutseh-Franzosiche Jahrbucher 1844" (Annu-German-French area, 1844):

"It is in vain that we seek for the labyrinth of the Jewish soul a key in his religion; on the contrary, we must seek-dear the mystery of his religion in the mystery of its nature. What is the basis Judaism? A practical passion and lucre for profit. What can we do reduce us to his religious worship? To the ex-twist. Who is their true God? Cash."

Decency and
"private property"

The KROUPSKAYA woman, Jewish, wants ve of Lenin, in his journal "Outchit Gazeta", of October 10, 1929:

"Although the socialization of women is not yet officially sanctioned tioned in Soviet Russia, it must become a reality and penetrate the consciousness of the masses. Consequently-lies, anyone who tries to defend a woman against an indecent assault manifests a bourgeois nature and declares in favor of private property vee. To oppose rape is to oppose

Spread this brochure and help your compatriots see clearly.

»+++++!•:-■•:-:■*

Send all orders to Casier Postal 2290, Montréal'

i)c per copy. ▼

, "■"..'■.- i ... ,i (

::. î. + .;..H.*. 1 ..H-H-*M--HK^^

Pigeon 30

THE KEY TO THE MYSTERY

The Judeo-Communists of the Popular Front Spanish named "Brigade Ls-JusÂ'ph Papineau" the group of 400 volunteers Canadians who are fighting in Spain to extend dre the reign of Stalin, Litvinolï, Kuganovitcli, Karakhan, lof le, Uoseuberg and others Jews of Moscow.

The Jews really like Louis-Joseph Pa-Pineau, who fled abroad when his fortunate companions, exalted by him, ascend return to the scaffold. They like him very much because it is Papineau who, in our history-tory, fought most vigorously for the emancipation of the Jews, that is to say to make them put on the same footing as Canadians thentiques, in 1882.

The "Jewish Encyclopedia", with the word "David", tells us that they were the two sons of the Jew
David David, of rue Notre-Dame, which includes

Juistache and St-Denis, in 1887.

A book published by Canadian Jewry in 1926, "Jews in Canada", tells us that this was the Jew Benjamin ilart who, after having made spy on our heroes of 1887, signed the warrants arrest against those who were incarcerated.

>,

The same book teaches us that at this time that, Jews (especially from the Frank family)" controlled the tfr trade posts between Montreal and New York, by way of Ilichelieu. Several researchers believe that these are Jews who allowed Papineau, by leading him going from post to post, to flee to the United States under the disguise of a woman, while the small and those without rank underwent their trial. This would have been the Jews' reward in Papineau for their emancipation in 1832.

The Judeo-Communists like to talk to us of "the revolt of 1887", but they do not say that the victims of this movement were air-made thanks to the signature of a Jew and that Jews of Montreal commanded the fire against our patriots.

The dirtiest job of 1887 was carried out completed by a Jew, Benjamin Hart, Without a doubt because no white Canadian, an-English, French, Scottish or Irish, would not have wanted to do it in this cruel circumstance.

Of the

testimonials without racial prejudice

The Jewish Chronicle comments the work of an Irish theologian

In its issue of October 23, 1930, the London Jewish weekly "THE JEWISH CHRONICLE", published the article

"The Mystical Body of Christ in the Modern Times (extracts). The Kévé-raïd Denis Falley, CSSp., BA, D.Ph., D.Tli., is a professor of philosophy and of Church History at Senior Hun.se of Studies, Blackrock University, Dublin. He is the author of several theoretical works logical and is seriously alarmed at the expansion of secularist tendencies of the modern world. Hence the publication of his new book, the main aim of which cipal is to "deal with the points of view theological and historical aspect of the modern revolt against the divine plan organization of human society.

"So far, very good. But, unfortunately-ingly, Father Fahev is convinced that all the troubles in the world today today are due to an extraordinary alliance between the Jewish revolutionaries Jewish financiers for overthrow of the existing order (things and the established creation of Jewish world domination ve on its ruins.

"In support of this curious Ihése, the P. the ahev brings the whole anlised string-ordinary inilic. H gives the proof "documentary" that the Revolution held-was silent financed by Jacob Schil'f at the cost of 12,000.0(10 dollars. 11 reprints a list of notorious names, to say that .out of twenty-five artisans of lîolchcvisnic only Lenin was not Jewish. He is convinced that the Jews, KT LLS J1'l'f'S SKlll.S, are responsible for revoking lution. Everywhere he sees the hidden hand of Jewish bankers, Jewish conspirators, Jewish free-thinkers, who not only deny knead the world as they please, but still remove all criticism except that of a few brave souls, corner jne M. (i.-P. Mudge. Father Fahey, we he assures us, does not ask us for action simply accept what he says even; "in his study of the question, he went to the original sources and he gave-search.

"And what are his authorities over the Jewish Question? These famous researchers—ment objectives, Nesta-tl. Webster, Iiillai-re Beiloc and Gilbert K. Chesterton; of the anti-Semitic newspapers such as "The Patriot", "The International Review of Secret Societies". In his preface, the author author takes care to say that "in his work he made no use of the fa-meux "Protocols of the Elders of Zion". However, long quotations are made without reservation in Appendix V.

"The volume bears the imprimatur of official Catholic authorities. Its im-lift is increased by a forward highly praising post of a dignitary re no less than the Bishop of Waterford. The book is written by a professor of a theological institution responsible ble, which is thus in a position of poisoning-ner the spirit of i\'u\ who are entrusted to his care."

Little poem
in English . . .

Io poem "Isliict", [Kir Israel Z;tn(-will:

Pawns, fanatical, zoalots. throttUjil liy Tal-

[mml-coi!,

Impious, lick skeptics, cynieal staikers

[of spoilers,

Wedded 'neatli Hebiew awninff, buried

fneath Hebrew south,

KeUveeu not a dream of duly, never a [glimpse of God,

lilarneyiny, shi vering:, crawling, taking garlic

Lyinjf a fox in tlie coveiv leaping an ape in [ttie suu.

The substance of all that is admitted
by the Jews themselves in the present
your brochure has long been exposed in detail by: saints of the Christianity, (the general and local councils catholics of the Church, of the popes, of the brothers, kings and princes of all countries,
famous statesmen, leaders Protestants like Luther, leaders mabometans, bishops and pastors of all religious faiths,
writers of all known schools,
famous historians, scholars and
famous diplomats,
socialist, liberal and conservative leaders vators, statistics and archives, of-official documents of major countries, etc., etc.

But like so many brilliant minds,
thinkers and scholars do not have it
part of the chosen people, the Jews accuse them feel like "fanatics, persecutors"
tors, obscurantists of the Middle Ages,
narrow-minded, intolerant,
haters, jealous people, etc." This is why-what, in this brochure we have believed to publish almost exclusively testimonies of Jews. We believe sincertainly that institutions like the "Jewish Encyclopedia", the "Jewish World", the "Jewish Chronicle" and others
Jewish publications, characters ■like Disraeli, Crémieux, Munzer, Lazare, Nossig, Wasserman, Eberlin, Oscar
I.evy, Ratbenau, Herzl, Sokolow, etc., have no "anti-Jewish prejudice", and that it is not out of hatred of the Jews that they accused of being the authors of the modern miseries, revolutions,
wars, crises, demoralization general tion and other scourges. If there is of anti-Semitism in this brochure, the Jews can only accuse
ser the leaders and journals of their race.

Always

and everywhere,

an "unsociable" being

liEKNARD LAZARE, Jew, "The Anti-emigrant

tissue and its causes":

'•It seemed to me that an OPINION ALSO HAS UNIVERSAL AS ANTISEMITISM, W
having flourished in all places and in all time, before the Christian era and after, in Alexandria, in Rome and in Antioehe, in Arabia and in erse, in medieval Europe and in modern Europe; in a word, in all parts of the world where there have been and where there are Jews, it seemed to me that such an opinion could not
was going to be the result of a* fantasy and a ca-perpetual price, and that there must have been at its outbreak and its permanence of the deep reasons serious and serious.

What virtues or vices were worth to Jewish this universal enmity? Why was he in turn and equally mistreated and hated by the Alexandrians and by the Romans, by the Per-without and by the Arabs, by the Turks and by lea Christian nations? BECAUSE EVERYWHERE, and until our days, the Jew was an IN-BEING SOCIABLE." ^

Lake

THE DUE

M

YSTERE

Page31

We were nineteen centuries!

Dan3 the Holy Bible

'(translation Aug. Cramî'pon). we can read this tjue
'Our - Lord Jesus -

Christ said of the Jews.

t "Discussion between Jesus
'■reads the Jews; these are fflUdu demon (80-51)".

'You (the Jews) will 4 do what you saw
,the YOUR father. . . YOU do the works of your

;father... The father whose
'you are from, it is the devil, and
, ; V0U3 want to accomplish the o desires of your father. He has
-was HOMICIDE from the start-vbeginning. . . there is no
"of truth in him. . . , he is $ LIAR and the father of •f -lie, . . . , you are not vj-pafl of God. . . you don't
I don't forget God." (So flej Jews tried to ^plder the Savior).
*,.,; Wars, revolutions, etc.

Summers, uprisings including of Jews admitted the onsability in the previous ages, are works of HOMICIDE,
Works of the devil.

Schisms, heresies, pro-subversive propaganda, false doctrines, representation erroneous facts and evidence nements, including so many Jews admitted responsibility
in the previous pages,
are works of MEN-

wheat.

The story of all contemporary misfortunes
boils down to these two things:
LIES that lead astray
individuals and peoples, HOMICIDES of wars and revolutions that spring-
feels lost

Saint Paul, the apostle of Gentiles, also tells us
in his first epistle to Thessalonians (14-1(i) that the Jews "do not please to God and his ENEMY OF THE HUMAN KIND".

Jewish texts reproduce products in this brochure abundantly prove the truth of the words of saint Paul, who was pursued P^r
his race with so much hatred and relentlessness.

New prices
of the "KEY

not

\0ke to the immense encouragement given to the editions (French and English of this publication in all •civilized countries, it was possible to reduce the price of 10c, to 5c.

p In Canada, the retail price is 5c. in the t'mistores and newsstands.

(For delivery by mail in Canada, add 2c, as well
e for countries enjoying the same tariff. For delivery Uf by express, add the transport cost to the regular price
there from 5c. per copy.

IKLm following discounts are granted: Life discounts. by copy for orders of 1,000 to 5,000 copies; discount of it. per copy for orders of more than 5,000 copies.

9 i Send correspondence, orders and payments to

ANTI-COMMUNIST COMMITTEE
FROM MONTREAL

Post Office Box 2290 (Place d'Armes)
Montreal, Canada.

There is only one defense against Internationalism

AND THIS IS THE -

NATIONALISM!

WHAT MEANS: control of Canada and life
Canadian by Canadians; the greatest profit of Canadian resources and activity for Canada say.

;^9^$??>-- ;7 ..,.. "

ADRIEN ARCAND

National art leader!

The Party of National Unity

FROM CANADA

offers the Canadian people a comprehensive program that will save our country from anarpolitical shit, national disunity and economic chaos which beset it, and which will give us back a united Canada in which every citizen will be protected against exploitation and abuse, will have the chance to earn a decent living and every opportunity ability to develop their initiative and talents.

Have your copy of the National Unity program

If "The Key to the Mystery" indicates the cause of evil, the Program of National Unity gives the remedy.

per copy

I National Headquarters j

1 Postal Box 335 |

1 Toronto, Ont. j

Headquarters of |

French language |

CP 2290, Montreal, Que. |

Canada for Canadians!

ICtl "mute*" was i*.eiv* and iwé ih the CwulW of Education, ta.il of the National Unit* of

Conclusions

Jewish leaders, books and newspapers assert that:

Jews dream of world domination and work to achieve this dream;

Jews control the financial and economic life of the world; they're there power to cause crises and unemployment, to ruin individuals and States, prepare the revolution; Jews are born revolutionaries and provide the direction and execution of all great revolutions;

Jews are the creators, directors, propagators and financiers

Marxism (socialism, communism, Bolshevism);

The Jews want to make nationalities and religions disappear, in order to lead the "universal republic" which will ensure them world domination;

The Jews, through their powerful means of propaganda (cinema, educational institutions (fions, news distribution agencies, organizations of all kinds), work-slow to kill national, racial, religious sentiment, in order to collapse civilization
tion constructed by white peoples;

Jews control secret societies, which form governments provisional and turn all political upheavals to the benefit of Jewry.
ticks and social;

Jews are not nationals in whatever country they find themselves, but

The Jews are the root of all the troubles, all the disturbances, all the conflicts, all the revolts of the modern world; they Judaize other peoples slowly through the influence of their organizations, and want to lead them to believe, think, live as Jews;

The Jews want to sacrifice all people to ensure health and the survival of their Golden Calf;

Jews dirty, corrupt, rot, corrode, degrade, demean who cares what they touch.

It is Jews who assert this in turn. In no other race in the world one cannot find so many identical, cynical and unanimous confessions.

The destructive revolution is upon us. The enemy is within our walls. There poison circulates in the national body. The same threat hangs over Canada as on Russia, China, Spain, Mexico!

What should be done?

Tear off the mask of the enemy forces, remove the blindfold from the eyes of blind, spread the truth, NAME THE DANGER BY ITS NAME, like by Disraeli, Levy, Lazare, Nossig. Munzer, etc.; then PREPARE, ORGANIZE SER with as much vigilance as the enemy. and offer the couos he is preparing a re-unshakeable resistance and a triumphant, liberating counter-offensive.

j

r

u

French

English

Full text of " The Masonic drama: the Jewish conspiracy against the Christian world "

See other formats

1

'y_,i-.iv(ir3iras'''

BICLIOTHECA

/

^J^ ■ §^ixt^-«-^t^ ^ â^. /

THE MASONIC DRAMA

THE JEWISH CONJURATION

AGAINST THE CHRISTIAN WORLD

UniVGrS/fg;^

FROM THE SAME AUTHOR

The occult power against France

Flight. iii-16 of pp, 432

Price: 3 fr. 50

THE MASONIC DRAMA

THERE

JEWISH CONJURATION

Against JYlonde Chrétien

Copin-Albancelli

PARIS

THE FRENCH RENAISSANCE

Publishing Company

52 DANODAMA PASSAGE

1909

LYON

EMMANUEL VITTE BOOKSTORE

Printer-Publisher

3, PLACE BELLECOUR; 3

HS

.CâPiC

Drumonta more cVonce manifested in the Libre-Word Clothing and the regret that no one has still been able to explain how it happened that a small band of Freemasons, inferior to all points of view, managed to dominate France and to reduce it to a sort of lethargic impotence.

It was thus the cause that I gave myself over to the study begun in Occult Power against France (1) and completed in this work.

After thinking for a long time, I realized takes into account that the explanation requested by Drumont exists certainly was.

God built our world, in fact, on such a plan that the chain which connects the effects to the causes has not never had any discontinuity and will never have so many that this world will exist. We are often Inca-able to see it, but divine logic bursts everywhere. We strive to seek out the manifestations tions even in the unfolding of the anti-reli-Godful means paying homage to the Creator.

Whatever she may think, the "Widow" is not above God. This is why the fact of dominion Masonic nation can only have occurred con-trained in the data provided by natural laws real, that is to say by divine laws. Seek reexjilication of this domination is therefore not a

(1) Occult Power against France, in-16 from p. 432.3 fr. 50,

work of dilettantism; it is a duty all the more more compelling than the discovery of this explanation cation depend on the liberation of French Catholicism that and the salvation of France.

We must discover the means which been imagined, concealed and used with such astonishing hypocrisy to produce the ruins of which our generation is the spectator and the victim helpless. Without this, we will lament and we will we agitate in vain.

It's because I've long been penetrated by these thoughts that I gave myself no more rest until what I had discovered the Masonic mechanism, its mode of use, and what it is for serves. I say: this is for the edification of which it is used; because in The social order, when we destroy, it is in order to build.

It is now certain that statesmen most qualified French people conceive the question Masonic as I see it myself.

The day after the publication of Le Pouvoir occulte against France, Mr. Emile Flourens, V eminent elder Minister of Foreign Affairs, devoted to this work an article published in Le Soleil, where he wrote:

“Certainly, Mr. Copin-Albancelli’s revelations do not “didn’t surprise me. It is impossible to have had “hands the direction of our foreign policy “without being convinced of the dissolving action of the a Freemasonry. His work of decomposition “social appears everywhere. »

The same note was given by another elder minister, to whose patriotism and character all the world pays homage, which also deigned, give high approval to the thesis developed in the Hidden Power against France.

– 7 –

Former president of the Center Left, former minister member of the Interior, Mr. de Marcère played a role important at a decisive hour of the invasion masonic. His testimony carries all the weight more considerable than in his Memories of which the recent volumes have produced such a gravid and useful noble simplicity, with the most generous righteousness, that he himself was deceived by the representatives of the mysterious Power that lies behind the Freemason.

Mr. Emile Flourens continued as follows:

"If this work of decomposition is more sensitive
"in countries of old civilization, such as
"France, Italy, Spain, the company is there
"more neurasthenic is that the nations ^rro-
"testantes use it like an aries to "defeat their Catholic rivals. But it's a
"two-edged weapon that turns against
" they. No one will escape it. V Germany today
"today so proud of its patriotism, is reached more
"deeper than she thinks. At the first shock
"its ravages will appear. The demolition work
"will only stop when, on the lines of empires
"Christians, the kingdom of Israel will arise, when
"Jewish nationalism will have triumphed over nationalism
"listism of the good guys. »

This work is only the development of the thought expressed in these last lines. He therefore finds support in advance on the high authority of the experienced statesman who wrote them,
as well as on the non-moldy one informed by Mr. de Mar-cere.

IF dedicated the occult power against France to my collaborators of the French League Anti-Masonic Society and the Joan of Arc League, which co7nfight with such enlightened dedication for the France and for the national religion.

I dedicate this one to all my French Catholic brothers-ques ; those of today, struck for so longtime without suspecting where the blows come from
from which they are affected; and those of yesterday, more deluded even though those of today, deceived, betrayed, crushed in the terrible gear and which, at hours
of mourning, deplored what they called misfortune times, without knowing what caused this misfortune produced, by whom it was wanted.

I never stopped thinking about each other course of this work; and particularly to those who I saw you die, whom I loved, who loved me, who soul in my soul, whose last words, all replies of religious faith, are still in my thought. These, in the middle of the crowd of French heroes that's it, still fighting, I have no doubt, with us, above us. As I write these last lines,

it evokes once again their memory deep down myself, thinking that they connect me to all those who preceded them and who made France.

COPIN-ALB ANCELLI.

FIRST PART '^

The reasons for the Machiavellian plan on 1 what was built Freemasonry ie.

Experience of its operators
in matters of secret society.

FIRST CHAPTER

How the occult Power was forced to succeed
to the creation of Freemasonry.

QUESTIONS TO BE RESOLVED.

In a previous work: The Occult Power against France^ we demonstrated the existence of an occult Power, that is to say of a human power
Maine which, thanks to the secret association known as Franc-
Masonry, intervenes in world affairs,
and particularly in those of France, while remaining invisible. We thus presented the Masonic question in its true aspect.

For too long we refused to admit that Freemasonry exerted an influence whatever conch on our politics. We must now reknow that this influence exists and that it is currently sovereign; that not only she is sovereign, but that it has already been so for the first time

- 10 -

having been forced by her excesses to let go of her prey, that is to say the government of France, it has not Vipuis stopped working to pull it together.

We have shown that all the revolutions which have been telling us for a century, so incomprehensible apparently, were explained in the most natural way natural by this invisible effort. It is to achieve make us accept without revolt the domination of Freemasonry that they tried so hard to inoculate us hate our ancient and solid traditions political and religious; and it is to destroy these traditions, roots of our life, which have been fold our revolutions.

But who did this? in other words: What is Freemasonry?

In answer to this question, we proved that it was not enough to recognize that the action Masonic is constantly practiced under the action of French politics, but that we still had to get used to tumer with the idea that under Masonic action itself there was something.

Freemasonry, a world association, is diverse in appearance from many points of view; but it is no less one everywhere, we have it shown, by this mysterious organization of the which allows the transmission of certain wishes invisible and which could not aim for anything else than that.

– 11 –

These scattered sections are like the vertebrae of a skeleton. The construction unit as their review reveals is enough to denounce one and the same creator.

(On the other hand, the existence of the organ cannot be explained than by the existence of the function); and this one has its turn can only be explained by the existence of being at profit from which this function is accomplished. It is this being mysterious, remained invisible until now, thank you. pre-specifically to the organism that he created expressly in this goal, which we call occult Power.

We must either accept our demonstration or continue to understand nothing, on the one hand, to the strange and contradictory phenomena of mason existence– so extraordinary histories by which was built France since the Revolution. Much better ! those who recoil from this demonstration will be exposed, in the ignorance where they will be, together unconsciously bore into the work of destruction of the homeland.

This is what we established in the first part of our study.

We must now go further.

The gigantic demolition undertaking of the France that we exposed and the organization that was created as a result are things so extraordinary-naries, if outside our French character, that a many of our fellow citizens do not understand do not, do not admit that the idea of such a plan has could have been born in a brain. We have to show them how-ment the founders of Masonry did not have the choice, how they were unable material to begin an open struggle against what they wanted to destroy, and how because of this they resulted, in a so to speak natural way, in the conception which causes our astonishment.

- 12 -

Let us add that, if we dismantled piece by piece the Masonic organization, we have not exposed lesjp "océdés, the methods of action thanks to which we can have this organization produce the results the immense unfolding of which we have seen.

Finally, we have to find out what could be the occult Power and towards what goal it leads us.

Until we show all this, our study will remain incomplete, and therefore infertile.

Let us not forget that the association we are studying remained absolutely incomprehensible until our era. Despite its two centuries of existence certain, and although much has been written about it yet, she is still a stranger to almost everyone. This holds for much more than we believe in this that none of the presentations made to us have considered all sides of the issue, so that no one questioning caused by the sight of a creation so extraordinary and so extraordinarily concealed. The result was that we became accustomed to considering Masonry as a strange phenomenon, perhaps even be worrying, but a phenomenon that does not could be explained. Therefore, it was concluded, what's the point of taking care of it?

– 13 –

It should even be noted that these are often the the most serious minds who refused and who refuse even more stubbornly to pay attention to it. Certain a priori reasonings which appear to them to be redemptions, distract them from the study to which they it would be enough if they were willing to devote a few hours to see for themselves that these reasons-ments are worthless. For example, they do not admit not just a universal association, composed men of whom they know a certain number for honest people, for patriots, be accused to tend to the subversion of all principles and to the destruction of France. They can't guess that such a contradiction is explained as soon as we studies the organism imagined by the perfidy of the founders tors of Freemasonry, and even more when we understands the methods they use. Brunetière was in this state of mind. He had shown himself-very willing to publish in the Revue des Deux-Worlds some of the chapters of this study which I had the opportunity to speak to him about. But he told me :

– I know many Freemasons who are very good people. I am therefore hardly inclined to admit that Freemasonry is so formidable as you say. When you have explained to me this clearly, I am not saying that I will resist your explanations. But you have to provide them to me.

Others know certain Freemasons who are intelligent; and they base themselves on that to re-rush to believe in the reality of grotesque ceremonies

– 14 –

which we indulge in in the dressing rooms. When we talks about it, they imagine that we are exaggerating and they are, because of this, reluctant to take the antimasons

For these reasons, and many others, men the most thoughtful have listened so far to those who have tried to call their attention to Freemasonry with the same disdain that they would have shown to those who would have come to talk to them about Croquemitaine or the Werewolf.

And yet, if the mystery of the existence of Freemasonry has hardly been better explained yet. qué than were, and for good reason, Croquemitaine and the Werewolf, this existence is certain, and the extraordinary Masonic works are too.

Freemasonry is a childish society in appearance ; It's true. But it is no less true that it is a society of destruction. Evil affluence of its goal, vis-à-vis the Catholic nations in particular, coexists with honest intentions, let's say even with the idealistic aspirations of some of his members. It also coexists with grays ridiculous maulings that "the Widow" does to her new members, on the day of their initiation. Likewise, these ridiculous grimaces by which Masonry seems want to make oneself unworthy of any attention It is not surprising that this association has in itself the great elements of strength which have made it last since two centuries in the universal state. The facts are there, well than contradictory. There is no denying them. And it's why, instead of childishly turning your back on them, they must be explained, but explained completely and explain them all; so that finally, if extraordinary, so inadmissible, so phantasmagorical that published so far the Masonic fact, it is proven that all logic is indisputably on the side of those who recognize its primordial importance; and that on the contrary, all illogic, all unreason, all weakness of mind is on the side of those who refuse to look at it.

– 15 –

So this is the how and why of so many bizarre, seemingly incoherent peculiarities, and unexplained until now, which we will expose in the first part of this volume. After the view overview that we started by taking in the one which preceded it, after examining the characteristics general terers and invisible causes, but certain,

take care of the ways of doing things and the reasons for which ones we chose

If the reader will have the patience with us follow, he will notice that among so many strange details ages that seem superfluous in the organization Masonic tion, among so many unreasonable practices nable and grotesque in appearance, there is none who have their reason for being, either because the foundations tors of Masonry were obliged to have re-course due to the conditions in which they are found placed, either because they contribute to achieving the goal they want to achieve.

It was only after this presentation of mason methods that that we will logically be led to seek

- THE-

dear who is the author of Freemasonry and the goal to the realization of which this author shows himself so stubbornly attached.

This part of our study will be of practical use indisputable tick because by showing us our enemy as he is, she will discover to us that he needs taking care of time and silence to achieve your goals. It's because we've left him both until now that he has reached the point where we see him. He would be enough of the great light thrown upon him for him to be made it impossible to push further. Our cause is therefore far from hopeless. He we just need to know first and want Next.

We will hold each other closer than ever, is it be-careful to say, to the method that we adopted so far, because it is the only one that is rational in such a study; we said why.

One of the great advantages of this method is that it must give complete security to readers in one subject on which the public has so often been misled. Until now they were reduced to wondering what had to believe in this Freemasonry about of which so many different versions circulate. We resolutely appealed to their reasoning-ment, instead of trying to impose such narratives on them more sooner than others among all those who contradict themselves feels by the will of the occult Power. They don't have now only to wonder if the arguments conform to what their reason requires.

– 17 –

Furthermore, our study contains a kind of verification of itself.

In fact, we said that there were several semasonic crests to penetrate, several unknowns to clear: Who created Freemasonry? For what? Did we create it? What is the true nature of the organ? Masonicism? What are the methods? What is the character of the work already accomplished? What is the place?

Now, by the very laws of reason, we must necessarily that the solutions we give to each of these questions are in perfect coordination among themselves. Otherwise, they would have to be condemned. Those who want to follow us have therefore at their disposal a means of verifying the thesis that we propose to them: this is the observation of the harmony or lack of harmony of the responses. What does this thesis provide on each of the questions to be solved.

If indeed such is the author of Freemasonry, this must be its aim. Or vice versa, if that is the purpose, such is the author. If this is the aim and such the author, one must be the organism rather than another. Yes. Now, again, if such is the organization, the creator of this organism can only be such, and such its goal. The five terms of the Masonic equation can thus find themselves verified by each other. So, to complete intellectual curiosity for our readers, that we constitute judges of the theory that we expose sounds.

– 18 –

REASONS WHY OCCULT POWER IMAGINED THE MASONIC CREATION.

We must first show how it is a fact that the founders of Masonry achieved to the extraordinary organization that we have studied. We will see that they could not do otherwise.

effort of reasoning, represent to ourselves the conditions in which they acted.

First of all, it is well understood that by creating the Freemasonry, they had a goal. Without this, they would not have made the effort required such a colossal undertaking. This is a statement indisputable.

Furthermore, it is obvious that their aim was such that they feared, by admitting it, to raise public opinion. Without that they would not have condemned themselves to hypocrisy and to the lie that we found at the base of the association they founded. It is only by born-necessity that one resolves to such means, when the confession of the truth would be dangerous or dishonorable. There that the fdous, said Camille Desmoulins, who have afraid of street lights. This second statement does not would not be able to provoke dispute either serious.

Finally, they did not have the strength at their disposal to impose their goal. Without that, they would have taken him bent. When you are strong, you don't lie; we or-given.

– 19 –

But then, these three starting points being admitted, a consequence necessarily follows from this. Since it was the existing opinion which stood in the way of the reaction lization of their goal and since they did not have the strength at their disposal, those we are talking about were in necessity or to work towards the destruction of existing opinion or abandon their goal. No environment for them.

This was therefore the first objective that they had to have in view: the destruction of the reigning opinion. Otherwise, the realization of their projects was impossible thing.

However, at the beginning of the 18th century, the characteristic of the European world is that it still had a distinctly Christian conscience. So it was with this that the occult creative Power of the Masonry had to count.

However, this Christian consciousness was no longer a. The Reformation had divided it. There was the cons-

this to the two Christian consciences that Power occult was to blame? Or, if it were not than to one of the two, to. which?

The facts are responsible for answering this question. tion.

Since, as we have already observed, it is certain that Freemasonry does not show itself revolutionary and destructive only in the Catholics, while she is traditionalist and conservative in Protestant countries, it was obviously Catholic consciousness that the Occupying Power cult needed to destroy. That's at least where he felt the need to begin.

– 20 –

So at the beginning of the eighteenth century, the Power who created Freemasonry had to destroy, to corrupt, to alter in any way the conscience of the Catholic world. It was a condition which she considered essential to the achievement of her secret designs. We must believe it since it is what she attached herself to.

- We ask the reader to set their attention carefully. pay special attention to this observation whose importance is capital, because it is by taking it as a starting point that we can finally understand the extraordinary Masonic question.

It is because the obstacle which blocked the road to Occult power was that which we have just said: the Catholic state of consciousness, and it is because it had to overcome this obstacle at all costs and without being able to admit it, it is because of this that the Freemasonry was constituted as we let's see it.

Destroying a global state of consciousness and replacing it placed by another, is this possible?

The founders of Freemasonry had no than to open history to find proof that if this is singularly difficult, it was nevertheless possible, even in times when renovators did not are not at their service the means that are so effective for the diffusion of ideas which were to result later

The most magnificent example was provided to them by

– 21 –

Christianity at its birth. It was not only a change in public opinion and spirit that the first Christians had to operate; it was quite a complete reversal. They had to destroy everything: beliefs, morals, conception of society and the existing political organization which included the acceptance of the dogma of imperial Rome. And they had succeeded! Since this had been done long ago in the Roman world, however so solidly constructed, why could it not have been possible in the Catholic world in general and in the French world in particular?

It is true that with regard to the latter, the differences between many attempts of this kind tried so far had hardly succeeded. The last one was called the Réforme.

Like all the heresies that preceded it, the Reform was only an effort tending to modification of the state of consciousness of the Christian world.

Until now, it has been considered a spontaneous fact. In this, we probably made a serious mistake. reform.

It is very difficult to admit that in the 16th century a shock of this kind could have occurred in the European world without preparation and without organization.

As peoples advance in age, an increasingly rigorous order in fact presides over changes that modify the face and soul of humanity. At the origin of this humanity, in all first periods, it is by convulsions in some chaotic way that the changes took place. No organizations then; no preparations for great upheavals; kinds of uprisings instinctive, comparable to violent agitations by which manifests itself in the life of every childhood. But at more and more thoughtful, that is to say more in addition meditated, prepared, organized. Because of the time it occurred, Protestantism was certainly hardly more spontaneous than was the creation of Freemasonry, anarchy of 1789, the Terror of 1793 and what we see is currently passing before our eyes. It must have been meditated on, prepared and organized, too. By who? It is possible that we didn't know it. But it cannot be that the preparation did not exist and that Protestantism had thus escaped the general laws which regulate the march of this world. And besides, it is enough to study the phases of the anti-Catholic movement that was the Reformation, to see that it bears a striking resemblance to the struggle currently desired, premeditated and committed against Catholicism, by the mysterious power which we now know to be hidden behind the Freemason. We are only beginning to realize that this power has been acting since two centuries. Who tells us that she was not acting in the Christian world for much longer, and even well before Protestantism?

– 22 –

Whatever the case, the outcome of the attempt of the xvi^e century had proven one thing: that all change in the state of religious consciousness of the Latin races, and of France in particular, was not without involving serious difficulties, even and especially when one intends to use force. So that England, Germany, Sweden and part of Switzerland had abandoned themselves to preaching news, France had resisted the invasion. She had fought. With iron and fire, she had re-fought victoriously by iron and fire. It was same happened as its political leaders, dominated by their interests, had hesitated to give directions required. The French race then acted on its own even. She had forced her princes to walk. For that, she had made the League. Much better ! While the crown fell by inheritance to a pro-prince testa^{nt}, France had not let this prince ride on the throne only after she had seen him abjure the Protestantism and thus bow his royal conscience before the national consciousness. We therefore knew, through memory of the religious wars of the sixteenth century, what could cost attacking the state of consciousness of our race to try to modify it through

– 23 –

But the occult Power intended to impose its views on France as with all other Christian nations yours, and perhaps even more than all the others. This is proven by everything that has happened since Freemasonry exists. The question arose from then for him to know if he was going to face the danger, either by renewing the violent attempt which had failed in the sixteenth century, either by peaceful preaching—ment, but openly, the doctrines which he heard substitute for those to which the Catholic world, having France at its head, remained attached.

— 24 —

Can dangers stop those who, by con—pure and disinterested vision, want to create new new opinions, new states of consciousness? HAS this question the answer is provided by the establishment—ment of Christianity. Its founders proved that danger does not matter to anyone who has the soul a great ideal. Those who claimed to change the state of consciousness in the eighteenth century had not so what to do like the first Christians.

That was all they had to do, really. But is not within everyone's reach.

The founders of Christianity were able to preach their ideal in the face of heaven, since they did it. THE founders of Masonry obviously could not I'm not lying, since they didn't do it.

It is because the first ones had an ideal all of their own. crifice. They firmly believed that the doctrine they brought to humanity contained progress and hello from this one. Why wouldn't they have said it? very high? They only risked one thing: being opposed. posed for their evangelization; that they be punished and perhaps even they were put to death. But death was something they were not afraid of, precisely because that their ambition had its end, not in this world, but in another in whose existence they had faith and whose death opened the doors to them.

And that is why, despite the hatred and despite obstacles, they managed to replace the ideal Roman which was that of strength, the Christian ideal which was that of dedication, that is to say exactly the opposite.

The mysterious Power that founded Masonry was obviously dominated by other thoughts, since she proceeded differently. If she had had for but the only ideal, she would have proposed to the face of heaven, she too, this ideal in the world. Its representatives had feels like the first Christians. In the case where they had been prevented in their preaching, they would have said to themselves: "If our ideal displeases our porains is that these are not high enough, as- you are devoted, pure enough to understand it. We- Let us sacrifice ourselves in order to teach them to love him. » If they proceeded differently, it is obviously because their kingdom was of this world; that is their goal, instead of being moral, was material; that's because they were dominated, not by an ideal, but by an ambition, by an appetite. And we know it all too well now! They wanted to live to enjoy and dominate. And like we don't generally get killed for love of life, as we do not immolate ourselves out of the desire to enjoy ance, as one does not dedicate oneself out of a thirst for dominion nation, they were obliged to find another means that the example of voluntary sacrifice for modify this Catholic opinion from the beginning of the 18th century which hindered the realization of their interested views.

It was not easy. Indeed an opinion that we propose to modify is, in itself, something capable resistance. It is a kind of being; an imma- material, but a being all the same. This being, like everyone else is attached to life. However, how to create a new opinion without the old one dying? And how to make this one die without it collaborating in its own destruction? We can train him for this, by consenting to die oneself, as the mar- Christian tyrns; by creating through the contagion of the example ple, "the holy madness of sacrifice". But, from then on that we renounce this means and that on the other hand we do not have not the power, that is to say the force at his disposal, what is left? Search, and you will see that from it takes strength or preaching in broad daylight in a spirit of self-denial and sacrifice, there is no conscience: fraud.

It is then necessary to coax, capture, seduce public opinion that we want to destroy, make it absorb certain principles destructive principles by presenting them to him as nurturing ideas; you have to trick and lie, like trick and lie the toreadors who slaughter the bulls reals in the arenas. When these fall hit-affected by the spada, they too collaborated in their destruction, despite their desire^dej/iyre. How the Did the toreador encourage them to do so? By deceiving them, by acting both before their eyes the shred of red fabric that the overexcited animal charges furiously, without suspecting ter that behind this piece of shiny and harmless silk defensive is a hand which, when the time comes, will extend the weapon on the point of which he will rush into a deadly impulse.

We can proceed with regard to a people of whom we wants to destroy the soul, as the toreador does

- 27 -

towards the bull. What is needed for this? Ideas arguments agitated by skillful rhetoricians, like is agitated the cappa by those who precede the toread-gold in the arena, to excite the beast little by little, to study its means of defense and attack, to exhaust it gradually, to create conditions such that when the hour of the final struggle arrives, the triumph of the treacherous spada is almost as-safe.

Cleverly chosen ideas, attractive but corrupting and disruptive, agile cappadores to agitate and dangle these ideas, here it is what this masked matador had to worry about, the Occult power, which, unable to carry out its plans as long as the opinion existing at the beginning reigns ment of the 18th century, found himself in the necessity of destroy her when he had neither the strength nor the desire to sacrifice.

Viewed in this way, the difficulty could be overcome.

On one condition however, it is that, like being moral that it was a question of attacking was organized social-ment and as the heads of the existing state of affairs had to be more or less conscious and foresighted, certain preparatory works were carefully hidden

need for secrecy at the same time as that of lie.

So here is what appears clearly to us:

The mysterious Power that created Franc-Masonry obviously had a purpose in carrying out this creation; She did not want to reveal this goal.

– 28 –

since after two centuries it still hides it from us. She didn't want to make him accept it by sacrificing herself and she could not impose it by force, since she did not neither did. She obviously had opinion against it; without this, she would not have had to sacrifice oneself, nor to use force. Furthermore she pretended to hide what she herself was, since she has since evaded all investigations. In these conditions, if she really wanted to arrive to achieve its goal, it did not have at its disposal than a means, the one to which it ends up leading: the creation of a sort of college where there were to be chosen and gathered followers only by fraud and by lie she would make it erect secretly and slowly with a view to this goal: the substitution of the reigning opinion of another opinion which would be patiently fabricated, through successive and progressive falsifications of the old one.

That or renunciation of one's goal. There was not middle.

THE MANUFACTURE OF OPIMON. STRANGENESS OF THE PLAN. RESULTING INDICATION.

"Create an opinion 1" The expression is to Mr. Maurice Talmeyr who used it in a bro-documented chure, of a penetrating power of a-analysis; brochure that must be read, because it shows Masonic methods in action, because that it opens views like the one that comes to be developed. By showing how we make opinion, Mr. Maurice Talmeyr made us touch point out the processes that have been used several times then a century and a half, that is to say precisely since that Freemasonry has established itself among us(1); and these processes, essentially fraudulent, are pre-precisely those now recognized as being the means employed within Masonry.

– 29 –

Some readers may find it strange and very difficult realization of the plan that we have just made quiss.

Strange and difficult, yes! But, once again, there had no other. That he had deliberately chosen it- if or that he had been brought there by successive gropings sives, after more or less unsuccessful attempts, the occult Power had to achieve this plan, or renounce cer to its goal.

In any case, if such an achievement were difficult, it was by no means impossible. We have it proof, since it is now a fait accompli, since creation exists, since, so extraordinary and incomprehensible as it may seem to us, the organism has been functioning for two centuries in conditions that we have just indicated and which remains for us to explain more fully.

Let us add that this plan had to offer more or less difficulties, according to whether the Power which proposed to continue its realization had skills

(1) How we make opinion, by Maurice Talmeyr, Librairie Perrin, quai des Grands-Augustins, Paris.

- 30 -

predisposing him more or less to it; depending on whether, perhaps even too, his past provided him more or less of experience acquired in this type.

If such a conception may seem strange, it is especially to French people and, one could say, to all occidentals. But it's not just French people and Westerners in the world. Now, let us not forget, the Power which imagined Freemasonry is not French since from the beginning of the eighteenth century, she proved it to us, her means of action were international, since, as well, such a creation is not one of those that is natural to French genius. that's it. We still do not know, at the point where we are-

Power was not carried quite naturally by his instincts, his needs, his situation and his background teeth, to imagine and carry out such an enterprise. Suppose, for example, that it was of oriental origin tale. In this case, let us think about it carefully, she would not have would have only had to look in its history, or in that races close to one's own, to find an example ancient religious secret societies. These companies were precisely constituted to create and maintain create a religious feeling, that is to say a state of took. Now it was about creating a feeling ahTiiireligious, that is to say another state of mind. THE couldn't the same processes be useful?

On this subject, it is not out of place to note here that, precisely, the founders of Franc-Ma-masonry have thrown into the minds of their initiates the idea that this association would be linked to the old oriental religious secret societies, through diary of certain others, which would have been perpetuated in the Christian world throughout the Middle Ages.

– 31 –

However, it is true that we find in all countries Christians trace these societies. And yet, the as-secret association is the most contrary to the genius of Christianity. How then does this germ, to which the Christian ground was in no way suitable way, did he find himself wandered all over Europe, even in centuries of ardent faith? Should we we see there more or less aborted attempts, preceding the one which ended up being so completely successful? Are we to believe that a power which came from the countries Eastern countries where anti-secret societies had flourished ques, who had reasons to attach themselves to these concepts tions, who was not Christian but who lived in the middle place of Christian populations, strived to inoculate to them this virus of the almost unassisted secret society milable for them, and that, leading only to grafts more or less ephemeral scenes, she never tired to renew them until the day they met finally with a less lively faith, more circumstances favorable?

This would be an explanation of these strange plants historical tions which, without this, do not have any. Supposed-would also be one of the mind so extraordinarily men-remember that we find at the base of the Masonic institution-arrived at such a concept that after they had cons-noted the complete impossibility of implementing otherwise the secret society in the Christian world.

– 32 –

When we think about it carefully, what should seem to us to be strangest in Masonic creation, it is moreover perhaps not so much this creation itself that the fierce hatred by which it was necessary that his authors were goaded against Catholicism.
The human mind is inventive. It almost always ends by achieving what he strongly wants. But wanting to sez so as not to shrink from the means by which resorted to by the creators of Freemasonry, this is what is truly extraordinary. And it's in-core one of the characters which should help us to de-cover.

Very specific skills and means of action
very special functions were obviously necessary to those who imagined such a creation; and it is for this despite the multiple precautions taken by them, the research which tends to unmask them
are now concentrated in a fairly large radius Shrunk.

This is to give us certainty about this essential point that we must continue the study reasoning of the very particular characteristics that present the Masonic association. These characters obviously have ment their correspondents among the authors of this one.
We will thus go back from one to the other, according to the method by which in natural history, the savants establish the filiation of organisms.

CHAPTER II

First difficulties encountered by the founders
of Freemasonry.

Security with which they resolved them,

THE DEADMASK IN WHICH THEY FOUND AT THE BEGINNING
THE FOUNDERS OF FREEMASONRY.

CONTRADICTIONARY STATEMENTS.

We are now enlightened on what we can call the moral origins of Freemasonry. To achieve this, we only had to remind ourselves feel the conditions in which they were placed those who created this association. In the absence of the name of its authors, we discovered the motives which made them act and how they resulted in a good design.

We even did a little more.

We were led to express the opinion that the founders of Freemasonry were not perhaps not, when they created this association, on their first try as organizers of societies secret. What should confirm us in this opinion it is the astonishing certainty with which they resolved the contradictory difficulties and, because of this, almost insurmountable, to which they first had to face. It's worth stopping there.

– 34 –

When you create a company, it is generally not not to group individuals who, logically, must be hostile to the purpose of this society; It is, on the contrary, to bring together those who, either by either by feeling, are inclined to desire the reading of this goal. In this regard, the obstacles that founders of Freemasonry had to meet countering from their first steps were considerable.

Indeed, since it was a question for them of de-destroy a state of opinion, their goal was subversive. It is therefore discontented and subversive spirits that they needed.

Nothing could be easier than attracting them. The functions daters of Masonry only had to state their goal. But if they did, the opinion they declared that they wanted to destroy rose up against them and it did not allow them to constitute their citie. For this to be tolerated, they were therefore obliged, not only to declare an aim other than the true one, but to choose it such that it does not offend in no way this opinion that they wanted to destroy.

only being able to count on unused members
bles; or attract to themselves those of whom they had absolute-need it, but in this case do not have permission to exist: this, it seems, is the perspective that offers itself
first of all to the founders of Franc-Ma-
masonry.

So they found themselves there in a real impass.

They got out, thanks to a set of means

- 35 -

so admirably coordinated from the point of view of distant realization of the goal, that such security in provisions likely to fail to produce their effect that in the long term would be enough to reveal the tenacity
the rarest combined with very long experience in the art of making secret societies give back what they can give.

Their plan, the only one available to them, as well as to us
we showed in the previous chapter, denoted already among those who undertook to realize it a extraordinary spirit of patience. Because substituting a opinion to another, gradually making it prevail
the news by dint of successive falsifications and progressives of the old, this cannot be accommodated
fold only thanks to very long periods of years.

It is also on the time that they counted to draw from the difficulty we have just pointed out.

They began by facing the immediate necessity
mediate which was that their association was tolerated.

They therefore accepted the inconvenience of a bad initial recruitment. But at the same time, they combine born a certain number of processes which were to allow them to gradually modify this first re-crudely. In this regard, the declaration of principles what they did to present their company was, without look, a true masterpiece.

It was necessary, as we have said, for it not to clash
the reigning ideas, that is to say that it concealed completely the goal for which the company was founded; but also, it was necessary that, while concealing this goal, it could serve to prepare it.

The statement they produced corresponded marvelously to this double necessity. She diss-completely muted the subversive goal, and, thereby, it ensured the tolerance of public authorities as well as the adhesions of a number of honest people and even believers who were fatally destined to let themselves be take. She even affirmed the principles that she proposed to fight back. But at the same time, it allowed for the possibility of deformation and falsification of the said principles, thanks to certain conclusions traditions that most lay people should not not notice, and over which the others had to pass all the more easily as they did not there is no reason to suspect the perfidy of the authors.

On the one hand the first article of the statutes said: The Freemasonry proclaims “the existence of God and the immortality of the soul. She respects religious faith of all its members. She forbids them from any discussion in religious matters. »

But on the other hand, this same article declared that the Freemasonry was “philosophical and progressive, that its purpose was “the search for truth” and as a principle absolute freedom of conscience. »

In fact, these statements were contradictory.

If, in fact, a Freemason were obliged to proclaim sea the existence of God and the immortality of the soul, his freedom of conscience was not absolute. Likewise, since we committed to respecting religious faith of all the members, that is to say the conception that each of them knows the truth, what did the re-looking for this same truth? We are not looking for this that we think we have.

However, such a program was likely to mislead per many minds, because with him, Freemasonry could be everything its founders wanted, according to places, times and circumstances. Without doubt some laymen could conceive of concerns. They asked how far “the spirit” went

"absolute freedom of conscience". But wasn't he very easy to move the limits depending on the case? The li- absolute freedom of conscience, they replied, that means simply meant that Protestants and Catholics were to meet in Freemasonry, without hating each other! The philosophical and progressive spirit? The search for truth? All this was subordinate given the respect due to religious faith, which dominated everything, with the belief in the existence of God and in the immortality of the soul. From then on nothing was to fear...

We could present things like this, but we could also present them differently. Question of opportunity.

The maneuver was all the easier to execute that we had taken care not to place the articles contradictory against each other. We had them further scattered among statements relating to on the development of sciences and arts, the lance, solidarity, morality, civilization, liberty, equality, fraternity, etc., etc. When so much of things are placed next to each other, one confusion is created which makes maneuvers easy vres of duplicity.

– 38 –

In short, the general impression which should have been clear when the new institution appears, it is that we were dealing with a Christian and tolerant society rant, constituted to work at the establishment of peace between all those who recommended each other of Christ, Protestants or Catholics, and even between all the men. This is what the promoters do not miss not wanting to bring out. Liberty, equality, fraternity, they could add, was it not specified- what Jesus Christ came to preach on the earth? If such an ideal were dangerous, Christianity the whole thing was too.

We could, we repeat, understand the things like this; but we could also understand them otherwise. We now have the proof, since we saw our Freemasons from 1789 to

1791 find in the principle of freedom what break the social, political and religious organism that

1792 put, in the name of equality, an entire people in insurrection against the laws of nature, i.e. against the laws of life; and finally those of 1793 do of the holy fraternity a pretext for denunciations, persecutions, proscriptions and namelessness terrible assassinations of the Terror.

How could such a reversal of things happen? take place? It was thanks to the contradictory principles contained in the declaration. When the chiefs invisible people feel the hour has come, they just need to give the precedence of some of these principles over certain others, then to gradually deform them; to pretend then that one of them excluded another; that without doubt the founders of Masonry had not not realized and that there was room for improvement their work; that, for example, the principle of tolerance was in opposition to the respect of certain relations which they took care to show essentially intolerant; that the search for truth exists threatened the prior destruction of all dogmas, in because of their precision and their immutability, for which any search for truth was counter-square; that freedom could not be conceived under a government other than that of the people... etc., etc. Let us add to this that it is usually in Masonry to modify this or that paragraph of the statutes to a yes or a no, Aforce to make holes and taken up in a fabric, there inevitably comes a time where nothing remains of it. This is what had to happen done for some of the principles contained in the definition Masonic statement.

– so–

The secret leaders therefore took care of themselves conveniences for the future, as we can see realize. Thanks to his contradictions, he declared to them tion could adapt to all circumstances. She not only concealed the true goal; it contained also everything you needed to prepare it. And he was fatal that we allow ourselves to be taken in all the more easily-ly that the enemy Power evaded better who organized everything. We couldn't be in distrust against his bad intentions, since we were unaware anyone would have suspected the qualified people who presented themselves as founders of the Franc-Masonry would have given the worst idea of its character and his intentions. This is what happened to Sovereign Pontiffs when, better enlightened than was the people and the kings, they believed they had to put be on each other's guard, by their encyclical anti-Masonic issues. They were accused of intolerance. They were considered provocateurs, while they were only responding to a masked offensive.

The difficulty that could seem insurmountable first of all was therefore resolved in a simple question tactics in teaching, address and opportunity tunity in the way of moving from the first interpresentation of the declaration: that which was necessary to ensure the existence of society, at the second: that which was essential for the achievement of the goal final.

Such a design was as clever as it was perfide. She could not, we repeat, come to the took novices. It assumed professional knowledge foundation of what is possible in a secret society and the means by which this is possible; means that we will study in the following chapters vants.

As for the production, it was carried out with the same mastery, since, as we have seen, this plan was carried out twice in France without the mass of the nation being able to even suspect expose the plot.

– 41 –

It may be objected here that these two interpretations successive operations were not foreseen by the foundations masonry workers; that the second was imagined later by politicians and disrupted them tors who invaded this association and who put at the service of their ambition, or by the defenders defenders of freedom in the face of the intransigence of the clerical solutism.

We respond by asking why we should have introduces contradictory principles into the declaration, if we had not intended to use it? Why would we have formed a secret society which was nothing other, as we have seen, than a so-

Why would we have imagined this arrangement so singular? chain of societies superimposed on each other, of so that the superiors could pass in the lower reaches of elaborate inspirations we do not know where, if we had had no ulterior motive of substituting kill one teaching to another according to what we feel pulled the possibility? Why finally so many others precautions, so many other tricks that we have left to show and which all tend towards one and the same goal: to achieve something other than what we announce? He However, it would be too ridiculous to claim that all this was produced by chance or combined by people who didn't know what they were doing.

– 42 –

A SECRET SOCIETY THAT SEEMS LIKE

not to be one.

The experience of the founders of Freemason-

neriety in matters of secret societies is revealed above all to a particularly characteristic feature: it is that they made this association a society which was secret without appearing to be so.

Let us think about it carefully and we will understand that this was an absolute condition for their success.

We have already pointed out that the idea of secret society is antipathetic to the Christian spirit. To accept this idea, a Christian must be dominated by the most compelling of reasons: for example ple patriotic necessity or religious necessity; invasion or persecution.

This antipathy is very easily explained. She results from Christian education which is based on double idea that God sees everything, so well hidden that we either, and that our current life is for us only a means of achieving a higher life that one knows quit, not by fomenting intrigues, but by making sacrifices. No doctrine is no longer capable of generating the feeling of responsibility. No one should therefore reject further serve the design of . the secret society which tends, on the contrary, to annihilate the responsibilities bilities.

In principle, the Christian considers it a fault

apart from the exceptional cases we were talking about

– 43 –

higher, it must already be more or less deciphered tialized. It was therefore necessary that the founders of Freemasonry invented a secret society which seemed not to be one, and which, at the same time time, could operate in each of the members the de-progressive Christianization necessary for it later became a true follower. One more time, let us think about it carefully and we will realize take into account the importance of this observation. Of more, we will see, by remembering the organization of the grades as we have shown, that the entanglement formation of Masonic secret societies realizes exactly this condition.

Lay people like all of us having the idea of
to form a secret society would have started by trying to hide the existence of their creation. THE founders of Freemasonry had they fallen been previously in this very natural error?
Had they tried to form secret societies invisible? It's possible ; because, generally, we do not becomes experienced only by experimenting. In all the cases, at the time when they constituted the company which concerns us, they had learned, from one or other manner – we have proof of this by what they have fact – that if the secret society is common and admitted in oriental countries, it was not a matter of even in the Christian world. They also knew that whether it is possible to hide the existence of a company
very few in number, it becomes very difficult from when the circle of members widens a bit little. So that they have the knowledge of

– 44 –

these facts, they had to have been informed by a previous practice of the secret society.

The science of the founders of Masonry was greater still. Not only did they not lose their time trying to achieve the unachievable, not only
They were able to immediately discern what was practically possible of what was not;
but still they brought in the execution a luxury
precautions that only those can afford

This is how if they did not attempt to create a society whose existence was hidden, they also did not no longer presented as an ordinary society this Freemasonry which, in fact, should tend to \n other goal than the one she announced. They knew that, if they had done so, they would not have ensured the feels that it is blocking the way for the future. Pre-seeing everything, they gave Freemasonry as an association which displayed the ridiculous pre-trying to play secret society, and which had for this resorts to grotesque procedures. In this, they demonstrated truly superior skill, because they thus meet several necessities at the same time.

First of all, however childish some practices were, ticks, they nonetheless allowed the introduction in Freemasonry, processes thanks to which plots can be hatched. And in same time, precisely because they seemed childish, these practices excellently strengthened the naive confidence of those in power.

The rulers! Let's not forget that it was there

– 45 –

those who had to be blinded first, since it was they who could give or refuse to the association permission to exist. Without this authorization, no of Freemasonry functioning freely, such that we see it now. In its place, so-secret cities like those of which we find traces in previous centuries; companies that were obligated aged to hide their existence and who, as a result, live were going with difficulty, we don't know how, which lasted what they could, which were renewed, but without never be able to take solid root in the Christian world, nor exert any considerable influence there. wheat. Now, without openly constituted Masonry, although hiding its purpose, without Masonry tra-freely valiant in the dechristianization of Christians Hey, no functioning possible for Power occult; or at least an impaired functioning of a thousand ways. It was for him the condemnation to impotence.

We can see to what extent this is true by what is currently happening in Russia.

For a century, there have not been such meetings in Russia. we deny lodges which seem to us to be only grotesque ques, but which in reality are essential to the march of occult Power. The example of our Revolution was not lost on our friends in this respect. Let us not believe that the occult Power has abstained required to act in Russia, despite this ban. He has founded secret societies in this country. But these are secret societies of the kind that have existed throughout Christian Europe before Tavènement of Freemasonry. They are obliged to hide their existence; they do not work freely lying. The consequence of this absence of Franco-Russian Masonry is that the occult Power has not was able to succeed in the Empire of the Czar the Revolution that there nevertheless undertaken under such particular conditions clearly favorable. This is a fact of sinister significance. very significant, and which tends to prove to us that without a Masonry capable of multiplying its groupements in broad daylight, like with us, there is no of lasting triumph for the Revolutions. We see- We'll soon see why.

' - 46 -

The creators of Masonry could therefore not take too many precautions to ensure that the latter tolerance of those in power. If they wanted to get to constitute a dictatorship above the Christian world invisible that they dreamed for their benefit, it was absolutely necessary- that Freemasonry existed in a visible state, while being secret as to its purpose, that it does not not be in this precarious situation where the secret societies of the Middle Ages, a situation where it comes that the evildoers always remain, for the safety of honest people.

The rulers would certainly have opposed to the constitution of this association, if they had doubted the true purpose for which it was created. But before being taught by the revolutionary cataclysms lutionaries, what umbrage could they take from gathering of these so-called initiates who, while manifesting their "philosophical and to present themselves as attached to secret societies from the first periods of humanity; who, to do believe in this fabulous origin, submitted to practices whose ridiculousness exceeded all limits; who finally spoke of these stupid ceremonies like of a sacred heritage which came to them from so far away that they did not know from where and who had been transmitted to them they did not knew by whom... Such antics could would they appear dangerous to governments? nants?

The founders of Freemasonry put thus the heads of state in the most deceptive security by making them think that if the followers spoke of their "secrets", it was quite simply to go-dear to the public; unless they were really convinced of the sublimity of their antics philosophical and the holiness of their pre-tense Greek and Egyptian mysteries, in which case they could be used to maintain the cheerfulness of peoples.

What humbugs, or what bastards are these francsmasons! had to think of the finest politicians, without suspecting that in reality everyone was deceived, Freemasons as laymen and rulers, and that the only deceiver was the one who did not appear not, the one that therefore one could not suspect çonner: the occult Power.

48

VARIOUS FEELINGS IN THE PUBLIC
On the appearance of FREEMASONRY.
PERVERSITY OF THE FOUNDERS.

On the public, the effect was quite different, but no less useful.

The secret, whatever it may be, always captivates men. my. Many must therefore be attracted towards a Freemasonry which took on the appearance of a secular society Crete without having certain appearances rather frightening.

Some objections were to be expected; this one
For example.

– You are not a secret society, since you exist.

"No doubt," was the reply, "we know that our association exists. It must be so. We are not yet no less a secret society, in that our meetings are strictly closed, except for a few some to which we are pleased to invite the public and where, as a result, we do not indulge in our ordinary work. These meetings include forms, practices, ceremonies, traditions which are only revealed following an initiation given born in certain conditions and which obliges those who have received it to help and rescue each other in all circumstances—tances. This is how we relate to the secret societies of the Middle Ages and those of the first early ages of humanity. This is our secret. There are our mysteries that only those who know were deemed worthy because of the way they have undergone the tests which precede initiation.

– 49 –

Since it was a question of entering an association situation where we did not welcome everyone, where there existed were secrets and mysteries relating to the secrets and mysteries of the fabulous societies of antiquity; an association in which one cannot will penetrate only by going through trials, and which promised the initiate the support of all the others, this was quite tempting. We smile a little of these mysteries and these trials; but we de—ask all the same what it could be; we is worked by the desire to know; we are also tempted by the lure of profits of all kinds that we believe must result from the promise of solidarity and we end up by letting go, despite worries, perhaps even protests from elsewhere necessarily im—precise of consciousness.

Let us remember what the Israelite wrote in 1822 Piccolo-Tigre, this member of the High Sale, whose we spoke in our previous volume, and the suggestive reflections that he expressed in the letter that we have cited, relating to the influence that we can take from men, just by full of mystery and secrecy.

"It was deemed good and useful to get the ball rolling
"everything that aspires to stir... The main thing is to isolate

"...morals. He is disposed by the slope of his character
"to flee the cares of the household, to run after easy
"forbidden pleasures and joys. He likes big ones

– 50 –

"coffee chats, the idleness of shows. In-<(drag it, drag it, give it importance
"any; discreetly teach him to
"to be bored with his daily work, and, through this
"nege, after separating him from his wife and his children
"children, and showed him how painful
"all duties, you will instill in him the desire for "another existence... When you have insinuated into
"some souls are disgusted with family and religion
"–one almost always follows the other,–
"let go of certain words that will cause
"the desire to be affiliated with the nearest lodge. This '< vanity of the city dweller or the bourgeois to be subservient to "Freemasonry has something so universal–
"but I am always in awe of the stup-
"human pity. I am surprised not to see the
"the whole world is knocking on the door of all Vene-
"rables, and ask these gentlemen the honor of being
"one of the workers chosen for the reconstruction of the "Temple of Solomon. The prestige of the unknown
"exerts such power over men that we
"prepares with trembling for the phantasmagori-
"what tests of initiation and the brotherly banquet
'■(nel. Finding yourself a member of a lodge, feeling in "apart from his wife and children, called to
"keep a secret that we never confide to you,
"is for certain natures a pleasure, an ambi"tion. »

Yet this secret which attracts, can also enlighten
some concerns:

– You are hiding, why? Wouldn't it be

– 51 –

to do evil, to fight the existing government
so much or the religion of the country?

We had something to calm these kinds of fears.

– Have no apprehension, no scruples
in this regard, was the response. Here is the first article which are quite clear: "Freemasonry aims principle of tolerance... It excludes no one for her beliefs... She respects the religious faith of each any of its members... It prohibits in its meetings any discussion on political or religious matters. So neither politics nor religion. It's formal.

-In that case, there's hardly any point in hiding Dear.

-- Think again. It is easier to train men, even to good, by hiding only by showing. Remember what is written: "The left hand must ignore the good that the hand does RIGHT. »

- So nothing to fear from the government, ministers, of the monarch? ...

- What are you saying there! We have princes, ministers and monarchs among us.

And, indeed, it is so. And it was so from the beginning. For what? Let's remember what Piccolo-Tigre wrote on this subject:

"La Haute- Vente wishes that, under some pretext
"or under another, we introduce into the ma- lodges
"sonic the more princes and rich people that we "may. The princes of sovereign houses who "do not have the legitimate hope of being kings through

- 52 -

"grace of God, all want to be so by the grace of a "Revolution... There is no shortage of it in Italy and theirs who aspire to the rather modest honors of
"the symbolic trowel and apron. Flatter all "these ambitions for popularity, monopolize them to " Freemasonry. Haute-Sale will see later
"what she can do with it that is useful to the cause of the ""sandstone... In the meantime, they will serve as glue for the imbe-
"ciles^ to intriguers^ to city dwellers and the needy.
"These poor princes will do our business by believing
"work only on theirs. It's a magnificent "teach, and there will always be fools willing to "compromise in the service of a conspiracy whose
"some prince seems to be the flying buttress. »
Speaking thus, Piccolo-Tiger, member of the High-Sale, i.e. of a Masonic group

sion, but which nevertheless did not occupy the summit of the Masonic building, only indicated the mis- methods that had been transmitted to this higher group laughing by the occult Power.

This is how, by their declaration opening the bears all interpretations as needed, and by the apparent stupidity of the assignment of gaits secret, the founders of Masonry ruled out all suspicions of power, destroyed all trust in the mind of the public, solicited the curious sites and caused adhesions.

– 53 –

INITIAL RECRUITMENT. "^^

THE THREE SPECIES OF INITIATES.
THOSE WHOSE OCCULT POWER DOES NOT WANT.

They even provoked several kinds, among which there could be, from the start, some directly useful to the final goal.

By affirming the spirit of fraternal solidarity, of Christian equality, accompanied by the prohibition any discussion on political or religious matters, they ensured the assistance of a certain number of good souls. This contingent, which would have been absolutely refractory if those who composed it had been able to find out what the association ultimately aimed at, never mind had no less, especially in the early periods, great utility. His presence served to strengthen the trust and increase the blindness of governments nants. Who could conceive a feeling of any distrust against Freemasonry, then who were part of this association of men known for the amenity of their character, the gentleness of their morals, the tranquility of their habits, the honorability of their lives and also the importance of their situation? The mere fact of the presence of such members did it not constitute a sufficient guarantee?

Through philosophical and progressive aspirations sive)) moreover contained, it seemed, in the limits imposed by respect for all religious faith, they sought the attention of those of the Catholics who prided themselves on being the most intelligent and the most illuminated. In this category, the founders of the as-

society hoped to meet these vain people that it would be more or less easy to decatholicize in proceeding with caution and slow evolution required. There was therefore a chance for them to find there, from the beginning of Masonry, some elements likely to later serve the true purpose of a more positive than those whose we previously talked about.

Finally, by the appearance of mystery with which they surround would their nascent society, the creators of France-Masonry were sure to attract-besides fools-ciles intended to constitute the slap, – these intriguers and these needy people that Piccolo-Tiger spoke of: the were worried, turbulent and subversive; the souls te-nebrous than any appearance of mystery, that any shady darkness attracts; those who, ultimately, must one day be the real workers of the revolutions and destruction that had to be prepared while progressive Catholics would seek progress and that fraternal souls would compose hymns to fraternity!

It is not up to the famous and grotesques physical tests which have not been settled in knowledge cause by the founders of Masonry.

We generally imagine that they are useless and even harmful to this institution. This is a serious error. And the proof is that we have maintained them since two centuries soon, despite, as we have already said, the often renewed objurgations of certain Freemasons, even high-ranking ones, who do not understand not useful. In reality, they serve two purposes, them too. They maintain the illusions of governments nants, because they give them one more reason to be convinced of the innocent stupidity of the Masonic association. Furthermore and above all they constitute an obstacle to entry into the lodges of certain elements which are considered by the Power occult as dangerous for him.

The old masons tell us that they represent simply a tradition. But we know how point we must be wary when a Freemason

Freemasonry. Traditions coming from where and by Or? The old masons in question don't even know it not. And then, what would this respect for traditions mean?
among people who declare themselves free from all prejudice
and who, as such, never cease to attack the national traditions?

The truth is that, grotesque as they are,
the tests which precede the initiation form a excellent barrier placed at the entrance to the lodges to defend them against the invasion of certain spirits
skeptical or curious about extraordinary discoveries, on whom it would be difficult to impose, because they are both devoid of imagination and ambition.

Among these some could be extremely dangerous in an association in which all means of action are based on feinting. They could in effectFentrevoir Gigantic proportions of the colossal masonic lie, be interested in it,
seek to realize, oppose ruse to ruse
and end up, over time, approaching the recesses where the

– 56 –

Occult power keeps its true secret. Not only they would be dangerous because they could see;
they would be too and especially because after having seen, they would not fail to speak. They don't wouldn't be the secret. They would have no qualms to that. They would realize that the oath of silence was stolen from them, that they were deceived before to have it lent to them and that, consequently, it is no value. Against the skeptics who do not experience
no other temptation than to make fun of everything, or against the curious minds that are devoured by desire to know everything and understand everything, Power occult could not find anything more effective for his defense than the inept juggling which accompanies the initiation ceremony. Barely laymen belonging to one or the other of these two categories have they contemplated the stupid grimaces that force them to make the Widow the day she receives them for the first time at her house, that they feel humiliated and turn on her the back with contempt. And we never see them frankly again chir the threshold of a lodge. They leave, without suspecting that they missed the deeper problem,
the most exciting to study and also the most formidable
that they could ever meet.
(1 Who are those who face the ridiculous trials definitely needed. smooth classify into the following categories boasts:

1° Ambitious and passionate people, ready for anything in exchange for profit or satisfaction of their ambition or their passions.

– 57 –

2^ The idealistic Imaginatives, quick to dedicate ment, incapable of warning themselves against fraud that they do not suspect, and of whom consequently that the reason can be more or less easily asleep.

3*^ Those whom their good-natured ignorance recommends and their gullible imbecility.

It is among the ambitious that the occult Power recruits its politicians. The more cynical their ambition, the more he appreciates them. On one condition however: it is that cynicism is mixed with the aptitude for hypocrisy which is essential so that appearances are kept kept.

It is among the imaginative idealists that Power occult chooses its preachers. It is mainly for those he proclaims the virtues and sublimities of Freemasonry. They believe it is all the easier ment that they themselves are more sincere, and they sing in turn these virtues and these ma-onics with an enthusiastic and understanding conviction communicative. They are blowing a little from the neighbor swimming of ambitious freemasons, for the appetites of whom they feel only contempt. But they don't walk no less with them, out of dedication to common mother, to "Holy Masonry", that they believe they are as dedicated as they can be themselves to the principles under which it shelters itself and from which it has take care to talk to them constantly. There must arrive hours like the one we are in so that,
singing more than thinking, they retire to their tent,
as Mr. de Mahy did and as so many others have done.

– 58 –

These deluded preachers constitute the truth.
ble defense, the true safeguard of Masonry.
Idealists, they make people believe in their idealism; loyal, to appears in what we call the high grades. What-even some are attracted into some of the groupements of superior and invisible Masonry. Those of these groups to which they are given access are presented to them, once they are there, as the tabernacle, the holy of holies, the place where the soul throbs true Masonry. It is important, in fact, that these preachers, these apostles, believe themselves to be at the summit of the Masonic building. They have to assume above the ambitious whom they despise. He is indispensable that they consider the latter as simple mercenaries, unworthy, but indispensable, of the sublime religion of which they themselves are the pontifes. Thanks to the illusion in which they are entertained on this point, they agree to cover these ambitious people. They don't suspect do not try that these can be introduced by the Occult power in other groups of Mason-upper nery; groups where we glimpse, otherwise this what the Widow really is, at least the organization formidable that it has and the power that is the consequence ; where consequently we give ourselves more so much more completely to it that we have more steps ions and vices, because we feel the possibility that we will have to satisfy some and nourish others, provided that the abandonment that one will have made of one's conscience is absolute.

As for the fools who are admitted in such a big way

– 59 –

number in Freemasonry, and among whom the “intellectuals” appear in the first rank, they consplash the puddle, a first-rate slap because that she too is fanaticized. In the latter category fall more than ninety percent French Freemasons.

Everyone we just talked about accepts to submit to physical tests; the ambitious, out of ambition, despite their repugnance, and fools because of their imbecility. He is coming although the idealists protest. I've seen a lot in this case. But we calm them down by telling them that Vol-The author himself consented to undergo these trials, inheriting traditional and moreover purely symbolic. This is enough for them to consent, too, trained or at least reduced to silence by the example of

Voltaire As for those who do not accept – because there are quite a few – the occult Power deprives itself without regret of their services.

Everything is planned, and nothing is useless. All is done on purpose, even what appears to be inunderstandably ridiculous in the eyes of the observerunwary person. And that is why we say: not alone-
all this cannot be attributed to chance;
but also those who combined such a set of measures, so childish, it seems, but so well coordinated data in their apparent puerility to resolve in the long term the difficulties which seemed to no longer insoluble, these were certainly not not their first attempt when they founded France Masonry. They had experience, certainly

– 60 –

very long, from the secret society; experience that they should, either from their origin or from the conditions par-particularities of their existence, or to these two reasons to that time.

This is a very important point that we must remember, to study later in a rational way
the answer to this question: Who imagined the Masonic creation?

CHAPTER III

Method of transmission of wishes of occult Power.

We do not give orders in Freemasonry.

IMPOSSIBILITY WHERE WERE FOUND
THE FOUNDERS OF FREEMASONRY
TO PROCEED WITH THEIR FOLLOWERS BY IMPERATIVE METHOD.

If it was necessary for the founders of France to Masonry had the experience of secret societies
to imagine the organization that we have depicted,
even greater experience was essential to them and for the maneuver of the body for the use of-which they condemned themselves.

It is necessary, it is true, now that we know the means to which they found themselves reduced, namely also the goal to which they aimed.

Today we have proof that the destruction of the Catholic spirit is not the total goal of Freemasonry. This proof results from the fact that the religious tradition of France being completely eliminated from our government organization itself, the effort of destruction is turned from another side. It is about the ideas of property, family and homeland that we are attacking. So the destruction of the state

– 62 –

Catholic in spirit was not all we wanted. However, due to the persistence with which he was evidence so far against him, we are at the very least sure that it was necessary to start by tackling him before undertaking the rest of the work.

We can therefore safely accept as evidence that the occult Power founded the Freemasonry for the destruction of the state of France. He did not found it for that alone, but he founded it to first achieve this destruction which was essential to him.

This established, we will recall that the first rule of the proper functioning of a society is that, its goal being specified, all the means of action that it possesses are coordinated with a view to achieving this aim.

The means of action available to Freemasonry were, from the beginning, limited by conditions that we determined during our study of the secret organization of this association (1).

As the reader remembers, the masonic was subject to the following necessities: it had to guarantee both the invisibility of the occult, that of its goal, that of the direction it took precedence over all the groups and that of the mechanism by which the possibility of this direction. Or, at least, all this had to be-

(1) See the second part of the Occult Poissin against In

– 63 –

would die hidden from the profane public and the mason public-fuck, until the work whose creation was pursued had become a fait accompli or inevitable.

All the cogs – as we have seen – tend well
let it be so. We will now assess to what extent the processes used for the start-up are in perfect relation with the data of the problem to be solved.

Since the aim of Freemasonry is the destruction of a state of mind and the replacement of it
him by another in the conditions that we have say, it goes without saying that this Freemasonry is not not an action agency. It is an educational organization cation; organism that presents this particularity that he must not discover the educators. Such a condition would become unrealizable, we understand, if the general system of the Masonic organization includes carried orders given by certain followers and executors cut by others. Where would these orders come from? We would see it well. So no occult Power possible by such a method of transmission of wills.
So we never give orders in France.
masonry. This is a fact that is generally ignored, although that it is of capital importance.

Of capital importance, we say, because we Here we touch on one of the most difficult points to understand.
take into the question of occult Power.

The great objection that is usually made to those which affirm the existence of such a Power is this:

– To have one's wishes carried out, one must that a Power gives orders. But by giving

– 64 –

orders, he reveals himself to those to whom he gives them. SO the existence of an occult Power is impossible.
It can only exist in a dream state.

This reasoning, which seems so accurate
goureuse, is absolutely false because its point
of departure is itself false.

It is in fact in no way true that we are obliged to give orders to carry out his wishes.

Suppose that some Power had formed the project of establishing its authority not on material force-rielle because she does not own it, but on intellectual means; that for this, she tells herself completely fakes behind certain ideas; what is ideas are chosen expressly to directly undermine ment or indirectly all the powers that may oppose his march; that at the same time they flat-tempt the people and deceive them so that these, while giving oneself to them with love, with frenzy, surrender themselves to the Power which is its proponent pagandist, like the bird, taking a feed offered, gives himself up to the fowler who set the trap for him; suppose that this Power has the constancy of work for years and periods of years born to the making of such a state of mind; that she ar-shore, by gradually accentuating its efforts, to create a sort of religion, a fanaticism which has as its aim natural sequence that the acts she wants to see occur produce are indeed accomplished, and with fervor, by those she fanaticized; it is certain that this power sance will be all the more sure of carrying out its plans by such a method that she will have been able to better conceal them

– 65 –

1st and that, no one having suspected them, no one neither will they have thought of obstructing it. In this hypothesis, the occult Power will find itself established without that we noticed it, without being careful and while those who contributed the most to it will have believed they were working for the ideal. The difficulty of operation, in this case, will not have been found where we generally imagines that it is. The Power Oc-worship will not have had to look for a way to give orders without revealing themselves, which is impossible. He will have simply had to impose the patient methods born necessary to create or cause to be created the state of mind, the ligion, the fanaticism which will have the inevitable consequence table that his secret views are fulfilled without him have to give orders for this.

But let us remember that the unknown founders of Freemasonry were located precisely in a situation such that they were obliged to resort to such a method. We saw that to arrive to carry out their secret plans, they had to locate college where followers would be gathered who, by fraud and by lie, we would secretly draw up with a view to this goal: the substitution of the reigning opinion of another opinion which had to be fabricated through falsification successive and progressive tions of the old. »

It is obviously not by orders given that we can achieve such a result. And it's precisely why we do not give orders in the Freemason. As I have already said and repeated many times since the start of my campaign, I have not

— m —

never received orders during the six years that I spent in this Company. I never gave any. I have never seen any Freemason give one or receive, except in a certain case of which I will talk about everything on time. It is by suggestion that we act. We apply the method which is indicated in the following lines—boasts of the Masonic Reception: "A summons official coming from Masonry is doomed to abort—is lying. We must use individual influences quite differently. Individuals carefully covered. » So no gold—dres; no "official summons". Suggestions—tions; "individual influences carefully covered" which act under the hidden inspiration of Occult power, often unconsciously, but constantly and in the same direction, thanks to the mechanism nism that we have depicted; and this, during as many months, as many years, as many periods years it takes for states to be created spirit that we need.

It is necessary to emphasize this point, first because this is how the possibility of functioning of occult Power; then because that this is unknown to the public and that the knowledge of this fact is, however, of great importance to point of view of the choice of methods of combating Freemasonry.

— 67 —

FREEMASONRY WAS NOT CONSTITUTED FOR BE AN ACTION LEAGUE, BUT A SCHOOL OF PREPARATION FOR ACTION.

Only those, in fact, will understand well the mode of combat of the occult Power and will find oppose him with an effective method and weapons, which will realize that if, at certain very rare times like those where we are, Masonry has for instructions to act, most of the time, for two hundred years, its sole task, on the contrary, was to prepare for hours of sudden and rapid action, by long periods of propaganda, falsification of opinion, creating new states of mind, in using all means, but above all by hiding how the occult Power hides itself from of her. She has no other means of action and she can succeed only on the condition of these very long periods preparation by suggestions.

It is so true that, out of four major examples that we now have action taken at home under his inspiration for one hundred and twenty years, we see the Freemasons managed twice to seize the France, but also fail twice. The two actions who succeeded and who are the Revolution and the invader—currently, were preceded by periods of preparation very long time. The preparation periods had on the contrary been insufficient in both circumstances tances where Masonry failed: in 1848 and in 1871.

Before allowing oneself the famous phrase: "The house is mine, it's up to you to get out! » Tartuffe

— 68 —

must wait until those from whom he intends to make his victims are completely blinded or paralyzed as a result of its pitfalls. If it is discovered too early, it is lost.

However, Tartuffe is the exact personification of Pousee occult and Freemasonry. We noticed—we will see to what extent in the chapters which follow, where we will closely study the methods used in the Lodges.

We could even go further and say that the true role of Freemasonry is only to prepare periods of action and step aside when the hour of these periods has come. She trains men with a view to certain acts, like training dogs for a certain hunt. She makes their ceramics of the sorts of mechanisms obeying

When he thinks the favorable moment has come, he let go of the dogs that were kept at the Masonic kennel, sure in advance that they will rush on the game at the pursuit of which they were trained. Or, if you want, he sets in motion the spring of the brains that he has previously miserably transformed into unconscious mechanisms. No more Masonic meetings then. It's no more time. Freemasonry will thus escape the responsibilities; which gives it this advantage: that if necessary, she can start again. THE escapees from the lodges then take any name; such, however, that it conceals their Masonic quality. They will call themselves Jacobins, Septembriseurs, Montagnards, terrorists, Thermidorians, communards, opportunists, radicals, blockards..., this or the other thing, it doesn't matter, as long as it's not freemasons. They will appear to act freely; in reality, they will be pushed, like the hallucinated of an order any by their hallucination, and the hypnotized by the operator who put them to sleep. Whatever they do, some crimes they commit under the influence of this hallucination, Freemasonry will be able to say, once the crisis has passed and thanks to the precaution it will have taken to temporarily cancel the meetings Masonic: It's not me, it's them! And per- sound will only suspect it, that is to say the Pou-see occult, will have acted by them, in them, due to the travail of intellectual and moral distortion that we will study soon, which is continued previously for twenty, thirty, fifty years if necessary. In the absence of this preparatory work, no Power possible occult. And this is why the knowledge of this particularity is of immense importance.

- 69 -

REASONS FOR THE CURRENT TRANSFORMATION OF THE

FRENCH FREEMASONRY

IN ACTION LEAGUE, BUT

ALWAYS EXCLUDING THE IMPERATIVE METHOD.

HOW IS THIS POSSIBLE.

We generally do not have this idea of the method Masonic; and this is partly due to the fact that we let's see the sect actually act in the current period

told us that it acted at other times, for example

– 70 –

pie in 1793, without explaining to us how. It suits to specify that in 1793, in 1830, in 1848, in 1871, the things happened as we have just explained quer. Masonry released its dogs without holding them leash. She has changed her method in our time, but it's for the first time. She was brought by the observation that the Freemasons of the past, a once released on the country, had quite naturally allowed to be carried away by the ardor of their temperament previously overexcited to the extreme; they had everything ravaged, and the need for reaction had arisen followed. The occult Power thought it wiser to keep those today under the lash. He forces them to return to the Masonic kennel every evening. We let us say that it obliges the free-standing deputies and senators masons to only act at the Palais-Bourbon and in the Senate in accordance with what is decided in the boxes under his inspiration. He can thus measure the blows of which he hits France. He proceeds with calculated slowness, so as to avoid the effect of feedback shocks. It is an advantage that he created for himself there.

But this way of doing things also has its drawback—deny. She allowed us to take the Franc-Ma—in fact, to see it and to show it in action tion, to ask ourselves what pushes her to act, to put us on the trail of the occult Power itself. So that, if it is not too late, if we can open the eyes of all of France to time, he will finally find himself disarmed, by this only that he will be unmasked.

To return to the absence of orders which characterizes

– 71 –

the Masonic method, we must note that this method is observed even in present times. Although the occult Power considered it born necessary to hold its deputies and senators in their hands Freemasons, he believes that his entire system of attack that against the nations resulting from Catholicism is found—would be compromised if orders appeared. This is the impersonality, the irresponsibility that he must guarantee first of all. It is the domination of the invisible that he no orders directly given, which would constitute traces allowing us to go back to the source. Instead of orders, "individual influences carefully covered", according to the procedure indicated by the imprudent Masonic Review. Or even the act-indirectly exercised, by means of circulation confidential information of the type that which we saw Masonry put the francs-masons, senators, deputies and ministers "at the foot of the wall" by holding them "by their own interest". f*^', We therefore never expressly enjoin these de^l) Freemasons, senators and ministers to vote and to act in this or that way. No "sum-official notices" are not addressed to them on the eve of each act of their political life. For the idiots to delay without proceeding or to proceed by direct orders correctly given, the occult Power took care to begin by elevating them to power under conditions tions such as they have become, by force of circumstances, his mercenaries. If they value their interests, they are in the obligation to do what the occult Power de-sir that they do, without him needing to tell them. But they care about it, their interests. The occult power have no doubt about that. He knows them; First of all because he distorted their character by using organ nism that he created expressly for this; then because that he instilled in them principles such as satisfaction tion of their appetites has become their only law. It is through Masonry alone that they arrived, thanks that the means at its disposal have been put to use their service. They know that. They also know that without she, they would fall back "into the nothingness from which she drawn." So they must walk as she wants, that is to say as the occult Power wants. They don't can afford some independence without expose themselves to being immediately broken and replaced by more submissive neophytes.

- 12 -

Through the discussions that take place in the boxes and the conventions, discussions that the occult Power do-mine - we have seen how - the francs-ma-sons, senators, deputies and ministers, must understand take, without the need to weigh on each from them, what is the policy that Masonry wants see them serve. Only in certain circumstances-tances that we take the trouble to bring them together for clarification ser the line they have to follow. If they don't understand tends to them, we reduce them to mercy, but always without that injunctions be addressed to them personally ment. This is what happened to the F.-. Morinaud, former deputy of Algeria. Or we go range to annihilate them, as we did for the

- 73 -

F.-. F.-, from Mahy, Doumer, Millerand and so many others very whose history the public does not know. If the Masonnerie doesn't give orders, she still has sanctions at its disposal, and it comes all the more easily overcome the refractories only if necessary all the means are good to him. There is none in front of the- which it retreats, when circumstances allow it attempt or require it.

This is how due to the preparation work accomplished by the occult Power for thirty years, and because of this alone, we are aware of it tually to the point that the President of the Republic blique, even if he is not a Freemason is obliged to obey Freemasonry, just as if he were, under penalty of being filed. And that, quite simply because around the first magistracy of the country like around everything else in France were created the conditions we were talking about earlier.

A president, in fact, no longer achieves the presidency than by Masonry, except in absolutely exceptions which can obviously present themselves, who could at least a few years ago- born. Without it, he would instantly fall back, like the vulgar deputies, senators and ministers, in the nothingness from which it was most often taken. It turns out that therefore in this alternative vis-à-A'is de la Franc-Masonry: submit or resign. And all- days without any order being given to him.

Let's take the case of Mr. Loubet as an example. Was the former President a Freemason or was he not? it not? The fact is controversial. In reality, he has no importance. Since the Power occult held him, it was better that M Loubet was not not a freemason. It was less compromising. Gold he held it by the masonic parliamentary majority to hush up. He held him because of his character which fully revealed the role played by him at one o'clock occult had seen his Loubet there at work in the affair do Arton. He had drawn up his psychological sheet. He had judged how far complacency could go of the savior of checkbooks, and that all that is necessary should sign, he would sign it. Was there a pact concluded between the Occult Power and Mr. Loubet before was he pushed to the Presidency? It would have been imprudent tooth, and it was by no means necessary. It was enough that the president was bound by his interests, that he knew that the day after the day he refused a signature, his wages would be taken away. Let's even admit, out of consideration for the hidden virtues of Mr. Loubet, that in the decisive hours he was made to understand by serving as "individual influences carefully covered" that if he did not sign, we would put on his places a much worse president than him. It's possible. We thus provided him with a pretext to give criminal signatures, signatures of treason,... out of devotion to the country. The evil-happy president signed with mixed ink of tears, we were told several times; of tears that undoubtedly contributed to quickly drying the dust golden hourglass of the presidential hourglass. It's because Mr. Loubet gave all the signatures which allowed him been asked that he remained at the Elysée as long as he desired. But never direct orders. The dignity of Mr. Loubet would only have had to revolt!...

- 75 -

With regard to the case of Mr. Loubet, let us now nating that of Mr. Gasimir-Pérrier. This second example is all the more significant because exceptionally it was not in Freemasonry that Mr. Casimir-Pérrier owed his elevation. The impressionability of senators and deputies the day after the assassination de Carnot had prevailed over the suggestions that the occult Power could only hastily throw away, while this method of suggestions requires forced-time as an essential element. It is to this impressionability, temporarily overexcited, that the election of Mr. Casimir-Pérrier was due.

Now there were several reasons why the new president could not be the docile servant of Power occult. The first of all was that Mr. Casimir-Pérrier, enjoying a great situation of fortune and in possession of the first magistracy of the Republic, had nothing more to aspire to. In these by chance a president placed in such conditions had managed to realize that everyone was still unaware then: the plot hatched against the France, what role was offered to him! What a temptation to accept the risks and responsibilities, if was by chance a man of character! And in this case, what danger for the occult Power, which could be brought back to the situation in which he found himself the time of the presidency of Marshal Mac-Mahon and who risked, this time, not getting out of trouble as he had done! The occult Power judged that Mr. Casimir-Périer was not a man to submit; he therefore only had to maneuver to force it to move put. This is what he did. And that is why, from the first days of his arrival in power, without moreover that we can explain why, the popularity was lacking in the new president. From the first my days, be sure, all the occult forces, all "individual influences carefully covered" worked against him in the shadows, in silence and secrecy. We don't suspect it not, but it is by these occult forces that are made or that are prevented from gaining popularity. We know moreover in certain circles that, from the start, the exercise of power was made impossible for Mr. Casimir-Périer. The occult Power thus forced him to the resignation. This is undoubtedly the main reason for the sudden retirement of this president. Unable to replace play his role, feeling thwarted, prevented, stopped in everything, he took the opportunity to leave as soon as she presented, without realizing that he was deserting in somehow a position that the right one had entrusted to him Genius of France and that he abandoned his homeland to the enemy who held her by the throat.

– 76 –

It is the same for ministers, senators and deputies as was the case with Mr. Loubet, Mr. Casimir-Périer, and as it is with Mr. Fallières, this president drawn, like its predecessor, from the nothingness of which people speak Masonic circulars. Submit or deput, and always without orders being given, this is the alternative imposed on them all. Perdoes not sound going to say to one or the other of them:

– 11 –

constancy", or: "you will put such and such a ballot in the ballot box during such an election." If this can happen sometime times, it is because Masonic domination is currently so well established that we arrive at ne- ignore precautions. The process generally involves folded is the one we said. By management given to the discussions of lodges, congresses and conventions, we inform the deputies, senators and Freemason ministers what is masonic policy conic. It is declared that this is the only one that can serve a good mason. Now, you have to be good ma- çon; or else, park "at the back of the wall"! And even, we don't go that far. Because we must not expose ourselves to this that there is a question of Freemasonry in the secular world. We are using a subterfuge. One says : This is what republican policy must be. only that a true republican can serve. And it is enough- caused this slogan to circulate so that then, at only call from a qualified brother, at the first sign of distress executed by him, everything happens as if a orderly had gone to carry a sealed order from the Grand Orient to each of the senators, deputies and ministers freemasons. They don't have to be told twice. Just one is enough. They know too well what their cost a simple distraction. On one occasion which is not too far from us, the F.-. Lafforre, pre- resident of the Council of the Order, exclaimed from the top of the tribune: "In their vote, the Republic will recognize his ! »And all the frank deputies and senators- masons understood what F.-.Lafferre meant. They ensured that in their vote, Masonry, and not the Republic, recognized in each of them one of hers and that she continued to force-feed him.

- 78 -

We have, moreover, given in the third part of the Occult Power against France of the documents which leave no doubt about the subjection absolute freedom of senators, deputies and ministers in France Masonry, behind which we now know what the occult Power is hiding; and we were able note the nature of the means by which this su- jction is assured.

AN EXCEPTION TO THE RULE.

ORDERS GIVEN

THE CASE OF F.-. MORINAUD.

'We were talking earlier about the F.-. Morinaud. Allow us to recall his case. He is one of rare where there was a precise order, a repeated order of the Council of the Order. Even if this order was not given to the F.-. Morinaud to order him to act in this or that sense, it was addressed to the Venerable of the lodge of which this F.- was a part. It is worth noting that this exception occurred in a circumstance where the Jewish cause was seriously engaged. It was enough for the Council of the Order to lose its head and let himself go to act of authority, not only despite the rule of caution that we observe without it needing to be written, but again, as we will see, in violation, on certain point, general regulations. So deep is the feeling, and close the bond by which the soul masonic is united with the Jewish soul! Note that there is no article in the Masonic statutes which prohibits expressly anti-Semitism. On this serious subject, silence and mystery! In Masonry, there are certain things we never talk about. These are often those which we hold most dear. I have experienced some masonic anti-Semitic lessons and I was able to see that we never ordered them not to be. We left them free. But, a revealing circumstance! Although they had all the skills required to become deputies or senators, and although they were devoured of the desire to be, we took care to always forget.

– 79 –

The case of F.-. Morinaud was special. GOOD that he was an anti-Semite, he had become an MP because he had benefited from the storm of anti-Semitism which stirred all of Algeria. This storm was such that France Algerian masonry, carried away by the formidable movement, escaped for a moment from the directions spiritual centers of the metropolis and became, at least in part tie, anti-Semitic like everyone else. Cam- The electoral campaign of 1898 was particularly hot, we remember it, in our colony. Morinaud was elected as an anti-Semite, with the support of his lodge, anti-Semite like him.

An anti-Semitic Freemason elected deputy with the ap-

It was the abomination of desolation in the Temple of Jerusalem, and also in that of Hiram!

An example was needed; an example that all Freemasons could meditate, in order to learn to stay on the right track, or get back there if they were out; but an example which remained so invisible as possible to the profane world, the latter not having to know whether there is or is not a link between the Judaism and Masonry.

Under the suggestion of the occult Power, the Convent and the Council of the Order agreed that Morinaud would be hit. But how? They could not invoke to query against him any article of the regulations since these are silent on anti-Semitism. They didn't have at their disposal that this famous principle of tolerance and respect for any religious faith that is enshrined in statutes alongside other lies. But the F.-. Morinaud having noted that this principle was letter dead when it came to Catholics, could legislate timely object that there was no reason for that it was not the same when it came to Jews. He was shown how things should be understood. Under the influence of suggestions re-hanged in the boxes, the Council of the Order, pushed by the Convent, began a correspondence with the Venerable of the Union and Progress lodge to bring the latter to have his workshop initiate a masonic to F.-. Morinaud. The Venerable replied that it was impossible for him to act like this, that he had no not the right, because none of the charges provided for by the regulations could not be invoked against Morinaud. He added that this brother was a perfect anticlerical, since his marriage had been purely civil and that none of his children were baptized; that he was an excellent republican, since he always voted like the F.-. Brisson. The F.-. Morinaud shows himself only anti-Semitic trait. But where was the article? Masonic statutes which prohibited anti-semitic tism? Under these conditions, the regulations oppose know what the F.-. Morinaud was indicted.

that anti-Catholicism and republicanism do not do not cover the entire Masonic program. Obviously-pushed by very pressing influences, he leaves tit of the usual rules of caution. He forgot the tac-fundamental tic of the order, which consists of proceeding by suggestions and not by orders given suddenly ment. Retreating behind the Convent which, said-he had clearly manifested his will, he declared by letter to the Venerable of the Union et Progrès lodge that if the F.-. Morinaud was not indicted, the lodge would be put to sleep. This was the order given in violation of the regulations. But it was about the in-Jewish interest!

On the advice of Morinaud himself, the lodge gave in, thinking it was the best way to end it. She therefore indicted Morinaud. She imagined that she would be free to absolve him since it is it was her who had the right to judge him, and she believed having prevailed over the Council of the Order when, after examination of the facts, and by a judgment rendered following Masonic forms, judgment supported on seven pages of recitals and pronounced unanimously nimity of its members, it would have declared Morinaud innocent hundred.

- 82 -

The Council of the Order did not take this for granted. He wanted anti-Semitism to be defeated and he did not necessary for this. He broke by his own authority the judgment of the Union et Progrès lodge, he appealed before a Masonic jury on which he could count, and he succeeded in convicting the F.-. Morinaud to five years of exclusion from Freemasonry, not as anti-Jewish - such frankness could have compromise Masonry and, who knows? maybe also the occult Power, - but as clerical and reactionary, which was absolutely contrary to the truth.

After which, the Council of the Order maneuvered to that the F.-. Morinaud was not re-elected deputy, - this in which he succeeded, - and so that anti-Semitism was extirpated from the Algerian lodges, - which has since long a fait accompli.

I had in my hands the official documents of this pro-these. They believe that things happened as they did

Therefore, except in absolutely exceptional cases like this one, where the Jewish cause was at stake, not of orders given in Freemasonry. It's a spring ciple which the reader must imbibe, some idea opposite that he has had until now.

After the developments that we have just seen provide to establish that in Freemasonry we do not does not proceed by orders that some give and that the others execute, which would make it absolutely impossible the existence and functioning of a Power occult, we will point out a particularity which cons- provides a so to speak material proof of our demonstration.

– 83 –

' This proof results from the fact that among the articles of the statutes of Masonry which establish the categories of Masonic offenses as well as the penalties associated with annuities to each of these categories, none talks about punishments to be imposed for refusal or absence execution of orders received; while on the contrary the most severe penalties available are re- used for "infidelity to Masonic principles". This is a particularity whose meaning does not could escape no one. There are no penalties provided against refusal of obedience to orders, because orders are never given.

The nature of the penalties reserved for those who show thirty guilty of "infidelity to Masonic principles- "niques" itself provides corroboration of our exposed ! Call to order, reprimand, suspension and finally exclusion: this is what Freemasonry punishes delinquent or infidel Freemasons. She rejects, purely and simply. They push back the suggestion? She pushes them away in turn.

Is it so in the mysterious spheres which en- develop occult Power more or less closely? I would be careful not to assert this. I think I cons- considered contrary examples. It is, moreover, im- possible that it could be otherwise. Without that, the real ones, the deep secrets, those of the origin and purpose of there

– 84 –

Freemasonry would have been known for a long time.
But since external Freemasonry,
that which is recruited directly from the professional world fane is an education association, it makes sense that the sorrows there be those of which we have just spoken ler and it would be illogical if they were other. It is because they are such and it is because everything is holds admirably in the Masonic organization that the reader must convince himself of what he has without doubt and quite naturally started by being surprised, namely: Do not give orders in France
Masonry.

IMPORTANCE OF THE FACT WHICH WE HAVE JUST REPORTED.

Knowledge of this particularity tells us
let's just now and we insist on it in a way
very particular, is essential from a practical point of view.
tick.

If, in fact, Freemasonry is an organism
education and not action, but an organization of education tending towards action, struggle, war intellectual, it is through the creation of analytical organisms
logues that we have a chance to fight advantageously—lies against her.

The associations that we organize would not be
they as action organizations, electoral or otherwise,
without their members having been trained by an education
prior cation tending to make them aware of the adversary which faces them everywhere without them noticing it

— 85 —

receive? So these associations will fight in the empty, as we have done for a century.

Are they, on the contrary, only organisms
of education, without this education tending towards action, to the struggle, to the war against that which constantly tends to action, struggle and war against France
and against the traditions which are the sources of his life?
So whatever agitation they give themselves, whatever zeal that they deploy, they will let France perish and
and its traditions, because they will not strike on those who, on the contrary, are only busy striking.

The knowledge of the fact that we have just put

She makes us understand that, not being able to give of orders, the occult Power, condemned to proceed as we will show, needs long spaces of time to achieve its ends.

We can use this time to organize the struggle.

Will we succeed in opening the eyes of the nation? whole? If we succeed, will it still be time, once this part of the task is accomplished, that France prepares its defense? Will she not not too far into the monster's mouth? Is the for us the really distressing question, especially if we think about the difficulties we experience well, difficulties of all kinds which oppose this that the necessary assistance and resources be brought together necessary for the organization of this propaganda and this anti-Masonic teaching in the absence of—that there is no salvation possible.

SECOND PART

The mode of action of the occult Power.
Selections. Suggestions.

CHAPTER IV'

Masonic selections.

Precautions taken so that information is given in the workshops is bearing fruit.

FREEMASONRY EDUCATION SOCIETY.

The occult Power cannot transmit its wishes in an imperative manner, we have to study deny the process he uses to force the French Masons to serve his purposes.

For this he adopted a system of selections and of suggestions combined in such an ingenious way denier than perfidious and which are made possible thanks to the superposition of secret societies which characterizes the Masonic organization.

these words. They contain the secret of the power of Occult power.

Select subjects deemed suitable to receive certain suggestions, feed them with them, once this first preparation completed, operate among them new selections with a view to other suggestions, continue in the same way by impregnating more and more individuals of ideas whose reign is essential to achieving the goal in question to reach, eliminate followers recognized as unfit to the service, or at least not to overtake them—ser the degree to which they have arrived: this is the method that the occult Power invented for the Freemasonry, the only one that this association can use in due to the conditions in which it was constructed titled. So much so that if we found a way to remove the possibility of selections and suggestions in the workshops, we would eliminate the Freemasonry itself, we would cut off the arms of the Pousee occult.

Freemasonry is therefore nothing else that a secret society which tends towards pro-deformation progression of intelligences by means of selections and suggestions combined for this purpose.

These suggestions emanate from the occult Power, which passes them into higher Freemasonry, from where they descend into the lower Masonries to then be spread throughout the secular world.

It is through these suggestions that the occult Power invisibly proceeds with the slow destruction of states of mind which create obstacles to his progress and which he replaces them with those he considers essential to the future realization of his secret goal.

— 89 —

He absorbs Masonry in this preparatory work for periods of years as long as circumstances require. More than fifty years have been thus employed in the preparation of the Revolution and more than seventy to that of the current situation. During these periods, we only take care of only one thing: to drive home the suggestions of a progressively in the intelligences, and we leave quite naturally for this, principles that we contradictions which have been deliberately left in the declaration of these principles. We pass in silence some of these. On the contrary, we insist on the contrary. Little by little we accentuate the suggestions in the intended meaning, we make them more and more demanding, violating slow, despotic, so that those who are impregnated become real fanatics. While this work is carried out inside the lodges, the members of these perform the same maneuver in the secular world. It's only after this accomplished task that the Freemasons do not smacks of propaganda into action. They then appear serve the free opinion of the majority of citizens. In reality, they only obey the state of mind they have created after him who was created in themselves, and so, without them knowing it and without them being able to know it- see the crowds hypnotized like them and by them, the whole nation acts in accordance with what the Occult power, inventor and organizer of immense maneuver.

Freemasonry, we have said, is not a league of action, but its teaching tends to train men of action. It tends even more to train apostles. It is true that the apostles are the true men of action of certain eras, precisely because their preaching is the only possible action in these times. This was the case at moment when the occult Power founded the Franc-Masonry, and that is why it was formed as we have just said. What else logic ?

- 90 -

Not being an action league is thanks to what Freemasonry had so far been able to avoid all responsibilities.

If, at present, we can get our hands on her, while for two hundred years she was managed to always pass for something else than what it was, if we arrive at this result that have never been able to reach the anti-Masons of the times previous and which is the beginning of its ruin, it is because those who direct it, those who constitute kill the occult power were brought by the reasons that we have said, to transform it since few years in the action league, she who had not been

"Be a Freemason," said Bro. Laf iron on the banquet of the Convent of 1903 is to be an apostle. »

If we select and suggest both Freemasonry is, in fact, to create apostle-people who exercise their spirit of proselytism to all the levels of the Masonic hierarchy, as well as in the profane world. It is therefore a word to keep that

- 91 -

that of F.-. Laf ferre, because she gives us one of the secrets of the method of occult Power.

When you are not an apostle, to be a mason is to be aspirating apostle. It's always the F.-. Lafîerre who learns it, in one of these oratorical developments where Masonry is magnified falsely and with the usual presumption, but which is not less revealing.

"There are men in Masonry," he said,
who arrive at the fullness of freedom in-intellectual and moral; there are others that we know likely to free themselves, and these are the elders, this are the masters, they are the companions who free the apprentice whispered little by little. This is how the big one battalion of free thinkers is formed, this is how Masonry becomes the educator of humanity, and this is how she sees her ranks growing every day;
this is how every day, through improvement intellectual and moral of the individual, it takes that who, left to his own devices, would perhaps have remained
the prisoner of reaction and clericalism, and who,
thanks to your help, through moral improvement that determines the institution, tomorrow becomes your equal, become an apostle as powerful as you, comes one of the masters of Masonry at the same time
as one of the educators of democracy. »

Replace certain expressions with others:
example put "destruction of all discipline
moral and intellectual" where there is "perfection-ment", put "Corrupting Freemasonry"
where there is "Educating Freemasonry" and you fulfills the occult Power within the workshops of all grade. We now have proof of this by the extraordinary production of scandals, of shames, vices and crimes which is the consequence of the establishment of Masonic Power in France. But above all, put "subjugation to Power occult" where there is "intellectual emancipation" because this is especially what the work undertaken aims at through the intermediary of the blind who imagine themselves to seduce and spread light. It is enough, in fact, to go a little deeper into things to see that the so-called intellectual emancipation, both from a religious point of view as well as from a political point of view and from a social point of view, tends purely and simply, as we have already said, to the destruction of the organizations and all the forces that constitute through their coordination existing social bodies, and which thereby establish insurmountable barriers against the secret enterprises of Power occult. These barriers, he had to destroy them or that he remained powerless. And that's why he invented the word liberate to cover the work of preparation to enslavement.

- 92 -

I We will study the details of the operation such that it is practiced in Freemasonry.

AUTOMATIC SELECTION BY ELIMINATION VOLUNTARY.

We explained how and why Freemasonry in its beginnings saw people sitting on the columns of its temples of peaceful men incapable of admitting the idea of preparing a any attack against the national religion or against traditional government. But she can will also attract others, as we have explained: the worried, the discontented, the ambitious, and all those who were tired of Catholic discipline or who were irritated by the constraints imposed by the organization political and social nization. All the tactics of Occult power or, more precisely, that which it suggests managed to the intermediaries through whom he was obliged to act, should consist of using the good reputation followers of the first category and to discourage as little as possible those of the second. Because if the presence for some constituted a necessary protection, it was recruit the real workers of the "great work".

– 93 –

This initial composition of the boxes imposed by the necessities that Power had to face occult called for correction. Since she introduced into the workshops men who, because of their character and their temperament, should always remain resistant to any subversive teaching, it was to any necessity that the occult Power could get rid of get rid of those when he wants. He provided by the system of successive selections.

Among these there is one whose character is very particular, because it is exercised in a way constant, and so to speak automatically, in because of the ease with which they can move away of Masonry the Freemasons who have ceased to enjoy it. The occult Power has indeed taken care of not put up any obstacle to their exit. Who-conch not found in Freemasonry what he imagined he would encounter there did not even to make the gesture of resignation. It can be to no longer appear in the lodge and not to pay his contributions. We crossed it out, after a reminder which remained unanswered. answer, and all is said. This is how things happen-smells very frequently.

– 94 –

As, on the contrary, certain precautions are taken to defend the entrance to the lodges, we can say that the exhaust port is wider than the one of introduction and thus, the rejection of rejects takes place kills in the most natural way. ' ' "^^

In fact, a first selection is made at the moment even where a layman is lured into a box. It results from the fact that this profane person is previously observed by at least one Freemason who gives him the first openings because he knows him.

This selection is necessarily imperfect since it is left to the care of each follower. This one operates with his zeal, intelligence and insight quoted. Now, it is far from that all the children of the Widow be intelligent and insightful. Moreover, they ignore are the true plans of the occult Power. They don't know than what was revealed to them, that is to say nothing or little close. And again, this nothing varies, not only with freemason recruiter is limited in short to attracting in Freemasonry those of his friends of whom he considers the state of mind as corresponding to the

– 95 –

his own. A triple investigation is made by others members of Tatelier on the profane thus proposed. Questions are addressed to him. Finally he is made to undergo the ridiculous physical tests which have the usefulness that we have pointed out.

Recruitment carried out under similar conditions is necessarily as mediocre as that of the first highest lodges, having regard to the aim that Freemasonry must achieve. But the correction resulting from the elimination voluntary nation intervenes immediately, and it is to produce its effect at the discretion of Power occult.

At the discretion of the occult Power, we say, because this one is always free to activate more or less the game of this elimination mechanism. For this he only has to accentuate in this or that direction the teaching that it distributed. Those to whom this modification displeases, leave Freemasonry. This is how, without as one might suspect, the ease with which a franc-mason ceases to be a mason contributes, in itself, and in to a large extent, to the selection as desired Occult power, and this without the need for it to never show up.

Two interesting particularities to point out per-will make the reader realize this.

Lay people have become aware of certain defects resounding actions that have taken place for more than twenty-years within the lodges, and all of which had the cause the revolt of a feeling of honesty or patriotism tism among those who slammed the doors like this. The former police chief, Mr. Andrieux, was among the first of these rebels. We understand that if the world layman knew some of them, he ignored a large number of lesser-known dissidents, who also left Freemasonry by default taste of what was happening there. By whom were they replaced?

– 96 –

did these renewals take place in the personnel? Precisely at a time when occult Power thought of certain destructions no longer of order religious, but of a national order, of which he did not have been a question yet. For the realization of these destructions, other workers were needed than those who had been suggested until then and which had not been only from an anti-religious point of view. The power occult only had to unmask a few of its new views, and those who were not good for serve them eliminated themselves, leaving the place for those who, on the contrary, were suited to it, and who because of this he introduced into Freemasonry— laugh. The selection was thus made automatically, by voluntary elimination, and it was done according to this what the immediate need demanded. The occult power would he feel after that, the need for a momentary step back? tanned? In this case, weighing in reverse direction on the direction would be enough. We would see the Franks—Ma— If we are too advanced, let go of Masonry in turn, because they would find it too reactionary. HAS their place would fit those who had momentarily absolutely need the occult Power: the moderationists whom he would know how to attract or bring back into the fold. There selection would still be done automatically, by Tele—voluntary elimination, and it would always be done according to the immediate need for occult Power.

— 97 —

Another particularity of which we have already said a word when speaking of the lists of Freemasons who have been published, shows how considerable voluntary elimination in Freemasonry.

We had to point out this fact: that to certain eras the number of French Freemasons remains essentially the same for very long periods. For example, it was like this during the six years that I spent in Freemasonry. During this space of time, the federation of the Grand Orient of France had around sixteen thousand members. And however there were seven or eight times more initiations what would have been necessary to fill the gaps caused by death. A considerable number of Freemasons therefore left Freemasonry.

Who were those who remained? Those who like know in the Masonic environment as it was then, they testified by this very fact that they found themselves momentary moments of occult Power. Those who were, on the contrary, obviously in a other state of mind. They were eliminating themselves.

FIRST EVOLUTIONS.

Things being organized in this way, it may seem that a few years should have been enough for Power occult so that its lodges, recruited at the beginning in the conditions that we have set out, were it not

– 98 –

more composed than of these subversive minds by the act-of which the goal he was trying to achieve was to be achieved. said.

But there was a lot to do at the same time. Prudence dictated going slowly. It was necessary above all take into account pro-public opinion fane, that it was a matter of not offending, that we had to will only change little by little.

When he had the suitable subjects at hand, the occult Power began to act in this direction.

He chose those who were gifted with the spirit of proselytizing. This is encountered, even among ambivalent, discontented or undisciplined. If these ambitious, these discontented and undisciplined were remained isolated from each other as they were in the secular world, what could they do? Nothing. He On the contrary, it was enough that they were united so that their strength was felt. This force became feared-ble if it was directed and if their efforts were coordinated given. It was increased a hundredfold, if a perfidious educator transformed in their eyes into a noble "philosophical spirit" losophical and progressive » the low spirit of ambition, of discontent and indiscipline which animated them.

Was it difficult? Not at all. Simple matter of suggestion management which was to be singularly facilitated by vanity interested parties. Thanks to which we got rid of their the most contemptible selfishness of the brake of shame; we even surrounded them; we covered the art with enthusiasm hidden heart of their unfulfilled desires. The more they were vicious and the more they must have enjoyed telling each other and believing oneself to be in love with progress.

It was a colossal force which was going to be found by there unleashed against this Catholicism that was easy to present, on the contrary, as an enemy of all pro-sandstone, by this alone that it remained faithful to this high virtue: discipline... Now, this was precisely the role that the occult Power intended to play at Ma-masonry, and it was in this view that he had introduced in the declaration of Masonic principles, the es-took "philosophical and progressive" alongside the "respect of all religious faith." The first one wasn't there only to serve as a mask for all human passions maines, and to allow them to rush, glorying in proud, against the second. ^

"To be a Freemason is to be an apostle! » had to then start saying the F.-s usefully. F.-. Lafferre of the time, to stimulate perverse propaganda.

By these "apostles" whose action he coordinated, and who acted outside individually and without discover Freemasonry, the occult Power could cultivate successfully and incognito in the profane world the same spirit of worry, of mis-contentment, indiscipline and ambition which agitated themselves. Thanks to this culture, all vicious beings would be convinced that they were phi-philosophers, champions of progress and therefore superior to those who practiced the old virtues routine... The effect should not take long to take effect feel.

As a change occurred in the state of mind of influential secular circles, the Pou-seeing occult could accentuate '^oportionally

- 100 -

the interpretation of the dangerous principles of the declaration ration, in the objective sense against what he had resolution to destroy. He advanced like this step by step, slowly-ment but surely, without offending public opinion annoying, always measuring the accentuations of its teaching inside the lodges, according to the results conditions he observed outside.

When this patient tactic had produced its ef-Fets, an hour came when the occult Power could disembark to rid Freemasonry of one of the masks it had put on her face, and where she was allowed to ably of all innovators.

It can be considered that the incubation period of the state of mind which allowed this change in the figure of French Freemasonry has lasted since the apparition of this association until around 1770.

It is in this period of preliminary work that writers like F.-, of the Tierce, preoccupied to respond to the very specific accusations already contained naked in the encyclicals of the Popes, celebrated the virtues of the Freemasons. "Imagine a man fearing God, faithful to his prince, this is the mason. These are its mysteries; that's his secret... The one who deviating from the duties of religion is not a Mason. He usurps the name; he never deserved to to carry. »

There were indeed, in Masonry, Freemasons whose portrait corresponded to that that traced the F.-, of the Tierce. But there were also others that the occult Power took care to introduce lead. In the name of tolerance, he forced the first the former to get along well with the latter and he reserved to gradually replace those with these, as the work of suggestion carries its fruits.

- 101 -

Also compare the declarations of F.-, of the Third of those made by Freemasons nowadays :

"Freemasonry is the counter-Church..."

"Between Masonry and the Church, it is a war to dead and merciless"... "We must crush the infamous, and the infamous one is God!..." You will thus have the point of departure and arrival point, and you will travel account of the prodigious perfidy which must be gifted with occult Power, especially if you consider that his Freemasonry was for the first time, in 1793, this what she is today; that he made it militaristic under the first empire; that he bent her to the most maneuvers hypocrites under the Restoration; that he presented her again then under the guise of an association of men mes "fearing God and faithful to their prince"; that he however, used it in the preparation of the Revolution. tion of 1830 first and of the Republic of 1848 into create the second empire; that he led him to kill this one as she had killed the Republic; and that, to understand ble, he made him accomplish all these evolutions and these revolutions. lutions by always maintaining populations in the persuasion that the so-called Freemasonry does not didn't care about politics.

It is also in this first part of the incubation of the new state of mind that was organized success of philosophical literature, whose entire effect strong was turned against the two national traditions: Catholicism and the monarchy.

- 102 -

This success was universal, and this universality as a spontaneous fact, as we have done for so many other things that we thought were spontaneous, them too, and which we now know to have been prepared reated by Masonic action. We wanted to attribute it to the sole talent of writers and the superiority of ideas that they were developing. But many other writers French had more talent than philosophical writers sophes, including Voltaire. As for the alleged superiority of their ideas, we now know what stick to that. The proof is that they are deadly for any human group that has the im-be careful to accept them.

The truth is quite different.

To find it, you have to start by telling yourself that a done like this cannot be spontaneous, that it cannot have a single cause either - even if it were true that this cause existed - the talent of writers or the superiority of the ideas they propagate, that it must be prepared and organized. It is thus with our days. Even more so during the 18th century. He It should also be noted that to organize a universal distribution of any works, you have to have the means; that these means, the Occult power possessed them, since it had been able create a universal Freemasonry and then-that, through this Freemasonry, he had singularly significantly increased its power of international action

- 103 -

be able to act internationally; that he had a immense interest in the success of philosophical literature phique, he who aspired, even before the appearance of this philosophy, to the creation of an anticatholic; that moreover the philosophical writers were Freemasons; that they therefore benefited about the spirit of solidarity that Power hides takes care to develop within Masonry; that finally their campaign was conducted Masonically, thus that we can realize this by reading the correspondence pondance of Voltaire, initiated from his youth in Angleterre, great leader of the fight against Catholicism by written propaganda, and which corresponded technically with his accomplices. If we add to so many elements of appreciation of this capital fact that hawking businesses were founded, by the what works of philosophical writers were distributed free of charge throughout France and abroad, we will be convinced that the spontaneity of success universal ces of philosophical literature of the 18th century is a pure legend, and we will attribute to Pousee obscures the part of this "spontaneity" which comes in all property as in all justice. The time we are talking about was also the time when the occult Power recruited its Masonry from the elite social and political. He needed men to part of this elite. Since it's her he has to—will first of all distort the understanding. The corbreak in morals should also help singular—

— 104 —

lies to that. The occult Power also needed men belonging to the social class who came immediately below that of the privileged. When the time for action comes, it's these who were to lead the movement from which they collect—would take away all the profits that the occult Power would judge good to leave them. It was therefore necessary that they were for—my. This is why there were then in the lodges bourgeois and lawyers, alongside princes, nobles and abbots.

When, under the color of philosophy and progress, the suggestions became more aggressive against the Catholicism, and when, as a result, the resistance of certain adherents occurred, the occult Power had no reason to be moved. The most he risked, if he was careful not to rush his walk too much. teaching, it was to lose its most adepts him. Did he not know that, thanks to the work already accomplished, could he separate from them without danger? Didn't he have who should replace them? And Masonic recruitment Was it not going to find itself modified, as a result of this replacement? placement, as it was useful for the walking of its affairs and the future realization of his secret designs? The retrogrades could therefore leave if they wished seemed. As for those among them who, after having started by protesting, would continue to frequent the lodges, their business was secure; they were intended to undergo the influence of the environment and, while being more or hang around less, following in the footsteps of the advanced ones. Their moderation would also continue to serve as a cover to Masonry. Far from doing harm, their resistors would still be useful. They inform- occult Power over what could or could not could be attempted without danger. At the same time, they would serve as a brake to moderate the ardor in- tempestuous ones of the boldest who, not being put by him, aware of his secret views, let himself go to the impatience or covetousness that the tions excited in them.

– 105 –

Masonic recruitment thus changed methodical way, selections and suggestions operating with perfect coordination.

We noted earlier that the current of ideas varying in Masonry according to the impulse given by the occult Power, it resulted that he was master of hunting Masonry those whom he pleased to see emerge from it, and this, without needing to appear. We showed also that, by the same token, the occult Power was also ly master of recruitment. We will attract attention again to a striking example that we provides, on this subject, the current era.

It is on the army and on education that, since a few years, the occult Power needs to carry all his effort. On the army, because, to ensure his domination, now that he is in power, he needs this army to become Masonic by its leaders. On teaching, because, so that the generation of tomorrow does not revolt against him, he feels the need to compress his brain special way. However, we see the members of Lower masonry, match obediently to this double need by seeking, among the institutions, professors and officers, news recruits on whom the occult Power senses the birth ceased to make its selections and establish its suggestions. What did it take for this? Simply what—what preachings made in the lodge, by which we have haunted the narrow minds of the Blue Masonry of the idea that clericalism infested the army and teaching, that this resulted in an immense danger for the “Republic” and that it was necessary at all costs to react in attracting teachers, institutions and tutors and even officers, despite everything that had been said and written by Freemasonry against these latter.

At the same time as Masonic recruitment was modified little by little, according to the views of the occult Power, a superior selection was soon made as a result of the population of high ranks. We showed in the chapter dealing with the organization of these high grades, how those who get there are pre-monitored without their knowledge (1). We therefore do not have to come back to it here, if only to note that Power occult could, from the beginning, thanks to the organism that we made known, trained composed executives of men he was sure of. Those he attracted to the higher degrees were those that he felt belonged to him hold most completely. He put it this way everyone in the place that suited them, and he created a staff to which he could rely in complete tranquility for the smooth running of things, without that in the future he would have to intervene for the details.

(1) See Part II of Occult Power against France.

Thus, the solid Masonic army was formed, without anyone paying attention. Army of apostles who, as they became more imbued with the suggestions management, worked more and more, each in its sphere, to spread the state of mind desired by power mysterious session from which they received inspiration without knowing it.

CREATION OF A SPECIAL ATMOSPHERE IN THE LODGINGS. PRECAUTIONS TAKEN.

The occult Power also took certain measures
sitions to create a sort of atmosphere in the dressing rooms phere favorable to the success of his. education. He it is enough to draw attention to a few., to show that there too the occult Power provided the proof of his experience with the secret society
when he created Freemasonry.

I have already pointed out the care he takes not to let the apprentices work alone, but to force them to milk in constant contact with companions,
masters and high-ranking officers.

I will recall here a general organizational detail which perhaps did not strike the reader, but which has its importance from the point of view which concerns us in this moment. It is that of the division of federations into these groups, so few in number, that we call workshops.
Since Freemasonry is a society of

— 108 —

teaching and is only that, it is advisable not to do work together that a number of followers relate tively restricted. Isn't that how we do it?
still in boarding houses and high schools? That's why that we always see the federations, so numerous that they are shared in workshops; it's for that too as these workshops; still matter very much few members, even in the Grandes Ailles where the Masonic authorities prefer to see the freemasons founding several lodges rather than unite into one.

I also showed how the bizarre ceremonies
which are called "opening" and "closing works according to the customary rites and mysteries"
contribute to putting initiates in the right conditions
intended so that the lessons and suggestions penetrate into them. These ceremonies, I said, constitute kill like a wall between the moments of holding and those who precede or follow it. Before or afterwards, the Freemasons joke, smoke, talk of their pleasures or their affairs as simple laymen. But it is no longer the same as soon as the Venable covered with his cord and striking a blow mallet invites them to proceed with "the opening of the rites and these mysteries suddenly transform the laymen from earlier into initiates, imbued with sublimity of their mission and collected as it come. There is no longer a single one of them who, once the "opening" begun, is not convinced that it exercises a priesthood; not one who does not listen to Venerable, the overseers or the speaker as he listened to the priest in church when he was little. It must have been pronounced the last words of the "closure of works according to the customary rites and mysteries", so that all these enlightened people find their ordinary. Even the most skeptical, those who first midday, want to laugh, end up taking the fold. They get used to no longer mocking. They arrived then to consider the Freemason who engages to all ritual simagreas as fulfilling a superior function. We may have some difficulty to admit this when one has not experienced the thing. It is so easy to judge and especially to judge badly from afar ! We can say to ourselves: "That would have the effect on me opposite ! » In reality, nothing is less certain. He there are indeed a certain number of francs-masons on which it produces the opposite effect. But so what happens? Thanks to this elimination mechanism which works automatically and which we we must not forget the essential role, these are going. They leave precisely because of the effect that it happens to them. And so, only those who are apt to be impressed; and they are all the more more than the presence of skeptics does not bother them. In this, the importance of the organization still appears. nism of elimination. I saw how things are pass, and I started by not understanding anything dre. But I was able to realize later that it is there, without it appearing, in these eliminations operating by the very will of those who are incapable you to take the right tricks, that is one of the principles

- 109 -

- 110 -

main means of selection practiced by the Pou-see occult.

The childish exercises discussed in the preceding chapters also have a great utility from the point of view of predisposition to accustomed to calling themselves three, five and seven old years, who are forced to make gestures and comments that are those that are suitable for children in young age, how when they do not react against these absurd and daily practices, would they react against a teaching of which they are moreover, for most, absolutely incapable of seeing the falsity? However, they do not react against childcare exercises. lity since they remain, since they are not eliminated. We can therefore do anything with them to the point from an intellectual point of view. They will suffer everything. They will swallow All. They will digest everything. Through childcare exercises lity, the occult Power tested them; He is sure two.

Mystery and secrecy also have their uses from the point of view which concerns us. Due to the service the way they never reveal anything about what they will be able to see or hear in the meetings of the Masonry, the initiates are in fact cloistered morally.

When we think about it, we wonder how honest men can bend so easily to this obligation and commit to secrecy with regard to a society which should be suspicious to them for that alone let her hide. But in this as in so many others things, the occult Power has taken its measures so well. When he asks the recipient for the "oath of silence", this one still has the blindfold on his eyes of which we took care to blind him before making him chir the door of the temple. He is more or less disoriented by the grotesque ordeals he has just undergone. 11 feels ridiculous and, as a result, has no desire to per- never know anything about the stupid comedy that he just got to be the hero. Most are moreover or less impressed by the speeches given to them addressed as soon as they enter this place that they do not see not and that we try to give them as august. These speeches are not left to the inspiration of the Venerable. They are composed expressly, calculated with a view to of the effect to be produced and recorded in the rituals where the workshop president must read them. Like the recital pedimentary is blindfolded, he does not see the ritual that the Venerable holds in his hand. He imagines that this- he improvises all the grandiloquence that he tells him throws to the ears and he is inclined to take into consideration dants that they must appear to him if he is somewhat educated, speak to him a language so above the pro-vulgar pos.

– 111 –

There is yet another reason why it is very willing to believe in their superiority. In the night where does the blindfold he has over his eyes put him, he wonders who can these men be who take so much precautions before introducing a newcomer among them ; who make him undergo strange trials, it is true, but the explanation of which is promised to him for later ; who ask him a host of questions in which the concern appears at any moment pation to know if he is worthy of the favor of their company. If this favor is presented to him as so high, it is therefore that those who give it are well superiors... If the poor layman had the use of his eyes, he would see that he is simply dealing to X, Y or Z, whom he meets every day and who have not absolutely nothing about the hero either morally or physically that. But he is blindfolded...

– 112 –

Finally, if despite everything susceptibilities were awakened in him by this way of seizing surprised at his will, we would affirm to him honeyedly—that he must reassure himself; we would declare to him the most formal way than the oath that is required of him order does not include anything that could be condemned by its conscience. And that would be enough for him not to resist. Because the more honest the layman is, the more inclined he is to believe what that he is told, without thinking that the mere fact of committing secrecy before knowing what this secret is precisely what all careful conscience.

– I swear not to say or write anything about what I have could see or hear in the Masonic assemblies...

And if, however, despite the words of the Venerable who is only an intermediary who can be deceived, which the layman will see in Masonic assemblies looks like a plot against France?...

He should therefore resist, not take this oath before knowing more. He should, from this moment, be awakened. Because why make him swear not to say nothing about what he sees or hears, under penalty of deserve the execration of all his brothers, why did he say that he would rather have his throat cut and be buried under the sands of the sea rather than missing to his oath, if what he can see or hear was, if not reprehensible, at least dangerous by some side?

But he doesn't think. He doesn't have time. He is surprised. He takes the oath almost inevitably. He falls into the trap set for him, due to the moment, circumstances, human respect which prevents him from retreating, or even from the vague conviction that can arise in him that this secret must be whatever that something as ridiculous as the famous tests through which we have just passed it.

"It's one more," he said to himself, as grotesque as others. Since we're here, let's go.

Does it happen by chance that he resists, does he make a re-express triction? The occult Power is not worried not. And he doesn't have to worry about it. Do not re-does it not serve precisely to form a certain manner the conscience of the naive profane who cross-smell the door of the Masonic temples? Is not it precisely why he attracts them? Isn't it in this goal that he founded Masonry? Doesn't he know that skillful suggestions will have the effect of easing them fold and that one of the results towards which the teaching will tend ment that they will receive will be to instill in them religion of Masonic secrecy? The occult Power knows all of this. And he also knows that in the case where the layman admitted to initiation would prove incapable of folding, it would infallibly be brought, if necessary by circumstances that one would provoke, to leave masonry before having seen what the secret hides, and even with the conviction that this secret of which spoke to him is just a joke. The power occult may therefore not take into account the restrictions made by certain recipients to the oath of silence. And even, he is justified in thinking in most part of the cases, that these are honest ones, and that in consequence, thanks to the accumulation of so many supercheries of which they will almost inevitably be victims, tutors of the law of silence. Once hypnotized, they will be among the best Freemasons. There again, simple matter of suggestion for the operator mask. When, on the day of my initiation, we my classmate and I made the reserve of the rights of our conscience, all young members The people in the workshop let themselves go and applaud us. Their applause could only make us better deceive about the honesty of the association. They were moreover certainly sincere. On this occasion as in many others, the perfidy was the fact of the Occult power alone, of the creator of the organism in the cogs from which were caught those who showed their approval, and in which, from from that hour, we were going to be seized ourselves—same.

Finally, to isolate his initiates from the profane world, the Occult power is not satisfied with the oath. He still convinces them that the Masonic world is a higher world. Nothing could be further from the truth. But in this too, the occult Power shows knowledge that he has men and his very particular aptitude to govern them by their vanities; knowledge and aptitude which is acquired nowhere better than in secret societies. Believing themselves thus placed at—above the profane, with the responsibility of directing them, initiated are, in fact, separated from these like the seminarists are separated from the outside world, that is to say say less through the walls of their seminar than through that that their accustomed conscience draws around them to always be on guard.

– 115 –

The Masonic world, however inferior it may be, is thus isolated in the feeling of his supposed supremacy priority, and at the same time the followers are all the more more willing to accept suggestions they make come from the very people who declare them superior. Is it not natural that we find it very strong that who finds us very strong ourselves. The judgment vorable that it bears on us should it not appear to us be a proof of clairvoyance of which our vanity is inclined to grant him the benefit?

Because of all these precautions, lay people admitted to initiation and who do not leave France Masonry from the first months, are placed methodical and progressive approach to which they are subject put, that the influence of the latter will soon be exerted in a irresistible way on most of them.

As we can see, the spider's threads are admirably tense. It is no wonder that, for two hundred years, so many honest flies profanes let themselves be taken in.

– 116 –

But also and as a consequence, more and more we must convince ourselves that those who imagined such an organization were not novices in the art of forming and leading secret societies.

CHAPTER V

Masonic suggestions.

Creation of the anti-Catholic mindset

within the lodges.

The spirit of intolerance aroused in the name of tolerance.

WHAT WE DO IN THE LODGES.

THE TWO MAIN SUGGESTIONS.

After having noted the precautions taken to ensure selections in the workshops and those which tend to place elected officials in the most difficult conditions favorable so that the suggestions given to them born bear fruit, we must see what are these suggestions themselves.

On this point the perverse skill of the Occult power.

I wrote in the second chapter of Le Pouvoir occulte against France:

“What have I done in Masonry? This is one question the reader should ask me. It is the one, in effect, which we always hear: What are we doing in the Masonic meetings?

always those who hear it for the first times.

"In Masonic meetings, we begin by listening to preaching; and, later, we make it yourself. Lodges are places where one is preached, and where we preach. Nothing more. »

– 118 –

If this answer may have surprised the reader at first purpose of our study, it must no longer be the same NOW. Because, when it comes to Power occult to throw suggestions into the minds of the francs-masons, he has only one means at his disposal: the predication.

I added in this same chapter:

"On what subjects do these preachings take place? On two themes which are like dream leit-motives constantly, about everything and about Nothing.

"First theme: Freemasonry is a sublime, holy and sacred institution. She is the eternal initiator of all that is good and good, great in humanity.

"Second theme: This association, so high, so respectable, if venerable, has an enemy. This enemy, it is Catholicism. From which we draw this conclusion: Since Catholicism is the enemy of Masonry-ries, he is the enemy of all the great causes which she declares to dedicate herself to. Consequently, if we really love these great causes, we must understand beat Catholicism. »

These are the two main ideas which serve of pivot to Masonic education. These are the two suggestions that the occult Power wants to at any cost to introduce into the minds of his followers; those that he intends to impose on them pe?^ fas and nefas. To this point that ultimately he rejects from Masonry those who refuse to accept them. That first, above all,

– 119 –

Around this, joint studies, in the form of conferences and discussions to which quoted by the followers and which relate to all the questions political and social. These studies aim to Wed the teams who must be ready to take the place of the rulers, when later they cede will owe to the tremors caused by the suggestions subversive actions. There is no need to say that these studies – if indeed the Masonic “works” deserve this name – are conducted in such a way as to tify the antitraditionalist suggestion. For this purpose the occult Power created, through the intermediary of certain specialists beforehand and suitable-ment suggested, an anti-Catholic philosophy, an anti-Catholic historical science, a science anti-Catholic politics, an anti-social economy Catholic. He is currently creating a anti-Catholic morality. All this is flawed in sound principle, because all this is based on lies and tends only to destruction. But by the fact that Freemasons agree to absorb this food intellectual riture, however poor it may be to the point of scientific view and so detestable from the social point of view cial, by this alone that they get used to discussing and especially since they are united for the attack while those they attack are not there for defense, they find themselves singularly advantaged to the point of view of the political struggle.

The education that Freemasons receive in their workshops therefore aim to train them in the offense sive ; it in no way tends to make them men policies with real value. It matters to the con-milk that they always remain mediocre, so that they do not escape the directions of the occult Power. It is only useful if they have knowledge superficial enough so that, when it rings the time of upheavals on the dial of Power occult, they can have at least the appearance of audacity united with the knowledge of things and be capable of leading the masses to the cure. We have given that this is made easier for them due to the coordination nation that the occult Power gives to their efforts and of the spirit of solidarity that he takes care of their in-ass. This is why they manage to monopolize the public functions and to remain there, both personally and antitraditionalist management by which they are dominated. As for the masses, of course, they are waiting tooth.

– 120 –

But if we do not otherwise give care to the political and social studies in the lodges, it does not matter not the same for what concerns the two suggestions-tions that we have just talked about. The occult power uses all its resources so that they become irresistibly dominant. He uses all his science of gradations, all his knowledge of men, all his tricks, all his perfidy. It is that in fact this is the essential thing for him, since it is only to manage to introduce the second of these two suggestions in the brains, that he created the

- 121 - ^

Freemason. Success, and absolute success is so here is a question of life or death for this association and for himself,

FIRST SUGGESTION.

"HOLY AND SACRED" FREEMASONRY.

THE DARK OF TIMES. THE MONSTER.

The reader has already guessed the usefulness of the first theme.

It is always favorable to the success of a brand-ly that those who receive it have a high idea of the one who gives it. But this was absolutely indispensable in the case of Freemasonry. There antitraditionalist suggestion that she was responsible for pour into the Catholic nations was found in direct contradiction with the existing order of things and with the ideas with which these nations were imbued- This is why the occult Power had no chance of capture the minds of those he attracted into the Freemasonry only on condition of starting with inspire them with a true cult for this association.

But how to do it at the beginning? What could to recommend itself in the eyes of its first followers a Freemasonry which, being nascent, had not yet acquired, that goes without saying, no merit? There was there a serious difficulty.

The occult Power got away with it, as usual, by trickery.

told neophytes that the origin of Franc-Masonry was lost in "the mists of time".

- 122 -

Why rituals in an association that calls itself philosophical and progressive and which recommends itself constantly of Reason? Because we can do say to rituals whatever we want without compromising put. Where does a ritual come from? We ignore it. Who wrote this ? When was it written? Mystery ! Is he even sure that someone wrote it? Wasn't everything written alone? Or could it not be due to some intervention of spirits inhabiting who knows what other world and who would have bothered themselves on purpose?...

To this mysterious tomb we don't know where, he It is appropriate to speak of "the dawn of time". Coming from him, that's not shocking. On the contrary, there is a certain harmony between the dawn of time and the cloudy character which more or less suits to a ritual. And then, nothing could be easier than to enjoy of this night to bring to the assets of Franc-Masonry "all discoveries useful to humanity". Which ones? Ah! do not ask that the ritual precise. A Masonic ritual does not specify. He tells legends that he limits himself to giving as venerated ones, without explaining why they are.

The French certainly would not have found that.

Occult Power uses ritual legends to put to sleep the reason of the Freemasons, like a nanny makes songs to put her to sleep infant.

Nothing easier ; because he will never be able to persuade to ask that the affirmations contained in a legend are controllable. We would be surprised rather that they are. This is why this that the occult Power cannot prove, it introduces it in the form of an affirmation in the legends of his rituals. He knows that these affirmations, when they are daily purred in the ears of the little ones imagination. Don't look elsewhere: that's why that the occult Power invented Masonic rituals. We can see this clearly from the embarrassment he experiences when Masonry is obliged to speak about its past much like in legends. He then inspires him to most prudent reservation.

- 123 -

Here is a particularly curious example of this among many others.

We know that Freemasonry has worked all his strength to create the cult of the Revolution. It is thanks to her that, on this subject, the best minds are dominated by a kind of fetishism. Despite their reason has every reason to be astonished and they science to revolt over unnamed crimes. In the beginning of this period of our history, almost all the French came to consider the Revolution as a holy thing, to which one must not touch. They turn their eyes away from the atrocities committed by the so-called giants of ninety-three as the sons of Noah turned away theirs from the said to be paternal.

If the Revolution is really so beautiful and so great, it seems that Freemasonry should not fear to openly admit all the part she has in it took. But she is careful not to do so. She doesn't venture only with a host of precautions on this ground. She considers him dangerous for her. It's obviously by the occult Power that it is maintained in this apprehension. He who was the inspiration and organizer of the immense massacre, he is unaware of the prodigious accumulation of packages monstrously vile crimes which were committed by the famous giants. He knows that these crimes were cold-blooded, carefully premeditated and prepared. He knows by whom and for what, and he says to himself that, despite all his efforts and those of Masonry, today's worship could become the hatred of tomorrow...

– 124 –

And, in fact, it would be enough for our nation, instead of paying attention to words, looked at things with a rough eye; that his attention was brought back to so much of infamous acts of which too little has been spoken to him until now. The occult Power is dominated by the fear that this doesn't happen. Freemasonry too. She receives cult of the hideous Revolution, which she declares holy and sacred, like herself. But she doesn't dare to not even shout: "This holy and sacred Revolution, it was I who made it; I alone. I claim the responsibility for everything. " No ; it limits itself to insi- realize that she had something to do with the development development of the "ideas" which brought "the great movement of 1789. Unable to extend the obscurity rity from "the dawn of time" until the end of the eighth century, it seeks at least to be there clear that of confusions. Sometimes we hear him say that he

- 125 -

there is a bloc in the Revolution that must be accepted whole. Sometimes she explains on the contrary that he It is appropriate to distinguish between principles and certain applications that were made of it; or between such and such period, for example between 1789 and 1973. It risks one or the other version depending on the circumstance, or depending on how the question is asked by the ad- versary.

However, this is still a dangerous game. Lice- See occult knows this well. That of the "dawn of time" is infinitely less so. When, for example, the rituals, in one of their legends, give as father to Freemasonry a certain Hiram, architect supposed to be from the temple of Solomon, they run no risk of telling the Widow's naive children that this Hiram was an architect of genius, and to draw from it glory for Masonry! On what could well support those who would be tempted to challenge the genius of Hiram?... When, in another legend even more daring, the occult Power re- ascend the Masonic institution to Cain by Hiram says, he affirms at the same time with the most in great seriousness, that poor Cain was odiously slandered; that he was in no way the jealous being that we told us ; that his father was Eblis, the angel of light, by which Eve had allowed herself to be seduced; that he should- owes to this celestial origin a sublime genius that Abel envied him; and that it is from him that they descend with the Freemasons of all time, the inventors, the precursors, in short all the great men which humanity owes some progress.

- 126 -

see.

The Freemasons believe it. Or at least they are impressed. The proof that they are imprinted sioned, it is that they submit in this as in everything else in view of the occult Power, and that for two hundred years they have been telling each other these idiotic legends. They influence them favorably towards their mother, the Freemason-laugh. The occult Power realizes this and it is for this reason he demands that legends be perpetuated and ritual practices. He knows man for a hypnotizable animal. He knew how to take advantage so well of this weakness of our nature, which currently exists few Freemasons, even among the most skeptical ticks, so as not to be convinced that Masonry truly be the initiator of all human progress. However, they were given no proof of this; and for good reason ! We just told them and repeat them in the legends of the rituals. Their ear has become accustomed to the noise of these assertions. She was rocked by it. Their reason has fallen asleep as they tender. They repeated them, as if in a dream at first; then they ended up being convinced of what they said know, without knowing how or why.

I'm talking about what I saw around me, about what which I experienced myself. We accepted as a certain fact, me like the others and the others like me, the role played by Masonry in the de-human development. For what? We didn't know nothing and we didn't ask for it. We had received the suggestion. The Widow held us under her fluid; she had literally hypnotized us.

- 127 -

If the occult Power took so much care to press this first suggestion in the brain of the initiates, it was only in order to give himself more authority to introduce the second into it. This one was only to achieve this.

His success was complete. He suggested so well the Freemasons, through this saint and sublime Masonry, always busy, it's her who says it, of the happiness of humanity, he has so understood completely blinded, hallucinated, hypnotized, fanaticized, he injected them so deeply with the virus of hatred has fallen prey to a rage that leaves them more rest. What alcohol does to the brain of a drunkard, the anti-Catholic suggestion does so in their. They no longer reason; they are unreasonable. They no longer think; they chew and re-chew the suggestion, like ruminants the hay that was given to them to eat. Under the repeated excitations of Power occult, they react in a completely automatic way. Tell them about Freemasonry, tell them that this association is the mother of civilization, of sandstone, light, they will stamp. What it is that civilization, progress, light, do not believe not that they know it, nor what is Freemasonry of which they are nevertheless part. The occult Power was careful not to inform them on all this. He cleverly limited himself to insinuating to them that civilization is progress; that progress, it is light; and that the light is the Mason-laugh. They did not ask for more and each time they hear the same statements mations, they applaud with the most delirious enthusiasm.

– 128 –

On the contrary, pronounce the words in front of them, nothing that the words of Catholicism, clericalism, obscurantism. This will be enough to make them froth. They will be shaken as if by an electric shock at the mere sound what will these words mean when they pass your lips. A fury of destruction will arise within them. It's not not that they know what Catholicism is either, nor clericalism, nor obscurantism. Not at all. Their holy and sublime mother, Freemasonry, gave them lied about it. But they believe with deep faith everything she tells them, because they are convinced, a priori, of its sublimity. They are therefore convinced, because it affirms it, that Catholicism, clericalism and obscurantism, this too is one; and that in Consequently, Catholicism is also a monstrous thing. true and detestable that Masonry is a thing maintained and sacred. These two convictions are in their brain in the state of encrustations. They form there like calluses, like stones. No need to reason with them about it. We don't reason pebbles.

The majority of French Freemasons today today responds to this portrait. It is also easy to cussion in the secular world where we can see newspapers, like La Lanterne, suggest and fana-

- 129 -

every morning tize the coarse peat of their readings
tors, just by constantly passing under the eyes of these the words: skullcap! clothes! rati-hon! episcopes! So try to argue with a lantern maker. He will answer you: skullcap! clothes 1
Let's ratchet! episcopes 1 And none of your arguments will be able to do nothing against the species of gigantic monster that these expressions create in his sick mind:
skullcap! clothes! Let's ratchet! episcopes! The Alibo-
We are in this respect at exactly the same point than these poor wretches of Lanterniers. The more you are try to shed light on these brains which Masonic work has adapted from the eyes of bats, the more they will be blinded.

Some people may be tempted to believe that such a poor method can only last one very short time. Error ! Unfortunately nothing
The intelligence of crowds is only so fragile. Nothing is more easily deceived. And that's why Power occult was able to succeed, twice, thanks to the organism Masonic, to create in France the fanatic state of mind-antitraditionalist which had the consequence
quence a policy of madness, fury and hatred,
in the name of a so-called doctrine of progress and fraternity. The first attempt resulted in monsters Saturnalia of 1793. The second brought us born where we are. And we can say that this time, the evil has spread not only in depth, but on the surface, since it reached all Catholic countries
liques. *

- ISO-

THE SECOND SUGGESTION.

HOW DOES OCCULT POWER USE

OF the idea of tolerance

ONLY TO ATTRACT MODERATES AND BETRAY THEM.

It was given to me to assist, as a follower of the Freemasonry, the making of the state of mind which currently reigns. The method I saw em-folded informs us about the one from which it was used to prepare for the Revolution. Some landmarks that we possess are enough to give us

days with the same process that we use.

Sure what principle have I seen the occult Power, act-
health through Freemasonry, support its effort against Catholicism? On the tolerance. It is in the name of tolerance, invoked in beginning as a sacred principle to gain acceptance Freemasonry by the Catholics, that the Pousee occult then proclaimed by this same Freemasonry that Catholicism should not be supported.

So that we are given the opportunity to attend a spec-Really strange tackle. There would indeed be, according to Masonry, two churches in presence. One hates-sand because of his intolerance; it's the catholicism. The other admirable because of his tolerance;
This is Masonry. This is what the francs say masons. But in fact this is what happens. The so-called Church of Intolerance existed before the so-called Church of Tolerance. She therefore tolerated the establishment-

- 131 -

ment of it. On the contrary, now that this last is constituted, now that it is in full triumph, it is she who does not allow the maintenance of the other. It is therefore Intolerance which tolerates and it is Tolerance which does not tolerate. And what is stronger that all is that these so-called tolerant people who do not They, in the name of their tolerance, do not notice
not at all about their inconsistency.

This seems too farcical to be true. And for-so much so, it is the spectacle that the whole world can see templer. So profound is the resulting blindness suggestions thrown by the occult Power in the Masonry !

Commented consciences can they be like this distorted? It would be impossible for me to understand it and to explain it, if mine had not been trained like so many others in the whirlwind of dementia, if I hadn't been an actor for a while and victim at the same time.

In 1884, when I entered Franc-Ma-masonry, the existing state of affairs still allowed that we allow ourselves to be easily blinded by the so-called spirit of Masonic tolerance.

The article relating to the Great Architect of the Universe no longer appeared in the statutes. Did this mean that Masonry was an atheistic society? "No," we replied; this is so as not to hurt the conscience of those of us who don't believe in existence of God, that we have suppressed its affirmation. We leave everyone free. ;;

This was the explanation given, the one to which

– 132 –

believed all Freemasons. But deep down what was the true thought of the occult Power? For what had he suggested the removal of the famous formula? Because the time seemed come to him to proceed to the demolition of certain ideas, such as that of belief in God, that we had pretended to respect until then. This is the truth that we didn't admit.

However, the declaration relating to compliance with all religious faith had been maintained. It was there an assertion contrary to the truth, but which constituted a means of defense whose necessity could still be felt from time to time.

Things were in this state when I was sole-legality to enter Freemasonry.

My introducer hadn't been frank with me. He gave me exactly the same portrait that he gave to the mid-eighteenth century the F.-, from the Tierce; but it wasn't far from it. He introduced me to France Masonry as "the school of all virtues". The Freemason, he told me, is the being devoted by Excellency. And, on the observations that I addressed to him – know because of the contrary ideas of which I had been nourished until then, he presented me with the first article of the statutes. He pointed out to me the assertion of "tolerance", that of "respect for all religious faith", "solidarity", and that of "solidarity extended to all members of the human family, without distinction of religion". Without distinction of religion, he supported thereabove.

When the day of my initiation came, I had to undergo the speeches read by the Venerable in the ritual. Gold

– 133 –

they contained nothing that could detect hatred of the Masonry against Catholicism. As for the questions—tions which were posed to me by the brothers present, if they betrayed in most of them predominant concerns regarding the religious question, they could not provide me no other information. It's that Power occult requires its followers to act cautiously in these kinds of circumstances. If the Masonic regulations allows all Freemasons present to place questions to the recipient, he strictly prohibits all discussions with or before him, as well as the marks of approval or disapproval on the subject answers he can make. In this way the francsmasons are likely to know who they are dealing with, but the neophyte hardly knows what the Freemason.

It is true that in the sessions which followed and in those of the other workshops that I attended, I could easily see the fanaticism of a certain number of brothers. But this observation was contradicted by a contrary indication; because there was other followers for whom the suggestions did not would not produce the same effects, for the reason that the seeds do not give the same yield in all terrains. They spoke readily of toleration rancid, and they spoke about it with sincerity. I don't find myself so go nowhere in front of Masonry; I was always in the presence of individualities, and individualities lities that contradicted each other. Masonry, for its part, stole. Its statutes themselves could not to inform. At least they left me in the incertainty, since they contain, as we have seen, contradictory statements. So impossibility to realize. I had to rely on way of seeing those who told me that, among opinions that clashed, I had the right to de-split some, but that in the name of the famous tolerance rancid, I had to accept the neighborhood of others.

– 134 –

Nothing could be more accurate, we are perhaps tempted to say.

Nothing could be more just, of course, if the occult Power does not had spared itself the means, thanks to the masonic, to intervene invisibly.

Because let's make no mistake and focus on this point all the attention that deserves. It's thanks to semblable contradictions between its followers that the Pou-occult seeing has ensured the possibility, through the play of the Masonic organization, to tip the scales on a certain side: that of its interests. But his interests are obviously opposed to national interests;
otherwise he would not hide them.

In fact, it is he who incites the violent, the "advanced" ces)), to enter into struggle against the moderates, and in this struggle, he is far from remaining an impassive spectator.
He pushes the wheel treacherously and he can print give this wheel an irresistible impulse, thanks to the mechanism that we have studied, also thanks to the "in-individual fluencies carefully covered" that this mechanism allows it to act without anyone noticing doubt. The violent, the advanced are his soldiers, because they preach the ideas whose dissemination is necessary to the realization of his secret plans. On the contrary, the

- 135 -

moderate, although recruited by him, are his adversaries saries. He considers them as such, since they have another ideal that he who repairs the enslavement to his wills. This is why they are eternally betrayed by him. The tolerance to which he encourages them is only one trap that he sets for them, a fallacious invitation to place in the desired position so that the violent can crush them. Respond to such an invitation tion, it is not "tolerate"; it is to abandon oneself. If Freemasonry is an association of treason vis-à-vis France, it is above all because it is an instrument of war constructed in such a way that takes it for a symbol of peace; it's because she created between the French and those who are no longer French
a situation such that the first find themselves delivered to the seconds.

Yes ! Tolerate, in such conditions of struggle, it is to surrender. We must not tolerate what is hidden;
we must make war on him,... unless we have resolved
to commit suicide.

THE FANATISM OF TOLERANCE.

THE GAME OF "INDIVIDUAL INFLUENCES

CONCEALING OCCULT ACTION.

At the time of which I speak, among a large number fanatics trained by the occult Power, the fanaticism took, for the purposes of the cause, an aspect very peculiar. He did not come forward against such or such a religion – it would have been imprudent then.

– 136 –

It was against intolerance that he pretended to rebel. Such was the path taken by the occult Power to get his way. And it was all the more difficult to see clearly.

Thanks to this subterfuge, the fanatics do not frighten. There were hardly any moderates; rather they provoked them to laugh. Were they not, in fact, somewhat comical with their love of tolerance pushed so far what about fanaticism?

The fanaticism of tolerance! I heard more once this singular assembly of words, in the which the second made the first accepted. He doesn't miss there were no preachers duly styled and suggestive used to peddle it. We can go far with "the fanaticism of tolerance. I knew something about it by myself.

Those who had this fanaticism reproached those who did not have it for not being the true apostles of the religion of Tolerance. And so it was the most sectarians who pretended to be the most tolerant rants.

According to these tolerance fanatics, the real role of Freemasonry, its sublime mission was to establish in the world, against all odds, and if necessary by violence, the religion of Tolerance. This was the suggestion given to them and they received without suspecting that this so-called religion of Tolerance excluded, in the thinking of the Power see occult, the existence of any religion in the Catholic world, and, later, in the Christian world.

For then, they affirmed their respect for the "Catholic-

– 137 –

sincere cism". They even confessed their friendship for such and such tolerant Catholics who they said were content to be born. They presented tolerance as a com-natural complement of true religious feeling. They declared that, if they felt any inihalfness in the soul, it was only against these Catholics intolerant ics who were without suspecting it, the . enemies of their religion. The true friends of this religion, it was them!

I heard these "fanatics of tolerance" the time when they began to become furiously intolerant in the name of their disordered love of tolerance. I even witnessed scenes from a comic irresistible. One of them was caused by cod that some "freemasons admitted to having eaten the Good Friday in the year 1884. Observing Catholic prescriptions were, from that time, considered a Masonic mortal sin by which-some of these so-called apostles of tolerance.

So, on Good Friday in 1884, one of these advances asked his lodge to vote a reprimand against the Freemasons who "by eating cod on Friday dredid said saint, contributed to maintaining the prejudged to be of another age." He thought that this motion would be voted on, because of the ascendancy he exercises usually caused by his violence and audacity. But he had placed himself there on bad ground. The workshop in question worked well a little in its trailer habitude; however it included a certain number of non-warlike masons who did not want to disturbing the peace of their household for a dish of peas-

- 138 -

her. Our madman did not fall into these categories of considerations. He didn't have a household; Or rather he only had an irregular one, in which he did not didn't appear every day. He could refrain from to show up there on Good Friday, which saved him from any indoor difficulty. He found that the others didn't-just want to do like him. Furious to see his mo-repelled, he took to task, after the closing of the works, some of those he had seen hos-tiles to his proposal.

- Let's see, you, F.-, so-and-so, don't deny it. Confess how thin you were this evening. You still feel Cod.

– Well ! Yes, I was skinny, replied the unhappy man who trembled before his terrible inter-speaker, but who confessed all the same, because knowing well that he was not alone in his situation, he hoped– could be supported. What's wrong with that? My wife goes to mass. It would be a hell of a deal if I asked him for meat. After all, I have so given proof of tolerance.

– He showed proof of tolerance! screamed the madman, gesticulating furiously. He calls This gives proof of tolerance! And it's believed Freemason!

And the cod's opponent had a bearing of shoulders which expressed all its contempt for those who understood the Masonic spirit so poorly.

He was speaking to someone else.

– And you, of course, ate cod
Also. Come on, at least have the courage to admit it.

, , – 139 –

“Perfectly, I ate some,” replied the newbie.
vel arrested who was just as cowardly as the preceded, but who hoped to get out of the situation by invoking as for a reason that seemed peremptory to him. I
I ate and even a lot; because I love her cod. You can't stop me though to love cod! That would no longer be tolerance.

– You ate some at noon.

– Yes.

– And again in the evening?

– Yes ! Since I tell you that I love him! It is one of my passions.

– And you don't eat it any other time in year, I bet, even though you loved him so much?

– My wife doesn't want to do the others to me days

There was then a deluge of sarcasm on these free-Freemason thinkers who felt a passion only one day in the year and precisely that of Good Friday.

We understand that between the simple tolerant and the fanatics of tolerance who went so far as not to tolerate eating cod on Good Friday, for whatever reason, the occult Power had his choice made. But we didn't know that.

The F.-. Combes, recently questioned about his feelings towards Herveism, declared that he "re-energetically proved antipatriotism. But he added that, this disapproval having been expressed, he didn't see why we were so afraid of unpatriotic; that, for his part, he was ready to do alliance with them and to give them a share of influence in the direction of the affairs of the country, as he had made, when he was President of the Council, vis-à-vis Jaurès.

- 140 -

The F.-. Combes showed us one of the tactics queries of occult Power: reproving lips when we cannot do otherwise; but act as if we did not reproach. However, to practice it, this tactics, the occult Power is in a situation much more advantageous than the former president of the Conseil. We can indeed question the F.-. Combes. It's necessary while he responds, and despite his quibbles, he discovers. We do not question the occult Power, then—that we don't know it exists. And so he plays his game with all the more certainty that he sees in that of others without being able to see into your own.

Between these followers who appeared to me so different—rents from each other and in the midst of which I had to inevitably end up taking sides, the occult Power only intervened through "influences individually carefully covered" which the Masonic receipt. He was hiding behind them. He listened to the discussions that took place between those of his followers whose different states of mind marked the stages on the road to the famous Re-Legion of Tolerance. It is slyly that he supported these rather than those, in a way invisible, but irresistible, thanks to its masonry superimposed and to the influence that the masons from above, the elected, the selected, the tested, and also the best trained and best armed, necessarily exercised on those below. The occult Power made the efforts, he stretched all the springs of the powerful machine that we have studied, in favor of those he pleased to favor, and he crushed the others, this while everyone believed they were in conditions of absolute independence and equality. This independence and this equality were in reality so illusory that an hour was coming when some, those against whom the occult Power had taken sides, were no longer free than to leave Freemasonry, or to sanctify their presence by their presence, if they remained, which would revolted. But they only noticed it after, without suspecting it, they themselves had worked on to create the state of things which ended up revolting them. Their departure no longer hindered the occult Power in any way, since the transition for which he had needed of their competition was a fait accompli. She's my pre-story that I have just summarized here, and it is also that of so many others that I saw leave,... after having been obtained from them all the harm that they were susceptible to do.

What the occult Power wanted to achieve was to inspire in his followers a tolerance which became a duty not to tolerate Catholicism. A series of maneuvers brought him to this result.

He began by arousing the Freemasons against certain individuals: the Jesuits, for example, under the pretext that they interpreted religion Catholic with intolerance. Wasn't that the role of the Church of Tolerance to ensure this?... To gar-der tolerant Catholics against the companies of Intolerant Jesuits, the latter were suppressed. This makes in the name of tolerance, we used the hatred that we had incited against the Jesuits by observing that their spirit had penetrated Catholicism while the role of Masonry was therefore far away to be finished. A duty was imposed on her: that of the protection of "good Catholics" against bad ones go. So at war! The soldiers of the Church of the Tolerance, could they fail in their holy mission! And here are the lodge followers convinced that they have ticks. But little by little, it came to pass that "believers sincere" we declared that we saw almost none, crushed sated as they were by the fanaticism of others. THE champions of tolerance should therefore redouble your ardor. The truth was that the Catholicism feeling attacked, defended itself. A time came where the "Jesuit spirit" was considered to have completely replaced by the "Catholic spirit". We then wondered what was the reason for this. The state of excitement tation to which the permanent Freemasons had arrived stated that to the question thus posed we made this re-answer: "It is the absolutism of the dogma which is the cause of all. The gentlest men are inevitably condemned to become fanatics as soon as they believe to a dogma. Dogma is intolerant by nature. In indeed if he affirms that this is truth, he thereby declares even though this is an error: This is the true principle of intolerance against which Freemasonry has the duty to defend men.

– 143 –

This time it was the introduction into the minds sophistry directly offensive against the doctrine for which we had so long displayed such great respect. After attacking the individuals who, pretended, misinterpreted this doctrine, we attacked it, under the pretext of defending the people.

Always the so-called need to defend something something or someone, to hide the incense- attack health !

We understand that after so many successive deformations cessives, the idea of tolerance presents itself to the mind of a freemason under a very particular aspect, and that we arrived in the dressing rooms at this independent conviction-terribly rooted: that there is a false tolerance rancid and true tolerance; that the real one is the one who always remains armed, who compromises on nothing, and who, not being afraid to go to the end of his principle, does not allow a religion to be tolerated likely to produce intolerance.

This is how it was reserved for Freemasons to love tolerance enough not to support the idea that others besides them could be intolerant.

It seems too comical to be true. But, me the scenes of this comedy from which we suffer now the tragic consequences. And by the way, the profane world, unfortunately too inattentive, Did he not witness the same developments? He only has to remember.

CHAPTER VI

Clericalism and Catholicism. The scapegoat.

The action of the occult Power extended in the conservative circles and even around the world Catholic.

THE LIE OF "CLERICALISM".

At the same time as he carried out the deformations of ideas which have just been exposed, the Power occult resorted to lying towards the francsmasons as towards the profane world to understand complete his work.

Who does not remember the famous formula launched by Gambetta: Clericalism is the enemy! To this propos, I have often heard certain opponents express themselves tasier on the skill with which, they say, the francs Masons know how to find the words that must make you do not. They are wrong in this, as they are wrong children when they say it's cold because it snow is falling. It is not because the formulas Masonic are well found that they make a fortune; it is because, well or badly found, it is the Masonnery which launches them, using all the organic forces nized resources available to it.

Here is proof.

Of these two aphorisms: Clericalism, there you have it the enemy! and: Freemasonry is the enemy!

– 145 –

So which one is best suited to the circumstances? constancy? Who is the most justified, the one who, reasonably, should have the greatest fortune? It is obviously the second. And yet, it is the first

What? Because it has been through thousands of mouths which open themselves to the will of the occult Power. Gambetta himself was only one of these mouths; because there is evidence that the word existed before he launched it that. The word existed, but it did not make a fortune. THE Occult power made it adopted by Freemasonry laugh. He put it in the repertoire of those of his people whose the voice carried. It was again a simple matter of suggestion by intentional, premeditated, calculation. Success therefore did not happen alone, the virtue of a well-chosen formula. It was the consequence sequence of a maneuver. And this maneuver, like so many others, was only possible as a result of the existence tenancy of the Masonic organization.

Why did the occult Power impose this force? Gambetta to his troops? Because she had the point starting point of a strategic movement similar to one which was carried out around the idea of tolerance. It was necessary that the attack on religion traditional was hidden under several masks. The march of occult Power is not only a tortuous walk; it's a tangle of winding steps.

I have heard it said and repeated a thousand times in the lodges – and the same thing was then done in the secular world – that we did not want it in any way to Catholicism, but simply to clericalism, that is to say "to the intrusion of Catholicism into the policy".

– 146 –

All in good time ! thought the moderates. If it is known to go to war against Catholicism, we protest in the name of respect due to all religions which is included in our statutes. Against the key-ricism, on the contrary, we must not hesitate. We cannot accept political domination priests. And this, in the very interest of the Catholicism.

It should be noted that this was happening at the time when there already had two hundred and fifty to three hundred francsmasons in Parliament, while he was not there than a priest. But we could see his cassock, while we could not see the apron of the three hundred. The Freemasons themselves were unaware that

Parliament. Only the leaders knew it. Everyone was therefore trained. Everyone marched against the key-Catholic Catholicism that everyone, after Power occult, declared to constitute an imminent danger and formidable, without worrying about the other, the clerical-Invisible Hsme, but constantly acting and waging war, the clericalism of occult Power. We hired the campaign first in the boxes, then outside the boxes, in all fractions of the profane world where could exercise the proselytizing ardor of the fanatical apostles tized and sub-apostles becoming fanaticized. All the world shouted: Respect for sincere Catholicism! But no more clericalism! We must not bear revival of politics by religion. THE priest in the sacristy! And we cited facts...

— 147 —

The priest at the church and in the sacristy; we are of this opinion. But since Freemasonry admits now that it is the counter-Church, we think that alongside the formula: the priest in the sacristy, he would have agreed to put this other: the Freemason at the lodge! Since, on the contrary, the Freemason does his anti-Catholic propaganda outside the lodges, since it practices his anti-Catholic policy in Parliament, he necessarily and legitimately brings Catholicism to this same land.

Indeed, when he sees himself threatened by perfidious and continual attacks of which he does not notice nowhere are the real authors responsible, because these walk in the shadows and are called the Pou-see the occult and Freemasonry, when he notes that these attacks occur everywhere at once: Parliament, in the press, in education, is it not it is not natural, is it not inevitable that the Catholics people are brought to face where they are

assailed, unless they tense their backs to the blows

and that they do not accept their disappearance in advance?

No doubt they would not be reduced to this if they had known Freemasonry earlier; if the knowing, they could have fought her directly and face to face on the propaganda field; if, before that it was not all powerful, they had shown it hypocrite and cowardly, as she is. This is their big and in the way it should have been! But their excuse is-

- 148 -

she is not in the unimaginable hypocrisy of their adversary, the occult Power, in the incredible falsity of Freemasonry, in the extraordinary when-tity of lies accumulated on purpose by this association to constantly conceal its action offensive?

Without doubt, placed as they were, the Popes, they could realize. They could see. So they realized and saw. The catholics have nothing to reproach them at this point view. The Popes addressed the monarcs and subjects. The encyclicals bear witness to this. But monarchs and their subjects, because they do not did not see the adversary who evaded so skillfully-ment, were unfortunately inclined to imagine that the Popes were exaggerating, as we have been until now led to believe in the exaggeration of current anti-Masons.

On January 4, 1818, Cardinal Consalvi wrote to Prince of Metternich:

"Things are not going well anywhere, and I find, that we believe ourselves to be far too exempt from simplest precaution. Here I maintain every day Europe's ambassadors of the future dangers that secret societies prepare for the order barely re-constituted, and I realize that I am only answered by the most beautiful indifference. We imagine that the Holy See is too quick to become frightened; we are surprised at the opinions that prudence suggests to us..."

We were surprised, in fact, and it was not only because of universal carelessness, but also because that the astonishment was carefully maintained by some of those even to whom the Cardinal secretary of state. Without him knowing it, they were the liege men of the occult Power. What-some even belonged to secret societies superior. Others were only part of the masonic inferior masonry. But didn't they hear the successors of the F.-, of the Tierce repeat with con-

- 149 -

God, here is the Mason!... He who deviates from his duties of religion is not a Mason. 11 usurps the name..." How, being thus blinded, could they have admitted—be what Cardinal Consalvi told them about societies secret.

And yet the Vatican was well informed; He saw just, as the following passage from the letter from Consalvi. The forecasts therein contained were only too justified by the facts.

"By all that I collect from various sides, and by what I see in the future, I believe (and you see later if I'm wrong) that the Revolution has changed marching and tactics. She no longer attacks by hand arming the thrones and the altars, she will be content to undermined by incessant slander: it will sow hatred and the distrust between those who govern and those who are governed, it will make some odious, while pitying others. very. Then, one day, the most secular monarchies, abandoned by their defenders, will find themselves at the thanks to some low-level intriguers to whom does not deign to give a look of warning attentive. You seem to think that, in these manifested by me (but always of a verbal order from Holy Father), there is a preconceived system and ideas who can only be born in Rome. I swear to you Your Highness that by writing to him and by addressing myself to high Powers, I completely strip myself of any personal interest, and that it is from a beautiful point—higher blow as I consider the question. It's not there stop now, because she is not yet in—placed, so to speak, in the public domain, it is damn to late regrets. »

— 150 —

It is, alas! a law of nature that is not generally believed to be rally than what we see. Catholics do not did not see the occult Power, nor its plan, and it is why they couldn't believe it. That is why, neglecting the warnings that came to them from so high, they did not oppose anything to the pours boxes.

Whatever one may think of the fault they committed into this — because so many of them they unfortunately still commit today, — it would have been a different fault than after not having

do not fight on the political ground, therefore that they were attacked there. But under what conditions inferiors then presented themselves for the fight!

By maneuvering politically against the Church before having been universally unmasked, the Pou-seeing occult could be said:

"All the chances are now in my favor, since I attack the Church without anyone even knowing that I exist. One of two things: either the Catholics They will defend it, or they will not defend it.

– 151 –

If they defend it, first their blows will go astray since they ignore me. Instead of hitting me, they will strike nearby. In addition, I will have the advantage of to appear as provocateurs. Nothing easier, since I attacked without anyone seeing me. If they don't defend it, it's even simpler. I do not have, in this case, no need to fight. I just need to continue as I started. »

It was therefore natural and necessary, whatever could happen, that the Catholics would try to de-split the Church on the political ground. And it is so that, through its perverse maneuvers, the occult Power had ensured the possibility of presenting before the crowds the ghost of clericalism.

Catholics therefore had only one tactics to adopt. Respond to offense with offense; compare Masonism to clericalism; attack the real enemy, that is to say Power occult, in its fortress, Freemasonry.

Unfortunately they didn't know; and from then on they had to be defeated. This is how we come back always to this necessity which imposes itself on them as the primordial necessity: Knowledge! Know the Masonic question!

I heard it in the dressing room, and thousands of times, I repeats, Masonic speakers proceed with hypocrisy denounced in advance by Cardinal Consalvi. But this hypocrisy was not the fault of each that Freemason taken individually, at least in the majority of cases ; she was especially and before everything comes from the occult Power. Didn't I repeat.

with the other Freemasons, that we do not are in no way linked to the true religion, which we respect were the sincere religious feeling, that what we were attacking, it was only the intrusion of religion in politics?

At least that's how we started; And we were sincere. Only we let ourselves gradually fanaticize.

By inspiring us with this language, the occult Power made us, without us suspecting it, tra- to strive to create a sort of scapegoat, clericalism, on the back of which we accumulated all the reproaches that could be leveled at the mind of intolerance, fanaticism, obscurantism and despotism. We could all give in to this game. born happily and innocently, it seemed to us, since by limiting ourselves to attacking clericalism, we observed the Masonic statutes, we pections religious faith, worship, religion. But we did not know that the occult Power reserved itself to one day slip the skin of the scapegoat on the back of Catholicism, and that thus it would be this one which would find himself loaded with all the hatred that nofis we had collected on the other...

So I worked, in good faith, like so many others very, to the creation of the clerical scapegoat. But in same time, and under the influence of suggestion which was syringed to me every day, like the others too, I saw clerics all over the Catholic world lique ; and I didn't think, because we don't think anymore when it is suggested that this was due to the fact that every Catholic feeling his religion threatened, he was natural that he would try to undo her. This side of the question tion escaped me. The suggestions coming from the Pou- seeing the occult carefully left him in the shadows. They explained things the way the wolf of the fable explains them to the lamb that he wants to devour. And, always like the others, I blindly accepted- ment these suggestions. I contributed in this way, without knowing it- see, to the decline of my country and, consequently, to mine.

I accepted these suggestions, thanks to what the Mathis nonsense flattered me by persuading me that I was a champions of truth, light, civility
reading. I accepted them mainly thanks to the ascendancy that she had started by taking over me by falsely convincing him of his devotion to the ideal.
Was she not the apostle of all great causes,
the instigator of all progress, the Alma Mater of Humanity? Could she be wrong?

"Holy Masonry!" » cried with emotion
sacred the F.-, Dequaire in his closing speech of the Convent, a few years ago.

And I too, I whispered deep within myself:
Holy Masonry! And I moved forward, my hand invisible hand of the occult Power, eyes closed, com-defeating a religion that was only defending itself, and serving with blind fervor an indiscriminate clericalism
ultimately formidable, because it is he who without showing himself, has not stopped attacking for two hundred years; and what he attack, it is the very existence of the country!...

- 154 -

PROGRESSIVE WALK. ADMITTING THE LIE.
EFFECT OF AUTOMATIC ELIMINATION.

We only approached the study successively
of the many destructions that were necessary to accomplish to allow the occult Power to edit proud one day "the Temple of Hiram".

The congregations were the first to undergo the as-leap. A slogan circulated: it was the congregants
tions which maintained the spirit of clericalism.

We didn't know anything about it, of course. We don't hadn't seen it for ourselves and we didn't have any let's say no proof. But we had faith in Masonry. When we have faith, we believe. The Mason-he spoke, we accepted his word as word of gospel. It was therefore the congregations which included began to be covered in the skin of the scapegoat sary. We had first of all respected them, they Also ; I mean that we had affirmed the respect
ter. Certain statements made by Brisson in 1872 are here to prove it. We stopped doing it. Home only more loudly displayed respect for the Catholic licism. The congregational idea was thus isolated from the idea among the congregations. We experience good ones and bad.

Isolating an army corps to reduce it is a tactic known to men of war.

"The goods of mortmain, it was said, do not constitute
Are they not killing a growing danger every day?
And then, isn't it there, in the congregation, what is the home of obscurantism and fanaticism? Of the secular priests, certainly! it is necessary so that live a religion Now, we want religion long live. It is not religion that we are attacking—we will never. So we won't attack each other no more to the priests. We only fight congregation, which is absolutely outside religion, which is useless to him, which is even harmful to him. Ah! No ! Certainly ! It's not for the poor country priests that we will never blame each other. It is on the contrary them we defend when we take sides against the congregations. »

– 155 –

However, a day came when they were attacked. It is when the work of suggestion was more advanced. What-masons carrying within them the true spirit of The occult power then became aware of something... which they gave to understand that we had omitted to think. "After all," they said, "priests don't wear Don't they wear a black dress too? Aren't they part from "la Calotte" like the congregants? Didn't They don't have the same spirit? If this spirit is bad here, he's bad there. However, you must have the neck rage to follow his opinions to the end! A real mason does not stay on his way. As soon as we shout: take off the cap! we must know how to complete the liberation of his mind and shout: down with all the skullcaps! »

– Down with the old skullcaps only! pro-know certain Freemasons among whom the suggestion tion had not yet operated completely. The old clergy is worthless; it's heard ; so let's create one other. Because for a religion, you need one.

; – 156 –

And discussions began on this subject, under

Either ! was answered by the more advanced initiates which included only a few magnetic passes were still necessary to produce in some subjects the deep state of hypnosis. Once again, this is not to religion, to worship, to faith that we will never attack. We have the deepest respect for consciences and we do not think, as you, only reforms in the clergy! Our women go to mass... (Many could have added: we eat cod on Good Friday) and we want this to continue.

And perhaps a good number of Freemasons, taken in isolation, do they hold to it, in fact. But the Power hides him, doesn't care.

When the hour seemed to him to have come, without letting himself lingering by those of the initiates who did not "follow the train", without worrying about the items listed in the Masonic statutes to prescribe tolerance, he made those of his mastiffs whose voice was the more resounding, those whose barks were the most feared. He created more advanced journals than those that existed. He subsidized them so that their editors mixed their howls with those Masonic mastiffs. And soon the same cries of hatred which were initially only addressed to the congresses ganists, then only to congregants and priests tres, were finally pushed against all Catholics, big or small, rich or poor, against the practices traditional ticks, against this religious faith of which people suddenly demanded destruction with fury, after that we had so long affirmed the respect we had for her.

– 157 –

The substitution dreamed of by the occult Power was then realized: the clerical scapegoat had become the Catholic scapegoat.

And this was admitted in the lodge; but only when the occult Power felt that it could afford with impunity such an admission because finally its followers were "to the point", that is to say completely admitted frozen and fanaticized.

I heard with my ears one of those who

the F.-. Courdavaux, professor at the Faculty of Lettres de Douai, whose words have often been quoted as I will call back. This F.-, walked, in 1888 and 1889, a certain conference in the provincial lodges and in those of Paris, conference in which found this passage:

"The distinction between Catholicism and clergy calism is purely official, subtle, for be- care of the stand. But here, in the box, let's say the high- ment, for the truth, Catholicism and clericalism Only do one. »

We see appear in the light of this last last sentence the true mental state of the Freemason. The true way of expressing oneself would have been this: "My brothers, we are obliged to tell the public that it is not against Catholicism that we are waging war, that it is only clericalism. It's like that that we must proceed, if we want the nation follows us. We have to deceive her. But here, between us, while we cannot be heard, let's say quietly that we know what to expect and that we are liars. »

- 158 -

Instead, admire the formula: "Here, in the lodge, let's say it loudly for the truth..."

Highly! for the truth! While the confession is done between accomplices, the temple being well "under cover" and the poor fooled public, too far away to hear! And those to whom the F.- was addressed. Courdavaux applauded! They did not notice at all that they should have found themselves flouted by the expressions tions which the speaker had used. This one had baptized their frank hypocrisy, and they beat hands. If he had called things by their name, they would have would hiss.

The word spoken by the F.-. Courdavaux and the collection which was made to him in the lodge constitute in their together a document that is really worth remembering, because it shows us not only the cynicism invisible inspirations, but at the same time the stupid Masonic ingenuity and the incredible confession ment whose occult Power manages to strike intelligences, after he has manipulated them for

It also provides us with an opportunity to observe the effect of this automatic elimination that I have so-noted as being one of the main means by which the occult Power makes its selections.

In fact, the conference of Br.-. Courdavaux was one circumstances which contributed to removing me to the empire of the suggestion by which I had been so completely dominated. When I started to think on the exact meaning of the words that I have just quoted, the truth, which I had been made incapable of perceiving for so long, appeared to me for a moment. A such a blatant contradiction between the language of yesterday and that of the next day widens the tear which begins was then to take place in the sails from which we had assumed developed my intelligence. The F.-. Courdavaux shook without knowing it my reason asleep. When the effect of this first shock were joined those of a number of others, I became quite unsuitable for the service of occult Power, by this alone that I stopped being blinded. But at the same time, what happened as a consequence? That I was thinking of leave Freemasonry. I therefore eliminated myself from myself. And at what time? To the one where I became at least useless, if not harmful to good mar-responsible for the affairs of occult Power. While around from me, those remained on the contrary who kept on the eyes the symbolic blindfold of initiation and who remained, therefore, good soldiers of the Power of Lies.

- 159 -

This explains the power of the suggestions tions of occult Power. If these suggestions are little almost irresistible is that they are only aimed at beings constituted expressly so as not to be able to see resist, by the reason that those who are constituted otherwise do not enter into Freemasonry. Or, if they go in, they all come out, some after the others, as I did myself.

- 160 -

Those who remain have everything they need to let people lead blindly; especially since the suggestion management comes to them from everywhere in the artificial environment are soaked, penetrated incessantly and with all manner, as a plant is by the atmosphere of the greenhouse in which she is locked.

It is necessary to add to this that an emulation is established between all these "apostles" and "aspiring apostles". It's who among them will show themselves the most "freed", as the F.- said. Lafferre in the speech that we have cited, the most worthy of being "master" after to have been a simple "apprentice". And as suggested- from above wants the most liberated to be the one who shows himself to be the most anti-Catholic, we understand takes only the Freemasons, excited by the sting of occult Power and thus training each other others, can reach a sort of furious madness which they consider to be a holy passion of justice tice, light, progress and fraternity. We assumes, on the other hand, that the moderates are always defeated by the violent, since the occult Power always works for the latter, except in the hours when, after the crises provoked by him, he feels the irresistible reactions. He then puts himself at their head to control them. And this is done, the reader can report now, without the Occupying Power cult which leads everything, never needs to manifest itself fester.

, - 161 -

THE PROGRESSIVE MARCH IN POLITICS
: CONSEQUENCE OF THE ACTION EXERCISED BY
THE OCCULT POWER.

The same is true in political spheres where the occult Power makes its action felt through the intermediary of Freemasonry. It is thanks to this action carried out everywhere and always in one way invisible as the revolutionaries of 1789, helped by certain nobles who had been blinded by suggestions, were able to destroy the barriers that had to be brought down so that the Revolution bears all its fruits. Between the most moderate and the most fanatical of these revolutionaries, it was natural that a struggle began Next. The occult Power wanted this struggle, and that was enough for it to take place. Using the proceeded that we now know, he ensured that his soldiers, that is to say the advanced ones, prevail crowd on others. This is how, under his push that no one saw, France passed hands to then be delivered to the Terrorists, who, due to of the very furies he had kindled in them, finished escaped from him and destroyed his army by destroying.

Same repetition in our time, at least for the first part of evolution.

It started with the progressives and the center-left-handed, who inspired and aided by the occult Power, defeated their neighbors on the right, with the help of their neighbors on the left, the opportunists. It was always a step forward taken by the occult Power. Then, the opportunists, helped in turn by the radicals and by the "occult power which wanted to make the fortune of the latter, beat their elders allies the progressive center-lefts. During this At that time, the occult Power trained, equipped and ar-but a new body, that of the socialists. With with the help of these, he had the opportunists beaten by the radicals. The time has now come to put in opposition the allies of yesterday: radicals and socialists, the latter doing moreover as we did for them, that is to say, preparing the way for the collectivists, to the Hervéists and the anarchists; and all this for- What? So that they are accomplished successively all the destruction which is necessary for the reading the secret plans of the occult Power.

– 162 –

All, let it be noted, progressive, opportune nists, radicals, socialists, collectivists and her-mountain bikers, whose groups are nothing other than the successive teams of the occult Power, all can believe themselves to be free. Let us even say, if we wish, that all are in a certain way. The victories they successively won over each other were no less those of the occult Power, which decided in advance who would be victorious, and who created the conditions thanks to which victories had to be ensured. And the proof is that, from when his hand was withdrawn from them, they no longer counted. Gambetta, so powerful at one time, Gambetta, whose ministry was to be the Great Ministry, Gambetta who shouted to the vanguard teams of the Occult power riots against him: "I will come to you continue and I will know how to reach you deep down haunts! » Gambetta achieved nothing at all. HAS barely had he founded his great ministry when this one was collapsing. It was because Gambetta was no longer the man that the occult Power needed. He had made the part of work that had been reserved for him. He had to give in place for those who were designated, without him knowing it, as more apt than him to accomplish in nature tion a new stage in the fatal march.

– 163 – ' ;

All those who followed him were, like him, than instruments. All, progressives, opportunists, radicals, socialists, collectivists and herveists have been, are or will be pregnant with certain ideas. A once in them, these ideas, like all the germs in their matrix, want to get out. They demand to happen to the state of facts. When the time comes, these facts are born, with the help of the occult Power. Once the delivery ment operated, those who have had the work are con- stunned as being no longer good for anything, not even to fulfill the role of nurturers. Their children are theirs removed to be entrusted to others. Therefore the execution of the decree on the choice of officers, rendered by Gallifet, was entrusted to André; that the application of the law on congregations, made by Waldeck- Rousseau, was attributed to Combes. This is also only once accomplished by the latter the part of task which had been reserved for him, he had to de- to flee, as he had seen Waldeck flee in front of him.

Combes was good for the work of reli- dislocation

- 164 -

religious, because of his fanaticism. But a fanatic is in no way indicated for the work of dislocation military that must now be carried out. There nation is still ticklish on this point. This is therefore no fanaticism that there is a need now nant, it is cynicism and dexterity. So that the egg- vre of denationalization takes place without France balks, the occult Power needs a virtuoso of crime, who is at the same time an acrobat; who knows how to make the patient to whom he swallows the food laugh poison. This is Clemenceau's role. He also needs ment of a mannequin covered in military clothing silence whose role must be limited to remaining seated in the chair of the Ministry of War, so that, by

of a soldier, France feels reassured. This is the role by Picquart. While it fulfills its function model and the other performs his parade on the ministerial trestle, the occult Power proceeds der by subordinates acting everywhere at the same time and as silently as possible, working to demoralization and destruction of the army. Picquart is there only to affirm that this work of demoralization is not accomplished anywhere, for swear by the stars and the white feathers that we only gave it to him for that. Everyone who has preceded Picquart and Clemenceau, all, by destroying who under one pretext, who under another, someone barriers that defended the social, political order and religious, opened the road and prepared the place to these two destroyers, against whom they have no

– 165 –

enough cursing today. They would like go backwards. From their hands which were strong to destroy as long as Power hides their lent his strength and who have now become feeble again Now that he is no longer with them, they carry puny blades of grass to obstruct the demolition man who razes the national fortresses that they delivered to him. They shout in the House. In their diaries, they cry and lament. But neither objurgations nor tears nor lamentations can prevent them from being charged with the terrible responsibility of having been, in as far as they could, the collaborators of the work of destruction. Gallifet prepared André, as André prepared Picquart. Waldeck prepared Combes, as Combes prepared Clemenceau.

INTERVENTION OF OCCULT POWER IN THE LEADERSHIP OF THE PARTIES
WHO OPPOSE HIM
AND UP TO THE WEST OF THE CHILD.

The occult Power also knows, without us knowing in doubt and always by the same process, intercome between the opposition factions. He favors those whose doctrines are most useful to the reaction reading of his views. To do this, he makes the "incarefully covered individual fluencies" including the chain is established in such a way as to leave no solution of continuity from him to those around him immediate of princes, monarchs and Popes.

– 166 –

of the clergy by us that we have undertaken", said one of the members of the Haute-Sale.

Another wrote:

"I am sent from Rome only two of ours, well known for their hatred of fanaticism, were obliged, by order of the supreme leader^ to kneel and communier last Passover. »

A third :

a There is a certain part of the clergy who bites the hook of our doctrines with marvelous vivacity her. »

A fourth :

"These poor princes will do our business by believing work only on theirs. »

A fifth :

u May the clergy march under your standard in always believing to walk under the banner of the leaders apostolic... Hold your hands like Simon Bar-Jonah; spread them at the bottom of the sacristies of the seminaries and convents rather than at the bottom of the sea. – You bring friends around the Apostolic Chair. let's will have preached a revolution in tiara and cope, walking with the cross and the banner..."

These few documents taken among many others, which were taken from the Vatican Library and published with papal approval by Cutineau-Joly don't they show applied occult thought to create this chain of influences from which we have just speak and by which are enclosed even those who seem best placed to defend religion and the homeland.

– 167 –

Well here is one that shows it even better. It emanates of the man who led Haute- Vente under the pseudonym name of Nubius while occupying, under its true

matic accredited to the Holy See. What was this name? Pope Pius IX knew this and had the charity to not reveal it out of consideration for Christian families. here. This Nubius was in contact with all the great Roman Catholic world. He wrote one day to the Jew Prussian Klauss: "I sometimes spend an hour of the morning with old Cardinal Délia Somaglia, the Secretary of State; I ride horses either with the Duke of Laval, or with Prince Cariati; I will, after mass, kiss the hand of Princess Coria where I quite often meet Bernetti (the Cardinal which they feared the most). From there I run to the cardinal Palotta; then I visit their cells the procurator general of the Inquisition, the Dominican Jaulot, the Theatine Ventura, or the Franciscan Orioli. The evening, I begin this life of idleness so well in others busy in the eyes of the world and the court; the len-tomorrow, I take back this eternal chain (1). »

To better inform the reader about the effort hypocrite of occult Power with a view to extending its influences even in the environments where they are suspected would be least obvious, we will cite a fact which relates to the obstacles placed in the way of publishing a work of

(1) Quoted by Henri Delassus in his beautiful work: Le problème of fheurc jii'ésenie.

– 168 –

Crétinean-Joly by whom was replaced the one whose are taken from the above documents.

Pope Gregory XVI was the first to think of this publication intended to make known to the world only if the Church took, in certain circumstances constants, a militant attitude, it was by necessity defense, since she was constantly attacked hidden in the shadows by invisible adversaries. He consequently handed over the documents to Crétineau-Joly which were in the Vatican Library and that he wanted to see published.

We barely knew the mission that had been entrusted to the French historian that "individual influences" were set in motion.

The author of the History of Secret Societies (such was the title of the projected work) recounts in his Mé-deigned to offer him a secret interview during from which he asked her for silence. Cretineau-Joly refused to accede to the King's request. This one got-drawn up to Pius IX who had just succeeded Gregory XVI. It was therefore through a royal intermediary, unconscious or not, that the occult Power was trying to weigh on the spirit of the Sovereign Pontiff.

At the same time, Cretineau-Joly, who had to re-gathering documents near the king of Naples had business in this city to a Carbonaro who, entering orders, had become the King's confessor and had all power over it. At the instigation of this Carbonaro confessor, the king of Naples, instead of delivering his documents to Crétineau, wrote a letter to the Pope such as Pius IX declared to the historian that his charity of father and his duty as prince required him not to allow a publication which was not without danger.

– 169 –

In 1849, the nuncio in Paris hired Cretineau-Joly to resume his work by showing him a dispatch of Cardinal Antonelli who said that the Pope had not opposed only momentarily to the publication of the History of the Secret Societies, but which he now believed It is not useful to follow up on the idea of Gregory XVI. Cretineau-Joly, who had returned to work, was arrested again. This time it was Prince Louis Bonaparte who intervened. In spite, the author burned his book which was already composed. The documents which he later introduced into the History of Sonderbund and in the Roman Church opposite the Revolution were those who had escaped destruction or copies of those that had been restrained.

These are still individual influences and carefully covered acting on behalf of the Occult power that was brought to light by accident day in this affair of "Catholic France", where we live a priest publishing this newspaper with the money provided to him by the President of the Council Clemenceau. What was the purpose of it? Deceive the Catholics liques, try to seize the direction of their political, by creating, during the Cultuelles affair, a current which was at its head, apparently, the men the most honorable, the most qualified Catholics, academicians, a vice-president of Action libérale. In reality, the statements made by Father Toi-

was engineered and ordered, not by the Head of the Eghse' as we tried to make people believe, but by the Pou-see occult who acted there as we see it do in all circumstances through in-carefully concealed individual fluencies.

"Don't lose them!" said Mr. Clemenceau in re-putting the first ten thousand francs to Abbot Toiton, Would that make a famous news story? " We do not have had the news item, but in its place we have, which better, the vision, in shorthand, of the whole action Masonic and the typical process of occult Power.

CHAPTER VII

Those hypnotized by occult Power.

TRANSPORTATION OF THE MASONIC STATE OF MIND

IN THE PROFAN WORLD. ^4

Here then is the occult Power tremendously armed, thanks to the existence of the instrument he forged: Freemasonry, an even more formidable agent that he is irresponsible and unconscious.

Irresponsible, because if this association does not does not hide her existence from the public, she hides from them, as long as it can, the names of its members and it had managed so far to steal from him almost completely their collective and disciplined action; of so that it was impossible to ask him accounts.

Unconscious, as a result of the graduated suggestions that Freemasons receive without realizing it; like those which, in a religion, would come from a superior priestly body that we would not see, whose existence would be completely unknown, even junior clergy.

At the same time, the occult Power finds itself protected in a singularly effective manner.

Indeed, not only did he manage to interpose

a personality between the public and him; but thanks to dispositions of Machiavellian skill, this personality is so uncertain and obscure, around her so many fables are spread, so many contradictions circulate that, while knowing that it exists, we hardly believe in it. And we are still much less willing to admit that a being whose existence is so problematic, may find itself directed by another whose action in such conditions appears more problematic again.

Freemasonry is therefore for Power conceals both a defense and a means of attack. Thanks to her, the occult Power has every chance so that we never talk about him, whereas now he will be able to act constantly. The evils he will spread on the world, we will not attribute them to him memo, She ; how would we attribute them to him?

Within the formidable Masonic organization, a state of anti-Catholic opinion was created, by the proceeded that we have indicated.

But the occult Power cannot stop there. It is necessary, so that the goal to which it aims can come true one day, that the reigning state of opinion in the Masonic world passes in the world profane.

These are the processes used at all levels of Freemasonry which also serve abroad. Thus the marvelous unity of the general plan.

Indeed, long before they were brought to the point where we saw them, the Freemasons exercised a certain influence in the secular world. THE Occult power had taken care to take them in all the environments. We understand that the day after their initiation, they make everyone around them feel the counter-effect of the action which is incessantly exercised on their minds. They repeat what they heard said by the preachers of occult Power. The day-nalist in his articles, the publicist in his writings, the playwright in his plays, the singer infamous actions, the professor in his classes, the institution

tor in his classes, all spread, under different forms, the teaching they received, the ideas of which they were impregnated. All play the role of these cappadores of which we spoke, who wave before the public the ideas on which it must rush.
The state of mind created and stored in the boxes
like a reservoir therefore overflows on all points, and the secular environment finds itself little by little modified by him. And, like the Freemasons who do thus the profession of propagandists does not give themselves as Freemasons, the action they exercise is not not known as a Masonic action. The newspaper moderate, patriotic, even religious, can have, without let him know, his or his Freemasons who do not say what they can say there, but who meet in the lodge with the enraged Freemasons of the Lantern and Action; with those of Time also, which establish contact between one and the other others. If he does not have his own Freemason(s), he has such and such of its editors who are imbibed, thanks

- 174 -

to '(individual influences carefully covered-green", of Masonic spirit diluted to the extent where it is appropriate for it to be assimilated into the environment in which he must act. These masonists trans-in turn impart to their colleagues the spirit that they have received. And this is how our press, even that of opposition, is attacked on many points
by Masonic infiltrations.

It is the same for workshops, salons, groups
pes that we constitute. So much so that in such a state of things, there is only one remedy, which is unfortunately the one we least resolve to easily: which consists of knowing the characteristics
ques of the Masonic spirit, to take the counter-foot in everything, and to rally, to submit to the disciplines intellectual and moral ples who represent the opposing states of mind.

BOTH ADVANTAGES

FROM WHICH FREEMASONRY BENEFITS:
MONOPOLY AS AN ORGANIZED SOCIETY, AND INVISIBILITY OF ITS ACTION.

Note that to externalize one's action, or rather that of occult Power, Freemasonry

in recent years, singular advantages.

It wasn't that long ago that she was still here only organized political association that existed in France. If this is no longer its situation today, in all cases it still benefits from an immense

– 175 –

^organizational superiority over opposition leagues recently created. It is easy to understand which facilities resulted for her from this sort of monopoly.

The mass of French citizens are divided against herself. It forms, as Taine said, "a dust of individuals" always ready to float to all the winds of opinion. It was not like this in the past. This has only been done since the appearance of the Masonry in France. It is only since then that a perverse will, invisible, but constantly active, took care to multiply among us the causes of division if we. Religious questions, political questions, questions economic issues, social issues, modern issues, everything served to separate the French in the past united, and to make that instead of a family, instead of a nation of which all the members are linked to each other others by the same ideal and contribute to the realization of the same goal, in France there are only corpuscles that float randomly in the atmosphere social; all colliding and swirling in one sort of crazy, uninterrupted storm. More discipline; more national discipline; barely a religious discipline that we also feel is crumbling, and weaken, in many souls, under unhealthy, deaf and perfidious influences.

In the midst of this chaos, Masonry alone existed until recent years, in the state of a group organized, coordinated policy, tending towards an unknown, but precise. She created within her lodges, as we have shown, a discipline, "The

– 176 –

Freemasonry, said a speaker from the Convent of 1893, has no pretension of wanting to apply to obtain from its own bosom a certain number of documents trines of freedom and individual independence including

Freemasonry is a fighting organization and it is obliged to submit its members to the rules of discipline which are essential for struggle. »

It is natural that the agglomeration thus constituted, found herself all the more powerful as she was only hierarchical in the middle of a world of which all the parts disintegrate a little more every day under the dissolving action of the disastrous egalitarian dogma. Masonry is therefore like a real block among the floating molecules which replace the an-old French nation. How did this block, propelled thanks to the extremely powerful organism that we studied, would it not cross the dust that we are, by pushing them despite their multitude, as does the small coherent mass of a cannonball in the middle of billions of corpuscles that swing in the atmosphere? , Has this advantage of being the only organized political society nized in a nation where all social ties have been broken, Freemasonry joined until now a second even more considerable one, which was that no one suspected the existence of the first.

Had she not written in her statutes that she would not didn't care about politics? We believed her. Onne could foresee that one day one of its members

– 177 –

F.'. Gonnaud, speaking at the closing banquet of Convent of 1886, would be led to say: "He was a moment, not of rules but of formalism, of declare that Masonry was not concerned with religion, nor politics. Was it hypocrisy? I won't say it. It was under the impression of the laws and from the police that we were obliged to conceal this that we all have a mission to do or rather to do only. »

They affirm to each other that they have a mission to play politics and do nothing but that! And they proclaim in their statutes that they prohibit themselves this occupation. The F.-. Gonnaud says a lot by this admission which sufficiently corroborates the presentation made below above the mason method and processes niques.

This is how the nation was deceived without power loyal nation among all, that an established association on French soil had the principle of lying?

A man who lies, that's common. But an association ciation! An association that lies, not once, but without stopping for two centuries! Who puts lies in its statutes, that is to say who makes lies the basis of its action! How would French minds have imagined the same perfidy?

It is precisely because no one could dream that we let Freemasonry tra- do everything at your ease. We looked at the Freemasons like originals or simpletons, or mutualists of a particular species, or vanity talkers teus and empty, or even like happy accomplices who pretended to have secret meetings to escape as often as possible to the monotonies of everyday life milial. We took them for everything they were not. But no one could take them for that that they really were. And this is how, all everyone believing them to be harmless, no one thought of hinder them in their action.

– 178 –

' We remember the curious and suggestive testimony what did one of the two recruiters bring on this point? the invisible Freemasonry with which I had to deal at the end of my Masonic life.

"You realize," he said to me, "the power available to Freemasonry. We can say that we hold France. It's not not because we are the number, since there is no there are only twenty-five thousand Freemasons in this country (it was in 1889). Nor is it because we we are intelligence, because you are able to me- surmise the intellectual mediocrity of most of these twenty-five thousand Freemasons. We hold the France because we are organized and the only ones organized. But above all, we hold France because that we have a purpose; that we do not know what this goal is; that, as we do not know, we cannot prevent it; and that finally, as there is no obstacle, the path is wide open before us. »

It is impossible to summarize more clearly the two main reasons for the strength of the Mason-

– 179 –

Today these two causes of superiority tend more and more to disappear. Their effect weakens slowly, but gradually, as develop groups opposed to France Masonry and the knowledge of masonry spreads Masonic question; and this is what should give courage and above all endurance to the French no longer crushed by the memory of defeats which been suffered for thirty years only because we were unaware all of this.

PERVERSTY CLOTHED IN SINCERITY.

The skillful and profound perversity with which he acts the occult Power vis-à-vis Masonry is re-also finds in the method used by this with regard to the profane world.

How could it be otherwise? Since each mason is only an echo of what he heard – and a more or less faithful echo, otherwise it is expelled would be Masonry, or else it would come out of itself-even, as we have explained – his effort particular is regulated by the learned calculations which determine the prudent course of occult Power. It's trickery, deceit, lies and hypocrisy who have been so successful inside the dressing rooms because the unwarned Freemasons were defenseless against these means; it is also cunning, deceit, the lies and hypocrisy that must succeed in the profane world, because this one is no more warned against the effort of Masonic perversity that Freemasons were not warned against perversity of occult Power.

– 180 –

And even, a new factor intervenes which increases considerably weakens the effect of masonic; it is unconsciousness that is created in the almost unanimously among the Freemasons. The representatives direct members of the occult Power who have regimented the first followers of Masonry spoke knowingly lie to them. He

the same goes for the propaganda carried out by the French masons in the midst of the secular world. These were fanaticized, blinded in such a way that it is, the most often, without knowing it, they are lying. Acting through them, the hypocrisy of the occult Power is therefore clothed in ingenuity, and it becomes more redoubtable. In reality, they are believers, since they believe in the mission of the Widow, in her holiness. Of less so for a large number of them. We managed to persuade them that science demanded the destruction of Catholicism. They don't know absolutely nothing by themselves, since they are not not scholars. Here again, they had to believe what they were told. They believed. On this point as on the first, they have faith. This is a considerable strength wheat. And you have to know, you have to have seen how much value hallucination!

As a result of the suggestions they receive, these barely roughened intelligences take themselves for scientific intelligence. It is very sincerely that The dishwashers in the Widow's kitchens considered the pioneers of science and reason. Every time Christian priests pronounce a hundred the name of Jesus Christ, they bow their heads and humiliate themselves deep within themselves. On the contrary, it is enough for Freemasons to talk about their divinity, "Reason", so that they become puffed up with pride and considered infallible.

– 181 –

Ignorant people who think they are learned, or that, not being learned, they are at least the soldiers of science, who carry this conviction in politics, and who, cleverly recruited, arrive at govern a state by the force of occult organization to which they belong; which dominate, therefore quent, by reason of their ignorance, in the name of an invisible force to which it is impossible to asking for accounts, this is what we can consider rer as an infinitely harmful clericalism for the country that is infected with it. It is, strictly speaking, the dictatorship exercised by imbecility for the benefit of perfidy.

tized that Freemasons proceed with respect to profane world as the occult Power proceeded towards them. No more than this one, they say basically where they are going with this. How could they, since they themselves do not know where we want to lead them. Brisson, for example, speaking of Congregations, once declared "that he could never but come to the thought of any republican of restrict in any way the right of association". It is likely that Brisson meant what he said.

– 182 –

It was in 1872 that he spoke like this. The suggestion blicaine was the one that corresponded particularly- at this time to the need for occult Power. Brisson obeyed the impulse he received without realizing it. doubt. He spoke as a Republican. For some time number of years, this is the anti-Catholic suggestion who dominated. Brisson again obeyed this suggestion tion and he spoke and acted no longer as a republican but in sectarian. His conviction, however unenlightened it was, nonetheless gave a certain force to his pledge from which the occult Power benefited.

Thanks to this kind of unconsciousness, it is with sin- It is true that Freemasons affirm their tolerance rancid and their respect for all religious faith. And it's yet another advantage for the occult Power. Even today, we meet Freemasons who are convinced of their spirit of tolerance. The F.-. That- thousand Pelletan himself proclaimed in a speech, when he was a minister, his respect for religion. It is a fact. Do you think he was lying? It's not certain. He spoke like this as he left the table and it may be perfectly that that day, he had tolerant wine. Briand takes his "desire for conciliation" to the seriously by very senior political figures Catholics. The suggestion produced in him, due of its particular nature, the state of mind necessary for that, in the most natural way, he can thus impose, and perhaps, at certain times, impose oneself to himself. Meanwhile, Clemenceau sub- appoints an abbot and founded under the authority of the tane of this one a newspaper, la France Catholique, which

– 183 –

so sells at the doors of churches, to allow the

of Catholicism, to make Catholics read what they must be persuaded so that the occult Power can arrive at the supreme destructions that he meditates.

While opinion is worked on in so many ways various reasons, how could she not be deceived!

We have cited the words of a Freemason who speaking of freedom, very sincerely made this de-statement:

"Yes, whatever anyone says, it is the freedom that we want to ; only, we want the real one; the one who do not allow anyone to take liberties against her. »

This is the extent to which occult power is come to distort the intelligence of those he calls the children of "light". If they are there now- However, we can judge the sincerity of their fanaticism when they had not yet entered the period of action, when, consequently, their aberration was not likely to feel at least some little forbidden from the spectacle of the contradictions that they are forced to inflict on themselves today.

the deep state of unconsciousness.

It is sometimes with a really unconscious comedy that they operate, vis-à-vis the profane, all the hypocritical maneuvers that were carried out vis-à-vis towards them by the representatives of the occult Power.

One day, towards the end of my Masonic life, when my reason beginning to wake up made me hear deep in my conscience his protests against the Masonic fanaticism by which I had let myself be dominated, a layman who was a friend of mine came to see me to ask me what Franc-Masonry, to which he was attracted by a recruiter. Barely had he entered my house when another arrived of my friends who was a Freemason. The conversation committed between the three of us, and under conditions such as I was soon content to listen to.

- 184 -

The Freemason said to the one who was not:

- Freemasonry is an association su-

– Then it's perfect. Yet I was told that it was a political association?

– Not at all. We are not concerned with politics.

–And religion?

– Neither. Besides, if you want to have the consciousness at rest in this regard, here is what is the first article of our statutes: "Freemasonry, essentially philosophical, philanthropic and progressive, aims to research of truth, the study of universal morality, sciences and arts, etc. ;>

As my friend spoke and I heard fall from its curl the beautiful declarations inscribed
in the Masonic constitution, a kind of veil was torn inside me, thanks to what I found myself in faced with this reality, unbearable for my conscience
science: a friend who relied on me with conscience engaged and that I saw deceived, victim of lies

– 185 –

Masonic statutes. The concrete fact imposed itself on me in all its clarity.

Don't we do, every day, I said to myself,
at all hours, exactly the opposite of what is written in there? What is true? Our actions, or those declarations by which we attract the laymen in good faith?...

For the first time I really felt disgusted with the work in which I had collaborated Without seeing the odious and contemptible hypocrisy.

When the applicant had left, I said to my friend
freemason:

– It seems to me, my dear, that we have just made a profession singular.

– What do you mean? he said in surprise.

– We have affirmed to the innocent layman who

Freemasonry. However, we only do policy. Admit that we took it upon ourselves comfortable with the truth...

– Should we tell lay people what What do we do in Freemasonry? We don't have any not allowed.

– We nevertheless said the opposite of
the truth. *

We also affirmed that we were an association
ciation of tolerance.

– Well?

– ■ Well! We are just the opposite. YOU are not tolerant and I am no more than you.

– 186 –

since we both want the destruction of the catholicism.

– Aren't we right to want
the destruction of Catholicism?

– That's another question. Let's admit, if you wish, that we are right, it is none the less unfair to deceive a layman as we come to do. If we consider it a duty to destroy Catholicism, why don't we proclaim it we not highly?

– Because our regulations require us to secret. There is no need to discuss that.

– It follows that we come, you and I, from say the exact opposite of the truth. This is shovel lie. In addition, we adorned ourselves with the virtue of tolerance as we intolerant. It's called being hypocritical. There's no
to get out of there!

– Oh that ! my dear, what is wrong with you?

– Nothing. I only look at our actions with eyes of reason and I give them their real name.

The one from whom I held this language so simple was

– But, Brother Copin, are you going crazy?

And to get back on the right path ma-
sonically, he engaged in a whole series of ramblings
tortuous actions tending to persuade me that the Mother
this nonsense was not hypocritical, for the reason that it had a sublime goal, and that the Freemasons, taken isolated, were no more so than she,... by reason-
It was their duty to hide. And not only-

– 187 –

he was sincere in saying that, but this way of seeing resulted from a sort of crystallization almost indestructible of his thought. A freemason capable of seeing things differently could not to be for him only a lunatic, only a madman, as he had said it. 'r^

This is how a Freemason on whom fully acts the suggestion, frankness is a fault, lying an obligation, hypocrisy an virtue, deceit a duty.

A little later, the same day when, still being Freemason, I had just delivered my first ba-size to Freemasonry, I was leaving my lodge,
after the outfit during which I was judged.
Behind me two brothers walked talking, without having noticed that I was ahead of them and that I could hear them. They were two of my old friends.
They were among those who had supported the most energetically, out of a spirit of discipline, the maconic against me. One was a partisan doctor of Darwinism. He said to the other, speaking of me:

–What do you want, my dear, it's obvious, these acciteeth there. He was an intelligent boy. But he is reached the end of its development. His brain suffered a developmental arrest. If he leaves us, we
We must not regret his departure for Masonry.
He's a finished man.

This one too was a nice type of suggestion, hypnotized. It is with the greatest sincerity that he pronounced on me the judgment that I have just said.
To stop considering Masonic work as legitimate, holy and sacred, in his eyes it was necessary to have undergone a "stoppage of evolution", having fallen back into childhood,... below three years of apprentice grade. He ... not saw no other possible explanation in my case particular, given that he knew I was sincere.

Since then, to use his expression, I have continued to "evolve)\ I looked for what they call "the truth", and I did it while standing under the light mother of this poor little interior star that I call my reason and which they call "Reason"; star which, they too forget, does not produce light, but receives it; which is only a reflector, on which images pass through which he reproduces as best he can, very imperfectly. I was careful not to confuse my reason, which I know is so fragile, with "Reason" total and universal, this myth in the name of which they stupidly imagine they have the right to speak. By this alone that I thus kept myself on guard against myself—even, my chances of error were reduced especially. On the contrary, the one who spoke like me just said remained exactly at the point where he was then. His intellectual horizon has not changed; it is always anti-Catholicism conceived and practiced in accordance with the suggestions and discipline conic, that is to say according to the views of a powerful human power, the occult Power, which does not even have deigned to reveal herself to him. It was formed around this anti-Catholic suggestion a kind of callus in his brain... The poor devil is not less convinced, I have no doubt in this regard, that it is he who continued to evolve and that I am at the contrary always under the influence of my "stop to evolution".

– 189 –

Considered in itself, such blindness is simply comical. But what a formidable weapon when it was created expressly by a will which hides like everything that is bad, who knew how to to die invisible for two hundred years and of which we now know the profound perversity!

CHAPTER VIII

Exterior free masonry

THE FREEMAÇOS^'^^EXTERNAL SERIES

Certainly, such means of action are formidable-bles, especially when they are turned against a nation without mistrust. However, the occult Power does not have them not yet considered sufficient. He created freemaexterior masonry which is intended to multiply its action in the field of ideas as well as
in that of political and social action.

In the domain of ideas first, because the Occult Power is, above all, anti-Catholic.
We do not have to insist on this fact which is abundantly demonstrated, not only by our previous work The Occult Power against France^
but by a very large number of others whose authors have made a special effort to highlight firstly the anti-Catholic character of Freemason-nerie.

As Catholicism is a power whose domain is that of ideas, the occult Power must have attack him there. We have seen that the organism and the Masonic methods were precisely those needed to meet this need. THE Occult power has made Freemasonry not a

- 191 -

action league, but an education society or, more exactly, miseducation.

We also saw in our previous work that the occult Power had seconded of all his effort the success of the philosophy of the eighteenth century. The encyclopedists, moreover members of the Ordinary Freemasonry, formed among themselves,
can we say, a sort of separate lodge, a freema-
intellectual nonsense, in which it is obvious that the occult Power had provided itself with the means to transmit his inspirations.

The same is true of certain associations which,
while having the characteristics of the secret society, vi-
wind outside of ordinary Freemasonry and seem to have no connection with her or any have very little. We want to talk about these associations ciations with more or less bizarre names that we know

rie, having continued into the eighteenth century and up to than today or have been replaced by others
presenting the same characteristics: the Rosicrucians, the Martinists, the Illuminati, the Swedenborgians, the Misraimites, Kabbalists, Occultists, Spi-
rites, the Centers which call themselves more or less esotericques, etc., etc., without counting these dark associations
breuses of the Middle Ages which abounded almost everywhere and whose names for a large number are not even not reached us.

These associations differ from each other. And it's all natural. The occult Power, which wanted to detach of morals and Christian discipline men

- 192 -

of all countries, had to present to them, for the ten-ter and to seize a greater number of en-
be them, types of association whose variety corresponded to that of the types of intelligence to which he was addressing. This is the reason for the differences which are seen in these groupings-
But alongside these differences, they all present two common characters which are like the mark of factory of occult Power: they are more or less secrets and more or less clearly and visibly anti-Catholic.

If we told the members of these groups that they have any connection with Freemasonry, none doubt that many would protest. It's that they do not know how this relationship can be established.
We realize it for them now that we know about the secret Mason organization-
fuck.

Members of the companies we care for can imagine never having met anyone leaves with Freemasons, and yet collaborate with them in the same work of destruction. Each attack the Catholic bloc on one point, while the others attack him on another. So that their efforts are coordinated, what is needed? Only re-presenters of occult Power are found among the one and among the others. These representatives meet trent between them. They all receive more or less di-exactly the same inspiration. They know the why of the division of labor that they strive to establish
in the lower groups where they fulfill the mission

sion entrusted to them; and that is enough. Without a doubt, with such a system, things don't work always as the occult Power would like. But what are the human affairs that mark—always work at the discretion of those who undertake them? Divergences, clashes, divisions can occur between these groups who ignore each other and whose only a few members know each other them. Some can even be torn from the trunk, separated temporarily or forever from the center of inspiration. But once again, where is it going? otherwise in the things of this world? The import indeed, when such accidents occur feels, the secret of the unity of inspiration must not be divulgarized. It's the only one that really matters. But on this point we can be sure that the Pou—occult see knows how to take precautions and that in ou—be he will stop at nothing, absolutely nothing, to ensure his safety. When he perishes, because, at the end of account, so many containers go into the water, even the stronger than they break or wear out, it will have killed many others before him.

In the political and social domain, the Occupying Power cult has created a large amount of under—Mason—ries whose efforts find their point of concentration in the boxes, as well as the efforts of those here and the associations that we have just taken care of per find theirs in higher spheres.

Here we will be able to go exactly account of the manner in which he operated; and, thereby, we will explain how he had to proceed on the upper floors of the immense organization of his secret armies.

THE SUB-MASONERS SERIES.

Once in possession of the prodigious accumula—lation of forces which resulted for him from the grouping, of Masonic discipline and organization, the Occult power thought he could surrender even stronger by extending grouping, discipline turn of this companies which would be like others so much sub-masonry and which would fill opposite towards her the role that she herself fulfills towards him. And this is how a number currently exist considerable number of associations which were created by the Masonry and who undergo its direction without realizing it doubt, just like this one, without even suspecting it-ment, was created by the occult Power and underwent its direction.

We understand the double advantage of such multiplication.

First, the area where suggestions reign created by the occult Power is enlarged in considerable proportions, since many more numerous are the enlisted propagandists which contribute to the coordinated action of Power occult is the inspiring secret.

At the same time, another benefit is assured: the secret of the existence of this occult Power which holds so much by not being known is even better protégé. Until now, there was only Masonry that was found between the profane world and him. A double barrier will now exist, since Masonry, by which he acts without letting himself be seen, will act, without let it be seen for itself, through the intermediary ties that it will have generated.

- 195 -

It is this thought that inspired the creation of the League of Education^ of that of Human Rights^ of Free Thought Leagues^ of Friendly Unions of Solidarity^ of A miccrZe^ of teachers, without counting others and without mentioning the workers' unions in which Masonry has reserved for itself the means of netre.

Freemasonry is careful not to let people know that she is the initiator of these groups. The Power Oc-cult, we said, makes it act in this way as it he himself acts towards her.

The instructions given to Freemasons by their leaders in this regard are of a precision which does not leaves nothing to be desired.

at the convent of 1892, only a staff, you are only that officers, you have not yet grouped enough clearly the troops that you must lead to combats. You cannot call these troops into your boxes, because it is absolutely impossible for you to reduce affect the financial conditions in which you live and which are the very essence of our Order; but I say it with a personal conviction profound, you need, in forms which are already found, thanks to the elements you already have, succeed in uniting all these masses around you of universal suffrage which only ask to be directed by you.)>

– 196 –

From 1891, that is to say a year before the F.-. Blatin uttered the words that we have just reported the Congress of Lodges of the South taught us that “French Free Thought already numbered six hundred groups whose training was due for the greatest joined Freemasonry! »And it is obviously to this is what the F.- was referring to. Blatin when he spoke of “forms that are already found”.

The rapporteur of the Propagation Commission gande at the convent of 1893 cited among “the Societies created by the lodges and remained under their control moral direction, Free-Thought societies, truth-war machines against clericalism, so-educational companies. (School funds, Funds of Schools, Popular Libraries)...study circles where we can group all the goodwill, popular conference companies that allow to spread the light even to the smallest villages. »

In 1894, the Masonic Congress of Amiens recommended also calls for the creation of companies acting under Masonic inspiration, while masking the Masonry.

Here is in fact what we can read in the account report of this Congress:

“Our Commission considered that this means should be designated in a very particular way to your attention. It will indeed give you all the opportunity

– 197 –

sion to make our ideas predominate everywhere, if we have the talent to organize these societies while remaining behind the scenes.

It is therefore a very methodical campaign plan. properly designed. And here we find corroborated this what we said about the organization and processes of occult Power; because we just have to watch to see that the execution of this plan reproduces exactly at the bottom of the Masonic ladder what we have shown in all degrees.

Freemasonry, without anyone being able to take guard, created around it a multitude of societies in which she spreads her suggestions, likewise that the occult Power does towards it. And these societies are his armies at the same time as his belt protective ture, just as it is the army and the protective belt of occult Power.

Did it act fairly towards these companies? big day? No more than the occult Power acted towards her. It is always the same method which repeats from top to bottom. We have proof in the last sentence of the extract we have just to quote: "This means will give you the opportunity to make our ideas predominate everywhere if we have the talent to organize these societies while remaining in the behind the scenes." This sentence shows the usual process of occult Power, like the warhead which is found in the smallest window in a cathedral gives the drawing of the pattern on which the whole set is built wheat.

'(We must not, says the rapporteur of the Commission of Vows at the convent of 1898, he we must not let see in this work the hand of the Freemason. »

– 198 –

So always the dissimulation, always the trick and deception.

r PENETRATION OF GROUPS NO

MASONICS,

This is not enough for Freemasonry groups that it creates. There are some that she doesn't have created. She applies herself to penetrating those to little by little turn their forces to their advantage. Do not know— not just ten men grouped around an idea are stronger than a thousand whose ideas contradict each other feels. As a result, she does not want her adversaries to have homogeneous groups at their service nes. To do this, she tries to force the doors of groups that they organized, to spread their doctrines, but always “by not letting his hand. »

The report of the Masonic Congress of Amiens provides us with proof of this, because we still read in his report :

“To contribute to our Work, wherever it is newspapers run by brothers will be possible, but never discovering the dressing rooms and never disclosing our work... Create societies of free thought, of relief, strained on the lodges, subsidize the groups existing profane pes... and bring in the ma- ço?is in companies already constituted^ but with the

— 199 —

greater caution. Make propaganda through charity by participating in good works and encouragement, ALL THESE MEANS ARE OUR. »

The orator of the convent of 1891 noted that the Freemasons had responded to the “slogan which was given to them and that many of them belonged to companies grouped under the flag of Free Thought. »

At the North-West Ij0ges Congress, Br.—. Bourget urged his brothers to enter the greatest number of possible societies “particularly in secular, school and charitable patronage, foresight, rescue, shooting and shooting associations gymnastic ; encourage all free societies thought, sense the teachers who in their role of educators of the people can make us

"The Lodges," wrote Piccolo Tigre in the letter that we have cited, are only a place of deposit, a kind of baras, a center through which one must pass before arriving at us (superior secret societies-laughing). By teaching him to carry a weapon with his glass, we seize the will, the intelligence and of human freedom. We dispose of it, we turn it, we studied it. We can guess his inclinations, his affections and its tendencies; when it is ripe for us, we say it moves towards the secret society including Freemasonry. can only be the rather poorly lit antechamber.

What are, according to the Jew Piccolo-Tiger, the higher secret societies of Freemasonry

- 200 -

invisible compared to Freemasonry that we know, this in turn is in relation to the thousands of companies that it creates across the entire surface of the territory, or those into which it penetrates "without letting his hand be seen", and which are only "his rather poorly lit antechamber.

' Through these companies, it acts on the secular world. She spreads her ideas there, always covering them with the veil of hypocrisy and not shedding of these ideas that the doses that she feels assimilable...

It is therefore an immense net, the meshes of which are represented by thousands of companies, which is thrown in France. These companies were mostly constituted by Masonry, and they do not know it not. They are led by representatives of this association and they ignore it. It is from his ideas that they are fed, it is by its hypocritical propaganda, tending to one does not know what obstinately hidden goal, that the intelligence of their members is obliterated; And They don't suspect it! Not suspecting it, they cannot even think of keeping the poison. They absorb the doctrine of lies like a teaching of truth. They spread it like such around them. It is in the name of "science", unknown to ignorant Freemasons, that they have been catechized; it is in the name of "Science", everything as unknown to them, that they catechize others.

How, in such conditions, can Power occult would it not succeed in destroying from top to bottom ble the way of thinking of a nation! How to make it destroy itself! By what a miracle would she realize that the for-lying mules for which she is passionate were only invented to disorganize it, to disarm, to reduce it to the state of prey, while hiding from him the goal secretly pursued by a Occult power of which she is unaware even exists!

– 201 –

total invasion. – time for action.

And here is this propaganda work, already served by such means, finds himself, at a certain hour, seconded, supported in such a way, that its action will be find it even more tenfold.

Indeed, the Freemasons, "these theoreticians, these philosophers so gentle, so peaceful, so conciliatory", as said by a member of the Council of the Order responding in March 1899 to the questions of a child seen from the newspaper Le Temps, the innocent and harmless Freemasons had declared in their statutes that they didn't care about politics. Member of the Council of the Order in question repeated this affirmation, too.

"We proscribe any political discussion, he knows. We stay away from any agitation. We never get involved in militant politics. We never present a candidate to any election whatsoever..."

They have never "presented a candidate to any election whatsoever! » They never did it loyally ment, by showing himself in broad daylight, and saying:

– 202 –

We are Freemasons. This is true. But they presented candidates while masking themselves. and in hiding whenever they could. And the proof, is that from 1893, six years before the declaration of Member of the Council of the Order at the newspaper Le Temps, another member of the Council of the Order, F.-. Amiable, could say in his speech at the convent:

"Our candidates will carry almost everywhere, and already considerable, is significantly increased. I therefore greet on behalf of the General Assembly of the Grand-East, the Freemasons who are today the elected by universal suffrage. »

They have no candidates; and their candidates take it over almost everywhere! This is how it breaks out at all times their phenomenal hypocrisy.

How, moreover, do their candidates not win? would they not laugh, while they precisely represent the opinion to the production of which the Power occult worked by all means, including more dishonest, during all the time he judged necessary? They have the support of a formidable well organized. Behind the Masonry walk for them thousands of companies that have been created and who are inspired by her. On the flanks, others societies, more intellectual, obey without suspecting it too, to the suggestions of the occult Power. It would be truly extraordinary if with such advantages, candidates for Freemasonry do not were not elected. Especially since, even when they are not elected by the living, they are elected by the dead, thanks to certain electoral frauds of which an association that has the lies and trickery for basis and means.

– 203 –

It was therefore inevitable that Freemasonry managed quite quickly to introduce a certain number of its members in Parliament. Once this fact, she was inevitably to steal victories in victories until the entire nation was informed of his actions.

The march of Freemasonry for the conquest for political power was therefore directed by the occult Power with a spirit of continuity and a logic which should overthrow all obstacles. This result was all the more certain since, as much that she is not completely unmasked, the Freemasonry enjoys the singularly advantageous situation where is a fighter who has the use of his eyes against a blind opponent. Nothing easier than to provide, in such a case, which of the two must remain victory.

wheat.

First of all, sampling by selection of a certain number of citizens. Their isolation in lodges, where they are lured by false declarations and by the attraction of the secret, where we inflate them with the idea that they are superior beings simply because they agreed to gather in the bosom of the Widow.

Secondly, gradual establishment of a dis-moral discipline, by the elimination of recognized elements refractory to us, and at the same time by the selections successive operations carried out among those who are recognized more fit.

– 204 –

Then, slow and calculated maneuver, to arrive to create little by little, thanks to the eliminations and selections, thanks above all to preaching, a state of mind contrary both to the principles on which we originally claimed to rely on and initially declarations by which we had attracted the first members. Incessant use of the syringe to suggest ideas that is Freemasonry in the hand of Occult power, to cast into the minds of the followers the idea that Freemasons have a dual mission to complete: light up the world by turning off the stars with which Christianity had populated the heavens and the defeat by destroying existing political powers, to replace them with other forms of governance is lying ; those said to be the most progressive and the more liberal; those which, in reality, are the most prepared to ensure the domination of occult Power by through Freemasonry.

Once the desired state of mind is established in the boxes, creation of sub-masonry, groups, associations, committees, in which Masonry, all taking precautions not to be seen, subtly conveys his mind, his inspiration, his direction. At the same time, action of the Masonry and sub-masonry carried out by newspapers, by brochures, by magazines, by conferences and by a thousand other means, on the rest of the world layman who must be trained all the easier – ment that it constitutes the most blind part, the most indifferent to the nation, the laziest too, since she did not even feel the desire to group herself

per, since it remained in a state of crumbling.

Finally, when the opinion is sufficiently established manufactured in Masonry, debited in the sub-sections masonry and then transported to the environments
profane, conquest of the political world by the elect-tion, thanks to the opinion that was deceived in this seen, and which we pretend to serve.

Only then will the time for action strike.

Because everything we have studied so far does not
was just the preparation.

The profound skill of occult Power consists therefore especially in that he knows not to hurry. He me-sure the difficulty of the gigantic destructions that he must accomplish to realize his secret plan. In con-frequency he divided his work into two main sections.
ties: preparation and execution.

Preparation consists of two things:

Deceive the Christian world so that it never mind ;

And choose collaborators in this Christian world
tors who, traitors to their origins, to their past, to their ancestors, had no scruples about collaborating in the destruction of their homeland.

When the Freemasons replaced for long periods of years their propaganda work
dists, apostles and sub-apostles; when the groups
pes with which they surrounded Freemasonry were tirelessly echoes their propaganda; during-that this Freemasonry has reached, thanks to

- 206 -

overall reaction thus organized, to seize the political power ; when speakers, journalists, poets, singers, playwrights, comedians
diens, authors of pornographic libels have agitated
in a thousand ways so-called progressive ideas
in front of the people, as the banderilleros wave capa before the bull, then the political toreador who end appear. Its hour, that is to say the hour of action, the hour of upheaval has come. That instead of the capa of the banderilleros, that is to say of the simple subversive theories, he shakes the scrap of fabric red, the rags of civil war, the program of destruction with its inseparable procession of persecutors proscriptions, pillaging, theft, assassination nats, and opinion, excited, panicked, blinded, will rush furiously to take his share of the ungodly work. It is at the point, in the state where the bullfighter adorned with Masonic emblems. That he is called Mirabeau, Danton, Robespierre, or, more near us, Waldeck-Rousseau, Combes, Clemenceau, whether he is or is not a Freemason himself—even, once he was chosen as a “delegate”, he only has to speak to lead him away, this opinion that the occult Power has manufactured in advance all excuse for him. She belongs to him, and at the same time he has the power! Deputies, senators, ministers tres, the prefects, the high magistrates and the officers, all those who have been made Freemasons or masonists walk for him as one man. Above them the President of the Republic, who we

– 207 –

;i take care to pay heavily, give the signatures by which the crime is clothed with legality... All is therefore as desired.

It is then that an energetic tension is printed by the occult Power to all the cogs of the imthis organism that he so laboriously created. Below its action a tightening occurs of all energies, of all the forces at his disposal, around of the dominant idea which served as the basis for the popular opinion bricked. And the period of Revolution begins. It is the sudden march of all the masonry and sub-masonry, of all the strips that the Pou-occult vision took care to organize when he felt the hour comes, march all the more victorious as the force of resistance of all the organisms of national defense was previously weakened. It is the furious rush of all the fanaticisms created, of all appetites unleashed, on all points of the territory, in all environments, at all degrees of the social ladder, until everything yields to effort gigantic, everything is sold or abandoned, seduced or frightened, and that finally the occult Power, in the middle place of universal disorder, turns all the forces

tion of the nation whose existence hinders its global plans.

HE WHO IS RESPONSIBLE.

If we have insisted so long on the effort to suggestion to which the occult Power indulges, it is that to this effort is due the so complete, the so astonishing political fortune of Masonry. We would not know enough to say it and repeat it if we want the defenders of France against the occult Power cease to be constantly defeated.

– 208 –

We have never sufficiently attracted the attention of patriots and Catholics on this side of the question. And yet, is this not the first of the rules of tactics, only to oppose a victorious adversary rious an effective resistance, you need to know its mode of attack? We were all the more easily beaten by the occult Power and by the Freemason-nerie that we were unaware of the methods and organization of this association.

Among our friends, some know francs-masons who are good people. They are all natural really inclined to see Masonry beneath the figure of these ; and when they hear the accusations of which this association is the object, they consider it as slandered. We said that this was the way in which Brunetière considered the masonic. The eminent and late director of the Review of the Two Worlds would certainly not have remained in his error if, instead of knowing only his brave people of Freemasons, he would also have known the organism thanks to which the occult Power can make of these kinds of "good people", the inconsistent craftsmen cients of the most evil works.

Others are led to assessments not less false, because they learned that France Masonry of Protestant countries is far from en-

– 209 –

run the same reproaches as Masonry French, or even because they heard

sixty, a hundred years and more bore no resemblance to that of today. And with an air of understanding, they accuse them of being fanatics or at least to generalize too much. They would be more circumspect-pects if, having studied in depth the organism and the Masonic methods as we have done ourselves-even, they had realized that this organism and these methods were created by someone, they cannot be put into action except under the direction rection of another someone, and that someone successor and continuator of this someone, can have an interest in giving these figures, these attitudes, these different designs to the masonry of the different different countries and different eras!

Thanks to such a study, we also come to understand take how the brave people who impressed sionné Brunetière and so many others were able to see all eras in Freemasonry. We realize that these poor Freemasons, so proudly full of what they call their light, so lamentably devoid yet in focus from an intellectual point of view, after having received initiations who introduces them to nothing, some are naive sidekicks, others other vulgar and too often contemptible ambi-gods, are all hypnotized; but the hypnotized who, under the influence of their hallucination, can be led, under the pretext of fraternity, to the nias-the most cowardly coronations and under the color of progress, until the nations are annihilated and the screwing of humanity.

- 210 -

As for the one to whom the full returns, the total remains responsibility for the evil committed, for widespread errors, lies piled up and destruction accompanies folds or to accomplish, we realize that it is the Occult power, since it is he who acts since two hundred years sending down his suggestions from degree to degree thanks to the organization that we we described in Le Pouvoir occulte contre In France.

This occult Power is constituted by a group we said, but by a group whose members bres, we err, are indissolubly linked the to each other by the same faith, the same patriot-tism, the same ambition which is not personal to each of them, which is collective and of a shared nature.

ral which ensures their predominance in the immense organism of which they have the direction.

When they have developed and chosen the ideas which, under an attractive appearance, contain poisons the natural effect of which will be the dissociation of nations in which they will be paid, the members of this group meets in other groups composed by men elected and trained by them. We have seen how this training has been given since that there exists the immense network of associations which are united under this name: Freemasonry^ and we will see later how it was done, in times prior to their creation and their complete organization.

– 211 –

Members of these groups immediately see sins of occult Power are unaware of the existence of it this and, as a result, they believe themselves to be the real leaders; but in reality, they are, whether they like it or not, under the ashes of those among them who, being part of the supreme group, have over the others the influence based on a prior agreement as well as an ideal common religious and patriotic. These last are alone to possess it, this ideal, since if the others have been chosen by them to climb so high, it is not that after being completely deformed, rid-seated from the ancient religious ideal, and patriotic from their race, after having been "liberated from ancient prejudices", "freedmen", according to the expression of the F.-. Lafferre. Under such conditions, such men are wonderfully adept at receiving suggestions destructive. They are also wonderfully fit to propagate them, because they were trained in the Masonry to this special apostolate of which the same F.-. Lafferre. Furthermore, they consider themselves to be to become masters of the world. In fact, they know the workings of the universal organism that they have beneath them – immense strength, thanks to the – that they can thwart the views of all governments – and they are also unaware of the existence tenancy of the religious and patriotic ideal foreign to service to which they are harnessed without them suspecting it tent. They attach themselves to the ideas that are suggested to them real and apply all the more to their propagation that they appear to them to absolutely suit the state growth of their power. And in reality, they are eminently suited to dissolving the force of these governments national governments that they claim to subjugate and whom they indeed subjugate, but not for their own benefit as they imagine, to that of occult Power.

What happens from the first to the second degree at the top of the scale is renewed from second to third, then to all the others, with increasing ease to measure we go lower. The essential condition sand to the transmission of poisons is that the suggestions managements are skillfully paid, with all the necessary precautions on the part of the Occupying Power cult, with the method and calculation that variety requires environments, circumstances, obstacles to be met to pour, supports to be provided, in short with the immense perfidy that the accomplishment of a pa-good work.

Can all this be done smoothly? Again once, no. And we can already measure the error of those who consider occult Power as able to regulate all Masonic affairs at his discretion. time and at his discretion. A fortiori^ if it concerns business national and global.

The beginnings of this occult Power were prodigious—really difficult. They undoubtedly required new beginnings which perhaps lasted for centuries. Even now, after so many years in which he was able to develop the Freemasons—neries of different countries without the public taking notice guard, the occult Power must face inces—difficulties that hinder the achievement of its plans. Tomorrow he will encounter greater difficulties.

more. And this is our reason not to despair—rer...

But this is what remains for us to prove by searching—song what is this occult Power which is capable to act as we have shown, after having imagined gine the organism that we have described.

On the path to truth.

CHAPTER IX

Subterfuge used by occult Power
to mislead the public on the religious question
and on the origin and purpose of Freemasonry.

WHAT WE CAN RELY ON TO DISCOVER THE OCCULT POWER.

Before looking for where Freemasonry comes from
and where she goes, we searched what she does and how she does it. It's logic.

Before deciding that we would not accept either answers she gives to these questions, nor the documents questionable merits on which she based them and that we would only rely on our observations
and at our reasoning we questioned her.
It still made sense.

We thus arrived at a first observation
tation of great significance, namely: that France

– 216 –

Masonry always lies, everywhere and in everything; what ment by function, by necessity; that it has as its point starting point and basis for a lie such that, from the very beginning At first, she couldn't admit it, because if she had done, everyone would have stood in his way.
This is how she was condemned by this lie initial to all those to whom she has been obliged since by need for conservation.

We realized that obeying
this necessity, it lied to us when we informed it let's wonder about what she does. She always does something else thing than what she says.

As for the second question: what it does, how does she do it? We only had to examine his manner to act in the lodges to give us certainty

to say, she constantly resorted to the same method method, to the same process: lying; in order to that we can say of her that she is an organized lie, erected to the state of an institution, become in it an institution of state.

These were important findings. But we we have done an even more important thing by proving that all these lies tended above all to hide that behind Freemasonry there is something or rather someone: a Power which founded it without let yourself be seen by her and who directs her. even towards a goal that it ignores, using means to do so that the strange constitution he has ensures given.

What is this Power that we have called the Power?

– 217 –

see occult? This is the question we now have holding to resolve.

To achieve this, we are armed by the study that we gradually brought to the point where we are. We indeed know by what means of action should be available to the person who carried out a new creation, and that these means of action, he necessary from the beginning of the 18th century. We also know what must have been his turn of mind; of what hatred it had to be animated; how extraordinary naire tenacity and of what no less extraordinary perfidy he was gifted; what habits, what skills studies and what very special skills he had possess. In short, we made sure of his sign-completely complete; we carried out his measurement both physically and morally; we have so say numbered in advance all the pieces of his anatomy. There are not many of them in the world, those in whom exist the characters that we have resurveyed and those that remain to be specified as before necessarily belong to the founders of France Masonry. It would therefore be very extraordinary if We could not make up our minds on this subject.
attitude as rational as that which resulted in the naturalists who reconstructed and classified the species missing species.

But before proceeding with this work, we renew will make the same attempt to which we are

The occult Power against France. We will interrogate Freemasonry on its origin and its aim. Would we only be able to observe that in these questions like in all the others, she always lied, that would be something. It is appropriate to demolish the assertions and theses of the adversary, before him oppose contrary assertions and theses.

– 218 –

THE GODDESS REASON AND CATHOLICISM.

According to current French Freemasons, who are also contradicted by the Freemasons ancient or American and by the French Freemasons of yesteryear – a circumstance which already invalidates singular – the value of their words – Freemasonry would have been created by apostles of Reason, who remained more or less unknown, to establish the reign of this here on the ruins of religions.

English or American Freemasons confess well as the aim of Freemasonry establishes it – the reign of Reason; but they deny that this reign must be established on the ruins of religions. So also did the French Freemasons of formerly.

How do the thoughts of the apostles that we are told about did they meet so well to organize the Universal Freemasonry, while these apostles were separated by distances, beliefs, habits and enmities of governments? He appears that it should be very difficult, otherwise impossible, in the first half of the 18th century, period that where the first lodges were created in Europe. Faced with this question, the Freemasons stand out dress. They invoke what we know: "The night the times. » In the mists of time, it seems, men of all ages and from all countries wandered darkened not only by this night, but also by obscurantism. However, they were haunted by the stubborn desire to burst out. One fine day, Reason breathed the same inspiration to some of them who, without anyone knowing how, joined their efforts to then universal Freemasonry. Considered-rant this assumed fact as granted, the Freemasons draw from it an argument to try to prove to us

– 219 –

the invincible force of what they call Reason secular. Do they not above all prove that "the night of the time" is something essentially favorable to escalation
finding any difficulties?

We won't waste our time arguing about the possibility or impossibility of this meeting extraordinary of the apostles of Reason resulting to the creation of a global association, in a time when relations between different countries were so difficult for everyone other than the Jews. It is enough, we believe us, to make such an assertion in order to make one feel inanity.

The Freemasons do not insist too much on this, so much do they feel their childish datum. They considered that they would be able to more easily to accept the idea of a sort of deification of the reason rising one fine day in arms to defeat
Catholicism and all religions.

This idea is the one that serves as the basis for the suggestion

- 220 -

by which the Freemasons were hypnotized. She has even been accepted, as its inventors hoped,
in the secular world. It is therefore necessary to understand start by showing the lie. Looking for us-let's then see what reality this lie is intended to hide.

We have explained how the occult Power
could not achieve the realization of his hidden plans,
if he did not begin by overturning the obstacle which resulted from the intellectual discipline created by the Catholic licism. The destruction of the Catholic mindset was therefore the prerequisite he had to fulfill.
Without that, nothing is possible for him. That was the question-religious vision that he had to raise entirely and resolve, not in the sense of truth, but in that of his interest. Hence the need to confuse it.

However, the occult Power knows that the best way
To confuse the questions is to ask them badly.

If the French race, so nobly idealistic, was able to 40 years on the religious question, it's unique-because it was poorly posed by the Freemason philosophers of the 18th century.

Just as the pagans personified strength in Hercules, wisdom in Minerva, cunning in Mercury, the occult Power created for the needs of its cause a personification made of emptiness, a statue
hollow which he haloed and which he called Reason;
and it is in the name of this Reason-goddess that he gave mission to its so-called philosophers – less philosophical – sophes as conjurers – to condemn

– 221 –

how inept Catholicism, of which he continued
them to assert respect by his Freemason-nerie, as long as he felt this affirmation necessary for the realization of its ambitions.

We do not notice enough the subterfuge with which the Occult power has been unleashed here. And yet, this subterfuge does exist. Because finally, all the attacks ques against the national religion were based uniquely-lies about “Reason”. Now, where is Reason?
She?

There are human intelligences in which develop more or less, with age, study and reflection, bits of reason. But can we add these plots together to make up their total what we are told is “Reason”? Yes, in a pinch when it comes to questions likely to be de-shown mathematically. All the reasons in-individuals being more or less in agreement on these matters-there, we can admit that from their totalization results-would be this sort of personification that some people like tains to call “human Reason”. But he cannot be so for things beyond
life, because in this matter scientific certainty fic cannot be acquired and that consequently the men disagree about them. On these questions-our reason is just as powerless as it is for example, to measure the intensity and to specify
the nature of the forces in action in each of the stars which populate the depths of space. Without a doubt we are free to risk talking about these last ni^eras. But can we define them? Our reason does she have the right to pronounce regarding them? Obviously not. And that's why she keeps quiet wisely on that. It limits itself to emitting all plus certain hypotheses, while waiting for it to be able to do better. The same reservation is obviously present of rigor for her with regard to the au- beyond human life. On this, we have no no more scientific certainty. And it is specified- ment why, as soon as it comes up, the reasons individuals divide. They contradict each other; com- how to add them up? And, if we cannot add them up- ner, why and in the name of what the judgments of would some make law rather than the judgments of others? Why and in what name would these be they considered as constituting Reason rather than these? Logically we don't see it.

I understand clearly that those who recommend this capitalized and deified Reason which does not exist leaves in this world, consider that it is constituted or represented by certain philosophers who reason- about things beyond in a certain way rather than another. Maybe they are sincere in this in relation to themselves; but how much more naive! Who are the philosophers they look at? as proceeding from Reason? Those of the opinion of- what they are, quite simply. They therefore establish their judgment on this a priori reasoning that they do not not formulate, but which nonetheless serves as a basis to their conclusion: k This one comes from Reason which appears to us to proceed from Reason." In reality, it is therefore to themselves that they attribute the role of

- 223 -

Reason-goddess; what they demonstrate, without them suspect it, of the most comical unreason. They can- wind notice that next to them there are other people people who see the truth where they themselves do not see it not. But that doesn't matter to them. The reason is only where they place it. She is not where they are do not place it. To cover themselves, they sometimes turn stand behind what they say is common sense. Their way of appreciating and that of philosophers who appreciate as they seem to them the only ones which are common sense. Everything else seems to them beyond common sense. They say it, without realizing that they only change words and set themselves up thus as sole judges of what is common sense or let them modestly take the place of their goddess:

the reason. In short, their so-called argument scientific, but childish, is summed up in this: The Reason, that's what we think, because we think according to Reason. Célestin, this is Floridor.
Consequently, Floridor is Célestin.

We say a lot of this kind of nonsense in the lodges in the name of science.

KNOWN TACTIC.

It is, however, quite obvious that there does not exist in this world of total Reason, but that it is found there alone
ment, as we said earlier, of the par-
those of reason, sorts of small reflectors which replace wrinkle towards what we call Truth,

■ ' - 224 -

the role that a mirror fulfills in the physical order.
What can the largest of these polished surfaces reflect?
that human industry has managed to create? A infinitely tiny part of the immense universe.
And again this reproduction varies depending on the place occupied by the mirror and according to the angle at which it is placed. It is more or less accurate and more or less less visible, depending on whether the ice has been more or less well polished, or depending on whether the objects reproduced are more or less illuminated. As for the mirror which re-would reflect on the immense universe, it does not exist. So in is it of our poor human intelligences.

Condemn Catholicism in the name of Reason, it is therefore to condemn him in the name of something which does not exist ; it's making an idol, a ghost, speak;
it is using a subterfuge; it is deception.

But this deception was necessary for the Occult power could achieve its ends. Having recourse, he obeyed the tactics chosen by him, always the same one, the one we saw him use when we surprised him throwing into people's minds the suggestion
tion of the services rendered to humanity by Masonnerie, before penetrating into these same spirits hatred against Catholicism; Then sheltering his attacks against it behind the idea of disfigured tolerance, or even behind the distinction
tion between clericalism and Catholicism. For what May he manage to make people believe that the maonic, the instrument he uses, continues the reaction lization of an eminently useful goal; that she is guided

– 225 –

by his sole dedication to rhurnanity; that she remains adheres to all religious beliefs; that she doesn't in no way wants Catholicism as a religion; And that consequently, if it finds itself attacked, it is not by it, but, so to speak, in spite of it, by gentle Tolerance and by sovereign Reason, approximately born from the majestic procession formed by the Light, the Progress, Civilization, Freedom, Science; that he realizes this wonderful production and that he succeeds in brush this decor and give the illusion of reality,
how will Catholicism not seem to hate
table? How, these conditions being created, the Church Would she not appear, like the unfortunate donkey?
of the fable, like

The skinned one, the mangy one, where did all the evil come from?

Clever tactic, yes; but also superior canal-lerie!

Anyone with a sufficient dose of reason must recognize that the anti-Catholic suggestion insinuated by occult Power and by Freemason-nerie is above all perfectly unreasonable and absurd, in that it claims to speak in the name of the Abstract and deified reason.

In reality, all those who condemn Catholicism in the name of this Reason which does not exist in our world, manifest in this or the infirmity of their logical cults or their desire to speculate on that which they suppose to their fellow men.

The doctrines relating to the afterlife can,
certainly, to be judged like all the others; but

– 226 –

is not in the name of "Reason", it is in the name of others be thing. The occult Power is not unaware of this. Only ment, as we have said: so that the question
tion could be confused, it had to be badly

This is a first point.

However, the defenders of the theory object
Masonic, religions pronounce on these questions
tions of the afterlife. They affirm; and Catholicism more imperiously than any other. It's over there that it forces us to decide for ourselves.

We could answer them:

– If you find that religions are wrong in prononcer, why are you like them? Because you do like them by pronouncing yourself in the opposite direction of theirs.

It is perhaps also appropriate to consider – without get to the bottom of the question – only if the religions pronounce on things which are above
the scope of reason, at least they are not given not the illogic of doing it in the name of this same reason her. It is by invoking another authority that they talk.

– What they say is contrary to the laws of nature
ture, then retaliate the so-called philosophers of Occult power.

Let us limit ourselves for the moment to observing that it is imprudent to invoke the laws of nature so lightly.

We don't know them all. Science has still only met a few on his path. However, she saw enough to make herself

– 227 –

realizes that those she knows constitute, with those she does not know, a set of which all the parts are so closely linked that it suffices that we neglect the effect of one of them, so that our calculations about the effects of others are distorted.
For example, the law of magnetization can, in certain case, obstruct the law of gravity. Measure then the consequences of the second without taking into account of the first, and your conclusions will be con-proven by the facts. However, you do not know when or how do forces that you don't know act?
not. You don't know when and how they change
the effect of those you know. In these conditions purely in the name of what we call "the laws of nature", as if we knew them all?

– But finally, the adversaries of religions, given that they pronounce on a beyond which is impenetrable to our reason, what attitude must observe in front of them those who, outside of all faith, claim to behave with rational way? Must they therefore remain completely indifferent to the religious question, what happens? The bit of reason you recognize born to each of us must she remain silent in front of such a serious subject?

We might as well ask whether we should renounce cer for the use of the eyes, ears, hands or feet that nature gave us.

The occult Power has created a myth, Reason, expressly to make him pronounce the sentence of Catholicism and thus impress the vulgar. Observe his maneuver, deny this deified Reason which does not exist in our world, this is not to deny the piece of reason that each of us has. This nor is it to remove from it the exercise of its faculties. It's simply asking the questions well. tions that the occult Power poses badly for the sole purpose of deceive the public.

– 228 –

So far, we have only established one thing: that is that if the explanations of the world which are provided to us denied by religions can be judged like all the other things are not in the name of "Reason". This is the only point acquired.

We will now go a little deeper in the question.

CHAPTER X

The lie of the Masonic version on the religious question allows us to glimpse the goal of occult Power.

HOW THE RELIGIOUS QUESTION SHOULD BE ASKED TO BE RESOLVED IN A RATIONAL WAY.

The delusions of occult Power are convinced that it is impossible for anyone who examines the question religious by placing itself from the purely rational to conclude in favor of Catholicism. It is therefore from the purely rational point of view that we will place. Since this ground is the one on which our adversaries imagine themselves to be unbeatable, it is where we have to go and get them.

It is, we said earlier, impossible to remain indifferent to the religious question, that is to say in the face of religions.

Some, however, declare that they do not care not of this question; what they imagine themselves doing do not give themselves superiority.

The opposite is true: they become inferior.

Looking at things from a positive point of view, we see that we cannot remain indifferent before the religious question because we cannot we will remain indifferent in the face of the mystery of universal life which gives birth to it, and which

– 230 –

we cannot remain indifferent to this mystery
tered by an extremely simple reason: it is that such indifference is not our prerogative;
it is the prerogative of brutes. This is the positive fact which can serve as a starting point in a rapid examination
tional of the religious question.

Oxen, donkeys, parrots, turkeys are perfectly indifferent to everything relating to religion ; but it is because they are oxen, donkeys, parrots and turkeys. It is the law of their existence inferior who wants it that way. Profess, indifference on religious questions, it is therefore to start their degree. Each individual is free to apply themselves;
but he must not misunderstand and surrender take into account the level to which it tends to decline. It is the sub-man and not the man who is indifferent relate to the problem of the beyond, that is to say to the question religious tion. No doubt some can arriver to become indifference on this question

but it is because they have already backslidden humanity to animality. It is believed that this retrogradation, the vast majority of men do not will never be able to accomplish it. And that's it quite simply which explains, legitimizes and necessitates the existence of religions. This existence is an absolutely known fact form to natural laws, whatever the people think pseudo-scientists of the lodges, because it corresponds to that of the needs of our nature which differentiates us beasts.

This is so true that the so-called neutrality of the

– 231 –

Cole is an impossible thing. Those suggested by the Pou-see occult cannot help but dogmatize. They formulate a new explanation of the problem of life. Instead of the idealistic solutions that they re-push, they impose the materialist solution, clearly expressed or hypocritically implied. This in which we can say that at the same time they want impose silence on the old religions, they do, in a certain sense, to speak another: the materialist. A religion is nothing else, in fact, only a way of considering the mystery of existence of the world and a codification of duties which sultent. But they explain and they codify. Outside in all common sense, it's true, but they explain and they code all the same.

Indifference in religious matters is imposed on us possible because we are men. She doesn't let us would be natural if, thanks to progress designed by hand At the end of the occult Power, we became animals.

Catholics have really let it be said too much that they were believers only because they were inferior from an intellectual point of view. Religious faith is a superiority over indifference; a superiority from the intellectual point of view as well as from the point of from a moral point of view.

When the adversaries of religions invite them if they keep silent, they commit a similar absurdity to that which they would commit if they ordered their own ears not to hear.

Religions cannot not exist; they cannot be silent, because instinct, need to which they correspond have never been silent since man was man and will never be silent

but as long as it remains so.

This is where we have to start if we want to reason healthy.

Religions should at least, it is objected,
not to dogmatize, not to be codified, to be content to throw, too, suggestions into the minds as the occult Power does. We will see that at
From a logical point of view, this is a big mistake.

There is in fact a second reason why indifference in the face of the religious question is impossible. It results from the fact that we live in the state of society.

If we were savages, isolated, without relationships with each other, the religious problem does not
would not present in the same way to our thinking.
Its solution in one direction or another is not necessary.
would not be to us as a necessity so to speak material. Force would then be the only law of no-be existence, as it is that of existence lions, tigers and wolves. Just as these here, we would daily resort to violence to find the satisfaction of our needs. Each could in this case follow his dream in relation to beyond life, or form none, according to the scope of his intelligence. But a solution in one one way or another would not be necessary.

It is quite different when we live
in society.

By this alone, a problem urgently arises, inevitably to us. This problem is that of law of the relationships that must exist between as-companies. And it is the imperative, inevitable necessity to solve this problem which in turn requires the solution

tion of the religious problem in one way or another.

For, unless we suppose a man enslaved-necessarily carries conventions. It is based on a pact. This means that the existence of the human group thus constituted no longer has as its sole law that which regulates the relationships of beasts, that is to say the force, but that side of it intervenes, to a greater or lesser extent less broad, a principle which will serve as a basis for observing it vation of the pact. This principle is the one that will regulate the share of self-sacrifice that the individual owes to the community.

It is impossible for a social pact to exist and be observed without in multiple circumstances and in a thousand ways those who are bound by him have to sacrifice this or that personal convenience, such or such satisfaction, such or such satisfaction of desire sirs, passions or needs.

Therefore a question arises: In the name of what individuals who were not born at the origin of the pact will they condemn themselves to the sacrifices that are required of them? posed? We answer: in the name of the general order itself even ; in the name of the promise made or implied due.

– But if, due to circumstances, the general order neral is too heavy for me? The promise they tell me about, it was done without consulting me. If someone asked me, this would obviously be by asserting the possibility satisfaction of part of my desires and my needs, as well as the security of this satisfaction. If by chance it happens that I am given neither one nor the other, what interest do I have in respecting the pact?

– 234 –

What the philosophers in the bedroom respond to:
– What interest? Your best interests understood.

This is not an answer. Because first, it would be necessary " to understand well " ; and this is not given to everyone the world. Secondly, what is "interest well understood? » Who will be responsible for deciding? If I am ravaged by a desire that has crept into me, I I don't know how, but it doesn't give me rest, a desire whose satisfaction is forbidden to me by the social pact and whose unfulfillment is enough to make me an unhappy being, how will I admit that my well-understood interest requires my misfortune? If my whole unsatisfied being cries out to me for breath–

I am happy and my interest is "well understood" taken ".

They will try to put me to sleep by talking to me about my future happiness. But my future happiness is something uncertain, since I don't know how long I live

TRUE. My current misfortune is, on the contrary, a certain thing-tain. Will it appear to me to be of my interest well understood that I must give up an acquired happiness What is certain for uncertain future happiness? It is on such a subject that everyone will demand, and with reason his, the right of free examination! No company possible on such a basis.

- 235 -

So, we will end up, at the end of arguments, by talking to me no longer about my future happiness, but about happiness generations that will succeed ours, happiness to which, I am told, I must sacrifice my own good-heh. Either ! But then, without anyone paying attention, we will have precisely posed the religious problem.

It is a question of knowing, in fact, to what extent I must sacrifice my happiness to that of future generations. But it is quite certain that I will be concerned more or less of the happiness of the societies present or future, depending on whether I have made this or that conception on the origin and the end of the world, that is to say depending on whether I accept this or that explanation of this origin and this end, that is to say again according to whether I will have such and such a religion, and I will deduce from it such or such duties. This is absolutely obvious; And consequently, it is also extremely obvious that the religious problem imposes itself, as we do we said earlier, by this alone that we live in society. Its solution is, so to speak, only one with the solution of the social problem, unless we did not want to resolve everything by force. But in this latter-deny case, let's not be hypocrites and let's not talk of justice, of truth, of light. Let's talk biceps, saber, war and servitude.

It is true that some dreamers think the most laughter of the world to the establishment of a society collectivist in which every man would find, as things would be well ordered there, the satisfaction of all his needs and desires.

Let us assume such an incorporated company. It will be necessary yet although this company is administered.

So that satisfying objects are created to the needs, it will always be necessary that this creation before being executed, is planned and organized. So, there will always be a need for men who design and decide the necessary measures and others who carry them out cutent, according to a certain settled and accepted order. In in other words, there will always be a need for administrators tors and administrators. No bosses, of course.
The visionaries who show us future cities do not want to see leaders there. Instead of the leaders, he there will only be men who will give the gold dres necessary for the functioning of things and others which will carry out these orders. No leaders, but functions tionaries who will be above, and others who will be will be below. Even under the collectivist regime the purest, there will always be a social frying pan, a queue at this pan and a small number of people which will hold the said tail, while multi-studies others will not hold it. Who can take fish that the first do not do, as if by mistake guard, fall the omelette on their side? There will be all-days also of unfulfilled desires, when it would not be that those which, existing in different individuals, will focus on the same object. You will be able to change manage the conditions in which man will live; but there is one thing you will not change: it will be the man himself who may find himself unhappy
in whatever situation you place him. You don't ex-do not draw his passions from his heart; you don't tell him you won't tear away the nerves that allow him to enjoy and to suffer, and which cause only enjoyments and sufferings are absolutely personal things for him; THE one if desired; the others, so feared. This will will never be able to destroy it in us, since it is the very thing that constitutes us. ir^j

So the problem is still the same. Since then that you will have a society, collectivist or non-collective tivist, you will have an established order. This order must be respected. In other words: individual passions dualities, desires for enjoyment and fears of pain
France who are in us will always have to constrain themselves dre and sacrifice oneself for the general good of a certain ma-

This is the eternal question. And the eternal answer will be always: in the name of the conception that we will have of human fraternity or non-fraternity, which is linked to the acceptance of this or that explanation of the existence of the world, that is to say to the acceptance of this or that religion. Everything we won't know not accept in the name of this religion, it will be necessary force imposes it on us. The use of this will always be days in inverse proportion to the power of that one. Or well there will be no kind of society, collectivist or not.

However we look at the matter, we are therefore always brought back to the same conclusion tatation, namely: that the solution of the problem religiosity is necessary, simply because we live in society, and that this solution does not, so to speak, one with the solution of the social problem.

Precisely because every man, strong or weak,

– 238 –

is a composite of desires, passions and needs of any nature, some of which are without limits, we can affirm that in the absence of a reliable solution any religious order resulting in respect of the social pact, life in society would be worse for weaker than isolation. In the latter case, in fact, their desires, their passions and their needs do not collide only to material obstacles; while, in the state of society, they are further upset by the desires, passions and needs of the strong.

Societies therefore find themselves in this strange necessity: that having no means of certainty scientific on the beyond of life, they must while pronouncing, asserting in one way or another nier, that is to say, adhere to this or that religion.

This is what explains the anomaly that we noted just now about what is happening in the schools where we imagined we could establish neutrality lity. Basically, what are we doing there? We get used to it children and adolescents to “believe” that the world was made like this rather than like that. We say that we accustom them to “believe”; and it's the real word, since there is no further demonstration possible scientific vision from the materialist side than from the other.

Whatever we do, it is impossible that we escape from this social necessity: to believe – then that we cannot know scientifically – that creation and the end of our world are such and such, and deduce that men have such and such duties towards each other.

– 239 –

Either that, or the reign of force established in the so-companies, or the absence of companies: you have to choose.

This presents the religious question considered in a positive way and thus can be understood the role and necessity of religions from the point of view social, as well as their assertions.

If the occult Power presents us differently things, if he tries to make us believe that war undertaken by him and by Freemasonry against the Church aims to replace a belief that he falsely paints us as inept by something that he paints to us no less falsely as a scientific certainty, if it conceals from us the “re-materialist religion” of which he is in the process of creating the turgie and in whose name he canonized Zola, it is because he needs to deceive us to realize views that he hides all the more carefully that he knows how those who allow themselves to be circumvented by him would hate them if they knew them.

WHAT CAN WE BASE ON TO JUDGE

CATHOLICISM IN THE PAST? DATA PROVIDED

IN THIS REGARD BY THE OCCULT POWER

AND BY FREEMASONRY.

By this simple fact that we have asked the question beautiful as it should be, nothing could be easier than know now how will be determined with regard to one or the other religion and consequently regarding Catholicism, the men who, in outside of all faith, claim to judge them at a point

– 240 –

from a purely rational point of view. This is what the francs-

want to do. Let's take a look at what this is all about.

Since – always from the positive point of view – the religions aim to correspond to the need what does human nature feel like to wonder about things from beyond, to his emotional needs too, and at the same time, and above all, we can say, at need social discipline, we cannot, we must only judge religions by measuring their services vices that they have made and that they are susceptible to give this triple point of view. Satisfaction with questioning care, satisfaction of emotional needs tifs, satisfaction of the need for social discipline: we should not exclude either of these considerations. tions, we have to take all three into account.

The data of the problem being thus established, we we are in a position to assess whether the religions which recommend of Christ, and in particular religion Catholic, are so bad that the occult Power tried hard to make people believe it.

It seems that for this we should first of all engage in a historical investigation into the role of the catholicism. We cannot, because Power occult has been applied – always, one could say – to falsify the elements of this investigation. He has for arms the lie and naturally he did not miss qué to use it against Catholicism. All first, he systematically averted his eyes from countless acts of virtue, dedication and hospitality Roism which had the direct cause of the Catholic faith _

– 241 –

Furthermore, he took care to attribute to this faith all the reprehensible or criminal acts which had as their direct cause, not her, but the passions and vices that it applies precisely to fighting among its members. Finally, these reprehensible or criminals, the occult Power has not only attributed a cause which they did not have; he doesn't have them only isolated from their counterpart: the verifiable acts killer and heroic, by erasing these; he still has them exaggerated and distorted at will. He didn't even reculled in the face of invention. He had his authors write tellers a history of Catholicism which is or con-milking the truth on or near certain points. this same truth on other points. Above all, he always presented Catholicism as animated by never stopped attacking him or arousing versaires, while remaining invisible; in order to that this one seemed to provoke, which nevertheless does not was only defending himself. We can go take this into account by the spectacle that gives us today French Freemasonry confesses

finally eternal enemy of the Catholic religion,
after having falsely displayed respect for this religion for one hundred and fifty years. Lice-occult seeing made people believe, for example, that history of the Church was contained in the history of an Inquisition which he also falsified, by having, on the other hand,
share, great care not to tell us that the real instigators of the Inquisition, they were most often Jews supposedly converted to Catholicism...

– 242 –

Lies by suppression, lies by addition-
tion, lies by invention, lies everywhere;
always lies. Once again it is consistent to the Masonic principle and it would be quite extraordinary diary that the occult Power would not have lied in this, while he lied in everything else; that he had not not falsified the history of Catholicism, while we let us see him falsifying our history of France, so that
dear to those who read the works due to his inspiration
tion all the noble figures whose sublimity had
as a principle the Christian faith or the patriotic faith.
Has there not been, for a number of years,
in fact, school textbooks in which there is no
no question of Bayard, of du Guesclin, of saint Vincent de Paul, Joan of Arc, nor so many others very?...

In this as in everything, the occult Power has placed
and he still puts the precept into practice every day formulated by one of his own: Let's lie! Let's lie!
Always lie! Let's lie like hell. THE lying is a virtue.

Wisdom therefore demands that we guard ourselves as if fire books of religious history and history of France written under the inspiration of occult Power.

Does she also want us to keep ourselves in a certain measure of those which are written under the inspiration Catholic ration?

To avoid any criticism of partiality and to

we will also discard this second source of information mations. We will judge Catholicism by ourselves

– 243 –

holding to the principles proclaimed by him and the applications
cations of these principles which are well known public; better yet: to a certain datum that Occult Power and Freemasonry have responsible, unwittingly, for supplying us themselves.

Curious thing! when these so-called initiators
of all human progress prepared what we have custom of calling "the sublime movement of 1789'^,
they found nothing better to do than to start quer the Christian spirit. They shamelessly attributed to themselves-gnore the principles they found in the Gospel of Christ and who had been kept standing during
for eighteen hundred years by the faithful of this one,
despite the external and internal assault of all human passions.

What, in fact, were freedom, equality and fraternity which were proposed to the world by the Revolution, if not a counterfeit of Christianity?
We say: counterfeiting and even very bad counterfeit vessel. The proof is that it was enough that this freedom, this equality and this revolutionary fraternity lutionaries have undergone the first contact of the facts
so that only the formula remained, and so that at name of this formula we have seen established in a way
so to speak legal, the pillaging, the burning, the cription, spoliation and assassination. Three years later his proclamation, no more, the ideal of fraternity revolutionary led to the vile massacres in prisons! Yes ! Three years had been enough for that this atrocious disfigurement was produced! And a year later, it was the Terror and the thousands of dead

– 244 –

vrs with which she bloodied France! In four years, the destruction of the true Christian spirit and its replacement by the counterfeit we are talking about resulted in the establishment of the most terrible tyranny of which history has ever made mention.

In order to explain how brotherhood revolution-

we looked for reasons. But we only found bad. It has been said that the principles were found distorted about the obstacles which were placed before them posed.

No doubt there were obstacles. They always finds, whatever we do; but it's precise- what we criticize about the revolutionary principles lutionaries: to allow oneself to be so easily distorted. They were falsified in 1789; falsified in 1871; distorted NOW ; always distorted. True principles do not give away the disappointments that we have earned for one hundred and twenty years freedom, equality and brotherhood nity of 1789. So that those who presented them to the world have so quickly transformed into executioners, it their social conception had to be only a con- false forgery, in which it is very difficult difficult not to see the hand of the eternal and universal second-hand dealer, who is at the same time the eternal and uni-enemy verse of Christianity: the Jew.

The true principles, one must believe that it is in the Gospel of Christ that we must seek them, since the men who proclaimed them began came to accept not the role of executioners, but that of victims. Also see! what a difference yield ! The solidity of the material is such that it has- fter the persecutions of the first centuries, persecution tions suffered and not exercised by the preachers of Christianity, after the universal invasion hordes from Asia, after the long burial ment of all civilization in the ocean of this bar- barie, after sixteen centuries of wear, sixteen centuries of con- so terribly corrosive tact of human passions, and, let us not forget, sixteen centuries of proximity with the tenacious hatred and tireless Jewish perfidy attached on its flanks, Christianity was still capable of fan in the seventeenth century this prodigy of humble and constant heroism: Saint Vincent de Paul! Is this his last effort? Not ! Because since it appeared this great organizer of the dedications given birth by Christian liberty, equality and fraternity, that is say for three and a half centuries, Catholicism has not stopped generating hundreds of thousands of sub- Vincent de Paul; hundreds of thousands of these re- litigious whose white cornet is known to whole world, who are indeed the worthy disciples of really does not sufficiently adorn the spirit of sacrifice with ferocity of the bloodied "apostles" of 1793, like with the hypocritical selfishness of all the Trois-Brothers Points now. So much so that, to dry up this fertility which seems to him all the more scandalous and formidable for him that he has nothing to compare, the occult Power sees only one means, the same which was used against emerging Christianity and which

– 245 –

– 246 –

thus brings Catholicism back to its origins: persecution execution against people, the crushing of vows, ruin and annihilation of works.

Bring freedom, equality and brotherhood closer together. Christian nity of liberty, equality and fraternity revolutionary ternity engendered by France Masonry, compare the results given by the first with those given by the seconds, and you you will convince in the most resounding way that Catholicism is not such a bad religion nor so "inept" as that, since the occult Power found nothing better than to steal his principles principles, and since having attempted to apply them without him, he could only transform them into real poisons socials.

So much for the past.

And as we have said, what do we learn from? can we base our judgment? on the comparative data unintentionally provided by Freemasonry itself. Also our argument Can mentation wait without fear for contradiction.

THE FUTURE SOCIETY.
THE PURSUED GOAL REVEALED BY THE SUPREME COJNTRADICTION.
THE ONLY POSSIBLE EXPLANATION.

For the future, the situation can be clarified more clearly still.

We are indeed going to see the occult Power in

– 247 –

caught with a fundamental contradiction, a contradiction such that there is only one possible explanation sible to his way of acting: it is that he meditates and prepares the enslavement of the world. And that would make it clear the extraordinary need he feels to hide.

It appears to those less clairvoyant than us we are pushed by a force that seems invincible, to the overthrow of the currently existing social order so much. In hierarchical societies, the vanguard of Freemasonry, suggested, we will see how- ment, by the occult Power, displays more and more the desire to replace companies whose all members will be equalized by the application of the regime collectivist.

But nothing is more contrary to the laws of nature, since the latter did not want equality anywhere, then- that on the contrary, it has placed hierarchy everywhere. Do we think that nature will allow itself to be violated in this way? without putting up any resistance? It would be foolish to imagine it gin. It is on it that our existence depends. She is therefore not subject to our whim. She gives us- mine on the contrary to such an extent that no being has never been able to live revolting against her. The man only succeeds with great difficulty and only in a certain extent to resist him. And how? Only by relying on this special force which comes from a religious feeling, that is to say of a belief relating to the origin of the world and the beyond of life.

To achieve an egalitarian society and collectivist, that is to say, in short, an anti-

- 248 -

natural, it would therefore be necessary to substitute for the material law rielle of crushing the weak by the strong, another law which would prescribe fraternity.

j Now, this law of fraternity, we clearly see its support in Christian religions; he is in the words of Christ: Love one another! Why should we love ourselves? Because we replies Christ, you are all children of the God who created you, therefore all brothers.

The Christian system, which the occult Power declares inept, is on the contrary and very visibly in this part- essential and fundamental part of its doctrine, of a

and rich, weak minds and superior intelligences, we are the children of the one who, according to the Catholic Trinity, created the universe, which consequently is the master, who has the right to order, and who knows better than us why he orders, if we are the brothers of Christ, in this capacity, we certainly have! great and sublime reasons to love us and sacrificing ourselves for one another, like Christ sacrificed himself for us.

The Christian principle of human brotherhood rests on such a pure doctrine, it is based on ideas and conceptions so noble and so heroic, he so well satisfies the emotional needs that are at the bottom of our nature, that if Christianity was, as its adversaries assert, of origin human, if Christ had not existed, if his history was just a fable as others claim, those who would have imagined this fable would be at the times beings admirably devoted to humanity and prodigious geniuses. Because this story of Christ, that they would have invented answers everything; she planned All ; it adapts to everything..., even to modifications social projects whose future realization is being announced to us. She would therefore still deserve, because of this, not the hatred and contempt, but astonishment, admiration and respect.

– 249 –

Indeed, if it is ordered in Christian doctrine in the name of the highest reasons, that the poor, the weak, crippled in intelligence, be considered as the equal of the rich, the strong, the intelligent, we see very clearly the point of support that would be found in a similar doctrine those who claim to want to organize the collectivist egalitarian regime. The strength of Christian principles would find themselves directly opposed to the resistance of nature that must be overcome to establish this regime. How will these manifest resistance of nature? Or? It will be among the strong, among the rich, among the intelligent, since it is those who will have to suffer from seeing their strength and their intelligence curved below the egalitarian level. It is in them that nature will be irritated at being fought in its manifestations. But it is precisely to those that Christian law says: You are the brother of the poor, of weak and unintelligent. You must love them and sacrifice for them. Once again, no doctrine establishment of a regime of collectivist egalitarianism, if such an establishment were really possible, if it was really just and really useful that humanity

– 250 –

ends there..., if those who claim to want to impose it did not pursue the achievement of anything else let them hide from us. It would therefore seem that those who say they dream of the transformation they tell us about slow, should be ardent defenders of religious Christian regions. They should attach themselves with one special to Catholicism, since this, thanks with the strength of his discipline, would have a chance to fight successfully against selfish instincts. And, instead of this, it is to the annihilation of this discipline Catholic that they work.

Their illogic does not stop there. Not only they push for the annihilation of catholic and even of Christianity as a whole, but they want to replace it with "the religion of materialism."

Double madness! Because what moral support will they find in materialism to violate hierarchical nature chiselled? If I am convinced that I am only a re-chemical sidu, in the name of what will they convince me that I must love other chemical residues, even those who have come badly, those who disgrace the nature. The remnant that I am is capable of feeling the enjoyment and suffering 11 furiously loves the first. He has an absolute horror of the second. Her enjoyment and his suffering, it is in himself that he feels them. Why would he worry about anything other than him? It exists today. It will no longer exist tomorrow. Why would he sacrifice this short today to a tomorrow which may never come or to another very residues which are totally foreign to it and then

– 251 –

that he does not suffer in them, to which he is not attached no more links than exist between the pen of the swallow and the grain of sand rolled by the seas? Why would he impose on himself this suffering which he has horror, out of consideration for the future, for "the eternal come", that is to say for residues currently insensible, who, consequently, do not suffer, and

By "altruism" we answer. Vain word! because why, in such a system, is altruism a virtue rather than selfishness? What even is virtue, for a pure materialist? What is it based on? she? What constitutes it? Can there be virtuous acts and acts which are not, from when we are only residues formed by the action of blind and unconscious forces which do- undermine all creation? In such a system, it there would only be room for force. She's there true, the only law. It is the only virtue, since it alone conforms to this law of nature which works constantly building forts by crushing weak.

In short, the collectivist egalitarian system tends to violate in societies the law of hierarchy which is everywhere in nature. Not only his inventions tors, being anti-Christians, cannot rely, for fight against this law of nature, on no strength moral, but they cannot establish their system that by violating these other natural laws which are the love of enjoyment and the horror of suffering. And in whom will they violate them? Precisely in those of the people who are most capable of re- sister, since they are the strong and intelligent ones. And they imagine themselves doing logical and scientific work! Really the chemical residues that form a similar dream, are chemical residues affected by madness!

– 252 –

It is visible that by destroying the Christian religions yours and seeking to replace them with religion materialist, the evangelists of the egalitarian society collectivist are doing just the opposite of what they are supposed to do would have to do to achieve an achievement even if this is only partial to their design.

Can this be explained?

Yes, there is an explanation for this, and there is none only one.

If we suppose that the occult Power dreams of the as- service of the Christian world, he acts as he suitable for achieving its goal. In any other case, he acts stupidly. But his troops are stupid,

If the occult Power is a human group, if it represents a race whose members are connected by a social and religious pact, this race possesses, by such a pact, what is needed to last. By destroying in Christian nations the social and religious pact god who connected them and made them last, too, she inferiorizes them and thus gives herself the chance to conquer. By replacing this pact with material religion rialist who suppresses all ideals, by precipitating these nations in pursuit of a social state all the more incoherent that this materialist principle of which they are gives the suggestion is precisely the one who is the more likely to make such a state impossible, the Occult power succeeds in putting the Christian world stand in complete absurdity, in complete unreason, that's- i.e. out of. laws of life. He disintegrates his intelligence gence, he excites him; it dehumanizes him. That this work dechristianization is coming to an end, and a day will come when the sons of the race to which Power belongs occult will find themselves alone in possession of the pact social and religious which differentiates men from raw. They will therefore have remained men, and they will not have will face them more than bullies. Consequently- ment, they will then domesticate us as naturally- ment and without more effort we domesticate today the animals of our farmyards.

– 253 –

If this is the work pursued, if it is really a question to establish by surprise the domination of a race over the others, we understand the work of dechristianization- tion that we are witnessing. Otherwise, we don't understand it.

We also understand, in this case, the constitution of Freemasonry, an organization tending to ensure the domination of the invisible over the visible. Such a plan must in fact remain unsuspected to be realized. We also understand the prodigious accumulation tion of dissimulations and lies thanks to the what this Freemasonry was presented to world as a Christian association, founded by Christians, initiator of all human progress hands, devoted to political institutions on the where the nations rested, accepted, pampered at cause of this. We finally understand why she was trained to attack in the shadows, with determination:

on the one hand, Catholicism, central fortress, shelter
of the rigorous and intangible Christian discipline, and on the other hand the guardian monarchies of the Sicié-
your ; why she covers herself for this double attack
the mask of tolerance and respect; Why it hides behind "Reason" the "Pro-sandstone", "Liberty"; why finally, not daring
still, with all this, directly attacking
the adversary that she feels the need to always deceive to succeed in defeating him, she invented this "fana-
"tism of tolerance" and this hypocritical distinction between Catholicism and clericalism by which have been blinded so many minds that were not evil intentional.

The whole Masonic question then becomes comprehensible. It is illuminated in all its parts,
whereas it cannot be in any other way.
The occult Power appears to us combining its effects infamous strongmen with such rigorous logic here
than everywhere else...

There can therefore be no doubt: it is in this direction
that we must seek.

[

CHAPTER XI

Causes of error relating to origin and purpose
of Freemasonry.

Their successive elimination.

The defect of Mr. Max Doumic's thesis.

FALSE APPEARANCES

TENSIONS AROUND THE MASONIC QUESTION.

THE STARTING POINT.

Before telling the reader the reasons which led us leads to the thesis that we still have to present to him on

on the origin and purpose of Freemasonry, it is useful to let him know why we excluded all other opinions and why we have passed through each of them before arriving at the one which definitely seems to us to be the only acceptable one at the point from a positive point of view, without any prejudice to the Catholic thesis, of the supernatural thesis which can superimposed on it, I would dare to say it, in the most natural.

As we have written several times, the authors of Freemasonry have tended around this association a host of false appearances that one must puncture successively before arriving at the truth, and after one has been lost more or less long-time for each of them. This is what happened to me like it happens to everyone.

– 256 –

First there are those that I will call the most external laughing. They are also the oldest. These are those by which public opinion was initially deceived goals of Freemasonry, and it is to them that we always comes up against when considering for the first time first time the Masonic question.

When Freemasonry appeared, like it had not yet had time to do anything, the false appearances could only be created by rituals and by the declaration of principles contained in the statutes that she presented.

We read there that Freemasonry was a society philosophical and progressive, a society of tolerance, charity, solidarity, a secret society also, of a rather bizarre character who dealt with profanes those who were strangers to him, who used a special vocabulary, which only received followers after putting them through tests, and not proceeding devoted to what she called "her work" that by engaging in certain exercises of Masonic piety.

It follows from this that three assessments were the beginning formulated on it: that of friends, that of indifferent more or less surprised and that of adversaries. The first ones left saying: association of tolerance and progress; fraternal association; the second: gathering of amusing jokes at contemplate and who only hide to deprive us that the latter, being surprised by the secret, suspected that he must be hiding something and they found themselves induced to think, according to certain articles of the declaration

– 257 –

ration, that this something was contrary to religion
gion.

These are the three ideas that originally ran on Freemasonry; it's one or the other from them that the first profane people rallied knew of the existence of this association. They have continued to be accepted since; and it is one or to the other that still rally in our time a large number of lay people.

To one or the other, we say, or to the combination sound of two of them, or even all three. For my part, I started by hesitating between the three before to know anything in a positive way. This character itself saying philosophical and progressive perhaps exists, I said to myself, but he must be hiding some meaning anti-Catholic sentiment. As for the pretenses, they probably hide some intellectual poverty.

However, I remained uncertain. I did not assert nothing, neither towards myself, nor towards others, until the time I became part of the association.

HOW SUCCESSIVE STATES OF MINDS ARE BORN RELATING TO THE MASONIC QUESTION AND HOW WERE DESTROYED ONE AFTER THEM
OTHER FALSE APPEARANCES.

Freemasonry having been founded with a view to
But, from the start, she had to work
one way or the other to achieve this goal.
We saw what precautions were taken to that the illusion about him was maintained; but he was inevitable that, despite this, his true spirit betrays itself, at least partially, here and there. Soon the Popes collect precise information on She. They denounce her as having tendencies anti-Catholic, anti-government, anti-social.

– 258 –

then definitely shine on her. It was different as a result of the precautions taken and the methods used bent, and also because the Popes because of these precautions and these methods were brought to no not seek or distinguish the powers human beings responsible for such a creation. Believing to do enough to warn the faithful, they only reported to them "the inspirations of the Spirit bad" which circulated in the new association, without telling them about the human intermediaries who were the initiators and implementers of his fear-good organization. And, in doing so, they contributed to a certain extent to maintain around the Freemasonry the atmosphere of mystery that its human founders specifically sought to create to better hide.

Naturally the said founders fight the version of the Pontiffs; and they do it properly so that the protective uncertainty of which they benefit. Freemasons say, write and print what we know: "man fearing God, faithful to his prince, here is the mason! » ((He who does not respect the laws of religion is not not a mason, he usurps the name..." Not only they say it, write it and have it printed, but yet as some of them are indeed such, as they truly believe that those masons who "do not respect the laws of religion are not masons, let them usurp the name"; like the profans who know them consider them brave people, as indeed, if they are the transmitters of the lie, they are the sincere transmitters of it, we believes them, at least in certain circles. Their version is propagated. And from there will result, on the one hand, a reduction in authority for the words of the Pontifes and, on the other hand, an accentuation of the opposition of opinions, under conditions such as a greater uncertainty will exist in the overall spirits.

– 259 –

Freemasonry benefits from this uncertainty, thanks to which she can work safely, at progressive realization of his work.

Some boldness that she inspires in some of her followers, we will attribute responsibility to those

the name ". So much so that the moderates she attracted by necessity, as we have explained, remains— will nevertheless enter his boxes, deceived themselves. They will strive to bring back those of their brothers whom they consider it "too advanced" for what they believe to be the true Masonic spirit. It will be pointless, because that the occult Power will work invisibly con— be them. But by this alone we will know them to be honest lessons, they will contribute to maintaining the error on the account of the association. This is the second state of mind through which I passed when I had escaped the suggestions fanatical management. I explained how I attract— but to certain Freemasons the responsibility of sectarianism which was in reality only that to which the founders of Freemasonry drove little almost the entire association in France.

— 260 —

Here is now the third error to which we was naturally driven by the course of events ments and through which we also go when we progress in the study of the question. It results from the same false appearance that serves to cover the action Masonic politics.

An hour indeed comes when the march towards the goal requires the creation of special groups. We see some born almost everywhere in the last quarter of the 18th century century. In Bavaria, it is the Illuminated sect of Weis— haupt. Elsewhere it's something else. An inter— national takes place in Wilhelmsbad with a view to the organization of an upheaval which will be the natural continuation of the long period of preparation for which so much effort were dedicated. The Count of Virieu, deceived follower until then, returns from this congress announcing to those of his friends who taunt him about his trip that a Revolution tion is prepared by secret societies, and so well say that it would be surprising if religions and States could escape it. And, in fact, the French Revolution it bursts. A few years later in 1797, Barruel wrote his Memoirs to serve the history of Jacobi— nism. It is based on testimonies like that of Virieu and, on the documents of the trial carried out in Bavaria to rillumination. The presumptions are added to the presumptions; evidence to evidence. Those are Freemasons who made the Revolution; none doubt for those who read Barruel.

No doubt for me, when I read it, about the fact in himself ; but doubt about the cause of this fact, days thanks to the precautions taken. These are the Jacobins, I thought, that is to say the most exalted, the most violent among the Freemasons who made the Revolution, it is not Freemasonry. The proof, it is that certain Freemasons resisted, more or less early or more or less late. We have in fact evidence of this. Mounier was one of these moderates and he wrote a work tending to show that France Masonry has nothing to do with the Revolution. Gold, he, a Freemason, participated in the revolution drama- nary. He played his role there. He must know. For him, this are "the violent ones" who are responsible for everything. The association should not be confused with these violations slow. And what strengthens Mounier's opinion is that the lodges were closed during the turmoil...

After the presentation made in the previous chapters, we know how this is explained; but when I read Barruel and Mounier, I didn't know it. I con- I therefore regard Freemasonry as having been for something in the Revolution, but only- ment as a result of exaggerations in the application of principles that she had propagated; exaggerations seated by these violent people who are found in all environments and acts of which it is not appropriate to hold the groups to which they belong accountable hold.

But the years pass. Other revolutions follow yield to the first: those of 1830, 1848, 1870- 1871; then the one, more formidable than all the others tres, which occurs in the domain of moral ideas, most solidly established family and national families, which we are currently witnessing. Writers like Eckert, Deschamps and Claudio Janet succeeded ceded to Barruel. They showed the link between all these revolutions. This link is in France Masonry. Cretineau-Joly brought his contin- gent of documents which corroborate the accounts drawn precautions that hold. And even those by-what we have been deceived for so long remember turn against their authors. Because this Franc-Ma-masonry which takes such diverse forms, works in Still on the same path. She leads there the moderates as well as the violent. So she plays a role for both. She plays, let us say: who, she?... Something which is above Freemasons, obviously. These pass; their generations succeed one another, each making the grimace which is certainly suggested to him, since each of these grimaces is only a part of the picture given by the whole. Suggested by who?

By something that lasts while one after the other generations set in motion. So this something can only be one race, one people or one religion.
ligion, because that is the only thing capable of lasting Thus. But then, these battles, which we undertake, in which we engage. French, the against each other, for what we believe to be

- 263 -

ideas, would only be the manifestation of a war
which would be made to us at home by a power foreign? These ideas themselves, which we imagine ours, which we consider to constitute guiding principles, they would be principles of death slipped sneakily and treacherously into our souls by an enemy race?...It is not possible
let it not be so, since there is only this means to explain the persistence of the Masonic society and the unity of views which reveals itself to anyone who knows how to recognize keep things together.

the question is finally asked as it should

being,
argument of mr. max doumic.

It is under the domination of this idea that I write see my brochure: Le Pouvoir occulte^ in 1900, and that Mr. Max Doumic gave us his Secret of France
Masonry^ in 1905.

This author finally poses the problem as it should being. The Power that moves Franc-Ma-nonsense, he said, it can only be one people.

This is also what appears to me. But I'm separating designates one, while I designate another. One of both of us would he still be the victim of a false appearance?...

The argument on which Mr. Max Doumic relies his theory is this: Masonic policy has always been favorable to English politics; SO

– 264 –

Freemasonry is an instrument that England earth has forged to ensure its supremacy in the world, by throwing ideas into other nations disruptive and destructive, by arousing within of them intellectual, religious, political disorders and social, by dissociating them, by disaggregating them, in short by killing them, not with iron, but with poison.

The thesis has value, because it is proven that the Angle-earth has singularly benefited from the mason action-fuck. However, is this a sufficient reason to de-finish our conviction? No. Because if another can-ple had also benefited to a considerable extent derable of Masonic action, the argument which, in the book by Mr. Max Doumic, argues for the attribution from the Masonic creation to the English people alone should also advocate for the attribution to this other people.

But this is precisely what exists.

Prussia also benefited considerably from of Masonic action. While the propaganda made by Freemasonry in France and in the Catholic nations in general have been destructive there, the one made in Prussia by this same Freemason-nerie was not more dissolving than was that made in England. It is a circumstance which has its meaning and which must be taken into account, if we want to Let us form a rigorous opinion on the matter. motivated.

That's not all. There is yet another people who derived considerable benefit from the mason action-fuck. But they are a people that we hardly talk about

– 265 –

because, precisely, – and this is a particularity

she readily treats as fanatics those who allow us to look him in the face. This people who seemed to be almost nothing when Freemasonry appeared and which is almost everything now, it is the people on whom Edouard Drumont managed to attract the attention of a certain number of French people: the Jewish people.

Therefore, which of the three peoples, English, Prussian or Jew, comes honor or rather dishonor of the creation of Freemasonry?

It is up to the English people, replies Mr. Max Doumic:

1° Because the Jewish people were powerless at the time of the appearance of Freemasonry;

2° Because Chancellor Bacon was the inventor of the idea; that he developed it throughout in that of his works which is entitled: La Nouvelle Atlantide;

3° Because it was the English who founded all the front rows;

4° Because, for a long time, the Jews did not flee not even admitted to Masonic workshops.

Thus brought together, these reasons seem peremptory. But when we examine them carefully, we realize that they do not actually have any probative value.

First, if the Jews were devoid of certain power loss at the time of the appearance of the Freemasonry – as they still are now moreover, since they have, for example, neither

– 266 –

army, nor navy in 1918 – on the other hand they had demonstrated a strange, mysterious, unexampled force humanely applied, while keeping their religious ideal and national, despite sixteen centuries of dispersion across towards other peoples. This is a unique fact in history, which denotes not lack of power, but rather a power of a special kind, which is precisely in perfect relationship – and this is a circuit significant constancy – with that by virtue of the that Freemasonry persists, without anyone understanding this at least curious report would require that we studied a little closely before deciding on this what could or could not the Jewish people during the appearance of Freemasonry. This little-ple was not capable of achieving victories over battlefields, that is certain, since he does not seduced no armies. But perhaps he had worn his faculties on the other hand and was he better off or-titled than any other to proceed with a creation like the one that concerns us. However, Mr. Max Doumic does not was not at all worried about this.

That's not all.

Given that the founders of Freemason-nerie especially needed to remain invisible – this is proven by the special organization that they gave to Freemasonry – it would be essential to examine whether the circumstances what the author of the Secret of Freemasonry points out could not have existed even in the case where other very much that the English, and in particular the Jews, had

– 267 –

feel were the true initiators of Freemasonry. If by chance this were possible, the conclusion of Mr. Max Doumic in the sense of English origin is would find deprived of support.

Now it goes without saying that if the Jews were the authors of Freemasonry, they could, in the sole aim of concealing oneself better, creating appearances which it's about.

It would have been extremely easy for them to suggest manage directly or indirectly to the chancellor Bacon – or any other to his fault – the idea exposed seated in New Atlantis. This is a common process. rant in Freemasonry. We saw him re-summarized in the lines of the Masonic Review that we we reported: “making individual influences act carefully covered duels.”

It would have been no less easy for them to operate the English just like Chancellor Bacon, without more discover in one case than in the other. He would have had them enough for this to still use “individual influences” duels carefully covered” to circulate spread in appropriate circles the idea of the advantages political conditions that would ensure England's existence tenancy of an association organized in such and such terms. It was enough to train the men of English state.

î*il As for the exclusion of which the Jews were, we are told-

- -

we, the object in the front row, it would take everything

first be assured that this exclusion extended everywhere, in all countries, and above all that she was

- 268 -

practiced in all Masonic groups, the su-previous ones, the unknown like the others. But such proof is far from being made. Even if it were there he would remain to know if the Jews, having above all need that their action remained unnoticed, could not have suggested themselves this momentary exclusion, while providing other means of intervention,
role and even direction in mason affairs
niques.

Finally, it would still be necessary to find out if the Jews did not
would not have had an interest in achieving their goal
hidden, to favor constantly or almost constantly English politics.

These questions once posed before the mind,
we realize that it is more than imprudent to con-
close before they receive their response.

Mr. Max Doumic did not think about it; and that's why his thesis leaves room for great uncertainties. It is why therefore, the solution he gives must
- a priori - be accepted subject to an examination general men of the question much more careful than the one he indulged in.

In a question where so many pitfalls have been raised under the footsteps of researchers, it could still be that the author of the Secret of Freemasonry^ instead to discover the true secret, only seeing a false one,
or that he saw only part of the truth; that he was deceived by a last cleverly tended appearance
due to safeguard a Power which we have

ble for him to always remain unknown.

– 269 –

Mr. Max Doumic could have allowed himself to be deceived all the more easily than the reasons on which he bases his conclusion are purely historical. If a such element of appreciation should not be neglected, it is not the only one that should be used. There are others which are of considerable importance. maple. We want to talk about those that assert scientists in natural history when there is discussion about the classification of certain subjects.

Here we find ourselves in a similar situation: we have a subject that is all the more difficult to classify that he absolutely does not want us to achieve this. What do we have to do if we want to judge? reasoned about him? We must study, not just one of its characters, but all those by which it is distinguished. If we don't not, we are failing in scientific principles more basic.

A skull is offered for our examination. We want us convince us that it is the skull of a sheep, and we agree For this we draw on the fact that the jaw is that of a herbivorous. But the size of said skull makes us hesitant to accept the classification that is proposed to us. How will we settle? By examining the other very parts of the skeleton.

Or again: we are shown a child of whom we are prompts to determine ancestry. We are told three human couples: the first white, the second yellow and the third black, who are fighting over the child question. To lead to our choice, we are made to remark that this child shows a lot of affection tion to the white couple. Only we omit to take into account that he also testifies to the two others very. This is already enough to expose us to conclude falsely. But what is much more serious is that we do not take the trouble to examine whether the subject is white, yellow or black. However, it is through this that he should have started.

– 270 –

require the most urgent attention
before we decide on the origin of the association masonic. They relate to conformation
.and the intrinsic characteristics of the very particular being which it is about. So let's start there.

If, after the study we have made of the strange agglomeration of secret societies which constitutes the Freemasonry, we strive to bring together in our thinking the conditions necessary for the date and inspiration of such an organization, we we arrive at the following.

First of all, it's not a man we're talking about.
It's from a company. The work would have died with man
We agree on this with Mr. Max Doumic.

Secondly, the members of said society have necessarily common interests and a thought common. These interests are certainly permanent since creation is permanent; that is to say they are ethnic or religious, or, even better, both of them. In the absence of this condition, the or-
Masonic ganism would have quickly disintegrated.
It is therefore a people who are the creator of France.
Masonry. We are still reasoning on this point

– 271 –

like Mr. Max Doiimic and we always conclude like him.

Thirdly, since this Freemasonry was universal from the beginning, it was necessary for the people which it concerns had at its disposal from the beginning of the xyiii^ century of means of communication and united action versels and that everywhere he was a bitter enemy of Catholicism if not of Christianity as a whole; condition which would be fulfilled if this people had for ideal an anti-Catholic, if not anti-Christian, religion.

He still had to have skills and habits by which he was driven to act secretly-lies rather than openly, by trickery rather than
by force, by treason rather than by arms;
because these characters, which are not frequently encountered
ment, undoubtedly mark Masonic action.
They therefore belong to the founding people
tor we are looking for.

times, we remember, this character, this very sign particularity of the people in question: that they already had the experience of the secret society when he founded the Freemason.

Finally, he had to have received a share of great tenacity, or that he had managed to give it to himself by because of the difficulties of his existence; and that, by Subsequently, he was particularly capable of undertaking works whose duration would have put off all the others. Because this is still one of the most surprising brands—yours of Masonic action: how prodigious it is—be patient.

— 272 —

England has to a certain degree some of the characters that we have just si—complain, but only a few, and only until a certain point.

She had business relations and husband—extended times which assured him the means of action tion in many countries. She supported these means by the diplomatic intrigues that she knew how to weave everywhere and, moreover, she could strengthen them with the support that she was lucky to find near the pro-colonies testantes who had spread from France after the Re—vocation of the Edict of Nantes and which rightly state Mr. Max Doumic for the support of his thesis. "

She obviously hated Catholicism. She had for this two reasons: she was Protestant and she wanted the degradation of France. So she had to wanting the weakening and even destruction of religious tradition which was one of the roots of life of our country. Mr. Max Doumic attributes an influence preponderant to this last consideration. There Freemasonry appears to him to be anti-Catholic only because she is English. He considers that as such it was bound to attack our reli—whatever it was; that we would have seen the Mason—anti-Mohammedan or even anti-patriotic nery among us, if France had been Mohammedan, or pro—testing... We could discuss this at length point, but it would be of no use in view of what we must at this moment concentrate all our attention. Whether for this or that reason, An—gleterre was logically pushed, if she was the ve—great creator of Freemasonry, to throw away the anti-Catholic suggestion in French lodges.

•') - o

We readily acknowledge this.

But, as we have said, the initiator of the Masonic creation of other abilities, other dispositions of mind and with that certain skills which were absolutely essential for the said creation could not only be realized, but even just designed. Now these skills, these dispositions mental situations and these skills, the Jewish people certainly possessed. He couldn't not possess at the beginning of the eighteenth century; and this, as we will see presently, because that they were, so to speak, a natural consequence natural of the very special circumstances of his existence anterior; while on the contrary we are reduced to standing ask where England would have taken one and the other.

By studying the question from this point of view, we lead us to understand that premeditation and organization of Freemasonry by the Jewish people are facts absolutely consistent with natural laws, we could almost say facts wanted by these laws, while on the contrary, this premeditation and this organization by the English people would not have could only be done in contradiction to these same laws.

We will realize this by examining rapidly the conditions which are necessary for secret societies are born. It is this study, at the- which we have not thought of until now, which can only enlighten to understand the still obscure parts of the Masonic question fuck.

CHAPTER XII

Secret society theory.

Need for an earlier incubation period

at the birth of Freemasonry.

CONDITIONS AND CIRCUMSTANCES IN WHICH

CAN BE BORN

The birth and gestation of a secret society are subject phenomena, like all others, to laws. These laws have never been studied until now. We must see here one of the reasons, perhaps the main one, for which the Masonic question, despite its importance, repels minds rather than attracted. It would be less repulsive if we had the that prior knowledge of which the only defect is makes it incomprehensible.

In the absence of the complete theory which would be appropriate to establish in this matter, we submit to the readers share the observations and thoughts we have been led to do on this subject unfortunately too much disdained, although the destiny of our country is there attached.

It is also because of the general ignorance in this which concerns secret societies, which we hear then a few years so many of our compatriots commonly engage in reflections like this: "Why don't we found a secret society to fight against Freemasonry laugh? We will only be able to defeat it under this condition. tion. So what are we waiting for? » Several got to work. They invented signs of recognition, processes of correspondence dance and many other small means, imagining that the organization of a secret society was based on this, and on that only. Ask them what they have successful. I am sure in advance of their answers.

– 275 –

Nothing is more difficult to constitute in the mid-Western places than a secret society.

It is enough to think a little to realize that in principle, and in any which country, a political or religious secret society is not a spontaneous fact or one which depends solely of one or a few wishes. So that a such a society, it is absolutely necessary that the necessity arises imposes more or less imperiously on certain men, and for it to become established and last, it These men must be gifted with certain skills. special studies and that they have the time at their disposal inverse of each other. The more skills there will be, the less time it will take. On the contrary, the less there will be skills, the more time it will take.

So three essential conditions: necessity, skills, time; but necessity above all.

This necessity arises when a great feeling—ment of a religious or political order is found prized or violated, or when general security is in question.

— 276 —

We will represent ourselves by the following two examples: the conditions in which secret societies have most generally occasion to be born and to develop.

A number of human beings find themselves born by any chance in a country where the population demonstrates against these newcomers hostile intentions, if only because of this which she considers as her right of first occupation. These people will naturally like to work together to take measures to defense. Quite naturally also they will keep good to invite their adversaries to attend their de-releases. On the contrary, they will apply as much that they will be able to hide the result from them. They will thus constitute with regard to these a company secret. Secret society in an embryonic state, without doubt ; but a secret society all the same, which develops will develop and modify more or less depending on whether will demand it the necessity which gave birth to it: that of common defense, of the fight for life; according to also the more or less natural tendencies, the more or less ability of the interested parties.

Instead of this example, suppose that of a people defeated and invaded who does not want to submit to his winner. What is left for this people to fight for? This is not strength, since he found someone stronger than him. He is reduced to conspiring, that is to say, to creating so-called secret cities which will aim at the liberation of country. These companies will take different forms, they will adopt various modes of action depending on what circumstances will dictate and they will have the chance to last until oppression is destroyed, provided, however, that those who have initiated it have the required skills or experience necessary.

— 277 —

The birth, development and death of these secret societies will depend on the coexistence or the disappearance of the causes that we have pointed out: necessity, – created in the first case by the need of the defense, in the second by the contempt done to the sense-national time, – and the aptitude of the founders. And he will always be like this. In fact, we do not found a secret society for nothing; and, on the other hand, does not found it not whoever wants: these are the great principles from which he we must begin the study which occupies us.

This is the case at least in countries where it
There are no secret societies yet.

The conditions are not at all the same there where it has already established itself; and that, for a reason very simple that a vulgar comparison will immediately make quickly understand. It is extremely easy to give birth to a rabbit, a pigeon or a dog, if the olipos-already sedates rabbits, pigeons or dogs; there difficulty only begins if one does not have the breeding pairs. The same goes for so-secret cities. Nothing could be easier for those who exist only try to procreate others, provided that they recruit these subsidiaries in the environments where they are recruited try themselves. This is how secret societies literally swarm in certain Extreme countries East. It was enough for a few to have – 278 –

could take root. The environment and skills are there finding, time did the rest. In these regions the secret society has become a fact so to speak natural.

At the beginning of the 18th century, the secret society was on the contrary an exceptional fact for us, almost unnatural, due to the circumstances. It is for this reason only the study of the conditions in which it occurs dominates that of Freemasonry.

The urgency of the condition of necessity is explained without the need for lengthy developments. She

the action which evades, is an action which seems to have fear. But such an appearance is a humiliating thing for our self-esteem not only towards others, but towards ourselves. Reasons for a higher order can still be added to this there to increase the repulsion that natural inspires—lies the secret society among us; but, by itself, that which we have just said is sufficient, because it is drawn from the very depths of our nature. So that we passions above, it's not too much that a big feeling commands us. And still it fits to add that this great feeling should not be simply negative. The secret society to which he gives—rait birth would not last, if it were not susceptible to give birth to a positive ideal that ignites in souls of the followers a common enthusiasm for the flame of which will be burned and destroyed the hostilities or the divergences that may exist between followers on points of less importance. The founders of the

(

— 279 —

Freemasonry was not mistaken. And it's why, understanding that hatred of Catholicism, completely negative feeling, could not be enough to make to last the secret society that they founded, they created for her a new and false religion, that of so-called Reason, of so-called Progress, of so-called telling the Truth.

Aspiring founders of anti-secret societies
Masons do not suspect that one of the obstacles who oppose the realization of their desires, it is the absence of the positive ideal of which we speak. They meet against many members among whom there is a negative ideal: hatred against the harmful association masonic. But those in whom this hatred lives have no no common positive ideal and it seems almost impossible to rekindle one in them. It's that the invisible work of Masonic suggestions has produced its results, for one hundred and fifty years that he has been pursued; and these results had their repercussions even in the hearts and minds of those of us we imagine themselves and who imagine themselves having been there most completely subtracted. It is because of this work than the positive ideal which once constituted the fa—thousand French and which was based on political tradition crowd of fragments. Everyone was Catholic formerly. Everyone, even among the conservatives, is no longer so. On the other hand, among those who have preserved the traditional faith, some are modern narchists, others are republicans... And the rest the amendment. This, I repeat, is where we must find a of the main reasons which oppose, in the middle of many others, to the creation of a secret society against Freemasonry. We do not have to offer members a positive ideal that they all accept. However, without a positive ideal, no soul for society secret; therefore no secret society.

– 280 –

But, let us not forget, would necessity speak very high and would the common positive ideal exist, this would not yet be enough for it to develop such a company, if the initiators of it do not possess had the desired skills. Not only the initiators, but still some of the members. But these abilities are not frequently encountered in natures which have not been distorted by circumstances stances of any kind; and this, for the reason that few men are born conspirators and society se-Crete, because of the necessity which creates it, is never but that a conspiracy against something or con-be someone.

SECRET SOCIETIES STARTED BY A SOCIETY OF THE SAME PRE-EXISTING NATURE.

But if you are not born a conspirator, you can become one. come ; and this is what should make us understand for-why a secret society develops so easily when it comes from another similar company. There ease results in this case from the fact that one of the consequences of the functioning of a secret society, it is precisely to give birth and develop in the members special abilities in the absence of-

I

– 281 –

•even if they had remained unfit for such creations tions.

The secret society accustoms its followers to listening, to silently observe, to surveil, to spy, to make selections; it develops in them the spirit caught in trickery and lies; she makes them a mistake special science into which it introduces a kind fanatical religion of secrecy, not to mention a reduction of independence of character and, therefore, be, such a feeling of solidarity that a work proposed by the inspirations we are used to to follow is accepted in advance. It will be served with passion by the members that the said leaders have also taken care to choose before theirs to propose.

It constantly happens that the directors of a secret society feel the need to create one other, with a view to a partial and preparatory aim of which prior obtaining is essential so that can one day be achieved, their final and general goal. Once their plan is mature, they operate within their company a special selection to the object they have in view. They know the abilities of each of the followers. They know what to expect or fear—of one or the other. So they work suddenly sure and this is their immense superiority. Those they will ask to contribute to the training of this or that such a subsidiary whose goal also agrees with that of the already existing secret association will work as one man, precisely because they have been chosen accordingly, and they will carry in the new organization the skills that have been developed in them in the ancient.

— 282 —

It is quite different in secular circles. A secret society which is born in these environments is there generally struck by impotence from the beginning, because of the difficulty of the first choices. That's all—days by a childhood illness that she was killed. This mortally dangerous period due to the tasks surprises and errors that it causes, is spared born into the secret society which is born within another, because she is like a hatched egg by a hen who knows her job as an incubator and who succeeds in all its broods; while the other is like an egg that squirrels should lead to hatching.

been created and organized the sub-masonry of which we spoke in our chapter viii. It was enough for heads of masonry to give or have given the necessary slogans in the boxes, using "individual influences carefully covered green)) that they had at their disposal.

It is true that these were not real companies. secret, but only from companies whose origin Masonic gin alone had to remain secret. But we have other examples.

In the part of the occult Power against France which deals with the organization of Freemasonry, we made mention of the ranks that existed formerly and which were subsequently deleted. What was it in reality that these grades? We have shown it:

– 283 –

secret societies within Freemasonry. When were they created? When the leaders invisible people needed it. What time do we have them destroyed? When the same leaders judged them inutile. Their creation and their disappearance were a thing easy, because we operate as we have explained that a moment ago. It would be just as easy to reorganize or organize others tomorrow. And Why? Because, thanks to the existence of the company Masonic, the leaders have on hand the tools and essential workers. This is also how explains the Carbonari Sales training and that of Haute- Vente which was superimposed on them. How was all this put together? By selection. And how could the selection operate so easily? Because Freemasonry was there with its se-previous elections which made it possible to find almost all the frames we needed.

By the very fact that it exists, Freemasonry performs character deformations which we We can now judge. They are indeed beings chivalrous that were the French, that she was able make these lying, cowardly, suspicious, spying beings hypocrites and fanatics that we see in the political spheres and even in our army; beings such that, by putting in the right time, she ends up finding among them what she needs to constitute all kinds of secret societies, including including the Satanist and assassin groups of which we just now.

– 284 –

These distortions of the French character are so acute accused only in our country of loyalty, of bravery of action in broad daylight, we see a whole party, the one which calls himself a republican, accept a policy whose de-loyalty, hypocrisy and baseness would once have underpinned raised with indignation those very people who have the responsibility sanity of the infamies committed.

In contrast, and so that the lesson on this point is complete, look on the other side, on the conservative side—tor and Catholic. Masonic action is also there exercised without doubt; she operated on some of the deformations which are its consequence; but it's in a much less direct way, leaving—stroke less complete. Characters and feelings atavistic have not completely disappeared. In revanche, the aptitude for secret organization is not been acquired; and that is why, although many would like because they are convinced of its opportunity due to circumstances and necessities sities, this organization remains in a dream state. Those who, rightly or wrongly, imagine that there would be the remedy, feel at the same time in the impossibility of using it. They don't even suspect what it is, nor the conditions of its manufacture. He there is a whole science there, moreover terribly ingereuse, of which they are unaware of the a, &, c. Would not ignore it They don't think it might be the same thing, because that they probably wouldn't decide to do it use. We can clearly see most of them getting enthusiastic siasmize the day when a tragedy occurs in broad daylight dazzling celebration like that of the League of Emerging French homeland. We don't see them interlocking gadant for an occult work. "We don't want not evil, say the loyal beings who remained those of us who have best kept the French type—that ; why would we hide? »

– 285 –

Nothing is more revealing than this opposition of character that currently exists between the two portions of the French race: the one which remained itself even on the main points, and the one which, having masonic managements, is now so completely modified. Nothing could be better for us show the terrible destructive power of gold-gism that we studied.

ANCIENT SECRET SOCIETIES.

When one becomes familiar with the reflections that includes such a subject, when it was noted that the difficulties which oppose creation and organization of a secret society are considered ably diminished by the mere fact of the preexistence from another society of the same nature, we manage to re-tie the chain of secret societies in thought which existed at different times and we seek to represent the causes of the creation of the first of them: the religious secret societies of which he is spoken of in the annals of primitive humanity. This is not such a vain occupation as it seems. in a time when it is proven that we are devoted by one of these strange organisms. Since the creation of a secret society by laymen is such a difficult thing, and since on the contrary it is a thing so simple for professionals, it is natural that we searches for the authors of European secret societies current among the direct or indirect heirs of the ancient secret societies. We are all the more inclined that the rituals of these all evoke, as well as we have had occasion to say it, the memory of these this.

— 286 —

Logically the laws of these kinds of training must have always been the same. If we don't are not mistaken as to the conditions that we recognized as being those in which secret societies are born, we must therefore find the origin of those we are talking about.

In fact, it is enough to imagine the environments and circumstances in these primitive times to meet the conditions we have indicated.

It was the force that then reigned everywhere. It's in virtue of its laws that the relationships were established between men, as among animals. It was her which led to the formation of the first societies, i.e.

serve, either because they found it good to gather to resist enemy enterprises. After having established its empire over individuals, the force returned to the groups thus formed.

But in the middle of these groups appeared supernatural beings prior to their environment, either because nature had produced such, either because they were illuminated inspirations from above. What could these pre-sliders against strong ones? Nothing or almost nothing. They had no control over them, because the beings gifted with physical strength are also generally gifted of brutality. So it is not them who are inspired should be tempted to contact. They hid from it instead. But precisely because their strength was immaterial, they were patient. They looked, they observed and they noted that among the races domesticated humans, a few foreheads were raised above the herd. They were naturally fond born to make a choice among those of their peers that they judged most likely to understand them dre. They introduced them to the thought of a beyond, of what that something superior and immaterial to which should tender each man and all humanity. Thus was found thrown into this humanity the germ of societies no longer constituted by force, but by selection.

– 287 –

It goes without saying that such teaching could not be give publicly. It would not have been understood; And consequently it would have been fought. The companies of chosen, initiates were therefore forced to hide. But whoever hides is almost necessarily led to ruse... And it was the bad element introduced into the association which had as its starting point an idea high. Because ruse quickly becomes lies, and lying becomes even more quickly deceit.

That, on the other hand, secret societies could have have as initiators from the most ancient antiquity of vicious beings, instead of superior beings, it is still (natural and certain liosis, the vice being obliged to hide (1). These associations were corrupt from only became so later and under the influence of principle of secrecy which, applied with a certain manner in human societies, is also pernicious from the moral point of view as darkness is for the flower rite.

– 288 –

We will undoubtedly be asked what we are let's press to expose in this way rather than on the other hand, the formation of the first societies creates.

We answer that if nothing else we we rely on the observation of natural laws. These laws are constantly in effect. They therefore acted at the beginning of humanity as they act now holding. It is due to the action of natural laws that the strong have always crushed the weak and that they obliged those of these weak who fell under them the hand to follow their fortune; while due to the action of these same laws, by this reaction of things that restore balance and that seem like a manifestation of immaterial justice until in the material order, other weak ones grouped together of themselves so that the union of their weaknesses was formed into a force. It is always because of the action of natural laws only within the first societies thus constituted and among those oppressed denied the strong everywhere, there must have been beings more intelligent than the others who recognized themselves and gathered to oppose brutal force intellectual and moral strength. It is therefore due to the action of these same natural laws that were constituted killed selected and secret societies in the middle masses dominated by force. Likewise, it is in because of natural laws that vice hides, and that in Consequently, corrupting secret societies were able to existed from the earliest ages of history. The annals ancient ones speak to us everywhere, or almost everywhere, secret societies, some pure, others corrupted.

(1) Mr. Louis Dasté wrote on this subject a curious and learned work: Secret Societies, their crimes, in which he dug into this side of the question.

– 289 –

They also tell us about the initiators, the pre-

be them. They even gave us the idea, through death of Orpheus, of the dangers that these superior beings ran laughing when they did not sufficiently hide their superiority. These orders of facts being thus related in many countries, they must have existed. If they have existed, they have their cause and their explanation, and this cause and this explanation are obviously those which result from the free action of general laws according to which the Creator wanted the worlds to evolve. We say that things must have happened this way because that for them to have happened differently, it would have had to exist other natural laws than those that exist, that which is outside of all discussion.

– 290 – ^

incapacity

FROM THE WESTERN WORLD TO THE SECRET ORGANIZATION.

CONSIDERABLE IMPORTANCE THEREFORE
FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF THE SEARCH FOR THE ORIGIN
OF FREEMASONRY.

This explains, and in the most logical way, that two ways of governing the human societies: one having force as its principle, the other based on selection; the first act-health in broad daylight, precisely because those who practiced, feeling strong, were not afraid; the second having recourse to an organization more or less secret, more or less complicated; whose principle sometimes intelligence or virtue, sometimes vice; using in the first case skill, address, method, and, in the second, of trickery, lies, deceit.

Looking back at what happened in later times teriors to those of which we have just spoken, we note tate that the West ended up seeing predominance first type of government, that which is exercised great day, while the Orient saw the development of second. China and neighboring countries are populated by secret societies that intersect and intersect under the manifestations of apparent life like make the canals and pipes of all kinds under the streets of our large modern cities. A kind atavism results from this, by virtue of which, a priori, men and peoples of oriental origin must creation and organization of secret societies that men and peoples of the West. The fortune of the Frankish race and the development of Christianity certainly exerted a decisive influence on this regard.

– 291 –

There were religious secret societies among the Celts and Gauls. They had a share in government is lying. The Frankish warriors whose influence was predominant undermining in a decisive moment, had on the contrary the exclusive cult of force. The leader they gave themselves he was the most vigorous, the bravest, the most daring heavens. They contributed to ensuring in the Occidental the predominance of the government by the strength, the one who exercises in broad daylight, and it was for a part all the greater than the beginning of their historical influence coincides with their conversion to Christianity.

The domination exercised over souls by religion of Christ could only increase the repugnance natural from our ancestors for secret societies.

The Christian spirit starts from the idea that God sees everything and he asks us to account for everything. Therefore, at what's the point of hiding? It develops to the highest degree the feeling of individual responsibility towards of the Sovereign Judge, while on the contrary the individual duality fades and disappears in the mystery of society secret society and in the solidarity it creates between people. The Christian spirit contemplates earthly life like preparation for another that cannot be conquered not by fomenting plots, but that we deserve through acts of dedication and sacrifice, through

– 202 –

Shifting from the lower sides of our nature to the high spirits, through dedication to great causes and to the noble ideas which constitute the basis of philosophy Christian social philosophy. What is mystery, what is deceit, what is organization? secret tion have to do in the service of such an ideal? It is against him that their employment is indicated; it's not not for him.

crete which characterizes Western races and especially the French race; incapacity that it is impossible to not find honorable, but which increases for us the difficulties of the struggle, now that our ancestors made the mistake of allowing it to take root and grow Freemasonry.

There is at least one lesson that we can draw from the observation of our incapacity in the struggle that we currently have to sustain; teaching of great importance in that it illuminates one of the darkest and also the most unexplored aspects of the Masonic question.

This inability so well observed today in those of us in whom we find ourselves best preserved ves the Catholic spirit and other atavismes, in fact gives us the idea of the difficulties that certainly experienced by those who worked to introduce Masonic society to Christian peoples like and in particular in the French nation. These difficulties were certainly immense and such that the fact of a society's acceptance of this gender in our world is incomprehensible to who has given sufficient thought to these questions, unless that it is not supposed to be preceded by incubation work invisible tion which could have continued for centuries.

– 293 –

Indeed, it is above all the Catholic spirit and discipline lics who are opposed to the idea of a secret society. Gold until the 16th century, it was this spirit and this discipline Pliny who reigned throughout the West. And faith was ardent, and submission to discipline was complete. Individuals, nations and their governments nements were in the most complete community feelings in this regard. Considerable and almost invincible were the forces opposed by an atavism to the introduction of a secret society in England and Germany as well as in France.

We can see the work done obstinately stubborn it took to change this state of affairs, when we are called to observe ter, as we have just done, only after two hundred years of Masonic action among us, the real catholic remains refractory.

So therein lies the interesting and true mystery–

depends on the origin of Freemasonry:
who could have undertaken this preparatory work?

Christians? It's impossible. It would have been necessary for these Christians had three things that they did not have. did not say, precisely because they were Christians here: 1° an anti-Christian ideal in place of the ideal hostile to the secret society; 2° skills; and 3° the former experience in handling this instrument if complicated.

– 294 –

Let us think about this carefully. Because we touch there a crucial point, and neglect these considerations as we've done it so far, it's missing the start in the study of the origin of Freemasonry; it's this condemned to wander forever.

If such work could not be accomplished by Christians, Hey, it had to be done by non-Christians. But then, another difficulty, resulting from the antipathy that were to test Christians in the ages of faith for non-Christians entrepreneurs of a similar nature artwork.

However the work has been done, since France Masonry was founded, and it was done by non-Christians, since Christians would not have been in possession of the necessary skills. These non-Christians yours have managed to triumph over difficulties. For This, they obviously took the necessary means bles. It is therefore certain that they engaged in a travail of dechristianization prior to that of the organization nization of the Christian secret society. This work of dechristianization could not be turned against the sets, since these sets being believers were opposed. He necessarily had to aim units chosen from among Christians who – for one reason or another – were less religious than the sets were.

Change a world by attacking units in each generation, what a work of Hercules! And However, it is impossible that this would not have been do.

And that's not all yet: like a society secrest which would have been proposed by non-Christians would obviously not have been accepted,'even after the work of dechristianization carried out on a certain number of units, these units had to be initiated linked to secret work, to secret organization, in order to to be able one day to be presented as the initiators apparent tors. At one time or another he was necessary to come to this. But how to initiate men with a secret organization without them doing part of a secret group? It's impossible.

So we end up with this: Before the Franc-Ma-bullshit, secret societies must have existed in the Christian world; these secret societies were organized by non-Christians who possessed the necessary skills and experience, and they had aims to dechristianize certain Christians.

Once again, this is the key point. Due of the antipathy that the Christian spirit feels for secret society, Freemasonry could not be founded deated that provided that it existed previously, in the middle of the Christian world, secret societies constituted as we have just said. Without these companies, nothing possible.

If, on the contrary, they existed, we can see that certain some Christians, chosen from among those who were fewer could have been attracted to it; that they were there completely dechristianized by similar processes to those we know to be in use today in Masonry; that among them were found subjects likely to acquire the necessary skills saries; that a progressive march has been carried out until the day when, after the constant extension of the propaganda, certain circumstances arose tees which finally allowed the innoculation of society secret to Christianity.

– 296 –

In the absence of this condition, it is impossible to admit that one fine day Freemasonry will have could appear fully armed, fully equipped, in the middle of Christian nations; as impossible as it is to understand how a human being could have the limbs bers of a thirty-year-old man on the day of his birth; or, if we want another comparison, how a brooded.

The day when manifested itself in the Christian environment
a hypocritically constituted secret organization
in an offensive way as was from the start Freemasonry, it took many centuries
before, the egg which contained it would have been laid and incubated.
It is even more than probable that many eggs are found sterilized before this one could hatch.
The laying hen must have certainly recovered tirelessly.
hard at work. That's why she couldn't to be part of the Protestant world that has been out for a century barely from the convulsive childhood through which he had had to pass, and who, coming from the disciplined Church and so opposed to the idea of a secret society, so ignorant even of this idea, had obviously not been able in such a short time first get a taste for the secret society, then the aptitude and consummate experience that reveal the organism and the methods we studied.
The Protestant world had to provide the nest, the environment

– 297 –

in which the egg of the secret society would finally come to hatch.

It was something; However, it was not in-core enough. It was indeed necessary that this Masonic egg came to bloom everywhere, in Catholic countries, as in Protestant countries. For this, we
we will see, a most active and powerful competition
health was necessary.

Study the question of origin as appropriate of Freemasonry, it is therefore to seek what could well have been this centuries-old egg-layer Masonic, and thanks to what competition the said egg could hatch everywhere.

To the question thus posed we answer: the pon-Deuse is the Jewish race; the essential competition,
it was the English competition.

We will say why and explain how.

FOURTH PART

The Jewish origin of Fi»ane-\lasonry.

CHAPTER XIII

How the Jewish colonies spread in the world after the dispersion were brought to form secret societies and how these societies, defensive as they could be at first, became offensive.

THE STARTING POINT.

Since the tragedy of Calvary, the Jewish race has persevered in his hatred of Christ. She persisted in preferring the thief Barabbas to Jesus. This is evident since she kept her religion, which is in opposition fundamental with the Christian religion. She goes even sometimes to the point of denying, or rather to the point of doing deny the reality of the personality of Jesus Christ, this which allows him to remove betrayal from history of Judas.

Whether the Jews deny, contest, distort or not, there is, however, one thing that they are obliged to do recognize, it is the universal expansion of Christianity. This religion which, according to them, would be based on a fable, gave birth to a new civilization, it created a world. This they cannot deny now—ment, since it is against this world that they fight. There domination of the religion of Christ for centuries keys is a fact. This is where we start from.

– 300 –

It is obviously that the more widespread the em—the worst of Christianity, and the more found themselves humiliated in their beliefs and confused in their hopes rancid those who appeared to the world as murderers of the founder of this religion. Hate that the Jews, deniers of the Messiah, manifested from the beginning of this one by putting him to death, obviously did not could only increase as the Christian power. This is consistent with logic human feelings. Especially since the race Jewish, instead of fixating like all the others on a point on the globe, was spread in small groups immersed in the Christian ocean, as if she had wanted living closely attached to what she cursed. She thus followed Christianity step by step in and she thereby lost no opportunity to humiliate militation for his own feelings.

Let us note, from now on, that our reasoning is in no way invalidated by the negation of those who say: "Christ did not exist. His history is an invention. » Because even assuming that the Christian religion was based entirely on a fable, it would be enough if such a fable were accepted as truth so that the Jewish religion would be humiliated.

It is undeniable that such a situation, for a people who do not abandon themselves, who do not abdicate,

– 301 –

– and this is the case of the Jewish people, even after eighteen centuries of dispersion – contains the elements whose meeting is necessary for a relationship to develop hatred as implacable and as persistent as that which is revealed to us by the Masonic creation.

But the reasons we have just mentioned are not not the only ones by which the Jews were brought to hate Christians. Besides these there existed others very, from the first centuries of our era, of nature very different and which were to lead those of they who would have resisted the first. They result-rent of the situation which found itself made to the Jewish race by its dispersion.

It has been almost nineteen centuries since the Jewish people stopped being at home. While everyone else has tooth a territorial homeland, a corner of the world where they are free to live as they please, here soon nineteen hundred years that, spread in small groups among other peoples, he is condemned to this conpainful train where each of us would feel in a strange and inhospitable house.

Not very hospitable, we say; it is that in fact the populations, Christian or not, who were invaded by the Jews, could not, in the majority of cases, look favorably on this intrusion of foreigners. If the dispersed had separated from each other, if they had penetrated in isolation into the environments where they decided to live, if they had tried to blend in and to gradually make us forget their foreign character. gers, the fact of the dispersion would not have had the same consequences. But no, the Jews intended to achieve this impossibility of taking their homeland away of their shoes. They wanted the Jerusalem that had destroyed the Romans remained alive in them, and for this they took care to group themselves everywhere in small towns which constituted veritable foreign body tables in the middle of other groups humans. A mutual distrust could only result from such an abnormal situation. Isn't that what would happen if people we didn't know were coming to settle in our house? Isn't it not yet what happens every day in some villages on whose territory attempts to establish themselves remains a troop of gypsies?

This instinctive distrust was necessarily mixed well-early on the hostility that the opposition of interests generates.

What did the Jewish colonies bring to the countries where were they breaking in? Nothing but their needs. And these needs, they could only satisfy them by destroying ment of the natives. Were the newcomers from less able to provide services and which ones? It's a question. It was another one that we agreed to entitled to receive these services. Without it being necessary to examine things in detail, we understand that he had to establish himself between the invaded and the invaded sisters, however peaceful they might declare themselves here, a control regime analogous, on one hand, to that which exists between certain parasitic insects and animals on whose body it settles. This one defends itself as he can. He scratches where he feels embarrassed, bitten. He feels the legitimate and natural need to expel the intruder. The parasite, on the contrary, does not want to be hunting. He refuses to leave, because what produces the discomfort of his amphitryon gives him life. Rather than leaving, he hides, at the risk of what can follow, behind the obstacles likely to steal it from the claw or tooth by which it is continued. Such was the case, and this because of the laws of nature, the situation that the colonists have Jewish communities among other peoples since the dispersion. And by this, let us say in passing, can be com- take what is ill-founded in the complaints Jewish statements formulated in the name of justice, law, in Jewish mouths, as it would be in the mouth of the flea which would demand from the dog the right to bite him "in the name of fraternity". Is the name of the struggle for life that the flea bites and sucks; and it is in the name of the fight for life that the dog defends. So it is with the Jewish people with regard to others. very, given that he is the parasitic people towards them. Not to mention that this idea of fraternity that he invocation is a Christian idea. Consequently, from when he finds it good, far from hating and understanding beat the ideal from which he borrows it, he should respect this one. By doing the opposite, he destroys himself all the force of his invocation.

From the beginning of its dispersion, the Jewish race became therefore placed outside common law in the middle of peoples, in conditions that are at least embarrassing and irritating for them, both from a moral point of view than from a material point of view.

This is a fact that cannot be denied and that, moreover,

– 304 –

we do not deny, but that we are quite naturally inclined to look absent-mindedly, or even not to watch at all.

In reality, we should never lose it view: because, however insignificant it may seem to us, it must necessarily generate consequences of a incalculable scope.

We can even say that removing it from history as we did it, it is to distort this story in its sources, because it is to turn a blind eye to one of the most serious causes constant and most active in the chain of political and social events. This situation if abnormality of the Jewish race is indeed sufficient, in itself, to explain the state of open or latent hostility which almost never ceased to exist everywhere between this race and all others. If we want to consider that it has continued in its irregularity since so many centuries, and that during such an immense space over time it has necessarily developed and multiplied the fatal consequences that it entailed from the start, we understand that it put the Jewish race in a state of eternal war against all others, and that, by continuation, it carried within itself an uninterrupted series of struggles, violence, revolutions which have indeed had the distant cause where it is. It thus exists in history some facts which, by perpetuating themselves or renewing themselves, created situations and were by even these are eternal generators of consequences. And we pass without seeing them! These consequences lulent; and we do not know how to say: they come from there ; which means that we also do not know how to re-mediate.

– 305 –

The establishment of Jewish colonies in the state of cyst-your among political and social organizations is one of them. Or these organizations had to re-discard the cyst; or else the cyst must have devoured the organisms.

But let's not anticipate.

If the existence of parasitic colonies in the middle of peoples is enough to explain the enmity with which the Jewish race has always been pursued by all the others, including much more did this enmity have reason to exist in Christian countries!

There, the hostility provoked by reasons of interest, overexcited on both sides by reasons of order religious, could not do otherwise than to transform himself sea in mutual hatred.

Violent hatred among those of the Christian populations yours which, resulting from the invasions, carried so long-time in them the passions and furies of the original barbarity. Yet fought by the leaders of the Christianity, by these Popes who have often constituted the defenders of the Jews, dominated in this by the principle of Christian brotherhood, and pity no doubt also by this thought inspired by their faith: that if the Jewish people were reduced to a wandering state, it was by virtue of the condemnation that fell from the lips of the one whose divine example nevertheless commanded all the commiserations.

Hatred infinitely more bitter in Jewish souls where she was not held in check by any golden principle-

– 306 –

by the daily difficulties of the struggle for life company in conditions of inferiority to which had to be supplemented by cunning; where she was exalted by the painful memory of Jerusalem widow of her sons, by the eternal and crucifying spectacle of the eternal triumph of the Crucified. In such conditions, is it not this hatred that de-will be fed almost exclusively everything he could remain alive, active and offensive in ancient Jewish nationalism?

Such was the material and moral situation created between Christian populations and Jews through coexistence of these three facts: the dispersion, the triumph-
phe of Christianity and the constitution of the colonies Jews. It was a natural consequence of this coexistence. This one having happened, this one had to happen too. It was fatal. Or is it that the laws of nature would have ceased to act,

CONSTITUTION OF JEWISH SETTLEMENTS INTO SOCIETIES DEFENSIVE SECRETS.

Consequences, as we have said, had to arise
flow from this situation.

When we examined the conditions in which secret societies are born, we have given as an example that of a group of human beings hands thrown by some chance into a con-trée whose population demonstrates against these new come from hostile intentions, if only because

- 307 -

her of what she considers to be her right of first first occupant. We wrote:

"These people will naturally love born to work together to take measures to defense. Quite naturally too, they will keep good to invite their adversaries to witness their deliberations berations. On the contrary, they will apply as much that they will be able to hide the result from them. They will thus constitute with regard to these a company secret. Secret society in an embryonic state, without doubt ; but a secret society all the same, which develops will develop and modify more or less depending on whether will demand it the necessity which gave birth to it: that of common defense, of the fight for life; according to

or less ability of the interested parties. »

Now, the situation that we indicated and that the good meaning indicates with us as being that where will be born most naturally in the world a secret society defensive, it is precisely that where they found themselves, from the beginning of the dispersion, the Jewish colonies in among all Christian peoples. The laws of nature acting everywhere, they had to act for the Jews as for all the others. Whether we consider or does not consider the fact of dispersion as imposed by a divine will, since this fact has existed, natural laws have not lost their empire for that. Believers and unbelievers must fall I agree on that; these because they do not admit precisely tries that natural laws, without moreover know where they come from; these because the condamnation which they consider to weigh on the destiny of the Jewish people did not in any way imply exemption from general laws. Since they do not see nothing specified in this regard, Catholics must consider that the fact of the dispersion was, as all others, governed by these general laws which are moreover in their eyes divine laws. And, moreover, let them think about it: this is precisely the circumstance wonder on which their faith is founded to rely, for this is the fact eminently worthy of reflection: that Jewish destiny completely realizes the given of the condemnation in which they believe and that this during the unfolding of this destiny, so strange whatever it is, does not deviate in any way from the general laws... Explain this to anyone who can.

- 308 -

As a result of the coexistence of the three facts: dispersion, triumph of Christianity and establishment of Jews in colonies among the others peoples, the members of the said colonies are located are therefore brought by the very laws of nature to consult secretly with a view to security measures they had to take, other-said: to form secret societies to defend sives.

This is an observation which cannot be denied or the merits, nor the importance from the point of view of possibility of the existence of secret societies constituting killed by non-Christians in the Christian world;

we recognized it was necessary so that, later, the Freemasonry could be founded.

– 309 –

This observation is moreover rather forward
age of the Jews.

Fight by hiding your attack, that is to say, in short, attack from behind, supposes a property which is not natural to man, from which he has shame, and to which he cannot descend, when he resolves, that because any other means of legitimate defense is impossible for him. At least that is how he is generally in those who have not deformed the action of secret societies. The cowardice of which we let's talk was obviously with the founders of Freemasonry, since they gave the men-dreams and deceit as the basis for their association. We who denounce the Jews as being these daters, we do not hesitate to consider that these could not obey such condemned perfidy nable when they formed their first companies secrets within the Christian world. It is necessary sity of the defense which they then obeyed, necessity resulting from their desire to remain themselves, while they settled among other peoples. Unfortunately, as we have said, which cache is almost necessarily led to trickery. Gold the ruse quickly becomes the lie, and the lie deceit comes even faster..., especially when the need for defense is not the only feeling which allows us to obey the excitements of hatred to which every day brings new reasons to increase.

It is therefore naturally, we would almost say invincibly, that the Jewish colonies, consequently

– 310 –

quence of the coexistence of the facts of which we have spoken, were led to form themselves into separate companies Cretes among Christian peoples. The members of These companies consulted among themselves according to the needs of defense and they prayed together, conforming to mant to traditional rites. Pure secret societies defensively, it is understood; embryos of society secret areas. But is it not the law of life that that these embryos existed, was it not through natural walk and almost invincible even though they must have been the seeds of these other societies se- more treacherous ridges whose existence appeared to us as essential to the progressive initiation of certain some Christian individualities, before it could be question of a secret society composed of Christians?

Did the Jews bring in these kinds of training tions of very special abilities? The fact is without great importance, because in the absence of skills, they had before them the centuries which would owe them allow them to be acquired. They could therefore understand to start by wandering, to make mistakes, to go about things wrong and to go about it resume until experience had given them what they would not have received from nature.

However, it should be noted that they came of this Orient, cradle of religious secret societies which is constantly spoken to by Freemasons. They had secret societies in operation among them. cice in the time of Christ.

They therefore possessed, at least, in the absence of attitudes, trends, and in the absence of com-

- 311 -

complete, at least a beginning of experience nothing. It didn't matter, we repeat, since, as the Christian world did not suspect nothing, they had time to acquire experimental science rhyme to replace the intuitive genius which would have could have missed them.

Finally, they also possessed a positive ideal including mun, another condition which we have indicated as essential to the development of secret societies. This ideal was the maintenance of their race, that of the religion that she carried throughout the world and the reality ation of the destinies of which she maintained in them the in- destroyable hope.

No conditions were therefore lacking for could develop in the Jewish race this genius of so- secret society which would take root on Christian soil yours without being noticed by unsuspecting believers tifs.

Purely defensive and purely part of the future Freemasonry and this point of departure was, we have just noted, a con-natural sequence of the situation of the Jews after their dispersion.

TRANSFORMATION OF JEWISH SECRET SOCIETIES DEFENSIVES IN OFFENSIVE SECRET SOCIETIES.

Due to the passionate attachment of the popula-Christian tions to their religion, contempt in the
what they held the unrepentant murderers of Gol-

- 312 -

gotha, and also due to the small number of these compared to those, what could the Jews against Christianity? Nothing, if they acted openly. They would have been massacred at the first act of recognized hostility. From then on he is in the loof things that their secret societies, for defense
sive as they might have been originally, became smells fatally offensive.

Indeed, the more Jewish consciousness and hatred
had to suffer, the more they realized
their helplessness, and the more they had reasons
to get stuck in and want to give oneself at all costs tisfaction. It is therefore in the logical order of things that after a certain period of the transitional state that we have just exposed, the Jews had the desire to see annihilated the religion which supplanted, which annihilated theirs by humiliating it, and that they have dreamed of a revenge which would be the condemnation and the ruin of Christianity] execrated. It is also ly in the logic of things that, forming
this double dream, they have always worked towards it realize and that, each time a collision, that a tear was happening somewhere in the world Christian, they helped with all their power to his enlargement. We can say that if they had not worked valiant in the development of all heresies everywhere
where they occurred, they should have logicallyment, consider oneself as having failed in the defense of their crushed religion and the tables of their broken law seated.

Under penalty of abdication of their traditions and their secret hopes, a moment came when the Jews were obliged not only to defend themselves, but to attack the Christians in whose midst they lived. Not to do so would have been to accept the degradation foundation of their Jewish ideal. But this acceptance, we can be sure that they never consented to it, since after eighteen centuries of dispersion, we let us see them remaining Jews, that is to say continuing to stubbornly deny the Christian ideal. There's the proof by the fact which does not involve any objection.

- 313 -

So, on the one hand, they were obliged to attack; and on the other hand, they could not do it openly: here is the circumstance of essential importance, by the-what explains everything that followed.

They were obliged to attack, we say, and we have just indicated the reason of a religious order which was pushing.

She wasn't the only one.

Any false situation actually generates misfortune. will have consequences. Now the situation of the Jewish race was obviously false, for the sole reason that instead of settle in a place in the world where she would have been at home she, this race spread among the others and pretended, however, to remain independent of them and for- sea thus a State in each of the States. She was thereby condemned to remain the parasitic race of all the others, as we have shown. The necessity of the struggle for life imposed itself on her, and her misfortune meant that, precisely because she was the parasitic race, it could not engage in this struggle

– 314 –

only in odious conditions: by trickery, by lies and fraud. It was fatal, because of this that she was disarmed following the isolation of her colonies among other peoples; due to this that she was condemned to seek her subsistence on these. It resulted from this that the Jews could not manage for a long time to found stable businesses, and that they endeavored to render to those in the midst of- that they lived on services of a particular nature related, those for which we were obliged to resort to them: exchange and trading services, from which they paid by reserving a commission. It was there precarious. And thus, they developed within themselves, generation to generation, the aptitude for brokerage that we see in their descendants and who was condemned by the Christian spirit.

Naturally again, because of their aversion against Christianity, they had to observe the defaults and vices of those in the middle and at the expense of what they lived. Excellent source of earnings for them and which also suited admirably to their situation. Is it not natural that we hide our defects and vices, and as a result, we turn to find a way to satisfy them, to those who are themselves forced to hide? As a consequence, the Jews who were in a state vis-à-vis the Christians inferiority on all other grounds, were found there in a state of superiority. They could impose their conditions to those whose passions became objects operating for them. The employment of their first gains was therefore perfectly indicated in the usury loan. This has remained the character of the race.

– 315 –

They thus created or developed in themselves the aptitude study to take advantage of the weaknesses and vices of those they were dealing with. We find this aptitude not only in most individuals belonging to the Jewish race, but also in the institution Masonic tion who is remarkably adept at play on the faults of one's opponents, in particular of their vanity.

But let us notice, the cultivation of such an aptitude and the habit gradually acquired of observing the weaknesses and the vices of others to take advantage of them, these are things of a nature to constitute by themselves a state of war increasingly characterized within the societies; they are even – the expression is not an exaggeration – acts of war, treachery maneuvers and quite basely offensive, since they tend to increase the corruption of those to whom they serve erect. Let us add that they must inevitably implace a demeaning mark on those who engage in it vrent. How, in such conditions, the race Jewish which had already deserved to be called the "race of vipers", had she not become the most hypocritical, the most perfidious, the most treacherous of all races, such as the one who

So let's not forget it anymore, because as we see—rons, these are certainly the initial circumstances
tials which dominate the entire Masonic question:
there were for the members of the Jewish colonies necessary

– 316 –

site to feed on the inhabitants of the countries in the
which they settled; and, alongside this situation material already so full of consequences, there was at the same time inconsolable pain caused by the memory of the destroyed Jerusalem, through the spectacle of the Church Triumphant; therefore hatred without constantly increased against those among whom they lived, increasingly stubborn desire to keep the ideal that they condemned, desire for degradation and humiliation for the opposite ideal, that is to say for the religion of Christ; and this desire was all the more nagging that it had to be kept hidden. From then on there was also this inevitable consequence, given the character that we see in the Jewish race: condemned tion to the sneaky, treacherous, invisible struggle, to the incessant effort of dissimulation, lies and hypocrisy
sie...

Mystery of the destiny of this race! It was the ba-ser of Judas who, after being placed on the face of Jesus, had to be tirelessly given by all Jewish generations to Christian nations! It was the face and soul of this people marked with an eternal and indelible grin of betrayal! Yes really, strange mystery, humanly inexplicable and which appears today as a sort of underpinning material aspect of the entire Christian mystery!

This is how, from the defensive measures they had started by being, the Jewish secret societies became offensive. But in such conditions, we see, that Christianity is constantly attacked from a invisibly, he must always have the air, when he

– 317 –

defended himself from being the provocateur. And, if abnormal whatever such a situation was in itself, it was an inevitable consequence of the course of things,
following the coexistence of the three initial facts: the dispersion, the triumph of Christianity and the will Christians.

CHAPTER XIV

There is a Jewish nation that is governed secretly like Freemasonry.

THE JEWISH NATION,

If the Jews had spread out one by one in the middle other peoples, instead of grouping by colonies, two or three generations would have been enough to that there no longer existed a Jewish race. It's about existence and to the maintenance of these colonies which did not allow themselves not penetrate by foreign elements that is due this astonishing phenomenon, unique in the universe, of a very numerous race having no territorial homeland torial nowhere and preserved intact after eighteen centuries of dispersion.

But is there only one Jewish race and religion?
Is there not also a Jewish nation?

Race, religion, nation, these are three terms which every different things take precedence, and over which the Jews strive to throw as much confusion as possible, when it comes to applying them to them.

When asked if there is a race, a religion or a Jewish nation, they respond with the affirmative or negative depending on the case; or they dodge the answer. This last way of to get out of difficulty is still much that which they prefer.

The truth is that there is not just one religion

– 319 –

and a Jewish race, but that in addition men ap- belonging to this race and this religion constitute a nation. Only the leaders of this nation want absolutely hide it, due to the immense interest that they have there. Do they not know that other nations will not defend themselves against theirs, if they ignore it? and because they know that we cannot defend ourselves against what we don't know.

can by trying to falsify the definitions.

The words here, however, have sufficient clarity.

We indeed see men of the same religion who are neither of the same race nor of the same nationality. This is how there are Catholics of an Anglo-Saxon and others of German race. There are some also who are part of the French nation and others of the Italian nation.

On the other hand, we see men of the same race who are not of the same religion or who do not belong to the same nation. Example: the Germans Catholics and Protestant Germans; the Prussian and Austrian Germans.

And finally we see men of the same nationality who are neither of the same religion, nor of the same breed. Example: Catholic Austrians and Protestant Austrians; German Austrians and Austrian Slavs.

Confusion is therefore not possible between the three terms.

The religious community created among men the union of consciences. The breed community has

– 320 –

as a consequence the ability to feel and react in a similar way, like the similarity of composition and chemical formation of certain bodies makes them behave in the same way in the presence of certain others. The community of nationality ends up giving human groups a certain community of interests and goals at the same time as a particular ideal which is as an extension of the family spirit and that we call patriotism or nationalism.

We only have to look at the facts to see that this community of interests and this nationalism exists throughout among all members of the Jewish race. The case Dreyfus about which the whole world has been stirred, provided a most conclusive example.

The costs of this affair were colossal. We had the confessions of certain journalists who recognized could not have been purchased. On the other hand, we could in the street the thousands of numbers of certain days-which were given to them free of charge to be distributed, even with extra money. These days-nals only existed during the affair; therefore-However, they were created especially for her. All those who are at all in the profession know what it is could have cost. Add to this the costs of the peaches manufactured and transmitted by large agents

these to impress public opinion by way of daynals; the subsidies that had to be paid so that they agree to mouth the same trumpet pette, abroad even more than in France; THE consciences that had to be bought in the political world

- 321 -

tick; the useful appointments that had to be obtained: in the judiciary; and we will realize the resources these which the fund had to dispose of which faced so many expenses. Certain testimonies have proven that this fund was international and Jewish. The Jews showed us all the power of their nationality nalism. Jls- have never stopped giving evidence throughout history.

We therefore find among them this community
of interests which is noticeable in all natural groups nationals. We find it even greater in the Jewish group than in any of the others. And that's all na-turel. For while in other nations the members bres that unite the community of interests are often separated from the point of view of feeling and consciousness ciency, due to diversity of race and religion, on the contrary, the union is complete in the Jewish nation
from three points of view: consciousness, feeling, integrity
rêt. A Jew is a Jew in all of these ways, on which that point of the globe he inhabits. We don't notice it not enough ; this is why it is useful to repeat it
after those who have already observed it.

But, it is objected, other peoples have a territorial sorting; Jews don't have any. It is therefore very improperly that you speak of the nation
Jewish

We could respond that we are wrong about this-
sus. Jews have a territorial homeland; this is the pla-terrestrial net. This one is larger than the other another one, it's true. But is there a me-beyond which there is no longer a possible homeland

siblc. Switzerland is a small country. There Russia is an infinitely bigger one. Can't he Are there even bigger ones than Russia? East- which nowadays an Englishman cannot find in him in India as well as in Cape Town? If necessary he would not defend this part or that part- there from his domain with the same determination as he would defend the metropolis itself. The Jew took action accustomed to this idea whose root is also religious in him: that his homeland, after having been Judea, has become the world. So he calls himself a Jew everywhere. However, he enjoys a certain number of nationalities that he has managed to be attributed for a century, because of the advantages he found there. But he is impossible that he considers these borrowed nationalities as joining - to strengthen it - to its great birth nationality, the only one that counts in his eyes, the one he has maintained despite all obstacles and through centuries: Jewish nationality.

THERE IS A JEWISH NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

It would also be necessary to examine whether the community nality of idealism and interests that we call patriotism or nationalism indeed results from cohesion bitation on parts of the earth neighboring each other others.

It is sometimes like this; but sometimes also it is otherwise.

Take two human beings who live a few kilometers apart, one on this side of a border.

- 323 -

the other beyond. They are neighbors, and yet you do not see them attached to one another or by common nature of general interests, nor by that of idealism patriotic.

On the contrary, this double community will exist between two beings who can live very far from each other on the other, provided that it is within what we call the same homeland.

What then is the particularity to which it con-

what we have just pointed out?

The cause of these differences is that the beings whose we are talking about are, on one side, connected by a government commonly, while, on the other hand, this government does not exist.

A government that imposes itself by force on peoples of diverse origins do not always succeed to make them a nation in the true sense of the word. But we can say that there is no ideal community patriotic where there is no community of government.

Isn't that quite understandable! Nothing lasts than what is organized. The religious feeling itself does not even remain precise and persist across generations only if there is an organization tending to make it last. This is again one of those general laws, rules to which God has subjected our world and to which no one is permitted to escape. THE Catholicism lives and lasts through the organization of the Church; and this is precisely why his adversaries insist are so much against this organization.

– 324 –

Well ! precisely, are we not going to lack object to us: if there is only a nation where there is government, the Jewish race which is not governed born, cannot be considered a nation,

We answer: Are you sure that the Jewish race not be governed?

For thirty years France has been subject to a government: that of Freemasonry; And you didn't suspect it. We had to we learned it. And again did you start by re-rush to face the facts. From this evidence you didn't have the slightest suspicion, even though France is your homeland. A government was able exist at home, on the land bequeathed to you by your ancestors ; he was able to cause there for more than a century the disorders, revolutions, cataclysms that we we showed in our previous work; And You did not know it ! This government had you escaped; you were his subject, and you didn't know it! Do you believe that after this you are qualified to say: I do not see a Jewish government; so he Governments can exist without them being way ; this is the truth that we have demonstrated by exposing in the Occult Power against France

the secret body of Freemasonry. Conclude that there is no Jewish national government because we do not see this government is therefore an absurdity!

Jewish national government may be occult like that of Freemasonry. Those who de-

- 325 -

keep the Masonic government hiding this government because they have an interest in it; those who hold the Jewish government can make even.

Instead of declaring a priori that there is no Jewish national government, it is therefore necessary to find out if this government exists or not: that alone is logical.

Now, by looking at things in a positive way,
that is to say, by basing our examination on facts,
we must conclude that the government exists
Jewish nationality, by this alone that the Jewish race has conserved his cult, his religious and national ideal as well that the community of interests between his sons, despite eighteen centuries of dispersion.

If we reasoned about this properly,
we would say to ourselves: There is a community of ideals
triotic and community of interests among the men only where there is organization, that is to say gou-government; the community of ideal and the community
nity of interests exists among the Jews; so a gold national organization, that is to say a government
Jewish also exists.

Instead, we looked at the effect, but like children. We admitted that this effect could have happened on its own. We do not have knew how to trace its cause. We left ourselves fooled by an appearance. We were accustomed to see government only where there was a territorial homeland. The Jews seemed to us no longer have had since the dispersion, and we concluded that there should therefore no longer exist a people

Jewish; no more Jewish national family whose members were linked by the community of soul, of feeling and interests; therefore no more Jewish government neither. It seemed logical: no homeland, no people; no people, no government. But since after eighteen centuries, we see that we were wrong on the first point and that despite of the absence of a territorial homeland, as we understand it tends in general, it remained a Jewish people, we are I forced, to be positive, to return the second part of the reasoning and to say: since there exists a Jewish people with a community of ideals and a community of interests, there is also a government Jewish ment by the action of which this double commun- nauty was maintained.

The argument we used to prove the existence of a guiding will behind Freemasonry is much more applicable to the Jewish people, because their nationalism is well more active than Masonic solidarity. Freemasonry has no homeland either be that the world; she declares herself a universe saddle, and it nevertheless has a government, of a special nature, it is true, since it is occult; but it's a government all the same.

Although the Jewish race claims to be aristocracy of the world, it does not therefore escape the general laws nerals. Since there are no groups anywhere humans who can keep the ideal community and the community of interests if their elements are not maintained by an organization, by a government is lying ; since always and everywhere it is this which en- gender that; and since the Jewish race, after eighteen centuries of dispersion, still manifests the unity of religious consciousness, unity of feelings and unity of interests at the same time; since she has a Jewish soul and not a French, German or Belgian soul, in despite the nationalities acquired by her here and there, it is evident that a Jewish nation exists, with an or- ganization, a constitution, a national government national. So that it would be different, once again, the Jews would have to have been placed outside natural laws, above them. But it is imposbut those who wander are subject to the laws of nature like any other.

THE JEWISH NATIONAL GOVERNMENT IS AN OCCULT GOVERNMENT LIKE THIS OF FREEMASONRY. i

Therefore the Jewish race is constituted as a nation.
She has a government. Can't we see this one?
This simply proves to us that it is occult,
like that of Freemasonry.

There is, moreover, no reason to surprise us.
neer of this. It is the opposite that we should be surprised if this opposite existed; and this, by reason very simple as follows: the conditions of existence of the Jewish people, have been, since the dispersion, absolute-special conditions; therefore the government of this people must have been special, too. And what could this gou-

- 328 -

government? Logically and due to the conditions of existence, it could only be the government
secret. This is truly positive reasoning.

Eternally invading people, but in conditions such that nowhere is he at home, because that everywhere its colonies are drowned in the masses within which they settle; therefore,
people eternally in the situation of the nations around vahies who refuse to be absorbed; therefore-what people are still eternally conspiratorial because that he is weak; deliberating secretly; intriguing secretly; forced to organize his whole life in one way
secret lesson; practicing this for centuries;
making secrecy second nature; and so obliged by force of circumstances or not to administer neither govern themselves, or to administer and govern themselves
ner secretly. It's strictly logical.

We have shown how the Jewish colonies
had been led to form separate companies cretes. This initial fact alone would be enough to cause create a secret government. N / A-have we not noticed that the consequence of the function formation of a secret society, it was a certainty tain distortion of characters? The fish that live wind in the dark depths, we are told, are were not. This modification of individuals was the consequence of the conditions of their existence. So it is with those who make a habit of living grouped into a secret society. If we could note such large deformations caused in the ca-

- 329 -

French characters by the sole Masonic action whereas, however, Freemasons are not subject him regime of secrecy only with regard to their lives Masonic, what must not have been these distortions? tions for the representatives of a people who were constrained by the particular circumstances of his existence, to hide almost all manifestations tions of his life?

Besides, do we suppose orders or simple instructions addressed in a visible manner to organized organizations such as Jewish colonies in secret societies? These companies would have been revealed thereby.

We are here in the presence of facts which superimpose poses and which follow one another.

On the one hand, the secret organization of the colonies Jews is a fatal consequence of coexistence of the three facts that we have pointed out: the dispersion, the triumph of the Christian religion and the will of Jews to remain Jews.

On the other hand, the integrity and unity of the Jewish ideal as well as the community of interests could not be maintained by the sole action of mid-colonies nuggets drowned in the waves of the Christian oceans and isolated from each other. For such a result has been obtained, the action of a management center national, intellectual, religious and social, other said, a national government was necessary sary.

And finally, because the colonies which were located thus attached to each other were constituted killed in secret societies, this national government must have been secret himself. This led to this.

- 330 -

We will add that if the Jewish colonies had constituted in secret societies, it is because they had been obliged by the fear that they would destroy their organization. The danger was much greater for their national organization. Populations Christians would not have supported the idea. As to governments they would have quite naturally been inclined to consider such an organization as dangerous for them.

Jews may object that they have not contributed to the birth of such a government. But their ignorance in this regard, assuming that it is real in the greatest number of them, does not prove absolute—lies nothing. Forty million French people were governed and still are by thirty thousand of them united in a secret society. They suffered this government lies and they obeyed him without knowing it. Much better ! Among the thirty thousand, many ignored long since the association of which they were part constituted the government of France. And for—so much so, the association in question is apparent. She is only secret as to its organization, its origin and its purpose. And yet also this goal is contributing to the ideal of our race. If, in such circumstances—tances, which singularly increased the difficulties of the cults, we were still able to govern ourselves without that we realize it, if we were able to lead to our decline and our ruin as we drive unconscious animals to the slaughterhouse, including

— 331 —

Could a Jewish secret society not govern the mass of the nation without being noticed to receive, while it does not thwart the aspirations of the governed, that on the contrary it serves them, that it provides them with the satisfaction of their needs for revenge and that it leads them to triumphant destinies?

The Jewish race imagines that it only obeys its instincts confused with her religion, and that is why she does not notice the direction given to him. This is how Freemasons, too, believe they obey only themselves, because the impulse they undergo is in the sense of the ideas that we have put into them.

Besides, one of two things: either the Jews

are not part of the secret society which serves as his base, or they are part of it. In the first case they speak of what they do not know, Jews as they are. In the second, they are obviously prohibited from divulge nothing. In such a matter, as we demonstrated it in our previous work, the affirmation or negation of the interested parties is without value. Reasoning based on observation of Facts alone should count.

Now reasoning has shown us that establishing-ment of a secret government can only be explained by necessity, but that it always corresponds exactly to this necessity, if the members of the collectives skills to organize have the desired skills or if, even though they do not present them, they have the time and the will to acquire them. Since the necessity speaks, which in other circumstances is-extraordinary trait, becomes natural.

- 332 -

National groups other than the people Jewish having all settled on a point on the globe where they were at home, they had no need to hide.

So they governed themselves in broad daylight. And even should it be noted that they obeyed the general rule-general which wants us to resort to secrecy when we needs it: for example, with regard to the gou-ernment of their foreign policy. For what?

Because this department whose purpose is to rela-tions with foreigners, nations do not feel not completely at home. On the other hand, each time a people saw themselves invaded by a conqueror, he was obliged, if he did not want to submit or let himself-ser absorb, to have recourse to the secret organization means of defense, he who, however, administers himself comes to light in ordinary circumstances.

He sought to hide his thoughts, his hopes, his preparations. He was conspiring, whatever was his natural loyalty. This was seen almost everywhere, and particularly in chivalrous Poland.

But what is a conspiracy carried out in such conditions otherwise, as we have said.

a secret society that lasts as long as it lasts necessary for the invader to be thrown out of the native soil national, that is to say so that the defeated people can rebuild themselves found in the normal situation of a people: among him and master in this home?

Which was only accidental and abnormal for the other peoples having been the constant situation for the Jewish people for eighteen centuries that this people stopped being at home, he left quite naturally followed that he was constantly obliged to see recourse to the government which everywhere and in all time has corresponded to this situation. And this is how – however strange it seems to us at first at first glance, for lack of reflection, – while the secret government was not for other peoples that accidental and temporary necessity, it was for the Jewish people permanent necessity.

– 333 –

Or govern yourself secretly, or see the ideal perish of race; such was the alternative to which this little ple has found himself cornered without interruption for ten-eight centuries. He did not let the ideal of the race perish. Of this we are absolutely sure. So he got governed secretly.

Napoleon I[^]'' was well aware that the little The Jew had a very particular organization. At during the meetings of the Council of State which preceded those of the great Sanhedrin to which he decided, he uttered his words: "I point out again calf that we do not complain about Protestants, nor about Catholics, as we complain about the Jews. It's that the evil that the Jews do does not come from individuals, but of the very constitution of the people. »

The constitution of the Jewish race as a nation: this is the truth that we have done everything to hide from us.

We succeeded, because this truth remained little almost unnoticed until now. And yet it contains immense historical consequences.

– 334 –

There is no doubt, in fact, that the government of a people so extraordinarily attached to their traditions and which, therefore, is quite natural-willing to fight for them; who, living everywhere, possesses means of action everywhere; who, having seized in all countries of this great element of corruption: money, is obliged by its situation to who knows how to do it, even if it is only because that he was forced to get used to the actions sneaky lies; who, moreover, considers himself having a mission: that of serving as a guide to humanity; there is no doubt, we say, that the government of such a people must have a colossal power and that its action in the course world events, although she has almost never been reported before Drumont wrote the Jewish France, must have been considerable, especially during the last centuries. We do not fear to say that the observation of such a fact entails the revision of the entire story. This story has been distorted right down to its sources. We were made take as effect what was cause; for this reason which was effect. We were assigned responsibilities to whom they did not belong... And the rest to the amendment.

We know that, as of now, certain authors see things the same way we do. They realize that in their assessments contemporary events, Toussenel, Gougenot des Mousseaux and finally Drumont had the vision exact things. They understand that it is in the path opened by these precursors who must undertake manage those who want to work not only for the salvation of France, but also for the freedom of humanity. Their works, impatiently awaited, will come to shed greater light on this if obscure, but such an important question.

– 335 –

CHAPTER XV

Traces of the Jewish National Government from the dispersion until the 11th century.

THE GREAT SANHEDRIN.

Many readers will wonder how the race Jewish community can be run by a government without that there has remained no trace of it since the dispersion.

We would be the first to be surprised, if

That the invisibility of the government of the Jewish people is complete now, after centuries of effort strong people contributed to producing such a result, this is understood. The study we have made of gold Masonic organization in the occult Power against France has taught us that a secret government is possible in our time. But it is thanks to a science acquired by experience.

However, the Jewish people did not have this experience not at the time of dispersion. He had found himself just- than then under ordinary conditions; He had had a visible government like all the others ples. It is only at a time when new necessities sities imposed themselves on him, at a time when his destiny was suddenly came so strange, so unique, that it was constraint, since he wanted to keep his national ideal-lai, to first imagine and then realize a the government elm adapted to its extraordinary situation.

- 337 -

We are sure that he was able to find the organization tion and form of government which suited this situation, since the Jewish ideal is still alive after eighteen centuries of dispersion.

But before finding it, it was obviously necessary let him look for her. From visible government to government absolutely invisible change, there was necessarily transitional degrees. It is at least during this period of research, groping and experimentation adaptation that we are lucky to meet the traces of the government of the dispersed nation. And in fact these traces exist; but very few are those who cared to look at them. There is, apparently he, like an instruction, given we don't know by whom, in the name of which we make it our duty to ignore everything that concerns the Jews since eighteen hundred years.

We must first imagine the government Jewish government at the time of the fall of Jerusalem; for even this is generally unknown.

This government was exercised by what we call under the name of the Great Sanhedrin.

Abbot Joseph Lémann, converted Israelite, writes in his beautiful work: Napoleon I^^ and the Israelites:

"There was nothing greater in the ancient republic of the Hebrews as the Sanhedrin. He for- but the Supreme Council of the Nation. It appears for the first time after returning from captivity in Babylon, around the Maccabean era; its date is between the year 170 and the year 106 BC. Verify Sovereign assembled table^ the Sanhedrin had, in the last days of Jewish nationality, replaced the monarchy: also its authority was considerable, all at the same time doctrinal, judicial, administrative.

22

– 338 –

"He interpreted the law. He judged major causes. He exercised an exact influence on business administration. monitoring. As for its composition, it was seventy-one members, including the presidents. The seventy-one represented the three classes of the nation: the priests, the scribes or doctors and interpreters of the law; the elders, taken from among the leaders of tribe and family. »

For his part, Father Chabauty writes in a curious study entitled: The Jews our masters:

"Whatever its true origin and date real from its first beginnings, the Sanhedrin or Great Council, existed among the Jews before their dispersion and sat in Jerusalem.

"This assembly, political, religious and judicial ciary at the same time, was responsible for all im- carrying the nation. She recruited herself and chose its own members. »

Note in passing that this method of recruitment is that of each of the Masonic Secret Societies superimposed ques.

"His authority was immense. The high priest, who was part of it by right, was ordinarily leader. It was in front of her that they were last brings out all the serious causes judged first proceeding in lower courts. The Sanhedrin could impose the death penalty.

“The Sanhedrin consisted of seventy-one members, namely: of a president, in Hebrew nasi or nâci^ chief, prince, and seventy assessors. »

These were divided into three distinct classes:

“1° The Princes of Priests: “Principles Sacerdotum”. This general name included not only the high priest in office and his predecessors still living, but also the leaders of the twenty-four priestly families.

“2° The Scribes: “Scribae populi”, or doctors of the law. They formed a large corporation and powerful, whose ministry consisted above all of interpret the Mosaic law. Under the theocratic regime of the Jews, religion and politics were found closely united; also the Scribes were very both jurists and theologians. They almost all belonged to the Pharisaic sect, and enjoyed great credit with the people. This was only the most illustrious of them, such as the Nicodemus, the Gamaliel, who entered the Sanhedrin.

“3° The Elders of the People: “Seniores populi”, that is to say the notables who were taken among the heads of the main families. They constituted the purely secular part of the Grand Council of the nation.

“Jewish coins of the first two centuries BC and the first century AD testify to the great authority of the Sanhedrin and of its usual leader, the High Priest.

“Since John Hyrcanus, son and successor of Simon Maccabeus (135-106) BC, the mon-Jewish families had this legend on their faces, surrounded by crown of olive trees: John the high priest and the Council of Jews.

“It was the same under Judas Aristobulus, his son (106-105). They wear, with the crown of olives

... "The coins of the last of the Hasmonean princes, Antigone (40-37), wear on the face, in Greek: the King Antigone, and on the reverse, in Hebrew: Mathatias the high priest and the great council of the Jews... (Antigone in Greek and Mathatias in Hebrew, not doing only one character).

"Since the Christian era, we have found several coins that we bring back to the time of the first revolt of the Jews against the Romans (66-67), and which have these legends: Elèazar the high priest; Simon Nasi Israel, Simon prince of Israel. »

The last apparent assembly of the Sanhedrin had taken place before the ruin of Jerusalem, sois Titus. Since then only one word: the dispersion has covered the history of the Jewish people; and it was like an im-lie funeral sheet. We imagined that, driven from their land, this people thereby ceased to exist as a people, that is to say as a human group hand connected by the unity of ideal and the unity of interests. And this is why we did not worry about knowing what what became of the Supreme Council of the Nation. Wasn't it is not natural that it should disappear like this nation herself? We now know too well that under what was taken for its shroud, the Jewish people were not was by no means dead, and that he was not even sleeping, as Lazarus had done in his shroud. The Sanhé-drin could have disappeared when the Jewish nation was scattered; but since this nation is not dead, this Sanhedrin, in one way or another, lived; or, in its place, something into which it has been transformed shape.

– 341 –

THE PATRIARCHS OF JUDEA.

In the book we have just discussed: The Jews our masters! published in 1882, Father Chabauty tried to find some of the traces left by the government of the Jewish people since the dispersion.

He writes :

"At the ruin of Jerusalem by Titus (70), com-began the first and great dispersion of the Jews

after the defeat of Barchochebas (135). From At this time, the Jews were definitively expelled. of Jerusalem and Palestine, and the entire nation whole dispersed.

"Those who, under Titus, escaped the sword, flames and captivity, took refuge in various countries of Europe and Asia.

"Some headed to the countries located to the south and west of Judea, in different parts of the Roman Empire, notably in Egypt, Italy and as far as Spain. These Jews were called Jews of the West. Their immediate leader resided in Palestine, most often in one or the other of the two cities of Japhne and Tiberias. He had the name of Patriarch of Judea.

– 342 –

"Historians thus recount the establishment of these Jewish patriarchs. Despite the triumph of the Romans and the terrible vengeance they exercised, he there were a number of Levites and simple Jews who could not bring themselves to imitate the example of their brothers and to leave their homeland. Hidden during In the early days following the war, they resumed confidence and reappeared as soon as they were assured of have nothing more to fear. They tried to reassure appear in Judea as much of the remains of their nation, and to maintain the exercise of their religion there. Authority naturally concentrated in the hands of these Levites, and more especially of one of them who was chosen as leader, and to whom was conferred the name of Patriarch. His authority increased as as the number and resources of Jews established in Palestine. To this group is attached soon, spiritually and politically, all Jews emigrated to Egypt, Italy, Spain and in other parts of the Roman Empire. THE patriarchs exercised a very great authority over them tority. They decided cases of conscience and important actions of the nation; they led the synagogues, as senior leaders; they establish-know taxes; they had officers called "apostles", who carried their orders to the Jews of the most remote provinces, and which collected the tributes. Their wealth became immense. These patriarchs acted in an ostensible or cached, according to the provisions of the Roman emperors towards the Jews. In 429, Theodosius the Younger informed them prohibited from establishing and collecting taxes. From then, there is no longer any question of them in the story. »

These last sentences which summarize the indications provided by historians on the beginnings of a part of Jewish history since the dispersion, we explain at the same time how this government of the Patriarchs, at first more or less visible "according to the provisions of the Roman emperors towards the Jews", was obliged to transform himself little by little into a completely occult government, under penalty of ceasing to exist. Alone, we know, necessity can give birth to organizations secret. We see how things must have turned out pass, as far as the Jewish people are concerned, just in considering the consequences of the ban made by Theodosius to the Patriarchs of Judea see taxes. Indeed, no money, no taste payment possible. So that was the end of the government. ment of the Patriarchs if they obeyed the interdiction to establish and collect taxes. As they were incapable of open resistance, they did not could continue to govern only on the condition of to hide.

Or become occult, or cease to exist: it's always days under the influence of a similar necessity as the governments become secret.

– 344 –

THE PRINCES OF CAPTIVITY.

Father Chabauty continues as follows:

"These Patriarchs of Judea all came down of the tribe of Levi. Their succession lasted approximately 350 years old. However, as we will see, they do not actually read in Israel, during all this time, that a secondary power, reporting to an authority higher and more sovereign.

"The other portion of the Jewish people, which came out of the Palestine after the ruin of Jerusalem, went to countries located to the north and east of their homeland, in and Persia. According to the Rabbis, it was the elite of the nation, in large part, and most families descendant of David who took this direction and settled mainly in Babylon and in the provinces neighbors. Historians of Georgia and Armenia confirm these assertions of rabbinic writings, by re-knowing that the Israelite element dominated in the Georgia from the first centuries following the dispersion of Israel, and that the royal family of Bagratides or Paganatides, in Armenia, gloried in descended from the kings of Judah and carried in his arms David's harp.

"These Jews, as opposed to those who had emigrated to the west of Jerusalem, were called Eastern Jews. Their leaders, from the royal family of David, took the title of Princes of the Captivity or Exile. Jewish writers place great emphasis on difference between the Patriarchs of Judea and the Princes of Exile. The first, they assert, were not as the lieutenants of the seconds. The Princes of Captivity had the quality and absolute authority of supreme leaders of all the dispersion of Israel. From a-Following the tradition of doctors, they would have been instilled to take the place of the ancient kings, and they have the right to exercise their empire over the Jews of all country of the world. For many centuries, their The usual custom was Babylon. They exercised their sovereign action over the Jews of the West by the intermediary of the Patriarchs of Judea, and on the Eastern Jews directly by themselves and from a public manner, from the 3rd to the 11th century, thanks to benevolence of the various dynasties to which the Babylonia was successively subjugated.

– 345 –

"The first among the Princes of the Captivity of whom the story speaks was Hilkiah (2nd century). It was contemporary of Judah the Holy, patriarch of Judee, who highly recognized her own inferiority and the sovereign authority of the prince over him.

"The Rabbis, who report these facts to us, must know better than anyone the history intime of their nation.

"To cite just one rabbinical writing, but who enjoys the highest authority among the Jews, expressly the existence and sovereign power of Princes of Captivity. Interpreter in the treaty Sanhedrin, folio 5 recto, the famous text of the phetia of Jacob (Genesis 49, 10): "The scepter does not will not be necessary in Judah: they are, he says, the Echmalotar-ques, Princes of the Captivity^ in Babylon, who hold- the scepter of Israel. » (See On Harmony Between the Church and the Synagogue^ by the knight Drach (an- converted rabbi), volume 1% page 174, Paris, 1844.)

- 346 -

"I reject," adds Father Chabauty in a note, " the scriptural interpretation of the Talmud, which is false, but his testimony on the existence and authority of Princes of the Captivity retains all its value. THE rabbinical writers who wrote the ba- Talmud Bylonian lived on the premises and under the power of the Princes of Captivity. More than all others, they were able to know who the authority was, and above all the secret authority of these princes of nature Jewish tion. (Echmalotarch is a Greek term, said Drach, which means Prince of Captivity.)"

The author of The Jews Our Masters indulges in con- following considerations on the nature of the power exercised by the Princes of Exile or Captivity.

"When the scepter went out of Judah under Herod Ridumean, he writes, the power of the Great Council was significantly reduced. From the external point of view laughing and governmental, she had only a weak action ; it became almost zero, when Judea was reduced to a Roman province, and the impediments ers had taken away from the Sanhedrin the right to condemn ner to death, about forty years before the ruin of Jerusalem.

"But there is no doubt that even then, in this externally diminished situation, the Sanhe- drin and its ordinary president, the high priest,

- 347 -

had on all the Jews, in religious terms, political and national, a moral influence and a occult authority of the most considerable, and that the ditine, whether outside, was absolutely between their hands. We have proof of this, among many others. very, in the general revolt of the Jews against the Romans, before their first dispersion. Entrepreneurs taken of this kind, and on such a scale, cannot wind take place without there being a self-help center rity, whether visible or secret, universally recognized known and obeyed, who combines and organizes things, and which gives rise to the movement. This center until the ruin of the Temple, was the Sanhedrin of Jerusalem.

"This great Council disappeared in the first dispersion.

"But the authors of the Talmud and the Arab writers later hinists assure us that the Grand Con- The foundation of the nation was reconstituted in Babylonia. We have told according to them how the elite of Jewish people, in large part, and most of the fa- A thousand descendants of the King-Prophet had taken refuge in this country in the year 70, following the victory of Titus. Among these exiles were found the remains of the Sanhedrin. Extraordinarily attached to their traditions and customs, the Jews take pressed to re-establish the central authority of their nation. At its head was placed one of the descendants of David, taken from among the doctors of the law, who received, with the title of Prince of Exile or Captivity, the quality and power as supreme leader of the whole dis-destruction of Israel. Next to him the Great reformed Council, of which he was by right president; and now- but the princes of the nation, depositaries of the sovereignty rain power, were always chosen, between the doctors of the law, members of the new Sanhedrin.

- 348 -

"There is nothing improbable in the fact that, from 70 to 135, the general revolts of the Jews against the Romans, outside Judea, under Trajan, in Judea, under Hadrian were inspired and ordered by the Princes of Exile.

"Be that as it may, and although, for a certain tain time, around the patriarchs of Judea, self-secondary rity, have grouped together famous schools or academies, from which came the doctors Emoraïm who wrote the first parts of the Talmud, he is certain that, from the 4th century, according to the testimony of or almost no more doctors of the law in Palestine, and that, in the sixth century, the supreme religious power and politics of the nation had its sole seat in Babylonia.

"To establish the authority and spiritual mission of their doctors, the Talmudist writers and rabbis trace them back to Moses by a chain traditional uninterrupted, whose rings are communicated to one another the oral law that the leader of Israel received from God, they said, along with the written law[^] on Mount Sinai...

"It is therefore, as also affirmed, according to the Rabbis, the learned Drach, among these doctors of the law, that of the dispersion in the 11th century, were successful carefully chosen the sovereign leaders of the nation Jewish. And it's on this big traditional channel doctors, of whom they weld more or less well the rings, which were supported and are still supported Talmudist Jews to claim that Israel has always days possessed true teachers of the law, and that he has not ceased to have at its head a true spiritual power legitimate, truly of divine origin, and to which he is obliged to obey as to God himself.

– 349 –

"It is indisputable that, from the external point of view—laughing and official, the princes of captivity and their Sanhedrin had only very weak authority, under the domination of the caliphs of Babylon. Their situation hardly differed from that of the Sanhedrin of Jerusalem under the Romans. But their moral authority and their occult action on the dispersed nation equaled at least that of the former Grand Council.

"The reason is that this political power and nun of the Princes of the Captivity and their •assessors was affirmed and consecrated by the Talmud even. By translating and interpreting the prophecy tie of Jacob: the scepter shall not be taken from Judah, nor the prince of his seed, until he comes which is to be sent, the Talmud says: The scepter does not will not fail in Judah: they are the Princes of Capti- life who hold the scepter of Israel; and the legislator in his posterity: it is the descendants of Hillel who teach religion to the multitude. (Hillel, one of former doctors of the law, from the maternal side of rode the Elder.)

– 350 –

“This text clearly proves that, for the tors of the Talmud, or Ghemara of Babylon, the principal those from captivity were the legitimate continuators
and holders of concentrated sovereign power formerly in the tribe of Judah. By the expressions:
“the legislator in his posterity; these are the descents dants of Hillel, etc.,” these doctors Emoraim bother themselves and their other colleagues. They say to each other comes from David and Judah, like Hillel from whom they “are the descendants and successors in the spiritual mission to teach » religion to the multitude attitude”. Therefore, according to their assertion, there was in the 6th century, in Babylon, near the Princes of the Captivity, true doctors of the law, as in the past in Jerusalem, with the high priest.
For them, therefore, nothing had changed in power political and religious of the nation: that of Jerusalem
lem was perpetuated in that of Babylon.

“These affirmations of the Talmud, which were continued
newly taught and commented on by the Rabbins in the following centuries, in every city and in each country, as Maimonides affirms, formed the conscience of the Jews, who believed themselves obliged to obey with the deepest respect and with perfect accuracy and submission to the ordres and decisions of this supreme authority, and to consult it in all circumstances satisfying and difficult. » tv-i

As we can see, there are indeed
traces of the government to which the Jewish nation obeys
in the centuries following the dispersion. These proofs

– 351 –

ves result from the edict of Theodosius the Younger in 429, affirmations contained in the Talmud which was precisely composed in Babylon in the early centuries CE, and rabbinic writings post-laughing.

It is impossible to deny the authority of these writings
while their veracity on this point is attested partly by the material fact that constitutes the edict of tres, while their assertions are contrary to Jewish interest, especially since we see them so consistent with the conclusions to which he reasons—abstractly brought us to this point.

The Jewish government existed after the dispersal sion, and the traces that we find of it are well as we should have supposed them: they show us a transitional government between the government visible and the government conceals. The Patriarchs of Jerusalem were more or less hiding "according to the provisions of the Emperors with regard to Jews", and the Princes of Exile did the same, since the Talmudic writers experienced the need to establish the legitimacy of their power as well than that of the doctors who assisted them in the exercise seat of the supreme judiciary.

Our fathers and the writers of previous generations teeth, deceived by those interested, were able to neglect this question, as moreover they neglected everything which had to do with the Jews. These benefited for too long of the state of mind that they had the pre-clairvoyance to create, state of mind which consists of suspecting treat a priori as a fanatic anyone who speaks of Jews other than to sing their praises or at least to pity them. Because of this if—lence so regrettable, we can be surprised at simple recounting of the facts. But let us be surprised or not, these facts speak; and they tell us that if the Jewish nation was dispersed, it was nonetheless been governed in a more or less visible manner, at least until the 11th century.

— 352 —

I

CHAPTER XVI

From the 11th century to the present

the event of the year 1005
the secret constitution of the Jewish government was necessarily the consequence.

"In the 11th century," writes Father Ghabauty, "according to strength and audacity of the Princes of the Captivity, declared the enemies of the Jews, They closed their numerous and flourishing academies, dispersed their teachers, and put to death their prince Ezechias (1005). This persecution forced the Eastern Jews to abandon almost all the countries they had lived in peace for a long time. Some took refuge in Arabia, others, on a larger scale number, withdrew towards the West, and until France and Spain. From the eleventh century, history no longer speaks of the Jewish Princes of Captivity quickly.

"The famous traveling rabbi. Benjamin of Tudela, claims to have one, still reigning in Babylon, of his time, in the twelfth century. But his witness-ship is unique; no other contemporary author doesn't talk about it; it is not even certainly de-

– 354 –

shown that this Rabbi personally made the journeys he recounts. »

Is this silence of history equivalent to a disappearance real of the Princes of Exile, and since the 11th century, did the Jews no longer have central power or sovereign leaders?

We believed it because for too long we only took into account external history. But we understood, as the author writes, that we want let's quote:

"That for more than a century, the upheavals religious, political and social, in both worlds of, depended, most often, on occult causes. yours, which alone makes them truly explainable and understandable. This can no longer be denied: beneath the apparent history, there was, and there is core an underground story.

"From then on, since the life and action of societies secrets and Jewish Masonry in particular, were possible and continued below the external and official society, for more than hundred years, we can legitimately infer that, in previous centuries, the Jewish nation had already almost entirely a secret society by the zealots, before its dispersion, may well have con-

this dispersion. »

Not only do we absolutely share the very judicious way of seeing of M.' Father Chabauty on this point; we add that he was born from it definitely as he says. And this, for the reason that we have developed. The Jews were unable to towards their national ideal only on condition of having been governed varnished, in one way or another. This way has stopped to be visible from the 11th century; so she was invisible since that time. So simple as it is reasoning, it is he who contains the key to the question Masonic tion.

I

ODO

Moreover, do we imagine a dispersed nation, whose the members knew, despite their dispersion, to remain rer for several centuries religiously linked, intellectually, politically and socially around a government, and who would renounce themselves abruptly at this link? It is impossible. After nine centuries of dispersion in many places these conditions, it is obvious that the idea of homeland had necessarily taken on a significance in the Jewish mind. special tion. This idea is generally linked to all of us to that of the earth where we live, because that because of our intellectual weakness, it is the visible which prevails in us over the invisible. We let's not think enough that the homeland would not exist not if the organization and the government did not exist by whose action this homeland was created and developed little by little, by the action of which it can be destroyed too, we have proof of this by this which is currently happening in France. But the Jews were obliged to think of things differently- is lying. Their earthly homeland no longer existing except state of memory, all the tenderness they could having for this memory led them to keep themselves tight- ment united around the leaders who represented their eyes raucienie homeland, the old cult and the

- 356 -

that there was his soul, because also there was what he there remained not only alive, but also visible.

It would therefore be absolutely contrary to logic to admit that the facts which happened in Babylon at the beginning of the 11th century could have destroyed the need that the wandering nation had to be governed vernée, since she wanted to survive. Failing that other deeper causes, this need would have resulted, from the 11th century, of the habit adopted to rely on the decisions of those we had until then been considered the legal leaders times.

On the other hand, it is absolutely consistent with logic to admit that after the facts of which he has just been question, modifications were made in the mode of government; and it is more consistent with it still to represent these modifications as having been such as necessities and customs now established in these Jewish colonies of the Western world whose members had become accustomed empowered to deliberate, to act, to administer themselves, to govern themselves verner secretly.

Let us not forget, in fact, these secret societies whose we were obliged to turn away for a moment our attention, born from the necessities to which the colonies Jews had to face every day. There was then centuries that they had been constituted, centuries that, defensive as they may have been in the

– 357 –

at first, they had become offensive by force things as we have shown, and all the more more ardent in the fight against Christianity than this one had definitively conquered the Western world-dental. The mere fact of the persistence of these companies tells us that those who composed them had acquired the skills and habits that one can assume; skills and habits such as thinking of a visible government must have become to them completely foreign. We pointed out that if the government of the Jewish nation was exercised ostensibly in other parts of the world, Jewish colonies widespread within Christianity were under the necessity of concealing their relationships with him. It was therefore in hiding that they solicited center of inspiration which linked together the said colonies was already in fact, an occult government at a time when the catastrophe of the year 1005 was still coming •once disrupt the conditions of existence of the Jewish nation.

All the more reason why, when this revolution happens, the Jewish government is not destroyed. But what will become of him? And first of all, where is he going carry? Is it east of Babylon? Obviously— lie no. Too many colonies found fixed in Western countries. These colonies are engaged in the fight against the Christian who, in place of the Roman violator, became the enemy of the Jewish race for economic reasons mic that we have said and the enemy of worship by the religious reasons that we know. It is therefore towards the West that the national government must carry. This is where the interests are now principals of the wandering people; this is where the Jewish ideal wants us to fight for him. But he is from the last clear evidence that the Jewish government cannot establish themselves in the West only if they adapt to the necessities external areas to which the administration corresponds secret operation of the colonies, as well as to the interior qualities that result from skills and habits of those who compose them. He will have to— come a secret government.

— 358 —

It is from this moment that, logically, the Jewish nation had to be led to organize itself entire and definitively in a secret society, if it was already more or less due to the conditions of its existence.

The idea of the secret government of the Jewish people is therefore anything other than a simple reverie. She is based on the most rational considerations. It responds to the very particular situation of this little ple and the necessities which, subsequently, imposed themselves to him. It is in accordance with natural laws that such a government had to be constituted little by little among the Jews; and it is only by a contradiction tion to these same laws that one day or another he will not was not established. Once again, that or death: there you go what at a certain hour necessity imposed on the Jewish nation. Death not having occurred, it is what was possible for him, the only one that left him

. – 359 –

the circumstances, the only one to which one could think serve the members of the colonies which had become, by force things, secret societies within the Christian world here.

But once this hour has struck and transformed it definitive vision having been accomplished, we understand that we no longer have much chance of meeting the traces of such a government; no more than us we couldn't find those of the occupied government Masonic worship. We just know that could not have not existed. We are obliged or to admit it, or to prefer illogical conceptions as to logical conceptions,

TWO DOCUMENTS FROM THE 15TH CENTURY.

The author we have just followed for a moment, Father Chabauty, however, introduced in his curious study: The Jews, our masters two documents that we would reproach ourselves for passing over lence when it is a question that the interests ressed have purposely made it so obscure.

These are two letters dated from the 15th century which, after having been published in the 16th and 17th centuries, were brought to light by Armana proiivenç in 1880, and by the Review of Jewish Studies, of the same year (founded in 1880, under the patronage of Baron James of Rothschild).

■ The publication of the 17th century was made in a French language, by Abbot Bonis, priest of Arles. Her work bears this title:

– 360 –

The Royal Crown of the Kings of Arles, dedicated to MM. the consuls and governors of the City, by J. Bouis, /?'■ in Avignon (1640).

Let us first recall the facts which motivated these letters.

We know that the Jews were expelled from a great 15th century, notably from France, Germany, from Spain and Provence. This last country, where they were rich and numerous, returned to France in 1487. Charles VIII soon published an edict by which he enjoined the Provençal Jews to become Christians, well, or leave the country. The Rabbi of Arles writes lives on this subject to his brothers in Constantinople, on January 13 vier 1489, to ask them what conduct there had reason to hold at this extremity. He received re-laid on November 21 of the same year.

Here is the content of the letter from the Rabbi of Arles and of that which was addressed to him with part of the reflections which Bouis framed. We reproduce let's take it all from the work of Father Cha-bauty. This author has modified, for convenience reader, the old spelling of Bouis.

"Extract from the Royal Crown, etc.

"The consuls of Arles hearing the complaints that
"all the inhabitants fought against the perfidious
"Jews who dwelt in the city, because of usury
"that they committed... Also in Arles, the people
"was so moved that we had a lot of pain
"to prevent all Jews from being thrown into the "Rhône, of what King Cliarles warned, and desiring

– 361 –

"to always better capture the hearts of the inhabitants
"from Arles, expelled by his edict this accursed race of "the town and its land, the year 1493.

"Two years earlier, the Jews saw themselves as great
"denied hated in France and that King Louis
"had driven them out of his kingdom before it was
"count of Provence, and that they were threatened with
"same exile," wrote a letter to the Jews of Cons"tantinople asking them for advice on what they "had to do. The copy of this letter has been faithfully
"printed on an old copy from the archives
"of one of the most famous abbeys of Provence, the-
"which I found fitting to insert in this dis('. course, because of curiosity. "

"Letter from the Jews of Arles sent to the Jews of "Constantinople:

"Honorable Jews, salvation and grace. You must know-

"being from the country of Provence, obliged us to
"the cry to become Christians or to leave one's territory this tory. And those of Arles, Aix and Marseille want to "slow take our property, threaten our lives, ruin
"are our synagogues and talk to us a lot
"of trouble; which makes us uncertain of what "we must do for the law of Moses. This is for-
"what we ask you to wisely wish us
"to ask what we should do. (Ghamor, Rabbi
"of the Jews of Arles, the 13th of Sabath, 1489.)

"Those of Constantinople responded early; but "it was not in the Hebrew or Provençal language,
"but in Spanish, because this language was widely understood

- 362 -

"at this time, given that King René and his predecessors
"were counts of Barcelona, neighbors of the Espa-
"gnols; which found following the other, I
"inserted into its natural language:

"Response of the Jews of Constantinople to those from Arles and Provence:

"Beloved brothers in Moses, we have received
"your letter in which you acquaint us
"Be the anxieties and misfortunes you endure.
"We have been imbued with such a great
"only yourselves.

"The opinion of the great satraps and rabbis is as follows:
"before:

"As you say that the King of France
"obligates you to become Christians, do it, since you "cannot do otherwise, but that the law of Moses
"is kept in your heart.

(c From what you say that we command you to de-
"spoil your possessions: make your children merchants,
"so that, little by little, they strip Christians of
" their.

"To what you say that there are attempts on your lives:
"make your children doctors and apothecaries so that
"let them take the lives of Christians.

"As you say that they are destroying your synagogues
"Fords, make your children canons and clerics, so that

"From what you say that we are doing you a lot of other
"very vexations: make sure that your children are
"lawyers and notaries, and that they always meddle in "areas of States, so that, by putting Christians

I

– 363 –

"under your yoke^ you dominated the world, and you
"may you take revenge on them."

"Do not deviate from this order that we
"let's give, because you will see by experience that,
"from being abased as you are, you will reach the summit (power.

"VSSVFF, prince of the Jews of Constanti"nople, 21 de Casleu, 1489."

In Bonis' work, the first of these letters tres is written in Provençal, the second in the es- language pagnole. We have seen the reason given for the use of the latter the author of the Royal Crown. The Review of Jewish studies wrote on this subject:

"The explanation that Bonis tries to give the use of Spanish is not very accurate. The letter from Constantinople is written in simple Spanish –
because Spanish is the native language of the Jews of Constantinople, like the letter of Jews of Arles was written in Provençal because the Provençal was the mother tongue of the Jews of Provence. The Spanish of the 15th and 16th centuries is still today the common language of Jews on the bedeastern toral of the Mediterranean. »

Father Chabauty gives yet another reason.
It is, he says, that the letter from Constantinople, letter circular from the great leaders of the nation, was intended also born to the Jewish communities of Spain.

It should indeed be noted here that these two letters had been already printed, in 1583, in Paris, by a gentleman Navarrese man, named Julien de Medrano, in a Spanish work entitled: La Silva curiosa.

This author preceded the first letter with a note of which here is the translation:

"The following letter was found by the guard from the Salamanca library in the archives of Toledo, searching for the antiquities of the kingdom from Spain. » Which would suggest that the Jews of Spain, under the influence of a similar necessity to that which weighed on the Jews of Provence, had also addressed to the Satraps and Rabbis of Constantinople.

Father Chabauty engaged in a very tight on the authenticity of these letters which, like well we think so, was contested by those concerned. They cannot deny their existence, but they attribute them drunk to some Christian forgers of the time. We saw during the Dreyfus affair, the false committed by the defense, the false Panizzardi, for example ple. Forgery is the natural weapon of the secret society since it is nothing other than a lie, and that the secret society has as its basis and its natural weapon The lie. The author of Juijs nos maîtres^ shows how does the forgery thesis with regard to both documents above, is untenable. He adds :

"In our century, this old correspondence Jewish, despite the multiple Spanish manuscripts, would have attracted little attention, except perhaps from a few rare scholars, if Europe, and one must say the whole world, was at this moment in the presence of a Jewish question of the highest order gravity. From there these pieces take on a singular relevance link and take on an unexpected importance.

– 365 –

<(It is no longer to laugh that the Christians of 19th century must endeavor to read and examine these old texts. The mind remains confused by seeing by everything that is happening today, may the warnings such clear visions of the Jewish prince of the 15th century are found reahsed to the letter, and precisely by means of advice and orders that he gave, and that by both had to be followed and executed. cut by the nation with an indomitable and frightening perseverance.

"This obvious, indisputable success brings weight of the brutal fact. Because it is impossible to admit that chance served inventions so perfectly slight or hateful actions of a forger from three or four hundred years. »

Why did the Jews of Provence and the Jews of Es-loincloth they wrote to those of Constantinople to ask them for advice in such a serious circumstance? They could have addressed other Rabbis who were more within their reach.

On the other hand, why those of Constantinople they answer them: "The opinion of the great satraps and Rabbis is next? "Why do they end with this formula: "Do not deviate from this order that we give you. »

It is only those who have authority who give orders. In this case those who appear to have self-ry, since they give orders, call themselves same great satraps. This expression is not suitable would she not look well on princes who lived in the Ba-

– 366 –

Bylonia for centuries, as did the Prin- these from Captivity? From then on, is thought born not quite naturally that the Princes of Capti- life which disappeared after the murder of Hezekiah in 1005 not having therefore ceased to exist, by the reasons that we have exposed, could be transported ter directly to Constantinople, or settle there after having passed elsewhere, exercising here and there their power, but also and above all by hiding.

It is this conviction that Father Cha-Bauty after the very in-depth study he made of the question.

"Since their dispersion," he writes, "the Jews have perpetually formed, among other peoples of the earth, a true and distinct nation, having its supreme leader and its secondary magistrates.

((This power was organized in such a way as to function- openly or secretly, depending on the circumstances. tances. After the ruin of Jerusalem and up to our days, Jews most often lived and were run like a huge secret society.

this kind of occult government. Because the sect of zealous or zealous^ which was so numerous in Judea, and which penetrated all the ranks of the nation, was not that a vast political association^ carefully dissimulated under a religious appearance. Pretending a ardent zeal for the law of Moses, its aim was true to unite all Jews in a general effort against the Romans. And in fact, from the year 60 to the year 70, she organized and supported resistance and revolt against them. »

– 367

SOME TESTIMONIALS.

POSITION OF THE QUESTION FROM A RATIONAL POINT OF VIEW.

THE REAL EVIDENCE.

The author of The Jews, Our Masters cites some testimonies which confirm his thesis of the existence of a secret Jewish government.

One is by Kubler, a German writer, "one of the coryphées of the school of philosophical publicists" who wrote in 1815:

"The Jews form a political-religious sect, placed under the rigorous theocratic despotism Rabbis. Not only are they closely united and conspired among themselves, from the point of view of certain some religious dogmas, but they constitute a so-completely closed hereditary society... The Jews form throughout the earth, according to their own words, a special nation, having institutions, ideas and political and religious practices which penetrate so deeply and in so many ways in life social that the Israelite subjects of a Christian state constitute, in many essential respects, a State within the State. »

"In 1868," writes Father Chabauty, "thirty members of the Legislative Chamber of the Romanian States having at their head the very president of this assembly wheat, presented to their government a draft law denying civil and political equality to very many established in Romania. These Jews are all pure Talmudists, true Jews of the Middle Ages.

"We take in the explanatory memorandum of this bill the following assertions:

"The Romanian populations are seeing themselves flooded of a race apart, hostile, which formed, alongside the Romanian nation, a foreign and opposed nationality to the interests of the latter... The Jews, forced by necessity, submit themselves externally to the authority of Non-Jewish states, but they can never consent shooting to become an integral part of it. They can not erase from their minds the idea of the Jewish state, an idea that we see, on every occasion, coming out strong and alive in all their actions... They are not only a religious sect, they are mostly the expression of certain indelible particularities of race and certain invincible beliefs of nationality. This is why the Jew of Spain, of England-land, of France and Poland, is neither Polish, neither French, nor English, nor Spanish, he always remains Jewish, like his ancestors from biblical times... At Jews religious law is also civil law, and vice versa versa... It is at the same time a constitution political and social which follows the individual in all his actions and in all periods of his life... and who is concentrated in the word Judaism... Judaism, wherever it is, is forced to form a State within the State. »

"In support of these two testimonies, another publicist, Mr. Hermann Kuhn, comes to see, sixty-five years after Kubler, in the year 1881, that the political and social position of the Jews in Al-Germany is entirely the same.

- 369 -

"The position of the Jews," he tells us, "is very advanced. tagger. Alongside the civil rights common to all citizens, they retained their old franchises, their rights of corporation and autonomy... Each Jewish community administers itself, raises its taxes, appoints its officials and rabbis, directs its schools without intervention from the civil authority. THE numerous and rich Jewish associations enjoy of immunity, of absolute inviolability... The Jews truly form a state within a state. »

Father Chabauty also cites certain facts which prove the international action of an occult force which we see the Jews obeying in certain circumstances of the converted Rabbi Drach and the assassination of Father Thomas and his servant by the Jews of Damascus.

We can now add to the list of these the most conclusive facts of all: the Dreyfus affair, where the power of a Jewish organization that it is impossible to perceive as an organization, yet manifested so widely in France that we have been able to see the highest judiciary of our country, the Court of Cassation, rule in favor of the Jew who had been twice condemned as a traitor, a sentence of rehabilitation in which a text of law if not falsified, at least fraudulently interpreted.

So, in fact, that the text of article 445 of the Code of criminal investigation is this:

"If the annulment of the judgment with regard to a <DEMED ALIVE there is nothing left that could

– 370 –

be classified as a crime or misdemeanor no referral will be made stated y> ; the magistrates based their rehabilitation on a text which would be conceived as follows:

"If the annulment of the judgment leaves nothing to remain WHO CAN BE CHARGED BY THE CONDEMNED crime or misdemeanors no referral will be made. »

We are discussing the scope of this alteration. We we don't have to enter into the discussion. But we have to observe from the point of view of our thesis:

1° That the highest French magistrates have introduced a non-existent text into a judgment, which has perhaps never seen each other at any time, nor in no country.

2<^ That this falsification, very little important in point of view of the words deleted on the one hand and added on the other, had this immense consequence that it allowed Dreyfus to be removed from his natural judges. rels and not to send him back to a third threshold of war, the feeling of which we obviously feared tence, since the judges of the Court of Cassation, who must know about it, have not backed away from a similar process to avoid it.

that an organized power foresees, regulates, understands binge and act. But this power has always operated invisibly during the Dreyfus affair. She is therefore well accustomed to secret action. It's the head of the secret Jewish organization; which one is she even, we will soon see, that the summit
the secret Masonic organization.

– 371 –

What interest, we will be asked, could have these Jewish secret leaders have what a rehabilitation, even made up, was obtained? This one: that history could record the treason of a Jewish officer. That would have made it too difficult to achieve the last part of the Jewish plan which we will present later.
With the end of rehabilitation, even as it is (which so in twenty years will have the idea that a falsification could have been carried out by a Court of Cassation?) those who in the future will venture to speak of an officer Jewish traitor to France, will be opposed purely and simply the authority of res judicata; likewise that those who today are tempted to reason
on the two documents exhumed by Father Chabauty are opposed to the opinion that the said documents
could have been the work of a fanatical enemy
poor Jews of the 15th century.

For us, we will not retain the said documents
only to see that there are traces to\ government-secret development of the Jewish nation.

When it is declared extraordinary that such a government existing government, it is not found anywhere
no vestige, we are wrong twice: first,
because the absence of these vestiges would be all that there is something more natural; and then because in fact the remains exist. There are even more than vestiges regarding the periods of transition between the ancient visible government of the Jewish people and its current occult government. The government of Patriarchs of Judea and that of the Princes of Captivity is certain. After that, we

– 372 –

encounters more than traces, it's true; but still do they exist.

We saw Father Chabauty shoot very correctly—
ment argument regarding the authenticity of the two Jewish letters from the 15th century, from the realization forecasts contained therein. If these let-very had not been published since the xii*^ century, we can-
would allege that the prophecy has not been so well only trusted because it was made after the fact. But he is not so. Both letters were published in the 16th and then in the 17th century. This the Jews cannot deny it, and they recognize it. The alleged forger which they suppose, would have, according to them, committed his fake in the 15th century. From then on, as the abbot writes Chabauty, "the mind remains confused by seeing,
everything that happens today, that the forecast
so clear of the Jewish prince of the 15th century, find themselves reacread to the letter, and precisely by means of advice and orders he gave... This success, obvious, incontestable, provides certainty of the authenticity of these letters all the weight of the brutal fact tal. Because it is impossible to admit that chance has so perfectly served light or hated inventions
of a forger from three or four hundred years ago
years. »

The concordance is perfect, in fact, and it not only finds between the predictions made and the achievements currently accomplished, but also between certain terms of the letters and the circumstances previous years of the unknown history of the Jews since the

— 373 —

dispersion, for example between the term Satrap and the stay of the Princes of Exile in Babylonia. These mul-Could these concordances be the effect of ha-sard? Which is the most logical, in such a subject, and while there is so much interest in hiding everything from us, the-
what makes the most sense to give them this explanation?
of chance that is suggested to us, but which does not explain
nothing, or to attribute to them the value they derive of their relationship with the general data of the pro-pale?

These are not, moreover, these documents nor the facts that we have collected above, all more or less cleverly obscured by those concerned, than we consider as the true proofs of the existence tenancy of a secret government, that is to say of a Jewish occult power.

^We see these real proofs in the witnesses Talmudic tations, and even more in the fact of maintenance of Jewish nationality, while the constancies were so contrary to this maintenance, then that at the same time, these circumstances put the Jewish colonies in a state of permanent conspiracy against the peoples among whom they had established and therefore imposed on these colonies
the necessity and habit of secret government.
The question can be summed up in a few words:
So that the current descendants of the ancient na-
Jewish tion have preserved the ideal of this nation it all the generations that preceded them must have been linked together, through time and spaces, by an organization and by a government

- 374 - ~

nationally, as happened for the au-
very human groups in which one meets an ideal of this kind. And this quite simply because that the Jewish race is governed by natural laws as all other races. This government does not belong has not existed, it is true, since the 11th century. But the conditions tions by which the destiny of the people was dominated ple Jewish were such since the dispersion, that he could not could have existed if we had known it. Since it is necessary whether it existed, it was secret. We also have proof of the possibility of such a government by the study that we have made of the organization
cult of Freemasonry.

CHAPTER XVII

The incubation period.

THE TRUE SITUATION OF THE CHRISTIAN WORLD SINCE THE 11TH CENTURY.

If we want to have an overview of the world
Western in the centuries following the 11th, here is what to imagine.

In the chaos following the flood of invasions, collective and political interests have little by little arose. Some have only appeared. The others are maintained; but they inevitably found each other in opposition. So that in the world that has gradually reconstituted, there are only two forces multitude of divergent efforts: one generated by the Christian spirit; the other by the Jewish spirit.

The first, if it conforms to the principles posed by Christ, must be exercised in the moral order. But what obstacles does she encounter! From its first steps, in fact, the Church is dealing with barbarians, that is to say to men who belong almost animalistic. It is among them that she is forced to recruit. We do not think that this necessity alone represents for her formidable difficulties: to educate barbarians, they are barbarians bars that the Church is obliged to use! It's from them that it itself is composed, since it is they who make up European circles! And we blame him the slowness of his progress! This is how we judge things, without realizing their conditions!

– 376 –

These barbarians that she is forced to assimilate, including it must make its own substance, the Church must lead them through the renunciation of moral progress and social. By renunciation, we say: there was no no other way, in fact. Who is barbaric, who is beastly must, in order to progress, “renounce” the barbarie, to bestiality. This is the immense task of the Church. Faced with such a task, who would have made, with their lycopod pipe, our freethinkers Freemasons? It is the silence of “the dawn of time” which answers this question.

At the time we are concerned with, in the 11th century, the Church succeeded in introducing a modern discipline rale in the souls of the fierce beings who remained so long the descendants of the invaders of the world Roman.

Without doubt there were found, and in considerable numbers rable, passionate beings and selfish nature among followers of the doctrine of Christ. What's surprising- nant, above all, if we are willing not to forget the remark that we made earlier on the necessity site where the Church was to recruit itself among the barbarians that she had to perfect! Those of whom we let's talk, weak or powerful, gave their effort in a completely different sense than that of renunciation. The Christian ideal, however, remained no less intact. If the worst deviate, the best They always come back. Always they strive to bring back those over whom they have authority or influence fluency. And it is still like this today, after so many centuries during which the action was carried out corrupter of time. It is that here, against what is happening in the Masonic world where the Pou-occult seeing works invisibly and constantly ensures that the worst benefit, the organization is entirely focused on the development of good. And it is not too much to keep human passions in check.

Maines! So that in short and for those who know how to re-
keep things in their entirety, Christian action
yours remains, in essence, an action which tends to to pull humanity from the bottom to the top, to lead it from animality to superhumanity, from evil to good – for use the expression which, in the thinking of believers, sums it all up – from Satan to God.

In the organization established to carry out a ideal situation, foreign bodies have been introduced,
hooked and fixed everywhere: these are the Jewish colonies.
They too have their ideal; and just as Christianity held has given itself an organization to preserve its own, the Jewish colonies managed to constitute kill theirs and blend into a whole as im-same as that of the Church. Without it we have it seen, they would not have remained united in soul, in conscience science and interests.

But, while the Christian ideal tends that we have just said, it is the point of focus and the object of at-incessant attack on the Jewish ideal. This one, in fact, by following the reasons that we have specified, cannot not not tending to the destruction of the Christian ideal which has as its principle the belief in the divinity of Christ,

while the Jews declare Christ an imposter.

It follows from this that among the two organizations
overall which were constituted within the ag-Western glomerations whose interests are so various, the second has as constant objective the des-construction of the first who does not suspect it; and she continues to use, to achieve this destruction,

ambition, all the violence and all the hypocrisies of passions which can prevent Christians want to be truly Christians.

The Jewish organization tends towards this. It was designed with a view to this, because the triumph of the Jewish ideal is at this price. Since he is defeated, and under the conditions that we know, if he wants to live, if he does not want not be erased forever, it must attack, it he must destroy the victorious ideal which is the negation of his. But as its organization is secret, Christians are unaware that being thus constantly attacked, they should guard themselves. They want to create a world, and they do not know that an army of invisible workers are constantly busy destroying what they build so painfully every day in and around them two.

From then on what a singular struggle between two adversaries sairs whose effort is exerted secularly in conditions so different! One having – that we allows this expression – a vertical direction, while the other has a horizontal direction and does not tends towards nothing other than breaking up or at least to deviate the action of the first! What should result (there? The laws of mechanical science answer us tooth: the direction of the first force will be fatal – if it is diverted, it will deviate; in other words: she does not will be able to deliver everything his principle promised. For it to be otherwise, it would be necessary that a part of herself was constantly employed in directing obstacle to the second to neutralize its effect fet. But the Christian world could not have this the idea, since the eternal Jewish offensive was eternally covered by secrecy. What a war! Or l) rather what a distressing spectacle than that of this Christianity which advances through the centuries drawing if painfully humanity above, and which brings attack ched on his flank the hidden enemy who plows him, whose he feels bites everywhere, but which he cannot see. head nowhere.

– 379 –

And he is accused of having sometimes defended himself 'unter this enemy; for having defended himself poorly, because that he was only defending himself instinctively, because of his ignorance of the organization of his adversary! What spirit of injustice we show in

In reality, the vision that has just been mentioned is 1 she we should constantly have in front of the eyes if we want to realize the true scope of actions and true meaning
'the religious dramas to which history makes us associate sister for fifteen centuries; it is the one, in all

– 380 –

case, which we no longer have to forget if we feel-your virile desire to one day put things back in their normal course. It is also she who should inspire finally bring to the Christian world the creation of an army of defense, composed of soldiers in the superior sense of word, imbued with necessity – were they not able to rement believers – to do their job as soldiers, that is to say, to stand guard around the ideal of which they feel they come from, to ensure their freedom, and for that to put the secret government of the Jewish people in the impossibility of distorting everything, tearing everything up and to destroy everything to build his domination.

THE COMBAT PROCESSES OF SECRET SOCIETIES JEWS.

The Jewish secret societies of the Middle Ages had no
no need for excitement from an information center piracy to act against Christianity. It is enough-knows how to push them there from the hatred nourished by the sounds we said. The central action directs
The Jewish woman had to simply tend, and more and more more as the centuries passed, to coordinate ner and discipline the efforts of this hatred.

What could these secret societies do against Christianity?
held?

To answer this question, we have to examine on the one hand what was for them the mode of action useful action, and on the other hand what are the means by which
in principle has a secret society.

If the Christian religion provoked hatred

– 381 –

Jewish, it was above all through the state of mind that she created and which was based on the belief in the divinity of Christ,

Consequently, what secret societies are against Jews had first to turn their effort, it was this state of mind that they encountered by everything, whatever the governments. Logic-political maneuvers should not come than later. Above all the destruction of the state of Christian spirit. Especially since there was the truth table support from governments. And that's why heresy attempts constantly followed one another from the first centuries of Christianity.

Do we believe that these attempts emanated only Christians? that the Jews remained simple spectators? that they did not help the rebels? that at need they did not inspire and provoke the revolts?

If they had shown such indifference, they would have failed in the ideal of their race and, in this case, this one it would no longer exist. Since he is not dead it is because the Jews did not miss the opportunities to serve him.

How did they act? Obviously depending on what was possible for them.

Open action remained forbidden to them; and it's for this, we have seen, that they had been brought to the organization of their colonies into secret societies. It is to intrigue, to ruse, to corruption that these secret societies had to resort to it. And even they could not act by themselves. They were obliged to hide "under individual influences" carefully covered duels", taking advantage of all the seeds of division, using the circumstances incessantly offered by the revolts of the passions that the Christian ideal fought against and irritated here.

– 382 –

However, their members did not have at their disposal only some of the means which can be used currently Freemasons due to work already accomplished.

The main of these means was the creation of secret societies where they would attract some Christians here: those who would like to let themselves be taken. They were there in their element, while their adversaries them on this ground.

When the inspirations of Freemasonry want to act on certain individuals, they inspire them the desire to enter the boxes; or, if they have reasons for not proceeding in this way, they create in their own attention, through some of their followers, these special groups, "antechambers of the Freemasonry" which we called sub-masonry, in which they have a hand, thanks to the said followers, without those who are suspecting it enlisted.

The Jewish secret societies had this process their disposal.

They could attract into their bosom those of Christians whose unrestrained vices predisposed to revolt against Christian authority and hatred do all discipline. But that must have been repugnant to them more or less and it could be dangerous. It was much more natural than some of their members, chosen for this, authorized if necessary to simulate the conversion to Christianity, constituted subsidiaries having an apparent aim likely to seduce those who are had in mind.

– 383 –

Certainly, these Christians outlawed by their vices Christian were in the desired conditions to be easily transformed into fanatics of a religion which they hated so much plus the discipline they found too heavy. It was only natural that they would attack her instead only to themselves for their moral weakness. Nothing more human. In a certain way, they were therefore ideal for playing under secret societies Jews the role that the profane that it attracts in the companies it founds "without letting his hand be seen". The misfortune was that beings thus misguided could not exercise a visible influence on the Christian mass, of which they were more or less despised because of their indignity. Bad intermediaries therefore, at this point of view, for the propaganda of dechristianization. But the Jewish secret societies did not have the choice. They had to either do nothing or use these mediocre workers and train them little by little to today Masonry in sub-masonry.

This is what the members of the societies could do
.^t'Jewish Cretes and they could only do that, all means other than those of individual corruption

– 384 –

and sneaky being forbidden to them, because of the feelings-
ments that animated the Christian crowds.

But it has existed, we know, in all eras and in all Christian countries, since the first centuries of our era, societies of which we do not know much, except that they were open to some perverted Christians; that were furiously excited there sow the passions of these, that they were demonized
or that they were persuaded that they were demonized,
never separated from the Church and cursed by it;
that they were panicked like this; that they were dechristianized totally.

These societies seem to have had the aim of witchcraft
lerie, occultism, magic, Satanism; later
spiritism... Now we know the great part that spirit plays Talmud to witchcraft. We also know the innomgood stories of demons that are told in this sacred book of the Jews. Basically it was Kabbalah which was at the basis of the demoralizing practices of which were fed the bad Christians who frequented these associations. So many reasons why they should not could only have Jews as founders.

The Jewish secret societies could not not to fight Christianity since they had not been created only for that, and they had no other ways to combat it. On the other hand, such creations were nothing to them, whereas they would have been impossible for Christians: we have said why;
we meet them everywhere, as everywhere we met Jewish colonies, and everywhere they present the same my kabbalist and anti-Christian characters which are

– 385 –

the characteristic Jewish signs... It's really more enough to conclude that these associations
had no founders other than the Jews.

law of their nature by not creating these subsidiaries, even if they had not obeyed it either by not not perusing in their own bosom selections by which must have been made up of superpositions of secret societies analogous to our superpositions of Masonic secret societies to achieve a summit: the occult government of the Dispersion of Israel. It is in this way in fact that the occult breeds the occult; and it cannot be trement. The facts are there to prove it to us time and in our Masonic world.

But let us note it carefully: this government occupies cult of the Jewish nation, by the mere fact of the existence branches in which some Christians were introduced, began to have action not only ly on Jewish subjects, but also on the Christian world. This was the starting point of his future domination. Also the occult Power of- will he constantly apply himself to developing this germ, to strengthen these roots of the future masonic.

We have seen that it is recommended for franc-masons to enter all existing associations aunts, even in those that were created by their opponents. We must convince ourselves that the same method was used at the time we are dealing with let's cup. Members of Jewish secret societies obviously sought to exert a dissolute action boasts in military Christian groups, corruptable and other, through these deserts Christians of whom they had made Judaizers unconscious. This is obviously how, for example ple, the Jewish element managed to corrupt the order of Knights of the Temple.

- 386 -

But there as elsewhere, he found an obstacle key to the intangible faith of the Christian mass. His successes sites of this kind, of which we encounter more than one trace, were never more than partial and temporary. The F-very Jewish therefore remained relatively unproductive. Despite all his attempts, he only altered the surface of the Christian bloc.

After these kabbalist societies in which we could only ever introduce the worst of Christians, which uncorrupted Christians would enter would be corrupted there, who would be transformed into Christians lukewarm at first, then into fanatical anti-Christians. That was really the difficult part; but that was the goal Jewish secret societies logically had to en- face after having gone through the stage of societies where Only a few deviant Christians were admitted.

This should also make this easier. Indeed, for to achieve such a creation, it was essential that the Jews should not appear. They would have made them flee the good Christians who had to be attracted. And for- so much so, it was no less essential that they had the government, the intellectual direction of these so- cities. Without that, what use would they have had?

– 387 –

This is precisely what was meant to be made possible half-Jewish, half-Christian societies.

Thanks to them the Jews had in fact the interme- diaries they needed: it was the Christians who were affiliated with it. All you had to do was prepare to this role those of them who presented the most skills, to suggest them slowly in this view by persuading them that it was for themselves that they would work. They were, it is true, we we noticed it, without much credit with their coreligionists. But couldn't we draw up some of them to hypocrisy as one does now for those Freemasons who are gifted from this point of view?

Ultimately, the real difficulty was not there. It was in the choice of the apparent goal that we will give to the secret society thus dreamed of, and more still in the impossibility that we encountered to have the idea of a secret society accepted, whatever whatever it was, by the Christian world.

The choice of goal, we say; and indeed what an ideal propose to men attached to a doctrine which is all about dedication and sacrifice? The difficulty was complicated by the fact that the ideal in question will later replace, by annihilating it, the ideal Christian. Without this the aim of the occult Power was lack ! Was he going, for this last reason, to propose to serve as an ideal directly opposed to the one he wanted destroy? There was no need to think about it. If any suggestions

accepted by vicious Christians that we had everything

– 388 –

first recruited into kabbalist societies, he should no longer be the same as soon as we move posed the creation of a society which had to be done accepted by the entire Christian world. The faith was too lively, it was defended by an organization too powerful and by a political power which corresponded too well to the wishes of the multitudes.

So we had to find something else.

But what?

The occult Power had no answer to this question that the day when Protestantism managed to establish itself blir.

That day, there was certainly delirious joy in Israel. The situation of the Jewish nation was in fact completely modified in relation to the world Christian.

THE BREACH OPENED BY PROTESTANTISM.

Through the Reformation, the discipline which constituted the truth table obstacle to Jewish plans, was in fact sup-award-winning. Free examination replaced it. Everyone can will examine the law, interpret it and decide on the discipline that he had to impose on himself. So at-both disciplines and individuals. Therefore, more than discipline of the whole, at least where a power policy would not organize one, by creating a re-national form, of its own authority and through the right of his strength. Once opened this immense breach in the doctrine and in the organization of the

– 389 –

Christian world, nothing could prevent the Pou-see occult to successfully throw his seed of so-secret city.

We do not have to search here for the exact part what could the occult Jewish Power have taken in the great quite pointed out that the Jewish race has always had to consider it its duty to foment divisions in the Christian world, to provoke and widen the tears, because by doing so, at all times, it served its national ideal and gave satisfaction to his hatred. Because of this, she is certainly intervened as we said, in all heresies. Its action in the movement reformist cannot therefore be in doubt. We have it too—their observation.

Whatever the extent of this action, it is certain that thanks to the success of the Reformation in the half of Europe, the situation, considered at point in view of the facilities it was going to give to Power Jewish occult, now found himself absolutely transformed.

Until then, either heretical eruptions had been defeated or reabsorbed, or, when large separations had taken place, like that of the Church orthodox, the separated and those from whom they strayed were not geographically placed in immediate contact with each other. After the success from the Reformation, Catholics and Protestants went on the contrary live side by side, mixed together, so to speak fonfondus. Political interests would complicate of their oppositions the conflicts of feelings and beliefs. The Jewish genius, so astonishingly adept at take advantage of the divisions of his adversaries, saw open before him a new field of action, sentimentally favorable to the success of his maneuvers. Since two consciousnesses were now in presence and in perpetual and violent opposition in the Christian world, it was entirely appropriate that the Power Jewish occult allied with one to fight the other. He was also indicated that he first attacked to the bloc that remained disciplined under the authority of the Popes. It was therefore against Catholicism that he had to start by engaging in the fight. By doing so, he takes arises from what was more directly an obstacle to it; he favored that towards which he should naturally lean. expensive: Protestantism which represented the element of dissociation; he ensured the collaboration of the parties young, therefore the most disposed to the offensive fiery. Let us add that, if he started there, he would was easy to realize the condition that we have if—secret society, that is to say to propose a sus-

– 390 –

likely to excite, to enthuse his allies – which was impossible for him on the Catholic side. He has not-just has to choose this ideal in conformity with the ideal Protestant himself, that is to say in opposition to the ideal of Catholic discipline. However like the secret society to be founded was intended to penetrate later in the Catholic world itself, the latter denying character had to be concealed under expressions
more or less vague and even under formulas

– 391 –

contradictory, so that we could, according to need, here
tempt the Protestants, there deceive the Catholics.
If we succeeded, it was the great way to destroy assured, since it was the accepted secret society
by those it was intended to destroy; it was the poison injected into the veins and into the heart of the cursed Christianity; it was the crowning victorious by so many fruitless efforts for so long;
it was the old, always unrealizable dream finally realized.

It was even better.

By studying the Masonic organization, we have acquired the certainty that this organism tends to achieve sation of two goals, one of which is only one means to reach the other. The latter, the goal definitive, it is the replacement of the Catholic world by something we don't know yet but which we will realize in the chapters
following. The other goal, the one that was essential to achieve first and then arrive at the defined goal nitive, it is the possibility of operation for a authority which must not be seen and which we have called the Occult Power.

Making the existence of an invisible Power possible
who would act by suggestion and by which the world catholic would allow himself to be led to his downfall: that is what was to realize the dreamed Christian secret society. Gold to achieve this result it was necessary that but, at no moment, before or after the creation
tion of Freemasonry, the so-called Occult Power did not allow himself to be suspected. Let us think about it and we will realize that, even before the birth of the

– 392 –

Freemasonry, the occult Power of which this association was intended to ensure the functioning, been obliged to act through intermediaries, and not through himself. The day he broke this rule, he would have made forever impossible the invisibility that he wanted to make sure.

Forever, we say, because how can a Pou-see who has ceased to be occult for a single day can he become again? And on the other hand, assuming, for example-ple, that the occult Power that it was a question of consti-killing was English, how did the suspicions of the governments would they not have been awakened if the plan had been barely glimpsed or even only-guessed? If instead of being English, the Occupied Power cult was Jewish, how the Christian world while-would he not have smelled some trap set by the weary enemies of Christ, the day when an influence Jewish, of whatever nature it was, would have been noted in the first lodges which were founded, and included ment, in this case, would he have accepted the establishment of this? So it makes sense: those who hear-should constitute an occult Power for their benefit were obliged not only to conceal their aim, but to shroud oneself in darkness; and, as conse-inevitable, direct action was interfering with them said. From the start they found themselves in need to proceed according to the method indicated in these lines of the Masonic Review to which we supported wind alludes: "An official summons coming of Masonry is doomed in advance to abortion. The process is bad, although pretentious. It's necessary,

- 393 -

quite differently, use individual influences yourself generously covered. »

This is understandable without it being necessary to insist-ter.

The occult Power therefore needed intermediaries res who, believing to work only for them all by working for him, agree to put themselves in before to become the propagators of the future so-secret city in the Christian world.

Nothing could be easier since it existed within the Christianity a Protestant soul enemy of the soul Catholic, and rival and adversary Protestant states as the ideal of the secret society a program such that Protestant leaders, religious or political, were naturally inclined to consider it as ex-good for undermining Catholic principles. and consequently to shake the nations that remained faithful to these principles. By doing so, Power Jewish occult took Protestants by their spirit of proselytism and their rulers through self-interest litical. It was therefore certain to see each other spend in favor of the society to be created.

Did he have anything to fear from this inter-religious and political intervention in the direction of the future society? Not at all; by the reason that this direction would only be apparent. Had he not by-while in fact its Christian affiliates, members of the so-Jewish secret cities whose consciousness he had distorted and perverted intelligence as we know how to do in secret societies? These were his slaves, like Freemasons are the unconscious slaves of those who push them. He would suggest that they enter in the groups of the new association. They carried would draw his inspirations and they would assure him of it direction.

– 394 –

The apparent founders would believe they were sure of their members. In reality, the first of these, destined to lead everything, would be those whom Power occult would put at their fingertips. And so the Franc-Masonry would obey its inspirations, and not those of its apparent initiators, such as the groups sub-Masonic, obey the inspirations of Freemasonry, even when, as a measure of prudence, this suggests the creation and organization tion of these groups to non-Masons. She has always take care in this case, that from the founders ap-parents, there are some of his creatures, and that is enough.

Even admitting that a pro-political power testing succeeds in turning the power to its exclusive benefit disaggregating influence that ma-society would demonstrate sonic in other countries, the Jewish occult Power didn't have to worry, at least for a long time-time. On the contrary he should rejoice, expected that he wanted above all the ruin of the Catholic States ques, and that consequently he must have wished to strengthen possible tactic. He even had an interest in choosing the most powerful of these to encourage him to start head of the Masonic enterprise, due to the strength Catholic states whose ruin he wanted.

– 395 –

This is why the Jewish occult Power had to be led to preferably circumvent men English politicians, even if it means maneuvering later against them, the day the need arises.

CHAPTER XVIII

Critical examination of the English origin thesis

presented by Mr. Max Doumic

in ((the Secret of Freemasonry)).

THE CONDITIONS OF THE PROBLEM OF THE ORIGIN
OF FREEMASONRY
WHO FIND THEMSELVES FILLED BY THE THESIS
OF JEWISH origin.

We see what we arrive at by examining Télé-
Jewish historical ment in a positive way, that is to say assuming that this element was, like all the other elements of our world, producing effects.

This is the normal way of looking at things.
And yet, by an astonishing aberration, the writings vain people have almost all neglected this global agent; they considered it not to exist. Much better, when a man struck by the evidence denounced it with a truly brilliant sureness of judgment, we we want to talk about Drumont, this man was considered deated by a large number as an enlightened one, as a fanatic. The prejudice with which the Jew blinded us in this respect as in so many others is so profound that Today we see scholars writing volumes on the psychological laws of the evolution of peoples^ on the psychology of crowds^ on the psychology of society cialism, where there is no question of the element

– 307 –

completely neutral element, incapable of producing
m any order of things whatsoever.

And yet for centuries this element has played its destructive role in our Western world!
No wonder it became the devouring cyst.
erator within this world, may it be anemic, may it be draw, let him kill him! What is also surprising is that the public judges historical events so falsely, while he lets himself be guided by afflicted men to this point of what we can call Jewish blindness!

We just had to react against the astonishing prejudice of which we are speaking and to consider the Jewish race as it must be, that is to say subject to general laws
and producing, in accordance with these laws, manifestos
tations in relation to his situation, his character,
his passions and skills, to see that the
such an extraordinary phenomenon which is called Franc-Masonry is explained in the most natural way, if we recognize him for this reason as this race itself ex-extraordinary: the Jewish race.

The extraordinary begetting the extraordinary, what more normal?

f| By bringing together the historical Freemason element
considered effect of Jewish historical element considered as cause, we find ourselves in presence of a sequence of manifestations which produced under the most rational conditions.

We noticed :

1 » That a secret society always had the cause
a necessity ; – and we see the need for defense

– 398 –

which obliges, from their beginning, the Jewish colonies to form secret societies.

2*3 That a secret society must have a positive ideal tif ; – and the Jewish colonies had this ideal.

3° That the constitution of a secret society like Masonry within a world imbued with spirit
Christian presented almost insurmountable difficulties tables; that consequently it must have been preceded
a very long incubation period; – and U.S

4° That during the said period it was necessary to begin cer by carrying out a dechristianization of minds, not by direct action on the masses, but on indications isolated vidualities; – and we see how this dechristianization could be carried out under the conditions
tions desired by the Jewish secret societies.

5° That at the same time as dechristianization
of which we speak took place, the habit of action se-Crete was to be given to dechristianized Christians
as well as the resulting skills; and that, for this required that secret associations exist on Christian territories, while however such creations could not have Christians for authors; – and we see the said associations functioning created in the most natural way by the swarming of Jewish secret societies; and we explain ourselves by there even the existence of these kabbalist centers whose it is mentioned in the annals of all countries and of which training can only be understood in this way niere.

6° That a passionate initiator against Ghristia-

– 3y"j –

nism was necessary; not only passionate against Christianity, but tenacious, cunning, deceitful, accustomed to secret organization, having means of international action from the beginning of the 18th century and even much earlier, depending on what the period required universal incubation; – and we find in the secretly organized Jewish nation the initiator in question, passionate as was necessary, in possession of all the habits, all the aptitudes and all necessary means of action.

If we look at things the way we do have just summarized, all the conditions required for the birth of the Masonic organization are present; all, except two: the environment and the agent who must serve as an intermediary. The cause and the means are there ; the middle and the intermediate alone are there not. But Protestantism is born; and here is the middle created. Protestant nations arise; and these are the intermediaries including the occult Power
Jew will have a choice.

If things happened the way we have them

Masonic creation. This creation is absolute-ment normal. The incomprehensible only exists if we refuse our explanation.

The intermediary was intended, as we have said, to maintain the invisibility of the occult founding Power of Freemasonry. This intermediary cannot will do otherwise than appear; and it's thanks
that the occult Power could not show itself
trer. But then he was pretty sure that, Tinter-

- 400 -

mediate being visible while the true Power occult was not, the researchers attached to the discovery of the secret of Freemasonry is left would be taken by appearances. This is what is ar-shore. They did not ask themselves whether the initiator appeared rent was in possession of everything without which the creation tion of Freemasonry would have been impossible. They have studied neither his character, nor his skills, nor his skills. They said to themselves: Since it is he who works, it is he who creates, and that is why they have denounced the English as the inventors of France Masonry. He was the actor they considered as director; the puppet they born for the machinist.

I am not talking about those who attributed the constitution
tution of Freemasonry to the companions of James II of Scotland, emigrated to France under Louis XI V.

The reason they rely on is that it
There were lodges among the Jacobites. Poor reason, in truth ! To believe that Catholics can be the fathers of such an institution because we see some of them adorned with masonry ornaments is to commit an error which can be compared rer to that of a man who, finding a child under a cabbage, would conclude that the said child is the son of cabbage. In fact, there was not much more missing things to Catholics of the 17th century to give birth of Freemasonry that there is no shortage of
to the cabbages to give birth to our children.

The truth is that someone had brought the Jewish fan under Jacobite rule.

- 401 -

It is also easy to explain how.

The incubation period having come to an end following the establishment of Protestantism in Europe, lodges were first formed in Protestant England and from then on we can explain that the supporters of the defeated Stuarts could have resorted to a natural process for the vanquished: conspiracy. Knowing the existence of lodges established among the protestants so much, they believed they could make the secret society serve to their cause, without realizing that this instrument was of useless use, if not dangerous, for those who know neither its true nature nor its handling is lying. Could they have by chance been helped in this by certain Jews, that there would be no reason to be surprised. They would have shown themselves to be truly wise in taking advantage so much of the circumstance to attempt the introduction of the secret society in the Catholic world.

It is therefore not surprising that he there existed lodges in the Jacobite party, of the same matter that there were later groups among us counter-revolutionary Masonic lodges, which were also intended to be beaten, given that The occult Power was not on their side.

SUMMARY OF THE THESIS OF MR. MAX DOUMIC.

The theory of English origin is more serious. It is easy to understand that the most judicious minds heavens could have attached themselves to it.

We said that Mr. Max Doumic had placed himself at the forefront of these. We also did point out that the thesis that this author has so remarkably sustained, presented this serious defect to be based only on considerations of gold historical dre. Now that we know what difficulties presented the introduction into the world Christian of a secret society corresponding to data of the Masonic question, we will realize with the greatest ease what he there is something unacceptable in the thesis of Mr. Max Doumic and what on the contrary should be kept.

– 402 –

The author of The Secret of Freemasonry posed the question as follows:

The aim and secret of Freemasonry, he says, it is the establishment of English domination over the world.

It was Chancellor Bacon who, in his work The New Atlantis gave to English politicians the idea of creating a secret society, all the secrecy of which would consist of corrupting intellectually and morally men, to weaken and disintegrate all nations who would be quite naively hospitable to the action. So that, without needing to understand the plan, England would become superior to them all. She would end up dominating them politically, thanks to the fact that it would keep the upper hand over the federal Masonic nations.

Mr. Max Doumic does not tell us how the Angle-earth can keep that upper hand. And yet it is that's the essential thing. That's the secret.

The Catholic nations being the natural adversaries of the English Protestant nation, it is among those that Freemasonry is set up against: France, unwilling to be evil; and France being, of all the Catholic nations, the one which has held the most English power in check, it is at home with us that the English leaders have distilled in France Masonry its most dangerous venoms. If this association is so fierce against Catholicism in France and other Catholic nations, it is because, with us as with them, the Catholic region happens to be the great vital spring.

— 403 —

In this hypothesis, we see, the Masonic soul would be Protestant, but Masonry would tend in reality for a political purpose. The occult Power would be essentially English, and the lodges, in their effort against our national religion and against our organization and traditional political system, would only be unconscious agents of England.

This is the theory.

first impossibility:

it is ambition, not necessity,

WHO would be the cause of the birth of the Masonic secret society

In the design of Mr. Max Doumic, instead of a necessity, it is a simple ambition which would have gave birth to Freemasonry.

This hypothesis is very difficult to accept for anyone who has thought about the conditions under which secret societies can be born.

If England had still felt like co-

- 404 -

Jewish lonies, completely unskilled to fight by weapons, one could assume that an ambition condemned to remain unsatisfied would have led her there. But that was not the case. The nation that had engraved in its history the names of Crécy, Poitiers, Azinshort, and many others, could not consider themselves as obliged to resort, to serve its ambitions, to the arms of peoples reduced to complete powerlessness session. England must have felt some repugnance gnance to adopt the methods of cowardice which are those of Freemasonry. Before resolving to do so, she had other cards to play. That some of his politicians were in the case of succumbing to a tendency tation of this kind that would have been offered to them, so be it! But that these policies have dreamed, combined and achieved themeven plans of universal treason, while he was not about liberating their invaded homeland or to avenge their trampled traditions, that's the thing very difficult to admit.

This is a preliminary objection which presents itself first in mind, outside the conditions of possibility bility or impossibility that we have to examine.

THE TIME CONDITION.

The inventors in question would have encountered insurmountable difficulties.

Indeed, an ambition does not speak to all minds at the same time, as is necessary; and it's one of the main reasons why a cause no such nature is unfit to create the atmosphere in favor of the creation of a secret society. A ambition of the kind that Mr. Max Doumic would begin by being born in a spirit. This one would then have to pass it through a certain number others. Under these conditions, given the absence special atmosphere that we are talking about and which results from a general feeling violently upset, a very long and very laborious incubation of the idea would at least be necessary, assuming that it was possible.

I Precisely, Mr. Max Doumic tells us, the idea of Masonic creation began by being born in the brain of Chancellor Bacon, who formulated it in his work La Nouvelle Atlantide.

It is from there that she would then have passed into other very spirits.

Bacon was a politician, he was a pioneer sister of the philosophers of the 18th century and he was pro- so much. For these three reasons spoke less loudly within him this atavism which makes Christians so little able to use secret societies. Furthermore, he was speaking to a na- protestant tion. These circumstances are enough to make the thesis of Mr. Max Doumic much more rational than that of Stuarist origin. But is it complete? is lying? Obviously not, because the bedrock necessary for the constitution of a secret society is still lacking, although to a lesser degree.

Bacon explains well in the New Atlantis the idea of an island republic whose government seeks tries to remain unknown to all other peoples.

"He imagines," writes Mr. Max Doumic, "that navigators

"gavers sailing on adventures were carried in "an unknown island, the island of Bensalem. This island is a "land of asylum, in the sense that we receive all the "foreigners, we just keep them away. They are "housed and fed in a house which is suitable for them
"served and they are not allowed to mingle with the "people whose guests they are, nor to penetrate anything
"of its life or its institutions. Likewise, the government
"the government of this island takes jealous care,

u nations, to hide its very existence from them.

"One of the institutions of this island is a society
"secret called "Solomon's Temple".

"This Society has a humanitarian goal. She proposes "to bring happiness to men by revealing to them
"the secrets of nature that science has revealed to it
"netre. Also the affiliates, who take the name of "brothers", they devote themselves to the study of sciences, but in " secret. They are divided into a number of "classes, each of which has its own specific tasks. There
"continuity of the "Temple of Solomon" is assured
"because this society has novices and apprentices
"tis who are initiated when they are judged worthy. These
"initiates have pledged themselves by oath "to do nothing
"reveal what we have decided to keep secret. " In
"meetings, we decide what knowledge he con-
"has just spread in the public and those that he
"You have to hide it from him. In some cases, we communicate
"to the prince and the Parliament apparent something ((of what was deliberated. "Other times, nothing
(it leaves the circle of affiliates."

- 407 -

"The Temple of Solomon sends abroad
"brothers" responsible for reporting information
"on the affairs of other peoples, and to report
"of their situation. These "brèrog" carry strong
"sums of money, to obtain this information-
"ment in the countries where they are staying, and pay the
the characters that need to be paid to this ^ effect.

It should be noted that this part of New Atlantic
tide's sole purpose is the advancement of science.
Mr. Max Doumic concludes that "if Bacon adopted a similar organization as an instrument of study and dissemination for the sciences, we are authorized to think that all the more reason he would also have adopted for politics where it would have been much better appropriate to its role. » The constitution of the island of Bensalem therefore appears to "SI. Max Doumic clearly established: the main idea, very special, is the direction political tion, the government entrusted to a society secret.

"Hey what! writes the author of Le Secret de la Franchi Masonry^ these wise men that we see there, do not re-
'< seek only light and truth? What is it for?

They affect "righteousness and sincerity"; by-above all they have a horror of lying, and they are smuggled clandestinely among other peoples,
live there in a perpetual lie, hiding their true character and their origin under names, under a borrowed nationality, and practicing there
What about espionage and corruption! They claim-

- 408 -

"will work for humanity and strive to re-
"spread knowledge, and they assemble in secret
"to deliberate on ideas that should be spread
"dred and knowledge that is important to hide.
"But it all smacks of machination and hypocrisy.
"It is clearly visible that this vague goal of science and "philanthropy is only a mask; it's not
"only a facade; we must look behind.

"Behind, what we will see is an oligarch-
"shit who governs the island of Bensalem, to which the "Prince and Parliament are subject, which is cons-
"established as a secret society, which conceals its government
"occult existence under the guise of an academy
"scientific and has taken as a means of action
"foreign espionage and corruption. »

Mr. Max Doumic notes that moreover the con-Bacon's views when writing about cor-support this view.

If we take things as we pre-
feels the author of the Secret of Freemasonry,
we see the idea of world government through
through a secret society emerging ex abruptly in the mind of Chancellor Bacon. It's in the absence of any necessity for it to form such dream. This data of the origin of a secret society is contrary to the general rule, as we have said.
This is a second reason, if we admit that a exception to this rule may have taken place, so that the realization of the idea requires infinitely more time
than would be necessary under ordinary conditions.
How did this realization come about?

- 409 -

This is again what Mr. Max Doumic does not tell us.

poses to have been written around 1621, was not published until after Bacon's death. And we already see by this simple peculiarity the slowness of the progress of the idea.

The interval which separates the moment of the said publication and that of the appearance of the first lodges is really too short for the realization of this idea could have taken place, unless they contributed to it secret societies already functioning. But in this case, the difficulty would simply be misplaced; because all the questions raised by that of the origin of the Freemasonry would ask about the origin origin of these companies.

Time, we say, is one of the essential elements thinkable which is lacking in the design of M.Max Doumic.

I- It was indeed necessary:

1 1° That the idea made adherents and that it made them by itself, since the one who had issued it, was not was no longer there to become its apostle;

2° That the number of these members reaches to be sufficient, as well as their quality;

3° That these, necessarily scattered throughout the kingdom, come together; and this by a strange phenomenon leads to selection operated by chance;

4° That all the members of this elite had sunk into them, and from themselves, the ardent conviction necessary for the founders of such a company socket ; conviction which, surprisingly! would have been

– 410 –

imposed on different minds outside of all need ;

5° That they were in a situation and that they had the talent to convince the government since its at least tacit cooperation was essential for that the enterprise could be continued;

6*^ That they had first imagined, then recruited and organized some of the overlapping groups including the constitution required, in itself and for each

7° That they had prepared the ground in all country where the first lodges were established with a ease which implies a slogan peddled by a pre-existing organization as were hawked by Freemasonry at the time of the Revolution of so many ideas which, without it, would never have sprouted everywhere at once.

All these conditions and others, which do not could only be achieved through successive periods cessive years, would therefore have been although these periods were lacking; and nevertheless, haste is dangerous reuse, the impossible haste of such an achievement would not have compromised the secrecy of English politicians! None of the European governments would have been informed of their views, no more than those of the government English government their accomplice! Really, he is unacceptable that so many impossibilities could have been carried out.

If such an explanation of the origin of Freemasonry may appear acceptable, it is only because because of the invincible and so natural need qiiL- ii(»u> cpruLiNones to understand a fact like this one in the situation in which France finds itself, we let's not take the time to think about all the con- said that such an astonishing creation supposes. I have considered, I too, for a certain time, that England could be the initiator and creator (Freemasonry. Certain appearances are lend themselves so well to this hypothesis! But these are not only appearances. We notice this when we sup- coldly ignores the conditions in the absence of which there would have been no Freemasonry possible. For Mr. Max Doumic's hypothesis to have come true read, centuries would have been necessary. Gold Bacon died in 1626. James II was dethroned in 1688. He is certain that there were lodges among his supporters. The founding of these lodges could only have been consecutive ;i those of the Protestant party... So the centuries do not are not,

– 411 –

THE CONDITION of aptitude.

Abilities, this other essential condition, are not there either.

It is already quite extraordinary that Bacon, deprived of experience in such matters (assuming* Mr. Max Doumic, Bacon did not practice society secret; he was content to dream it), he is well extraordinary, we say, that the author of the New Atlantis planned with such astonishing certainty the conditions under which would be forced to act those who, later, would carry out the practice that. He spoke on this subject which he had not experienced lies (and which we only know by experience or by suggestions received) as if he had known it. GOOD better, he saw in advance the conditions in the- who would have to operate the so-called secret society. He sorts out the scenario from the back of his office. But the so-secret cities, as we have shown, are formed and develop in this or that way according to the ambient necessities, precisely because they must wind adapt to these necessities by which they are dominated. The certainty of predicting the inexperienced rhymed Bacon is very improbable.

– 412 –

This is even more so.

Behind Bacon, a simple theoretician, there were others whose abilities were absolutely indispensable: it was the English politicians who, in the hypothesis of Mr. Max Doumic, were the real met-actors on stage, those who encountered difficulties practice. These skills, where would they have them? taken? Mr. Max Doumic doesn't always tell us not.

Perhaps, after the presentation we made, will anyone be tempted to answer us: but you took it upon yourself to show where the policies English could have acquired the necessary skills. It is by frequenting kabbalist societies.

This response is perfectly admissible. But it calls for two observations.

First the heads of the said companies would have been informed trained. The characteristic of the secret society being in fact to develop the spirit of espionage and to facilitate it lite the means, there is no doubt that these leaders would have known the projects of their followers, even if the latter niers had tried to hide them from them.

Let us assume, however, that the students are able to naked to deceive their masters. Having succeeded in this, they had remained powerless for everything else. We understands a company like that of the Révo-French lution, for example, arriving at execution
thanks to the effort of the entire Masonic organization put in movement by the impulse of the inspirators secrets which occupy the central point where all steering wires; we do not see this same an enterprise carried out by the sole effort of certain members walking outside the ensemble and, by consequently, having to find everywhere against them this together, if it pleases the occult leaders.

But what is especially important to observe is that, in any secret society proceeding from other societies of the same kind – as were the societies half-Jewish, half-Christian kabbalists from the so-purely Jewish cities – each of the initiates does not know what it pleased the initiators to teach them.
This is, in fact, the essence of the initiation given:
it is individual and personal; and she remains always such as a result of the training which inspires each adherent to the fanatical religion of secrecy. In made of skills in manipulating secret societies
yours, Christian adherents therefore only acquired those that pleased the Jewish occult Power to develop lop at each of them. But it is quite obvious that he communicated to them that only those who were useful to the realization of his designs. He

– 414 –

was careful to make them capable of walking without him.

We see that in the hypothesis of English origin of Freemasonry, everything should have been done in despite the impossibilities. We do not find on this side none of the conditions that must be met for that a secret society is born: nor the necessity which creates the essential atmosphere, nor the weather, nor the appropriate studies.

OTHER ESSENTIAL PREREQUISITION.

We still have to attract the reader's attention on a consideration of major significance at the point view that concerns us.

The Masonic organization tends, as we have been told, let's see, to establish an invisible government. It is therefore that this concern was dominant among its founders. But we have shown that the reaction lization of such data required the preexistence of another secret society in which were to be trained the unconscious intermediaries responsible to act for the occult Power which itself was condemned never to appear, to always use "influences carefully covered ". In these conditions, a question arises: The secret society an essential prerequisite, England had it. her arrangement?

No ; she didn't have it.

She didn't have it for the reasons we have developed to show that secret societies

– 415 –

existing in the Christian world prior to the Freemasonry were not of Christian origin.

The spirit of religious discipline was found in the English nation as in all Christian nations yours before she gave herself to the Protestant tism. English Christians were therefore, as much as all others, enemies of the secret society itself. This is why if such societies existed in An-England before Protestantism, they could not be, like those of which we find traces among the other Christian peoples than societies of origin non-Christian, and therefore Jewish; they cannot will therefore aim at the future constitution of an English occult Power.

When the constitution of the Anglican Church took place, the situation becomes quite different, it is true. So the ground Christian received in England the necessary amendment know so that the seed of a secret society can germinate, if spread properly. But who spreads this seed? It's always the sower Jewish. He alone has his mind turned towards this way of a-gir, which he made his own. He is there, as he is elsewhere, always kept awake by his need to serve his

The eyes of his sons are open everywhere. Through them he is informed about everything, ready to seize every opportunity. We are also convinced that companies secret groups composed of Christians existed in Angleterre before it existed in France, not because let the documents establish it – because we have no confidence in the documents relating to this question, all coming from liars interested in deceive us – but because it falls under the sense. We do not even doubt that companies ties of this kind, inspired by Jewish societies, have contributed to the English Revolution. What is happening now makes us understand what happened for our Revolution; and what happened to our Revolution must reveal to us what happened for the English Revolution.

– 416 –

We are also convinced that these same societies, always inspired by secret societies Jews, then played a role during the substitution of the Protestant monarchy of William of Orange to the Catholic monarchy of James Stuart. That we know of the advent of the Hohenzollerns as emperors of Germany to the detriment of the Habsburgs must also inform us about what may have happened two centuries earlier.

The Jewish occult power could not fail to act then, just as he cannot fail to act now. His role is in fact to serve the ideal of his people, as it is the role of every monarch to serve the ideal of the nation over which he commands.

In short, the genesis of secret societies was in England what it was in other Christian countries like: firstly purely Jewish societies; then so-half-Jewish, half-Christian cities; thirdly, so-Christian secret cities. Only these, well that constituted by English, did not obey or obeyed only to a limited extent the English influence, as well as our Franc-Maconnerie, although it is composed of French people, does not does not benefit from French influence. They proceeded from without them suspecting it, like the workshops of high-ranking officers are assigned to low-level workshops. dice, and consequently, they could not have for objective the constitution of a future occult Power English.

– 417 –

England therefore did not have the secret society pre-existing essential.

She had it all the less since this first so-secret society should have been established at one time far enough back so that at the time of the birth of Freemasonry, its members would have had time to acquire the experience and skill denoted by construction of the Masonic organization. What extraordinary complication of question 1 A so-secret society which is born, not as a result of necessity, but quite expressly to give birth to another so-secret city, two or three centuries later 1 So a English politics, like Bacon, but much earlier ment to him, that is to say consequently when there is no did not yet have Protestantism, would have had the idea of such a creation; this politician would have dreamed of the state distant bliss of a global occult Power in profit of his country; he would have had action on the government to which he would have made his concept understood tion and share his conviction... But who then could have imagined both the idea of Masonry des-intended to ensure in the indefinite future the domination vision of the world in England and the idea of society secret intended to create this Masonry? Who, having dug deep enough into the problem to realize advances the necessity of these two successive creations sive, would still have had sufficient persuasive power to make followers with a view to a goal whose realization involved such a detour? Who, gathering in his person this force of reflection and this power of persuasion would have thus disposed of the number of years which were necessary for him to return such a creation capable of lasting after him? Who finally, the first accomplished creation would have been capable to recruit the necessary competitions in all countries saries so that everywhere the front rows are one day found founded with the ease that we know?

– 418 –

All this is obviously impossible. And even that of the transmission and execution of such plan despite the upheavals resulting from the religious evolution carried out by Henri Mil, from that of 1648 and that of 1688.

In short, the author of The Secret of the Freemasonry simply assumed to have solved the problem of the introduction of a secret society into the world Christian, while the solution to such a problem is everything that is most complicated in the world, then that there lies the real secret that must be penetrated.

When we grasp the question body to body, we have perceives that the gathering of all conditions essential prerequisites was impossible on the anclay, while on the contrary, we have shown, these conditions were met naturally and by the fact of the circumstances which characterize if particularly the destiny of the Jewish people.

– 419 –

There, the secret societies whose existence was to precede the birth of Freemasonry as that we see it, were the consequence of the si- such an extraordinary killing in which the nation found itself for so many centuries. By this very fact, all the work of gestation was made due to the very course of things.

And we would seek out the inventors of France Masonry where so many difficulties, so many impossibilities lities meet, instead of taking them where the creation of this association appears as the con- natural sequence of existing facts!

Instead of recognizing that a mole must have mother a mole, we would try to convince ourselves that she was born from a pike!

No ! The logic is not there. The truth cannot so be there either.

CHAPTER XIX

The real role of England.

THE ESSENTIAL INTERMEDIARY.

Would England therefore have nothing to do with the birth of Freemasonry?

Let's not believe it.

Endowed with remarkable power of reflection, Mr. Max Doumic may have allowed himself to be deceived by certain appearances because, too new comer in the Masonic question when he wrote his work, he decided before having examined the problem under all its faces. However, if a mind like his remained fixated on the English actions, it is because he There was definitely something there.

There was even a lot. Because the role played by Angleterre was so important that, in the absence of it, it would absolutely have been necessary for someone else to fill it. Without this there would have been neither Freemasonry nor Pousee occult.

What was this role? The reader has already understood this. The yeargleterre was the intermediary through whom the government cret of the Jewish nation could not do without.

This, we have made sufficiently clear, was obliged never to appear under any circumstances—although it was. He therefore had to find an agent; and as the work to be accomplished was immense, the agent in question must have been a real power in the Christian world. At the same time it was necessary that this agent ardently desired the lowering of Catholic nations.

— 421 —

England was in the desired situation.

But how to make it work?

Since the Jewish secret government could not to let himself be seen, he only had one means at his disposal—tion, always the same: it was to set in motion ment the “individual influences carefully covered”.

Now, it was easy for him, as we have already had the opportunity to indicate this, thanks to the kabbalists.

composed of superimposed groups can make some calf of its members; how can she change it?
proud at her convenience because she has the leisure to relax
go without danger to tests, even if they are unsuccessful,
on certain subjects and starting again on others
until she meets those she needs.
That being said, and once his plan has been designed, the government
Jewish secret only had to launch its emissaries, conscious or unconscious, initiated or simple suggestions
tioned, with the mission of attracting kabballistas of English politicians or men available little influence on some of them. That's all-days as the occult Power proceeds. Didn't we
we have not explained how, for several years,
he had brought into Masonry those he wanted.
what to see: the officers and the professors?

- 422 -

By acting in this way, the occult Power should not having difficulty finding it, provided he took the time
wanted, certain men in a position to launch the idea of the secret society composed of Protestants. This idea, that we hardly explain everything to ourselves
the hour born ex abrupto in Bacon's mind, on the contrary, it could have been brought there with the greatest great ease, or that Bacon was initiated into a society
kabbalist, whether he had trans-initiates around him
originators of the suggestion.

Let us think about it! This society that the author paints for us creator of New Atlantis and on which M. Max Doumic indulges in the very judicious reflections that we have reported, does it not represent us?
do not fully understand the very particular conditions of existence tenancy of the Jewish nation? Foreigners are required to away... They are not allowed to mingle with the people
ple..., nor to penetrate anything of his life or his institutions
tions... "The government takes jealous care,
by finding out very precisely about the other nations, to hide its very existence from them..."

"The Temple of Solomon sends abroad
"brothers responsible for reporting information
on the affairs of other peoples, and report their situation. These "brothers" carry strong
sums of money, to obtain this information
ments in the countries where they stay and pay the
the characters that need to be paid to this
effect... "

Are these not the means to invention and for the employment of which the Jews were

– 423 –

specially gifted because of their background, their character, their situation and their aptitudes?

And the knowledge of it is revealed and the suggestion is given to English politicians in such a way that that they cannot suppose that there is another gou-government that puts these means into practice.

What does it take for the idea to be thus deposited in their brains? Just a few suggestions Ited in kabbalist groups open to pro-English testers.

Isn't this way of doing things specified-
the one we see reproduced daily
in our time by Freemasonry?

We can be certain of this: if it had not been for Baidiot who agreed to expose the idea, it would have been another English politics. It should be noted that we find it in the chancellor's papers, this idea. Have we proof that it is indeed his? Wasn't she slipped surreptitiously among other writings? It is again a process that we have seen used more once... It doesn't matter anyway; because we re-let's fart, if it hadn't been Bacon, it would have been someone else.
This is how the suggestion was to be insinuated to the English political world so that Power hides Jew was not discovered. It was essential that she was first poured into the mind of a remarkable man to pass from there into others, as well as for the formulates clericalism, there is the enemy! he was indiscriminate thinkable that it passed through Gambetta's lips
to be repeated by thousands of mouths.

Maybe it took time to find the man.

– 424 –

That was the only difficulty. But we had time.
Once the choice is made, all the work that would have been imposed sible in the case of the purely English origin of the Freemasonry had to be accomplished, so to speak
all alone, thanks to the suggestions that were thrown on this subject in the said companies. Those of English politicians who frequented there were working later as appropriate, according to the methods that we used, and it was they who made the fortune of the idea exposed by Bacon, like our franc-masons made their fortune from the war cry uttered by Gambetta. When the time came, statutes which were ready, as the anti-religion laws are all ready, were currently recorded after a semblance of deliberation by our parliament, were supposedly developed by some of the policies, to concert with one or two representatives of the Occupied Power worship. The "individual influences carefully covered" and even more carefully chosen proposed the said statutes to those who were necessary so that they arrived in government regions. They there were presented accompanied by comments necessary for us to realize in high places of the usefulness of the future society from the protesting and particularly from the ancients. Needless to say, these comments were what was necessary for it to be concealed as much as it agreed the cowardice of the procedure proposed against the Catholic nations. As for those who develop them later, they were all the more eloquent that, thanks to the work of suggestion accomplished by the Occult power, they were convinced, like are our anticlericals today... These are the suggestions managements widespread in kabbalist groups which made everything easy, while without these suggestions nothing was possible.

– 425 –

The mode of action that we indicate here is that which we now know to have been employed by—then one hundred and fifty years in Freemasonry. Is it not logical to admit that, if it is there, it's because the founders put it there, and if they put it there, is it because they were used to it?

A precaution had to be taken: it was not necessary that the first transmitters of the idea in the world layman were known as affiliated with the societies Kabbalist secrets. But here again, what happens? Are our days not a sufficient indication for us? what could have happened then? Don't we know the very particular turn of mind acquired by members of secret societies and the perpetual worry

The high-ranking officers are silent towards the masons of the low grades. These, for their part, create sub-masonry "without letting the hand of the Ma-masonry"... Why then do the Protestants kabbalists, subject to the same education, would they have had less discretion?

To better cover yourself, to extinguish all suspicion in the minds of these unconscious collaborators and in that of the politicians with whose assistance these were to found the first lodges, the Power

– 426 –

Jewish occult had an interest in suggesting to them that these should only be open to Christians and that it was necessary to rigorously exclude the Jews. He had an interest in this, we say, and he was not running. There is no risk in doing so, since the real inspirations of future lodges would continue to be shaped by those born, hypnotized in Jewish secret societies including those they were part, and since, on the other hand, the effect of inevitable doctrines that they would be made to preach would be the future admission of Jews, not only in this Masonry that they did not close momentarily – only to open it better later, but also in this Christian world that they could not destroy only on condition of penetrating it?

Thanks to this last precaution, the political authority of the English tick must have been fatally carried away. Convinced that the emerging Society could not promote but serve only one interest: that of England, if it put itself at the head of the movement, the political Power of the English tick was quite naturally tempted to adopt rather the idea that the occult Power made him suggest through its intermediaries. Would he have hesitated? He was afraid – and we had to make him understand – that this idea was not exploited by others. How would it not have worked?

The success of the scheme had to be facilitated by the following circumstance.

Before Protestant England had to use the Masonic association against the Catholic nations, she had to go through a period of struggles between English Protestants and Catholics. The Power Oc-

Jewish worship therefore did not at first have to deceive the insight of the leaders of the nation. He was able to take advantage of disorder caused by religious divisions for slip-ser the secret organization in the Protestant party an-clay. It was a ready-made weapon for him against the Catholic party. And what an innocent weapon!
A simple instrument of religious propaganda...

Thanks to this, we could explain the successes of Cromwell and, later, the accession of William of Orange,
in the same way that the triumph of the utopians and phrase-mongers who made our Revolution
tion.

Once the success of the Protestant party was assured, the English politicians strove to spread France Masonry worldwide. They were the propagators. They founded lodges everywhere with all the more easy as everywhere they were,
not only Protestants who felt their religious ideal favored by that which was proposed in the declaration of principles, but also and especially of these dechristianized Christians, who protect whether or not, initiated into Kabbalist societies. Those-here, suggested in this view and prepared to play this role, entered the boxes to transmit the suggestions with which they had previously been impressed pregnant and they thus placed the Masonic groups-ques founded by the English under the inspiration of the pes Jews. In this way a situation was established tion comparable to that which exists in the lodges between the administrative authority and the inspiring authority.
The officers of the lodges represent the first, while

- 428 -

that the high-ranking officers represent the latter; but in reason for the purpose of Freemasonry is authority
the only inspiration who counts.

The English founded lodges; they administer them
traits; but in fact they simply constituted as well as Christian circles whose elements they delivered ments to Jewish action. Through the intermediaries he introduced into these lodges, the occult Power com-therefore began the pyramid of secret societies that we have shown in the occult Power against France^ thanks to which the last of the workshops ma-onics and, through them, the Christian world, are placed in doing so, English politicians attempted to the existence of all of Christianity, since they propagated a society which, in a certain country, had to tend, in their thoughts, to the destruction of Christian ral. This was a real betrayal.

No doubt the occult Power was playing with them; And it was easy for him because of the experience he had secret societies. Not having retreated from the devastation they expected from anti-Christian action of Masonry is no less a crime against charge of those we are talking about.

To what extent were they aware, at the beginning, of the possible seriousness of these devastations? Else hand, at what time did they realize that the weapon poisoned which they treacherously struck the Catholic nations was provided to them by the people who have remained for nineteen hundred years implacable enemy of this Christ before whom they kneel noodle? Since when did they accept, know about case, such collaboration against a part of Christianity?

– 429 –

These are questions whose answer, if it can be was to be made, would increase or attenuate their responsibilities sands.

THE ONLY LOGICAL CONCLUSION.

As we see, the theory of the Jewish origin of Freemasonry is in no way undermined by the objections that are raised against it and that are believed to be irrefutable tables those alone who have not been able to discern all the complexity of the Masonic question.

She explains without any difficulty that the founders front row players in almost every country are English. She would also explain that almost everywhere, and even everywhere, if it were proven – but it is not – the Jews were excluded of these first lodges. They nonetheless had the direction of masonry matters through diary of bad Christians affiliated with their groups– Jewish secret ments, just as today the Power see occult by hand everywhere in the boxes, likewise laughs.

She also explains that Masonic policy-
nique has shown itself almost constantly favorable ble to English politics. Jewish Occult Power was indeed obliged to favor the nation which served him acts as a broker. Moreover, there was almost always

- 430 -

interest, since the Catholic power, the enemy
which it had to first destroy, found itself weakened especially.

It also allows us to understand certain facts
which the hypothesis of English origin does not explain:
for example the dualism which is seen in certain hours in the Masonic organization and on which we will have to come back; for example again, the succession of the fourteen parliamentary battles which been delivered from the start of the Revolution within the Constituent Assembly so that the Jews were endowed with the same civil and political rights as all French people
but they did not acquire in exchange the status of Jews. So that the famous charter of Human Rights appears in those who look at it a little closely as having been invented for the sole purpose of concealing another that we wanted to impose on the world without formulating it: the charter of the Rights of the Jew.

The theory of Jewish origin, as we know it
let us expose it, still recommends itself in a way particular lesson in that it sheds light on two facts which cannot be explained without it: the maintenance of the national Jewish life through the centuries and the existence of Jewish societies secret places of the Middle Ages. It would be truly extraordinary dinary that a false theory thus adapts to historical facts so important and so incomprehensible-bles so far. On the other hand, as we have points out, it is by studying the structure and characters of individuals that we classify them and that we assigns an origin in natural history. This process

- 431 -

scientific applied to the question with which we are concerned cupons, condemns the English origin and leads to contrary to the Jewish origin of Masonry, because the Jewish methods, and the Masonic character resembles with a Jewish character like the nose of a Lévy resembles to that of a Dreyfus.

The thesis of Jewish origin even makes it clear the reasons why there may be partial without English origin. She shows us the machiavellianism of the means used to conduct these here to the opinion adopted by them, – Machiavellianism which we also find everywhere in France. Masonry and which is so well linked to the character and with the situation of the Jewish nation in the world for eighteen centuries.

The thesis of the Jewish origin therefore contains say in it the thesis of English origin. She explains it – that. She enlightened him. She completes it, by showing us through the Jewish element dreaming, conceiving, preparing the Masonry, but causing it to propagate by the element English. Under these conditions we will recognize that it presents itself singularly armed.

The fact of the establishment among the nations of co-Jewish families who refused to blend into these nations, which have preserved their constitution and their personality, which thus played the role of active parasites attached to the skin of peoples, this fact alone contains him the germ of all phases of gestation and the birth of the astonishing and immense creation masonic.

– 432 –

Since such a starting point exists, it is impossible that the Jewish colonies were not formed in secret societies and that they have not been linked by a secret government.

It is also impossible that these secret societies Jews who were only able to maintain themselves through the love of their religious and national ideal, have not been ten-ready to act against the Christian ideal whose triumph implied the erasure of theirs.

Impossible that, reduced to the impotence of attack – openly question since they were the weakest, they did not give in to the desire to attack secretly – is lying.

Impossible that, of defensives that we can sup–

defensive.

Impossible that they have not swarmed to pro-
generate the means of action they needed,
that is to say, secret societies tending special-ment to the deterioration of the Christian bloc in the meantime that they were able to tend to its complete disintegration.

Impossible that these secret fighting societies
have not sought and succeeded in attracting the trans-Christian refugees.

Impossible that they would not have thought of taking advantage of the great dislocation produced by the reform.

Impossible that they have not changed or that they have not swarmed again according to this what this new circumstance demanded.

Impossible that, girls of pure secret societies-

- 433 -

ly Jewish, they did not try to give birth to their turn of purely Christian secret societies which would only open up later to the Jews, at the same time
time as the Christian world itself.

For things to have happened differently that we have shown them, the Jews should were outside the laws of nature, consequently above them. What is that of their par-who will dare to support such an opinion?

After considering as a starting point the initial fact that we have just said and which could not not not to generate its consequences, if we consider let us now deny the current Masonic fact which does not can't not have its cause, we find ourselves
also in the presence of a certain number of taxes sibilities that can only be resolved in hy-hypothesis of Jewish origin.

It is indeed impossible that Freemasonry
does not have a creator, and it is impossible for this creator is not both secular and universal like its creation itself.

The Jewish people are both, and there is only one

It is impossible that this creator would not have had the ment of the creation of Freemasonry of means of communication extending everywhere and means of action embracing all regions.

The Jewish people possessed both, they
was the only one to possess them.

It is impossible for an organism which has no reason to exist
be that if it tends to establish the possibility of a Power

– 434 –

occult, was created in the absence of an organization
pre-existing secret having the means to act everywhere
without being seen anywhere.

The Jewish people owned the organization in question
and he was the only one to possess it.

Impossible that the creator of Freemasonry–
nothing was not dominated by fierce hatred and particularly tenacious against Catholicism.

The Jewish people were incited to this hatred by reasons
sounds of situation, interest and feeling.

Impossible that the creator of Freemasonry
was not surprisingly adept at lying, at ob-sequiosity, hypocrisy; impossible especially since it was not gifted with patience, subtlety and
of prodigious tenacity.

Lying, obsequiousness, hypocrisy, patience, sub-tility, tenacity, the Jewish people have been incited centuries-lies to all this by the circumstances of his life.

Finally, it is impossible for the creator of Franc-Masonry was not dominated like all the conspiracies
missed by a national or religious feeling.

The Jewish race has been dominated for eighteen hundred years by the religioso-national feeling to which she owes its persistence as a people, and this feeling has
was all the more excited the more he was contradicted,
more humiliated, more crushed by the triumph of the prince Christian cipher. This race had to take revenge against the Christian races of the indelible stain printed to his forehead by the betrayal of Judas and by the torture

the eternally conspiratorial race. So she had to throw into their midst the instrument of eternal conspiracy.

– 435 –

So, a historical cause is there: the Jewish race, which cannot fail to have produced an effect. And, moreover Besides, a historical effect is also there: France Masonry, which cannot fail to have its cause. Cause and effect stretch their arms through history, the effect requiring its cause, the cause requiring its effect. The effect resembles the cause like a son seems to his mother. Both close together, adapt, juxtapose, coincide exactly. And we refuse— would be to recognize that they belong to each other? Instead than bring them together like logic and reason want them to be, we would prefer to leave them eternally, one needs a cause, the other be its need for effect...?

Either ! But then it must be declared that logic must be systematically excluded from the subject that busy.

We say that if God gave us a reason is so that we can use it; and U.S let us proclaim as the only possible conclusion:

The occult Power which dreamed, prepared, generated Freemasonry, which spread it throughout the Christian world thanks to English politicians, who today it dominates this Christian world and entirely due to its loss, starting with the Catholic nations but reserving to end up the Protestant nations who collaborate with him, this is the SECRET GOVERNMENT OF NA-JEWISH TION.

– 436 –

But we add, in agreement with those who have believed until now in English origin, that this government secret existence of the Jewish nation is far from being alone to dispose of Masonic forces. He has competition rents and the power of these grows every day as their experience of the company grows secret.

We will soon have to consider this side of the question. tion and to note the resulting situation for We.

PART FIF

The Jewish plan. The obstacles he encounters, rsios means of combat.

CHAPTER XX

How to dream of world domination presents itself to the mind of the Jew and in what form.

WORLD DOMINATION.

So far, as the reader will recognize, all the par- parts of the thesis that we present to him are coordinated data. The work produced is related to the me- methods used These are for their part such that the organism constructed as we have it requires watch. As for the author we are denouncing, he is well, by his character, by the circumstances of his life, by his habits and his aptitudes, the one who wants slow such a work, similar methods, a such an extraordinary organism.

We nevertheless recognize that our demons- tration would remain lame if the reason why all this was done was not in agreement, it also, with the invented organism, with the character and the situation of the author of this organization, with the methods used by him and finally with the part of the work accomplished today. Our construction tion, being built on logic, must be logical to the base at the top. Without it, it collapses. We must now explain the purpose of the immense machination and this goal must be in harmony with everything else, and even that he explains it. Now, we hear an objection. "

– 438 –

So be it, we can be told. It is the Jewish race, organized internationally and secretly, who dreamed and in which moreover the rites, the formulas and the legends are Jewish, as is the way of understanding ter months and years. She proceeded to this creation by hatred of Christianity, we admit it, and with the intention of destroying it. For this she took initially attacked Catholicism by relying on Protestantism which she helped to strengthen the positions. It's logic. But with all this, where does she want to succeed? She is currently a teacher from France. His interest and his hatred are found then in conflict. His hatred must make him wish for sub-total version of the great Catholic nation. But its interest, on the contrary, is the conservation and maintenance of this nation, since it has managed to make it his property. How does she continue to have-lower, at the risk of being tempted by the bait of prey that she made so easy, the English appetite or laverocity German? Does she want the absorption of France by one or by the other of the two competitors? It would be up to him own detriment, since by taking France, it is his property that we would take. Does she want to keep her possession as is natural to any owner? So she should no longer weaken France, but England and r.Germany which become rivals for them.

1

1

– 439 –

These are the questions that must be asked before all minds.

We have no right to dismiss them without their give them the scrutiny they deserve. We ask-gifts only to answer it methodically, in order to respond with clarity. This is why we expose-let's first consider the Jewish plan, and then the very difficulties serious that begins to raise – fortunately for us – the realization of this plan.

Let's start by clarifying that the goal of the machine Masonic nation, it is not destruction, but the subjugation of the Christian world. That the Jewish occult power wants to destroy, it's only the Christian spirit. And if he wants this destruction, it is precisely because the Christian spirit constitutes the

if he destroyed the French monarchy, it is because this monarchy was the best safeguard of the France. We are starting to see it today. It was to take the soldiers prisoners who were killed their boss ; to seize the herd that was being murdered said the shepherd. Nothing is more logical than what has been done, in this as in so many other things, by the Jewish occult power. It must be said, since this is right.

– 440 –

The destruction of the Christian spirit as a means of subjugation, this is therefore the aim which is dissipated mulated under the great words of truth, light, progress. democracy. If we are more or less reluctant to accept this idea is because it is natural for us to resist to what we have not gotten into the habit of considering. The ace-subjection of a world, we say to ourselves, how can we ad-hope that such a dream could be nourished by a race, and especially by a race that has no home?

We forget that this dream was kept in the heart of the Jewish people by their religion. The Jews are waiting always their ^Messiah. While Christianity has interpreted the promises of the Bible in the ideal sense, while he considers the dominion predicted to the Mes-seated as purely moral, the Jews, on the contrary, have always understood that this domination must have a material character. They started with believe that it would one day be attributed to their race by a conquering Messiah. The idea has now re-common among them that the word Messiah must be understood taken as applying not to a son of the race of Jacob, but to this race itself, and that the conquest for the world can be done otherwise than through iron. They are now convinced that the future will triumph phator, it is the entire Jewish people, and that the messianic times are those in which this people will be gone come to set foot in any way, on the world given birth to by the Christian Messiah, the Messiah of renunciation, which held so long there reserved place veed, according to them, to the true Messiah, that is to say to them.

Does this surprise you, sovereign French people? It is

– 441 –

yet for this, and for this only, that we

The idea of world domination is not, moreover, not so outside and above human conceptions as it seems to us. More than one conqueror of the year tiquity dared to give him asylum in his mind. The people Roman realized it almost completely. It is true that the world having been fragmented by invasions barbarians, wars have been fought since then and during for centuries for the gain of some barony or of some county. However, it is still appropriate to do not forget that Charlemagne revived the dream of universal domination. After crumbling of the empire that he had constituted, it was the beginning cement of the struggle for possession of a piece of land earth. But little by little the battlefields widen girent. After the county-to-county wars, it was wars from provinces to provinces, then those of nations to nations. These are now the wars of races to races. However, once the races are present, what can they argue, if not first the preponderance, and then the sovereignty exercised over the world ? Since this is where we are right now-ment, what is extraordinary about the fact that the race Jewish intervention in conflicts? She has no homeland, we answer. What a great reason! Isn't he at contrary logic to admit that she must have thought about domination of the world before all others, precisely because she has her foot everywhere, without compoter that everywhere she holds the cords of all scholarships? We most often only think of conquering

– 442 –

what we see. It is so true that, if we except what happened in the history of marine peoples, the wars have almost always taken place for a territory tory which was within reach of the belligerents. The Jewish race is, from this point of view, in a situation very special tion. Through the eyes of his scattered sons everywhere, his gaze embraces the whole world. It is therefore she who logically, and independently of the suggestion that she received from her religion, had to, the first of all races, to make the world objet of his ambition.

It may be that this idea of world domination has not always been present in the thoughts of the conductors of Israel with the precision that it has maintained nant. In this as in everything, we believe that the things had to happen in accordance with the laws of a point of arrival and, between the two, an evolution. The starting point is the belief in a Messiah who must dominate the world for the benefit of the Jewish race, then that the Messiah whom Christians adore has, on the contrary, conquered this world to the detriment of this same race, who considers herself stolen. This belief was maintained in the soul of this tenacious people by the non-violent tradition that she encountered without ceases in the Christian world. She was strengthened by the irritation resulting from this contradiction, in the silence and the mystery of the Jewish secret societies that we have seen widespread around the world. It was not while an obscure dream, if you will; a hope comforting as is that of the celestial homeland for the Christian crowds gathered at the foot of the altars that the Jewish Messiah, the Messiah of betrayal is destroy. When, defensively, they were peacefully, the secret societies became offensive by the natural course of things, the hope of the future conquests grew exasperated. The soul of the wandering race was due to an increasingly bitter desire. A time came finally where this race surreptitiously forced the doors Christian societies which had been so long to him closed times. Then she accumulated in herself all the nationalities. Here it is now which has taken hold of the gold of the world; gold, that by means of which we does almost everything we want!... So she can to make peace or war reign between nations his will, and, in the latter case, ensure the profits of the struggle to this one or to that one, according to whether it grants or that it refuses in due time the loan of this gold. She has at the same time the leisure to corrupt, to poison-destroy the souls of peoples with impunity, thanks to press and the permanent conspiracy hidden by the so-Masonic secret society against the Christian nations here. She sees her power growing on all points of the globe, as it decreases, with the fidelity to traditions, the force of cohesion and, consequently, the resistance force of the Christian races. She's gone-All. It works everywhere. His government sees everything and is not seen. It strikes without fail, while we don't even think about defending yourself because we don't know that exists. Things being like this, it would really be necessary-that the government of the race of Judas was completely destitute from an intellectual point of view so as not to dream of the empire of a world that, thanks to the perversity that he has deployed secularly against nothing or almost nothing keeps him anymore. He's not be- care that the triumphant Messiah comes, he has come. It is the Jewish people, at whose feet they prostrate of themselves the dechristianized races and the nations dissociated. This is obviously the evolution which has taken place produced in Jewish thought.

– 443 –

Since the Jewish people knew how to preserve in their within racial selfishness to the point of making it, in the absence of any territorial homeland, a nationalism so partisan particular that no other similar example has been provided by history, not only is it explainable that its secret government dreams of subjugating itself world, but it would be unacceptable if he didn't think about it not. Having accomplished this miracle of having maintained the wandering race in loyalty to the ancient national ideal, and seeing other races, ours in the lead, consider stupidly abandoning theirs as progress, this government must logically believe itself capable, in such a state of affairs, to assure his people the rovaty of the universe.

CHARACTER OF THIS DOMINATION.

But what kind of royalty? Isn't the Jew already king and the power he enjoys is not enough for him not ?

No, because this power is not organized materially. But nothing lasts except what is organized. The Jewish occult Power knows this better than anyone.

– 445 –

that. He will therefore be worried until he has fixed his royalty by a new organization of the world.

When a tyrant gets his hands on a country, he gou- always varnishes it according to a conception which is particular and, quite naturally, this concept tion, it is the one which corresponds to his character, to his skills and means of action. The occult power Jew, who aspires to the royalty of the world, has it all natural- its particular conception of the organization of this world and he intends to replace it with those which have been carried out so far. This is still an idea that accustomed to what exists, to that in the midst of which the uni-towards has lived for so long, we are carried to believe it to be indestructible. We are wrong. During-that Rome triumphed over the peoples of which it was made her empire, she organized them in her own way. When, later, barbarians made Roman conquests

their own conquest, they overturned the order of things established by the Italian genius and put the mark everywhere of their barbarity. When Christianity finally triumphs pha in turn, he too tended to transform the societies which had already been established by the Romans and by the barbarians. It always has been and it will be always like this, because it is still, one can say,
a law of nature that the master puts his mark on on the things that depend on him. No doubt, by Therefore, let the future kings of the world throw away this here in a new mold. And there is no doubt either that their conception is that which their genius imposes on them particular ; the one that is most related to their

- 446 -

character, their aptitudes and their means of action;
the one above all which will best annihilate the possibilities of revolt of the vanquished. Their predecessors in the conquest did so; they will do the same.

The tool of the ancient conquerors was ordained force.
militarily organized. Their skills for conquest resulted from those they could have for use of this force. Their moral means of action for to make it return to its maximum, that was the feeling patriotic spirit which attaches man to the earth where he was born, as well as to the ideal of the ancestors from whom he descends.
Pro aris et focus! It was the cry of the ancient Romans.
It is quite different for the Jews who have no army.
nor territorial homeland. They do not have the means of action, nor the aptitudes, nor the character of the ancients conquerors. Consequently, it is natural that they have designed a plan of conquest other than these,
and it is no less true that they dream of another organization
sation of the world and that this organization is in outside of our conceptions.

^If they left the world as it is, that is divided into nations each having their armies, their navy, their patriotism, their border, they are constituted would thereby kill in a state of inferiority vis-à-vis
of these nations, they who have neither armies nor navies,
they who don't even understand patriotism

kings of the world as if to preserve their sovereignty neatness, they must start by destroying all the principles and all internal organizations on on which the large national organizations are based

– 447 –

current naies. No domination for them if they do not base it on this fundamental idea: demolition (the nations, which, as they now stand constituted, would not allow themselves to be absorbed.

It is from this evidence that we must understand sweat.

Demolition of nations! This is the main idea in without which there would be no Jewish kingship possible. And this is why, visibly, we are being led to this, always under the guise of progress.

But these nations will have to be replaced by something?... – ■" •■" •^'"' – '^.^^[^>î3

Without a doubt. Also there is a project of organization of the world that we have been talking about a lot for several several years, in favor of which propaganda fierce is made in the masses and towards which our current leaders are making us slide down a step which they strive to make insensible. We want talk about the socialist-collectivist organization. It is the one which is most related to the character,
the abilities and means of action of the Jewish people;
this is the one that bears the label, the trademark of this new People-King; it's her he wants to impose to the Christian world, because it is only thanks to her that he can dominate this one.

Socialist-collectivist propaganda (we use one word or the other according to what is necessary for confuse things better) is valuable for the Jewish Occult Power: that she masks it admirably-lies and at the same time is completely clean to eliminate all possibilities of resistance, because

– 448 –

that it has the effect of reducing humanity to the state of dust by dissolving the coherent blocks of which this humanity is today constituted.

Socialist-collectivist propaganda masks the Jewish occult power like the words freedom, equality, fraternity, have hidden Freemasonry from the eyes of the profane world who, in believing that they are giving themselves to a super-ideal, gave himself in reality to this hypocrite and loose association.

[1 A formula in fact summarizes the propaganda collectivist: Everything to the State.

Everything to the State! The people imagine that this means Everything to everyone! and he walks, his soul drunk with hope, the conquest of this fallacious ideal, without suspecting that the State being from now on in the hands of the Jews, everything to the State, it is already, but it will be much more in the future: all to the Jews 1

When the times come, if desired by the blinded workers, where the State having gradually taken over particular properties, all non-Jews will be de-came workers like them and dechristian workers seated, demoralized, the situation of the Jews in relation to the world thus transformed will be the following:

There will be no more nations in ancient Christianity held, that is to say more men associated by the ideal patriotic. No more groups united by religious ideals neither ; because everywhere religions will have been destroyed and in their place will reign materialism, that is to say the law of individual selfishness which is that of animals. This is where "progress" will have put us. Needs, laziness and vices will face each other very much in this state of permanent hostility which is born naturally generated, as we have shown, by the absence of religious faith, unless they are coerced by government force. But all Christian government forces will have been destroyed. Instead of what we call maintaining the nations, there will be nothing left but dust of beings dehumanized because deidealized, and by consequently bestialized. Bipedes instead of men. Primates trained to make objects of consumption and unfit for anything other than lela, if not perhaps to compose or read what will be necessary to maintain, with the universal corruption, universal impotence.

– 449 –

Gathering their needs and desires, one family will have kept, as she has done since the eighteen centuries of its dispersion, the moral bonds which have maintained in the state of a nation, of an organized body: the Jewish race. From then on, nothing could be easier for this nation than to become the owner of the mass human become herd and made again for the slavery that Christ had destroyed. The Jews are entitled to consider that, under these conditions, the superposition of their race on humanity will take place so to speak of itself, as that which took place which currently puts France under domination masonic. This having been able to take place, why couldn't the other? By this alone that we violated the laws of nature by founding a egalitarian political regime, these laws took their revenge through the establishment of domination policy of Freemasonry above the nation thus stupidly equalized. Likewise, when we will have founded an egalitarian social regime in opposition with the same laws of nature, these will take their revenge again by allowing the establishment of the Jewish dictatorship. It's simple, logical and understandable, as is simple, logical and understandable the sovereignty of a pro-owner of the cattle from which he keeps his herd. How is this owner the master, although each one of the animals that make up the herd has physical means much more powerful than his own? Quite simply because none has means, morals; because he is a man in front of cattle. So will it be with the Jewish race in the face dechristianized and denationalized Christian races seated.

– 450 –

Instead of taking on a military or political character that, the dictatorship imposed by the Jewish race will be a industrial and commercial financial dictatorship. At less for a time, it will appear the least possible. The Jews endowed the commercial world, industrial and financial of the. Limited company, thanks to the how they can hide their immense wealth. They will endow the entire Christian world with what they endowed France: with the Société Anonyme of exploitation of peoples called the Republic, thanks to which they will be able to hide their royalty.

because only in this way can it be established

– 451 –

financial, industrial and commercial royalty Jewish. But under its republican mask, this royalty—there will be infinitely more despotic than any other. It will be exactly that which man establishes on animals. The Jewish race will hold us by our belt. It will rely on a selected policy, strong—organized and so handsomely paid that it will be ready for anything as they are ready for all signatures the presidents of the Republic to whom we attribute twelve hundred thousand francs and that we choose on purpose for that. Apart from this front, nothing but workers on one side, and on the other engineers, directors, administrators. The workers will be all non-Jewish humans. Engineers, management men, the administrators will on the contrary be the Jews. We do not say: the Jews and their friends; we say the Jews; because the Jews will then no longer have of friends. And they will be right a hundred times over, in such a situation, to trust only those who will be from "the breed ". This seems impossible to us; and yet it will be done in the most natural way in the world because everything will have been prepared in the shadows, like was the Revolution. In the most natural way of the world, we say, in the sense that it will be necessary necessarily engineers, directors and administrators so that the human herd tranquil and long live, and that, on the other hand, the reorganization of the world that we will have disorganized can only be operated by those who have previously collected riches everywhere. Due to sound of this privileged situation that we leave are established for their benefit, the Jews alone will be in situation of driving everything. The people will push to the wheel to bring about this state of affairs, they collaborate—will lead to the destruction of any force other than force of the State, as long as we let them believe that the State, this state possessing everything will be them. They never stop will work towards their own enslavement that the day when the Jews will say to them: "Sorry! You do not have Not understood. The State, this State possessor of everything, this It's not you, it's us! "The people will then want to rebel. But it will be too late to prevent anything, ter, all the material springs will thereby have been broken. Herds cannot resist dogs trained to lead them and armed with strong jaws. All the working world can do is to refuse the work. Jews are not stupid enough so as not to foresee this. They will have provisions for them and their guard dogs. They will leave starvation reduce resistance. If necessary, they will not have no qualms about launching at the mutinous plebs, but disarmed, their police officers become invincible because that they will be equipped with the most advanced equipment against the helpless crowds. Don't we already have a vision of this invincibility of organized forces fighting against the multitudes?...

– 452 –

France knew it – and it forgot it! – the regime of Masonic Terror. She will know and world will experience with it the regime of Terror Jewish.

– 453 –

FACING THINGS.

PICTURE OF THE MARCH OF THE JEWISH NATION.

This is the plan dreamed of by the occult Power: establish sowing of Jewish domination over the world thanks to the organization of collectivism and under the guise of a universal Republic. It is at its realization that Freemasonry leads us.

We wouldn't have wanted to admit it ten years ago. But today, you have to tie a blindfold around your eyes which we apply symbolically to those of the profane entering Freemasonry, one must put oneself head behind a tree like the stupid other one does che not to see the march towards this state of things; steps that are regulated with habile to hide but who still lets himself see, the false French who are in government delegates of the occult Power and who accomplish towards France an infamous work of treason.

May unforeseen obstacles arise one day or the other on the road to Jewish occult Power? Null doubt. It is still a law of nature which wants it this way. Human foresight, so attentive that it shows itself tre, is always short. It creates facts whose consequences unexpectedly turn against her. Also, after reviewing the plan, we will see find, those that they themselves created. But we must not forget that we would only have no chance of saving us if we didn't have the lock level of intelligence necessary to look at things face to face, and the courage to make resolutions in result. Heaven only helps those who know how to help themselves der.

– 454 –

Until now we believed we could dispense with the manly resolutions because we have lost ourselves convinced that the collectivist regime was impossible. Let us not misunderstand: what is impossible is a collectivism such as the one we are told about usually, as explained by theorists who, deceived themselves, are responsible for deceiving the multitudes; a collectivism which would claim to put all humans without exception on a par made equal. Gela, yes, it is impossible, because the nature which has hierarchy as its law, would intervene in our disrupted societies to reestablish this law. But there is one thing that is not impossible: it is the establishment of a false organized collectivism by a family, by a caste, by a race which would put above the community for governance ner.

We cannot repeat enough that we can realize this by what is happening in our Republic. Someone who had an interest in it, – the Jew acting through the Franc-Masonry – persuaded the French people to conspire held in an egalitarian Republic. It was contrary to laws of nature. And, precisely because of this, he happened that Jews and Freemasons who had carried out their plot in the shadows, had this law of nature for accomplice, that they were able to constitute themselves in aristocracy, moreover unworthy, and establish their dominion nation, however abject it may be, on democracy life.

– 455 –

Let us not forget this terrible lesson! Being admitted that an egalitarian collectivist regime is impossible, However, given that we are pushed to do so, it happens people of the nation finally do not know how to resist through true means, it will happen, we say, that those who we give this push will manage to establish a false collectivism, a state collectivism, that is—that is to say an anonymous collectivist Republic which will put under their feet the nations that will not have been able to defend themselves against illusions.

We believed for a long time that humanity was launched in the socialist ways by a blind force, that crowds. Others have asserted that this strength gle agreed with what we call the force of things, that is to say with the laws of nature. We let us recall that the laws of nature are at the contrary to such a metamorphosis of the societies. Even with the blind force of crowds, it does not don't give in like those who lead the movement do which we are witnessing. She moves forward in leaps and bounds now given, by revolutions. Currently, on the contrary, we see the march towards collectivism settled, calculated, organized by the very people who are in power see ; we look with astonishment at the masses who, always impatient, are always restrained; We let's see the socialist newspapers maintained by gold Jewish capitalists; the leaders swapping the baggeron against the frock coat, leading an existence luxurious, with such inexplicable resources that these were the ones we saw in the eighteenth century key, in the hands of certain adventurers who were the precursors of the Revolution. It is necessary to explain query these anomalies.

– 456 –

Our thesis explains them all. She shows us the conquest and transformation of the world taking place as it is natural that they take place due to character, skills and means of action new conquerors.

We can now follow the inflexible march logically of the Jewish nation throughout the world Christian for eighteen centuries.

The dissolution of this nation should, it seems, it, be the consequence of its dispersion.

If it happened otherwise, it was as a result of the force formation of Jewish colonies into groups resistant to

to hold on, these groups were forced to close, to form secret defense societies. These companies defensive secrets have become offensive, under the suggestion of a hatred which was encountered everywhere and in everything, even in its very impotence, reasons sounds of growing up; not to mention that they could not accept the Christian triumph without accepting at the same time the erasure of their ideal. Fighting all-days in the shadows, they attacked the Christian world without him seeing where the shots were coming from. HAS barely fomented, a heresy was defeated. But as the exciting secret continued its excitations, she was replaced by another. At the same time as – 457 – .

maneuvers were carried out by masses, others, more invisible, but more formidable because of that in their effects, tended towards individual distortions duels by the introduction of certain Christians into anti-Christian Jewish secret societies, or through penetration of certain Jews into Christian societies yours like that of the Templars. After several keys to this slow work, the great tear protects aunt performs; and, this time, thanks to the preparations underground and secular, the rebels can maintain in front of those who remained faithful, everything by continuing to commend himself to Christ. There are during two Christianities present, one of which can be used in the continual attack against the other. The two Christian belligerents will take charge of reciprocally diminish their moral strength and material, and consequently to reduce the forces moral and material aspects of Christianity before the Jewish world which watches them, which excites them and whose the secret organization is perfected and concentrated more and more, while on the contrary is beginning created Christian dissociation.

But all the major Western states are Catholic. liques. Thanks to this, it could be that Christian unity yours will recover one day...

So that the struggle continues surely, so that it always becomes more and more bitter, it is necessary that large Protestant states also exist. In this way-çon, if Christian consciences one day tended to get closer, political interests intervene would argue to oppose it. The large States protect so many are founded, and divisions occur thus in all directions within the Christian world.

But the Christian spirit nonetheless remains, rampant everywhere the road to the Jew. This Christian spirit is a spirit of affirmation, and its affirmation is opposed to Jewish affirmation. This is why the Jew is always kept away, which prevents him from reaching where He tends...

It is therefore this spirit that must be destroyed. Already there breach is open. Protestantism affirms the liberty of examination. It is only necessary to insinuate that freedom must be for everyone, or it does not exist. Theory—how we can get this accepted. However, if freedom must be for all, the Jew, with his ideal, has the right to it. It seems logical. In reality, it's not, because the Jewish ideal is the destruction of the world where he wants to penetrate.

Moreover, this Jew, as a result of the difficulties of his existence, has acquired defects so hateful that the world, Catholic or Protestant, Christian or non-Christian, feels his touch dangerous. And he is, in fact, by this alone the Jewish nation is organized secretly, that the secret organization generates the lie, that lies breed deceit, hypocrisy, perfidy... It is therefore always impossible to pass!

He must therefore use these weapons that he has data, which, honed over centuries, require their use: lies, deceit, hypocrisy, perfidy. Since, for the Jew to go to this that he believes to be his destiny, it is necessary that the Christian world is enslaved, it will be; and since, for the Christian world to be enslaved, it must make a face of betrayal, we will do it to him.

We will start by ensuring the Protestant world English, that we will deceive, that we will politically corrupt—lies, who will be strung, so that he in turn deceives, he corrupts, he undermines the Catholic world.

A force, however, exists which, in itself, can nementally...

We must seize this strength. How? Coward-ter? It's impossible. Everywhere, in fact, governments ments are headed by monarchs. A monarch does not give in. Because what would he be fighting against? By what lie could make him abandon something of his power, of his sovereignty?
Monarchs are therefore, because of the interest they there are, the defenders of the Christian peoples against the Jewish businesses. Monarchies must be destroyed, first of all in the Catholic States, and replacing them
cer by forms of government such as can ensure that those who govern
never have enough to be unpurchasable.
In this respect, the republican form is perfection,
because each of those who will be called participate in sovereignty may be chosen by the Occult power so as to be nothing in itself.
It will therefore be an eminently purchasable material.
It will be even better if religious principles are destroyed in him. So it is necessary, if only to this point of view, destroy religious principles. To the

- 460 -

place of governments whose natural and necessary was to defend Christian peoples against be the enterprises of the Jew, we will thus have governments which will be completely in the hands of Jews.

That done, one last force still stands in the way of the wandering race: the patriotic feeling, in fact, remains a defense for the nations; he maintains still as best as they can, these are standing; he arms them,
moreover, while the Jewish nation is not armed.
We cannot therefore avoid destroying the feeling patriotic and with it the bodies called nations.

This time, is it over?....

No ! Ori only really destroys what we replace.
place. As national organizations no longer exist, there are others are needed; because nothing lives except what is organized.
However, it is essential that humanity lives, to
to work. Jewish royalty would only be a word if, below her, there was no tra-valiant. A new organization of the world is therefore necessary, but an organization such as the capital, that is to say in the hands of the Jews, and that it tends entirely to what he needs: the production and regulation by him of this production. It is collectivism in the form of Republic than universal.

So finally, that's done, everything is done. Consumption East ! The Jew is King! And his kingship is indestructible, because it alone is organized in the world, and because everything that was before it has been destroyed!

– 461 –

Everything is logical in this thesis. Since the first first word to the last, everything comes together in the same way most natural way. We said at the beginning that the Masonic question hid five secrets, and that the real solution to this question was that which would answer these five questions:

Who invented Freemasonry?

Why was it invented?

What is the Masonic mechanism?

What are the methods by which is implemented movement this mechanism?

What is the character of the work accomplished by the Freemasonry in our history?

However, the answers that we propose to these five questions are in complete harmony with each other.

We find ourselves in the presence of a door: that of the Masonic question, closed by a lock with five secrets. We have introduced in this series a key that we can operate in all the senses, the movement of which is not stopped by one of the secrets, and who opens the door. No other key does not fully operate the lock...

And this is why we say: The key to the question-masonic version, this is the one we use: this is the Jewish key.

the occult power

and the reasons we have not to despair.

THE WEB OF LIES AND THE RETURN OF THINGS.

Yesterday again a considerable number of French people re-disdainfully pushed the idea of a power human being capable of invisibly making one's action felt on world affairs and to have a part more or less preponderant in the direction of these.

After the demonstration made in the Occupied Power cult against France and in this work, we
We can formulate the following evidence:

The Jewish element has been maintained in the world the state of nation, as it remained in the state of race and religion. This nation has always been gou-painted like all the others; but she was loving born to govern himself secretly. A government body Jewish heritage exists in an occult state. Not alone-ment we do not see the individualities which re-present the Jewish occult Power, but we do not perceive let's not even understand the essentially Jewish part of their governing body. We did not distinguish any let us see that the part by the action of which the world

– 463 –

Christian is delivered to the Jewish world. This part is the Freemason.

So, under the Christian world, another is moving world which is enemy to him. It is as a result of the effort secular and invisible of the second that the first is di-aimed at himself and he sees his sons struggling imbecilely, under the pretext of progress, to its destruction tion.

In these conditions, should the Christian world and can he defend himself?

That he must, no doubt. He must do so all the more that he is more aware of the nobility and the necessity cited of his mission in the world.

ask about this.

All those who had to thwart machinations established on lies were able to make the observation next.

At the beginning, things always go as planned. hate liars. As new ones arise difficulties, they triumph over them by a new machine nation which consolidates the one which served them as a point of departure, and it succeeds more or less for a long time. But like each of the lies superimposed on men—primitive dream was invented to cope with the difficulty ficulty of the moment, as with this difficulty in succession others give way, as all these difficulties are forced cementally diverse and sometimes contrary, like in the long run they result from the lies themselves, the former end up finding themselves contradicted by someone new; and an hour always comes—

._ 464 —

days, for those who know how to prepare patiently and methodically only the revenges of truth, where the inventors of the web of perfidy find themselves caught in their traps.

This explains the remark made so often and with such accuracy by Drumont: that it is always days when the Jews seem most powerful that their power suddenly collapses.

This is because, due to their pre—first in the middle of the Christian world, of their weakness the origin of the dispersion, also due to their character and that of their cause, they have always been obliged to establish their offensive enterprises on the lie. This initial lie served them for a while. Then we had to add others to that one to consolidate. The complications of lies have brought contradictions and, by force of circumstances, a moment has always come when the whole plot appears rising, the heads of Christian towns have took the defensive measures required by security of these.

Alongside their ability to lie, the Jews have the ability to make them forget their former perfidies, as also to erase all historical traces. They are coming to provide remarkable proof of the latter aptitude in the Dreyfus affair where, as we roped to rest until they had obtained a judgment of the Court of Cassation established on a text of our code, falsified in the interpretation that was given to it given, but which, as it is, will become, they hope rent, historically justified all the same, well

– 465 –

qiio falsely. Historically: everything is there for them in this matter.

They are also prodigiously stubborn in recommending begin building their fortune. As they have no other way than the one we want nay, it follows that they always proceed in the same way. And this is how their story was justified so many times the observation made by Drumont.

We can believe that she is on the verge of justifying it Again.

Formidable are indeed the obstacles that lie wind currently standing on the road to Power occult and which result from his previous maneuvers. This is the reason we have to hope, despite the immensity of the dark plot hatched against us, and it is this reason that we still have to expose ser.

As we have said, the realization of a plan involving the subjugation of the Christian world, if strongly organized four centuries ago, required successive stages. We noted these.

The Jews had to start by shaking up different there are many ways in which Christianity attempts to dislocate it. quer. After the establishment of Protestantism, they had to join forces with him against Catholicism and restart the dislocation work by aiming, this time, national Catholic organizations. When they saw the English nation escape from revolutionary ideas thanks to his practical spirit who keeps ideology in politics, they had to wait tender or prepare the substitution of a rudder

30

– 466 –

They could then rely on him to attack to France, to destroy the political organization of this one, to give him one according to his views, and to assign management of affairs to men the spirit of which they had seized, thanks to the education they had given them through mediator of secret societies.

Such a sequence of ideas seems to us to be prodigious, to us who no longer have any.

Not so prodigious as that! Our external policy has it not been a policy followed, too, in times when, the Jews being held in check by our leaders, were we really a nation? The Bour- Didn't the good ones have a secular objective? It's necessary see the adversary as he is; but we must not see smaller than we were...

Attacking France once the government Protestant established in England, it was ideal! We were for this last nation the rival whose one day she had almost become his prey. -We were also the nation that it must have been particularly easy to deceive with lies, precisely because of its natural frankness and generosity, susceptible get carried away with empty formulas, because of their need to dedicate oneself, to the point of becoming the worker unconscious of his own destruction. Our qualities same, the nobility of our nature - because we planes 1 - could be used for our ruin, provided that they were handled with hypocrisy and cynicism that was appropriate. It had to be enough, for drag ourselves to this point, to seize what-some of the ideas imprinted on our souls by centuries of Christian culture, to distort them whatever only a little, to give them to us as news, thanks to these makeups in which the Jew excels to make new with old or old with new depending on its interest of the moment, and to inscribe them on our flags in some of these formulas including the resounding moral sound should produce on our souls the effect what does the sound of the drum produce on our nerves... Thanks to this, the nation which justified this word: Gesta Dei per Francos! had to justify this other: Gesta judaeorum per Francos!

- 467 -

see Jewish national occult succeeded so completely that he could wish for it. All that could do obstacle among us to Jewish domination is currently slightly overturned. Our political traditions are being destroyed killed and our religious traditions violently torn cherished by the soul of the race without the latter, deprived of its guides and its natural defenders, know how to resist ter to the operator. Political discipline being broken, it happens that Catholics no longer get along and that most of them surrender themselves to their enemy. Some preach acceptance of facts; others partial acceptance of opposing ideas. Some many are enthusiastic about an ideal made up of illusions democratic res that is suggested to them, without them know it, by the enemy, and who is destined to me— where the false ideal of 1789 led the Catholics what then. Everywhere, therefore, in some form or under another, it is the inability to fight, or the renunciation, when it is not with open arms to the enemy. Here and there, it happens that the patient cries, gestures, like this or like that; but he is re— led to complete impotence. In place of the religion of the ancestors, they managed to make us accept ter a devastating materialism, which would be enough for him alone in rendering us incapable of resistance. Instead of the head of the nation who had an interest in saving guardian of the community, since without it he would not have been nothing, a government was given to us, originally revolutionary ine, that is to say proceeding from the Pou— see Jewish occult, being able to expect nothing but from him, and who, dominated by the reigning abjection, abjection which he also helped to spread, can no longer think only of pleasing the master. And it was fatal that things reached this point, as soon as we had deprived France of its leaders. Nation capable of everything, provided it is conducted; unable to on the contrary, be careful when she is without a guide. From this point of view, the Jew has made his calculation well. He knows— It was enough to cut off the heads of our royalty so that in place of this fallen head, he would no longer have than to ask his own. Because we need one, whatever let it be, by the will of nature.

– 468 –

Everything therefore seems irremediably accomplished.

Wait though! Because inside like outside circumstances arise from which we can these circumstances were created by the occult Power himself. They are the consequences of maneuvers to which he was obliged to surrender for us fell. This is how the justice of God !

– 469 –

THE SITUATION OF JEWISH OCCULT POWER Inside.

First inside, here's what luck is results for us from the situation; luck which produced for the first time in two hundred years.

As we have said, Freemasonry is a specially constructed and organized company to maneuver, not in the domain of facts, but in that of preparation for the facts. In others terms, it is an education company, and not a society action city. Its mission is to distort the intelligences, to throw individuals out of common sense, then let them act at their own risk and risks. This is how in 1789, when she had put the Revolution in progress, she closed her lodges. She tries way to leave the Freemasons free from ransacking, pillage, steal, destroy everything and corrupt at will. It is no longer the same today of today. Freemason politicians have not been left free as in 1793. We have seen that they are held in bondage by the occult Power which obliges you to attend lodge meetings and apply the policy dictated to them. It's in history of Freemasonry a new fact of which we explained the reason and from which we can draw a huge advantage. Here's why.

– 470 –

We understand that if Freemasonry faded at the time of the Revolution, it was that Power The occult wanted it to be this way.

Why did he want it?

He had two reasons for this.

not to say it, were constituted to teach, to prepare, not to act. Their organization allowed them one of the two roles, and not the other. But in their womb men had been formed that their temperament and their situation made specific to the action. They had been attracted on purpose in Freemasonry; they had replaced the philosophers, the dreamers of progress, who had themselves succeeded the Freemasons "fearing God and faithful to their prince "from the first era—that.

These men of action, once suggested by "the apostles and sub-apostles" of the Occupied Power cult, had drawn from the suggested principles the conclusions dictated to them by their ambition and temperament. is lying. They were, as we have said, like dogs trained for the hunting of a certain game, which, once once on the trail of this one, they rush furiously—is lying.

If we had kept them in a lodge, they would have been embarrassed by the Freemasons of the second layer again numerous, "the philosophers, the dreamers of pro-sandstone)), theorists of destruction, but not destructive by taste. It was a reason, then that the action was decided, so that the meetings could onics ceased to take place and for them to be feels replaced by club meetings. He is \Tai that everyone feeling free created their own: the moderates, the theorists on one side; the violent and destructive tors of the other. But these, helped underhand from the beginning with the occult Power, must inevitably prevail over those.

— 471 —

The occult Power still had to do this another reason of great importance: it was the be-care where it was that Freemasonry was not compromised. 11 foresaw possible failures, instructed by the accident that happened to Illuminism. He will-milk that in the event of failure the Masonic association could start to engage in propaganda work again for which he had created and specially organized it. The best way to achieve this result was that she does not act.

The consequences of this approach were promised in fact, although it had nevertheless been denounced by some writers. But on the other hand, the dogs, once outside the Masonic kennel, do not obey more than their temperament and the fury with which we had animated them. When they started to bite, they only knew how to do that. They moreover said to each other, and so furiously that they destroyed the cadres of the army of Power occult. At the same time, they inspired France the horror of the regime which gave such results, after that it had been announced as being that of the freedom, equality and fraternity. They returned

– 472 –

thus the inevitable reaction. Now this reaction, this will be a setback of almost eighty years for the Occult power. This one, in fact, should no longer re-become master of France only after the fall of the Mac-Mahon's rechal.

During this long space of time, he had not yet stopped working to regain the lost situation. We showed that he had almost succeeded in 1848 and in 1870-1871. But barely in power, he saw himself forced to let go of its prey; and it had been, in both circumstances, because France had been seized with fear, just by seeing again Masonic kennels these terrible rabid dogs whose it had remained in terror since 1793.

The occult Power was thus led to consider that the method he had used until then was bad and that as a result, instead of letting go pack, he had to keep her on a leash at all times. "Lent, but surely! » such is the watchword of-then 1871. And this is why, while, in the previous revolutionary periods, the Freemasons were more or less abandoned to themselves, we see them today, although occupying power, at the same time frequent the lodges and obey the orders dres that they receive there in the form of suggestions to which they are forced to obey because "we keep them by their own interest. So that in reality, this it is not they who govern as they governed the Freemasons of 1793 are Freemasonry. The occult Power thus manages to control even its most ferocious mastiffs. This is what we see it been doing for twenty-five years. He gives instructions to pickers who hold them and to the huntsmen who conduent. He subsidizes everyone, always ready to take the bread out of their mouths if they do not know how to rig their animals. He thus suspends on our heads a revolution of which he promises every day the "big evening" to those who dream of it; but he puts all his efforts to prevent expensive to burst out, for fear of the reactions of which he kept the memory. It is in detail that he carries out the destruction of everything by which life is maintained within our nation, in an almost invisible and senseless waysible, as the transitions are skillfully managed, the occasions and pretexts are so well chosen.

So no violent revolution, and therefore no reaction to fear: this is the benefit of mecurrent method for occult Power.

But, like all things in this world, me-method whose advantage we have just pointed out also has its disadvantages. Here's how.

The occult Power has not managed to make itself master of France only because we were unaware of its existence
tence and its action. The secret of this existence and this action kept at least until there have no more possible resistance for us, that's the stupidity declaration of his victory. The day this condition does not would be more fulfilled, all the advantages he has conquered would find themselves compromised. Now, by this alone
the occult Power caused political and direct action
ment Freemasonry, it allowed us to sur-catch her in flagrante delicto, to bring her into tradition with herself, to make her seen as she is

- 474 -

is, a liar and a hypocrite. She who said she was so beautiful, so pure, she is forced to show her grimace-ghastly and hideous. The anti-masons managed to enlighten a certain part of the public, to worry another one. Much better ! Thanks to common sense and logic which are the master qualities of the mind French, here is the nation which begins to doubt ter that behind the Masonry, there must be something something that is hidden. It's the last thing to-what the occult Power should have expected.

On the other hand, Freemasonry was organized

is currently being pulled out of this shadow, we must that she maneuvers in another environment for which it was not constituted: that of full light. The consequence is a considerable reduction strength for her. We don't notice it again, because she is mistress of everything. Speed acquired pushes and supports it. But the laws of nature are there. An hour will come which may not be not very far away, where it will suffice that finally instructed by our previous defeats we know how to fight, to that the immense machination collapses.

We must therefore consider it a victory extremely important from the point of view of the results future states, the fact of standing there unmasked before us, not only Freemasonry, with its corrosive of which we did not want to believe, but still this Jewish national occult Power which, to remain invisible, has continued to accumulate the most cynical lies and the most shameful hypocrisies.

– 475 –

This initial victory and which will lead to others, lost to the anti-Masons, and to them alone, that France must. To obtain it, we can say that they had to combat not only the enemy, but everyone, often including their friends; and they nevertheless N aincu. We say it, because it matters, for the following the campaign, that the yield value of [i]ocedes employed until this day is known. That we dismiss the men who used them, so be it! It's suwind how things happen and you have to know admit it. But at least we keep the methods which have proven themselves.

ANOTHER CONSEQUENCE OF POWER MANEUVERS

OCCULT. CREATION OF OTHER POWERS

OCCULTS WHICH COUNTERACT THE FIRST.

When the Jewish occult power founded France Masonry, he found himself in necessity, as well as we explained it, to have recourse to the English as intermediaries. He was obliged to deliver to them part the secret of the organism of destruction which would be introduced, thanks to them, into the Catholic world lique. English statesmen understood the usefulness through which it was possible for them to re-spread in the Catholic nations the ideas which were going to be for these at least seeds weakening. This is why, seeing only the interest of their country, and forgetting that of Christianity, they applied themselves to spreading this Freemasonry universal, fraternal in appearance, but English in fact, which they were told about. We explained how, without them being able to suspect it, societies Jewish secrets possessed the means to put si-carefully hand over the boxes, through the intermediary diary of the Christians they had affiliated, and included the occult Jewish Power, unknown then to the politicians English tics, was thus able to convey his inspirations tions in the lodges founded by them. We have also showed why these inspirations were forced-ly favorable to English policy, for this reason alone that they tended to decrease the French force that's it. However, it happened that at certain times, the in-Jewish interest was not absolutely confused with Jewish interest. English rêt. For example, English politicians had to note the disappearance of French lodges during during the Revolution, which deprived them of the means that they believed they had to lead this Revolution. Later, they saw part of the mason forces-French niques escape them under the first Em-worse.

– 476 –

They were prompted by these circumstances and by a a certain number of others, to be taken up secretly, at within Freemasonry, a certain organization tion that they had necessarily neglected due to their inexperience at the time of the constitution of lodges: that which tends to the transmission of suggestions. By giving themselves to this work of constitution, they had in short provided the Jewish occult Power with the means of action within Christianity similar to those that the creators of certain materials provide to masonry

i

– 477 –

some secular groups. The circumstances of which we we just spoke did not perhaps reveal to them in-lore the existence of this occult Jewish Power, but they

Lianism did not work in a way that made everything
rc that they had expected, and that was enough to (if they had the desire to remedy what they believed (Ire an imperfection of the organism.

How? In the hidden world the processes in such cases are necessarily little varied. An-Irish could only create Masonic groups
new ones responsible for spreading into those that exist
were already advantageous suggestions to the Angle-earth. It is also that at different times, and according to this as circumstances required, currents were created or fortified within Freemasonry, after certain disappointments resulting for the English from Jewish maneuvers.

A new situation, fraught with consequences, has was the consequence of these repeated attempts. For fully realize this situation,
we must consider the way in which such operations.

Suppose that an English politician, initiated to high masonry, therefore knowing the way the body functions and making itself taking into account what we should draw from it, notes that certain ideas disadvantageous to English influence are widespread in Masonic groups or in some of them. He shares his observation tion to some of his English co-initiates including

– 478 –

he thinks he is sure. Secret meetings are established feels. Those who are called to take part in it for-will start by simply deciding that they are will individually plead to circulate other ideas within the lodges. But if they notice that their effort remains powerless, they are led to organize counter-propaganda, and for that to create a Franc-Special masonry (foundation of lodges, workshops priors, federations, even rites) which will play within universal Freemasonry, depending on the needs, the role that the lodges play within of the secular world. Thus can be established a new center of inspirations that is to say another Occult power which, without directly defeating the first, of which he perhaps has neither the knowledge
nor intuition, at least serves another interest.

everyone, of course! But they are not imposed sible to those who represent a national idea or an idea religious, or both at the same time, as is the case for English politicians. They will be considerable ment facilitated if the initiators of these kinds of movements have a great situation, diplomatic relations and influences, and also powerful financial resources.

It is impossible for English politicians to disciples and successors of those through whom the Jews made carry out niaconic plantations in the different rents Christian countries by persuading them that this operation could only be favorable to England, it is impossible, we say, that these policies an-

- 479 -

clay have not been led to constitute a Pousee occult English politics maneuvering for its account, under the conditions that we have just stated,
am within the immense Masonic agglomeration.
The Jewish occult Power had no trouble, as we think, to notice it. He had it all easy for this, he who held all the threads and who had a much greater experience in handling companies superimposed secret tees. But he couldn't object to English maneuvers only in a certain way sure, dominated as he was by the need not to discover. This is how the secret, the cause of its strength, can become, in accidental cases, the cause of its failure hurt. It is often impossible for him to act as he would like, precisely because it must remain occult.
^As long as his immediate objective was the ruin of the catholicism and Catholic nations, this objective is found moreover served in a certain way by the English occult power. The main concern
The first must therefore always have been to penetrate place its creatures within groups constituted by the second, to be informed about them, to counter-swing their power, to have in their direction
tion a certain part, to neutralize in the me-
sure as possible those of their tendencies which he judged dangerous for him. Sometimes it happened that he believed having to oppose these kinds of creations of others creations of the same kind; and we can meet to take into account what these Freemasons are regular or irregular payments, including free ma-
We hear talk without understanding anything, so what Taveu the F.- naively made of it. Limousin in this speech to the Statistical Society of which we have discussed in our previous work. Who pronounces regularity? Why do we pronounce it? It's that that are ignored by the poor sheep of Panurge who are Freemasons, even high-ranking ones, like the one whose name we have just mentioned. (It's thirty-third!) We can consider that the irregularity, pronounced as it is most often by we don't know who, in the name of we don't know what, is a kind of excommunication launched by the representatives of that of the two occult Powers who worries when that he sees being created within Freemasonry a new organization against which he defends himself as he can. An example of this kind of struggle is it offered at the moment by the so-called reorganization of spiritualist Freemasonry, reorganization which has as its basis the excommunication launched being the Grand Orient of France, the main agent in the work of disorganization of which France is the victim time? It's possible. But it is also possible that this is only a maneuver tending to deceive the public by removing one of the parties ties of the Masonic organization on which the profanes have managed to throw too much light, and whose maintaining it would be compromising for the whole.

In any case, after almost two centuries of operation development of Freemasonry throughout the world Christian, we must take for certain that this so-secret society has been seeing for a long time now, at least two influences moving within her, – without counting others which could unite or which could arise, – and that if governments are not careful, they will soon be our European world as it is of the Chinese world, where public life is only the main celebration of the struggles of different secret societies who cross, mingle, collide and argue by trickery all influences. Such a state of affairs must happen. It is fatal. If it does not yet exist Therefore, it will necessarily be created one day or another; or rather we walk there every day. The occult in fact cannot fail to engender the occult.

The only resource we have left to prevent

Force of circumstances, the European governments which have benefited the most from Masonic action will start and even already begin to feel that this action becomes dangerous for them.

CONSEQUENCE OF THIS STATE OF THINGS IN THE CURRENT INTERNATIONAL POLICY.

The Jewish Occult Power could only feel strong little bothered by the English attempts, as long as he had for the sole immediate objective of destroying the Catholicism and the weakening of Catholic nations. However, the collaboration of Protestantism and of Judaism resulted in a complication unexpected.

The Catholic nations were indeed inferiorized as desired by the Jewish occult Power. But due to its from the experience that some of its political men

– 482 –

ticks have managed to acquire in the handling secret societies, England saw its power policy to increase in such proportions that it came to form the dream of establishing its imperialate on the world. As of now, she's on the right track. to achieve this goal, and magnificently armed for it succeed. It has colonies and support points. then over the entire surface of the globe. We speak his language everywhere. She constituted the most formidable marines. Where are the obstacles that his ambition? It is no longer in Catholic countries reduced to impotence by the collaboration of efforts Jews and Protestants. It is, in part, in Germany-gne, where the force of things has created an invincible need expansion. But it is even more in the Jewish race because this one also aspires, and for more for a long time, under the scepter of the world. The two ambitions, English and Jewish, tend to the same goal; it is therefore inevitable that they become enemies. Those of French people who are used to linking effects to causes can already emerge on many points, in France, the manifestations of enmity from now on existing bond between the Jewish force and the An-clay. '=]

The play of circumstances has made our country is one of the theaters of the struggle which begins in-being the two former allies who have become adversaries. These cessation of their policy did not oblige the Power Jewish national power and the English national power to conceal address the antagonism that divides them. They could not in fact know

– 483 –

let him see without risking discovering too soon to the world the object of their ambition and the perverse way of which they both used the Masonic organization—fuck against the Catholic nations. But, from now on Now, hostility exists between them. Let us add that this hostility can only get worse, because the system of domination of one excludes that of the other be.

We have shown which is the one to which must logi—how tender the Jewish genius. This is the collective diet tivist, by which humanity would be divided into two classes: that of workers who would understand everything what is not Jewish, and that of the administrators who would be recruited exclusively from among those who considered to be the chosen people, the people Messiah. This is how currently in France, thanks to the effort of the Jewish occult Power, there already exist two classes from a political point of view: that of the French non-Judaizing and that of the French Judaizing; those—here possessing all the privileges; those having the right to all persecutions.

The suppression of nations, as we have said, is the necessary condition of this organization of the world.

English politicians have a completely different concept. tion: that of the imperialate. As their scepter expands, they do not destroy the nations they con—who ask. They simply attach them by some links establishing subordination. They leave sub-support the political organizations they meet in the countries of which they become masters. Or if they destroy them, they hasten to replace them with others. But above all, they want administrators autonomous actions to which they are content to do recognize the supremacy of the metropolis and that they apply themselves to discipline by creating in each that people are proud to be counted among the members of the empire.

– 484 –

Such a system is incompatible with the system Jewish. And this is why, from now on, the Occupying Power Jewish worship must oppose English power.

This antagonism which, without us realizing it we were disappointed, dominates the current political situation, is complicated by that which exists between England and Germany.

In the past, the Jewish occult government could bring together all the Protestant forces against the Catholic nations. It is no longer so now, and it's his fault. He decided at a certain point that it was not enough against Catholic France of a great Protestant power, and he set up another in front of us, continental like us. He created, for this reason, the German Empire, of which he gave the scepter to Prussia. He even made us work on this creation, by suggesting to us the theories of the "principle of nationalities" and by encouraging us so much to put our armies at the service of this principle. We know what it cost us. But the Jewish occult Power had not foreseen that a day would come when this principle of nationalities which gave birth to a second great power European Protestant society, would place it at the taken with the first. This day has come, and the consequence is that the combined effort of our former ad-Protestant versaries find themselves divided.

- 485 -

As England aspires to the establishment of its supremacy over the world, Germany is obliged to nourish an ambition no less lofty, under penalty of let yourself be overtaken by your rival.

There are therefore three of them, at present, to continue the achievement of the same goal: the eldest, the Jew; the youngest, English; the latest born, the German. Three who had once the same dominant thought: our abasement sement, and who were united because of this against We ; three who, today, no longer think about that first, because each of them is obliged, before everything, not to let his two ri-worth.

The Jew - that is to say the true occult Power, then - that we do not even know that it exists in the state of nation,

Jew exercises by the irresistible power of money and by its ubiquity an immense influence in the world entire. Furthermore, he gained a foothold on one point of this world: the one that until now was called France; where he became almost the master; where it is hardly understood beaten, alas! by French influences; where he is currently held in check only by the influence of an clay. The Jew has an interest in sitting down more completely still his domination among us, and for this, to complete the destruction of the last organic forces nization that remains to us in the religious domain, in the moral domain, in the domain of ideas patriotic and also in that of political institutions ticks and social. He would like to achieve the organization collectivist, but he is obliged to want this organization takes place smoothly, without revolution, because after 1793, 1848 and 1871 he knows what inconsistencies fearsome men can emerge from a revolution, sur- everything now that it is guessed. 11 therefore no longer has only one weapon against us: corruption in all genres, so that our irremediable inability to follow attitude to resistance. And we can see from what- what years if he knows how to use it!

– 486 –

But at the same time he must also ensure that that France, its possession, is not attacked by its overly powerful neighbors. He has three reasons to re- doubt a war in which fatal intervention would occur England. First because of the unknown that it can open and which is also formidable for him as that of revolutions. Secondly, everything pecuniary nature of France would now be at its detriment lies, since it belongs to him. Finally, that the An- Whether the German is victorious, it is always one of his rivals who becomes even more powerful. But he now finds that both are already too much... It is therefore necessary that while disarming ourselves, mutilating us and devirilizing us, he prevents Germany attacks us or England does not leads us. He hopes to get there, thanks to what a war requires enormous sums and these sums mes, we can no longer obtain them except by contacting to him.

For its part, England, which had everything to gain formerly to our material and moral weakening is interested today in preventing both.

If it has no need for our navy in the state where is reduced, it cannot do without our ar-against Germany. Didn't she need it?
that she cannot at least desire that, in the case where it attacks the German navy, impedes it ur Guillaume took compensation for our destruction is lying. Assuming that she was insensitive to the dis-being from which we would suffer, it would not be growth in the territorial power of its rival.
As for our moral weakening, it smacks too much now that it is the condition and the mark of action
growth in power of its other rival: the Pousee Jewish occult.

Finally, as far as Prussian Germany is concerned-sure, it is with her as with England. Her thought dominant is no longer the lowering of France or the absorption of some of the provinces thereof.
"Germany's future is at sea," according to the words of Guillaume. His dominant thought today today is the fight against England. She is obligated able, as we said above, to follow his economic rival on all grounds, and to dream, it too, a world supremacy. Germany is therefore now an enemy of English power. But she also has to reckon with Jewish power. This last cannot desire too great an increase of the German force, for the same reasons which raise fears of the development of the English force. There German supremacy would involve the maintenance of a political organization which would obstruct the realization tion of Jewish plans. On the other hand, Germany does not cannot desire the increase of Jewish power whose collectivist system would be the ruin of his own.

Consequently, it no longer has the same interest to the moral degradation of France because this moral degradation, it is, as we said all at the time, the mark and condition of domination
Jewish in our country.

Thus, while formerly the Jewish power, the power English power and German power had always your three for dominant thought the lowering of the France, currently the national occult power

German ; England fears the increase in German or Jewish power; and Germany fears the increase in Jewish or English power. And as the Jewish occult Power is installed among us, as he made France his prey, it's on us that the thoughts of the three adversaries necessarily converge. We feel the advantages of a government truly national could benefit from such a situation.

In the state of helplessness to which we have been reduced thirty years of Masonic government, our chance of salvation results, as we see, from the opposition of the three rival ambitions. And, like two of these ambitions grew thanks to the maneuvers to which the Jewish occult Power engaged against us, it turns out that it is this occult Power which, in his determination to annihilate the French forces, has contrived the circumstances by which he is prevented to definitively place his scepter on us.

– 489 –

It is always like this in human affairs. However strong, however skilled we may be, there is one thing that we will always remain powerless to prevent: it is the emergence of the distant consequences of our actions. It is not only true that every effect has its cause, it is also true that every effect becomes a cause, and that this cause, in turn, wants to produce its effects...

CHAPTER XXII

Conditions of Salvation.

WHO SHOULD WE RELY ON?

As the reader may have noticed, this are always deductions or inductions based on positive facts presented to him in this work and in the one that preceded it.

In all circumstances, after having noted that such and such a fact existed, we said to ourselves that this necessarily entered into the immense sequence of causes and effects according to which the Creator has determined rolled his creation. Therefore, we did not found the right to consider him in isolation its cause and its consequences.

We will be careful not to forget this method at the time we have arrived from our study. SO that it is a question of releasing the duties to be accomplished—to which the salvation of France is attached, it would fit, it seems to us, that the role of the author found himself reduced to that of the piece of chalk which trace on the board the formulas imposed by the givens born from the problem. It is not a question here, in fact, of see what this or that person thinks, but what says the logic of the facts. It is from her that we owe inspire us if we want to take up the fight under conditions favorable to France.

— 491 —

We find ourselves in the presence of a situation: that which we have endeavored to bring out obscurities heaped upon it centuries ago. This Can the situation be resolved? How? Such is the problem which we have the duty to seek and to present the solution in the most impersonal way. as possible, without taking into account any our interests, neither our ideas, nor our feelings, if necessary by bumping into them.

It is certain that the salvation of France is not something beyond human possibilities.

But to be able you have to want. The wishes French women will they want? That's another question.

Whatever happens, we will fulfill our duty by posing the data of the problem.

The Judeo-Masonic question is not only a French question; this is a global issue

Therefore, it is necessary to examine what we have to wait from outside.

An observer who, to judge the affairs of this world, could place itself outside and above the human atmosphere, sheltered from the passions which shrink, would be led to conclude that England and Germany have serious responsibilities towards vis-à-vis France and that they owe it more than relief: repairs.

The degradation in which these two nations have put in fact nothing comparable to those that we once inflicted on them in certain circumstances—tances, and that in others, they have given us back.

– 492 –

It was then loyally, under the open sky, that between they and we engaged in combat; for ambitions that are often illegitimate, it is true, rather than for needs whose satisfaction was a necessity imperious; but at least outside of any collaborating with those who have shown themselves so far the bitter enemies of Christianity.

It is no longer the same today. What characterizes erizes the current fortune of England and that of Germany, it is in fact that both were acquired, in part, thanks to certain means that re-violently prove morality and Christian brotherhood here.

Before attacking France on the battlefield, nation daughter of Christ like them, their eldest, they began by weakening him by slipping treacherously in the veins the virus whose corrupting action trice had to give them the advantage. That is to say that before fighting with iron, they resorted to poison. Before the face of Eternal Justice, may can they say to themselves that in doing this, they acted loyally? courageously and courageously?

Let us add that the Masonic virus, by this alone that he was a corrupter, was essentially anti-Christian here. It is in fact by destroying Christian teaching I think he weakened France. This therefore does not have been hit alone; Christianity was with her. This is sufficiently demonstrated today. And such a work was accomplished by the pro—hypocritical and cowardly cedes of an association resulting Jewish secret societies!

– 493 –

Just like Judas entering the Garden of (Jh—viers went as a friend towards the One he delivered, France Masonry also became a friend among the na—

Protestants, that is to say by Christians!

The basis of England's current fortune and of Germany, there is therefore a felony not only against France, but against Christianity, and a felony undertaken by the English rulers and others we demand to half reckon with the enemies of Christ.

These reflections, if I were an English or German Christian mand, would lower my pride somewhat.

France has no such crime to reproach itself with towards England or Germany. It's for- which we are justified in saying that, victim of re maneuvers, she would be entitled on their part to relief and repairs.

But it is easier to conceive what would like justice than seeing it realized.

We must therefore not deceive ourselves. It's not of the English or German repentance that we have to hope for salvation. Happy should we be esteemed if the rulers of England and Germany managed to willing to break the bonds by which the occult Power has endeavored to envelop them, if they realize of the dangers faced by their people and if they understand the need for a general Christian alliance to prevent the leaders of the anti-Christian nation to carry out their plan for world domination.

– 494 –

Perhaps Edward VII and William II who means of information that we do not have, are they much more concerned about this issue than we imagine. But due to the actions of their predecessors and theirs, they are obliged, if they harbor such concerns, to hide them. In the current state of the world, they could not take measures against France-Masonry and against the Jews if their people were not on this in complete agreement with them. But the Euro nations have been maintained until now in the most complete ignorance of the Judeo-Masonic question. They are still where the unfortunate queen was Marie-Antoinette, in 1787, when, in a letter which she addressed to her sister, she praised this Freemasonry which was preparing to martyr her morally and physically in the most in-

tion...

So we only have to rely on ourselves.
However, we must not forget the situation that we indicated in the previous chapter, if-killing which puts the English and German rulers and Jews in such a posture towards each other that the latter are now unable to maneuver freely against us.

This is enough for us to organize our defense.

– 495 –

THE TACTICS COMMANDED TO US

BY THE SITUATION OF OCCULT POWER.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN

THE, POLITICS AND THE CREATION OF A STATE OF MIND.

the state of mind that prefers for us the occult power.

How should we understand this defense?

We must ask the facts.

There is one that first presents itself to the mind, and which carries within it the indication of the process of struggle truly appropriate to the circumstances. It's This one : the occult Judeo-Masonic Power based its domination on a state of mind that he began with establish.

From which results this consequence:

As long as the state of mind in question reigns, the Power occult seeing will retain its power; or if he loses it said accidentally as it happened to him afterwards the first Empire, he would reconquer it as he do.

On the contrary, if we could remove this state of spirit, the occult Power no longer having support would collapse like a statue whose base falls apart. would lie beneath her.

tie if it were not complicated by the fact that the state of mind created by the occult Power had for consequence the establishment of certain states of affairs political and religious. Therefore the question arises delicate question among all which it stands

– 496 –

childish act of passing by with averted eyes: salvation of France demands the destruction or does he allow acceptance of these states of affairs?

As the latter are the consequence of the state previously created mind, it is logical that we we took care of this one first.

Can you destroy a state of mind? Secondly, which is exactly the one to whose destruction it would it be about working?

The first of these two questions arose before the disciples of Christ when it comes to them to found the Church. They had to destroy a mindset. They wanted ; and they could.

She also posed herself in front of the occult Power when he formed the plan to enslave the Christian world. He too wanted to, and he could.

The destruction of a state of mind is therefore a thing possible. But you have to want; and to want you have to know. We thus find ourselves brought back to the second question: what exactly is the state of es-taken for the destruction of which there is reason to work?

It is still up to the facts to inform us.

They show us that the state of mind created by Occult power is that which has been prepared by the philosophers of the 18th century, propagated by libels spread in profusion, and which resulted in the revolution. This is the anti-traditional mindset-list.

Religious antitraditionalism and antitraditionalism politicalism, this is the great characteristic of – four hundred ninety seven –

to kill France. It is a fact.

From this, a consequence emerges:

This is because if we work to spread the anti-political traditionalism, or antitraditionalism religious, that is to say anti-monarchism or anti-Catholicism, we work in the direction desired by the enemies of France. If, on the contrary, we tra-let's spread one of the two traditionalisms, we oppose the views of these enemies; and U.S we oppose it even more directly if we sounds propaganda that is both monarchist and Catholic lique.

Please note: we are speaking in this moment of propaganda and not politics. It is extremely important to distinguish between both.

Indeed, politics is not a simple matter of principles ; it is, like medicine, a science at the same time as an art of adaptation. It requires site of fixed principles and variable tactics se-according to the cases.

Doesn't it happen every day that due to the general condition of a patient, his doctor cannot to absorb the remedy that the disease calls for?

This is why it is so important to distinguish between politics and state of mind. This is what makes the occult Power.

If there can be discussion between traditionalists fighting, some for Catholicism only, the others for Catholicism and monarchism,

– 498 –

there is no doubt that in principle all propaganda anti-Catholic or anti-monarchical is consistent with the general views of the Jewish occult Power, since this this can only achieve its goal after deletion complete of all traditionalism in us, including the idea of Homeland.

This is the observation that we should always days to be present to the thought, because it is the flame beautiful likely to light our way in the

on the determination of their true duties.

Whatever politics we believed in better to rally together, we should never forget that politics and state of mind are different things related and that the state of mind loved by the Occupying Power cult enemy of France and Christianity, it is anti-Catholicism and anti-monarchism; while at contrary to the Catholic and monarchical state of mind at the same time is particularly abhorrent to him, because that it constitutes – provided that it is illuminated by the study of the Judeo-Masonic question – an obstacle impassable key to his secret ambition.

THE RELIGIOUS QUESTION.

This is, moreover, so obvious that the agreement would be relatively easy on this subject between French truly devoted to the public safety, if they do not find themselves were grappling with the difficulties of political action litical.

These difficulties result not only from the state of spirit created by the occult Power, but also and sur-all of the states of affairs established consecutively to this state of mind.

– 499 –

Here are the indications provided to this respect by the study that we are completing.

From a religious point of view, the state of things created by the occult Power, it is a war to the death on the Catholicism and its replacement by religion the most bestial terialism.

We have shown for what purpose materialism was preached. The Jewish Occult Power regards it with reason as if destined to finish us off.

As for the war declared against Catholicism, what what legitimizes it? Nothing. On the contrary, everything should forbid it to us if the occult Power had not reached to make us a sick people, a mad people.

Indeed, it is not only in the name of the berte, as some say, that Catholicism

To deny him simple tolerance is to humiliate unfairly.
its cause. This must be argued by higher and infinitely honorable reasons. The ca-Catholicism has titles which assure it the right
not only to life, but also to respect for all men and French people in particular. Here in three words the sublime role he played: he resurrected humanity after it had been submerged
by barbarism; he gave him a soul; and he built France. And it's not in "the dawn of time" that these glorious and unforgettable services were rendered owed by him; it's out in the open. These are his titles.

— 500 —

The Jewish Occult Power wants the death of the Catholic cism. We cannot not oppose this attack, this monstrous crime against the ideal,
against reason, against the country, against humanity.

Does this mean that we all had to go back to being believers and practitioners? This is not done at the com-mandate; not even at the command that we would give to oneself. Wounds leave scars trices. But we are wounded.

But there is one thing that is possible, provided that we
there remains some feeling of justice and a little intellectual lucidity: it is that we become again
defenders of Catholicism, that is to say of the state of Christian spirit, including the essential and noble idea of discipline. Or we will be these defenders or else we will be the serfs of the Jews. These latter have done so well that the religious question arises
us in these simple terms: or Christ, or Judas! Would we want to escape?... Impossible!
The logic of facts surrounds us every day in-advantage: if we do not have the courage to choose,
she will choose for us. Or Christ, or Judas!

THE POLITICAL QUESTION.

THE FORM OF GOVERNMENT WE DO NOT WANT

THE OCCULT POWER.

HOW ARE YOUR PREFERENCES REGULATED IN THIS MATTER.

We must finally arrive at the examination of the state of political things. This is where our national organization

nal presents the most painfully sensitive points sible. The Jewish Occult Power wanted it to be Thus. His interest demands it.

Currently, he gave us the Republic. We let's say: currently, because at other times
Freemasonry facilitated the advent of both Empires and that of Louis-Philippe. But it was not where momentary maneuvers aimed at as-ensure certain necessary transitions. We have some the proof in the fact that the two Empires and the monarchy of Louis-Philippe had to suffer the assaults secret societies. They were destroyed by them, that is to say by the occult Power, since this by hand in all, like Masonry by hand in all sub-masonry. These governments ments had therefore been considered by him as stopgap. To avoid a return of France to tra-integral ditionalism which includes the idea of homeland, religious tradition and monarchical tradition, the Occult power conceded, according to what the circumstances, a partial traditionalism.

All things considered, it must be recognized that the forms of government that are best suited to we at the Jewish Occult Power are those who suppress-a greater share of internal traditionalism gral and which, thereby, bring it closer of its definitive goal: Jewish royalty by annihilating it soment of all traditionalism and by the establishment of the atheist collectivist Republic.

What he wants at no cost – the facts are there to shout it – it is a monarchy which, at the same time

time she would be Christian, would represent the traditional law in the person of its leader. Suppose such a restored regime, suppose the leader having awareness of all current necessities, thanks to the light provided by the study of the Jewish question Masonic, and bravely taking the necessary measures necessary to safeguard religious traditionalism pious and patriotic... But no! Do not mention a such a vision before the occult Power nor before the Jews and the defrancised Freemasons who serve him wind!... It would be the old secular French tree rement of Jewish royalty. Anything rather than that!

Through the effect of its suggestions, the occult Power managed to inoculate a large number of us his hatred of the traditional monarchy. It is an undeniable fact. However, in politics as in medicine, as we have said, it is necessary to take into account facts. The one we are talking about is enough to make the salvation of France singularly difficult. But it's another fact no less undeniable, that such a state of spirit wonderfully does the enemy's business relentless of France and the Christian world. We can remain what we are; but we de- let's have the courage to see what is, all that who is.

To the monarchy we are talking about, the Occupying Power cult would certainly prefer one which, even if it Christian, could not rely on traditional law functional. It would always be traditionalism under attack on one point.

– 503 –

He would rather accept a Christian republic yours, even if it were dictatorial. This would leave him hope of seeing the Christian dictator succeed a less Christian dictator who, not having the concern of a traditional policy, would govern according to its principles. In any case, it would be a root of sterilized traditionalism: heredity.

It would be more surely if, instead of a dictation Christian culture, it was a liberated republic Christian ral. The occult Power would know how to play liberalism infinitely better than its adversaries and it would be to destroy the regime early.

An anticlerical dictatorship, even in the form of worse would do even better. He would see there two roots of traditionalism strongly affected or threatened. He would in fact have the possibility of anti-Catholic campaigns tolerated, if not favored by the government. At the same time, the head of the State not having on its side the force of the traditional, his dictatorial authority would soon be destroyed. undermined by the liberal propaganda that would be opposed to it.

We also had all this in France in during the 19th century and we know that it is in progress

Dictatorship, anticlerical or not, or republic, Christian or not, the occult Power is assured, a once he put us there, once he managed to to break one of the props of traditionalism, to break the other. It's a matter of a few steps: republishing as progressive, opportunist republic, and finally radical republic, that is to say atheist. This is happening almost without us noticing it; and, in all case, this is done despite resistance, due to of the action of certain principles or certain illusory organisms which, once introduced into organisms policies, have the effect of distorting them. Our operational managers Republican position did not realize this; those of today, who should nevertheless be in-proven by experience, seem not to see it any better than those of yesterday. That's why they gave up France where she is. When pushed on this subject, we manage to get a response like this from them: "I am not telling you that I am so radically Republican today than fifteen years ago. But the nation wants the maintenance of the Republic. " And they continue to do not only beyond politics, but republican propaganda, without worrying about results, like the doctor who would pay himself poison to his patient, under the pretext that he wants some...

– 504 –

It can be said of them that their dedication and skill have been defeated by their illogic – if so much is that he is really skillful who begins by siding with logic.

Radical atheist republic: this is the one we have now. Its objective is to prepare tion to the collectivist republic. We named it democratic. By this we capture for her the support of the blind multitudes, some crimes she commits against the homeland. We train at the same time the vain bourgeois who are made to believe that they are "advanced", "evolved" because they evaded all religious discipline, then that in reality their intelligence deprived of su-

– 505 –

the anarchy. Even Catholics are seduced by their presenting the "democratic spirit" as a natural and necessary adaptation of the spirit of rity to politics. False conception, sheltered from the- that we suggest to them that the democratic spirit must be the guiding principle of any policy really Christian. They are thus led to the most lamentable, to the most disastrous confusion between social duties social, political duties and religious duties; the confusion that Christ removed by this simple step role: Render to Caesar what is Caesar's and to God what is is God's. They are hypnotized by the idea of the rights of multitudes, generous in appearance, but ration- truly false and fatal to these multitudes themselves even when it is presented to them otherwise than as a corollary of the idea of duty. We gray them of the suggestion that they have a mission to fulfill: that of proceeding to the advent of goodness and universal love as the foundations of politics; absolutely childish conception given that the function The foundation of all politics must be order. Isn't it not indeed the need for security which is the point from the start, the reason for human societies to exist? And can security be ensured other than by order, resulting from the accomplishment of certain certain duties which, in turn, become general rights holders?

By thus distorting the principles, by transporting them

- 506 -

both indiscriminately and through the religious domain in the political domain, or conversely, the Occupying Power cult disrupts the conditions of existence of the nations. It lays at the basis of social constructions what should be at the top; at the top what should be at the base. It finally arrives at the point that religion, initiatrix of devotions, provocateur of the saints enthusiasts and, thereby, support of societies, finds employment for their ruin.

When such confusions are produced in the spirit of the best Catholics, the occult Power can afford the supreme attacks, since those who should ensure common defense are busy with something else, since they compete even to hasten the hour when pieces will be destroyed in pieces, the last links which held national aggregation. It is after these last efforts

ree the collectivist republic, the one by which will definitely find Jewish royalty organized.

This is where we go slowly, gradually-is lying ; all precautions being taken so that the thing only appears when it is too late to resist, as was done for the Revolution. We let's go there, led by the rulers themselves,
some cynical like Clemenceau, others hypocrites like Briand, all hypnotized, even if they have not received initiation in a lodge, all very close to the Masonic spirit, thanks to the thousands of con-
duces by which this spirit is now repandu in the secular world. Soon, if the plan

- 507 -

finally led to its definitive realization, France would no longer be France. To its national organization in ruins would have been succeeded by a purely financial, industrial and commercial, in which everyone, rich or poor today, equalized, neither
if we were naked, we would be nothing more than workers of the railway its social: Israel.

That friends, that current collaborators of Jews make no mistake: the company name will be Israel
in short, and not Israel and G", because once king, Israel will admit no other company than that of his sons. And, from his point of view, he will be right, his security can then only exist at this price.
We will be "the chosen race" or we will not be.

Once again we march towards this goal and by paths much safer than those that would open the revolution in the streets; we walk there by the way order placed in consciences and in particular in a growing number of consciences every day Catholics; and it is in realization of the plan which was indicated by one of the members of Haute-Vente when he wrote: We need a revolution in tiara and cope.

WHAT WE HAVE TO DO IN THE POLITICAL ORDER.
the effort that each OF US MUST TRY
ON HIMSELF.

If the slope that leads to this. term is so slippery once governments are accepted where lacks the principle of united monarchical inheritance

Christian principle, should we proscribe the repugnant form? blicaine that we currently have?

When asked with this clarity, the facts re-still laying eggs; and this is to tell us that we can destroy at our whim a state of things existing, especially when this state of affairs is based on a previously created and firmly established state of mind
sat. Too many of us remain attached, despite everything, to the Republic. We are there-my perhaps attached ourselves Our vanity takes so much pleasure in persuading itself that we let us govern freely! Gold the republican label gives us this illusion; and, in this as other things, the illusion is enough for us.

We said earlier that we could not ask us to become believers and practitioners again
in command; but we added that we could and should become defenders again sisters of Catholicism. We cannot be asked der either to become monarchists again at the com-mandate; but we can at least not not engage in anti-monarchist propaganda.
We can, whatever religious conviction or whateverwhatever political opinion we have, we abstain to engage in anti-Catholicism against Catholics of antimonarchism against monarchists, of
even though we do not do antipatriotism against the patriots. Yes ! this we can; And even, we must.

We must, because the idea of homeland, the principle Catholic principle and the monarchical principle are the three sources from which the life of the France. It is quite certain that those of us

Who. these sacred springs continue to flow all three were less affected than the others by the propaganda of Tinfame Occult power. Therefore, we do not don't see why they deserve our hatred or our hostility. In the terrible battle whose life France is the issue, they were the least seriously wounded. Is this a reason for us to stand up against them?

There is another reason, of considerable importance reasonable, for which we must refrain from engage in anti-monarchism against monarchists, as well as anti-Catholicism against Catholics liques.

It is because the division between the French is the certainty of the final triumph for Power occult. If this division currently exists, it is because he wanted it; and if he wanted it, it is because that he couldn't do without it. Anything that contributes to increasing it or even just maintaining it is therefore favorable to occult Power. Everything that contribute to weakening it is disastrous to it.

It is above all here that it is necessary to distinguish between politics and state of mind^ because what is impossible on one side becomes possible on the other.

There are political parties, and these parties are represented in Parliament. Let them do their thing work, this work of which we were able to measure inanity since, for thirty years, the opposition has not stopped being beaten. Is it because she didn't know maneuver? Not at all. It is because the adversary, before acting politically, had started by establish a state of mind, while she neglected to do the same.

– 510 –

We can act outside of these political parties, even if we belong to one or the other of them ; and it must be to repair the fault they have committed, that is to say to work on the creation of the state of mind they did not care about. This doing so, we will act, we say, outside of the partis ; However, we will not do any less work policy.

We said earlier what the state of mind is took that we must fight. It's obvious that that which we have to create must be directly to him opposite. The occult Power wants to see the anti-traditionalism; we must try to make bring out traditionalism in us; everyone working on his behalf, in himself and on himself.

We cannot doubt that by remaining attached

other we more or less correspond to the views of the occult Power enemy of France and Christianity held. Such a thought should, it seems, suggest a desire to take a closer look at what our preferences have been based on so far. We leaves us indifferent and resolved to remain where we are because we are there or because the majority is there? This is a matter between our conscience and our intelligence.

But still we could, even in this case, not

– 511 –

not collaborate in antitraditionalist propaganda undertaken for more than a century by the Occupied Power anti-French cult.

If, remaining patriots, but becoming anti-Catholic equals and anti-monarchists, we were doing pro-anti-Catholic and anti-monarchical propaganda, it would find that we would thereby work against our patriotic conviction since, through our effort against the Catholic principle or against the principle monarchical, we would obey the views of the enemy from France. From this at least we can keep.

A similar reasoning would be necessary if, being patriots and monarchists, we promoted anti-Catholic gang or yes, patriots and Catholics, we were carrying out anti-monarchical propaganda. We would still work in both cases depending on the views of occult Power. From this again we can we keep.

It is therefore established by historical facts and by the attitude taken by the occult Power against the traditionalism that, even if we cannot bring traditionalism into us, to the point from a political point of view, or from a religious point of view, we will still render service to France against its enemy by prohibiting us from any anti-traditional demonstrations nationalist.

Who has not heard some of the proponents of Power? Judeo-Masonic session – the most hypocritical – preach neutrality towards Freemasons and Jews. To be an anti-Mason, to be anti-Jewish, that pre-they tend, is a mark of savagery, a proof of fanaticism. When it comes to applying it to Masons and Jews, the prefix anti is declared by them absolutely condemnable. These good souls pre- would, it is understandable, see us turn our backs to their blows. The job would thus be done well for them easier.

There is in this interested advice that they give us something that we must remember, in order to make it the useful application for France, namely: What if we cannot be complete traditionalists, we must we guard against a^i^itraditionalism. Then- that it is so recommended to us not to be anti ^ let's start by not being anti towards others one of the doctrines which, in whatever capacity, part of French traditionalism.

In this regard, it unfortunately seems that we have gone backwards rather than forwards for some time years ; and, it must be recognized, the constitution of opposition leagues, advantageous at other points of view, had a lot to do with this negative result.

Precisely because the need for union becomes im- perilously felt by all minds, it is such di- rectors or inspirations of great leagues which seem blent have taken as their objective the annihilation of all the others, under the pretext that they are the most strong and we must create unity. This is an error serious, a wild conception to which must resist all members of similar groups. The realization of such data is also im- possible. This is not how unity is achieved; It is thus, on the contrary, enmities are created and ruins are made. So there is a real crime here against France and, consequently, against the Catholic licism, since it currently has both causes merge.

Division exists. This is the fact from which we must leave to discern what is possible or impossible. Can you, once you have your flag particular, train those who fight under a another standard and for another ideal than yours?

no action on them. Some people like you; it's a reason why you don't please others. So what will become of them if you prevent them from per or if at least you give them back the group-difficult? Why want to stifle those who aren't we? What small-mindedness that which leads us to rarefy the air for all organisms other than those we lead! And what pride crazy to believe that our minds are broad enough to see everything, understand everything, undertake everything, everything succeed !

It does not seem that unity is now possible. ble in France. It is not the same with union. This can still be achieved, but it is not by absorption. Any league that aims for absorption is not useful; it is harmful. By making the efforts of its members to destroy the leagues competitors instead of using them only for destruction of the adversary, it does not fertilize these efforts, it sterilizes them.

– 514 –

Instead of mutually destroying our forces, we need to make them converge. For this, it is enough that apart from the conceptions which are particular to us lines, we have one which is both directly opposed to the views of the adversary and likely to solicit everyone's activity. This design can be provided by the study of the Judeo-Mason question-fuck, which enlightens us on the true nature of our evils, which teaches us the processes that have taken bent the enemies of France to defeat it and who reveals to us those by which we can have reason for them.

But isn't study still an effort that each Do any of us have to do about ourselves? We are therefore always brought back there: it is in us that, even in the political order, is currently our A real field of action; this is where we can do something for France. What's surprising-nant, since it is there that the occult Power was hidden tried to attack him?...

But, as a result, each of us, in these conditions, can, if he wants, something; and, by as a result, he incurs responsibilities which, in in the face of Eternal Justice, it is impossible for him to

THE WORK OF PROPAGANDA.

It is not enough that those who think and want slowly really help France strive to escape
by the study of the Judeo-Masonic question at the em-

- 515 -

intellectual and moral grasp of occult Power. There is forty million French people and it is necessary that union of this enormous mass is undertaken. Without doubt there are among them that we will never reach but. This is by no means necessary. But we will persuade an even greater number that our teaching effort will be more broadened and better organized. For this, a center of propaganda.

This center exists in the French Antimaconnique and in the Joan of Arc Women's League which both have their headquarters in Paris, 33, quai Voltaire.
The Joan of Arc League brings together in its Community Committee
a group of names like those of M^{me} the Countess
de Saint-Laurent, president of the Women's League French women, the Marquise de Mac-Mahon, president of a great royalist league, and Baroness Reille, pre-member of the Patriotic League of French Women. THE bringing these names together tells us to what extent
the study of the Judeo-Masonic question can be useful common field of action between all the fractions tions of the opposition and thereby tend towards this union which would relate at least to one point and which would be so essential to the salvation of France.

This is not the only advantage that this study presents.
feel. It alone constitutes a weapon of first order, because of those used by the adversary
what we have to face.

In fact, this adversary was unable to reach the point where we only see it because we weren't looking at it and because the maneuver was thus made easy for him.

- 516 -

On the other hand, Freemasonry was built by it to operate in the dark. put it operation. It is based on lies. If we don't do not know. she can lie at ease and with profit. It's quite different if you know it.

Finally, the mode of transmission of invisible wills and the system of selections and suggestions that we have exposed requires time as an element essential cooperator. But the occult Power, fearing being unmasked in the eyes of France before having completed his work, is now obliged to hurry, because of the suspicions already aroused in the nation. In rushing he inevitably maneuvers badly, since the organism it uses does not allow haste. As a result, it compromises its cause.

For all these reasons the study of the Jewish question Masonic and even more propaganda tending to the dissemination of this study certainly constitute the best means of struggle we currently have—at our disposal against the traitor can-Jewish ance and against the hypocrite and liar Franc-Masonry. Not to mention that he is preparing others...

Treason ! Hypocrisy! Lie ! This is what we have to prove constantly and everywhere, in order to awaken French pride and to suggest—ture our race.

This is how we will establish a state of mind scientifically and rationally anti-Jewish and anti-Masonic, as required by the conditions of the

— 517 —

war declared to us by the government
secret of the Jewish nation.

So French people of all opinions who want to put your country before your party in your affections, and you, male and female associations who seek—in the useful work to be accomplished to fuel zeal of your members, to the chain for the propaganda of the study of the Jewish-Mason question—fuck it! Yes ! The chain ! because the house is burning and France, like its patron saint Joan of Arc, is on the stake! The work to which you are invited is not in no way a work of hatred, since it boils down in these two words: study! teach! These are not therefore not homicidal weapons other than those in question

DEFENSE MEASURES ESSENTIAL FOR SALVATION FROM FRANCE.

The study and propaganda to which we all have the duty to deliver to us must however lead to defense measures essential to the salvation of the France. But these measures, however effective they may be must be, there is nothing terrible, so we are going to judge.

It is quite certain that the anti-Masonic state of mind—that once created, a change of government will take place, in one way or another.

Will this change only concern men, or will it focus on the form itself? This is a difficult eventuality to predict. But what whatever this change is, we must hold for certain—that on its own it cannot be enough for the France be saved.

— 518 —

We have made it clear why the form republican is the one preferred by the occult Power Jewish. He considers it the most fatal for us, and as the most favorable to the realization of its own views. It is, in fact, more opposed than another to traditionalism as well as to the genius of our race, and at the same time it provides it with a much easier to place your creatures in government. But a traditional monarchy would it succeed the current republic that the France would not be out of danger for that. We must consider ourselves fixed in this respect by the experience already done.

Indeed, after having been the prey for the first time of occult Power, France returned to its tradition. She had the government of Louis XVIII and Charles X, after having passed through the first Empire. She then had the government of Louis-Philippe. She had the Republic of 48, imbued with the Christian spirit here, blessing the trees of Liberty. She had the second Empire. In short, she was able to taste all the diets, and she was not saved for that. For—What? Because the political powers have had just that here with our eyes closed on the Masonic question dice on that side, and that's the side that they were hit.

Whatever government we dream of in

– 519 –

because of the side of opposition on which we stand, we can be assured that this government will not could last if he did not take it upon himself to prohibit the Freemasonry in France and to withdraw the rights of citizens to Jews.

These measures, let us admit, cannot be propose if he did not feel supported by an opinion illuminated. And that's why the real battle plan for the French against the Jewish nation and against the Freemasonry consists of first of all creating a state of mind based on complete knowledge of the Judeo-Masonic question.

The ban on Freemasonry is not only a right for France; it is a necessity site.

A country cannot allow plotting against him. Governments, even the most liberated rals, do not tolerate conspiracy. A fortiori the Do nations have the right to be intransigent? on this point ; Or maybe they don't even have the strength to want to live. But Freemasonry, political secret society – it is now de- shown by the facts – is nothing else with us than a permanent conspiracy. She must therefore not not be tolerated by the French nation. 'The name of general safety, Freemasonry does not have right to existence. We said when speaking of the Catholic- licism that he had the right to life because he did France. We can say of Freemason- nery that she has the right to death because she murdered sinned, betrayed and delivered France.

– 520 –

It is therefore not, in principle, against the French masons that there is reason to take measures, it is against Freemasonry, that is to say against gold organization created for the preparation and execution tion of all plots.

This organization must disappear from the ground French. At the very least, she cannot operate freely. It's all there indeed. That the Freemasonry cannot function freely, and it finds itself almost annihilated.

When we speak of its prohibition, we do not we do not hide the fact that he would still have the resource of hide, as the upper masonry hides laughing. But the necessity where it would be to do it would render him powerless. It is, in fact, a company progressive distortion of consciousness, as well that we have shown. The total deformation does not can only be carried out in the higher groups. laughing. But these can only be recruited because that there are lower groups in which was carried out a preparatory deformation. The great service that Freemasonry renders to the Occupied Power cult consists in the fact that, thanks to its free functioning-ment, it takes within the secular world of excellence slow citizens whom it gradually makes hypocrites, mentors, fanatics, sectarians, destroyers and atheists. Do not allow its free functioning; she will hide, it is understood. But the good citizens whose we are talking about will no longer want to enter it. She does not will therefore be able to deform them more. She will no longer be able deprive France of those who, without this distortion, would perhaps have remained its firmest, its most devoted and its most intelligent defenders. It is therefore by this we can muzzle it, given its mode of action: just by preventing its free functioning-is lying. The method is not complicated and it is not fierce.

– 521 –

The government that wants to tear France away from Occult power should not hesitate to use it. Permanently organized conspiracy, Franc-Masonry is outside common law. It has to be there bring in by removing the possibility of conspiring.

The means to be used against the Jews is neither complicated, nor more fierce. It is the same necessity to general security that can be invoked to take away from them the rights of French citizens.

When we read the endless discussions that took place from 1789 to 1791 within the Constituent Assembly of French nationality, we see that the de-

Those who opposed this measure saw just by announcing that despite naturalization in mass, Jews would always remain Jews. Fourteen times in two years, the assembly was of this opinion. But the Jews know how to stand their ground and they also know how to inspire pa-respect their friends. A fifteenth assault took place.
The majority of the Constituent finally allowed itself to be taken to the suggestions which tended to represent the opponaturalization as pessimists and retrogrades. Tired of war, she ends up giving victory for the Judaizing deputies. The rights of citizens were granted to the Jews. But the facts have

- 522 -

vindicated those who opposed this measure.
The proof is now acquired that their fears were not exaggerated. Consequently it is appropriate to recognize that the naturalization measure is fell wrong and it is in the opinion of these opponents that it must come back.

The Jews, although having been made French, are remained Jews. As a result, they have two nationalities, while we only have one. They are thus in outside and above common law. They need to be there bring them in, too. They have no more right to be French and Jews than others to be English and French cais or Germans and French at the same time. They brag for having endowed us with the principle of equality. This principle is now turning against them. There is none reason why they are not subject to it just as We.

Let them be treated like everyone else is treated foreigners, it is already too many, because their situation is very special. They have, in fact, a secret organization that others don't have. It would therefore be suitable for general tranquility that they are subjected to a diet particular. Instead, we proceeded in such a maattitude towards them that we have today
before our eyes this truly extraordinary spectacle
of a race which, by an incredible privilege, has reached to combine all nationalities in it!

The Catholic liberal republicans who border themselves
timidly demand the right to life for the Catholicism in the name of freedom only - this in which they diminish its cause, as we have shown – are they capable, if they arrived at the power see, to suppress the freedom of Freemasonlaugh in the name of the freedom and security of France?

In the name of the freedom and security of France and by application of the principle of equality, are they ready to remove citizenship rights from Jews? If yes, it is may be able to govern according to what is required
the salvation of the country. If not, it wouldn't be worth it entrust them with power; they would be done quickly
devour like those of 1848.

The same must be said of their competitors.

No useful role to play for an Empire which,
by the Jews and by Freemasonry, is-would be obliged to take under his protection that by which he would have arrived, but that by which he would also be con-damned to perish.

A traditional monarchy that would be remembered by the wish of the country would perhaps run, because of the strength of its principle, fewer immediate dangers not to be intransigent on both points which we take care of. She would, however, also, condemned to perish if she abstained, as the Restoration perished.

The measures we are talking about are legitimate
as long as necessary.

There are, it is said, one hundred thousand Jews in France and there has thirty thousand Freemasons.

To the hundred thousand Jews we owe the three Judases known under the names of Deutz, Dreyfus, Ullmo, without counting the strangers; we must also ruin of the General Union, Cornelius Herz, the Rei-

nach and panamist corruption, speculation and hoarding of all products, without put away the rotten meats with which we poison our soldiers.

To these same hundred thousand Jews and thirty thousand freemasons operating in concert we must all

act, persecution, proscription, denunciation,
theft, Wilson, the Humberts, the Baïhaut, the Mer-Lou. the Pelletans, the André, the Clemenceau, the aug-increase in crime in proportions frightening, morals flouted, prostitution honest
ree, pantheonized pornography, depopulation recommended, the family destroyed, the army betrayed, the navy delivered, arsenals burned...

Is it through such titles that this tiny minority of one hundred and thirty thousand individuals is entitled to the privileges that we let him take? Is this why that it must be placed above the law mune?

France really has the right to ask the opposition parties which one of them is declares ready to take responsibility for the measures defense on which national existence depends. That he speaks who does not shy away from the ban of Freemasonry in France nor before the withdrawal of citizenship rights from Jews! If none does not show up, it means that no one is worthy of arriving in power, and poor France has nothing left to do but to
to sleep in the tomb where the heroes sleep
other times she knew how to give birth.

– 525 –

If, on the contrary, there is one who has the audacity, the clear vision, energy and frankness necessary, again
once he speaks, because France needs to know the one who can save her. The instinct of self-preservation country calls that one. Whatever it is, it's in his arm that France will throw itself.

FILN

CONTENTS

FIRST PART

The reasons for the Machiavellian plan on which was built Freemasonry.

Experience that its founders had in matters

secret society.

FIRST CHAPTER

HOW THE OCCULT POWER WAS FORCED TO ACHIEVE CREATION
OF FREEMASONRY

Questions to solve 9

Reasons for which the occult Power imagined creation

masonic 18

The making of opinion. – Strangeness of the plan. –Indica resulting 28

CHAPTER II

FIRST DIFFICULTIES ENCOUNTERED BY THE FOUNDERS
OF FREEMASONRY.

SAFETY WITH WHICH THEY RESOLVE THEM.

Impasse in which the founders found themselves at the beginning of Freemasonry. –How they got out. – Conflicting statements 33

A secret society that seems not to be one 42

Various feelings among the public at the appearance of the Franc-
Masonry. – Perversity of the founders 48

Initial recruitment – The three species of initiates, – Those which the occult Power does not want 53

– 528 –

CHAPTER III

MODE OF TRANSMISSION OF THE WILLS OF OCCULT POWER.
ORDERS DO NOT GIVE IN FREEMASONRY.

Pages

Impossibility where the Founders of Francma were located crassness to proceed towards their followers by method

Freemasonry was not constituted to be a an action league, but a school of preparation for action • 67

Reasons for the current transformation of Freemasonry
French in action league, but always excluding the me-imperative method. How is this possible 69

An exception to the rule. – Orders given in a circum-important stance. – The case of F.-. Morinaud 78 importance of the fact that we have just pointed out 84

SECOND PART

The mode of action of the occult Power, Selections. Suggestions.

CHAPTER IV

MASONIC SELECTIONS. – PRECAUTIONS TAKEN
SO THAT THE TEACHING GIVEN IN THE WORKSHOPS BEARS ITS FRUITS

Freemasonry education society 87

Automatic selection by voluntary elimination 92

First developments 97

Creation of a special atmosphere in the Lodges. – Caution-taken 107

CHAPTER V

MASONIC SUGGESTIONS. CREATION OF THE ANTI-MINDSTATE
CATHOLIC WITHIN THE LODGES. the SPIRIT of INTOLERANCE
ABOVE AND NAME OF TOLERANCE.

What we do in the Lodges. – Both suggestions may braids 117

– 529 –

Pages

First suggestion. – “Holy and Holy” Freemasonry creates.” – The dawn of time. – The Monster 121

The second suggestion. – How the Occult Power

betray them • • 130

The Fanaticism of Tolerance. – The Game of “Intiuenes in-individually carefully covered » concealing the action
occult 135

CHAPTER VI

CLERICALISM AND CATHOLICISM. THE SCAPEGOAT. THE ACTIOX OF THE POW-SEE EXTENSIVE OCCULT IN CONSERVATIVE ENVIRONMENTS AND JUST THAT IN THE CATHOLIC WORLD,

The lie of “Clericalism” 144

Gradual walk. – The confession of the lie. – Eliet of the eli-automatic mination ,•••:•■ ^^

The progressive march in politics as a consequence of action
exercised by the occult Power 161

Intervention of occult power in party leadership who oppose him and even within the Church.. 165

CHAPTER VII

THE HYPNOTIZED OF OCCULT POWER

Transport of the Masonic state of mind into the professional world
tane 171

The two advantages that Freemasonry has benefited from:
monopoly as an organized Society, and invisibility of its action 174

Perverseness cloaked in sincerity 179

The deep state of unconsciousness 1^3

CHAPTER VIII

exterior freemasonry and sub-masonry.
the outcome.

External Freemasonry 190

Sub-masonry 194

Penetration of non-Masonic groups 198

Total invasion. – Time for action 201

The one who is responsible 207

34

– 530 –

THIRD PART

On the path to truth

CHAPTER IX

SUBTERFUGE USED BY OCCULT POWER TO DECEIVE
THE PUBLIC ON THE RELIGIOUS QUESTION AND ON THE ORIGIN AND THE PURPOSE OF FREEMASONRY.

Pages

What can we rely on to discover the Power?
see occult • 215

The Goddess Reason and Catholicism 218

Known tactic 223

CHAPTER X

THE LIE OF THE MASONIC VERSION ON THE RELIEF QUESTION
GIEUSE ALLOWS US TO GLIMPSE THE PURPOSE OF OCCULT POWER.

How the religious question must be posed to be resolved
solved in a rational way 229

What can we rely on to judge Catholicism in the pass. – Data provided in this regard by the occult Power
and by Freemasonry 239

The Future Society. – The aim pursued revealed by the supreme contradiction. – The only possible explanation 246

CHAPTER XI

CAUSES OF ERROR RELATING TO THE ORIGIN AND PURPOSE OF THE FRANCE MASONRY. THEIR SUCCESSIVE ELIMINATION. THE FAILURE OF THE THESIS BY MR. MAX DOUMIC.

The false appearances surrounding the mason questionfuck. – The starting point 255

How are successive states of mind born relatively

one after the other false appearances 257

The question is finally asked as it should be. –Argumentation of Mr. Max Doumic 263

– 531 –

CHAPTER XII

SECRET SOCIETY THEORY. NEED FOR INK PERIOD of incubation PRIOR TO THE BIRTH OF KRANCMASONRY.

Pages

Conditions and circumstances in which can arise and

develop secret societies 274

Secret societies born from a society of the same nature

pre-existing 280

Ancient secret societies 285

The Western world's inaptitude for secret organization.

– Considerable importance of this fact from the point of view of search for the origin of Freemasonry 290

FOURTH PART

The Jewish origin of Freemasonry.

CHAPTER XIII

HOW THE JEWISH SETTLEMENTS SPREAD AROUND THE WORLD
AFTER THE DISPERSION WERE LEAD TO INCORPORATE THEMSELVES INTO A COMPANY
SECRET TIES AND HOW THESE DEFENSIVE COMPANIES
MIGHT BE AT THE START, BECAME OFFENSIVE.

The starting point 299

Constitution of Jewish colonies into secret societies defending
sive 306

Transformation of defensive Jewish secret societies into so-offensive secret cities 311

CHAPTER XIV

THERE IS A JEWISH NATION THAT IS SECRETLY GOVERNED AS

The Jewish nation 318

There is a Jewish national government 322

The Jewish national government is a secret government

like that of Freemasonry 327

– 532 –

CHAPTER XV

TRACES OF THE JEWISH NATIONAL GOVERNMENT SINCE THE DISPERSION
until the 11th CENTURY.

Pages

The Great Sanhedrin 336

The Patriarchs of Judea 341

The Princes of Captivity 344

CHAPTER XVI

FROM THE 11TH CENTURY TO THE PRESENT DAYS.

The event of Tan 1005. – The secret constitution of the government
Jewish government was necessarily the consequence 353

Two documents from the 15th century 359

Some testimonies. – Position of the question in point from a rational point of view. – The real evidence 367

CHAPTER XVII

THE INCUBATION PERIOD

The true situation of the Christian world since the 11th century. .. 375

The combat methods of Jewish secret societies 380

The breach opened by Protestantism • 388

CHAPTER XVIII

CRITICAL EXAMINATION OF THE THESIS OF ENGLISH ORIGIN PRESENTED BY Mr. MAX DOUMIC, IN "THE SECRET OF FREEMASONRY".

The conditions of the problem of the origin of Freemason-nerie which are fulfilled by the thesis of origin

Jewish 396

Summary of the thesis of Mr. Mas Doumic 401

First impossibility: it is ambition, not necessity, which would be the cause of the birth of the secret mason society
fuck 403

The time condition 404

The aptitude condition 411

Other essential prerequisite 414

– 533 –

CHAPTER XIX

THE REAL ROLE OF ANOLETEF.RRK

ages

The essential intermediary 420

The only logical conclusion 42

PART FIF

The Jewish plan. The obstacles he encounters.
Our means of combat.

CHAPTER XX

HOW THE DREAM OF WORLD DOMINATION PRESENTS TO THE MIND OF THE JEW AND IN WHAT FORM.

World domination 417

Character of this domination 444

Things faced. – Table of the march of the Jewish nation 453

CHAPTER XXL

OBSTACLES (JUI STANDS IN FRONT OF OCCULT POWER
AND THE REASONS WE HAVE NOT TO DESPAIR.

The web of lies and the return of things 462

The situation of Jewish occult power inside 469

Another consequence of the maneuvers of the occult Power. – Creation of other occult powers that counteract the first 475

Consequence of this state of affairs in international politics
current national 481

CHAPTER XXII

THE CONDITIONS OF SALVATION

Who should we count on? 490

The tactics that are required of us by the situation of Occult power. – Distinction between politics and creativity
tion of a state of mind. – The state of mind preferred for we the occult Power. 495

53

Pages

The religious question 498

The political question. – The form of government of which does not want occult Power. – How are these preferences in this matter 500

What we have to do in the political order. – The effort

that each of us must try on ourselves 507

The work of propaganda 514

Defense measures essential to the salvation of France 517

Lyon. – Imprimerie Emmauel VITTE, 18, rue de la Quarantaine.

I BibliotliÀqu«
rtrsifé of Oftawe

The Library
University of Ottawa

d39003 0005297^426

CE KS 0604
.C6C7C 1909
C00 CCPIN-AL8ANC
ACC# 1143069

DRAKE MACCNN

French

English

Full text of " Pere N. Deschamps Les Societes Secretes Et La Societe Tome 1 "

See other formats

IHE

SECRET SOCIETIES

THE COMPANY

OR

PHILOSOPHY OF CONTEMPORARY HISTORY
BY N. DESCHAMPS

SIXTH EDITION

Completely redesigned and continued up to the present day

WITH AN INTRODUCTION

ON THE ACTIVITIES OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

By Mr. Claudio JANNET
– VOLUME ONE –

AVIGNON

SEGUIN BROTHERS

PRINTERS–PUBLISHERS
13 – rue Bouquerie – 13

PARIS

OUDIN BROTHERS

PUBLISHERS

51 – rue Bonaparte – 51

1882

All rights reserved.

© Saint Libère Library 2008.

Any reproduction for non-profit purposes is permitted.

AVIGNON.

– SEGUIN BROTHERS PRINTING

WARNING

FROM THE SECOND EDITION

The success of Father Deschamps' work has exceeded all our expectations. In less than a The first edition sold out in the previous year. This result testifies all the more to the high value of this work, which had been published under circumstances these are particularly unfavorable.

Father Deschamps had been struck by death at the moment when the printing of the first copy began lume. We were deprived of this final review that he would have contributed to his work, and even during For a time, its publication was halted. was not completed until the end of 1876, by the publication

n PUBLISHER'S WARNING

cation of a third and final volume, of which we We must extract the materials from the manuscripts left by the author.

But the subject he was dealing with is of such importance, he had contributed twenty years of study such precious treasures of erudition and insight effective investigation, which the work, despite its flaws material perfections, has struck the attention of all competent judges (i).

subject matter, the one in which all writers are posted Laughters came to pick up documents as if to the *most abundant and safest source.

Such a favorable reception from the public...
made it his duty to improve the new editions of the book and to hold them around the neck relating to events that have occurred since no subject is, in fact, as important in the very serious crisis that modern society is going through last; and that is why the Holy See has not ceased,

(1) We reproduce below some extracts from the main reports published by the most authoritative press outlets
in France and abroad.

FOR THE SECOND EDITION

in

in recent years, to encourage writing independent vains to study and unveil the shadowy activities of secret societies.

In concert with a devoted disciple of Father Des fields, Mr. Claudio Jannet, we have applied to collecting all documents on the Freemasonry, which has appeared since his death in France, England, Germany and in Italy.

We were thus able to enjoy several recent publications to clarify the story, if the formation of the Masonic sect remains obscure.
nique, from the abolition of the Templars, until its universal and almost lightning-fast propagation to 18th century. These new studies have only done more than confirm the inferences made by Father Deschamps had retrieved documents from his possession with such remarkable sagacity. Completed, as It is in this second edition, this part his work now acquires a critical value undeniable tick.

IV. PUBLISHER'S WARNING

contemporary confessions, indiscretions of writing Masonic vains, which establish the preponderant share The lodges' influence has greatly increased. tiplied since the establishment of the republic of September 4th and the persecution raised by Mr. de Bismarck against the Catholic Church. We were able to thus highlighting numerous documents, which put tent better and better in light, so that to convince even the most skeptical, the decisive action of sects in events since the middle of the last century.

At the same time, the work was supplemented by a series of new chapters relating to kultur-German kampf, to the war continued in France and in Belgium against Christian education, to events that brought about the triumph in our country the path of radicalism, and finally to Russian nihilism.

We have thus increased by almost double the documents and factual information contained in this second edition, and yet we we were able to reduce the number of volumes to two.

We achieved this result by distinguishing, by a special and smaller character, the names numerous quotes from Masonic and revolutionary writers

FOR THE SECOND EDITION

V

revolutionaries, on which all the claims from the book.

Father Deschamps' own merit, what gives him gives a very particular authority, it is not never to make a claim except based on indisputable evidence undeniable, placed before the reader's eyes. The physio-a very special nature of his work has therefore been preserved and even developed, as we can see, at the cost of this very expensive provision for

We were also able to condense the argument tion and the presentation of the facts by a modification
in the plan of the work.

While scrupulously respecting the thought of the author, which consisted of showing successively Freemasonry and secret societies as... destroyers of all religion, of morality, of the family, of all civil and property matters, the ou-
The work has been divided into this new edition.
two separate parts.

The first one sets out the doctrine of the sects according to their rituals and the most authoritative writers < rtis
from their breast, acknowledged or sponsored by her.

VI

PUBLISHER'S WARNING

In the second, they were grouped together in a narrative followed, the facts being so numerous that the author had re-gathered and distributed among the different chapters,
as a confirmation of his argument.

Thus brought together, the most curious research of P. Deschamps, the documents so important that he had gathered, found themselves forming a set strikingly obvious. It justifies admiraculously in this new form the subtitle
that he gave to his work: Philosophy of Vhis-contemporary history.

A general introduction, by Mr. Claudio Jannet, summarizes and clarifies the delicate problem of Vaction secret societies in the 11th-6th century, with all the
The rigor of the scientific method. The forms if various forms that the hidden actions of sects take are carefully distinguished and placed at their true point of view. Thus enlightened in advance, the reader
The developer will be able to follow the developments more profitably.
elements of the work.

Monsignor de Ketteler, that highly political mind, that prelate
so devoted to the Church, he said a few years ago:

FOR THE SECOND EDITION

VII

A specific study on Freemasonry would satisfy a of the highest necessities of our time. A book which, by fulfilling all the conditions of science and criticism would make known the origin
Gine, history, nature, practices, symbols boles, the situation of Freemasonry and its influence on modern states, would have a merit invaluable. It would finally dispel the shadows that envelop this mysterious society, and allow to judge her with full knowledge of the facts.

These words of the great Bishop of Mainz have have always been present in our thoughts, in the arduous revision work to which we have plunged my books and we dare to believe that, willing and completed as it is today in this second edition, the work of Father Deschamps rem-fully complies with this program.

In this redesign work, we have meticulously
carefully respected the thoughts of the venerable author,
and we have always sought to draw inspiration from it in the assessment of the events that have products since his death. The loyalty that we keep gifts in his memory, the care with which we have having gathered the teachings of this master with such a mind

PUBLISHER'S WARNING

seen

firm and with such a penetrating gaze; the love that we ourselves bring to the Church and to our country gives us hope that our judgments will not have not excluded from those who would have been his own. But,
as it was impossible to distinguish by a External signs include new sections and passages the wording of which had to be rewritten from the original text mitif of perpetrator, we declare to claim for we assume sole and unconditional responsibility

assessments contained in this second edition
tion.

May 15, 1880. F. SEGUIN.

Since the publication of the second edition, the work of Father Deschamps gathered support from the Church and the political world. the most valuable endorsements. Let us be permitted to cite particularly the praise that the Bishop of Grenoble deigned to bestow upon it, Monsignor Fava, who, in his life as a missionary and bishop, has made it possible to study Secret Societies in all their aspects. The eminent prelate declared that Father Deschamps' work... now completely fulfilled the program outlined by Monsei-

Kettcler's son; and, on the occasion of our publication, he addressed the Catholic Review of Institutions and Law, two letters, which contain the most lucid exposition of this vast subject with the profound views of a Christian philosopher (1).

Mr. Lucien Brun, for his part, kindly agreed to bring this work to our attention. as "the most useful book of the moment, and which contains the lu-
"Première on men, on things and events."

By publishing a new edition after six months, we have believed that such authoritative assessments imposed upon us the duty to to complete and further improve the masterful work of our master revered, by some additions relating to the most important events, recent in France and Belgium and by new documents attached, which can be found at the end of each of the two volumes

November 15, 1880. FS

(1) Grenoble, Baratier publisher, and in Paris, at the Société bookstore bibliographic (in-12, price 0.00 and 20 centimes).

EXCERPTS FROM PRESS REVIEWS

ON THE FIRST EDITION

{Union of March 3, 1874}.

A priest whom we knew as learned and steadfast, devoted to good, devoted to the Church and to the conditions of order in this world, witness attentive and insightful about the affairs of his time, reader, dear-
A tireless annotator, deeply in love with the truth, always indomitable in his faith and thought, he recently died

Nothing more instructive, more curious, or better demonstrated.
That's where the masks fall and the veils are torn away.

Freemasonry is there in its origin, in its branches
ches, in his doctrines and works. The author was never affiliated, but he read everything that affiliates wrote in France, in Italy, Germany, England; he calls everything by
He names his own name and names those who need to be named. He proceeds chronologically.
And he provides quotes and proves everything he claims. He always walks.
In good standing, always equipped, always armed. It's a vast erudition.
contemporary applied to men and things that we
It is important to know who holds the secret of the events of our century. This work, entitled: Secret Societies and Society or philosophy of contemporary history, is the brightest light that has been cast upon the dark world where things have been forged since for a long time the most cruel armies against the Church, royalty and the most beautiful traditions of humankind.

Mr. Poujoulat,

X

EXCERPTS FROM PRESS REVIEWS

(Le Monde, April 3, 1874).

"Those around the university monopoly wanted to die
to draw the attention of the civilized world to this other scourge
At this time: occult associations. The dignified and respectable
The writer will not have seen this book, for which he had been gathering material since for so long such curious and conclusive materials; but of Pious and devoted friends took care to edit it. The first volume has just been published and we draw the attention of historians to it.
and thinkers.

"The author studies in turn Illuminism, Martinism, the Freemasonry, Carbonarism, and proves that a common idea
One brings all these systems closer together, namely the hatred of the spirit Christianism and the worship of nature or matter. It is in from the writings of the principal initiates he draws his evidence: these are the Weishaupts, the Voltaires, the Saint-Martins, the Cagliostros, the Clavel, the Ragons, the Louis Blancs who provided the documents through which he discovers the true purpose of secret societies, to through the calculated phantasmagoria designed to deceive the weak, the

Behind the apparent action, this book opens the backstage of the drama
We strongly encourage all those who wish to follow his "Various adventures follow the author in this part of the play."

Mr. Bernardi.

ON THE FIRST EDITION

XI

(Correspondence between Saint-Chehon, dated March 12, 1874).

In his latest encyclical, the Pope stated emphatically that the Freemasonry, with its network of lodges around the world third, was the cause and agent of the persecution that raged in this moment against the Church. We understand the full truth of this speech while studying an important work entitled: Societies
Crete and society or philosophy of contemporary history.

The role played by secret societies in our time gives great interest in the author's revelations, who devoted twenty years of research into this work, which has the method and all the value of a judicial inquiry. He wanted, in fact, to rely exclusively on information on Masonic publications printed with the authorization official statement of the Grand Orient, and on the confessions that after each revolution, the actors in these events are not lacking in
TO DO.

We cannot overemphasize the importance of serious men studying this order of events in the book of our learned and insightful publisher cist. They will see Freemasonry there, allying itself with all the sects of philosophers and enlightened individuals, preparing for a long time the ex-revolutionary upheaval of 1789, then uniting his fortune and his schemes to Napoleon I, fomenting the revolutions in Spain and Italy, ap-to prove and facilitate the coup d'état of December 2, 1851, and finally,
as the Masonic sheets have recently stated, to establish on the ruins of France and the Church, the new German empire.
Therein, we are sure, lies the true key to contemporary history.
poraine 1

EXCERPTS FROM PRESS REVIEWS

(The Polybiblion, walls 1874).

Through the abundance and choice of sources, through the method and the Thanks to the author's penetrating power, this important work has... character and value of a broad legal investigation. It must form three substantial volumes. The first shows us successively the Freemasonry and secret societies, which all recruit from within it, as destroyers of religion and morality, of any political authority. We cannot enter into the analysis here. lyse. We will only mention the curious history of the Freemasonry and the addition of God's name to the statutes, in 1854, as a measure of imperial police, but with comments silences which perfectly allow the pantheistic Freemason and an atheist to accommodate himself to it; then the exposition of the capital grade of Rose-Cross, whose rites contain the most odious apostasy of Christian character and faith in the divinity of Jesus Christ. numerous comparisons, where the immense erudition of The author shows that a host of renowned writers, since Michelet and Quinet, up to Cousin and M. Renan, drew their sensational systems within the old and indigestible repertoire of rituals and allegories of Freemasonry. To be one of the accessory aspects of the book, it is not one of the least curious for people who like to follow the lineage of ideas and doctrines.

This is the first edition, XIII.

(Le Contemporain, December 1874 issue).

Readers of Le Contemporain have not forgotten the curious work on Women's Freemasonry, which appeared in the first issues Sound of the year. These pages were taken from a large book on secret societies, the first two volumes of which come to appear... •...

Struck prematurely by death, Father Deschamps did not had time to give his work the final finishing touches. But serious readers will nonetheless appreciate its importance documents implemented, as well as the sagacity of the criticism from the author. He never wanted to rely on revelations. confidential details, which add spice to a book, but to which Those found guilty can always deny the charges.

with the official approval of the Grand Orient and by the testimonies the very actions of the authors of our contemporary revolutions. • . .

There is no shortage of frivolous people who don't like being told what to do.
speaks of the perils of society and who would prefer not to see in the Freemasonry is nothing but harmless charades. The facts that we as we have just indicated, according to Father Deschamps, are unfortunate too real to deny. Also, the publication of his work is an eminent service rendered to religion and to country.

HT

DBS EXCERPTS PRESS REVIEWS

{The Decentralization of March 23, 1874}.

Where did the author manage to gather such a large quantity of documents?
and evidence forming the basis of three substantial volumes? Him-
He even says so himself: they cost him thirty years of research, of long vigils and in-depth study, not only of all the Masonic manuals, but also and especially all the works
ges of the illustrious masons. Thus, following step by step the work a dark and mysterious woman, neglecting none of the slightest clues, surprising the slipped-out confession, the diverted word, he was able to gather in a body of thousands of undeniable witnesses, reporting all the stages of evil, its predominant role in the misfortunes of the current era and raise the alarm about the greatness of penl. • • .

Father Deschamps neither invents nor deduces. He copies and all days, let us repeat, citing the volume, the page, the edition where all can verify what he says. . t.

Sim THE FIRST EDITION

XV

(Le Nouveau Monde de Montréal (Canada), April 23, 1875).

The two volumes before us are already pre-heavens in more ways than one, and they are destined to cast a great shedding light on all the obscure points of contemporary history. Society will also find the remedy for its ills there, if it still has them. the will to save oneself. It would be too long to analyze this magnificent fiqué work. 11 It will suffice for us to say in two words what it is and to recommend it to readers who enjoy curious readings his, instructive and true.

This is one of the most comprehensive studies on secret societies, their their origin, their purpose, their tendencies, their mysteries, their rites, their doctrines and their actions and words.

When we measure the power that eleven thousand can have lodges having at their disposal all kinds of propaganda and all Given the available means of action, it is perfectly legitimate to tremble for the future. of the company.

From this point of view, Father Deschamps' work is frightening. but the fear it should inspire in the leaders of nations would be very beneficial.

We could make extracts from it that would be of great interest. ly. But we would have plenty of choice and we prefer to refer readers back to the work itself.

INTRODUCTION

ON THE ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES

19th Century

Freemasonry is not child's play, a a gathering of bon vivants, a factory of short stories scales, or even a charitable society. It is first and foremost a kind of laboratory, where the great ideas of the time combine and assert themselves to then spread into the secular world under a tangible and practical form. We are the phi- The philosophy of liberalism.

F.*. Aviella's Goblet,
Senator, member of the Grand Orient of Belgium

In the 18th century, Freemasonry was so widespread since that time without his consent.

F.*. Malapert,

Speaker of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite
old accepted.

INTRODUCTION

ON THE ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

I. – The problem of the Revolution.

For the past one hundred and fifty years, the modern world has been plagued by an instability, which sometimes manifests as convulsions in the
What are the governments and security institutions that have been swept away?
lares, sometimes through slow but continuous work, which dissolves the principal principles of religion, law, morality, hierarchy, on which Society has always rested.

The Revolution, that is the name our contemporaries give to this formidable phenomenon. For most, this name is like the enigma of the ancient sphinx. Few of them could define the Revolution, but no one remains indifferent to it: some
Some cheer her, others regard her with terror, all sense that she is an absolutely new fact in history, which has nothing to do with common with the accidental revolutions of the past, and that under its most diverse forms, in its religious manifestations, political and social, the modern Revolution is always one.

20 ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Moral evil, that is to say, man's revolt against order, has probably always existed since the day of the original fall. But until the last century, heresy could disturb the peace religious Christianity, without the governments were shaken and the hierarchy of the working world overturned. Only a few more penetrating minds embraced the chain of events. the disastrous moral and social consequences that result necessarily an attack on dogma; but the masses popular and national systems remained stable, as if fixed by the

and the day when the great voice of the papacy, the extraordinary remedy Born of an ecumenical council, the impassioned words of the saints came to shed light on the world, the society strengthened on Its base was peacefully resuming the course of its destiny.

The great schism of Protestantism in the 16th century seems, in some of its aspects, to resemble the terrible phenomenon of our century; but a large part of Europe was preserved from it raised, and after fifty years of political and social unrest,
The evil remained confined to certain areas; the poison of the new heresies even seemed to have lost some of their activity within a
a company whose parts were all linked like the foundations of a gigantic building.

In the past, the ambition of princes, the oppression of the powerful, the indoctrination
The number of subjects sometimes caused bloody disturbances, but They did not extend from one country to another. France did not feel not the after-effects of the shocks caused by Wyclif, the Angle-
The earth witnessed, from afar, the painful scenes of the Jacquerie.
Germany suppressed the Hussite War and, later, the revolt.
peasants, without the neighboring peoples even having to worry about it alarm.

The modern revolution is quite different. It attacks first

THE PROBLEM OF THE 21ST REVOLUTION

to religion. The Catholic Church is especially the object of his hatred;
sometimes his worship is outlawed and his ministers are put to death;
She is always stripped of the possessions that are in her hands, heritage of the poor and it is deprived of its legitimate influence on social order. The separated Christian denominations are under attack.
to the same hostility, precisely to the extent of Christianity positive that they retain; because the notion of the subordination of the Civil society's adherence to a positive divine law is the principle that the Re-
This revolution seeks to destroy the very soul of the people.
Negation is its very essence.

The legitimate sovereigns, who make themselves its instruments in this anti-religious war, are initially surrounded by flattery; their power is momentarily increased; but after a certain
A time of words still full of prestige, words of freedom and equality, resound like a funeral knell. It is necessary that the Traditional powers are transforming, let them bow before the dogma of popular sovereignty, and then, after a new
At this stage, the Republic is proclaimed the only political form worthy of the people raised under these new influences.

vail with the hierarchy that results from it and subordinates the worker to boss, to the big owner, will also be devastated destroyed. The Revolution dissolved the family as a social unit, She removes his religious consecration by pretending to do Marriage, a purely civil act, is destroyed by this policy. economic by proclaiming the exclusively personal right of the individual to enjoy ownership, instead of transferring it correlative sion of the land or workshop and the duties attached to their possession the solid foundation of the different classes.

She tells the worker that he is Végat of his boss, the boss that he is free, that is to say, has no duty towards his employer Friday, and that is how, by proclaiming brotherhood, she ignites the social warfare even in the humblest workshop.

XXII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Property rights are under attack from the most logical thinkers. 4th, the Revolution as an oppressive institution; new combinations are designed to make the animals work and graze. human herds. The fires of the Paris Commune, the Wild scenes from the American railroad wars the ferocious attacks of Russian Nihilism appear as the preludes to the gigantic clearing work, necessary, according to scs prophets, so that a new social order could result from the action of unleashed forces of nature.

The Revolution is universal. Despite racial differences, of climate, of economic state, it spreads among the peoples ideas and formulas that have the power to elicit them; she attacks all institutions founded on historical tradition; it introduced, if necessary by force, into societies, principles new things completely unknown to previous ages, such as the separation of Church and State, the monopoly on education by the State, freedom of the press. The peoples of the north are at complexions like those of the south, the young republics of America like the monarchies of the old world. Russia with its ins its unique communal institutions, its immense territory with The scattered populations are shaken by the revolutionary fervor. similar to the densely populated urban areas of manufacturing regions Western killers.

This fact, so new in history, struck Mr. de Tocqueville and inspired these remarkable words in him and shut themselves in. The French revolution had no end clean ritual; moreover, its effect has gone so far as to erase in a way from the map all the old borders. We saw it bring them closer together.

or divide men in spite of laws, traditions, and customs.
characteristics of the language, sometimes making enemies of the competitors

THE PROBLEM OF REVOLUTION tfxill

Triots, and brothers of foreigners, or rather she formed, above
of all particular nationalities, an intellectual homeland
common, which men of all nations were able to become citizens (I).

Since the middle of the last century, the Revolution has not ceased to walk and progress. So far all efforts di-
Those who stood against her seemed powerless. She has not yet backed down on
Not a single point, nor did he abandon a single one of his conquests. Barely
Is she forced to take a break, which she resumes with more its destructive power.

A wide variety of explanations are given for this problem.
as vast as it is new.

Pantheists and materialists see this as a brutal fact,
which finds its justification in its very manifestation. For them,
It is a phenomenon of evolution similar to this transformation continues, which false scholars claim to recognize in the world Plant and animal life. Socialism, Communism, Nihilism, are for them all fatal steps, just like the Li-
They glorify both rationalism and rationalism in turn.
like forms of the perpetual becoming that carries humanity along.

But reason, the intimate sense of personality and responsibility
Individuals strongly protest against this theory.
The practical conduct of each man taken in particular as that of the people constantly refutes these hypotheses, instinctively protest which is the best refutation of the sophism!

. The Old Regime and the Revolution, p. 15 (Lévy, 1866J.

influence through infiltration, so to speak, than the the same theory, stripped of its most shocking forms, is proposed produced by the pens of conservative writers, even religious ones feeling.

Mr. de Tocqueville, who, as we have just quoted, described with so much penetration, the phenomenon of the universality of the Revolution tion, unknowingly underwent the influence of this error, when in the following his book, he represents the movement that erupted in 1789, and which still endures, like the fatal result of a long and slow transformation of social relations, like the fruit natural of the old regime having reached its final development ly. For him and a few of his straggling disciples, "the "The war on religions is merely an incident of the Revolution," "a striking yet fleeting feature of his face, a pro- "passing flow of ideas, passions, particular events" "which preceded and prepared it, and not its own genius (1)."

Others, going further, claim that the Revolution is providential, that it is the necessary consequence of the prodigious changes brought about in the modern world by the major physical discoveries of our time and by the progress of the industry.

Nothing is as false and dangerous as such theories.

Contrary to the most obvious facts, they are unaware of the the essentially anti-religious character of the Revolution, and one can be sure that, if the illustrious writer who propagated it had ass

ti) Tocqueville, The Old Regime and the Revolution, p. 7,

THE PROBLEM OF REVOLUTION

XXV

his appreciation of the events of the last thirty years tions would have been greatly modified.

The Revolution, first and foremost an enemy of the Church by its very nature, tion cannot be willed by God. It cannot advance to be the necessary consequence of discoveries, of progress material things that are gifts of His goodness bestowed upon mankind. These and it depends solely on their free will to counterbalance the softening effects of material prosperity through a search for the greatest of moral virtue.

The profound alteration of relations between the different classes has had for the occasion the disruption brought about in the work schedule through the use of coal, through railways and through the advent of large-scale industry; but a roughly similar revolution had taken place three centuries earlier following the implementation of hydraulic engines and the discovery of the new world.

The old economic relations had been deeply changed. As things changed, new forms of wealth had been created. New bosses had risen, but the essence of the relationships

t

The relationship between the owner and the worker had remained the same.

Moreover, note that the concentration of power produces a reversal of the philosophical and political ideas of the Revolution: it tends to constitute an increasingly economic hierarchy accentuated, at the same time as in the political order one proclaims the absolute equality of citizens and universal suffrage!

The real cause of modern social antagonism is destruction of the role of religion in all classes and the lack of understanding of the completeness of their duties which impiety brings about among the nations who engage in it.

XXVI ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

The spectacle of triumphant political revolutions and the overthrow of traditional sovereignties further aggravates this antagonism of legitimacy, because it shakes the ideas of private law through legitimacy given to acts of violence committed in public order. Every political catastrophe is inevitably followed by progress towards new socialism: we saw it in France in 1789 and 1830, in Italy after 1860, in Spain after 1868. Germany unified, it is experiencing at the expense of its social peace what has been done to it. It was worth the revolutionary annexations of 1866 and 1870.

The social revolution is therefore merely a consequence of the Political and religious revolution.

in decline, it is to place at the forefront of secondary causes
res and deny the main causes, those that were truly at work health. Undoubtedly the abuses of the ruling classes in the 17th and The 18th century had greatly weakened the institutions which are the natural defense of societies, and they have thus made it possible
This could jeopardize the success of their enemies. But abuses have always existed.
They existed, they are the consequence of human infirmity, and history shows us that nations are healable, that they can always reforming as long as they haven't lost the notion of Good. The restorative reigns of St. Louis, of Louis XII, Henry IV and his contemporaries are shining examples of this in our own country.
Indeed, these abuses were merely a pretext for the Revolution:
Wherever she triumphed she preserved them, aggravated them even.
through oppressions that it conceals by systematizing them and by giving them the appearance of legal order.

Moreover, the violence of his attack is inversely proportional to these abuse, one might say. The old regime was much more burdensome in Germany as in France at the end of the 18th century. Never the abuses

THE PROBLEM OF REVOLUTION

xxvn

the feudal system in our country was not comparable to that which has enslaved the working-class populations of England following the e-establishment of large-scale industry and the triumph of the regime elementary (1); but these countries are those that the Revolution has most long spared. Could these be abuses of the old regime that today they encounter on the virgin soil of America the radishes Caux and the Socialist Workers' Party? Is this 'the lack of freedom' public, as some confident liberals claim, which secret societies are multiplying in this country, where freedom exists.
of the most unlimited association? These companies must, for-

(1) In Germany, the drafting of a large number of free peasants
The condition of serfdom was a consequence of the repression of the war peasants and Lutheran doctrines on the unlimited power of princes. Throughout the 18th century, the dues imposed on inhabitants of the countryside, were significantly worsened. These facts are now definitively acquired by science; one can in particular... see the exposition in Janssen's masterful work: Geschichte des deuls - chen Votkes seit dem Ausgange des MillelaUers (Freiburg in Brisgas, Herder, 1878-1879, 2 vols.).

As for England, it will suffice to recall here the famous pro-

The noble orator pointed out with courageous frankness the state of abrupt weaving into which the classes had fallen for half a century female workers. In a very moving painting, he showed the deceiving father his thirst by drinking gin, the child calming his hunger with opium, the prostitution feeding both mother and daughter, finally, as a result of oppression the union of bosses and the hard labor in factories, average life reduced to seventeen years 1!

France under the old regime never experienced such horrors.

It is even noted that, during the years preceding the Revolution, the material condition of the lower classes and particularly the peasants' situation improved significantly, as noted by very-ju-Tocqueville, wittily, in The Old Regime and the Revolution. As for to the suffering of all kinds that the Revolution inflicted on the people French relations, from the sole point of view of material progress, and regression The enormous consequence of this is that we find the authentic painting in the reports of the State Councillors sent on mission in the year VI. They were published by Mr. Félix Uocquain, in his informative work; The State of France at the 18th Brumaire (Paris, 1 vol. in-18, 1877).

XXVIII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

follow a hidden and universal goal, completely independent of the the social state of Europe, so that we can meet them there too.

Let religious men take heed! Religion is also compromised by the thesis of the fatal Revolution as the traditional political principle.

What! The contingent changes brought about by the course natural forces at the time would have been disastrous for the cause of eternal truth. What? Revealed religion would have lost its dominion over such a large part of humanity, by the mere fact that the interests of temp the pores of men would have changed, that they would have seen grow their wealth and intellectual culture, because such and such The government would have fallen short of its mission? How so? Has Christianity lost its practical value in the face of... Are these phenomena also secondary?

These, however, are the contradictions to which the thesis leads. which presents the advent as a necessary and inevitable fact of a revolution essentially hostile to Christianity and to the Christian social order.

But the terms of the problem are completely changed if... fun acknowledges that, for a century and a half, a powerful association tion, whose principles are identical to the ideas realized by the acting in all parts of the social body, sometimes through the press, the platform, youth education, sometimes through plots, but always marching towards the same goal.

This association exists; it is Freemasonry, which is the source and like the mother of all secret societies. She has begun to take effect in the early years of the 18th century, and the progress of the Revolution was in proportion to its spread. Today it has more than twelve thousand worldwide lodges and countless members, who occupy positions, from which they direct the thought and action of their fellow citizens toys. It forms everywhere a compact body, connecting in its within secret ties the most private societies. They may appear different, but their doctrines are the same everywhere: Its unity, its universality, thus explain the unity and the universe the saliality of the Revolution.

THE PROBLEM OF REVOLUTION

XXIX

As soon as Freemasonry emerged from the shadow of its com From the beginning, the Holy See has consistently pointed it out as the great religious, political and social danger. Since Clement XII, In 1738, up to Leo XIII, all the popes warned the sovereigns verains. But the sect, thanks to the secrecy with which it shrouds itself, at The lie, which she has turned into a system, has had the supreme skill to deceive those it was driving to the brink of disaster about its true scope. It initially presented itself as a fun gathering and a charity, while she was breastfeeding at her breast a conspiracy against religion and monarchies *

The Revolution, when we separate it from secondary causes and from local circumstances, therefore, appear as a huge conspiracy which has succeeded so far, not through historical inevitability, nor by a cause superior to human responsibilities, but through the audacity of the conspiracies and, above all, through the failure, by the willful blindness of those who, instead of fighting it, systematically turned a deaf ear to the pilot's warnings infallible, given by God to humanity.

XXX ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

II – SECRET SOCIETIES AND THE MEANS OF STUDYING THEM

THEIR ACTION

Things have reached the point where it is difficult to focus the attention of the men of our time on societies Cretans and their role in contemporary historical events raine.

The majority of writers for the past century, the greatest name one of the masters of youth for almost fifty years all the voices of the major European press at present, belong to Freemasonry. However, even for the most An honest man of the world, involved in the lodges, for the most part innocent apprentice, it is a strictly sworn rule, not to never speak or write in the profane world on ma- order conic nor on secret societies.

Hence this singular phenomenon, which strongly signals Well, Bishop de Ketteler, that penetrating mind so well versed in the contemporary politics:

Freemasonry claims and obtains in the universe the entire remarkable privilege of a completely exceptional position nelle. It's not a question of her being the only one in the world, except in exceptional c tions near, in the public press, and she does not want it to be so question. While the priest speaks and pronounces on all the other relationships that interest men; while Christ Tianism, with all its teachings and prescriptions, that the State, with its laws and constitutions, is the object of the dispute percussion, while even the most intimate personal relationships are brought to light, Freemasonry alone, according to a General European consent is a sacred thing to which It must not be touched; everyone is afraid to speak of it as if it were a a kind of specter. This very strange position is already proof of The immense power that Freemasonry wields in the world of (1).

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES XXXI

That is why, without even mentioning the present time, in so many stories of the 18th century and the Revolution, a systematic silence The theme is maintained regarding the very existence of Masonic lodges. The actual degree of their influence can be debated among men my equal good faith, but the fact of their multiplication and of Their activity is essential for anyone who doesn't have a pen tied to their head, and we

Cretans, several did not interpret their ser- so strictly ments, and did not hesitate to proclaim loudly the power of Masonic action.

Other writers, and more advanced ones, seem to have taken to task of confusing the public.

Here, for example, is Mr. Bluntschli who, in works re-notable precisely for their vast erudition, described all the elements of the modern state and politics. It does not limit itself not to legal forms; exactly like a catalogue, it deals with successively of all manifestations of political life:
Parties, press, associations, public opinion. Only companies secret, so numerous in modern states, are not indicative found in this encyclopedic journal, and yet Mr. Blunts Chile cannot ignore this. He is the grand master of one of the powers.
Masonic lodges in Germany, and he filled entire volumes

(1) Freiheit, Auktoritcet und Kirche, p. 218.

XXXII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

special publications of the order through its speeches on the in-influence of Freemasonry. But these books intended for the world laypeople do not let anyone suspect the slightest word.
I don't know, thanks to long habit, how to recognize the ways of specific considerations for affiliates. One of the most significant factors of modern history is thus systematically removed from the knowledge for uninitiated readers.

Nevertheless, as the Revolution made progress
Sandstone, the veil was lifted, confessions multiplied, men
My most progressive members were not afraid to raise their voices and to
to blame those who are backward for their lack of courage and logic.
Louis Blanc, among others, brought to light the pre-
the significant role of secret societies in the events of the 18th century century. Henri Martin devoted many pages to them in the last volumes of his History of France (1). After having de He described the variety of their rites, concluding that they were, until 1789, the general instrument of philosophy and the laboratory of the Revolution. It is by alluding to those times that Madame Georges Sand said for her part "that there are moments where the history of empires exists only nominally and where
The only truly alive things are the sects hidden in their breast (2).

Prominent statesmen, however, did not allow themselves blinded by common error, and saw from what source The poison that agitated the entire modern world was flowing. The popes

(1) History of France (fourth edition), vol. XX, pp. 399, 400; vol. XVI, pp. 526, 532, 535.

(2) The Companions of the Tour de France, preface.

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES XXXIII

and their ministers were at the forefront, as we have already said. From a purely human point of view, Rome is the place of the world where one is best informed. The incomparable diplomacy of the saint* The seat provides all the more reliable information because it is more unobstructed. secondary interests. The representatives of an institution that knows it must last as long as the world is certainly well placed used to judge the course of time.

When minds like Consalvi and Joseph de Maistre signed they were making known to all European courts the danger of these societies Cretans, they did not obey vain terrors nor hal- morbid visions.

The warnings, moreover, followed one another without interruption. rupture and the most opposite sides.

Protestants like Mr. de Haugwitz, in his Memorandum to the sovereigns assembled at Verona, – Mr. de Haller, the eminent publicist, – the statesmen of the Anti-Masonic party,

r

in the United States, – Eckert, the courageous and learned Saxon lawyer, have shown that secret societies jeopardize the political order litigious and civil matters, no less than religion. More recently, Bishop de Ketteler, the illustrious bishop of Mainz (1), – Mgr Dupan- wolf(2), – Cardinal Deschamps, Archbishop of Mechelen(3), have, with their high authority, demonstrated that Freemasonry was the greatest peril of modern times, according to writings where the lessons of logic and the teachings of history are presented in a striking way.

Cardinal Mathieu, summarizing the long experience of his life as a bishop and public figure, he in turn wrote:

(1) Éreiheit, Åuckoritæt Uhd Kirche, 1865, and Kami Ein Christ Frei-Maurer sein, 1869.

(2) Study on Freemasonry, Paris, Douniol, 1875.

(3) Freemasonry, its character, its extent, its organization, its sources, its tributaries, its purpose and its secrets. Tournai, Casierman, 1863.

3

XXXIV ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

"Jo is struggling to understand how he..."

"the fact that the powerful of this century do not even look at—"

"around them, and so close to them, that which undermines and gnaws at them"

"awaiting their complete overthrow. I am very convinced that "Most of the major and sinister events of our time have

"were prepared and consumed by Freemasonry." {Letter from April 7, 1875 at 31. Robinet de Cléry.)

In England, it was Cardinal Manning who, on October 1st

In 1877, he spoke thus before an important political meeting.

tick:

"We have all seen an empire that was created by a revolution; on the throne, an emperor whom devolution had placed there, and who, throughout his life, drew inspiration for his politics from bombs exploding beneath his feet and revolutionary principles naires.

"Even today, we see a monarchy which, under the pressure from revolutionary secret societies sidelined the laws and those who governed, and violently and openly stripped men of their most obvious rights; a king legitimate was seen, waiting and watching to appropriate what the Revolution was bound to catch him in its net. We saw all of that. we, with our eyes.

"And even today, this war which has so miserably Covered in ruins and blood, the soil of Serbia, this war has no action has been taken, it is not being pursued by the authority of Those who are in charge of governing this country. Those, at the time present, no longer have authority in their hands.

occupied by an army that is a foreign army, much more than a Serbian army, and then they tell you that behind it there is a certain imperial throne, a war party that makes these things inevitable.

"If I insist on all these things, it is so that you understand-

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES XXXV

deny that these are neither the emperors, nor the kings, nor the princes, who direct the course of events in the East. There are something above them and behind them, and this something, more powerful than all of them, will make itself felt when the time comes. arrival. Yes, the day when all the armies of Europe are engaged embroiled in a massive conflict, then, on that day, the Revolution, who until now has been working secretly underground, will have found The opportune moment to reveal oneself in broad daylight. This has been observed. for Paris will be seen again for the whole of Europe

"And if the leader of Christendom on earth has remained silent" in a moment of such grave peril, it is because he and his predecessors sisters, with voices whose firmness never wavered, have never ceased to warn the governments and princes of Europe Christian rope to be very wary of these secret societies and revolutionaries, who work to undermine and destroy their thrones, and social order in all countries; it is because he knows very well that the first spark that will ignite the war in Europe will produce a European conflagration, and that we will We will then be left to contemplate, no longer a great pool of blood, like the one that polluted Bulgaria, but rivers, a de a sledge of blood running throughout the East, wherever the populations Catholics and Muslims are intertwined.

"We are told that authority is no longer in the hands of the Serbian government, and that it is no longer he who governs the nation; that the aims and power of Slavic secret societies and the war party are such that the government cannot no longer directing anything, and that these same companies, this same party, go govern in his place.

"God grant that authority does not escape from another nation" This point is also in the hands of those who govern it! And when I I'm talking about those who govern it; I'm not referring to this or that man. me, this or that party; in such matters, parties and men My [things] are of little importance to me! But I hear the government government of our major centers, of which we are the sons; the government of our monarchy, the government of our: sovereign; I mean the government, not the parties, in the supreme authority of a sovereignty that numbers a thousand years of existence.

XXXVI DSS ACTION SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Cardinal Manning was merely repeating, in an express manner
sive what Mr. d'Israéli had affirmed on many occasions not not only in his political and literary works, but also as public figure.

As prime minister, he did not hesitate to exclaim in a speech delivered in Aylesbury on September 20, 1876:

"The governments of this century are not only dealing with..."
to governments, emperors, kings and ministers, but in core to secret societies, elements which must be taken into account, which, at the last moment, can nullify all the arrangements
gements, which have agents everywhere, unscrupulous agents who incite them to assassination, and can, if necessary, bring about a mass sacred. "

However numerous the lodges may be in England,
No protest was raised against these words, and the opposition
The stance has prudently refrained from attacking the prime minister on this land.

The truth, difficult to penetrate at the beginning of this century
The key, therefore, bursts forth more and more, and, for every uninformed mind accused, the actions of secret societies in modern history
This is a fact that can no longer be ignored. We would be there all the less well-founded since, in the pride of their triumph, beautiful
A Freemason coup reveals the role that Freemasonry has taken from the past at work of the Revolution. This is F.*. Ma-Lapert, for example, orator of the supreme council of the Scottish Rite, who, betting, in 1874, on a master's degree in Alsace -

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES XXXVII

Lorraine, said in her own words: "In the 18th century, France
Freemasonry was so widespread throughout the world that one can say

THAT NOTHING HAS BEEN DONE SINCE THAT TIME WITHOUT HIS CONSTITUTION FEELING.

Confessions of this kind are currently abundant (1); they are supported by undeniable historical evidence and are based, moreover, on a tradition preserved in the lodges, which is itself – even a first-order proof.

The study of secret societies is therefore an absolute necessity to have the intelligence of modern times. It is possible for a writer gifted with insight and taking the trouble to push its investigations into the field, which is very vast today, documents that have fallen into the public domain.

Father Deschamps, in the preface to the first edition of this work, indicated in excellent terms the method to follow :

"Catholic by birth, priest by vocation, devoted to the Church" and to all the duties it imposes on its ministers, we have not We have never been part of any secret societies, we have never having taken any of the oaths attached to their ranks, we we have never received an intimate confidence from him, or one shared in secret, or by a vengeful betrayal, of none of their members, and yet which we are convinced of – and many masons themselves

(1) In 1854 the famous Verhøgen, Grand Master of the Grand Orient of Belgium, said to an assembly of lodges: "Let us note that in many Under the circumstances, Freemasonry unanimously disregarded the restriction of its statutes. She actively participated in political struggles, and when the The triumph of his cause, hailed by the entire nation, demonstrated how much She is well-liked in the country, so who would dare blame her? That would be ca- To omit history, to deny the immense service rendered to the nation! Also are we justified in saying that she was fulfilling an imperative duty and that, if necessary, she would do well to persist in this course.

XXXVI/f ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

will be – that we have a more complete knowledge of the Freemasonry and its main sects, which most of its members, memo the most advanced in appearance.

We owe this knowledge to observation and study in-depth analysis of the French and European revolutions, the phases various things they have experienced, events, constitutions tions and the laws that resulted from them, assemblies or men my eminent colleagues who served as their agents. This is the study of all these elements, especially their totality and their relationships, which we

to ascend to its mysterious sources, to draw from them, not only the certainty of its existence, but to shatter it in all minds of good faith the undeniable evidence.

These sources are numerous. The first ones are those that capture the spirit with an undeniable certainty, are the constitutions and Masonic statutes, prepared by the commissions of the most illustrious very masons, approved and voted on by the general assemblies or legislative assemblies of the Grand Orients, and which cannot be printed and distributed to the lodges only by order of the high masters and their advice.

A Summary of reports made to the French authorities, on behalf of the review commission, on November 30, 1838 and March 13, 1839, in pre-sensing in its sanction the result of the discussion of the general statutes of the Order by the Central Committee (1), renders a faithful historical account the tendency and centralizing spirit with which they were successively created and established these codes, constitutions, statutes and regulations.

The second, even more abundant, is no less certain. It consists of Masonic Manuals or Tilers of all degrees and rites of Freemasonry, official notebooks of these degrees, of modes or rituals of their reception, instructions, catechisms, oaths or obligations of the recipients, signs and words of pass, hymns (that's the name they're given) which follow these receptions, or are sung in the boxes at the tables that accompany For the ordinary, the receptions for the principal ranks. That's where,

(1) This commission was composed of the Brothers of the Chapter, President, Morand, Pillol, Dctournay, Drawing, Arlliaud, Janiu, Sicarü, oflieiersdu G.v0.-., and had as its rapporteur F.*. Vassal.

MEANS OF STUDYING SOCIAL SOCIETIES XXXIX

in the details of these degrees, in the oratorical developments or dialogues between the venerable, the female candidates, and the supervisors. in general, especially of all the constituent elements of the Freemasonry, its degrees and its rites, which are caught in the act the spirit, the tendencies, the principles and the consequences, the goal and the means of this Briareus with a hundred arms and his actions infinitely diversified.

This source, so rich at first glance, offers no less in-questionable guarantees; it is the security given by oaths or obligations imposed, in the very reception of degrees, on each that recipient, and under the most serious penalties, to keep a

of, object, mode, discourse, various circumstances, on all this what happens in the lodges, and to reveal nothing of it by any means any.

The formula of these oaths, which are repeated upon receiving each that grade, sometimes shorter, sometimes more developed, according to the The difference in rituals is, at its core, the same everywhere. The impression manuals or collections of Masonic degrees and everything else Therefore, this could not have been done without the authorization of the Orient. various and without their explicit or tacit approval, which gives the very authority of these Grand Orients and of all the Masonic Nonsense.

To the guarantee of such formidable oaths is added that which is supported by the constitutions and statutes of the or Dr. in all countries.

Among the masons found to be irregular, according to the ar Article 203 of the constitution promulgated following the report that We quoted above: "Those who, through printing or in any other way, make the grade registers public and the mysteries of Freemasonry, or rather those who publish the work of the correspondence workshops or that of the Grand-Orient without special permission..."

Article 215 also states: "Those who, by means of printing or by lithography or by any other means, have made public the notebooks of degrees and the mysteries of Freemasonry, are permanently excluded from the correspondence workshops of Grand Orient and cannot, under any circumstances, be rehabilitated as masons.

XL ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Twenty years later, under the great mastery of Prince Lu Cien Murat, the statutes contain the same provisions, the The same penalties apply and are extended to all periodical publications. Grand Master, seeing their numbers increase every day, even issued the following decree in his council and according to all the Constitutional rules of Freemasonry:

"Whereas," it says, "for some time now we we have noticed that the number of Masonic publications, Periodicals or otherwise, are increasing every day...

"Considering that one can be justified in arguing that the productions of isolated members of twist are more or less those of twist whole, since, if he is not jointly liable, he should at least have prevented them expensive to occur or to disavow them;

"Considering, moreover, that the constitution and the general statutes of the Masonic Order, in all eras, has judged this question thus... Seen in the light of Article 14 of the Constitution; having regard to Articles 294 and 298 of the general statutes of the Order, we have decreed and do decree:

Article I. From March 1, 1859, no Masonic writing, periodic or otherwise, may not be printed anywhere other than at the printer's death of the Grand Orient of France, unless authorized special from us, etc... The Grand Master of the Masonic Order in France: L. Mubat.

Eckert, the Saxon lawyer, in his memorandum addressed to parliament in Dresden's opposition to Freemasonry attests to the existence of the same statutes in Germany (1).

(1) The annual author of the Masonic Almanac, GLB Clavel, master at all levels, will give us an idea of the importance of Masonic rituals in the preface to his Picturesque History of the Freemasonry, a work reprinted twice after the elevation of its author with the rank of officer of the Grand Orient of France, and published by the Fr.*. Pagnerre, also illustrated by the dignified memo:

"It seemed essential to us," we read in the third edition, "to precede the first part of our story with an introduction or introduction. The symbols, ceremonies, and various customs of are described. the Masonic association and where the mysteries of that association are explained and compared with the mysteries of antiquity. And on that subject, We are pleased to note that we have said nothing that has not already has been printed a hundred times by many of the most zealous and most

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES XLI

All these manuals and tile-laying tools of such great authority) we we have all or almost all interviewed and studied (1).

However, if the only external exploration of constitutions and Masonic manuals already demonstrate so undeniably the recommended by the Masonic society, with the implicit approval or formally expressed by the Grand Lodges and Grand Orients.

"As early as 1723, the Grand Lodge of London itself was giving to several its members' mission is to gather and publish the statutes, the documents* trines, instructions and various internal ceremonies of the Franc* Freemasonry. This collection appeared shortly afterwards under the name of Brother Anderson, with the Grand Lodge's visa. All the other administrations Masonic lodges have translated or reprinted Anderson's book or in far away. In 1777, he published a newspaper entitled: State of the Great * Orient, in which his works were reported and described more secret. This journal has been replaced, since 1813, by the publication of Minutes of the two annual Solsilia festivals. One can read there the speeches by the speakers, reports on the work carried out in the semester and even our most mysterious forms. Nowadays, There is not a lodge of this regime that does not use it for the holding of its Assemblies, for the reception of the uninitiated, of the printed rituals of the French Freemasonry. These rituals are even sold publicly. They were inserted in their entirety into Volume X of Ceremonies and Customs nuns, by Bernard Picard, 1809 edition... A few years ago Born from the Grand Orient, Brother Bazot was appointed head of its secretariat, who had previously unearthed a Manual, where the ri- Masonic texts, and a Tiler where the words, the signs are recorded and the physical contact of all ranks, consequently resulting in Such a choice is an implicit sanction against the publication of these works... In 1841, by a special resolution, he authorized the printing of the Interpretive course of Brother Ragon, which contains the explanation of the symbols boles and the most hidden mysteries of Freemasonry.

"The other Masonic lodges have generally shown themselves to be quite also eager to see this knowledge spread among the brothers of their jurisdictions. In 1812, the mother lodge of the philosophical Scottish Rite authorized Brother Alexandre Lenoir to publish his book entitled: La Franc - masonry restored to its true origin, where, as in the work Brother Ragon's Masonic mysteries are described and interpreted. On the other hand, the Supreme Council of France, which numbered among among its members was Brother Willaume, author of a Tiler of all kinds des, hastened, upon the resumption of his work in 1821, to address this Tiler to all the workshops of his regime that requested it. We could easily multiply quotations of this kind.

(1) We will cite, among other things: The most secret mysteries of the high

XLII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

wealth and the silence of this source, what proof will not provide- won't she help our search when we go down to the bottom of the... scs abfmes and that, using logic alone, we will probe them, dé- covered and laid bare by the masons themselves, masters of all the degrees, the most skillful and the most obviously authorized: llazot, Picard, B. Glavel, Ilôdarès, Willaumo, Tcissier? What safety and what wealth will it not offer us, under the con especially duite do maître Ragon, who, he himself says, was raised from his youth nesse, in the conservative rigor of the departmental lodges; fond dater, after twelve years of service, of one of the most illustrious lodges of Paris, the Trinosophists; contributor to the very notebooks of the degrees of the Grand Orient; solemnly approved in 11th century by a commission supreme council of the Grand Orient (1), in its Course of Initiations - degrees of Freemasonry, or the true Rosicrucian Order, translated from English, followed by the Noachite, translated from the German, 1766; Valuable collection of the Adonhiramite Freemasonry, by Louis Guilmmin of Saint-Victor, Knight of all Masonic orders, 1787; True Adoption Freemasonry and the origin of Freemasonry, by the same author, 1810; Instruction of ap-Freemasonry and catechism, 1828; The Historical Tableau, philosophy The morality and principles of Freemasonry, by Brother Bazot, 1836; The Mason The Freemason's Practical Manual, 1845; The General Manual of Freemasonry nerie, containing the seven grades of the French rite, the thirty-six degrees of the Scottish Rite and the three degrees of Adoption Freemasonry, followed by a form for banquet work, installations, baptisms, and from a dictionary of words used in Freemasonry, with an explanation of The cubic stone and the philosophical cross, by Tcissier, inspector general, 33 degrees, former officer of the Grand Orient of France, and manufacturer Masonic decorations, 1856; Historical and philosophical studies phiques on the three degrees of symbolic Freemasonry, followed by the moral influence of Freemasonry on the spirit of nations, by the Brother Redares, studies approved and recommended to all the brothers res by thirty-four venerable masters from the principal lodges of France, including 12 members of the Grand Master's Council, 1859; an Instruction for the symbolic rank of master, followed by a dictionary or vocabulary Area of the principal words used in Freemasonry, 1863, of, etc.

(1) Approval, says the trial-vdrbal reported at the beginning of the book, given after a careful examination of the work from a moral standpoint, examination by which the Grand Orient had to ascertain whether this work contained no precepts, no maxims contradicting Us principles which guide the Masonic association, and whose consequence.

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES XLXU

lions, followed, he added, by all the illustrations of the bar Parisian?

What more could one desire? And yet our research and our proofs These theories did not stop there: they were corroborated by written sources. by Weishaupt and Knight, books by St-Martin, by St-Simon, Enfantin, Fourier and their principal disciples, manifestos of the founders of the International, Karl Marx, Odger, Fribourg, Tolain, Langlois, etc.; testimonies and the manifesto of the Duke of Brunswick, established Grand Master of Freemasonry by the deputies of Masonic lodges from all over the world at the convent of Willhemsbad; from the memorandum to the Congress of Verona by Baron de Haugwitz, director of Masonic lodges in Prussia, in Germany gne, in Poland and Kussie; speeches delivered in the principal

After careful deliberation, it was decided to recognize that the ou-Brother Ragon's work was written for a laudable and eminent purpose.
philosophically, that it was the work of a deeply insane brother trout, worthy in every respect of the unanimous praise it had just received receive.

The Grand Orient of France does even more: having received a copy of the Printed course, he himself addressed a letter to the author in which one could read:
"T.. G.'. F.\, the G..-O.', of France received, in his chamber of cor-response, the sending you made of a copy of your An interpretive course on ancient and modern initiations, and, convinced of the usefulness and merit of this work, accepted the tribute and ordered given that it would be deposited in his library.

And after recalling his initial approval, he added: "Today
Today, T.. C.\ F.., he (the G.'. O.\) instructed us to reiterate to you com-
He had happily witnessed the learned pen of a mason such as yourself, to undertake such an honorable task, and to ask you to receive, with his congratulations, the expression of his gratitude for the new service that You have just returned to Freemasonry. Indeed, initiating our brothers into lights that we possess, that is, T.-. G.-. F.-., to accomplish the most beautiful part of the mission entrusted to us, and as such, as well Others, you have acquired certain rights to recognition.
"All the masons."

The chapter lodge of Nancy went even further and, "addressing the reverend lodges of both hemispheres, noting the goodness and morality and the usefulness of this work, she announced and recommended to the brothers a completely Masonic reprint, called the sacred edition for the use of lodges of masons only, whose goal, which was to be achieved, was to RECONSTRUCT THE UNITY OF VIEWS AND SENSES, WHERE WOULD BE BORN LATER

the unity of POWER and action.

XLIV ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Pale lodges of Germany collected in books by the Freemasons more famous or printed in Masonic journals and newspapers questions; stories from the famous Swede Wit, known as Doéring, protected of the ministry Decazos, fellow student of Sand, the assassin of Kotzebue, summopatriarcha principle of the Carbonara, and responsible for making,
as supreme inspector, the correspondence of the high Freemason rieny between Germany, France, Switzerland and Italy. We
We have examined Voltaire's memoirs and correspondence, as well as the moral and political doctrines of the Helvetius, of A-

Freemasons, as the secretary of the Grand Orient, Bazot, assures us to be identically the same as those of Freemasonry.

To all these testimonies, to all these sovereign authorities for The Freemasons, joined by judgments and confessions, the deeds and actions of the most famous Freemasons in history, we mean the Mirabeaus, Tailleyrand-Périgords, Duports, Lafayette, Grégoire, Sieyès, Condorcet, Robespierre, Babeuf, Buonarrotti, Cambacérès, Napoleon Bonaparte, Dupont de l'Eure, Crémieux, Michel de Bourges, Palmerston, Mazzini, Cavour, Childish...

These are, as outlined by the author himself of the great work which We are currently offering the public a new edition, the means information acquired from history on the actions of secret societies.

No doubt such a study, besides the inherent difficulties in all historical studies, in encountering particular ones in the mystery and lies that shroud these societies. One a very small number of initiates can, at any given time, to embrace all their movements and relationships. This difficulty The cult is even greater for the one who only sees them from the exterior. A few minor errors are inevitable in a work of this kind, but they cannot take away their certainty study to the whole of the results of these investigations, because it is based on the concordance of so many testimonies and on the report due to the sheer number of incidents, no judicial investigation,

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES

XLV

no parliamentary inquiry ever presented more guarantees ties of accuracy.

This is also true when we point out the predominant role played by the secret societies during the Revolution, we do not intend to deny them. the other causes that join their action to theirs.

Being fluid and diverse, man rarely obeys a motive unique; often he wants contradictory things, but he ends up always by falling in the direction it leans, except by getting up again sometimes by a secret instinct, contrary to the laws of logic and balance.

During the Revolution, they were influenced by anti-Christian sects. They were born, but they also paid the price for their mistakes and errors. old.

It cannot be acknowledged enough that the power of princes as a result of the unrest caused by Protestantism, and the elimination of regular representation of the various interests social security in the states of the continent, had introduced in France, Spain, Italy, during the last century, causes of suffering and sources of irritation, which caused ac to be enthusiastically embraced by a tired and unstable society the perfidious program of Freemasonry, of the philosophers and fanatics. Secret societies multiplied. all the more so as public life had become even more restricted. Thus Do parasites develop on diseased organisms?

We must also take into account an order of events, this time an absolute one. specific to our time.

Bringing nations closer together through rapid communication channels communication, the proliferation of books and newspapers, facilitate the dissemination of ideas and tend to standardize the thinking of different rents peoples; in this respect, but in this respect only, the material transformations of the world conspire with the action of lodges spread out and communicating throughout the entire universe.

XLVI ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Then, over time, the effects became causes in turn. The sectarians, who made the Revolution, have spread throughout Europe violently shattered the old class relations, dissolved these great families who, like ancient oaks, defended vast spaces against storms, plundered and abolished by force corporations, these tutelary institutions in which the genius of Christian ages had raised so much morally and economically The families of the people, destroyed the customs that fixed at agricultural workers, and above all, by the greatest of cries My, they have, by tearing religion from the hearts of the people, removed the hope of heaven to those whom they could not satisfy with goods of the earth!

Once these destructions were accomplished, the popular masses left women without religion and without protection, wounded in their interests moral and material resources are embracing socialism. The trade unions, resistance societies and communist groups were founded as if of their own accord outside of Freemasonry and contrary to the will of its leaders. Their supreme skill lies in to seize control of their direction without their knowledge, to...

hungry for pleasure so as not to be crushed themselves.
It is sometimes socialist masses that one can truthfully speak of.
that anti-religious hatred is accidental among them. We have the striking proof in the ease with which Christians dedicated, who address both the heart and the interests of The worker, they bring him back into line. The people are the first to be duped.
and the greatest victim of the Revolution!

To embrace at a single glance the great complexity of the events to consider the role of each of the contributing factors in their realization, putting them in their order and highlighting them, is a

METHODS OF STUDYING SECRET SOCIETIES

XLVII

a most arduous task; perhaps it exceeds the scope of a human eye.

But it is still providing a first-rate service to the so-companies, rather than shedding light on the main cause of their suffering, on that which the conspiracy of silence and the men-r dream systematically hidden in the shadows.

Among the people before whose eyes these passages will fall
many of them will belong to Freemasonry, or counts Freemasons will be present in their circle of acquaintances. Now, perhaps-will they be surprised when comparing it with their impressions personal what we have just said about the role of the Freemason laughter and secret societies in contemporary events.
There was never any conspiracy in the lodges to which they belonged.
Freemasonry appeared to them as an association charitable and sociable association, which provides relationships useful to its members. It lets each of them follow in peace his worship and never harassed them in the exercise of their religion gion. Freemasonry, they will say again, repels in all its public acts, and through the agency of its regular grand masters, any solidarity with these secret societies, whose hand we find in contemporary revolutions, such as the Carbon-rie, Young Europe, the Universal Democratic Alliance, the In-international.

We will address these objections by briefly describing... the organization of Freemasonry, by studying its documentation

tions with other secret societies, finally by searching for its secret and its ultimate goal.

XLVIII ACTIONS OF SECKETES COMPANIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

III. – DISORGANIZATION OF FREEMASONRY

Freemasonry is essentially an association and universal, despite the variety of rites practiced by the lodges.

This unity is based on the three grades, known as symbolic, according to apprentice, journeyman, master. Five masters can train a lodge and proceed with the reception of new members. All An individual received into a lodge thereby becomes part of the order. whole, he can gain entry to all the lodges and claim the as-support from members of the order throughout the universe.

These three grades form the basis upon which all others are built. rites.

These rites consist of a series of grades, called chapter grades, in which the doctrines of Freemasonry are developed under the form of various allegories. All Masonic authors recognize it is born that the doctrine of order is entirely contained in The ritual of the three symbolic degrees. The chapter degrees do not only make it clearer, only instill it more strongly in the insiders (1).

(i) The higher or chapter degrees, also called philosophical, do not They are only regularly constituted insofar as they have the first ones as their foundation *These ranks, added more or less recently, were inspired by the They are one of each other and often even copied. Therefore, it suffices to know them well to understand the spirit of Freemasonry, to study the principal degrees of the rites more widespread or which served as a model for all the others.

The French or modern rite adds four chapter degrees to the three the first symbolic degrees, and thus there are seven in total. The rite of The number of former Free and Accepted Masons of England is also reduced to seven; the

the organization of Freemasonry tt.tt

The origin and value of chapter degrees are a major subject of

to trace them back to the very continuation of the Order of the Temple; one will find precise indications of the degree of truth that This tradition is contained in chapters I and II of the book. condition of this work. What is certain is that new chapter degrees were created in great numbers during the 18th century, at the time when the conspiracy against the Christian order The knot was being tied. As Louis Blanc said, these were all art inner sanctuaries, where the initiates successively gathered more active.

Three have even recently been added to the Scottish Rite so-called administrative grades, which are only conferred on those in positions members of the Grand Orient and the Supreme Council, and which complement the symbolic series of thirty-three degrees.

Today, the highest degrees are conferred in France. quite indistinctly, and one can traverse its entire scale without

The Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite is that reformed by Frederick II, King of Prussia; he added eight degrees to the twenty-five that constituted the rite Ancient Scottish Rite, also called the Rite of Perfection or of Heredom: it is the one that the Grand Orient of France also annexed. Saint-Martin les reduced to ten. The rectified rite or regime, known as the strict observance Since the reform of the Wilhelmsbad Convention, there are now only five grades, but the fifth is divided into three sections. The rite or order of the Temple is also reduced to eight, making the seventh the preparation for the eighth. thirtieth or final degree. The Zinnendorf rite or system, which is that of the Grand National Lodge of Germany in Berlin, is also reduced to seven degrees. Weishaupt's Illuminism proper amounted to nine. The Swedish rite went up to twelve, and that of the Swe* system Demborg descended to six. The rite alone of Misraïm, dividing and subdividing endlessly adding to the other degrees, often leaving them with their names, always retaining its spirit, it amounts to ninety, divided into four series (Clavel, Picturesque History, Universal Statistics of France-masonry, p. 63. – William, Tiler's Manual, introduction. – Ragon, Course of Ancient and Modern Initiations.)

THE ACTIVITIES OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

to know the true secret of the order. These receptions are multiplying bend, because vanity plays a large role in the lodges and because they are one of the most abundant sources for the Grand Orient budget (1). But what is happening now does not no prejudice against the political significance that these ranks had formerly. The essentially hierarchical organization of the Ma-

to choose and consult with one another.

Here is how Father Malapert expresses himself on this sensitive subject: one of the most distinguished contemporary Masonic writers, in lodge attire which he presided over as orator of the Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite:

"Beyond mastery, there is nothing more to learn."

High degrees are titles given to Freemasons, who choose themselves felt for a certain purpose. The great work resides entirely in apprenticeship, journeymanhood, and mastery. The Rosicrucians and the Knights Kadosh know no more than their masters. I understand However, I acknowledge that at certain times the need to form special meetings, because they are the means to better spread the practice of our ideas. Thus, at- Beyond the mastery, there are masons who handle the execution. more direct of our general theories. As such, the higher degrees have their reason for being, although one can work usefully without them seder (2).

Depending on the diversity of the higher ranks, the rites have multiplied.

(!) Le Monde maçonnique of March 1880, p. 469, deplores this ease: "The lodges," he said, "see too much of nothing but the cash register. Certainly a lodge. To live, one needs funds; but this love of the commerceasse de la Maçonnerie a shop or a masonry factory. What's most important is the quality of the masons, and with quality Then comes the quantity.

(2) Reproduced by the Chain of Union, year 1874, p. 85.

the organization of Freemasonry lx

and with them the governing centers, the grand lodges, the mothers-lodges, Grand Orients, supreme councils. They are called of a generic term: Masonic powers.

As we will see in the historical section, the leaders of the Freemasonry endeavored, shortly before the French Revolution, to concentrate these powers and merge these rites. They are there only partially achieved.

In France, there are currently four Masonic powers ques:

The Grand Orient of France.

The Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite.

The Scottish Symbolic Grand Lodge.

The Supreme Council of the Rite of Misraïm.

These Masonic powers are sovereign over one another.
vis de l'autres, but treaties exist between them; they recognize
The ranks conferred by the lodges of their obedience are born. The u-
The integrity of the order is therefore not altered.

Here is the internal organization of the Grand Orient, which is currently the most important element of by far of these four powers:

"The Grand Orient," said Clavel, one of its officers, "is forming..."
venerable members of the lodges themselves and presidents of the various workshops that practice the high degrees of the French and Scottish rites old and accepted; in the absence of their presidents, these various bodies are represented by special deputies, elected by them annually by a majority vote. The Grand Orient attributes to itself the power supreme, dogmatic, legislative, judicial and administrative session of all workshops, of all rites and of all existing grades throughout France. The general assembly of the Grand-
The Orient takes place once a year and acts as a parliament.
on the questions submitted to it. The effective management belongs to the council of the order, composed of thirty-three delegates of the general assembly, which resides in Paris and decides on all all the questions that arise. The Grand Orient is divided into five main branches: the correspondence room and the

THE ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

finances constituting Y administration; the symbolic chamber which handles everything related to the workshops of the first three grades; the supreme council of rites which decides on everything that has report to the workshops of the higher grades; the council chamber appeals court, which gives its opinion on all matters concerning existence tenacity of the workshops and which makes the final decision in the cases tests that arise between workshops or between brothers
Finally, the central or election committee, which deals with the same matters tières à /iuw-c/os. Independently of these five rooms, the Grand-
The East contains within itself the great college of rites, which confers the higher degrees, a finance committee and an inspection committee of the secretariat... (1) »

No lodge can be formed or make a decision to
of some importance without the acknowledgment of the Grand Orient, which has the power to solder.

The Grand Orient is usually headed by a Grand Master, usually chosen from among members of the ruling families or among the official figures. 11 serves as protector of the order, but cannot impose a real direction on it (2), because the power The entire workforce resides in the committees. In France, since

(1) Picturesque History of Freemasonry, pp. 26, 27.

(2) Some indications will be found a little further on (Introduction, § VI) cations on the deceptive role played by the protective princes to the Grand Masters of the Order. Here, moreover, is how they expressed themselves master on the subject, in 1863, when Prince Lucien Murat was grand Master of the Grand Orient of France, Le Monde maçonnique, November issue bre (vol. VI, p. 411):

Freemasonry must draw its strength from within itself, and when it has the "It's a misfortune to have crowned protectors; she shouldn't..." "to give more importance than they already have in creating their pro- b fane; these, in fact, are very often the main cause of abuses "and intolerance, which still reigns within our very heartland" "Order."

the organization of Freemasonry

0

HIM

In 1869, the Grand Orient no longer had a Grand Master, but only a president (i).

The Grand Orient of France leaves the lodges of its obedience free to practice one of the two rites, the French or Mori rite derne, the accepted Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite. But a certain name lodges practicing this latter rite form an obedience particular, and are attached to the supreme council of the Scottish Rite Old accepted.

The Grand Orient was established in 1772. As for the Supreme – Advice, it is older; but after various adventures in Its operation, it took this name in 1803 and consolidated

(1) Here are the members of the Grand–

Andrieux, lawyer, member of parliament and prefect of police. – Barré, doctor of law decine, in Paris. – Blanchon, division head at the central counter of Credit, in Paris. – Brémond, lawyer, member of the municipal council of Marseille, former sub-prefect. – Bruand, merchant, member of the council municipal council of Besançon. – Cammas, man of letters, in Maisons-sur-Seine. – Gaubet, man of letters, head of the municipal police. – Cousin, chief inspector for the Northern Railway, in Paris.
Dalsace, merchant, in Paris. – Didiot, merchant, in Paris. – De Saint-Jean, Doctor of Medicine, in Paris. – Desmons, member of the council general of Gard, president of the consistory of Saint-Chaples, pastor of The Reformed Church, in Saint-Geniès-du-Magloire (Gard). – Doué, Doctor
In medicine, chief physician of the navy, "at Toulon-sur-Mer. ■– Duhamel, lawyer at the Paris Court, chief of staff to the president of the Republic, member of the Pas-de-Calais General Council. –From Hé-Rédia, president of the Paris municipal council. – Foussier, merchant,
In Paris. – Herpin, doctor of medicine, in Livry (Seine-et-Oise). –
Jean, a member of the Albi municipal council, is a judge at the commercial court.
Merchant, former sub-prefect, manufacturer in Albi (Tarn). – Joly (Albert), Lawyer, member of parliament, member of the Versailles municipal council. – Lagache-Sainl-Gest, lawyer, former sub-prefect of Boulogne-sur-Mer (Pas-de-Calais). – Le Plé, doctor of medicine, in Rouen. – Masse, member of the Paris municipal council, solicitor at the civil court of first instance Seine River district, Paris. – Martin (Antide), member of the council Paris municipal councilor, former notary, in Paris. – Neumarck, member of the Reims city council, president of the labor court, to Reims. – Poulie, solicitor, member of the Amiens municipal council, pre-President of the Chamber of Solicitors, in Amiens. – Roche, pharmacist,

LIV ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

in 1817, through the union of two rival powers of the rite
Scottish, which was due particularly to the zeal of Duke Decazes.

The Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite has a
Its constitution was far more authoritarian than that of the Grand Orient.
Members are elected for life and recruit themselves; the power that he exercises over the workshops under his authority is also beautiful
A more forceful blow.

The Supreme Council, under the Restoration and the monarchy of July, grouped the most advanced part of Freemasonry, because that he had been better able to evade the control of political powers tics, which the Grand Orient had accepted when receiving its grand masters and deputy grand masters under the control of the government.

But today, due to its more closed constitution, the
The Supreme Council is rapidly losing its influence. Many of to pass into the obedience of the Grand Orient (1).

For several years a silent struggle for influence has existed between the Grand Orient and the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite member of the borough council and the municipal council, in Rochc-Fort-sur-Mer. – Rousselle (André), member of the General Council of the Oise, lawyer in Paris. – Sarrazat, merchant, in Bordeaux. – Thiaull, lawyer, in Belfort (Illaul-Rhin). – Thulié, doctor of medicine, member and former President of the Paris City Council. –Valentin, Senator, former Prefect of the Lower Rhine and the Rhône. – Vienol, lawyer, admitted to the tribunal Rouen Chamber of Commerce. – Wyruboff, man of letters, in Paris.

In September 1880, the outgoing members were re-elected by a large majority. jorité, except RI. Andrieux, who spontaneously refused all candidacies.

(1) The Supreme Council currently has as its very powerful prince verain, grand commander, grand master, F.. Grémieux, old member of the provisional government in 1848, member of the delegation of Tours in 1870. Alongside him, in the Supreme Council, are the FF.. Jules Simon, Malapert, Emmanuel Arago, Allegri, Count Roger du Nord, Zegelaar, Lcballcuv, G. GuiflYoy, Delohgray, Sehwalb, Ra-Gary, Proal, Mcigc, Sapin and Granvignc [Masonic World, March] 1880).

the organization of Freemasonry

know (1), and when we compare the names of the members of these With two bodies, the division that occurred is easily explained. within the ranks of the Republican party and resulted in a rivalry or green between two equally prominent men of this party and also involved in Freemasonry.

Under the influence of these internal dissensions, eleven of the principals pale Parisian lodges of the obedience of the Supreme Council have recently separated, and were formed in February 1880, a new Masonic power under the title of Grand Lodge Scottish Symbolic Lodge. By a strange coincidence, the pre-police force, which granted this authorization to the rebellious lodges against the Supreme Council, he happened to be one of the members most important of the Grand Orient (2)!

(1) See in the Masonic World of 1875 an exchange of correspondence very sour relations between the Grand Orient and the supreme council.

(2) In the last days of February 1880, the Century, which is in the The secular press, the unofficial organ of the Grand Orient, announced this fact by

"For the past eighteen months, a large number of lodges of the Scottish Rite have been fighting against the Supreme Council, in order to obtain in their constitution reforms whose legitimacy cannot be questioned.

"The aim was to obtain for the assembly of deputies elected annually" through workshops:

"1* The election of its president;

"2* The free choice of its agenda;

"3° The right to set the times of its meetings.

"The Supreme Council responded to these requests with numerous resolutions" radiation shields dislodged and masons from the rite's controls.

"It is under these conditions that eleven of the oldest lodges of the rite, taking a fortunate initiative, had the idea of constituting in France, an independent symbolic Grand Lodge.

"A request was sent to this effect last month to Mr. the Minister of the Interior, was favorably received, and the Prefect of Police, Mr. Andrieux, has just informed those concerned that the Grande- The Scottish Symbolic Lodge was authorized to operate in France in the same conditions as the Supreme Council and the Grand Orient of France.

"The eleven confederated lodges are as follows:

"The Friends of Truth, the Scottish Jerusalem, Justice, the Hos-

LVI ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

As for the Misraïm rite or Egyptian rite, which owes its originating in Cagliostro, then it spread again to France In 1816, it mainly housed Jews. It no longer currently has of great importance.

The same organization with the same variety of rites and of Masonic powers exist in other countries.

Since governments have come to recognize the Freemasonry, whether unofficially or officially, as in England, and in France itself since 1861, the various Great-Orients or Grand Lodges make the limits of their obedience coincide difference with those of the states where they are established. There is thus a Grand Orient of England, etc. In the United States, there are thirty-eight Grand Lodges, as many as there are states.

But this division of obediences, we repeat, does not...

This is by no means the unity of Freemasonry. Treaties and unions special conditions ensure that every Freemason affiliated in a lodge of any rite the exercise of his Masonic rights in the lodges from all over the world and entitles him to their support. We will, moreover, soon examine whether above all the Great-
In the East, there is no secret directory that unites them in beam.

According to the statutes of the Grand Orient of France, established in Founded in 1772 and revised in 1799, the order of Freemasons has as its Pillars of Saint-Ouen, the True Faithful Friends, the Straight Line, the Ecosais© n° 133, Union and Charity, the Frank Union, Sincerity.

the organization of Freemasonry lvii

object "the practice of charity, the study of universal morality-
"versal, of the sciences and arts, and the practice of all the "Virtues."

It was only in 1854 that this additional paragraph was added.
tional: "It is based on the existence of God, the immortality of the soul and love of humanity"; it is this paragraph that has been removed after a long discussion in 1877, as a de-violation from the true spirit of order.

Freemasonry therefore presents itself, in its statutes, as having as its dual purpose Y the exercise of charity and Y study of universal morality.

Within their available budget, the lodges make a certain a number of philanthropic works. They have, in the 18th century cle, invented this expression, as well as charity festivals.
Its essential characteristic is resounding publicity and
This radically distinguishes this benevolence from Christian charity.
yours.

The lodges also provide assistance to their members, but without recognizing any right to this financial assistance;
They even posit the exclusion of the poor as a principle:

"Let us remember," said Brother Ragon, "that Freemasonry has not constituted a body of individuals living at the expense of others. The men Would those who conspire to cause misery dare to confess? What is their purpose in allowing themselves to be received? They come boldly to impose their distress and the weight of their vices on you, without having been useful to the order by no talent, by no virtue. This leprosy, hy- The deuse of Freemasonry in France shows the culpable negligence of lodges, especially those in Paris. Never present in order,

LVIII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

said F.*. Beurnonville, that men who can protect you to feel the hand and not to extend it to you (1).

In 1861, the Minister of the Interior, Mr. de Persigny, believed To know in Freemasonry a charitable institution and the counted among "the charities that deserve all the government's sympathy for the benefits they spread in the country." Freemasonry rejected this qualification, which, However well-intentioned she may have been towards her, she could have given a A false idea of the true spirit of order. Its representatives They wrote to the minister in these terms to correct his ideas:

"Our fathers, many centuries ago, gathered under ancient..." rites, not to practice charity, but to seek true light first... Your Excellency, I am sure, will not give us a re-close to pursuing such a plan; but finally, there is a long way to go. to a charitable society. Charity is the consequence of our doctrines, not the purpose of our meetings.

The charitable nature of the society is therefore only very- An accessory in Freemasonry, and its generosity is absolute. insignificant details, when compared to their resources and among its members (2). Where they have some im-bearing, they are a party weapon (3).

(1) Philosophical course on ancient and modern initiations, p. 368.

(2) For the evidence of what we are saying about the insignificance of assistance provided by Freemasonry, see the remarkable work of the RP Gautrelcl, Freemasonry and the Revolution (in-8°, Lyon, 1872), pp. 166-174.

(3) The following extract from the deliberations of the lodge Les Philadelphes, of the organization of Freemasonry in

The contradiction between the facts and the stated declarations in the general statutes of the Grand Orient has become so blatant, that the Masonic World, in its December issue In 1879, he felt compelled to raise the following protest:

"According to Article 1 of the Constitution of the Grand-Orient of France, Freemasonry is an essential institution. so philanthropic. Let's examine, then, if we are philanthropists in the sense of our motto: liberty, equality, fraternity. During admissions into our order, the position so Isn't commercial often put in the front line, and consequently, Under the pretext that a worker is not free, is it not refused to initiate him? But then equality is nothing but an empty word; one The same could be said of brotherhood.

But Freemasonry is, in another respect, a truth mutual support society table. In exchange for the obligation of secrecy for everything that happens in the lodges and of obedience each Freemason has an absolute oath sworn to the superiors of the order. right to the support of all his brothers in all countries of the world. He calls for it by making the distress signal.

This type of assistance, which is very widely practiced, is one of the causes those who contribute most to the development of Freemasonry. The brothers help each other in all aspects of civilian life.

The Grand Orient of Belgium shows what fraternity truly is and Masonic charity:

"Aid to be given to the Spanish belligerents. The lodge has decided to not to subscribe to the Red Cross charity for relief to the Spanish belligerents, because this aid was intended to go indifferently unlike the constitutionalists and the Carlists. She did not want to encourage indirectly enraged the Carlists, who waged war like brigands and who were armed by despotism and theocracy. * (Reproduced by the Brussels letter of September 1, 1879.

60 ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

and pride themselves on a good faith towards each other which they They probably consider themselves exempt from certain duties in relation to laypeople (1).

the most distant ones, and we were recently informed of a shipowner who, for the placement of its cargoes, had recognized the advance the task of employing Freemason captains.

In cities, particularly in Paris, many shopkeepers inscribe a Masonic emblem on their signs, to... attracting clients from the brothers. At the bar, in medicine, the aff Connection is an undeniable path to success. Finally, the lodges are working to provide their members with access to positions public and to bring them into the political elections.

One will find in one of the chapters of this book (Book II, (cliap. XIII, § 2) the complete text of a decree of the Grand Orient from Belgium, adopted in 1850, to determine the method of control that the lodges will have to exercise "over those of their members which ones bring into political functions," and on the choice of candidates for elected office. This is not a practice specific to Belgium. The same thing is done in all the countries where the lodges have gained a foothold.

Freemasonry is thus a society within general society.
a state within a state.

This character of mutual support association is the cause of the great number of Freemasons found in England and on all in the United States. In these countries, where Protestantism predominates Freemasonry was born exclusively until recent years

(1) In the apprentice's oath as it was taken in France in In some lodges at the end of the 18th century, the recipient swore "not to "Never touch a woman, a sister, or a brother's child," under penalty of law. terrible things to which he had just committed himself. This commitment characterizes the era. We are assured that in England this special obligation is always rigorously observed among Freemasons.

the organization of Freemasonry lxi

did not find itself in conflict with a positive religion capable to defend herself (1). She thus gradually lost, in the most

(1) The following considerations from an American newspaper, written in The subject of the large number of unbelievers in Catholic countries, explained They describe very well the moral phenomenon that we point out in the text:

"The Catholic Church has this in common with its divine founder and master, whether she attracts the love or the hatred of those over whom she exerts her infl her power. She cannot abandon her supernatural mission, which evil in all its forms, and, through the practice of virtue, to lead the greatest possible number of men to reward and happiness from the sky.

"A Catholic raised in a Catholic environment cannot understand to practice religion outside of Catholicism. When his passions, his love His pride or his pride led him astray from the practice of his duties; usually abandons all forms of religion; then, in order to distract himself Speaking for himself, he speaks against the religious idea, and, because all the con- the lady around him, the customs, the habits, the particular devotions, He eventually attacked the Catholic Church itself*, knowing full well that She alone represents the true religious idea.

"In Protestant countries, the same struggle cannot exist"* then- instead of two clearly defined categories of submissive children and children among the rebels, it is easy to count a hundred different classes of opinion under the religious relationship.

"Protestantism is not a religion, it is not a special form" of religion, and could be defined as a mixture of irreligion and religiosity.

"A man who calls himself a Protestant does not, by this pro-faith of faith, what is his belief, nor what are the truths he admits, nor to what obligations he submits.

"One can be Protestant in many different ways: the ears- Copalists, Methodists, Lutherans, Baptists, Presbyterians They are around us to tell us. The only principle common to all is private inspiration and free interpretation of the Bible, allowing It is up to each individual to believe or reject what they see fit.

"Protestantism logically leads to indifference regarding matters of religion. Therefore, the skeptic and the unbeliever do not take the It is difficult to attack Protestantism, which does not bother them at all, since it They are left with the freedom not to believe.

"The struggle between infidelity and religion presupposes a solid faith pro deeply rooted in the soul, or a fanaticism imbued with prejudice, rooted cinema in the customs of a country. The current system of Protestantism does not

LXII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

a large part of its lodges, the violently impious character and revolutionary that she had there at the beginning and that she kept on the continent (1).

Eastern groups claim "that Freemasonry is not concerned with..."
"various religions prevalent throughout the world, nor constitutions"
"tions of the States; that in the elevated sphere where it places itself, it
"respects the religious faith and political sympathies of each individual"
"of its members," they put a trompe-l'œil on its sign intended to attract the simple-minded and deceive governments bonnaires.

His true spirit, his real doctrine, are expressed in the rituals or tiles specific to each grade and whose knowledge
This knowledge was kept hidden from outsiders for as long as possible.

includes neither of these conditions. This tends above all to do mining in a Protestant country is, along with the pursuit of well-being material and the decorum of respectability, a general apathy and in-religious concern.

[Catholic Propagator of New Orleans, August 23, 1879.]

(1) What is said in the text should only be understood as referring to symbolic lodges questions and of this Freemasonry that we could call quasi-public.
In these countries there are violently hostile Masonic associations elements to Christianity and the social order. See, for example, plu-several indications that we have recorded in the work of the States-Contemporary United States, chap. XXI, chap. XXIII, § 7, and chap. XXVI, § 2. Moreover, as all Masonic lodges are in communication intimate communion and fraternize with these associations and that they promote by the very essence of their institution, they embody the reli- indifferentism Gieux, clicks are also condemned by the Church. See, in what affecting the United States, the acts of the first and second national councils from Baltimore, in 1851 and 1866, and an important article in the Catholic Quarterly review, of July 1875, Secret societies in the United States.
In England, the bishops have repeatedly declared that the cons institutions of the Apostolic See entailing excommunication against all Freemasons apply themselves to the lodges of this country.

the organization of Freemasonry lxiii

However, this doctrine is essentially hostile to the Christian religion.
tienne and the maintenance of order in civil societies. This is the pan-Theism in its various forms, varying since Spinozism up to the brutalities of modern positivism. The six chapters which form the first book of this work will provide the conclusive demonstration.

The influence of Freemasonry in different countries is without doubt affected by the circumstances specific to each people;
has just had proof of this with regard to England. In the Multiple causes contribute to the moral state of a soul. their influence on the action of dominant causes, and it is necessary to know to recognize each other. We do not hesitate to repeat it. ter, it would be a serious exaggeration to see only in The history and actions of secret societies. The truth is that this action is one of the important factors in events and that at certain At certain times this factor was predominant.

Thus, currently, in France and in parts of Europe, irreligious education given to young people for the past century and the godless press have done their work: a considerable fraction of the nation is imbued with prejudices and false ideas, which correspond they respond too well to the secret desires of passions, not to spread as if by themselves. Many people have all the ideas of Freemasonry before being affiliated with its lodges. This is obvious. This situation is clearly one that must be taken into account for the... a practical solution to certain government issues. But it It is nonetheless true that this situation is the result of the propaganda of secret societies in the 18th century and in the pre- the first half of it. Even now, not to mention its action in the spheres of international relations, Freemasonry gives all these bad elements a different direction precise for the harm they would not have suffered if they were left to their own devices- same; it prevents the medicinal action exerted constantly on society through the Church.

LXIV ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Moreover, even in countries where Freemasonry seems to be amorous tie, even in times when circumstances prevent him from while conspiring against the social order, she nonetheless exercises a considerable doctrinal action that cannot be ignored.

IV. – The doctrinal action of Freemasonry

The fundamental idea of Christianity is that morality and The entire social order rests on revealed truth, on God and his Christ, Omnia instaurare in Christo. Now this foundation is from the outset overturned by the article of the statutes which considers morality and the virtues independent of all religions. The Church has Therefore, the Freemasons were rightly struck with excommunication from the outset. their entry into the order. She cannot, under penalty of betraying the deposit of her divine Master, to renounce being the only and infallible blue director of men on the road that must lead them to the future life.

will find themselves separated from the Church, those who renounce its sanctities crements and which will gradually satisfy the natural religious need to man through grotesque parodies and ridiculous ceremonies lodges. Bishop Dupanloup said it very expressly sive: "Many Freemasons are men who have taken
"The lamp of a dining room for the lamp of the sanctuary."
Isn't this already a great intellectual and moral decline?
rale?

Add to that the rituals and speeches held in the lodges are constantly filled with calumnies against Catholicism cism, fanciful explanations of its dogmas, and one commits will take on the mass of prejudices, which ultimately obscure the intellect intelligence of the crowd of Freemasons, who cease to frequent the Church to listen to the teachings of the lodges.

the doctrinal action of Freemasonry lxy

Professors, journalists, writers belonging to the order repeats these errors ad nauseam through the thousand voices of the power the licitness they possess (1). Thus are formed in a country these thick clouds of errors, which obscure this natural boa constrictor, if remarkably developed in our former society until
in the agricultural and working classes.

We can observe this doctrinal action of the Freemason nonsense, both for the destruction of social truths and for The annihilation of religious beliefs. A renowned publicist, which has renewed social science in our time by going back the current of revolutionary errors, signaled with a high insight the disastrous influence exerted nowadays by what calls the false dogmas of 1789, namely the innate goodness of man and the denial of original sin, as well as the words poorly defined concepts of freedom, equality, progress, and democracy of perfectibility, of civilization. But the lodges are the offices where these hollow and sonorous words resound ceaselessly, and where incessantly bore the false ideas to which they serve vehicle.

"It is not difficult to understand," said a Masonic author that, that the society of Freemasons speaking openly is

(1) Many renowned writers, from Malter and Cousin jus*
that Renan drew their historical and philosophical theories from the teachings of the lodges and the false tradition preserved there, and of which Ragon is the most complete interpreter. Father Desehamps, in the
The first edition of his work made the following connections on this subject.

to be included in these two volumes. The same thing happened in Germany gne, and one will find in the masterful work of Father Pacliller, Der Gøiz
der Humanitæt o.ler das Positive der Freimaurei nach documents (in-8\ 1878, Hcrder, Freiburg in Breisgau), indications no less curious about the sources from which the most famous writers drew their inspiration.
Germans of the century, Herder, Strauss, Fichlcel, and many others.

LXVI ACTIONS OF SOCRITE SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

precisely a permanent conspiracy against despotism politics and religious fanaticism.

Ragon adds more precisely:

In ordinary Masonic meetings, one does not speak, he is true, neither of religion nor of politics; but such is the admirable organization of this institution that protects the higher sciences, that his religious degrees speak to the intelligence of the initiate, in at the same time as the forms and administration of this order by slow to grasp the political spirit of all the brothers.

"The reflections they suggest to them are reported in the world as a safe and sacred type, by means of which they seek they want to improve or destroy what, in the religious or political, loses in comparison with what the order presents masonic.

"Freemasonry is a sure refuge for philosophy."

who saved the peoples from the degrading yoke of fanaticism and es-Clave. It is to knowledge that the initiation of the Freemason
The response from the upper classes of English society was that one attributes much of the emancipation of England and the Political reform in 1968. One hundred and twenty-one years later, the philosophy Modern philosophy, illuminated by the lights of initiation, has done more in France; for, after having carried out useful reforms there, it lent itself its administrative forms to the government of that time (1). »

These historical assessments may surprise some readers. They will find authentic proof of this in the book from Father Deschamps, and they will see there how Freemasonry has for followed his work ever more closely and shaped it more and more Modern society according to its own type:

"Our fathers," the Masonic World recently stated, "had the doctrinal action of Freemasonry lxvii

"I studied and practiced universal suffrage for a long time before..."

"to act as propagators, before the outside world had even thought of

"To make it the basis of the social order... Freemasonry is a school"

"

"Practical and experimental, a model institution, a true

"Type of organized society (1)."

One of the leaders of Belgian Freemasonry and the Liberal Party in this country, F.*. Goblet d'Aviella, speaking, on August 5, 1877, at the lodge The Philanthropic Friends of Brussels expressed this thought with developments that clearly indicate the role to which the Masonry aspires:

"Much has been said against the form in general and of the forms ma*

conics in particular. However, what is called the form will always have its part in the economy of societies, because this

This element responds to two essential tendencies of the human mind:

the aesthetic se7is and the need for method.

"More than any other institution of our time, the Franc-maconncric offers satisfaction to this natural need for form.

*

which can be both rational and complete.

"Both traditional and progressive, local and cosmopolitan," while setting as its essential goal I triumph over freedom and of reason, it possesses rites whose unity is superior to time and space, it is based on traditions whose origin

lost in the mists of time, it professes symbols of which

Mystical beauty does not exclude real beauty; finally, it organizes

The use of imposing ceremonies to punish all offenses

solemn moments of life.

to read with its great enemy: the Church of Rome. It is still by that's where it becomes the natural, and I would even say necessary, complement.

of the LIBERAL PARTY.

"Why has this party lost so much ground over the past half-century?"

(!) April 1876 issue*

LXVIII ACTION OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

•among our populations, or of the month, how is it that the individual achievements made through free thought did not once again definitively tore our enlightened classes from the yoke of the Superstition?

"The problem is that, until now, our liberals have lacked ideals, or rather that they pursued a negative ideal, as if nothing could be done to found and therefore destroy nothing with negation.

"Political freedom is a purely negative fact; it is the negation of legal constraint in the field of individual rights duels. However, experience has proven to us that this program does not... not enough to compete with enthusiasm and dedication with a school, or rather with a church doubly powerful by the importance of its role in the past and the height of its pretensions for the future, skillful, numerous, disciplined, addressing to all ages, all genders, all ranks, attaching themselves to man through multiple and seductive links in all the spheres of human activity.

"To fight such an adversary on equal terms, the liberators Shouldn't the raux supplement their political program by a system of positive and harmonious doctrines, which helps them to solve all the major problems of modern society, which considers man from all aspects of his nature and who, alongside electoral associations, their use as a rallying point on the moral, philosophical, religious, social terrain? Now, this body of doctrines and this rallying point, where would they go to find them? otherwise within our workshops, the only place where they can currently- Immnt to study and formulate with breadth and independence any scientific general synthesis of our rights, our what about our relationships and our destinies?

"Tell the neophytes that Freemasonry is not what a vain people think, a child's game, a gathering of bon vivants, a or even a stand-in for our electoral associations. Tell them that, if its aim is benevolence, it is benevolence in stretched in its broadest sense, and that, if it deals with politics!, it is to consider these questions of principle of which politics The common tick is only the partial and secondary application. Tell them that it is first and foremost a school for professional development and of scientific popularization. a kind of laboratory" WHERE the

the doctrinal action of Freemasonry lxix

The great ideas of the time came together and asserted themselves. to then spread into the secular world in a form tangible and practical. Tell them, in a word, that we are

THE PHILOSOPHY OF LIBERALISM.

"Tell them all this with the reservations that secrecy entails" conic (1). »

Modern Freemasonry tends to simplify its rituals, to reduce to reduce the number of tests for receiving one's ranks, to soften the shocking formulas that scs Tui- still retain theirs, which will be found recounted in this work. The skilled people, who are currently at its head, are acting energetically in this sense and quickly transform its external forms (V. Book II, Chapter XII, S b). But the spirit of the institution remains essential essentially the same; she wants to become more and more the great humanitarian institution, the Church of the Revolution, as one of the followers called her. For this, she skillfully follows trends from various eras: mystical and full of phantasmagoria with Saint-Martin and Cagliostro, amidst the jaded society of the At the end of the last century, it became allegorical and mythical. when Cousin, Malter and Renan occupied the philosophical scene that. Today it is simplifying and seeking to become both more open, more precise and more radically destructive, like jositivism, whose elements it is increasingly adopting gaits. (V. lib. II, chap. XII, $5.)

However, she has too much experience with humanity. to completely reject all symbolism. Because of this very fact His dual nature, spiritual and physical, requires man to fix one's thoughts in signs, express one's feelings by rites. Freemasonry, true to its role as a counterfeit of The Church does not intend to relinquish this means of action, and in the convent of the Great East of 4879, the principle of the rites has a key maintained against the positivists, who demanded its suppression. Brother André Rousselle expressed the reasons very well. sounds:

LXX ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

"Freemasonry is eminently philosophical, or it is the the very ideas of the encyclopedists which form its essence; but for To address the masses, you need something other than abstractions; It requires a kind of outward cult. This was so well understood that, During the Revolution, Freemasonry became the theophilanthropic... Underdeveloped intelligences need what something external that strikes them. Through symbolism, a profane easily understands that he was mistaken, in the darkness "He was immersed in superstition, and he saw the path to truth (1)."

A very recent authentic document will show us how Freemasonry, in its most modern form, exercises its doctrinal action as a Church of the Revolution and philosophy of liberalism.

This is a deeply Catholic country, Chile. It has nothing to do with the movement of ideas stemming from the French revolution He lives peacefully according to his own tradition and religion; but men who have traveled and collected the contagion of the disease have founded lodges. Now these lodges apply themselves tirelessly to to spread ideas around them that would not spontaneously have never produced. That is what the entire work plan aims to achieve. of the Grand Lodge of Chile, as reported in Le Monde Masonic journal, January 1876 issue:

"Art. 1. In addition to the current commissions, there will be, in the Grand Lodge, working committees.

(1) Quoted by Le Monde maçonnique, 1870, p. 22L

the doctrinal action of Freemasonry lxxi

"Art. 2. The committees shall be entitled: instruction section, sec." charity section, propaganda section and fraternity section

"Art. 3. The instruction section will be responsible for: 1° establishing ko laypeople; 2° to lend their support to all societies that have the purpose of providing free education to the poor; 3° of aid to the progress of all scientific and literary institutions and artistic, which exist in the country; 4° to give lectures popular for the dissemination of knowledge tending to facilitate the progress of humanity.

"Art. 4. The charity section will be responsible for: 1° assisting with the foundation of hospitals, etc.; 2° to give its direct or individual support rect to all institutions of this nature, in which one does not pursues not a selfish or sectarian (i.e., Catholic) goal.

"Art. 5. The propaganda section shall: 1* defend and do to know through the press the true ideas of Freemasonry; 2° work to introduce the principles into public institutions of liberty, equality and fraternity, and especially to bring about separation the Church's relationship with the State, to establish civil marriage, to compare to fight privileges, to secularize charity, to support the victims my religious intolerance...; 3° in general, take care of everything which can make humanity one single family.

Thanks to propaganda of this kind, we will inevitably see a deep-seated unease arises among this people, followed by aspirations towards another order of things, and everything will soon be ready for a revolution !

What is about to happen in Chile happened fifty years ago. One hundred years ago, among the peoples of Europe, and still today today, right before our eyes.

In the aftermath of the 1876 elections, F.*. Viettc, deputy of the Doubs, said to L.\ Sincerity, Perfect Union and Constant United Friendship, from Besançon;

"Our propaganda is constant, it is un'vcrscüc, it is

LXXII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

infinite, like progress; and I, already an elder among you, one newcomers among the representatives of France, I then to tell you, in the name of the nation: You have prepared our wish vre., you work there every day, we will make every effort to to finish it (1).

contemporary events and the course of political events, we see How much truth this statement contains. It is through such processes dice, used systematically and initially in the shadows, are being developed.
Little by little, the modern spirit. Then there comes a time when the society is so steeped in false ideas that all the errors
They spread like wildfire by the sole logic of badly, without the lodges needing any current action.

We ourselves have been able to, over the last thirty years
years, capturing in the act the development within the lodges of a certain a number of ideas that have since fallen by the wayside.

Such was the theory of independent morality, upon which Freemasonry concentrated all its efforts for a long time time.

Currently, the prevailing view is that education should be secular and compulsory.
toire.

Here is how the Barred F.* signaled its spread,
as having been the great work of Freemasonry since the final years of the empire:

"At the beginning of the Second Empire, Freemasonry was powerless," it was a small, docile Freemasonry, subservient to the master's orders (2);

(t) Quoted by Le Monde maçonnique of 1876, p. 8.

(2) The speaker here only speaks of symbolic and ostensible Freemasonry Impossible. Never have the higher secret societies been more powerful.

the doctrinal action of Freemasonry LXX1II

but some remnants of the bourgeoisie, old wrestlers, intra-wounds remained like benevolent hearths destined to rekindle Everywhere, the love of liberty. Little by little, the lodges returned to work. The people having no other means of struggle than universal suffrage,
It was understood that it would be a dead letter if it were not clarified; that, without education, he would be influenced by capital or by other means.
passionate courses, which are the bane of every society; also, we live Freemasonry at the forefront of the movement for education, it understood that salvation lay there. Everywhere she sets the example: she founds or supports free secular schools, it opens the discussion
sion on compulsory education and shows that it is not an infringement on the freedom of the father of the family, who owes it to his children, with nourishment for the body, cultivation for their mind (1). »

Since 1867, French Freemasonry has made a considerable effort able to implement this program everywhere, either by means of the League of Education of F.*. Macé, either through the action of the communal halls filled with her followers. She is preparing to do to enact through the Chambers the threefold principle of secular education, free and compulsory, to be given to women by the State public education similar to that given to boys. She wants by to radically destroy these principles in the new generations These Catholic customs, which have, by a an astonishing act of Providence, he survived for a century and a half of impious propaganda.

"Clericalism, that is the enemy!" such is the statement made by Gambetta, the watchword of this entire campaign, which continues at through the press, conferences in lodges, public meetings churches, detainees of White Masonry, charity parties.

than under the Second Empire and no longer exerted any influence on the march general affairs. The reader will find evidence of this in the Book II, Chapter X of this work.

(1) Speech at the lodge Les Admirateurs de l'univers, in Paris, on the 3rd May 1879, reproduced by Le Monde maçonnique of June 1879—

LXXIV ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

The Masonic World, in its August 1879 issue, may to give an idea of it through this account of a celebrated festival, on June 28th, by the lodge Le Globe, of Vincennes, and at the which a great number of laypeople and ladies had been guests;

"In a warm address, the venerable thanked everyone firstly, the assistants of the mark of sympathy shown their presence, then he explains the ideas and purpose of Freemasonry, and This demonstrates its essentially progressive nature. Explaining Regarding Masonic doctrines, he expresses himself thus: "You may have—" "to be heard being told that we were dangerous people, re—" "Volunteers, pagans, atheists! Yes, we are one "All of that is a little bit; but we are also men of peace," "of conciliation, because the main basis of our association is—" "It undermines tolerance. We are dangerous for everyone." "those who seek power and domination, while retaining "knowledge for them alone, leaving others in ignorance and a—" "brutalizing the men around them and whom they would like"

"Natives, because not only are we moving with progress, but
"We are pushing the people towards this, because we are asking everyone and for
"All education; through it we are sure to overcome the "Superstition, and when the last of our peasants learns to read, all
"They will laugh at miracles, at the water of La Salette and Lourdes..."

"We demand that the old world disappear in order to make
"Make way for the world of science, the arts, industry and..."
"Freedom!"

"He cites the names of the immortal men who prepared the revolution of 1780, by working tirelessly towards emancipation of man; many of them came to our temples
to teach and learn. He also speaks of those who today Even today, they honor and strengthen Freemasonry: "The lodge is
"A school where we all have something to learn. With ideas matured,

The projects developed in the workshops, once discussed, are then...
"public domain, and more easily become part of customs and
"In practice."

the doctrinal action of Freemasonry lxxv

Freemasonry, as we shall see in a moment, has pre-prepared most modern revolutions by providing elements selected elements within active secret societies: it operates at their
It benefits from an initial selection process and groups together anxious minds.
or misused in frameworks already prepared for their recruitment.
But she contributed no less to the work of the Revolution in shaping public opinion in its direction.

Mr. Bluntschli, in his work On Politics, celebrates the role that this factor plays in contemporary events
all-powerful, which escapes all legal forms, and is ungraspable
sand. "It is called," he said, "the spirit of the times; no government
He cannot resist him successfully for long, and it is he who has the last word in all modern conflicts (1). » Now, this spirit
Over time, Freemasonry develops it as it sees fit, either in the lodges by having certain subjects addressed in the way desired by its followers, either by using the numerous subordinate organizations that it created below it to act more directly on the masses.

U) This very remarkable chapter by Bluntschli is nothing other than the paraphrase of this passage from one of the most critical Masonic writers renowned, from F.*. Findel, in his brochure Die b're.imaurererci im Lichte der Zcil (Leipzig, 1873): "We call the spirit of the times, the knowledge-

"Concertant scs c/forts in a given sense at a certain time, is
"has become so much the common good of that society, that all its
"Life in this era is based on all the results of this"
" work. "

"This work of im* pailie of human society consulting its e.Corts
"In a given sense" – that is the work of the lodges.

LXXVI ACTION DBS SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

V. – Freemasonry and the army db
the Revolution.

It is difficult to present precise figures here, because, even
For masonry itself, the evaluation criteria vary notably, and, outside of its official frameworks, there is a lot other, more or less public, associations, which are instruments in the hands of the supreme leaders of societies secrets.

Findel, the most authoritative and recent Masonic writer,
in 1876, the number of grand lodges was known worldwide.
or Masonic powers at 120, and that of the lodges at 9,000, comprising 400,000 to 600,000 active members (1). This
The evaluation is far too lenient; because documents conic studies indicate to us, for the United States only, the existence
tenence of 54 grand lodges, 10,000 lodges and 700,000 members active players (2), Obviously Findel, in his capacity as goalkeeper of Masonic orthodoxy has systematically rejected from its stat
many large lodges and lodges, which are not formed regularly or which follow special rites.

We place much more trust in the records provided.
with great care by Pachllcr and which carry the number of

(1) Geschichte der Freimaurerei (4th edition. 1878, Lcipsig).

(2) The Freemason's Chronicle of 1879, cited by Le Monde maçonnique January 1880, p. 411.

Freemasonry and "the army of the Revolution" lxxvii lodges throughout the world, in 1874, at 11,000, having more of one million active members. We can judge the activity and 53 special Masonic journals or newspapers. This list again is it necessarily incomplete (1). Since 1874, the number of lodges have increased significantly in many of countries, under the influence of the successes of the Revolution (2).

In France and in the colonies, the Grand Orient grouped together
In 1881, there were nearly 26,000 active members, distributed among approximately 320 workshops. The three other French Masonic powers
The three lodges together have about a hundred lodges: which according to
The same proportion would still make 5 to 6 thousand active members*.

The lodges of the German Empire numbered in 1879 of 354, with 42,211 active members. The Grand Orient of Italy in 1882 it had 185 workshops, with more than 9,000 active members.

These figures may seem out of proportion with the influence exerted by Freemasonry; but to understand the
In scope, two considerations must be taken into account:

1° Active members are only the Freemasons who attend regularly attend the lodges and pay the annual membership fee. Many
The number of so-called passive members is even more considerable, because that they do not fulfill this last condition, but who do not are no less often very active. This is the case for all those which are scattered throughout small towns and the countryside, those who, for whatever reason, do not attend the lodge. It is worth noting that important politicians, whose Masonic dependence is the most certain, cease to a certain amount of time spent frequenting the lodges, and consequently fall into this category. The character of a Freemason is moreover indelible according to the constitutions of the order and the autos*

(1) Der Gætte der Humanitæt oder a as Positive der Freimaurerei, pp. 555-632. The author provides the detailed elements of this statistic.

(2) In the single year 1881-1882 the number of admissions of members active members in the lodges dependent on the Grand Orient have risen at 2.623. (Le Monde maçonnique of September 1881.

LXXV in ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Masonic rites strongly assert their right to exercise their jurisdiction over all its members.

Masonic writers generally carry the number of passive members at three times that of active members. This calculation would give a total of three to four million francs lessons (1).

"He had a profound influence on everything related to Masonic activity," he said in his Issue of October 7, 1880: "Freemasonry counts at Paris has 15,000 active members, and the number is estimated at 120,000. Freemasons who have left the association, but who remain united with their former colleagues by a shared vision and of principles. » This last figure relates exclusively to Paris.

2. The lodges, it cannot be repeated too often, are only the regular cadre of the Revolutionary army and the anti-establishment base social. Below them are countless popular societies res, circles, associations of any name, which are similar forms simplified by Freemasonry. Less expensive, they reach classes of the population that Freemasonry would not want to admit to put in their boxes. And here, we're talking millions. the dupes placed more or less under his influence. The Bishop de Verdun indicates this situation with great precision regarding the League of Education, which is the type of this second Masonic layer:

"The most ardent propagators of the League, through their union close ties with Freemasonry and the works it sponsors, through their participation in publications and events anti-Christian, proved that religious neutrality, of which the The League had promised not to back down, it was just a stratagem-

(1) The Chain of Union of 1878, p. 147, estimates the number at 3,500,000 Freemasons, both active and inactive members, "who are, 'she said, united in a common inspiration.'

Brother Optât Scalquiu, a member of the Grand Orient of Belgium, in a letter addressed to the Courrier de Bruxelles (issue of March 1, 1880), eva- read, according to the most recent records, the number of masons in the worldwide at 2,806,773. The difference between his assessment and ours focuses on lodges in the United States; it only counts 6,000 of them.

Freemasonry and the Army of the Revolution 79

A gem to surprise sincerely believing souls... Let's say every effort to shield our younger generations from the in- influences that seek to seduce them by flattering their pride, their independence, their presumption, and their inexperience. It is in this goal that the League openly sponsors meetings, courses public events, conferences. It is with this same goal in mind that she seeks to take over meetings of all kinds, drawing classes, courses adults, choral societies, gymnastics clubs, in order to enlist in its "frames the entire youth." (Circular of January 2, 1862).

Long ago, these processes were captured in the moment by

The establishment of the Radical Party in Switzerland by the lodges:

"During this long period of conspiracies on the one hand and blinded by the other's blindness, the whole of Switzerland organized itself into societies whose purpose and demonstrations varied infinitely. Not all of them had not originally taken on the revolutionary character; but as the lodges and the sales had taken care to bring in their principal dignitaries and their boldest orators, all fell, a little earlier, a little later, under their leadership occult, that is to say, under the yoke of Masonic vassalage. Such were the Swiss, geological, archaeological, and historical societies nature, music, agriculture, and even this association commonplace, claiming to be of common use, a veritable intellectual hospice technical and scientific, intended to receive anyone with the ambition, to belong to some patriotic association, without having cultivated no art nor any branch of knowledge whatsoever. For the few ple, we imagined the singing associations, where he received inter pocula lessons in liberalism, that is to say, impatience with all self-rite in which he himself would not take an active part and pre-weighting. All these companies were awarded prizes by that of the Francs-tireurs (Schutzen-Gesellschaft), which soon embraced the whole Switzerland (1).

This tactic is not new. As early as 1754, the organizers of English Freemasonry founded, under the name of the Order of the Gormons, a kind of popular Freemasonry with bizarre shapes, intended to group categories of individuals vidus that were not considered advanced enough for the lodges. Many organizations of this kind have been created successively. ment. Thus, the Odd-Fellows branch, which was transported filed in Germany under the name Sonderbaren Brader, and which

(1) The Correspondent of March 25, 1845, Secret Societies in Switzerland.

LXXX ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

which had 1,143 lodges in 1874, is a veritable dependent society within Freemasonry, closely affiliated with it, and as it proclaims itself "an institution intended to deliver the "A people of priests, superstitions, and fanaticism (1)!"

Currently in France, Freemasonry employs children processes. Fourteen years ago, she founded the League alongside her. intelligence and its circles, then came the work of the so-called schools and other similar organizations.

In Bordeaux, the lodges created a Masonic work of nativity scenes, onto which are grafted two works composed of

With these organizations, she can act at certain times powerfully on public opinion, and now that it has become a quasi-official institution, it multiplies external demonstrations and jokes made to appeal to the masses.

Such, for example, was a grand festival given by the lodges of Bordeaux in the public garden, on June 2, 1879. All the Musical societies perform the Marseillaise there; collections are made by the young members of the United Brothers and the United Friends. Then a fireworks display is set off, "the main piece of which, bearing on its frontispiece Masonic Works, it serves to remind us to the seventeen thousand people crowded in the garden aisles—"In line with the goal pursued by Freemasonry."

The Masonic World, from which we borrow this account, but points out that the party took place "at the time when the last banners of the processions were returning to their respective sacristies."

Here we see the secret thinking of the lodges, which is to replace the cult religious through public festivals, as under the Convention. It is

(1) See the facts and documents cited by Paclillcr, op. cit., p. 618 and so forth. They relate exclusively to the Soudcrbarcn-Ifruder of Al-Lemagne. We do not believe that the same criticisms can be leveled against us against the Odd-Fdlows of England.

$) Le Monde maçonnique, August 1879. ». 168.

Freemasonry and the Revolutionary Army lxxxi

It was she who inspired such a celebration in Marseille, given April 30th, in support of the School Fund (1). The Mason The company thus seeks to offer the people a diversion, because in this city, as in many others, the lodges were quite powerful to ban Catholic processions by the administrative authority, unlike the Concordat and the veritable spirit of the law.

In other countries, Freemasonry employs other forms, but Its mode of action is always the same at heart. Thus in the A-South America, it had, by similar means, seized religious brotherhoods. A venerable bishop was forced, at the Martinique, to dissolve all penitentiary associations and The women's confraternities. A few Freemasons, he told us. said, they were infiltrating the brotherhood. They were not affiliated with it directly to the members of Freemasonry, but they made them They swore to secrecy, held the meetings in the evening, and...

to be at the service of the occult power of sects (2).

This is the great danger posed by the many societies secret societies, which are forming in the United States and Canada, to defending professional or national interests, such as YAncient order of Hibernians, one of the most widespread today, the Fê-nians and many others. They easily become the instruments hidden leaders.

(1) See Le Monde maçonnique of June and August 1879. We read in the Petit Marseillais, October 12, 1880, the following summons:

"The Secular Schools Fund (2nd section, La Charité): Members of Representatives of the secular schools are summoned to the meeting which will take place at Midnight, the 16th of this month, in Mr. Chrétien's premises, on Bishop's Street, at the bowls game. – Agenda: Talk, by Mr. Nicolas, on the "Organizational activities; election of two delegates."

It was entirely the attire of a lodge, minus the symbolic trappings and the affiliation which confers, indelibly, access to the lodges of the worldwide.

(2) Mgr Fava, 2nd letter on Freemasonry.

LXXXII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

The members of the lodges belonging almost exclusively to the bourgeoisie and the upper classes, the action of the Freemason The erudition is multiplied a hundredfold. It increases with all the power that gives to their members their position in liberal careers, in the industry, in the public sector. Add to that the fact that she says The Jews, closely allied with Freemasons, are owners of presses that the entire German press and part of the English press clay (including the Times). It was recently pointed out that the predominant role they played in American journalism Cain. This strange power called public opinion is therefore, in most circumstances, to the power of the Ma Nonsense.

Public education is also one of the means by which... secret societies were used from the 18th century onwards to shape the spirit of the people. Wouldn't one say these manuscripts were written in our time? Irucliuns de Wcisliaupt, the founder of German Illuminism, who seized control of all a few years before 178$ All the French and German lodges? (Book II, Chapter V, SS b and 7).

"We must win over the common people everywhere to our Order, and
The main way to achieve this is through influence over schools... When one,
The writer announces principles "which are true, but which do not enter
not yet in our global education plan, or else principles whose publication is premature, it is necessary to seek à ga-win this author. If we cannot win him and make him An adopted one must be denounced... If a regent (title of one of the (higher ranks of illuminismc) believed they could overcome to have religious houses abolished and their assets applied to our object, for example, at Y, the interview of suitable schoolteachers Suitable for rural areas, these kinds of projects would be especially welcome from our superiors; the testing of our principles and our Schools are often more successful in smaller states...;
never lose sight of military schools, academies, the printing houses, bookstores, cathedral chapters, the establishments

Freemasonry and the Army of the Revolution lxxxiti

any institutions that influence education and government government of schools. May our teachers be constantly busy to formulate plans, and to imagine how to proceed to take control of all these establishments.

"Our strength lies, to a large extent, in our numbers; but it
It also depends a lot on the care we take in training
Students. Young people adapt, lend themselves more readily to this purpose...
The enlightened prefect will therefore spare no effort to put himself in a position session of the schools in his district and their teachers. He will ensure that they be entrusted to members of our order; for it is as well as we manage to inspire our principles, to form the young people; that's how you prepare the best minds to work work for us, accustom them to discipline, and let us...
sure of their esteem; that the attachment conceived for us by these games
nes élèves becomes as lasting as all other impressions childhood issues. *

That is the whole secret of passion and perseverance with which the lodges seek everywhere to destroy the teaching Christian and to replace it with secular and compulsory education erected by their followers.

LXXXIV ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

THE REVOLUTIONS

Freemasonry also operates by preparing a personnel of choice to all active secret societies, and by providing discreet support for those of its members who engage in a more active career.

From the moment of his induction into the first degree, the venerable one made himself heard. To the apprentice, these words are significant for those who have the spirit open :

"The masons are obliged to assist each other in all ways." means, when the opportunity arises. Freemasons must not not to get involved in conspiracies; but if you learn that a mason has undertaken some such project and fell victim to his own recklessness; you must have compassion. sion of his misfortune, and the Masonic bond makes it a duty for you to use all your influence and the influence of your friends to to reduce the severity of the punishment in his favor.

In the second book of the work, we will see how all the active secret societies, from the Illuminati and the Carbonari up to the International, they were recruited from the lodges conical. This can only be, of course, from their own admission. supreme directors.

Moreover, all the founders of secret societies have clearly explains the role that Freemasonry played.

REVOLUTIONARY SOCIETIES

LXXXV

Weishaupt expresses himself thus in the instruction of the Knight enlightened or Scottish:

"In every sizable city, the secret chapters They will establish Masonic lodges of the three ordinary degrees. will receive men of good morals in these lodges, enjoying public esteem and a comfortable fortune* These Those men must be sought out and received as Freemasons, when even they should not be useful to the Enlightenment for our

"Leave the brutes, the rude ones, and the fools alone," he wrote. in the chapter on exclusions from high ranks. However, it is a kind of idiot who shouldn't be told, because one can to take some advantage of their foolishness. Lacking wit, they They at least have some money. They are the fourth kind of good people, these people. And we need them. These good people are numerous and fill the cash register; get to work then; these gentlemen must they take the bait; but let us be careful not to tell them our secrets. These kinds of people must always be convinced that the The rank they have is the last.

"The deputy, master of the lodges, ordinarily the reviser of accounts, must also be a member of our secret chapter: he will to believe the lodges that they alone control their money; but he must to use this money, according to the purpose of our order. Is it to help One of our colleagues, we make the proposal to the lodge. If this A fellow craftsman may not be a mason, but that doesn't matter; one must nonetheless come at the end by some expedient.

"We will not take anything from the capital, so that we can one day find the means or funds for larger entries taken. The tenth must be sent annually to the secret chapter from the proceeds of these lodges. The treasurer, to whom these funds are re- put them away, gather them up and seek by all sorts of enterprises to increase them to lie.

"Before touching our own funds to help our colleagues, we must, as far as possible, seek their support providing assistance or maintaining it using funds from lodges that do not are not in our system. In general, it is necessary to serve our

LXXXVI ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

The main goal is money, which these kinds of lodges spend so unnecessarily.
ment »

In 1822, a Jew, a member of the Roman High Vendice, wrote one of his accomplices was tasked with multiplying the associations everywhere, pious ones which are seemingly harmless, and especially the Freemasonry:

"In the impossibility where our brothers and friends find themselves to have the last word, it was deemed good and useful to spread light everywhere and to set in motion all that aspires to stir.

"This vanity of the city dweller or the bourgeois to become subservient to the Freemasonry has something so commonplace and so universal about it, that I am always in awe of human stupidity.

"Jo surprises me that I don't see the whole world knocking at the door." of all the venerable ones, and to ask these gentlemen for the honor to be one of the workers chosen for the reconstruction of the temple of Solomon. The prestige of the unknown exerts a powerful influence on men. such power, that one prepares oneself with trembling for the phantasms Goric trials of initiation and fraternal banquet.

"To find oneself a member of a lodge, to feel, apart from one's wife and of his children, called upon to keep a secret, one that is never confided in you, For some people, it is a source of pleasure and ambition.

"The lodges can certainly produce gourmands today; They will never give birth to citizens. We dine too often at the T.. G.', and T.\ R.-. F., from all the Easts; but it is a place of depot, a kind of stud farm, a center that one must go through before to reach us. The lodges only do relative harm, temporary harm perished by a false philanthropy and by songs still more false, as in France. This is too pastoral and too gastronomic, but it has a purpose that must be encouraged without ceases.

"By teaching him to carry a weapon with his glass, we seize control" thus of man's will, intelligence, and freedom. We arrange it, we turn it, we study it. We guess its inclinations,

THE REVOLUTIONARY SOCIETIES L XXX V11

his affections and tendencies; when he is ready for us, we He is directed towards the secret society, of which Freemasonry is not Perhaps the anteroom was rather poorly lit.

"Haute-Vente desires that, under some pretext or other three, we introduce into Masonic lodges the most princely and as rich as one can be. Once a man, a prince

Even a prince, in particular, will have begun to be corrupted, be convinced that he would hardly stop on the slope. There is little do morals, even among the most moral, and things move very quickly in this Progress. Don't be alarmed to see the lodges flourishing, when Carbonarism struggles to recruit. It's about the lodges that we count on to double our ranks; they form at their unaware of our preparatory novitiate; they discourse endlessly on the dangers of fanaticism, on the happiness of social equality and on the fundamental principles of religious freedom. FUEs are between two Security. That's more than enough to make us followers.

A man imbued with these beautiful things is not far removed from us;
"All that remains is to enlist it (1)."

Mazzini, the great agitator, also understood the futility of lodges and all liberal associations, even those composed honest bourgeois:

"The competition among the elite is an absolute necessity"
to bring about reformism in a feudal country. If You only have the people, distrust will arise from the first blow, we will crush it. If it is led by a few powerful men, the powerful will serve passport rights for the people. Italy is still what it used to be.
France before the Revolution; it therefore needs its Mirabeaus, its Lafayette and so many others. A great healer can be chosen.
by material interests; but one can take it by the va-

(1) Quoted by Crélineau-Joly, Y Roman Church facing the Revolution.
(edit, in- 12) t. II, p. 120-121.

LXXXVIII ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

nity; let him have the leading role as long as he wants to walk with You. Few are willing to go all the way. The essential point is that the end of the great Revolution is unknown to them.

Let's never let anyone see that the first step is to take it.

"To associate, associate, associate, it's all in that word. The Secret societies give irresistible strength to the party which can Invoke them. Do not fear seeing them divide; the more they
The more they divide, the better; all go to the same goal by a path different. The secret will often be revealed: all the better. We need some secrecy is needed to provide security for members, but it requires a a certain degree of transparency to inspire fear in those stationed there.
When a large number of associates, receiving the password for spreading an idea and shaping public opinion can be After consulting for a moment, they will find the old building pierced with everywhere and falling as if by miracle at the slightest breath of progress. They themselves will be astonished to see people fleeing before the
The only power of public opinion lies with kings, lords, and the rich.
the priests, who formed the skeleton of the old social order.
"Rage, therefore, and perseverance (1)."

secondary to Freemasonry, which is like their mother to all, it is that in § 3 of the statutes of Young Germany > published by the judicial authority in the investigation relating to the murder Lessing's order expressly forbids everyone to of its members, to join any secret society, except that Freemasons!

This is still the case today.

In the major inquiry to which the National Assembly has delivered on the actions of the government of national defense, Mr. do Sugny was able to observe that Freemasonry had always-(!) Instructions of November 1, 1846, published by Lubienski, Guerres et iièvolulions d'Italie (Paris, Lccoffre 1852), p. 44.

REVOLUTIONARY SOCIETIES

LXXXIX

days provided their cadres to the most advanced secret societies and their general staff to the popular societies, which are in its de pendance.

Here is what is happening now in France, in particular in the East and Southeast. Every city of any size has a Masonic lodge composed of bourgeois and which is in contact with the center. This lodge does not only have members rents in the city where its headquarters are located. It has in all the towns and villages of affiliates recruited mainly from the professions that involve interaction with the public, doctors, etc. silencers, veterinarians, merchants. She also admits, but in small doses number, some workers, that their intelligence and their fanaticism elevate themselves above their peers.

In turn, these affiliated members are, in each village, in each that commune, at the head of an association composed of farmers or of workers in the form of circles, dormitories, societies choirs, which they direct and place at the service of the lodge without their members being directly part of Freemasonry nerie. Depending on the temperament of the populations, their habits and the degree of political excitement, veritable secret societies popular movements were forming: such were the Republican Alliance of Saint-Etienne, the Charbonnerie de Die, which were the subject of lawsuits in 1872 and 1873, and which fell under the scope of the law because of formal affiliation and required oaths. Groups of This type still exists, recruited and affiliated with a central directorate. according to the same secret system. Elsewhere, circles and associations Public studies yield almost the same results. Through a system As with the other approach, we arrive at this: that in each village In certain parts of France, a single individual is the leader Undisputed winner of all elections. Often nothing in his situation External social factors do not explain this influence; the truth is that His power rests on one of these organizations.

F

XC ACTION OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Father Deschamps' work demonstrates with abundance of irresistible evidence and dialectic, the absolute identity of doctrines of Freemasonry with the principles of Carbonarism, Mazzinism, and all other revolutionary societies militant ideologies. These sects have simply drawn the consequences premises laid in the lodges.

This class of Freemasons that Weishaupt and Mazzini ran were so rightly placed in the category of fools, made to perpetuity calls for revolutions and it intertwines the exaltation of the most bloodthirsty violence to dreams of perpetual peace.

Among a thousand speeches from this kind of kid, we will quote these words from a good bourgeois of Brussels, F.-. Merzbach, at the festival of the light of November 3, 1866, in the lodge the Friends of Union and Progress united;

"The Revolution of 1780 was a litany-like struggle that buried
"all the prejudices of the Middle Ages, a struggle that has planted in the
"the corpse of the past, the flag of the future – that of the rights of "Man; – a fight that made the weak tremble and that saw
"To be born of Hercules – a horrible battle that bloodied the ground"
"of the world and deified the pages of History – a struggle that has elevated
"the disinherited people at the level of the heads severed by the guillotine –"
• a fight that was the first day and not the last of humanity.

"This baptism of blood was necessary then. Tomorrow, there will be no
"will have more guillotines."

"Churches will be transformed into schools, – convents into bi-

"will work for all and all for each..."

* If blood must be shed, it will be shed – but it will be shed
"will be the field of the future. – War will disappear for all-
"days. – The battlefields will be transformed into altars, on
"in which humanity will burn its incense to the glory of freedom."

THE REVOLUTIONARY SOCIETIES XC1

"Only then will she celebrate the true festival of the region."
"Generation of light (1)."

This speech received exceptional publicity.
so much did he excite the admiration of the lodge, and this is the usual tone of those we hear in Freemasonry. What preparation for The municipalities of the future, what an audience ready to applaud!
to the greatest crimes, does not incessantly train the Freemason
nothing but playing at brotherhood

We must now ask ourselves if there is anything else that an identity of doctrines and personal communications between members of the various sects, if there really is a
a unified leadership that connects all secret societies including Freemasonry.

Here we touch upon the most mysterious point of the action of the secret societies, to the one they hide most carefully behind the veil of these national Grand Orients, which declares itself rent independent of each other, sometimes even excommunicating
They deny it.

The history of sects, as it will be found presented in the
The second book reveals the existence, from the 16th century onwards, of the era than the Cologne convent (Book II, Chapter II, § 2), of an organ secret nization, resulting in a single patriarch known only to the order of a small number of masters. In the 18th century, the order of Temple fulfilled the role in relation to Masonic lodges of internal order, and directed the work of the ordinary masons without their suspecting it: it is through him that the Illu-Minimism managed to dominate all the lodges and all the rites by the end

(1) Two Masonic speeches, by Henry Merzbach, Brussels 1867.
Marc-Michel Rey, printing company of Bouillon.

of the century. The high Scottish degrees served at that time as sanctuaries to this inner order, and that is why they have all days were recognized by the Masonic powers, despite the protests from many Freemasons of the symbolic degrees, badly even in spite of temporary schisms.

But high ranks have lost this significance nowadays. and it is not in their chapters that we should look for the center where the supreme leadership of United Freemasonry is hidden Verselle. This direction, however, continued to exist. We have can see the proof in the sudden evolution accomplished by the Freemasonry when it abandoned Napoleon I in 1808, On the other hand, we have precise testimonies about its existence tence during the Restoration period. A Masonic writer, whose actual words can be found in Book II, Chapter VIII, § 5, attributes this role to the continuation of the Order of the Temple. Towards the At the same time, the Roman High Vendée, whose government of Grégoire NVI seized the correspondence and exercised supremacy. undisputed regarding both the Carbonari and Masonic lodges from France and Germany. She was a successful kid for a while. time to impose his dominance on Mazzini, until the day when he- it disposed of its members through summary methods which he was used to. A little later, the management center moves, and, as F.*. Malapert tells us, "the word orders given to lodges throughout the world originate from St. Petersburg and from Berlin, no longer from Paris. Around 1840, they became he adds, delivered into the currents of Pan-Germanism and Pan-Slavism (1).

A Saxon lawyer of rare intellectual vigor and immense

(1) Speech by Brother Malapert at the Alsace-Lorraine lodge, in the Chain Union, year 1874, pp. 88-89. This speech is a very complete summary of the role of Freemasonry in contemporary historical events raine. It confirms in its broad outlines the entire work of Father Des-fields.

REVOLUTIONARY SOCIETIES

xcm

erudition, Mr. Eckert, who devoted his life to unveiling the mysteries res of secret societies and uncovered the most important documents valuable on their action, came to the conclusion that Y Order

Nonsense or Y External Order.

Here is how Mr. Gyr, his translator, summarizes the results from his investigations:

Freemasonry, being a universal association, is governed born from a single leader called Patriarch. The title of great Master of the Order is not the exclusive privilege of one family or of a nation. Scotland, England, France and Germany have in turn had the honor of giving the Order its supreme head me. It would appear that Lord Palmerston is today vested with the dignity of the patriarchy.

* Next to the patriarch are two committees, one legislative tif, the other executive. These committees, composed of delegates from the Grand-The Orient alone know the Patriarch and are the only ones in contact with him.

"All modern revolutions prove that Order is divided into two distinct parts: one peaceful, the other warlike.

"The first one employs only intellectual means, that is to say-to speak and to write.

* She leads the authorities and the people whose plans she has envisioned loss leading to suicide or mutual destruction.

"She conquered all the positions in the E- for the benefit of the Order" tat, in the Church (1) and in the universities, in short all the influential positions.

"She seduces the masses, dominates public opinion by means of from the press or associations.

"Its directory is called the Grand Orient, and its lodges..." ferment, I will explain later why, as soon as the warlike division brings down into the streets the masses it has acquired and the Order.

0) Eckert is referring here to Protestant denominations.

XCIV ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

"As soon as the peaceful division had pushed its work far enough" for a violent attack to have a chance of success in a not long ago; when passions are inflamed, when

are occupied by traitors, the war division receives orders to deploy its entire activity.

"The directorate of the belligerent division is called firmament.

"As soon as it comes to armed attacks and the division a belligerent vision has taken the reins, the logs of the pacifist division The doors close. This tactic still reveals all the tricks of the Order.

"In effect, in this way he prevents us from accusing to serve the Order to cooperate in the revolt.

"Furthermore, like the members of the belligerent division, as high-ranking officials, they are part of the pacifist division fic, but not reciprocally; as the existence of this division is unknown to the vast majority of "members of the other" division, the former will be able to rally to the latter in case of insuccess. The peaceful lodges hasten to protect by all means the means the brothers of the belligerent division, by representing them like overly ardent patriots who allowed themselves to be swept away by the current beyond the prescriptions of order and prudence dence (1). »

The result to which Eckert's long studies have led him is confirmed in its essential features by these words which Mr. d'Is-Faëli deliberately included them in one of her political novels.

(1) Eckert, Magazin der Beweisführung für Verurtheilung des Fret* inaurcrordens, als Ausgangspunkt aller Zerstörungshæligk'èit gegen jedes Kirchenthum, Statenthum und Eigenthum (Leipzig 1857), t. I, pp. 29-38, trans. by Gyr, Freemasonry in Itself and in its relations with other secret societies in Europe (Liège 1859), p. 234 et seq. Cf. Freemasonry in its true meaning. by Eckert, lawyer in Dresden, translated by Gyr (Liège 1854), vol. I, p. 287, appendix.

REVOLUTIONARY SOCIETIES

XCV

and to which his latest official speeches give greater significance Again :

That's what those whose eyes don't peer behind the scenes imagine. This mysterious diplomacy of Russia, which is the terror of Western Europe is organized by the Jews, and they are part of it. main agents... This powerful revolution which, currently she is even preparing and preparing in Germany, where she will in fact be a second reform, more considerable than the first, and which England still knows so little, is developing entirely under the auspices of the Jew, to whom the almost complete monopoly has fallen complete of all professorial chairs (1). »

(1) Connigsby (London 1844), p. 183-184.

Mr. Gougenot-Demonsseaux, in his fine studies on the Jew and the Judaism and the Judaization of Christian Peoples (in-8°, Paris 1869), a gathered a large amount of information on the relationships of the high-ranking chiefs of Freemasonry and Judaism. He summarizes them thus: "The Freemason-
"rie, this immense association whose few initiates, that is to say whose there are the real leaders, whom one must be careful not to confuse with the nominal leaders, live in a close and intimate alliance with the members
"militants of Judaism, princes and imitators of the high cabal! For
"that elite of the order, those real leaders whom so few initiates know,
"and whom most of them only know by their nom de guerre,"
"operate in the profitable and secret dependence of cabals"
"Israelis. And this phenomenon is accomplished thanks to the habits of rig-
"groomed discretion to which they are subjected by oaths and
"terrible threats; thanks again to the majority of Jewish members"
"that the mysterious constitution of Freemasonry establishes in its "Sovereign Council" p. 340. 11 reproduced in the following pages, a article from the Ristorsch politische Blätter, Munich, 1862, where one points out the existence in Germany, Italy and London of lodges directed unknown to most Freemasons and where Jews are in the majority:
"In London, where the heart of the May Revolution was located*
"Tre Palmerslon there are two Jewish lodges, which never saw any "Christians cross their threshold. It is there that all the sons of "all the revolutionary elements, which are brewing in the Jewish lodges-
"Yours." The article from Ristorsch politische Blätter was reprinted.
in Le Monde, November 5, 1862. Mr. Gougenot Demoussceux quotes

xcvr

ACTIVITIES OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

A man who had played a very active role in the revolutions
tions of Italy, around 1830, and that a confluence of circumstances
very particular relationships had been established with Father Deschamps Henri Mislcy wrote to him in 1855;

"I know the world a little, and I know that, in all this great
In the future that is being prepared, there are only four or five who hold the cards. A greater number believe they hold them, but they are mistaken.
pent (l)! »

again, p. 368, the opinion of a Protestant statesman, in the service of a
The great Germanic power, which wrote to him in December 1865: "De-
"Then came the revolutionary resurgence of 1845, and I found myself in "relationship with a Jew who, out of vanity, betrayed the secret of the societies"
"secrets with which he had become involved, and which warned me eight to ten "days ahead of all the revolutions that were about to break out on a
"any point in Europe. I owe him my unwavering conviction"
"that all these great movements of oppressed peoples, etc., etc.,
"are combined by half a dozen individuals, who give their
"Orders to the secret societies of all of Europe!"

(1) Father Deschamps recounted it thus in the preface to his work book (1st edition) his relationship with Henri Misley:

"A chance circumstance had brought me into contact with him, and three years
At least we corresponded by letters, not to mention several visits he paid me while passing through the country where I lived. His letters were dated sometimes from Geneva, sometimes from London, sometimes from Strasbourg, sometimes from other countries. Italian by birth, he had lived for a long time in Spain.
loincloth and had had great relations with the court, which he knew He perfectly grasped all the plots and characters. He was in rap port with Esparléro, Kossuth, Fazy, Gavour, King Victor Emmanuel and especially Palmerston. He was very intelligent; he struck me as or of a brother recruiter, such as Weishaupt describes, or of a man of character, perfectly self-possessed and devoted, despite everyone's efforts his family, to the Catholic religion and to the papacy. His separation from impious revolutionaries in the Italian War and his death in Spain, what Years later, they prove that it is at the final judgment that one must...
"To play." On Henry Misley and his role in the Italian revolutions, see V. Louis Blanc, A Ten-Year History; Thomas Prost, The Secret Societies of the European Revolution (London 1876), vol. II, p. 32 et seq., p. 41. Rivista Europea, from April 1880, Circo Ménotti and the revolution of the year 1831 in Modem.

REVOLUTIONARY SOCIETIES

XCVII

Some fragments can be found in Book II, Chapter X, Sections 1 and 2.
from Misley's correspondence, from 1850 to 1855. Despite the steering committee influencing European cabinets and leadership all secret societies; but they also reveal the dissension relationships that existed then as they do today between the elements various from which these companies are formed.

While acknowledging the continued existence of this center of direction unique tion, who succeeded the former sovereign patriarch of In order, we are inclined to believe that the authority of this division rection is not always universally recognized, that among The army of secret societies, new forces are rising, which sometimes come into conflict with the older ones, seeking to seize they are under the control of the supreme leadership, and only partially submit to its orders while they waited until they themselves could enter this sovereign center. Nowadays, Mazzini and the Haute-Vente Roman, Louis Napoleon and Mazzini, Karl Marx and Mr. de Bis-Marck, have not always been able to agree, despite the ties that bind them connected them to each other.

According to a very curious account, events have so far confirmed in its broad outlines and which can be found reproduced at Book II of this work (Chapter XII, § 3), General Etzel, one of the the most advanced leaders of Freemasonry, he is said to have remarked, speaking of Mr. Bismarck, after the Locarno convent, in October 1872:

"He is completely ours, and the day we see him titular-

"If we were to withdraw our trust from him, he would know that very well."

This word seems to us to summarize well the state of dependence in which they are, the different factions of the sects and in relation to each other at the same time the antagonism, the distrust that the pursuit differing interests arise between them, not to mention the rivalries personal lives of their leaders.

These internal discords are often the means by which the Pro-

7

XCVITT ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Evidence is used to halt the rise of the Revolution and to protect to the people the means to stay on the slope they are on carried away.

But we must not deceive ourselves into thinking that more and more so Secret societies have tended towards unity, ever since bourgeois Freemasonry and naive, even to the point of cult members hiding in European offices and to the leaders of the International. The day when this unity is complete Once this has been accomplished, the time will be ripe for the Antichrist.

the secret of Freemasonry

xcix

VII. – THE SECRET OF FREEMASONRY AND ITS PURPOSE

LAST OF THE CULTS

The secret, say the Masonic constitutions, is the first a characteristic sign of the Order, and at each grade one takes a swearing-in ceremony to the initiates a new oath, by which they dedicate themselves to the most atrocious punishments, should they happen to reveal the secrets of the Order.

However, the vast majority of Freemasons, even those who manage Although he holds the highest ranks today, he never receives any confidence.

What then is the meaning of these oaths and the secret itself?
Does it even really exist?

The strict obligation imposed on masons, never reveal nothing of what they might see, do, and hear Speaking in the lodges is a guarantee against indiscretions or the surprises. It protects the covert actions of the supreme directors My, the existence of the internal order we just mentioned, it It finally covers the attempts made at certain times in the dressing rooms. to recruit elite followers for an active purpose (1).

As for the secret itself, here is what was said about it in 1794:
Manifesto of the Duke of Brunswick addressed to all lodges:

"Your teachers should have told you, as our fathers told us—
"It is worth learning that the secrets of the association cannot be "known only to a few masters, for what would become of se—
"Crets that would be known to too many people?"

(1) The Masonic authorities are trying, but in vain, to fight against the increasing publicity given to the actions of lodges as that the followers become the masters of political power. Thus, in In June 1877, the general assembly of the lodges of the Grand Orient of Italy decided that Masonic advertising was more discreet and that no brother's name was no longer to be printed in the lodge's publications. In Belgium, some Special precautions have been taken to ensure that no copy of the The Grand Orient bulletin did not circulate in the secular world.

ACTIVITIES OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Possession of this secret is independent of the collation of all ranks and, a fortiori, official dignities of the Order. Dr. "Sects," said one of their most learned historians, "have almost always two kinds of rules and doctrines: one vulgar and general, the other particular, known only to some initiates, who are rarely in the highest ranks," "but through whose hands everything passes and everything is done in reality (1)."

The Grand Master of a Grand Orient may know nothing of all the secrets of the Order, no more than he often has power effective session on his work (2).

LkDrdre knows how to protect herself against any misunderstanding, as evidenced by this oath of the Knight of St. Andrew or Scottish High Master, which is practiced in German lodges:

"I freely swear to God, creator of the universe, into the hands of the legitimate master of this lodge and in the presence of the Scottish brothers I know here present, to hide in the most secret way in the world

(1) Sects and Secret Societies, An Essay on their History up to the French Revolution, by Count Le Coulleux de Canteleu, or work composed from the manuscripts of the Prince of Hesse (Paris 1862, Dentu).

(2) One must read in the work of Mr. Amant Neut, La Franc-maçonnerie soumise au public par l'usage de documents authentiques, vol. I, p. 263, the mystification of which the baron was a victim in 1841 de Stassart, Grand Master of Belgian Freemasonry. He wasn't even summoned to a meeting of the main lodges of Brussels, assembly to decide on the candidates for the Chamber of Deputies elections. He could not prevent a declaration of war against a ministry where were among his friends. The honorable grand master having wished to claim in a Masonic assembly, was called a fool and a retrograde, whereupon he resigned. V. book I, chapter III, § 4. Let us also remember the more serious adventure that befell the grand master of Grand Orient of Turin Frappoli, for having displeased the superior leaders of secret societies.

the secrets I have now attained and all the secrets I have previously discovered assumptions that I might make from them, and to reveal them to no one, Even so, he would be the master of the entire order, if I didn't re- I know him in a high regular Scottish lodge, or if he is not designated as such by my superiors in this lodge (1). *

This great secret of the Order, it is currently even possible allowing laypeople to understand it through the writings of the founders sects, and especially in light of the events to which they have taken part.

To put human rights in place of divine law, to establish the reign of humanity in place of that of the Creator, that is it, As we shall see (Book I, Chapter I), the supreme goal of societies secret, the one they pursue in all situations and in all political forms. To achieve this, they need to overturn the principle of legitimacy in all governments governments and with them all the good national customs, of to pervert the very foundations of the social order, and even language of peoples. Now, like the truths of the religious order and of the or-* Social reforms are not just ideas, but must be embodied. on this earth in positive institutions, sects, to rea- Their ultimate goal is to relentlessly attack the Catholic Church, which is not only the essential instrument of God's reign over the earth, but also the guardian of order itself purely natural. What they really want to strike is the Roman siege which means that the Catholic Church will never be able to descend to abasements of a Russian Church or an Anglican Church. With the Papacy, the sects conflate in their hatred the glory laughing lineage of the descendants of Saint Louis, who, despite the despite the faults of a few, they never betrayed the cause of God nor denied their title as eldest sons of the Church.

(I) Quoted by Eckert, Die frage der staallichen Anerkenmng der Freimaurer ordens in Oesterreich (Vienna 1862), 2nd edition, p. 5.

Actions of Secret Societies in the 19th Century

Lilia pedibus destrue has been a motto since the 18th century repeated in the degrees of several Masonic rites. It ex It captures the spirit of all and is the key to all revolutions. temporary.

This secret of the sects is certainly communicated to the members of internal order, to those who take part in the management, but it is permissible to penetrate it* by all those who know how to read in the symbols of Freemasonry and its rituals. This is what it indicates clearly the high-ranking German Freemason, Dröseke, in a speech

"First and foremost, we consider Freemasonry as an institution emanating from the divinity. He who has it will receive until that that he may be satisfied. But to him who has nothing, Freemasonry cannot giving nothing; it even impoverishes him, within an apparent wealth rent. In our temples there is constant talk of a secret; kid, to be more precise, we only talk about this secret. This secret cannot be hidden from anyone who has eyes; that person will see it. He enters without the lodge; he is initiated without having entered our sanctuaries. Another will never manage to know him, not even through the lodge. and by means of all these degrees; he is a profane man, even if he is even

He sat in the east of the temple, and made the jewels of the great shine.

Master. The very means we employ to solve this problem, our symbols, our images, our signs, we re- Let's keep them secret. For what reason and by what right? Is this how we act?

"Our symbols are not toy cups used to kill" time and to amuse the children; they are the sacred vessels, where the holy The relics of the saints are preserved and displayed for the eyes of initiates. Such are the words that Your name would profane, if they were thrown before the animals Filthy. Our symbols are not the object represented; they are not are merely allusions, reminiscences; through them, the mind is stimulated to make efforts to conclude the invisible of what is visible possible. (1). »

(1) Quoted by Eckhart, Freemasonry in its true meaning cation, trans. French., L. I, p. 274.

THE SECRET OF FRENCH MASONRY

MISTLETOE

All sects agree on this goal of their efforts; only their satanic hatred of God is intertwined with their hatred of God. Your kinds of passions and desires, they are often divided between them on the means to be employed and on the point at which they wish would stop their work of destruction.

The revolutionaries of high lineage, the skillful ones, those who have Those who were the first to achieve fortune and honors seek to They would like to focus their attacks against the Church and religion. to maintain a purely material order in society, as much sensed the inevitable reaction of interests offended by the madness of revolutionaries, who go all the way. Willingly, even, they would preserve the Church as a human institution, and would be content to corrupt her in order to make her an instrument of reign, such as Anglicanism, the Russian schism, Evangelicalism Prussian.

A famous Freemason and at the same time a statesman Important in his time, Blumenhagen said in 1825: "The "The whole world must be the temple of the Masonic order, the azure "from the sky its roof, the poles its walls, the throne and Vautel its "pillars..." (V. book II, chap. XIV, § 1). That is indeed the thought of this Freemasonry, which, if necessary, becomes constitutional and conservative.

Bossuet had a profound intuition of the struggles of the modern era. last when, seeing in the light of the Scriptures all the phases of the existence of human societies, he wrote these words :

"There are two kinds of persecution: One is open and declared The first type is real, when religion is openly attacked; the second is hidden and artificial, like that of this Pharaoh who, jealous of abundance of God's people, inspired hatred in his subjects and sought

CIV ACTION OF SECRET SOCIETIES BEFORE THE 19TH CENTURY

secret means of destroying him: "Come," he said, "let's oppress him." gement (Exodus 1:10-11 ff.), that is to say, secretly and subtly ment (1). *

To corrupt the Church, to transform Catholicism, as the Enfantin wrote at the end of his career, "It was the dream of madness." impious Frederick of Prussia, the two Napoleons, Louis-Philippe Lippe and the Count of CaVour; it is also that of Mr. de Bis-Mark. Having stifled the faith in their hearts, they no longer hold on taking into account the supernatural assistance to which the Church is subject and, at the sight of all the doors that gold and intrigue have opened for them, They imagine that with renewed effort and skill they will overcome this immaterial force, which resists them all days.

Weishaupt, the founder of Humanism in the 18th century, This is how he outlined the plan for this conspiracy:

"While it is beneficial for us to have regular schools, it their superiors. With this world we have the main part of the country; we are putting the greatest enemies of every innovation, and, what is above all, with the ecclesiastical courts ticks the people and the common folk are found in our hands. Note, however, that one must deal well with the clergy. precautions. These gentlemen rarely maintain a just mi- place; they are either too free or too meticulous, and those who are Those who are too free rarely have morals.

Forty years later, the aristocratic revolutionaries who com the Roman Haute-Vente were laying the groundwork for the same purpose with <\) Elevations on the Mysteries, 9th week, 1st r "elevation.

THE SECRET OF THE. FREEMASONRY CV

a depth that surpasses ordinary calculations of perversity human beings. Here is how one of their leaders expressed himself in 1818 in a confidential memo, which outlined the sect's program action following the triumph of the Restoration:

"Since we have been established as a body of action and that Order begins to reign at the back of the most remote sale. as within the one closest to the center, there is a A thought that has always deeply preoccupied men who aspire to universal regeneration: this is the thought of the liber- the fall of Italy, from which must emerge, on a determined day, the crossing the entire world, the fraternal republic and the harmony of humanity. This idea has not yet been grasped by our brothers from beyond the Alps. They believe that Italy has revolted The tionary can only conspire in the shadows, distributing a few stabbings of henchmen or traitors and suffering punishment the yoke of events, which unfold beyond Mountains for Italy, but without Italy. This error was made to us already fatal on several occasions.

"The papacy has always exerted a decisive influence sive on Italian affairs by force, by voice, by perfume, by the hearts of its countless bishops, priests, monks, religious devout and faithful from all latitudes; the papacy finds de devotions constantly ready for martyrdom and enthusiasm. By Wherever she chooses to talk about it, she has friends who die. Others who sacrifice everything for her. It's an immense lever. whose full power only a few popes appreciated. Today Today it is not a question of reconstituting for us this power, of which prestige is temporarily weakened: our ultimate goal is that never of Catholicism and even of the Christian idea, which, remaining standing on the ruins of Rome, would be its perpetuation more late....

"What we need, therefore, is a pope according to our needs..."

Ganganelli surrendered himself bound hand and foot to the ministers of the Bourbons good people who frightened him, to the unbelievers who celebrated his tolerance, and Ganganelli became a very great pope. It was at

CVI ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

{-eu near under these conditions qfc.ll we would need one, if it is still possible. With that we will move more surely to the assault on the Church, along with the pamphlets of our brothers in France and even England's gold. We have no doubt that we will achieve this. the ultimate goal of our efforts. But when? But how? known does not yet emerge.

"Crush the enemy, whoever he may be, crush the powerful by force" of slander and calumny, but above all, crush it in the egg. It is to the youth that we must go, it is they that we must win over. she whom we must train, without her suspecting it, under the flag of secret societies... To ensure us a pope in the required proportions, it is first a matter of shaping it, to this Pope, a generation worthy of the reign we dream of. May he clergy march under your banner, still believing they are marching under the banner of the apostolic leaders.

"The alchemists of the Middle Ages have wasted their time and the gold of Their dupes, in search of their dream: that of secret societies. will be accomplished for the simplest of reasons: it is based on the passions of man. Let us therefore not be discouraged nor for failure, nor for defeat; let us prepare our weapons in The sales silence, let's raise all our batteries, let's flatter all passions, both the worst and the most generous, and Everything leads us to believe that this plan will one day succeed beyond even our most improbable calculations (1). »

(1) Quoted by Crélineau-Joly, The Roman Church in the Face of the Revolution tion, t. II, p, 85-88.

These highly detailed documents on the activities of secret societies, and in particular the correspondence of the members of the Italian Haute-Vente, had been seized by the government upon the death of one of them in 1846 papal. They were communicated to Crélineau-Joly by Pope Gré Goire XVI himself, in the first days of March 4846, and published later with the express approval of Pius IX. They are characters and allowed to remain, in the work The Roman Church in

in the face of the Revolution, the pseudonyms under which he hid,
This is out of respect for distinguished families, to which several members of Haute-Vente belonged. No historical document offers No more guarantees of authenticity. See Crétincau-Joly, his political life, religious and literary, by Abbot Maynard, Paris, Didot 4875, p. 340 to Mr.

Æ SECRET J)E FREEMASONRY

cm

If such plans could be realized, the Revolution would... would truly rule the world and Satan's reign would replace would be that of Jesus Christ.

But they are constantly thwarted by the assistance that God gives to his wife. * Corruption can find a foothold in isolated clergymen, like Talleyrand, Dalberg, and d'An Drea, she cannot enter the Church. The latter, faithful to its mission divine, and defended in her faith and in her head against all human assaults, unravels the most skillfully hatched plots;
and, either in the Catacombs, or under the protection of a power
temporally acquired legitimately, she never ceases to claim to seek justice against the corrupt and the hypocritical persecutors or de-Clarified, this government of souls, which is the object of covetousness eternal of sects.

Moreover, these revolutionaries with lofty vision and profound...
breasts are incessantly pushed by the pressing waves of the revolutions revolutionaries, who are not yet satisfied and want to attack to focus on objects more tangible than the Church, to make ruins more profitable for them than the destruction of beliefs and morals. Once de-Christianized, the masses demand equality absolute and the right to all pleasures. One of the insurgents of the the days of June 1848, he said it with brutal cynicism: "Qua-
"Forty-eight hours of looting and silk dresses, that's our
" program. "

This is how the Republic follows in the footsteps of the monarchies.
liberal or democratic Caesarisms, and the Commune of behind the conservative republics.

Socialism is entirely contained in embryo in the doctrines of Freemasonry, in the symbolism of its degrees. But the free-aristocratic or bourgeois masons who were regimented in the lodges and who zealously propagated these doctrines, as long as they were

CVf/r ACTIONS OF SECRET SOCIETIES IN THE 19TH CENTURY

Church morals, stubbornly refuse to implement them once that they are facing the demands of the street. That's how it is. that we could see, in 1848, many lodges transformed into clubs Conservatives... of the Freemasons' fortune. Today still in certain lodges in Paris, political economy is highly regarded, and naive republicans defend it with conviction the rights of capital and preach resignation to it salaried employment (1).

For its part, the International does not spare the sarcasm of the Freemasonry. In 1870, she solemnly excommunicated him. in Lyon (2), and this year in the same city, a committee The radical party demanded that its candidate declare that he was not Freemason (3).

But, however violent this antagonism between the Soldiers from both armies, the commanders do not agree. The International and the various socialist organizations, have just that here it was in the hands of men who were more or less in the dependence on the supreme leaders of the sects, and these have so far succeeded in diverting the fervor against the Church revolutionaries of the proletariat. The Jacobin element, either in the Parisian commune, or even currently, obviously the advantage over the purely socialist element, we have seen it today eminently the proof.

However, this policy of balance and intrigue cannot not always able to control the passions it unleashes and the opposition of interests between Freemasonry and the International, between the

(1) The summary can be seen in the Masonic World of January 1880 of several economic conferences held in lodges by various speakers, and to grasp the expression of their profound astonishment in the face of the ingratitude of the socialists and the impotence of their reasoning on popular desires.

(2) See the brochure entitled *. Six months of red flag in Lyon (1871).

(3) Fact cited by Le Monde maçonnique of January 1880.

Jacobinism and Socialism, if we want to represent the diversity of the cite of sects under these names, this opposition, we say, is real, because it stems from the nature of things and the position social of their members.

United as long as the Christian social edifice stands, the different your layers of secret societies enter into conflict, when they believe they have triumphed definitively, and they often undo their work, thus anticipating its own confusion the hour of the juices divine tices.

These rivalries and movements, sometimes parallel, sometimes opposed sesame seeds are one of the most important elements, and sometimes the more difficult to appreciate, the actions of secret societies in contemporary history.

We will find the picture as accurate as possible in a history Torian to give it in the two books that divide the work of the Father Deschamps: one is devoted to the principles of societies Cretans and their doctrinal influence on contemporary society; the other to their history and the part they played in the revolutions modern-day solutions*

BOOK ONE

THE DOCTRINES OF FREEMASONRY

AND Lute. REVOLUTION

"Whatever one of you, venerable tVirea, may be able to it is perhaps surprising that the war waged in our century to the Catholic Church has taken on such large proportions. But he who has Lien understood the character, the ten dances, the goal of sects, whether they call themselves Freemasons* niques or that they take another name, and if he compare with character, nature and development The nature of this declared struggle against the Church is almost evident. the entire surface of the globe, cannot revoke in doubt that the present calamity should not be attributed mainly as to his cause, to the tricks and to machinations of these same sects. It is from them that

It comprises the synagogue of Satan. Above all, reveal and attack the error of those who, whether trotters or deceivers Pes, do not hesitate to assert that social utility,

are the sole purpose that these conventicles set for themselves dark>.

(Encyclical of SS PIUS IX,
(of November 21, 1873.)

CHAPTER ONE

THE BASIC IDEA OF FREEMASONRY AND SECRET SOCIETIES

I. – DIVINE TRUTH AND THE HUMAN IDEA

The entire order of human societies rests on a fundamental truth.
mental and a fundamental fact.

The fundamental truth is that man was created by God.
that his ultimate end is God and that, consequently, all his actions tions, all manifestations of its activity, must tend,
each in its own order, for this purpose.

Religion is the first of the means given to man to to achieve this end: it connects him to God through gratitude that he makes of his subordination and through the use of spiritual graces those that the Creator's goodness has prepared for him. The morality of the actions
The essential criterion for human activities is conformity to this purpose.
and to that order. The general society that exists among all men my by virtue of their common origin and end and which materially translated through the exchange of economic services, the family which ensures the preservation of humankind, the different your nationalities that divide the world, the legitimate political authority time which maintains peace within each nation, the public freedoms that allow every man to fulfill his duties duties towards God, towards himself, towards his family, towards his fellow citizens, and finally property, which is the condition of order natural economic activity, and which ensures the perpetuation of work from which Humanity awaits its sustenance, all these various orders of things, in which man moves and acts, are in reality so many coordinated means by which it must strive towards its ultimate end, and it is within this hierarchical coordination that all rights of family, of citizen, of property owner, all public freedoms private and economic issues find their raison d'être and their a guarantee against abuses of force, whether it comes from a despot, of a man superior in intelligence, or of a multitude having For her, the power of numbers.

This natural order of things, which is essentially in accordance Right reason, common sense, is indeed constantly threatened by human passions, which lead man to rebel against to be God, to take himself as his end, and to oppress his similar.

This disorder is caused by the fundamental fact of the original fall Nelle. Man is tempted at all hours by an evil spirit who hates God and his creature. The tempter encounters a complicity secret city in the human heart, despite the protests of the reason. But God, in his infinite mercy, has repaired this fall through the infinite wonder of redemption due to merits the abundant merits of his Son, the eternal Word incarnate. These merits are applied to man through a visible Church, essentially unique, and whose organ is a hierarchy about weaving at the infallible and indestructible seat of Peter.

Not only does the Church have a mission to guide men in spiritual paths, but also she guards the deposit of truths of the natural order, which passions fail to recognize. is, in this dual capacity, the cement of society and the conservative of civil order.

The Revolution essentially consists in the negation of this coordination of things, this subordination of all the Human actions are brought to their ultimate end. It puts human rights first. in place of God's law and, through a radical reversal of Order posits man as his own end.

A profound thinker, who also thoroughly studied action and Father Pachtler summarized the doctrines of Freemasonry in a single word, the fundamental idea of Freemasonry and of all all the secret societies that derive from it: it is the deification of humanity, or man placed in the place of God.

"This expression of humanity, with the ambiguous meaning that has been given to it

DIVINE TRUTH AND HUMAN IDEA 3

given for a century and a half, is, like a dozen other neo*

This word is used by thousands of men in a confused sense, no doubt, but still, however, like the nom de guerre of a certain party for a certain purpose, which is opposition to Christianity positive. It does not only mean the human being as opposed to the being bestial, not just a collection of thoughts, aspirations and reports worthy of man, but also the human being alone, in opposition to Christianity. It thus has a political meaning that already stands apart from the passages quoted above from Kant and Herder, and which will appear again more clearly in the following documents. The specious colors with which it appears, far from contradicting it, prove, on the contrary, either a misunderstanding in the very conception of things, or a conni-tacit agreement with the enemy.

"Therefore, humanity, in its real and objective sense, is this notion which posits as a thesis the absolute independence of natural man, in the domain intellectual, religious and political, and who denies any supernatural end for himself. In a subjective sense, as a duty, humanity is recognition of this universal independence, and the corresponding disposition of our own actions, so that the independence of others is not compromised by us, but that the purely natural perfection of the human race should be guided towards the paths of progress. With this we have the fundamental dogma of Liberalism today (1).

(t) Here, for example, is how a contemporary German author, Mr. Bluntschli, professor at Heidelberg, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Bayreuth, presents the Theory of the modern state, or the essence of liberalism:

The modern state is founded on human nature. The state is a
"a human community of life, created and administered by man for a purpose"
" human.

c Modern conception, while not religious, is not irreligious.

Modern science admits that it cannot penetrate the thoughts of God, but it < strives to understand the State in a human way.

"Modern consciousness hates all theocracy. The modern state is an organization-

< human constitutional tion; its power is regulated by public law; its po-Clitique seeks the public good according to the conceptions of human reason with c human resources.

c The modern state considers itself as a person composed of a spirit (Ves-€ national title) and of a body (the constitution). He feels independent and free, mē-

< me in the eyes of the Church, a collective entity which also has its own spirit and its < body; and he affirms his elevated right on bllb. » (General Theory of

And in Italy, one of the founders of revolutionary unity, Mr. Scialoja, said to Parliament in January 1867:

c There are no more mixed questions; the human principle, which knows everything, wants to (the right to decide everything alone. That's why you—"I heard them, yes, they were based

4

the core idea of secret societies

a. To the three initial errors found in this notion of the human manity, namely: the original perfection of man, the negation of any supernatural end for him and his absolute independence, correspond tooth, adds Father Pachtler, a series of steps on the path to evil which Humanity is God, – Humanity making itself God, – Humanity
To God: such is the edifice that Freemasonry seeks to erect to the the place of the divine order, which is Humanity with God (1). »

II. – THE MASONIC LEGEND

This idea of humanity placed in the position of God, the Franc-Freemasonry does not express it bluntly at first glance; but
She incorporates it into all her rites, and expresses it through all her symbols.

A vast temple to build; apprentices, journeymen and the masters who work there; Iliram or Adonhiram, one of these masters, murdered by three of his companions to wrest the password or master's word; the body of this master buried in the earth to be found and replaced; his death to be sold ger; the construction of the temple resumed to be completed: such is the fundamental and universal allegory, basis and essence of the Freemasonry and all secret societies. Thus the teaching all their rituals and manuals, their orators and their inter-the most authoritative priests. This allegory is indicated in the graapprentice and journeyman; it is long developed
He progressed through the rank of master and gradually completed and clarified himself.
cissant in the grades of Ilosc-Croix, Kadosh and the der-

"on the existence of a spiritual power, the only one competent on certain questions, say*'
"appear successively before the omnipotence of civil power. The concordat"
"with France was misunderstood from the day after its conclusion by the publica"tion of organic articles. Spain, Italy, Austria do the same, without "Concern for the rules of bilateral contracts and justice, because the State often –

"these words: The Church must enjoy the freedom due to it as to any association"
"A transaction permitted by the state."

Freemasonry maintains the same memo language everywhere.

(1) Dkr Gotze deu Huma.nität ODER das positive der Freimaüurvrei (The challenge
(the cation of humanity or the positive side of Freemasonry), by GM Pacliller
'ht-s*. Fntxmrg-eu-flrisgmi. Ilonler, 1'75,

THE MASONIC LEGEND 5

higher grades of the Misraïm rite, where she reached her final destiny loppement.

What is this temple? Who are these companions, assassins of the Master? Who is this master? The entire philosophy of history... temporary is contained in the solution to these questions; there they also find all the secrets of Freemasonry and the so-secret societies; in this solution lies the foundation of all ranks,
the key to all mysteries.

However, we claim to offer this solution here and to bear the consequences evidence up to the point of demonstration.

This temple is the temple of nature or the Masonic golden age.
fuck.

The God who is worshipped there is nature itself, the God-everything, God-pan, the fire which is its essence and which has for representing the sun and the Indian lingam, everything that is more backward, more materialistic, and more muddy in the
the depths of old paganism.

The assassin companions to be pursued and exterminated are:
lies or superstition, ambition or tyranny, ignorance
France or prejudices; that is to say, under names such as the en-secret societies, religion, and especially the

CATHOLIC RELIGION, MORALITY AND ALL RULES OF MORALITY, THE MONARCHY AND ALL AUTHORITY, THE FAMILY, PROPERTY

and nationality, Christian education, equality, freedom, the fraternity itself, this triple and brilliant Masonic veil screw, the papacy finally, both for itself and as being the summary, the center and the guarantee of all these great and divi things which constitute and upon which rests, as upon its foundation, the society that must be destroyed in order to return to nature.

The master to be avenged, the resurrected Hiram, victorious over

The gilded one of the temple, he is the true mason, the philosopher, the sage, primitive man, man returned or brought back to the golden age, to the state of nature or wilderness, which is the quintessential state of freedom masonic.

the core idea of secret societies

III. THE ALLEGED SIMPLIFICATION OF MORAL LAW OR PRIMITIVE FREEDOM AND EQUALITY

Of all Christian dogmas, there is none that is more than France-Freemasonry does not attack more radically than that of origin sin. Ginel, despite the painful testimony of conscience and the uni The universal belief of humankind. In this, it is not only the foundation of Christianity, but also all civil constitutions which it overturns, for it is on this fundamental fact that the other rests social authority at all levels.

"Moral and religious errors, and above all this fatal one" belief in the natural perversity of man, he said, Forty years, the Globe, the Masonic journal, is the cause of almost all human wickedness. Man is born good, the ins "only institutions are bad" (vol. II, p. 210).

A short time ago, F.*. Peulevey, deputy for Le Havre, repeated was in a lodge in Paris, as a conclusion to the entire work of Freemasonry: "Therefore, let there be no more talk of rehabilitation-"Quote: Man has never fallen; he only grows in-"cease." (1)

This was already the thesis of Rousseau, an illustrious Freemason, in the Social Contract; it was that of the constituents of 1789 and of the Convention members of 1793; it is still that of all the systems my contemporary socialists: now, both groups have drawn this fundamental error in the teaching of the lodges.

Since man is good by nature, these are the prescriptions morality is the source of evil, and these are the institutions. starting with religion and ending with property, which make them bad.

However, that is precisely what a high-ranking official clearly states. German Freemason, the Jew Bechstein, in his Masonic Manual fuck:

"Freemasonry possesses, in its symbols, other treasures than it division between those who practice the moral law in its entirety.

(1) Chain of Union, Masonic journal, year 1877, p. 84.

THE SIMPLIFICATION OF MORALITY

7

Here, we have a more pressing need to keep the Freemason secret. NERIE. Its secret lies in the simplicity of the moral law, in its Unlimited tolerance, and in the chaining of his ranks. Everything floods him wants to be happy; the enjoyment of life is a right for every man me, but this right is eroding under the pressure of current events (1). »

As we shall see in the following book (chapter V), the mind Freemasonry, at the end of the 18th century, was entirely summarized in the sect of the German Illuminati, founded by Weishaupt. This sect seized control of the lodges at that time. from across continental Europe, and its aims continue to inspire Even today, those behind the scenes still control the entire order. However, Weishaupt in his writings, which were intended for initiates only, and that a providential chance alone caused it to fall into the public eye. cited (2), thus outlined the fundamental thought of his system Theme:

“Equality and liberty are the essential rights that man, in Its original and primitive perfection was received from nature. The first at The tinge to this equality was brought by property; the first infringement Freedom was championed by political societies or governments; The only supports for property and governments are religious laws. its and civil rights. Therefore, to restore man to his primitive rights of For equality and freedom, we must begin by destroying all religions. all civil society and ultimately the abolition of property (3). »

These few lines indicate the core idea of Freemasonry and of all secret societies: it is present in embryo within the ranks. symbolic, in those given to all comers; it develops scientifically in the higher grades, and is realized brutally in the communism of the International and anar- the schism between Bakunin and socialist democracy.

(1) Quoted by Eckert, Masonic France in Itself, French translation by Gyr, 1.1, p. 246.

(2) The writings of Weishaupt and his principal followers, seized and publicly available [The documents] were deposited in the secret archives of [the Bavarian government] Munich, with orders from the Elector of Eu to communicate the originals to anyone would have some doubt about their authenticity. Barruel and Robiano reproduced them in the other in his History of the Church, which no one has ever contested truth and accuracy.

(3) Illuminated Code. General System. (V. Robiano, Continuation of the History of (The Church, vol. II, supporting documents, p. 395 and all the rest, pp. 391-457.)

8

the core idea of secret societies

But to make this demonstration, it is necessary to analyze the negatives. destructive actions that make up this synthesis of evil, and we In the following chapters, we will demonstrate Freemasonry and destructive secret societies – against all religion, – against all morality, – of the family, – of the entire order of civil societies, – and finally, property.

We will demonstrate this by analyzing the ri- the texts of the different grades and the writings that reveal to us the spirit general of secret societies.

Indeed, there are books whose authority and testimonies are of such great value, that they alone suffice to convey the conviction in the most prejudiced minds. These are the minds of the founders. Masonic sects, their supreme directors, their propagators and their main followers, those of the historians of their most authoritative works, as chosen by public opinion among their principal initiates; these are those whom the highest Masonic authority, the Grand Orient itself, approved and whose printing he has authorized in authentic judgments; These are the ones, finally, which were published by secretaries or officers. the highest ranks of this same Grand Orient could only have been achieved with his permission and under his guarantee. (See Introduction, II.)

Undoubtedly, it is there, in these writings, in these books, that reveal themselves in a more brilliant light, despite the precautions and the veils with which we still seek to envelop them, the spirit of gene- The nature of secret societies, their tendencies and their purpose.

CHAPTER TWO

DESTRUCTIVE SECRET SOCIETIES OF ALL RELIGIONS

I. – Weissaupt and the German Enlightenment

The earliest writings that appear are those of Weishaupt.
the founder of the Enlightenment.

Now, here is how Wc Shaupt speaks of the goal of Illuminism:

“He who wants to work for the happiness of humankind,” he added to the contentment and peace of men, to reduce their discontent
In fact, he must scrutinize and weaken all the principles that trouble Their rest, their contentment, and their honor. Of this kind are all systems that oppose the ennoblement and perfection of the human nature – (original sin among other things) – which, without necessity, multiply evil in the world, or represent it as greater than it is
is not; all systems that degrade merit and human dignity, which diminish confidence in one's natural abilities – (humility, sacredence, grace, prayer) – ; which denounce human reason – (faith, reverence lation, mystery) – and which thus open a free path to imposture – (to all revealed religions) –. All theosophical systems and mystics – (any religion, any philosophy that has God as its basis and (for the purpose) –, all those who have any close or distanced from these systems, all the principles that derive from the theo-Sopbie, often very much in our hearts, ends up leading the men at this term and belong to this class (1).

(!) Corrected system of Illuminism with its ranks and constitutions. Instructions instructions for followers prone to the mania of believing in and worshipping a God, by Ac
'Weishaupt. Bmue), Memoirs, t. III, p. 185.

10

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

He also wrote to Zwach, an aulic councilor, one of his pre-
First followers admitted into the sect, under the name of Cato:

“You know that the unity of God was one of the secrets revealed in the mysteries of Eleusis. Oh! for that, don't be afraid to find nothing of similar to mine.” And again: “Send me Brother Nu-Menius – (he was a follower who still believed in God) – and try to
to connect with me: I want to try to cure him.
theosophy and to return it to our object (1). »

Thus, the destruction of the Christian religion and of all religions,
The very annihilation of the idea of God, that is the goal of the Enlightenment.
nism clearly proclaimed by its founder.

However, to achieve it more successfully and to pervert
To attract a greater number of souls, it required hypocrisy, and slander and shameful frauds, and they did not shrink from them none of these means.

"To gather and put into action," wrote Cato the same place
A follower of Weishaupt, Baron Knigge, so famous in the Enlightenment me under the name of Philo, to contribute to our purpose and those who reject all divine revelation, and those among the corn-threatening individuals who believe they need it, to solidify their ideas, it was necessary to find an explanation of Christianity that would remind the superstitious to reason, and which taught our wise men, more free, not to reject the thing for abuse.

"This secret was meant to be that of Freemasonry and to lead us to our purpose. However, despotism grows daily and es-Taking liberty also means gaining ground everywhere at once. It therefore had to Here, we bring together the extremes. We therefore say again here that Jesus did not have
He did not establish a new religion, but he simply wanted to to restore natural religion to its rightful place; by giving to the world a general link, by spreading the light and wisdom of its morality,
By dispelling prejudices, his intention was to teach us to ourselves to govern ourselves and to restore, without the violent means of revolutions tions, liberty, equality among men. It was not, therefore, a question of than to quote various texts from Scripture and to give explanations True or false, it doesn't matter, as long as everyone finds a meaning they agree upon.
with reason in the doctrine of Jesus. We add that this reli
The simple gion was subsequently distorted, but it maintained itself by the discipline of secrecy and that it was transmitted to us by Freemasonry*

(1) Original writings, 1.1, lolircs 4 and 3 to Cato, ibid., p. 181-182.

Weishaupt and the Illuminism H

Spartacus – (that's Weishaupt's nom de guerre) – had gathered Plenty of data for that. I added my own to the instruction.
tion for both grades (Scottish of St Andrew and Eopote or priest);
Our people thus see that we alone possess true Christianity.
All that remains for us is to "add a few words against the clergy and the princes. However, I did it in such a way that I would like to give these degrees to popes and kings provided they had passed through our tests.

"In the final mysteries, we must first reveal to followers of this pious fraud, then to demonstrate through writings the origin
the source of all religious lies, their connection or their relationships mutuals. We end up telling the story of our order (1). »

In the second part of the instruction for the insinuating brother

where we find ourselves today on the nature of the soul, its immortality, its destiny... and that in the meeting of the Minervalists (second grade) we read and sometimes comment on passages from the Bible, sometimes passages from Confucius, Epictetus, Seneca that, by giving both groups the same authority.

"With our beginners," he wrote again to Cato, "let us be prudent." teeth on books of religion and politics. In my plan, I They are reserved for the great mysteries. As for now, let's not give... to the students than historical or reasoning books. Morality First and foremost, this must be our focus. Faucet, Mirabeaud, System of the nature, published by Diderot under the name Mirabaud, the System social issues, natural politics, the philosophy of nature, and the like – (materialistic and atheist books, as everyone knows) – are intended for more advanced grades.

"We must now carefully hide them from our students and special especially Helvétius, On Man. If, however, one found at some of these books or others like them, without praising them or "If we blame them, we'll leave them to it."

And in his Instruction for followers prone to mania to believe and worship a God, he teaches them to put aside the creation like a chimera unknown to all of antiquity, to be reduced All religions have two systems: one, that of matter co-eternal with God, part of God, emanating from God, launched outside of God and separated from God, to become the world; and the other–

(1) Original Writings, vol. II. – Letter from Philo-Kniggo to Cato. Barruel, Memoirs res, t. III, p. 150.

12 SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

being, that of matter co-eternal with God, without being God, but crafted by God for the formation of the universe. Thus, God is not more than an architect. On these assumptions, he builds a story of all religions, which makes them all equally absurd. in the same speech makes a compilation in his own way of all the schools of philosophy and its systems and, trampling on them. He gathers all the historical data and extracts it from these systems. Christianity and all religions. The result is that All religions are founded on imposture and illusion; All of them ultimately make man cowardly, lazy, and spineless. and superstitious; that all of them belittle him and disturb his honor. Such is the spirit of all ranks: everywhere the attentive man sees atheism is emerging; nature does everything; it is on nature that one account; it is its original state that we want to restore, and in the last last rank, that of mage or philosopher, which he was determined split for the recipients to keep in writing, Weishaupt, summarizing allegories, openly lays out the fundamental principles of the Spi-Nosism. Everything there is material: God and the world are but one same thing; all religions are inconsistent, chimerical.

ques and Y invention of ambitious men.

II. – Saint-Martin or French Illuminism

0

After Weishaupt, it was Saint-Martin, the theorist of the Illuminati.
me French, whose followers have had the greatest influence on the lodges throughout Europe, in the period immediately preceding The Revolution. Louis Blanc speaks of his work in this way. [The following appears to be a and of truth: "In the name of a pious spiritualism," he said, the
"An unknown philosopher spoke out against the madness of human cults."

"Through the paths of allegory, he led into the heart of the kingdom"
"mysterious than in their primitive state—(state of pure essences)
"Prils) – the man had inhabited it." – "He was not only
"revered," says Findel in his history of Freemasonry,

"like a gospel by isolated Freemasons; but in Germany"
"It was considered a mine of true Masonic science."
"and it was particularly recommended to the FF.*, initiatescheva-
"Asiatic liars. Brother Claudius translated it into German."

Saint-Martin or the Illuminism 13

Here is how Saint-Martin himself explains his system, re-
Renewal of the Manicheans and Neoplatonists:

Man is now composed of two beings, one sentient, the other intelligent. We have suggested that, from its very beginning, it was not not subject to this assembly and that, enjoying the prerogatives of being Simply put, he had everything within himself and needed nothing to sustain himself, since everything was contained within the precious gifts he received from his principle.
From its very beginning, man was therefore bound by the law to rule over the region sensitive, as it still must be today; but, as it was then endowed with incomparable strength and that he had no hindrance, all the obstacles disappeared before him. Today he no longer has, despite
The same forces were at play. When the lightning stop had been pronounced Having been accused of wrongdoing, all that remained of all the gifts he had received was shadow of freedom, that is to say, a will almost always without strength and without empire. All other power was taken from him – (even that of intelligence, (as he supposes below) –, and his reunion with a sentient being reduced to being nothing more than an assemblage of two inferior causes in similarity to those that govern all bodies.

What fruits could man produce today, if, in that his own will and if he undertook to walk without being guided by this active and intelligent cause on which he depends despite himself, and of the that he must expect everything from, as well as from corporeal beings among whom Is he so sadly confused?...

"However, this is the path that men have followed, that is to-
To say that they almost never looked beyond the senses. However, this sensitive faculty being limited and lacking the necessary power to directing itself will only ever present repeated evidence of variety, dependence, and uncertainty. Indeed, all branches of
Do the civil and political order that unites different peoples have any other
But what about matter? The very moral aspect of all their establishments Does it rise above this human and visible order? There is no even their most virtuous institutions that they have not reduced from themselves even to sensitive rules and external laws, because, in all these things, the teachers having walked alone and without a guide,
This was the only place where they had been able to set foot. The intellectual faculty Therefore, the human condition is absolutely not responsible for such events.

"Let's begin by observing the most respected and most universally widespread among all peoples, the one they look at with good reason, as it should not be the work of their hands. It is This is quite clear, given the zeal with which the whole world is occupied with this matter sacred, which all men carry within them both the image and the idea. We we observe in all nations a complete uniformity on the prw-

14 SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

fundamental principle of religion. All recognize a higher being.
that they must pray, they all pray to him.

"However, the care that all peoples take to honor
The first being presents itself to us, like all other institutions, differences and successive and arbitrary changes in the pr
tick as in theory; so that, among all religions, one
I don't know two who honor him in the same way. However, I...
The question is, could this difference occur if men had taken the same guide and that they had not lost sight of the only light a first step that could enlighten and reconcile them. It is therefore by distancing themselves from this light that man remains at the mercy of his own faculties... and However, although he no longer knows if the tribute he is offering her is genuine Rather than the one this being demands, he prefers to render one such as he conceives.
to the secret anxiety and regret of not returning any at all.

"This is partly the principle that gave rise to false religions and who disfigured the one whom the whole world should have followed; then we will be able towe were surprised to see so little uniformity in the pious practices of man and his cult, to see him produce all these contradictions,
all these opposing practices, all these conflicting rites,

With man no longer having any restraint, everything is the work of his own inhibitions. price and his blind will? Isn't that, therefore, where everything must appear indifferent to reason, since it no longer sees any connections between this cult and the being to whom the teachers and partisans want Apply it?

"We have seen that, despite all the reasoning about nature, Men were obliged to submit to his laws; we have enough made it known that laws of this nature were fixed and invariable, what that, through a sequence of two actions which are in the universe – (of the good and of the bad principle, one of the fundamental dogmas of Martinism and of most Masonic lodges (as we shall see) –, their ac- Compliment was often disturbed.

We therefore already know with certainty that it is in the nature of the body a real power superior to man, which subjects him to its laws... If man is subject to this nature, how much more will he be subject to higher principles that guide and sustain it. What will it produce? Therefore, anything he can do, imagine, say, or institute that goes against the laws of these higher principles? Far from being the slightest bit like them? altered, they only further demonstrate their strength and power. leaving the man who distances himself from it to his own doubts and to uncertainties of his imagination and by forcing him to crawl as long as he will want to ignore them.

"We can therefore no longer doubt that the reason for all these differences*

Saint-Martin or the Enlightenment

15

the teachings that nations offer us in their dogmas and in their worship This stems from the fact that they are not supported within their institutions. of this active and intelligent cause.

"Nor should I be asked currently which one is the one of all established cults, which is the true cult; the principle that I The question I just asked should serve as an answer to all questions about this object. jet (1). »

Thus, dogmas and cults, everything is false in all religions. that exist or have existed in the world, since we We have lost our primitive state of pure spirits. Hardly the world Has he retained its fundamental principle, or the idea of being there? superior. For the word of God is never found under the pen of the unknown philosopher; again, applying the same reasoning to him, error criterion, lack of uniformity, this fundamental principle Is the mind also obliged to faint? All religions, differences and varieties in the practice of worship to be rendered to the being superior, but also in theory or in the very idea that it

They give us information about this being. Everything they teach us about his existence, and its nature, are therefore, for the same reason, the work of man's whim or his blind will. And as he Nor are there, in the world, two men who resemble each other.
perfectly, and in nature and in the same species two individuals, on the same tree two leaves that do not present well Given the differences and varieties, it would follow that man, his
The body, the entire external and sensible nature, is but one illusion, the work of caprice and blind will.

What will remain standing? Nothing, zero. And this consequence, the unknown philosopher not only admits it, but undertakes
to demonstrate it through a cabalistic process:

"We can also look at the whole circle," he added,
like a corporeal being whose circumference is its shape or body, and whose center is the immaterial principle. Separating this principle from its Body shape, isn't that the same as separating the center of its circumference, and, consequently, the same as removing the unit one of the ten-zero decimals, which represents the whole world. But if we remove one unit of the tenth denier, it is quite certain that only nine will remain in number. However, we are left with the figure zero, 0, or the circular line.

(1) Errors and Truth, pp. 199, 200, 201, 205, 206, 207, 208, 210, 211, 220, 221.

16 SECATES AND BELGIUM

ary, or finally the circumference. Let us also see, according to the ratio existing between zero, which is like zero by itself, and the number nine or that of extent, if we should have so lightly blamed those who claimed that the matter was only apparent (1).

"Man has therefore gone astray," the founder of the Mar- lodges always said.
tinists, starting from four (the only norm that is four times its root or of one) to nine (which is equivalent to zero); it will not be able to find itself that by going from nine to four, a sacred, quaternary number, that we Let us call the generating principle the number that produces all beings and that serves as their measure (2).

"But how to execute this incomprehensible return from zero to generating principle, having only a shadow of freedom left, a will almost always without strength and without empire, all other power having was removed, a blind will and without the necessary power to direct itself Even? How can I go back from nine to four with a body that forms around A dark veil hangs over us, hiding from our sight the true light that is both a continuous source of our illusions and the instrument of How, in such a state, can one regain the blessed quarter?

naire, when, endowed with incomparable strength, having no hindrance, all obstacles disappearing before him, when he has everything within him and has needing men to sustain himself, man could not preserve this divine quad-tenary (3). »

To recognize the superior being, to submit to its laws? But that is The question is the return from nine to four. What What are the laws of this superior being? What is this superior being?
The laughter himself? Where is he? What are the paths that lead
Is it his? Who will lead me there? Who will make me walk there, since everything power has been taken from me, and surrounded by darkness, chained to everything
Your share in the illusions of the senses, I barely have one left Hour of freedom? Let's listen:

"Such, as we know, is the unfortunate state of modern man that he cannot, not only reach the end, but even make a single not in this way, without any other hand than his own opening it for him the entry, and support him throughout his entire career! We also know that this powerful hand is this same physical cause at the same time intelligent and active, whose eye sees everything and whose power supports everything in time. But if his rights are exclusive, how can man,

(1) Errors and Truth, p. 460.

(2) Ibidem, p. 38, 414, 416.

0'-'l Ibidem, p. 200.

Saint-Martin or the Illuminism 17

in his weakness and in the most absolute deprivation, could he in
Can nature do without such support on its own?

"He must therefore acknowledge here once again the existence of this cause and the indispensable need he has for his help to reinstate his rights. He will also be forced to admit that, if she can fully satisfy her desires on her own, despite the difficulties which worry him, his first and most useful duty is to abjure his fragile will, as well as the false glimmers with which he seeks to to color the abuses, and to rely only on this powerful cause which, today, is the only guide he needs.

"Why can I not lay down here the veil with which I cover myself and pro-
to name this benevolent cause, strength and excellence
even on which I would like to be able to fix the eyes of the entire universe Towards! But although this ineffable being, the key to nature, love and the joy of the simple, the torch of the wise, and even the secret support des^blins, never ceases to support man in all his steps, as whoever would make him best known would suffice, if I were to utter it, for that the majority disdained to believe in its virtues and distrusted of my entire doctrine. To designate it more clearly would be to avert the goal I would have of having him honored. (1)."

He would become known later and throughout the entire Masonic movement. But, in the meantime, here is the man, well ahead. Religion... She reduces it to zero; she leaves him only a shadow of freedom; We shroud it in inextricable darkness, and we want, for the sake of saving it to or to return from nine to four, that he recognize a cause which is the key to nature without which nothing can be done to know, nor take a single step in the comeback career! And this Because, we don't even want to tell him the name, and it would be enough to Tell him so he won't believe it!

Is that enough contradiction and absurdity? No, let's listen Again :

"Whatever man's discoveries may have been, after having recognized naked a superior cause in nature, after having recognized that it was superior to his thinking; he couldn't help but admit that he There must have been laws by which she acted upon the one who... was submissive, and that, if the beings who were to expect everything from her did not If they did not fulfill these laws, they could not hope for any enlightenment. No life, no support.

(i), "Error" and beyond Truth, p. 635.

18 SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

Thus man would know the superior being, would know its name that we cannot and do not want to tell him, even if he fully understands the necessity necessity or the impossibility without him of knowing the path that leads there To do so and to take a step there, he would still need to know its laws and that he submit to it in order to be able to hope even for something from him mother and some support.

"But, you will tell me," continues the founder of Illuminism, "when men would eventually come to agree on the necessity from this cause to direct all the conduct of men (when (they would know and follow the laws), what means would they have to know when she presides over it or not? because their dogmas and their establishments of this kind lacking any uniformity, it They absolutely need a law other than that of opinion to ensure their safety. to make sure they are on the right path*

"If, however, this intelligent cause could never be conc if he were not physically naked by man, he could never be sure of having

this cause which must operate and manifest everything: therefore, man must
I can have the certainty we are talking about and that it is not the man who gives it to him; this cause itself must clearly offer
the testimonies (sensitivity) are to the intelligence and eyes of man.
(therefore) of his approval; finally, if man can to be deceived by men, that he has means of not being deceived himself and that he has readily available resources from which he can reach to provide obvious assistance (1). »

Thus, fallen man, in his earthly state, is powerless.
radical attempt to rehabilitate oneself, to even know whatever this either with certainty, religion, worship, morality, government, laws, that through support, insights, and absolute direction of the cause Intelligent superiority that governs all in nature; and it does not can obtain nothing from her, neither light nor support, except by submitting to the laws by which it acts itself on what is subject to it put. And this support, these lights, this absolute direction, these laws and submission to these laws, that is he, he alone, subject to all the errors and illusions of the senses, zero at the bottom, which must be undone to cover within it, and, through sensory evidence, to discern what this A superior cause reveals itself as the truth! But this evidence density, it is to each man in particular that it must be given (H0?* Krm.ur$ and do 1o tVrif^p, 222 and

Saint-Martin or the Enlightenment

19

born, since man can be deceived by men, and in
In this case, it would only be a new variety and difference added.
attached to all the others, and which proves it, according to the principle ab-
The solution of the unknown philosopher, error and falsehood by that very fact.
Zero again and always zero; and, until everyone receive the same evidence at the same time, and which, as sensible, does not would still be zero, the lodges of German and French Illuminism caes, although differing essentially and in their starting point and in their aim, will however unanimously agree to de-
To declare all religions false, all priests imposters without exception, and to work effectively towards the destruction of both sides. And to that end, the Martinist lodges* come They were about to throw their heavy burdens into the street under the name of spiritualis baggage of contradictions and absurdities, reviewed again and augmented commented on by superior minds, to open eyes and bring to lead from nine to four the foolish masses who seek truth rarity in necromancy, somnambulism and table turning sound and its continuous progress!

III. – HOW THE SPIRIT OF THE ILLUMINISM STILL ANIMATES

Freemasonry

Brother Malapert, orator of the supreme council of the Scottish Rite, recently pointed out in these terms the influence that the Enlightenment had exerted influence on Freemasonry:

"For the practice of life we have sought a formula capable to meet all the desired conditions. The one that best meets to the operations of the masons can be read today on the frontispiece of our plates; it is relatively new, as it dates from around the middle of the century lastly, it was specified by one of our brothers named Saint-Martin. The power of truth is so great that the motto revealed by Saint-Martin dazzles everyone. The three words liberty, equality, fraternity, arranged in this order, they indicate what a well-reformed society should be. glea. All the workshops accepted them and the great men of the Revolutions made it the motto of the French Republic (1).

(1) Quoted by the Chain of Union, Masonic journal, 1874, p. 85.

20

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

From a dogmatic point of view, the sacrilegious thought that makes everything the core of Saint-Martin's system, namely that man can To identify with the divine was, until recently, thus expressed by a high-ranking Dutch Freemason, in this apostrophe which is like an echo of the ancient serpent's words to our ancestors First parents: You will be like gods:

"The spirit that animates us is an eternal spirit. It knows neither divine neither of time nor of individual existence. A sacred unity reigns and governs in the vast firmament. There is only one mission, only one Morally, that there is only one God, yes, only one God, and that is why we are God. Man is of the race of God. The spirit of man is the spirit of God, and The spirit is indivisible. We, men, form a whole with the Great-To be. Everything leads to this revelation: We are God!... He who is feeling God lived in a life that did not touch death. (1)

No doubt, so as not to frighten timid minds and men
My honest men who go astray in the lodges, we do not employ to the prejudices of the majority; but on every occasion the others Masonic authorities have never failed to make the prevailing principle of the absolute elimination of all positive religion.

F.-. Conrad wrote it clearly in the Bauhütte, journal
Leipzig Masonic lodge:

"Our adversary is the Roman Catholic, papal, infallible Church,
with its compact and universal organization. That is our enemy.
Hereditary and relentless. If we want to be true and honest Freemasons, if we wish to advance our society, we must
to say out loud with Strauss: We are Freemasons and nothing else.
Freemason amateurs offer no advantage to humanity.
These are not values for our society. Christians or Freemasons:
Make your choice!

This is how Freemasonry understands the article in its statutes in which "she does not concern herself with the various widespread religions"
"in the world, nor in the constitutions of states; in the sphere
"Elevated to where she stands, she respects religious faith and the
"The political sympathies of each of its members."

Here, among other things, is the official testimony of Count Fernig,

(1) Published in the official collection of Dutch Freemasonry entitled:
Janrbackje voor Nederlandsche Vrijmetselaren 5872 (1872).

the spirit of the Enlightenment

21

Lieutenant Grand Commander of the Supreme Council of VECOS – earthquake under the Grand Commander Duke Decazes. He was writing to a Prussian brother, who still clung to coats and did not want of Jews in the lodges i

"As a member of the High Council, Vice-President and
As a former bricklayer, I believe it is my duty to inform you that Throughout France, the aspirant is asked not what his faith is, but What is his life like? The French mason of the old rite believes that leaving
To maintain the difference between castes is to ignore the causes that have Masonry produces. Our stake has no particular name; it is the grand architect of the universe, the eternal craftsman of precise work,
who loves and patronizes all free and good men.

"To maintain the religious prejudices of the Middle Ages is to deny the law of the
To make progress is to assert that Freemasonry dates only from the Christian era.

aunt of Solomon's temple, the very name of our heavenly master in Don't the lodges, and many other practices, prove that we Did they exist before the establishment of Christianity?

"Freemasonry is a religion in the sense that it unites men between them, that she dedicates herself to universal fraternity and that she strives to restore the primitive union of humanity.

"These, T.-G.. F.., are the principles we have in common, principles that the High Council of France has always defended, and of which I must give you testimony in the interest of justice and do
the truth.

"Count of Fernio,

"Deputy Grand Commander of the Ancient Rite."

Also, in Cairo, at the opening of the Nile lodge by the members members of the Pyramids lodge, delegates from the Grand Orient of France, Brother Julien, Venerable, reported this in these terms same union, says the Official Bulletin: "The goal that we for Let us continue to follow this eternal goal: to reunite all that has was divided by ignorance, fanaticism and prejudice into one single bundle... » – « without distinction of origin, race or of "colour," added the speaker Louis-Martin (1).

A few days ago, on January 26, 1879, one of the leaders of the Belgian Freemasonry, F.-. Goblet d'Aviella, said to the Lodge of the Philanthropic Friends of Brussels:

(t) Bulletin of the Grand Orient of France, 24th year, 3rd series, 5868, p. 430.

22

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

"Freemasonry shows that it is not merely a philosophy,
the philosophy of progress, but also a religion, the religion of the ideal.
Can we dispute the usefulness of a vast association like Freemasonry?

0

rie, which, in the face of theocracies collapsing on all sides, is
it seems to be about dedicating temples, as we do today, to the cult that will outlive all cults, because it rests on a concept progressive tion of nature? » (1).

The same language echoed through the boxes from one end to the other. of the world:

"Freemasonry," says one of its organs in Brazil, "is a great temple, like the one in Rome of old, which gives hospitality to all the gods, since they all together make up only one God (2).

We are therefore already permitted to conclude, with Mr. Le Cou-teulx de Canteleu, that generally the true purpose of all the Secret societies have always been, are, and always will be a struggle against the Christian Church and religion (3). The principle com- This is common to all lodges; it is the denial of Jesus Christ, the negation of all revealed religion, the very negation of all A personal god, and the destruction of all worship. But these are not there, so to speak, is the frontispiece of the Masonic temple and the main inscriptions; we must go inside, by walking through the vestibules and the various floors, and making sure that, from the foundations to the summit, everything corresponds to it, with a horrible fidelity to promises from the outside.

(1) Quoted by the Courrier de Bruxelles, (read on March 7, 1879.

(2) The Pelican, organ of Freemasonry, in Para, cited by Bishop Antoine de Mace-do Costa, Bishop of Grand Para, Instruction on Freemasonry, considered at point from a moral, religious and social point of view, 187 i.

(3) Sects or Secret Societies, P.-J.-II. Count Le Coulloux do Canteleu, pre-face, p. 10.

FUNDAMENTAL GRADES OF ALL RJTES

23

IV. *- FUNDAMENTAL GRADES COMMON TO ALL RITES APPRENTICE, JOURNEYMAN AND MASTER

These three grades, apprentice, journeyman and master, which are called Also symbolic or blue masonry, form, according to all the most authoritative Masonic writers, the very foundation of the Freemasonry and all its branches, whatever the names given to them. All rites, in all countries, are built on this basis: the high or capital grades, called equal Red or philosophical Freemasonry, added more or less recently to better develop the spirit of Freemasonry, or to give it its own direction in each country, they drew inspiration from from each other and often even copied. It is therefore sufficient to study of a type unlike all the others.

In our research through the Masonic temple, for to better guide us in the interpretation of its rites and in the ex-
To understand their mysterious symbolism, we will have recourse to the authorized work of Fr... Bazot, Secretary General of the Grand-
The Orient: A historical, philosophical, and moral overview of the Freemasonry. As the author himself says in the title of
He had been a bricklayer for 31 years when he wrote his book;
had also, before being appointed secretary of the Grand Orient, put a manual, where Masonic rituals are reproduced, and a Tiler, where the words, signs and attributes are reported changes of all ranks.

We will also consult the Picturesque History of France-
Freemasonry of Brother Clavel, officer of the Grand Orient, and editor from the Order's Almanac.

Finally, we will follow the Interpretive Course step by step, or the explication of the symbols and the most hidden mysteries of the Freemasonry of Brother Ragon, former head of office at the mi-Minister of the Interior, founder of the famous Trinosophists lodge in 1823. The latter acquired in the Masonic order an in-questionable authority; he had seen the brothers gather around him

24 SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

Berville, the Dupin elder, Dupin younger, Barthe, Mérilhou, Dupont from Eure, Odilon Barrot, and other notable figures of the time; the im-pressure from his interpretive course solemnly authorized the June 24, 1840, by virtue of a previous resolution of the Grand-Orient. We are therefore sure to find nothing there that is not fully in accordance with the principles governing the entire association, nothing that tends towards the philosophical goal it sets for itself.

"Our religion," said Brother Bazot, "is the natural religion, pri-
The mythical, the one, universal, and immutable religion: that is the Freemasonry." And the secretary of the Grand Orient gives it the historical summary immediately.

He first tells us about primitive worship, the God-cause, and the immortality of the soul, discovered by men after they had satisfied their basic needs through their industry, Brahmins and priests of Egypt, sons of the first inventors of a natural religion, rediscovered by Solomon, founded dater of the temple and restorer of the Masonic order.

"Freemasonry," he said, "is nothing other than primitive worship" the thing that men discovered when they had satisfied their first mysteries to Solomon.

"Jerusalem, a victim of the revolutions, having been destroyed, the Jewish people Having dispersed, this same Freemasonry spread with him throughout the earth. These were the mysteries of Solomonic Freemasonry, which more Properly, it is called Freemasonry or Freemasonry.

As pure as at its dawn, primitive religion reveals itself among us in Freemasonry, unique, universal and immutable.

"Despite passions, vices, and crimes, one cannot dispel to prove that men are not wicked, and that far from doing evil For the pleasure of doing wrong, they seek to do good when their... Mières will indicate.

"What strengthens the goodness of man is religion, and as No religion commands evil; every religion is respectable.

"But religions, equal in their principles, differ so much in their dogmas, that instead of bringing men closer together, they drive them apart they are harming each other by proscribing themselves.

"God is provident; he sensed that religions, daughters of men, of passions would arise that would destroy their creators. He therefore put in the heart of every reasonable man a natural religion, this

FUNDAMENTAL GRADES OF ALL RITES 25
religion which we all recognize as Freemasonry." (1)

This first excerpt is already enough to convince us that the goal The obvious characteristic of Freemasonry is indeed the negation and destruction tion, in the souls, of every revealed religion. All religions for her they are merely human inventions and works men, daughters of men. God himself, as The cause of what exists is merely a discovery of early humans. my, when, after having provided for their basic needs, they had allowing time to observe and reflect. As for the immortality of the soul, to its punishment, to its reward in another life, this are merely additions or inventions of the Egyptian priests or Brahmins from India.

Let's now open Brother Ragon's Course:

"Freemasonry," he said first in his introduction, "is not a religion.

"He who makes it a religious belief falsely and distorts it."
The Brahmin, the Jew, the Muslim, the Christian, the Protestant, who have their religion, sanctioned by laws, times, and climates, must to preserve it, and they cannot have two religions, because these social laws

Such and such countries are the work of men.

"Freemasonry, whose inspirations have a profound reach, is the summary of divine and human wisdom, that is to say of all the per-conditions that can bring man closest to divinity. It is the universal morality that is suitable for the inhabitant of all climates, to The man of all faiths. Like them, she does not accept the law. She gives it, because her morality, one and immutable, is more extensive and more universal than that of native religions, which are always exclusive, because they categorize individuals as pagans or idolaters, schismatics ques, sectarian infidels, while Freemasonry sees in all these religious men, their brothers, to whom she opens her temple to free them from the prejudices of their country or the errors of the religion of their fathers, leading them to love and help one another both sides; for the mason pities and flees from error, but he does not hate it. nor persecute her. (2)

(1) Freemason's Manual, by E. F. Bazot, member of the Academic Society than the sciences of Paris, the Grammatical Society and several other societies scholarly and literary works, second edition, revised, corrected, considerably enlarged tée. Paris, Jourdan fils, 1812. Reflections on the origin, lineage and importance of Freemasonry, p. 23 et seq.

(2) Philosophical and interpretative courses Introduction, pp. 37, 38.

26

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

Thus, while outwardly allowing each person to practice their religion, the The first operation and the goal of Freemasonry is to destroy the faith in the minds of the followers, by showing them all religions like the work of men, like errors and prejudices these things only serve to divide them, to incite them to persecute each other between them. It is to free them from this that Freemasonry is instituted; this is what the Grand Orient means by emirate goal morally and philosophically.

To come to an agreement with Bazot, who practices Freemasonry the primitive and universal religion, Ragon takes care to do more far from this distinction: "The first man who, at the sight of the gold The founder of this universe concluded that there was a God, who was the benefactor. of the world; but the one who made him speak was an imposter." (1) This is why Freemasonry is not a religion; It is not based on any revelation whatsoever; it is the only nature.

said in the same vein:

"There is nothing more undeniably true than nature, than the existence. The Masonic order derives from the ancient mysteries which, at their in turn, only originated and had as their sacramental basis this of the same nature. It is therefore undeniable that this royal art, this A symbolic and mysterious temple, the Masonic order, finally, is the emblem of nature, of pre-existing truth. This order is therefore the natural law "Turelary, the one and only true religion." (2)

The preceding quotations were necessary for us to give Let us gain an overall understanding of the Masonic temple. Let us enter now in its interior as Ragon and Clavel:

"The Freemasons' temple symbolizes the universe. Its vault is azure," starry like the heavens; a Masonic temple must be oriented;
One enters it from the West; the light is found in the East; in the South are
The masters were placed; the apprentice occupied the North, that is to say, the part less enlightened. The word Orient, used to designate the place of the venerated rable and dignitary brothers of the order, announces the place from which the lu-

(t) Philosophical and interpretative course, Rose-Croix degree, p. 313.

(2) The Freemason Orator, or a selection of speeches delivered on the occasion of the so-Lennities of Freemasonry, relating to dogma, the history of the order, and morality taught in his workshops, collected by the author of the Masonic Manual, Orient of Paris, Caillot brothers, 1823, p. 331.

FUNDAMENTAL GRADES OF ALL RITES «7

physical inferiority that enlightens us, towards which man turns always the eyes as if towards the source of its existence. This proves also that the first cults were solar and aimed at rendering homage to the divinity in its visible organ. As for us, the name of O*
The laughter given to this part of our lodges reminds us that the mysteries Wisdom came from the eastern peoples, from whom flow through the made all our acquaintances.

"Upon leaving India and Egypt, the mysteries took on the hue
the customs of the nations into which they had been introduced. In Greece
These were the mysteries of the goddess Delahonne; in Gaul, they were the school of Mars; in Sicily, they formed the academy of sciences; at The Hebrews, they became the reformers of a religion that was... an arrival burdened with rites, ceremonies and beliefs that disfigure it would. The pagodas of India, the pyramids of Egypt, the retreats of the Magi of Chaldea were no longer the sources from which one would draw the wisdom; every somewhat educated people had its own mysteries.

contributed to spreading the light and whose disciples deserve all the
The confidence of the Freemasons stems from the sublimity of their principles and morality of their feelings, have lost their high reputation; France Nonsense replaces them. All the Pythagorean philosophers believed in the eternity of nature and the transmutability of the elements within each other others, and, according to Indian doctrines, the soul, in separating itself from the body, returns to the universal soul that animates everything. And that is why the emblems my ministers of the first order in the ancient mysteries were the same as those of the leaders of Freemasonry.

"Thus the hierophant donned the ornaments of the supreme divinity," as later we will see the high priest of Jehovah represented in our lodges by the venerable master whose emblem is the blazing star. The
The flamboyant canvas was once the image of the son of the sun, author of the seasons and symbol of movement, of this Orus, son of Isis, this raw material, inexhaustible source of life, this spark of uncreated fire, universal seed of all beings.

"The sun and the moon, symbols of Dadouque and Epibôme, have were devoted to the first and second wardens; that is why these Leaders are called lights. Such is the Masonic temple and its principles.
pale decorations. The word "loge" given to it comes from "loga," which, in The sacred language of the Ganges means world. The cave of Mithras, where the
The mages had their mysteries, and the cave of Athis also signified the world. Persia, which is regarded as the cradle of initiation scientific, gives to what we call a lodge the name of Jehan who has the same meaning. Hence, no doubt, the name of the Lodge of St. John, a kind of a pleonasm accepted by the Templars who are Johannists, that is to say

28 SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

disciples of Saint John, in opposition to the Roman papists who are disci-Saint-Pierre Island:

"The lodge is also called a workshop, school, temple, or sanctuary; in Indeed, a lodge is a workshop of initiation, a school of teaching, a temple or sanctuary where one must develop, explain and make tangible bles to the followers* through reasoning, symbols, allegories or hieroglyphs, which serve as a veil for philosophy and religions old.

"The sun and the moon, whose image decorates our temples, signify morally, our institutions must be based on the laws of the nature. It is the knowledge of these immutable laws that elevates the mason.
at the highest level of the social ladder; any religion, any association
A policy that deviates from these laws is formless, unnatural, and has no of duration.

Two columns appear to support the entire structure; Brother Cla-

depicted are the two generative phalluses, one of light, of the life and goodness; the other of darkness, death, and evil which en
"They maintain the balance of the world."

"The dogma of the two principles," Master Ragon continued, "taught under the allegory of light and darkness, indeed forms the basis of Freemasonry, like all ancient mysteries. The stories of Atlas, of Mithras, the struggle of Hormuzd and Ahriman, of Osiris and Typhon, those of Christ and Satan are likewise only the personal struggle petual of light and darkness, of the annual revolution of the sun. Typhon means serpent, it also means a tree that produces Apples, the Jewish origin of the fall of man. Typhon means still which supplants, and signifies the human passions which drive out our hearts the lessons of wisdom. In moral terms, it signifies pride, ambition tion, superstition, hypocrisy, lies, ignorance, prejudices, darkness of Vdme. » (1)

This is the first courtyard of the temple, the lodge of the apprentices. This is the place where novices are brought before their initiation. It is a room wallpapered in black where emblems are drawn my funeral. On the mirrors are inscriptions capable of To make you think: If you are capable of dissimulation, it seems, we will penetrate you; – If you value human distinctions, get out, We know nothing here; – We can demand the most from you Are you resigned to making great sacrifices?

(I) Ragon, Cours philosoph., p. 88, 101, 121, 131, 174. – Clavel, Hist. pittorm and the Introduction, pp. 75, 143, 146, 149. – Course, etc.

fundamental grades of all rites $0

"This room," the picturesque historian of France tells us, Freemasonry is what is called the chamber of reflection; the can Didat must write his will and answer three questions in writing. tions, the first of which is: What are the duties of man towards God?" (1).

"It's a way of testing the candidates," said Master Ragon. present; but this first question does not seem logically possible. the term; the terms seem clear, but when one wants to understand When counting precisely, the difficulty becomes apparent. Do we want to define the Three words? If one tries to find this definition on one's own, it is likely that one It doesn't meet anyone's expectations. Man's duty towards God will vary from individual to individual, and according to one's idea of the great The being to whom this worship is offered. Let us admire here the high wisdom and the pr0 the knowledge of those who conceived the plan of Freemasonry. They know- They know all the varieties of opinions and doctrines that it is useless to list. number here; they called themselves masons and said they were building a temple to truth and virtue; they named that by which all things exist:

"GREAT ARCHITECT OF THE UNIVERSE" (2).

It's a well-coordinated effort, as you can see; all the assignments towards God, reduced to the idea one forms of Him, become arbitrary, like the idea itself; every revelation, every Religion is nothing but a lie, and God himself but a word, im old little word, as F.*. Renan said, which everyone interprets at his own discretion. That's to wipe the slate clean of human conscience.

The time has come to receive the layman, the historian continues. picturesque, the terrible brother goes to him in the study of reflections, takes the will and the answers at the point of his sword prepared and brings them to the venerable man who informs the lodge. If it contains no proposition contrary to the principles of Freemasonry, the terrible brother returns to the candidate, him blindfold him, remove any metal objects he may have on him; He then uncovers her breast, left arm, and right knee, and makes her put on a slipper with his left foot, and put a rope around his neck. holding the end of it, he then, in this state, brings it to the temple door. where he makes it strike him three times violently, and, upon the request made From within, who is the audacious one who attempts to force the entrance to the temple? The terrible brother replies: "The man who just struck is a

(1) Glavel, Picturesque History, p. 3.

(2) Ragon, Cours philos p. 98 et seq.

30 SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

"A layman who desires to see the light and who comes to humbly seek it."
"ment of our respectable lodge" (1).

"He is then brought into the lodge, takes a first oath of not revealing nothing of what happens there, and, after three trials reminiscent of those of the ancient mysteries, which are called those of earth, fire, and air The blindfold is torn off him, the light is given to him, and he contemplates the logo, everything in it, and the brothers armed with swords turned against him; then he is given the password and order of rank" (2).

Such is the Masonic temple, such are its symbols and meaning to which the venerable man and the speaker will initiate in a few moments the apprentice.

"The apprentice, neither naked nor clothed, as our rituals speak—our customs" no longer able to bear complete nakedness, — her eyes covered with with a thick headband, a rope around his neck, and thus brought to the temple to receive to see the light, figure in this state Y man of nature; the té-
The dark areas of his body represent those of his soul; the rope that binds him, the freedom. Once initiated, he immediately receives a garment we call a decoration. the garment indicated by innate modesty, an apron of animal skin which It also represents the laborious life; he is given a trowel to hide the faults of his brothers; the rough stone that is himself and on which he must work to free himself from his prejudices, vices, and errors; the compass whose fixed arm indicates the central point from which everything originates, and the other, by its spacing, the countless circles of Freemasonry; he sees, hanging from the cord of the venerable or the overseer, the square which This means that everything must be done in the spirit and purpose of Freemasonry: the level, symbol of equality, basis of natural law; the perpendicularity clear, which means that the mason must go to the goal of the order without letting himself He is not distracted by any affection of self-interest or family. He is given The watchword for the French rite is Jakin, which means initiation, science of things or nature, and for the password, Tubalcatn which means mixed, possession of the land; and, when he receives the light, he sees a a people of brothers armed for its defense should it ever be attacked, and also to punish him if he transgressed the laws he had just accepted.

"The swords that gleam in the recipient's eyes, the fasces" weapons, war trophies that unite with the emblems of the arts liberals, this entire quasi-military apparatus allegorically expresses the moral war that Freemasonry continually wages against vice and ignorance rancid, to superstition" (3).

(1) Clavel, Picturesque History, p. 12.

(2) Course, olc., p. 95 et seq.

(3) Bazol, Manuel, p. 162. – Guillemin de St-Vlctor, Recueil précieuse de la

FUNDAMENTAL ORADES DISCOVER ALL THE RITES 31

It's a perfectly clear sequence of events. All the Native religions are nothing but errors, prejudices, superstitions, ignorance, inventions of pride, ambition, and hypocrisy crisis, to chain men and make them masters. This is what must first be eliminated from the mind and from the The hearts of the candidates, and, through them, of their families and the society. No sooner had this excavation begun than, immediately and through a twofold action, we begin to lay the first foundation of the new temple, nature, and a dual principle, light and darkness, life and death, which maintains the balance of the world and which is the true science of things, wisdom, or true philosophy philosophy, at the heart of which the sacred fire is already beginning to dawn, the Uncreated fire, of which the sun is the most radiant manifestation, like the inexhaustible source of life, the universal seed of all beings, the great architect of the universe.

This dual task of clearing and building does not leave

So many prejudices still exist despite all the progress brought about by the gold dre; but the work continues to advance in depth, breadth and at a height; that which the apprenticeship began, the companion Swimming soon confirms and develops this.

The apprentice, by becoming a journeyman, passes from the perpendicular laire at the level, that is to say of the Jakin column which means initiation, the science of nature, to the Boaz column which signifies strength, work, wisdom, philosophy (1); or again, says Clavel, of the colonne of darkness, of the evil principle, of passive nature, to the column of light, of good principle, of active nature (2).

Stripped during his apprenticeship of prejudices and false maxims Drawn from among the uninitiated, the initiate, having become a companion, will work actively building within himself, under the master's orders, the temple calf of nature, and to see the name succeed the number three of the apprentice five or progress. Also, among the questions asked of the companion, all the manuals, including that of the secretary of the Grand Orient, Adonhiramite Freemasonry, p. 24, Philadelphia. – Practical Manual of the Freemason, Paris, Berliandier, 1845, p. 18. – Ragon, Cours, etc., p. 89, 90, 94, 107, 108, 116.

(1) Ragon, Cours philos • (grade of apprentice, grade of journeyman^ p. 113 and passim.

Uist. picturesque, p, 74 and 75,

32

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

do they give, as one of the first and most important, the questions and the following answers:

"Q. Why did you become a journeyman?"

"R. To find the letter G."

"D. What does this letter mean? What have you been told about it?"

"R. 1° That it meant geometry, a science whose basis is the application of the property of numbers to the dimensions of bodies, and participation particularly to the triangle to which all generally refer figures; 2° that it was the initial of one of the names of the great architect of the universe and the symbol of divine fire that allows us to distinguish, to know,

"Q. Where were you received as a journeyman?"

"R. In a just and perfect lodge."

"D. What shape did it have?"

"R. A long square."

"D. What was its length?"

"R. From East to West."

a D. And the width?

"R. From the South to the North."

"D. And the height?"

"R. Incalculable; countless feet, fathoms, and cubits."

"D. What was she covered in?"

a R. Of a canopy of azure strewn with stars.

"D. Who supported her?"

"R. Three large triangular pillars: wisdom, strength, beauty; wisdom, to invent; strength, to execute; beauty, to adorn.

"D. What was its depth?"

"R. From the surface of the earth to the center." (1)

The emblem is still easy to understand here. The lodge in the What entered the companion is nature, the material world of incalculable dimensions, of nameless fathoms and cubits br, infinite therefore. And he entered there to know the letter G, that is to say geometry and God himself, the God of Freemasonry, because he had to first renounce the God of Christianity, to the God of spirit, eternal, infinite in all perfection
tions, creator, preserver, remunerator, avenger, whom adores the universe.

But what is the connection between geometry, a purely material science, and...

(1) Fîazot, Manual of Freemasonry, pp. 184 and 188. – Practical Manual of the Freemason, 1845, pp. 102 and 104. –Precious Collection of Freemasonry Adon-hirumile, Louis Guillemaiu de St-Vietor, p. 61, 66, 67.

deals only with lines, surfaces and solids, angles, and triangles and squares, does she have and can she have with wisdom and the power, still materialized in the two columns?

"That's Plato's thought," replies the founder of Trinosophy:

He constantly geometrizes God as we do, we lessons, to edify and build under the name of the great architect, and the Gnostics,

Our clairvoyant ancestors claimed that the entire edifice of their science rested on a square whose corners had: sighé, silence; bathos, depth; we, intelligence; and aletheia, truth.

"Also, you see, in the midst of the blazing star, the image of the son of sun, author of the seasons, and symbol of movement, of this Orus, son of Isis, universal seed of all beings, appear the letter G, fifth consonant of the alphabet and initial of the fifth science, geometry.

It is from her, or from mathematics, that we borrow the brilliance of this luminous truth that must permeate all operations of the es

taken.

"This scholar, who by his form seems, it is said, to be the emblem of u

union of matter with spirit, this letter was, by the masons

dernes, substituted for the Hebrew Yod, the initial of Jehovah, which will be used

The Hebrews were known by abbreviation. This monogram expresses the

The uncreated being, the principle of all things, is the natural hieroglyph of the other

The unity of God. Kabbalists use it to signify the principle from which everything else comes. The trigram Iod is still recognizable among the northern peoples, in the names they gave to God; the Syrian said Gad, Swedish Gud, German Got, English God. He comes from Persian word Goda, derived from the absolute pronoun meaning itself.

"The Gnostics, connoisseurs or clairvoyants, possessors of the

gnosis, true science, or gnosis also have the same letter for initiale. It has been noted that the G is also the initial of Guiannés or Gan-born, god of numbers and patron of schools and learned societies

among the Brahmins. Gannés carried keys because of knowledge

Numbers are the key to many mysteries.

"Thus the number five is specifically used in the grade of companion and in all rites; knowledge of the letter G, which is the goal of the grade, is the fifth consonant; geometry, which is part of it especially the middle ground, is the fifth science; the companion, as com

Pagnon, is five years old; the battery of rank and touch is equal

five strokes, so that this number five is considered as mysterious, because it is composed of binary, the symbol of what is false and double, and of the ternary, so interesting in its results. It therefore expresses energetically the state of perfection and imperfection, of order and disorder of happiness and misfortune, of life and death, which can be seen on the earth. He offered the mysterious societies the frightening image of bad principle, sowing discord in the lower order, and in short the binary acting within the ternary. This number five designated the universal quintessence and symbolized by its form the vital essence, the spirit Animator who meanders through all of nature. This ingenious figure is the the joining of two Greek accents placed on the vowels that must be or not aspirated. The first sign is called the strong spirit; it meant The superior spirit, the spirit of God, aspirated, spiratus, breathed in by man me. The second sign is called gentle spirit; it represented the spirit Second, the purely human mind.

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

"The ancients represented the world by the number five. Diodorus This is explained by the fact that this number represents the earth, water, air, the fire and ether or spiritus. Hence the origin of pente, which in Greek means five and pan which means all (1). »

Amidst this pomp of false erudition, the intention and the goal cannot appear doubtful to anyone. The God of the Freemason nerie, it's the All God, the God Pan, the two good principles and unified evils, and thus becoming the universal quintessence, the two spirits, superior and inferior, breathed in or inhaled one another by the other and identifying itself with the earth, water, air, fire and the stirrup, which they incessantly geometrize in their perpetual and continuous activity.

That's what Ragon clearly states:

"The letter G is not only the initial of one of the names of the great architect of the universe, but the symbol of the divine fire that makes us dis- To distinguish, to know, to love, to practice truth, wisdom, and justice. nature, symbolized by the sacred fire, indicates to the companion, to the neo-phyte, the kind of study to which he must now apply his mind; Fire animates all that breathes, in the air, on the earth, and under the waters... The sun, whose image is enshrined in our temples, is the innate fire of bodies. The fire of nature, the source of light, heat, and ignition. It is the effective cause of all generation; without it there is no movement, no of existence; it gives form to matter, it is immense, indivisible, im-perishable and present everywhere (2).

Elsewhere, regarding the Rose-Croix degree, he returns to the cult fire as a principle of Freemasonry, and thus paraphrases two famous verses:

(2) Ragon, Course, etc. (grade of journeyman), p. 127,

Fundamental grades of all rites

"It is this hidden, but ever-active fire that produces everything, that maintains everything, cuncta parti, cunctague alit. It is the fire, the soul of the nature, whose forms it perpetually renews, which divides the elements of bodies, or which reunites their scattered molecules: cuncta renovât, contaque dividit. It is this element, finally, which, after having been the principle of the life of all beings, becomes, as a result of its activity, the cause of all active days of their destruction and their aggregation into other mixtures tes, cuncta, unit (1).

These mysteries, the interpreter from the Grand Orient continues, are not than apparent; the need to link our dogmas to those of antiquity and to veil them under the names and figures that she herself employed there—Indeed, they are the sole cause; they all represent only one and the same thing, nature, and the master's degree, which is the last and the supreme initiation of Trinosophy or Symbolic Freemasonry, will dispel all this darkness.

"Those who, with a stupid gaze, saw without understanding these These images, these symbols, these sublime allegories, were indeed languishing, in ignorance, like many masons nowadays, but their ignorance France was voluntary; from the moment they wanted to leave, all the sanctuaries were opened to them, and, if they possessed constancy and virtue, they were by necessities, nothing prevented them from progressing from acquaintance to acquaintance, From revelation to revelation, culminating in the most sublime discoveries. They could would, living and human, and according to the strength of their will, descend to ascend to the realm of the dead and penetrate all of nature elementary; for the third initiation to the master's degree was the consequence the deepening birth of religions, and the religions then embraced all these things.

"The veil that until then had hidden the magnificent statue of Isis was set aside, and the goddess appeared to the initiate's sight, not as she appeared to the eye vulgar, surrounded by inexplicable emblems and hieroglyphs, but naked, that is to say that by receiving initiation, the adept participated in the in-

(1) Coure, etc., p. 302. Here is the text of these two verses thus dissected by master Ragon, and their origin, which he carefully avoided mentioning:

Ignis ubique latet, naluram amplectitur omnem,

Cuncta parti, renovait, dividit, unite, alit.

In a letter to d'Alembert, dated July 1, 1766, Voltaire, after having thus quoted them

I believe I am right, and that the fire is precisely as I describe it. Your Academy "They won't approve of my idea, but I don't really care." If the Academy of Science condemns them, yet they are all the more worthy of Freemasonry and of the author of the tragedy of the Guebres or fire worshippers, authentic ancestors of Freemasons and their luminous Orients.

36

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

secret interpretation of the mysteries, an interpretation received only by initiates. For them, Isis is no longer a goddess, sister and wife of Osiris, that the common people adore in so many forms and with so many different attributes. It is nature in all its epochs that is characterized by its symbols – the, the nature that one of our most learned Masonic interpreters, Re-Ghellini, thus, makes himself speak after Apuleius under the name of Isis: "I am nature, mother of all things, mistress of the elements, the beginning of the centuries, the sovereign of the gods, the first of the celestial nature, the uniform face of the gods and goddesses. It is I who governs the countless multitude of the two, the salutary winds of seas, the lugubrious silence of hell; my unique divinity, but to more in various forms, is honored with different ceremonies and under different their names: Pessinontienne or Cybele, Minerva, Yenus, Diana, Pro-Serpent, Ceres, Juno, Bellona, Hecate, Rhamnusia. The Egyptians, the Orientals, the Arians, and those who are instructed in the ancient doctrine trine, honor me with ceremonies that are unique to me and call me slow of my real name, Queen Isis (1).

"And in an inscription," Mr. Ragon adds finally, "found in Capua" and as reported by Montfaucon, it read: "Goddess Isis who art one and all "Your things, Arrius Babinus makes this vow to you." That was the last word of Freemasonry is the ancient Mithraic, Egyptian, Greek initiation. that, Roman and Druidic, adapted to modern times. It is this continuation of the mysteries of the ancients which makes Freemasonry the a chain that makes the past and present inseparable and thereby becomes a sure guide for the future. That is why it enjoys an immutable a kind that no human settlement shares with it, as spoken "Y State of the Grand Orient of France, in its second volume (2)."

This interpretation of Masonic mysteries did not leave culière at Ragon, and we will see later how the great mason German Strauss became significantly involved in the cult of Isis and Osiris. We have before us a published work in 1877 in New York under the title: Isis unveiled a master key to the mysteries of ancient and modern science and theology, by Blavatsky, correspondent secretary of the theosophical society, whose conclusion is that the cult of the Vedic Pi tris (flame of the humanity, and that it is by uniting with this fire, with the universal soul of the world, which is God, that man attains omnipotence. This is the core belief of Freemasonry. It is more or

(1) Ragou, Goura philos, (grade of master), p. 141, 145, 153, 154, 177.

m ia.

Fundamental grades of all rites 37

less developed, according to the spirit that prevails in each lodge by particular; but the books of Bazot, Ragon, Clavel, Guil-
The St-Victor line, are specifically intended to provide the ora
the themes of their speeches during the receptions tions. These interpretations of the grades also vary in the details, and Freemasonry prides itself no more on unity than on erudition true edition. Thus Ragon and Clavel provide another series interpretations where the first three grades are related to the
The revolution of the sun, the death of Hiram, to his disappearance during winter. But at its core, it's always the adoration of nature.
and the two masons' festivals, the summer solstice and the winter solstice ver, have as their object the worship of the dying sun in winter and resurrectedso much in the spring (1).

In another series of interpretations—and many are offered—so that we can vary them according to the candidates' abilities and the degree of advancement of the lodges, — Ragon indicates the force hindered-ratrice, the phenomena of generation as the object of worship of Freemasonry, as its God.

"The master's degree thus allegorically retraces the death of the God-light, whether one considers this God only as the physical sun that, dying in winter only to reappear and be resurrected in spring, to Easter, or, like the philosopher, one sees only a commemoration figurative tion, an emblematic painting of chaos, from the heart of which springs reads the eternal light, or, which amounts to the same thing, of putrefaction tion expressed by the substantive word of the rank, Macbenac, apparent death bodies, but an inexhaustible source of life, through which the seed to Spring receives its development. Beautiful mysteries of nature, including the operations are merely a series of battles and reactions between the
The generating principle and the destructive principle! Now, the result of the Fertilization, isn't that fermentation, fermentation by fire?
as the word itself indicates, the putrefaction of semi-principles
these states of darkness, disorder, and confusion, which the ancients designated by the word chaos, which precedes development and the ap-emergence of the regenerative germ? Chaos, which we regard as the dawn of the ages, precursor of creation, was not for the wise men of antiquity, which was a hypothesis or rather an induction they drew from the generation of beings. Putrefaction and death, that's the first point

This is the important phenomenon, the ineffable mystery, the true key to the naïf) Clavel, Histoire pittoresque, p. 56 et seq. – Ragon, Cours interprète des initiations, y. 147, 158, 163, 185, 188.

38

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

ture, which the ancient sages had been able to penetrate and of which they made one of the foundations of their doctrine, and the subject of their sacred legends. Indeed, is not everything in the universe subject to the laws that have just been Are they exposed? Doesn't everything retrace the eternal struggle of the two great Agents of nature and their alternative victories? We cannot overstate the To repeat: life and death share the world. Both are its essence. Ultimately, one cannot exist without the other, and both emanate from a one and the same power.

"As the number one signified harmony, order, and goodness..." cipe, the number two offered the opposite idea. It also expresses the state of mixture and contradiction in which nature finds itself, where everything is gentle blue. Thus night and day, light and darkness, cold and the heat, humidity and dryness, health and illness, error and the truth is that both sexes beget each other, like the A grain of wheat, both cause and result. (1)

"According to Master Clavel, these are the two columns of the temple, the two generative phalluses, one of light, life, and goodness; the other, darkness, death, and evil, which maintain the balance of world (2).

"And yet," adds Ragon, "the ternary or number three is the The number par excellence and of choice, it is the one that best represents nature. Hence, the consecration in our lodges of the triangle whose cd- The three kingdoms are represented, nature or God. In the middle is the Iod hebraic, animating spirit, or fire, generative principle, represented by the letter G, the initial letter of the word God in the Nordic languages, and whose si- Philosophical significance is generation.

"The first side of the triangle offered for the apprentice's study is the mineral kingdom, symbolized by Tubal-cain, inventor of the art of working the metals, and the password for the grade in the French rite. – The second The aspect that the companion must meditate on is the plant kingdom, symbolized by S. hibboleth, which means ear of corn, password. In this reign begins the generation of bodies, and that is why the letter G is presented radiantly in the eyes of the companion. The third side, the study of which concerns the the animal kingdom and complements the master's instruction, is symbolized by Macbenac, the flesh leaves the bones, or better, son of putrefaction.

"But the whole triangle has always signified God or nature, and the allegories of the three truths, foundation of the first mysteries, reminder slow, says Reghellini, the successive and eternal effects of nature:

"1. That everything is formed by generation; 2. That destruction follows

(1) Ragon, Philosophical Course, p. 158, 218.

(2) Clavel, Picturesque History, p. 75.

HIGH DEGREES OF THE FRENCH RITE 39

generation in all its works; 3® and that regeneration will restore

"It manifests itself in other forms as the effects of destruction." (1)

This crude and hideous atheism, this triply ab- pantheism surde serves not only as the basis for the first three degrees of the Masonry, the foundations themselves or the trunk of all its branches and of all its diverse sects; but it rises and develops with they, right up to their highest peaks, giving birth to the dark conspiracies, savage hatreds, destroying minds and the hearts, all that may remain there of religion and social connection.

V. – HIGH DEGREES OF THE FRENCH, ELECTED, AND SCOTTISH RITES

KNIGHT OF THE ORIENT

To bring man and the world back to the sole worship of nature and to complete the construction of his temple, it is necessary, while continuing to extend and strengthen pantheistic naturalism, to overthrow and defeat their three enemies: revealed religion, the society formed by it or of which it is the foundation and the link, royalty finally or the magistracies that are its defenders and guardians. Such is the goal, as we have just seen, of Blue Freemasonry or symbolism lique; such is the goal, more expressly admitted by Mali Red and philosophical nonsense, or high-ranking stuff. We're going to examine its main points, to demonstrate its impious and anti-spirit religious.

"Like the three degrees of ordinary Freemasonry," said Louis White, included a large number of men opposed by state and by principles to any project of social subversion, the multi-innovators folded the steps of the mystical ladder to be climbed; they created ar-back rooms reserved for ardent souls; they instituted the higher degrees of the chosen, of knights of the sun, of Rosicrucians, of the strict observance, of Kadosh, or regenerated man, a dark sanctuary whose gates do not access to the initiate was only granted after a long series of trials, calculated to observe the progress of his revolutionary education, to experience

(-1) Ragon, Cours, pp. 172, 173, 226.

40

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

a place of a multitude of practices, sometimes childish, sometimes sinister, nothing that did not relate to ideas of liberation and equality.

"It was to these underground schools that Condorcet was referring, when, announcing this history of the progress of the human mind that in interrupted his death, he promised himself to reveal what blows idolatry would inflict. Narcissism and superstition had received secret societies, daughters of the Templars (1). »

The first grade that presents itself to us, in this Freemasonry Red, is the rank of the chosen one, or the school of vengeance. In the Scottish Rite, this degree is divided into three: The Elect of the Nine, the Elect of Perijnan and Y elected from the fifteen. The French rite, taken from the notebooks of the Grand Orient, in fact only one of the three: Y elected.

"There are three chambers: the second, called the council chamber, will be draped in black, strewn with red tears; the altar will be red, bordered of black; in the middle a dagger throwing nine black flames in a manner of rays; around them will be black tears.

"In one corner, to the left of the altar, there will be a painting depicting three heads, each placed on a stake, with the tools or weapons of the three companions represented by the three heads. The apron will be white, bordered of black and lined with the same. In the middle, a throwing dagger will be depicted red flames in the shape of rays; the bib will be black, edged of red and lined with the same; in the middle will be three red flames. All members will carry a dagger; they will be decorated with a black cord, passing from the left shoulder to the right hip; one will hang at the bottom of the cord a small dagger with a gold handle and a silver blade, out "as much as a white rosette held with a red ribbon (2)."

In the Adonhiramite rite, all the brothers appear dressed in black, wearing on his left side a breastplate on which was embroidered a skull, a bone and a dagger, all surrounded by the de-aims: To conquer or die, with a cord worn across the neck bearing even motto. Everything about the costume reeks of death and vengeance. the maintenance. Of course, we understand all the absurdity in to support Mr. Ragon that all these daggers, these skulls, all this apparatus of vengeance in this maintenance, these currencies and

(1) History of the Revolution, vol. II, pp. 80, 82.

(2) Practical Manual for Freemasons, 1845. – Instructions for the Higher Degrees, such as they are conferred in the chapters of the correspondence of the Grand Orient of France in the modern rite, Paris, Caillot, bookseller, 1835. – Precious collection, etc. (. II, p. 5 et seq.

HIGH DEGREES OF THE FRENCH RITE 41

the exercise that accompanies them, are intended to avenge death of the Sun in Libra, Scorpio and Sagittarius!

Instead of the three heads of the companions, in the Scottish rite, these are I know, three skeletons, each armed with the instrument that was used to murder of the master and placed in the East, the West and the South.

"The aspirant is led into the darkened room, a blindfold on his eyes, his hands covered in bloodied gloves. There, he lends, the right knee on the ground, right hand bare on the book of wisdom, and the left holding the compass which embraces a mallet, while the very wise He places his dagger on his forehead, and his close brother puts a naked sword on his back, a vow by which he devotes himself to all revenge in the event that he reveals the secrets that lead to sublime title of chosen master. (See book I, chapter III, 4.)

"After a few moments of reflection in the cave, at a sign Given the gift, he uncovers his eyes and a voice shouts at him: Take the lamp, Arm yourself with this dagger, enter the depths of this cavern, and strike anything you find that resists you; defend yourself, take revenge Your master and appointment, worthy of being elected. Dagger in hand right, lamp in left hand, he advances; a phantom (or manna (who has prepared in advance) is right behind him and he hears the voice that He cries out: Strike, avenge Adonhiram, there is his murderer! He strikes, the head falls, and the voice adds: Leave the lamp, take this head by the hair, raise your dagger (1). He enters the lodge; the very- The wise or venerable man draws his dagger and says to the recipient: Woe! Feux! What have you done? I didn't tell you to kill him; the brothers They cry out: Mercy! Mercy! It is zeal that has prevailed; and the most wise who The president replies: Let it be granted to her as you wish, my Brothers! Rise up and join me in rewarding zeal and this brother's firmness, and you, my brother, rise up; come and learn that everything you have just done is a reflection of the obligations that you contract today.^ e nose now receive the duke's reward at

(1) In the collection of rituals for the various degrees, by Bernard Picard, volume IX In the section on Ceremonies and Customs of All the Peoples of the World, on page 450, we The sublime trials of this grade (Kadosch) are to stab in a cave the as- Hiram's assassin, to bring his head to the altar and drink from a human skull. The

of a sheep whose stomach has been shaved. Laying that the recipient, after having He slit his victim's throat, washed his hands, and a sheet of bloody wax was substituted. that of a corpse, which a Freemason sees when his eyes are free and one remove it immediately." Clavel asserts that these rituals are the very ones that were approved by the Grand Orient. (Picturesque History, p. 11, introduction.) Since then, As we have said (Introduction IV), the rituals have been greatly softened in form; but the spirit recalled by interpretations such as those which one can read in fiction is remained the same.

42

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

your consistency. Then he gives her the apron, saying: This apron marks the mourning that all the chosen ones are experiencing for the death of Adonhiram, and He makes you aware of the sorrow that every good mason must feel. Then in giving him the lined gloves trimmed in black: These gloves will teach you "Only innocence experiences grief without remorse."

Thus everything that is done against the murderers of Hiram, assassins Sins, plunder, lies, slander, etc., is innocent and does not It should give no cause for remorse!

Finally, by passing the cord over it:

"My respectable brother, I hereby appoint you master by the consent of the most august lodge, and I hand you the dagger. But remember that it is only made to punish crime, to help your brothers and to chastise the murder. It is with this in mind that we present it to you and that you... You will keep it.

"The words for the rank and password are Nekar, Nekam, which mean vengeance, or in the perfect chosen one, Sterkin, to whom the same meaning is given, and Moabon: Praise be to God that crime and the criminal are punished. They are grouped under three letters: N.. N.. M.\ The second elected official has for the object of the treason, carried out on the order of the very wise or grand master, by the unknown Perignan, as the first of Hiram's murderers, betrayal that leads to his death, as recounted in The Chosen One nine, and in the third elected one or the elected one of the fifteen: these are the two other companions who are arrested, who are imprisoned, by order of the very-wise, in a tower until the next day. Tied up then, at 10 o'clock in the morning. morning, tied to two posts, with feet, neck, and arms bound behind, They opened their bodies from the chest to the private parts and left them in this way to the heat of the sun for eight hours; the moths and other insects drink their blood; they made plains Your plight was so lamentable that it moved their executioners to compassion, which... forced them to behead them; their bodies were thrown outside the city to be displayed on stakes in the same order they had taken at the gates of temple to assassinate Adonhiram (1).

And it is to these lessons of the darkest and most cruel fanaticism that Freemasonry trains its followers in tolerance and humanity.

The chosen one of the ancient, reformed and modern rite, notebooks of the Grand Orient of (t) Precious collection of Adonhiramite Freemasonry, Avignon, Joly, 1810; pre-first elected official, pp. 3, 5, 13, 17, 19, 20; second group, p. 26 et seq.; elected official, p. 3b, 39, 40. Idom, Volume II, dedicated to the learned masons in Philadelphia, at Philadelphia, both by the same author, Louis Guillemain de St-Victor. R.*, of the order of the eagle, par un chevalier de tous les ordres maçonniques.

HIGH DEGREES OF THE FRENCH RITE 43

France, says the French translator of Eckert's memoir, is the summary of the former ranks of the elected representative of the nine, of Pérignan, and of the first we have just given the substance, according to the most self-evident rituals ridiculed (i). It is the fusion, says Master Ragon as well; but fusion, he adds, which has not always been a happy experience, because in this summary or This merger, the three companions, assassins pursued relentlessly, they themselves kill: the first by stabbing himself, the two others rushing into a quagmire; the cry Nckam becomes n'di-"since vengeance is accomplished through their death (2)."

This reflection and everything he piles up against the letter of these grades, to describe or explain them, casts a brilliant and frightening light shines on this grade and on all the others; for finally, or these stories are pure allegories, and then Scottish Freemasonry seizure and other such things are just a collection of ridiculous hypotheses, too contrary to common sense as well as to history; or these allegories are not that a transparent veil that hides rules of conduct and teaching more or less clearly, by what is accomplished in the allegorie, what must actually happen in the object it represents. Now, in this respect, between the elected one of the Scottish Rite and the Hairy One of the In French, the only difference is in the way it is presented. and to achieve the same goal: the destruction of the three companions (religion, authority, royalty), and by all means: riots, violence, assassinations, trickery, slander, ambushes, diplomatic or constitutional obstacles, etc., etc.!

After the rank of elected, comes that of Scottish or 'grand elected'. Revenge and its means are determined; the most horrible will be They sealed it. Before using the dagger and all the other packages of which it is the emblem, we must prepare for them spirits. The dagger with which the chosen ones have just been armed, like that the mysteries of Mithras, says the interpreter of the Grand Orient, must to have a black blade and a white handle to designate the two

The first companion, assassin of Master Hiram or of the pan nature-theism, designated for vengeance under the name of superstition, prejudices, fanaticism, that Freemasonry has for but to annihilate, according to Master Clavel, as well as all the dis-

(1) Ibid., Volume 1, p. 308.

(2) Ragon, Cours, etc. (grade of the elect), p. 203, 204.

(3) General manual, pp. 130, 131, 134. The same signs are found in the Manue | or Willaume Tiler.

44

SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

distinctions contrary to primordial equality, that is, as we have seen, true Christianity or Catholicism; its principal foundations The elements are the priesthood, papacy, episcopate, priesthood, the symbol of the apostles or profession of faith that the Catholic priesthood is charged with teaching all nations, as he himself had learned—even from its founder and supreme teacher Jesus Christ, the divinity, finally, of Jesus Christ, the sovereign and final revealer consumer of everything that constitutes true religion since the from the beginning of the world until its end, when he will come to judge the living and the dead, and to render to each according to their deeds.

It is therefore to annihilate the divine foundations in the hearts of followers first, and through them in the rest of the world, what should to carry out Masonic revenge. We have seen how this demolition work under the very name of construction of the temple in the preceding grades. It even seemed complete by the rank of master and by the proclamation of the All-God, nature, fire, etc. For, given that pantheism is established, what can remain there? What about Christian beliefs and virtues? What is a priest? What is Jesus Christ himself, if not childhood prejudices? and of countries, superstitions, fanaticism?

Although tarnished under these very names by the efforts of the Ma- Nonsense, but Christianity nonetheless stands against it. like a luminous protest, fertile in remorse; and It was this protest that needed to be eliminated under a new guise. the images and new hypotheses. These names of God and of Jesus Christ, his Son, these names of pope, bishops, priests, hold too large a place in minds and in hearts; they are written in too many historical monuments since this civilization that they shaped like a bee builds its hive to disappear so easily and so quickly. So, let's get to work, let's get to work. again, in new ranks.

"The rank of Scottish or Masonic priest. This requires..." grade, says the Practical Manual of the Freemason (1845), three rooms: the first called the preparation room; the second The third, a secret vault; the third, a temple in its perfection.

"The brother preparing the candidate will dress him appropriately; the habit It will be a white dress, trimmed in red with a belt Greek red; the recipient will be stripped of his weapons; his

fiAÜTS ÔRADES OF THE FRENCH RITE 45

His hair will hang down behind his head; his head and feet will be bare; He will be provided with a suitable shoe.

"The second chamber, called the secret vault, is supposed to represent an underground vault; the surrounding area will be red. To the East, in the At the midpoint, a triangular pedestal of red marble will be placed. enriched with sculptures and gold moldings, representing on both On the right side, a radiant sun, and on the other, the blazing star with the letter O; behind it, an open compass on a quarter circle; between the two points, the numbers 3, 5, 7, 9; on the pedestal will be placed a stone called a pointed cubic stone, and It will be depicted with the development of all its faces, in color d'agate.

"At the south end, towards the middle of the column, a square table will be placed." of the Doric order, on which will be twelve round loaves in two divisions sections of six each; on top of the loaves, there will be two casseroles in which incense will be burned. In the middle of the table, a golden trough filled with a prepared mixture of milk and oil will be placed there. of wine and flour, and a trowel likewise of gold; they will also place there a golden cup full of wine, and beside it a cake or a loaf of bread.

"In the North, opposite the table above, there will be an altar called the altar of sacrifices; an axe and a knife shall be placed on it.

"The third chamber will represent the completed temple. At the back of In this room, a closed enclosure made of a fabric veil will be constructed. Four colors: linen, purple, hyacinth, scarlet. A red curtain will be able to replace it. This enclosure will be the richest and most brilliant It's possible. The name of the great architect, in Hebrew, will be in the center. raised to a suitable height and in all its splendor; two cherubs golden ones will cover the altar at the back with their wings. At the top of the line From the south, a well will be drawn into which a ray of light will fall vertically; Conversely, at the top of the line, a burning bush cast a large

of a circle; between the points will be drawn the numbers 3, 5, 7, 9.

The apron will be white, bordered and lined in red; on the bib will be the blazing star; below it and towards the middle, will be the compass crowned on a quarter circle, with a medal in the middle, right? presenting the sun. The gold jewel will be a crowned compass on a quarter circle, in the middle of which will be a medal representing a sun. On one side the sun, and on the other, the blazing star; it will be suspended from a wide scarlet moiré ribbon, which will be worn around the neck and form a triangle (1).

It is easy, from all the foregoing, to understand the basis

(1) Scottish Rite or Second Order, pp. 29, 36. Modern Rite, 1846 manual.

46 SECRET SOCIETIES AND RELIGION

and the accessories of that grade. Let us not, however, fail to follow the official interpretations, in the order given to them by the course. philosophical and interpretative authorized by the Grand Orient.

